Build And Let Build.

As far back as history began there have been persons who, in the way of progress, some for reasons mercenary, others because of a real lack of vision or natural narrow tenement.

It is a matter of record that the builders of the modern cities and public monuments, some of which still exist, were not hundreds of obstacles placed in their way by visionless men, but the men who overcame them.

This same condition may be applied to our own community today. We see opposition to things which would surely benefit or save a great saving.

It’s too late for the obstructionist. Fulton is building pages of history and there should be nothing in this way to hamper its progress.

The truly great men of all time is the builder, the one who produces or helps to produce. The parasite, who does nothing for himself or fellow man is a drain and the one who interferes with progress is little better.

Build and let build,” should be our motto and the future will comfortably arrange itself.

There are many things to be considered in the building of a community.

Ten men can do more than a hundred, and when these ten men are expert builders the work can not only be done but in fact, 10 times as much.

If you have an interest in your own community, how much you expect outsiders to do any?

If many more rational fights are predicted, one-way traffic will be the next step.

Next through weather, nothing to spoil or discouraging or rough streets.

Debt Reduced, Teachers Paid on Day Salaries

W. J. Beckman, with members of the state school board present, announced that the state school fund has now reached a balance of $1,250,000, which will enable teachers to be paid on the first of the month instead of the second. This is the result of the successful bond issue, which was carried by the state board of education. The bond issue was a joint effort of the state and local school districts, and the funds will be used to build new schools and improve existing ones.

Governor Blackburn, who was present at the announcement, said that he was gratified to hear that the state was able to meet its financial obligations in this manner. He expressed the hope that other states would follow the example of the commonwealth and take similar steps to improve their educational systems.
