Fulton Co. Fair A Brilliant Success

Big Crowds In Attendance--Good Races A Feature--Exhibitions In Every Department Are Attractive.

Gay Crowds At Night Shows.

Large crowds are in daily attendance at the sixteenth annual meeting of the Fulton County Fair.

The fair opened Tuesday, at which time all ladies were admitted free and the usual large opening day crowd was in attendance.

Children's day brought out another great crowd and today (Thursday) is expected to be the biggest day of the week.

The racing has been unusually good, some of the best horses ever seen on the local track being here. The balance of the week will see some fine horse racing.

The exhibits in the floral hall are the best we have seen in several years. The west side is literally filled with needle and art work, preserves, canned fruits, cakes, etc. To attempt a description of these articles is impossible.

Leaving the agricultural and floral hall, we headed for the poultry house, where we found J. T. Watkins in charge of the best exhibit on the grounds. Mr. Watkins is secretary of the Fulton County Poultry Association. He is a railroad man, whose hobby is fine chickens. Mrs. Watkins is in charge of the entries and a valuable assistant in the conduct of the best poultry show ever exhibited at the Fair. More than 500 chickens, ducks, turkeys, geese and pigeons are exhibited. Watkins is a wizard when it comes to staging a poultry show.

Leaving the poultry show, we saw two other "chickens." They appeared to be about sixteen years old, but it was not their age that attracted the attention of the men. It was their beautifully arranged hair upon which no barber's snips had left their imprint. The men turned and looked in open admiration at the young ladies, sighed and passed on with the bobbed hair brigade.

CATTLE EXHIBIT

Some of the finest dairy cattle in this vicinity is exhibited at the fair this year.

The purebred Jerseys exhibited by R. H. Wade, Enoch Browder, J. T. Oliver, Clyde Burnett, Bob Watts, Ben Kimberlin, Frank Sellars, Sam Reed and Bowers Club are being admired and attracting unusual attention.

Special credit is due Secretary S. S. Motley, of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce for the lively interest taken in purebred Jersey cattle and the development of dairying in this vicinity. Motley is a live wire and his hobby is purebred Jerseys. While he has only been here a few months, he has done more to promote the development of dairying than was ever known here before. His work inspires confidence and the exhibits at our fair is the result.

E. W. Morris' herd of Holsteins is indeed worth seeing. The true greatness of the Holstein cow can best be understood by a brief study of the history of the breed. Mr. Morris' exhibit is a fine one and is worthy of special notice. W. L. Morris has a booth under the grandstand promoting Holstein interests.

G. H. Shanklin & Sons have a good exhibit of fine Duroc hogs from their place, Woodland Farms, located near Dresden. One of the hogs attracting much attention weighs 720 pounds.

Clarence Fox is also exhibiting some fine Duroc hogs from Foxhall Farms, of Obion county. One extra large hog weighs 700 pounds.

R. P. Armstrong and G. R. Binford, of Route 1, Union City, is exhibiting a fine lot of Hampshire sheep. Sure prize winners.

The McFadden display, occupying a booth under the grandstand, is a beautiful exhibition of products. The display is a credit to that thriving community and deserves first prize.

Taking it as a whole, the 1927 fair will go down in history as one of the best in years. The Association is to be congratulated on the splendid work of the heads of various departments in doing their utmost in making the fair a grand and brilliant success.

President J. W. Gordon, Secretary R. H. Wade, Treasurer W. P. Murrell and the board of directors are good business men and they know how to please the people who desire entertainment. A big carnival company is on the ground and both day and night a variety of amusement is to be had.

Don't miss the remaining days of the fair.

Dairy Parade

The Dairy Parade will take place today at 10 o'clock. The cattle will be judged also today by Jerry Spencer of the Sugar Creek development department.

STREETS BEING SURFACED

The construction of the reinforced concrete streets in the business section of the city is progressing nicely and attracting much attention. Large crews of workmen are at work and it is interesting to watch the improved street building machinery in operation. The gigantic concrete mixer and spreader was started on surfacing early Monday morning on Commercial avenue. We can now begin to see that Fulton will look like a different town when the work is completed.

The business streets are in a torn up condition now, but it will not be long before Fulton can boast of the best concrete streets in Western Kentucky.

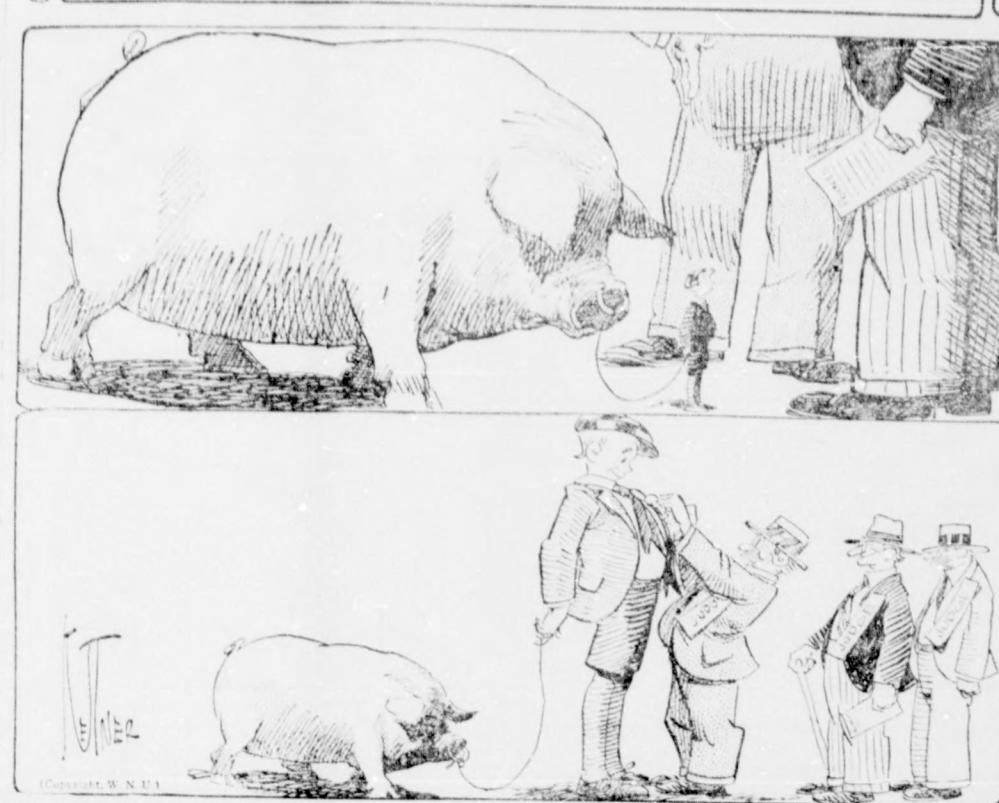

DELIGHTFUL COUNTRY TRIP

Mrs. William Caldwell, nee Miss Odessa Shankle, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Shankle, on Eddings street, after a cross-country trip through the north and southwest. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell left on their trip June 20, visiting Kansas City, Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, El Paso, Dallas and various other points of interest.

They were accompanied by Mrs. A. V. Caldwell and daughter, Miss Mary, of Campbellsville, Ky., and Mrs. Dave Jackson, of Vera, Ky., mother, sister and aunt of Mr. Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will leave in a few days for Forsyth, Ga., where Mr. Caldwell is principal of the city schools.

Before and After the Award

"Over The Top"

Morris K. Chowning, Winner in The Appeal Contest, Will Leave for Paris, France, Sept. 9

Morris K. Chowning, who entered the Memphis Evening Appeal's "On-to-Paris Club" contest a few weeks ago, made a brilliant finish Saturday night and went "over the top" handsomely, and will be the guest of The Evening Appeal on a trip to the French capital. Mr. Chowning will leave Fulton about September 9, and join the Appeal's party. C. S. Owen and Fred Stokes, of Hickman, with a number of others, will be included in the Appeal's overseas delegation to the Paris convention of the American Legion.

The first detachment of members of the American Legion to France for the forthcoming Convention in Paris left several days ago and are now going over the grounds where bloody conflicts of war are pictured vividly in memory.

Reports received at legion headquarters here from some legionnaires who already have traveled over the war zone give assurance that the Americans will be received everywhere with cordiality. The people of Lorraine, Vosges, Touraine and Picardy, where the soldiers of the A. E. F. were billeted long enough to make acquaintances, greet the returning veterans with a warmth that carries conviction at the genuineness of their feelings.

Fulton people rejoice in Morris Chowning's successful campaign. "No member of the A. E. F. did their part on the battlefields overseas with more valor and distinction. Each and every one who assisted in 'putting him over the top' in the Appeal's contest are happy over their part in showing their bit of appreciation of his excellent services rendered during the world's bloodiest conflict.

Mr. Chowning's popularity placed all of Fulton behind him in the contest. The campaign was well organized with the entire strength of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Lions clubs furnishing committees to sweep him to victory.

In their write-up Monday, The Appeal said:

"One of the largest reports of the week-end was received from Morris K. Chowning, of Fulton, Ky., who, although he has been a member of the Paris Club for some time, virtually a trip in a drive of four days. One check received Sunday from Mr. Chowning, which represented work done by his campaigners on Friday and Saturday, is the second largest received in the campaign."

KASNOW'S SALE CONTINUES ALL THIS WEEK

The big sale at Kasnow's will continue all this week. This has been one of the best conducted sales ever put on by this store. The store has been crowded every day since the sale started. Some of the early shoppers have returned again to take advantage of the unprecedented bargains, bringing their friends along to feast at the bargain counters also. On Tuesday, the store was packed to the limit and the twenty salespeople had all they could do to handle the crowds. G. D. Scott, the clever sales manager, understands just exactly how to interest customers. Low prices on seasonable merchandise is the keynote of success. No wonder this sale has eclipsed all former sales at the Kasnow store.

Mr. Kasnow says the entire stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes and furnishings for men, women and children must be cleaned out this week regardless of prices. It is a wonderful opportunity and people are taking advantage of supplying their needs.

Smith's Snappy Style Shoppe

Fulton's Newest Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Establishment, 214 Church Street

"He whom a dream hath possessed, knoweth no more of doubting," sang the poet, who comprehended, as only a poet can, the reality of the stuff dreams are made of. S. C. Smith is a dreamer, but along with his dreams he has the practical, organizing ability to transform his dreams into realities. He recently sold his interest in the U-Tote-Em grocery store, after building up a large grocery business in the city and to make his fondest hopes and ambitions come true he has opened at 214 Church street, next door to the Farmers' Bank, Smith's Snappy Style Shoppe, with Mrs. Venie Fowler as head saleslady.

It was our pleasure to visit the new store and note the modern and attractive appearance of its arrangement.

Charming frocks for Fall were displayed, including the latest successes of fashion creators who have a keen knowledge of milady's needs and style tendencies.

Featured in the showings are flappers, juniors, misses' and ladies' coats. Our attention was especially attracted to a beautiful coat in Melrose, trimmed in genuine fox fur, another charming needletpoint, trimmed with dyed squirrel. A pretty sport coat in check model with brown Martin fur was admired.

Prominent among the display of dresses was a lovely street dress of satin-faced Canton crepe, circular flounced, trimmed with three shades of ribbon; another street dress of navy blue georgette, trimmed yoke, cuffs of cream silk lace.

In the millinery department were advanced showings of tall hats of subtle charm and bewildering beauty, hand-picked styles in black, mulberry and the newest shades of tans and blues, braided and velvet trimmed for sport wear. Also dress hats in all of the popular new materials, colors and combination effects.

Cape and glove silk underwear, beauty and texture unsurpassed, in gowns, teddies, bloomers, step-ins, manufactured by the celebrated Mona Vanna Company of Chicago, are being displayed.

Radio hosiery, broadcasting style and quality for women, full fashioned, silk feet, saw-tooth heels, in chiffon and service weight is featured by Smith's Snappy Style Shoppe.

Price, quality, service, is the slogan of the new store.

New goods are arriving daily to add to the attractive displays.

W. S. McCLOY NOW SOLE OWNER OF BARDWELL HARDWARE CO.

W. S. McCloy, former Fulton citizen and well known hardware man, who left Fulton and removed his family to Bardwell some years ago, engaging in the hardware business with several business men, is now sole owner of the business, having recently purchased the entire stock. The Fulton friends of Mr. McCloy wish him abundant success.

BOWERS CLUB CALVES

The Jersey heifers of the Bowers Club on exhibition at the Fair are attracting the admiration of all who see them. The Bowers Club is a live, industrious, thrifty set.

The boys are feeding these heifers a light grain ration in addition to pasture. The grain consists of one pound of corn chops, one pound of bran, one pound of oats, one-half pound cotton seed meal.

This small grain ration makes the heifers grow more rapidly and requires that the boys handle the heifers each day, and the cost is very small amounting to about $6.00 for the summer.

Rev. Warner Thompson is too well known in this vicinity for an introduction from us. He was born and reared in Water Valley, Ky., and is the son of the late R. W. Thompson. He will come to Fulton direct from De Funiak Springs, Florida. He is a fluent speaker and a hard worker in the Lord's Vineyard. All are invited to attend the meeting. Let every church in the city do their part and urge their members to cooperate.

Mr. Luce will direct a large chorus choir, and sing some beautiful special selections during the meeting. All singers in the city are urged to attend the meeting and assist in the singing.

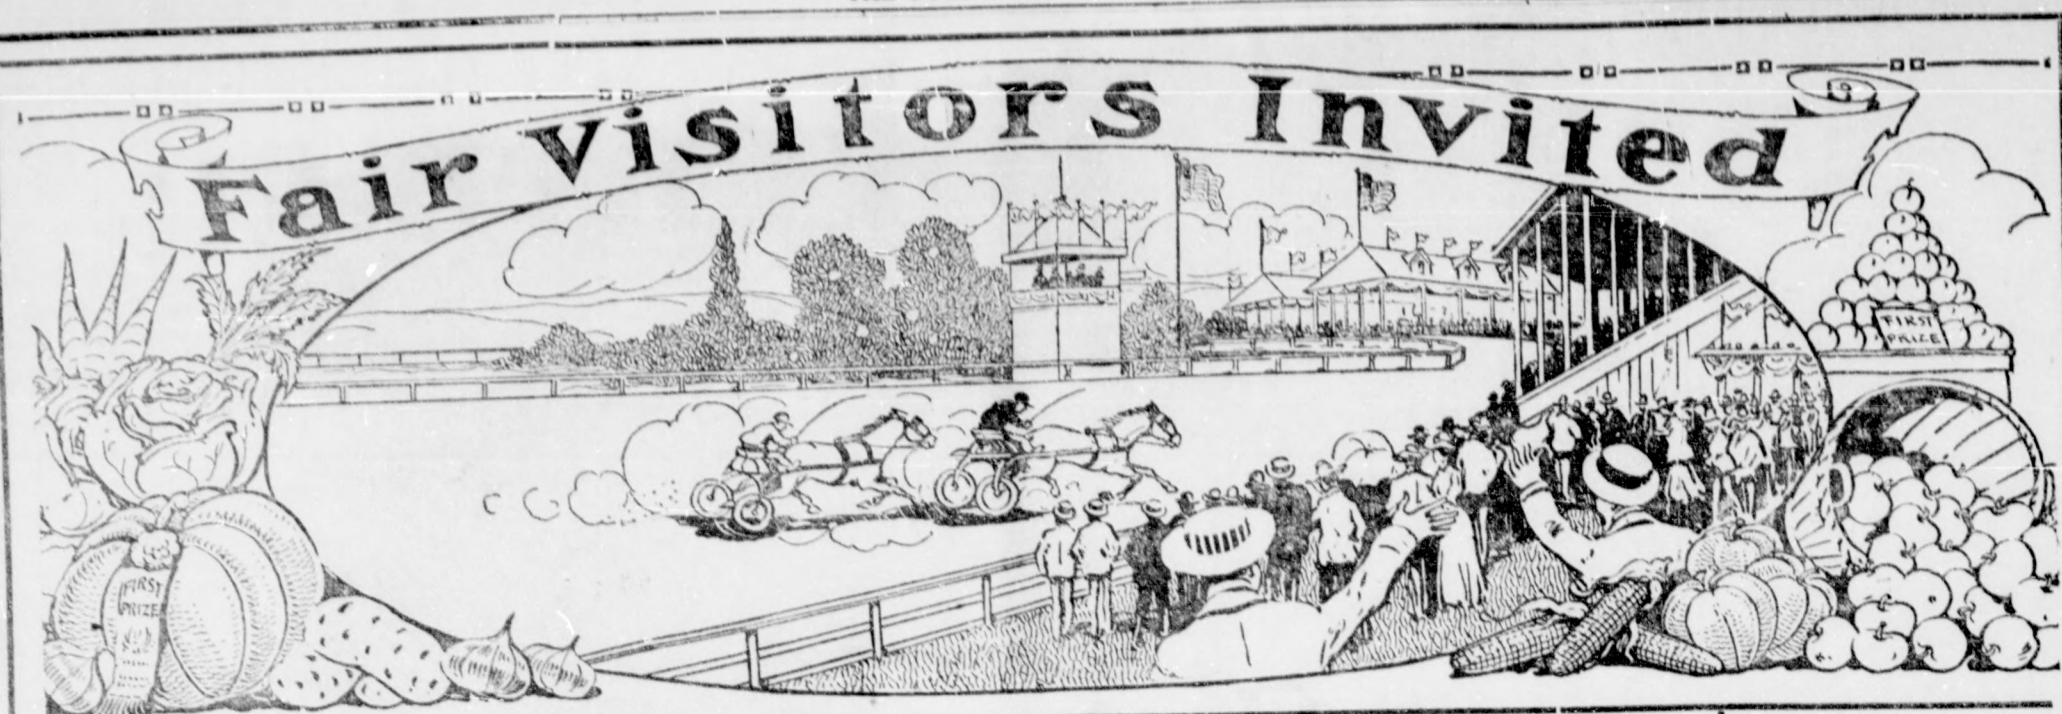

Remember, the meeting starts Sunday, August 28, opening service at 11 o'clock. Services at 2:30 in the afternoon and 7:45 at night all during the week.

Lesson for August 28

NATHAN LEADS DAVID TO REPENTANCE

LESSON TEXT—II Sam. 11:1-12:25.
GOLDEN TEXT—A broken and contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Shows David His Sin.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Nathan Calls David to Repentance.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Confessing and Forsaking Sin.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Repentance: What It Is, and What It Does.

I. David's Crimes (II Sam. 11).

1. Adultery (vv. 4, 5).
He by his kingly authority brought Bathsheba, the beautiful wife of Uriah, one of his brave soldiers, into his harem.

2. Murder (vv. 14-15).
David sought to cover up his shameful act of adultery with Bathsheba by calling Uriah from the field of battle and giving him a furlough at home with his wife. (He first gave him honorable recognition by sending a portion of meat from the royal table—v. 8.) Uriah's high sense of military duty and propriety would not allow him to do this.

Falling in this, David corrupted him by making him drunk, with the expectation that Uriah would thus go home. When these schemes would not work he resorted to the terrible crime of exposing Uriah to the most dangerous place in the battle where he would surely be killed.

41. Contributing Factors in David's Fall.

1. Idleness (11:1).
It was the king's responsibility to go forth with his army to battle. David tarried at Jerusalem because of indolence or self-indulgence.

2. He looked upon a beautiful woman (11:2).

As he was lounging in idleness, this temptation was too great for him. He yielded to his lustful impulse and sent his servants to bring the woman to him. This action on the part of David is absolutely inexcusable. David had the power to turn from this sin and thus escape temptation.

III. David Rebuked by Nathan, the Prophet (12:1-12).

What David had done displeased the Lord (11:27). What he had done gratified his own carnal lust, but the serious thing is that it displeased the Lord. Because David was God's own, God could not let the matter rest. He therefore sent Nathan, His prophet, to him.

1. The parable of the ewe lamb (vv. 1-6).

Among the Jews it was customary to have pet lambs which were brought up with the children of the family and therefore regarded with tender affection. Nathan pictures before David a poor man whose sole possession consisted of one such lamb, and a rich neighbor when entertaining a guest, had appropriated unto himself this lamb instead of drawing upon his numerous flock. This so aroused David's anger that he declared that the rich man should restore fourfold, and in addition forfeit his life. Nathan declared: "Thou art the man." In spite of David's awful sin, he had burning indignation against the wrongdoer.

2. Sentence of judgment (vv. 7-12).

Perhaps no history records an indictment so terrible as this one.

(1) He recounted unto David God's peculiar favor (vv. 7, 8).

God had taken him from the sheepcote and lifted him to the throne, made him king over all Israel. He had delivered him from Saul's murderous plots and he had inherited Saul's royal possessions.

(2) David's shameful treatment of God's law (v. 9).

He pointed out that he had violated both tables of the law by worshiping the God of passion and had practiced covetousness, robbery, lying and murder.

(3) The awful judgment pronounced (vv. 10-12).

The prophet declared that the sword should never depart from David's house. He had used the sword to slay Uriah. God in His retributive justice permitted the sword to remain in David's house.

IV. David's Confession (vv. 13-23).

The confession of sin was so real to David that he declared that it had been committed against God (Ps. 51:4). He now was made fully conscious of his broken condition. He realized what it meant to be without innocence. Though he confessed his sin, as recorded in Psalm 32, and God forgave him, he had to suffer its consequence. "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

The Coward

To die in order to avoid the pains of poverty, love, or anything that is disagreeable is not the role of a brave man, but of a coward. For it is cowardice to shun the misfortunes and trials of life, not undergoing death because it is honorable, but to escape evil.—Aristotle.

Prayer, a Golden Key

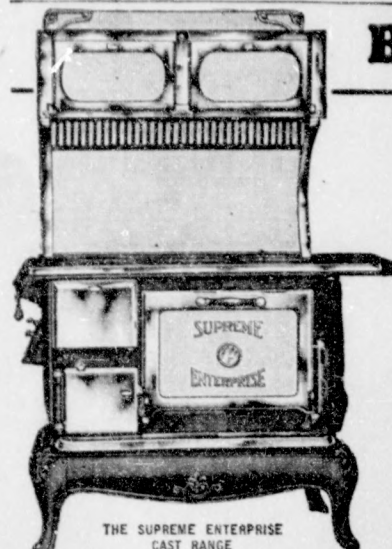

Prayer is a golden key which should open the morning and lock up the evening.—Bishop Hopkins.

FACTS ABOUT FULTON, KENTUCKY

On account of the remarkable activity of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, there is quite a bit of curiosity upon the part of the public to know more about the technical features of our city and rural community and we have therefore found it necessary to compile the following information to meet the requirements of the general public.

Fulton's Exact Location

Fulton is located in southwestern Kentucky on two of the great trunk lines of the Illinois Central Railway system which cross each other at this point. The new Edgewood line which extends from Fulton, Ky., to Edgewood, Ill., is also another first class railway which is also owned by the Illinois Central System. This great network of railways makes it possible to get in and out of Fulton most any hour of the day and makes direct connection with all of the larger cities of the country.

Daily Railway Traffic is Large

The Tennessee Division of the great Illinois Central System has its terminal here which is the scene of 37 passenger trains every 24 hours, the average freight haul through Fulton each month is 2,300 trains, because of the Tennessee Division being located in Fulton, there are over 600 men who live in Fulton and work for the Illinois Central System. The average payroll for each month of the year for these employees is in excess of $65,000.

Fulton's Geographical Location

The following table will give you the geographical location of Fulton as regards the metropolitan cities of the middle west.

Fulton to Chicago	406 miles
Fulton to St. Louis	292 miles
Fulton to Louisville, Ky.	270 miles
Fulton to Memphis	123 miles
Fulton to Nashville, Tenn.	141 miles
Fulton to Jackson, Tenn.	65 miles
Fulton to Cairo, Ill.	50 miles
Fulton to Paducah, Ky.	45 miles
Fulton to Birmingham, Ala.	281 miles
Fulton to New Orleans, La.	506 miles
Fulton to Mayfield, Ky.	25 miles
Fulton to Hickman, Ky.	22 miles
Fulton to Union City, Tenn.	11 miles
Fulton to Martin, Tenn.	12 miles

All of the above cities can be reached by direct connection by railway or by state highways. The two great main arteries of highway traffic pass over Fulton streets, which is to mention the Jefferson Davis Highway and the great Mississippi Valley Highway. In addition to the above highways we have the State Line Highway, which is located on the state line dividing the states of Kentucky and Tennessee, the Hickman and Fulton Highway, running from Fulton to Hickman, and several other short lines which make Fulton one of the most accessible cities to traffic accommodations that can be found in any part of the country. All of these highways are not completed, but are now under construction and within twelve months will be open to traffic.

Topography of Fulton Community

The rural section surrounding Fulton is not considered hilly, but is rolling enough to make it scenic. The character of the soil is of the heavy joint clay foundation and is known generally to be of the drouth resisting quality of farm land. The land is also very fertile and adapted to the general farming system. All kinds of legumes grow here in abundance: Jap, sweet clover and mammoth red clover are the chief meadow crops in this section. Alfalfa is another crop that does exceedingly well in this section.

Fulton's People Are of the Best

The people of Fulton and her countryside is made up of ninety-five per cent white people and ninety-eight per cent of these people were born and reared in this immediate community. This makes our moral and social conditions of the very best to be found in any part of the country.

Agricultural Features of Advantage

On account of our splendid marketing facilities, coupled with our wonderfully diversified farming advantages, we feel safe in saying that this section of the state is destined to become one of the greatest sections of the middle west as regards stock farming, dairy farming and horticultural farming. Our land is very reasonable in price for rent or sale, and we predict that when our highways are fully completed, our entire section is due for a rapid advance in all classes of activity and surely the price of our lands will keep pace with other features of progress. None of our land is being sold or being offered for sale, but can be bought from $50.00 to $100.00 per acre.

Seeking Tenant Population on Long Time Leases

Our land holders are not so anxious to sell their farms as they are to secure good reliable white people for tenants who are familiar with general farming and making dairy farming the chief object. Some of the best farms in this country can be had for a period of 5 to 10 years, provided the tenant will agree to do dairy and stock farming. There are several of our landholders who prefer to employ dairy farmers upon partnership basis or on yearly salary basis. If you are an experienced dairy farmer, it will pay you to make investigations of our section.

Christian and Literary Educational Advantages

Both city and rural Fulton afford as good school accommodations as can be found in any country and on account of the fact that nearly all of our people are white people, our public schools are amply supported and with no particular hardship upon any individual which is quite different to most southern sections of the country.

Property Tax Not Excessive

Our annual tax upon our lands over the country is an average of $1.10 per acre. This includes all state and county taxes. Our city tax is equally reasonable because of the fact that we have long ago adopted the old prudent and judicious system of growing as we go.

Social Society Is Far Above the Average

Our people are of the southern social type and are strong believers in good homes and beautiful churches, both in city and rural communities. In passing over the country you will find many beautiful and well kept homes and some of the largest and best attended churches to be found in any part of the south. The modern idea, which is prevalent in so many sections of the country, has failed to materialize in Western Kentucky, which is to say that the rural churches have given way to the high pressure of the city churches. If you attend our rural churches, you will find a large congregation of good substantial citizens in attendance, and will also find quite a few of our city people who once lived in the community and who frequently return to the old home church for an old time spiritual feast.

Marketing Advantages of All Farm Commodities Are Good

On account of the fact that Fulton, Ky., is admirably located and so well accommodated to the larger cities through the great Illinois Central System, our farmers do not have to endure the many handicaps of many other sections of the country. While we have splendid markets here for all of our farm crops, if we are not satisfied with our local treatment, we can ship to the larger cities most any hour of the day or night, which fact will be borne out by referring you to the railroad bulletin which is found in other parts of this pamphlet. We have three cream buying stations here and one of the best poultry markets in the country, which ships out several carloads of poultry products each week. We will have a perfectly modern creamery here before January 1, which will add another bright spot to our farm features.

Wonderful Water Supply in Fulton Community

It has been generally admitted that Fulton Community is accommodated with an abundant supply of water which is of the very finest quality to be had. This is indeed a valuable asset to the farmer and most especially the dairy farmer.

The Chamber of Commerce Is Not in the Real Estate Game

While this pamphlet is compiled and presented to you by the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, we want to say that we are not a real estate firm, and have no connections with any real estate firm, but because of the fact that we can see the great possibility of a big development in this line, we have decided to give a generous portion of our time to the agricultural phase of our community's welfare. We therefore invite you to call on us for whatever source of information that you may desire and we assure you that our full time will be given your requirements, until we have ably served you to such end.

Our office is open six days out of each week, and we especially invite the farmers of our community to use our office just as if it was their very own. If you come to Fulton, be sure and call on this office for whatever needs may overtake you. Our service is absolutely free and to serve you is one of our real pleasures.

MONEY FOR TRUCK
GROWERS

The finest, largest and most deliciously flavored strawberries we have ever seen are grown near Fulton and can be raised anywhere in this section. Apples, peaches, pears, plums, and Japanese persimmons can be raised to perfection. Considering how close we are to the best markets in the world for produce of all kinds—markets like St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville, Cairo, Memphis, and Nashville; how quickly these markets can be reached and our mild climate, abundance of rainfall, soil peculiarly adapted to the purpose, etc.—it is unquestionably a fact that no section in the South offers greater inducements for truck farming than the country adjacent to Fulton. The bottom lands are ideal for sweet and Irish potatoes, watermelons and canteloupes. Tomatoes, string beans, cabbage, lettuce, English peas, sweet corn, eggplant, okra, peppers, parsnips, carrots, turnips, asparagus, celery, salsify and other vegetables are a ready-money crop and are grown to perfection anywhere in the country contiguous to Fulton.

We want truck-growers to come among us and develop our lands into moderate-sized fruit and vegetable farms. Every condition is favorable for such an enterprise and there is no doubt about success if proper methods are followed. Those who are now engaged in the business are making money, but unfortunately it is at present carried on in a perfunctory manner and by only a few persons.

We hope to see Fulton become a strawberry center. All that is needed is for energetic, enterprising truck-farmers to come here and get busy. Available lands suitable for strawberry culture are cheap at present, but will soon treble in value.

Peaches Are Perfect

No section of the United States raises better peaches than are grown near Fulton. They are large, firm, juicy and of a delightful flavor. The Elberta variety are especially bountiful and profitably grown hereabouts. We are pleased to note that there has been a marked increase in the number of new orchards started within the past few years, but peach-growing in this section is in its infancy. There are splendid opportunities here for engaging in fruit culture, particularly in the best varieties of peaches, on an extensive scale. Shipping facilities are excellent and the fruit can be marketed much earlier and in far better condition than when grown farther away from the big markets. The shrewd, far-seeing man who wants to make money in growing peaches need not look farther than the Fulton country.

WHY BUYING FARM LANDS
IN FULTON COUNTY IS A
GOOD INVESTMENT

To view the fertile lands of Fulton county is enough to give any one a new inspiration of love for the country in which we live, surpassing in productivity the high priced lands of many parts of the country. Fulton and surrounding counties are in the midst of one of the finest agricultural sections of the entire South. The surface is mostly a rolling level inclining toward the Mississippi river. The soil is as versatile as it is rich and will grow to perfection, corn, wheat, cotton, all cereals, clover, alfalfa, grasses, tobacco, the dark variety; fruits, potatoes and vegetables of all kinds.

It is an ideal stock section, on account of the freedom with which grasses grow. The country is well watered by living streams. It would be hard indeed, to find any section of country so well adapted to so many leading crops, to stock raising and all kindred lines of agriculture, and it is inhabited by a happy, prosperous, progressive people.

During his visit to Fulton county, some years ago, Morgan O. Hughes, the best authority in America on farming, said it was not factories Fulton county needed—the production of the soil was sufficient. Prof. E. S. Good, head of animal husbandry of the College of Agriculture, during his visit some years ago, said, "Blessed is that county that can raise the crops and stock such as raised here."

During their visit here, Messrs. Hughes and Good talked to the farmers and all who heard the addresses were benefited, because every word uttered by these gentlemen was instructive, giving each and everyone an inspiration for higher ideal on the farm.

No farmer in this section is ashamed for you to view his beautiful fields of growing crops, sheep, hogs, cattle, etc. A trip through this section of the country will cure any man who has the "Florida fever."

FULTON, HUB OF THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

The Gateway of the Shortest Route Between New Orleans and Chicago

Practically midway between Chicago and New Orleans, is Fulton, Kentucky, the gateway of the shortest route between North and South, destined to be one of the big terminal points on the Illinois Central Railway.

There would have been very little of Fulton without the Illinois Central. In fact, it has been the foundation and backbone of this city since 1874. The principal officials of the company are ever ready to do all they can for Fulton's advancement. On the other hand, our citizens have a deep sense of appreciation for that cordial spirit and the relations existing between this community and that great corporation, are of the most pleasant nature.

Fulton is headquarters of the Tennessee Division.

The company maintains a roundhouse and other valuable properties here.

Besides splendidly equipped modern passenger trains daily in and out of Fulton, the company's freight service is all that could be desired.

But service is the keynote of this great railroad system's success and the recent acquisitive activities will mean much to Fulton and the territory surrounding it. The I. C. has recently acquired control of several southern railroads. The practical meaning of these acquisitions is that there will be a greatly increased movement of freight traffic between North and South, via Fulton, the hub of the Illinois Central Railroad.

IT'S YOUR FAIR—BE THERE

Kentucky's best is the nation's test. The fact that Kentucky sets the national standard in many products and manufactures is a cause of pride to every citizen of the state. And Kentuckians are further delighted to know that they may view the best in Kentucky agriculture, manufacturing, mining, home-made goods, music, arts and crafts, Junior club activities, and amusements, all at one time, for one admission, in the annual Kentucky State Fair.

The twenty-fifth annual fair will be held in Louisville, September 12th-17th, and will be preceded by a magnificent Sacred Concert, in which the State Fair Chorus of more than 300 voices, will be heard and a musical program given by Bachman's Million Dollar Band.

Premiums Over $100,000.00

More than $100,000.00 will be given in premiums at the 1927 State Fair, which will undoubtedly exceed all previous fairs in the variety of departments, and the extent and merit of the exhibits. It is estimated that the twenty-two departments of the Kentucky State Fair will enlist more than 5,000 exhibitors, and the varied departments of the fair, the gigantic Merchants and Manufacturers Building, with every inch of space occupied by such metropolitan display as lifts it into the exposition class, and the world's greatest saddle horse stake of $10,000.00, will provide thrills and entertainment for every minute of the visitor's stay at the fair.

JAMES E. FAHEY, Secretary of the Kentucky State Fair, who begins preparation for the next fair the moment the curtain falls on the old one, is enthusiastic over the outlook for the 1927 fair. Mr. Fahey has devoted much time to the educational and entertainment features of the Fair, and he and other officials of the Kentucky State Fair are confident that the 1927 fair will provide profit, entertainment, educational features, and inspiration for every member of the family.

Gigantic Fireworks

It is also announced that the gigantic fireworks display this year will feature Kentucky Pioneer History, and will thrill every visitor, with its superb and colorful reproduction of the early history of the state. The Gordon Fireworks Company, who provided last year's great spectacle of the "Fall of Babylon", are making every effort to have this year's pyrotechnic features set a standard in fireworks display in the United States. Other amusement features of the fair will include superb vaudeville features in the Hippodrome, daily afternoon and evening concerts by Bachman's Million Dollar Band, one of the premier musical organizations of the United States, and a diversified array of Midway attractions, including the great Rubin & Cherry Midway Carnival Shows.

As visitors to last year's fair will recall, the Merchants and Manufacturers Building, with its brilliant electrical features, radio programs, food displays and distributions, music, fashion displays from the leading costumers of the state, the latest and most interesting products of the manufacturers of the state and the nation, Woman's Department, and colorful County Exhibits Department, is one of the very pleasantest places in which to spend an entire day or an evening. In fact, the Merchants and Manufacturers Building has so extended the array of its attractions and the scope of the products it houses, that it has become a veritable exposition in itself.

Reduced R. R. Rates

Through arrangements made with the railroads entering Louisville, it will be possible for Kentuckians to visit the Fair at a minimum price. The rate throughout the week will be a fare and a half for the round trip, while on two special days the roads will grant a half fare rate for the round trip.

This exceedingly low rate will be in effect on Tuesday, September 13, from all points in Eastern and Central Kentucky and on Wednesday, September 14, from all points in Western Kentucky. The tickets sold on these two special days will be good returning on trains leaving Louisville any time on the day after they are sold, thereby affording all visitors an opportunity of remaining in Louisville over night and taking in the wonderful HORSE SHOW and FIREWORKS, and VAUDEVILLE FEATURES at the Fair Grounds, all three of which are among the leading features at the Fair.

Tickets At Saving

The Season Books this year will be sold for $2.00 per book of SIX TICKETS. By buying a season book, $1.00 is saved. These tickets are INTERCHANGEABLE, that is, they can be used by six different persons one day, or by one person for SIX DAYS. They are good for admission to the outer gate, Pavilion Races, or Fireworks, or Horse Show.

It is the intention of the KENTUCKY STATE FAIR MANAGEMENT to have season book tickets on sale at the EANKS and the PRINCIPAL POINTS throughout the state in order to give the people in the rural sections the same opportunity to purchase tickets at reduced prices as is afforded the people of the city of Louisville.

The twenty-two departments of the Kentucky State Fair, representing approximately 5,000 exhibitors, will appeal to every member of the family, affording pleasure, recreation, instruction, amusement and thrills. Prize-winning horses from every section of the United States and Canada will vie for supremacy in the horse show ring at the fair. Stallions, geldings and mares will compete in the special rings the first three nights of the week, and the ribbon winners on these nights will enter the big ring the final night of the fair. The beautiful heavy harness horses will have a conspicuous part on the programs every night. More than $40,000 of the premiums will be distributed to breeders of best cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, swine and poultry. Other big sums will be awarded to Kentuckians who are declared the winners in horticultural and other exhibits, and the exhibits and departments, ranging from Babies Health Contests to the Beef Cattle display, from Boys and Girls Club Work to Culinary Exhibits, from Dairy Cattle to Dogs, from Farm Implements to Field Seeds, from the Game and Fish Department to Jack Stock, from Poultry to Plants and Flowers, from Speed Contests to Stock Judging Contests, from Children's Work to the Old Ladies Department. Begin planning now to take your vacation at the Twenty-Fifth Annual Kentucky State Fair—Sept. 12-17—IT'S YOUR FAIR—BE THERE.

"Safety First" At City National Bank

6-Ton Mosler Donsteel Vault Door

Modernizing Home With New Reinforced Concrete Vault Protected by Donsteel Door

The City National Bank, alive to the interest and protection of their patrons, are installing a new reinforced concrete vault 10x14 feet, equipped with modern built-in safety deposit boxes. "Safety first," says Mr. N. G. Cooke, "One hundred and thirty tons of concrete and two thousand pounds of reinforced steel will be used in building our vault; this will be protected by a 12 thousand pound Mosler Donsteel vault door."

W. M. Hill & Sons are building the vault and the Mosler Safe Company will send a crew of experts direct from the factory to install the door under the personal supervision of S. L. Dodsworth, Mosler expert.

Mosler Donsteel vault doors are backed by nearly three quarters of a century experience in designing and building protective equipment for banks and financial institutions. World renowned authorities have witnessed independent tests in which Donsteel repeatedly resisted burglar attack by oxy-acetylene torches and drills, and pronounced this metal the greatest development of the age in the field of scientific protection. Donsteel vault doors are in use by hundreds of banks in all sections of the United States.

Such an improvement program as the City National Bank is undertaking at this time reflects favorably upon the healthy condition of this institution. The new vault with safety deposit boxes built in will be of the most modern type and will be of such dimensions as to provide enough space for a large number of boxes.

The modernizing equipment of the City National is in keeping with all prominent banks, who are members of the Federal Reserve System. No bank in New York City will be safer than the City National Bank of Fulton when their new equipment is completed.

The officers are: W. W. Morris, President; W. A. Terry, Vice-President; N. G. Cooke, Active Vice-President; Clyde P. Williams, Cashier; B. J. Pigue, Asst. Cashier; H. G. Pigue, Asst. Cashier. Directors—W. W. Morris, Joe Browder, T. N. Fields, W. A. Terry, Enoch Browder, Sam T. Butler, N. G. Cooke, W. P. Murrell, E. F. Karmire, L. F. Burke.

The state highway department of Tennessee announced officially Saturday, the list of road projects on which bids will be received at the department's office in Nashville, Tenn., on Friday morning, Sept. 16, at 10 o'clock.

In announcing the award, the state highway department called especial attention to the fact that the letting will be by far the largest in the history of the Tennessee state highway department and one of the largest ever held in the south. The total amount of work is estimated at $6,000,000, of which amount $2,500,000 is included for the three large river bridges over the Tennessee River.

JERRY SPENCER

LET JERRY JUDGE YOUR COWS

The above picture will introduce to you the champion cattle judge of the State of Iowa. His name is Jerry Spencer, but the latter part of his name is eliminated in the dairy sections of Iowa. Just plain old Jerry and that is just the kind of a fellow, just an all around and every day fellow, is Jerry.

The Sugar Creek Creamery Company of Danville, Illinois, has been coveting the services of this young man for more than two years and recently succeeded in causing him to break away from his many friends in Iowa and he is now on the development staff of the Dairy Development Department of the above firm, and the Fulton Chamber of Commerce is the recipient of the courtesy of the Sugar Creek Creamery who will send Mr. Spencer to Fulton for a solid week to judge our dairy cows which will be presented at our fair beginning August 23, and continuing throughout the week.

Jerry will have at his disposal two cows, one will be a scrub cow and the other will be a purebred cow. He proposes to show the farmers of this community that the dairy business is a real business within itself and is deserving of their most earnest study, and we want to urge upon you to be in attendance as Jerry will give two demonstrations each day of the fair and will point out every feature and failure of a dairy cow. He says that there is nothing he so much enjoys as having a bunch of dairy farmers gang around him and talk about the dairy problems. The Sugar Creek Creamery Company has also consented to let Jerry come back in the fall to conduct a series of feeding schools which will help our dairy farmers to work the dairy business in such a way that they will get out of it all that there is in it. This will be another wonderful opportunity for our dairy men to be benefited and we hope that you will not let the opportunity pass.

Jerry's Past Record as a Judge of Cattle

Jerry is a graduate of the Iowa state college of agriculture and his record there was among the highest honors ever awarded a student of that institution. He was the coach which developed the greatest cattle judging team ever produced in Iowa. That same team is now touring northern Europe in an international cattle judging contest and Jerry thinks they will bring home the bacon. Trusting that you will avail yourself of this splendid opportunity, we are,

Very truly yours,

FULTON COUNTY ROAD WORK.

(From Hickman-Courier)

Work of graveling certain roads in the county, on which the $100,000 available from the road bond issue for the construction of hard surfaced roads, is to be spent, has started, and in spite of delays this week, due to rains the magistrates, hope to push the work forward and complete about half the mileage before winter, County Judge C. D. Nugent informed the Courier in an interview.

At the time the magistrates voted $6,000 apiece from this fund to be spent on building roads in each of their districts, the plan was to make a four-years program of it, each magistrate to spend $6,000 a year in his district, but The Courier was informed by Judge Nugent and by Magistrate Pat Henry also, that the present intention is to make a two years program, with each magistrate spending $12,000 this year and $12,000 next year, so that the roads may be completed as quickly as possible.

In this district, Magistrate Henry has already let a contract to gravel the Dyersburg road as far as Brownsville, and work is progressing on this as rapidly as the weather and other conditions permit. Magistrate Henry told The Courier that he would let three contracts for graveling the Dresden road from here to State Line, by way of Sylvan Shade, immediately, or as soon as every landowner along the right of way and agreed to give the necessary right of way and move fences back where necessary, and we understand that a petition is now being circulated along this road and that every landowner approached has already signed it, so that Magistrate Henry should be able to let contracts on this road in a few days and push the work through at once.

According to Judge Nugent, Magistrate Hagler, of the Fulton district, will build the Middle road from Fulton to the end of his district, for which we understand from other sources a contract has already been let, and will then assist Magistrate Fields in completing the Middle road on to Liberty church, and from there in to the new State highway. Magistrate Hagler will also build the road from Fulton to the county line, running north toward Enon church, Judge Nugent said, and will assist Magistrate Fields in building a road from the new state highway near Willingham bridge up to Crutchfield. All in all, Magistrate Hagler will give Magistrate Fields a considerable sum of his money to complete these roads, Judge Nugent said.

Just what other roads Magistrate Fields will build in his district is not exactly known, but it is understood he will build the road leading off the new State highway, called Seymour Lane, to McMurry corner and probably on to the State Line at Mt. Zion church to connect with the road Obion county, Tennessee is now building, either this year, or next year. We understand from outside sources that a contract has been let on the road from Willingham to Crutchfield and that work will start at once. Work has already started on the Middle road from Fulton west, we understand. Magistrate Fields will also probably build the road leading off the new state highway to Roper school and to Rush Creek church, if possible.

In the bottom, Magistrate Bradshaw has not yet started work on any of his projects, but according to Judge Nugent, his first step will be to open up the gravel in No. 8 chute, by building the road from the levee there, past Sassafras Ridge church to the new state highway and thus providing a road to get this gravel out to the other roads in his district. It is expected this will be done at once and that the road from Miller to Bondurant to Ledford will also be built this year.

We are informed that work on the road from Hickman to the Tyler place will actually start Monday, weather permitting, and that this strip will be built to the same standard as the new highway from the Tyler place to Fulton.

BECKHAM, STANLEY, BARKLEY

(From Elizabethtown News)

The three principal speakers on the stump in Kentucky this fall in behalf of the Democratic ticket will doubtless be Beckham, Stanley and Barkley. Along with the late Ollie James they are the four best known Democrats in Kentucky of the present generation. Nearly everybody has heard them speak one or more times and is familiar with their public record. Stanley has occupied the three principal offices within the gift of the people of the State, Congressman, Governor and Senator. Barkley has been Congressman and Senator, and Beckham, Governor and Senator, and is now running again for Governor.

Each of these men have many thousands of admirers among Democrats all over the State, and none will ever speak to a small crowd during the campaign. Although there will be other good orators on the stump for the Democratic ticket, including some out of State speakers, Beckham, Stanley and Barkley will be the drawing cards of the campaign.

Although all are good speakers, neither of them employs the same style as the other.

Governor Beckham is a very earnest, argumentative speaker, who never tells a joke, and draws little applause. His speeches are couched in the finest English, always avoiding exaggerated statement, and never abusive or vitriolic. At the end he leaves his auditors impressed, and usually persuaded. His addresses are so carefully put together—laying down premise and then drawing conclusion—that persons who hear them can recall his entire line of thought after he has finished.

Stanley is an orator of the picturesque type, who always does best when speaking for somebody other than himself. He indulges in a lot of historical references 'way over the heads of the crowd, and uses a wealth of four or five syllable words, but he never uses one in the wrong place, and his speeches are a model of his style of oratory. Stanley often goes back to the Declaration of Independence, and sometimes further than that to prove his point, but he can make the best speech on a poor subject that we ever heard. Given a good text, he is invincible.

Barkley is a sledge hammer orator, driving his points home with all the vigor and force of his earnest nature. He usually speaks for two hours, and is going as strongly at the finish as when he begins. His speeches are a very good mixture of passion and reason, and he is perhaps the most popular stumper in the State at this time.

HEALTH OFFICER IS THREATENED

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 20.—Refusing to permit his children to be vaccinated in accordance with the law, holding to the religious belief that it was wrong, Arnold Green, farmer residing few miles southwest of town, made threats to shoot the public health officer if he vaccinated his children at school. Dr. H. E. Prather, public health officer of Fulton county, after being advised by the school teacher of the threats, had Green arrested for criminal insanity. Green was tried yesterday at the courthouse here and adjudged insane by a jury. Two doctors were witnesses, both of whom thought him crazy on religion and unsafe. A number of other witnesses all thought him unsafe to be at large.

On the stand, Green stated that he would rather stay in jail all his life than to see his children vaccinated, saying, "I depend on Almighty God for my health and that of my family." When asked that if the law interfered with his religious belief what he would do, he stated if he had to disobey either one, he'd disobey the law, and if he couldn't live a peaceable life, he'd live a rough one.

Green had gone to the school at Graves school house several times after his children were sent home because he would not permit them to be vaccinated, which is in accordance with the law, and the teacher had become afraid of him. His children told the teacher their father had threatened to kill the health officer if he vaccinated them.

Green was up for this same charge two years ago, raising much trouble every year about his children even attending school, saying he needed their work to help make a living. He had refused to buy books and the county had paid for them.

Miss Mary Prather, one of the teachers of the Sylvan Shade school, south of town, has just returned from a trip to Europe. Her party spent three weeks in Paris, toured Italy, Switzerland, Germany and Belgium and stopped several days in London, joined her brother, Dr. Dave Prather, government health official of Poland, and Mrs. Prather in Paris, touring together with party.

Railroad News

The aristocrat of the Illinois Central organization is the pensioned employee. He is accorded the deference and consideration by other members of the organization that an English nobleman receives from his countrymen. That is an unwritten law of the service.

As a means of identification, President L. A. Downs has just issued to each living member of this nobility a signed card, similar in size and appearance to the usual membership card. It certifies that the person whose name appears thereon is retired from active service and his name is recorded on the Roll of Honor.

The Roll of Honor is the peerage of the Illinois Central System. It bears the names of more than 2,500 veterans of the service, some 1,300 of whom are now living. Pensioners now living have rendered in the aggregate more than 37,000 years' service to the Illinois Central System, the average being between twenty-nine and thirty years.

The dean of them all in point of service, is Julian Foy, of Manteno, Ill., who was retired in 1925, after sixty years of continuous service as a section laborer and crossing flagman at Manteno and Pootone, Ill. So far as is known, this is the longest service record ever made by an employee of the Illinois Central System, which has around 65,000 employees and is now in its seventy-seventh year.

TRINITY EPISCOPAL CHURCH
104 Washington St.

Eleventh Sunday after Trinity.

9:45 a. m. Church school, H. S. Stansbury, Supt.

Church News

This being the Fourth Sunday, there will be no church service as Dr. Boyd will hold the usual service at Columbus. Clara Elizabeth Boyd, who was slightly injured last week by a fall from a tree, has about recovered and expects to be able to attend church school in September.

Mrs. Boyd was much improved in health last week and hopes to be able to accompany Dr. Boyd when he comes to hold service the first Sunday in September.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Khourie and family, who are spending their vacation in Michigan, are expected to be home by Sept. 15.

Mrs. H. S. Stansbury was unable to attend service or church school last Sunday. She is reported much better at this writing.

The unfinished bridge of the highway between Clinton and Fulton compels Dr. Boyd to make the trip from Crutchfield to Fulton by train.

Miss Kellena Cole was the house guest of Mrs. Cy Young, her godmother, during a part of her visit to Chicago.

BRIDGE ACROSS RIVER AT CAIRO WILL COST $31,100 000Corps of 200 Workmen Employed in Construction.

More than 200 men now are engaged in constructing the Cairo bridge across the Mississippi River linking Illinois and Missouri. The contracts call for the completion of the structure by March 1, 1929. The bridge will cost $31,100,000 and will carry only vehicle traffic. The total length of the bridge including approaches, will be more than two miles.

Driving piling as foundation for the piers and sinking of caissons will be started within the next few days. Tramways have been built out into the river from both the Missouri and Illinois sides and will be used for loading a fleet of barges that will carry the material to the pier sites. Three large cranes for handling material have been built. Two thousand feet of the approach on the Illinois side of the river will be made of dirt. Contractor W. Noble of Fayetteville, Miss., is building the fill and expects to have it completed by January 1. The Missouri Valley Iron & Bridge Co., will handle the piers and the steel superstructure.

NEW GRIFFITH FILM AMONG THE SIX BEST

"Sally of the Sawdust" Given High Rank by Leading Critics

Ranked by national critics as one of the six best pictures of the year, D. W. Griffith's new production, "Sally of the Sawdust" is the first motion picture to receive this distinction where the critics have seen it in an unfinished condition.

During one of the trial showings of the picture, which Mr. Griffith always makes that the public may tell him what is interesting and what is not.

It is one of the best pictures of this year, and one of the most entertaining pictures ever made.

No other producer ever has had so many pictures ranked in the select list of best as Mr. Griffith, but for delightful entertainment, laughter, human play of emotions and splendid acting, "Sally of the Sawdust" ranks with the finest things he has ever done.

The cast is the largest Mr. Griffith has used in any picture excepting his great spectacles such as "The Birth of a Nation," "America," "Orphans of the Storm," and "Hearts of the World."

The scenes are lavishly staged, varying from circus activities to the social splendors of beautiful homes. And as typical of Griffith's work, the action grows to a sensational finish, including one of the most hilarious scenes ever screened in which the irrepressible McGargle drives his car across country to get to the courthouse to save Sally from disgrace. At Orpheum Monday, August 29 and 30.

Quite a number of pretty and useful gifts were presented to Miss Gates by the guests, together with their expressions of good wishes.

THE FLORENCE

Occasional washing
without soap water makes the Florence
clean and bright.

How you can banish
the dirtiest day of the week

The dirtiest day of the week for the woman who cooks with coal or wood is stove-polishing day.

Why soil your hands and your clothes and fill the house with a disagreeable odor when a small sum will put a cleanly, perfect-looking Florence Oil Range in your kitchen?

This range puts an end to coal-gas, soot, and ashes. It gives heat only when you want heat—and as much as you want when you want it. The flame is a gas flame. It is not a wick flame, such as you see in the ordinary lamp.

Drop in today and let us explain in detail how the Florence develops this hot blue oil-gas flame.

JUNIOR CLUB LAMBS SE FOR GOOD PRICE

Junior agricultural club boys and girls from seven counties received an average of $15.85 per hundred pounds for 600 prime Kentucky spring lambs at the recent show and sale at the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville. The lambs brought them a total of $6,831. In addition, they won $1,200 in premiums.

Owen county boys and girls, who won the highest prizes, secured $321 in cash prizes; Hopkins County, $255; Franklin county, $168; Caldwell county, $137; Gallatin county, $132, and Todd county, $50.

Roscoe Martin, the Owen county boy winning the grand championship on a single lamb, received $1 a pound for it. It was a Hampshire weighing 105 pounds. He also had the champion pen of three lambs, while his county was first in carloads.—Exchange Bulletin, July 15.

The above clipping speaks for itself. Here are a few good live counties that are doing things. There is no reason why Fulton county cannot do just as well. If an even dozen boys or girls of the proper age would organize a lamb club and go in for sheep raising, in five years Fulton county could ship lambs and old sheep to the markets and fatten up its bank account. Not only sheep, but how nice it would be if we had a good live club organized to raise thoroughbred hogs. And then again poultry clubs should be organized in this county for the purpose of improving the poultry stock of the county.

A few hundred dollars spent for thoroughbred stock would in five years raise the value of stock in Fulton county several hundred fold.

Why can't we wake up to the opportunity?
