Prominent Officials of Tobacco Association Visit Murray and Address Growers Last Monday.

Felix G. Ewing, general manager, and J. W. Usher, vice-president, of the tobacco association, were here fourth Monday and addressed a number of the Calloway tobacco growers in the afternoon in the court yard.

Mr. Usher was the first speaker, and after an introduction by N. L. Hart devoted about thirty minutes to a general resume of what the association had accomplished and a general discussion of the situation as it existed today. His remarks were well received by his hearers and his earnestness impressed the growers with the necessity of maintaining the organization. Mr. Usher devoted some time to a discussion of the new pledge and called attention to the fact that growers could pledge for one year if they did not see fit to sign for three years. His explanation regarding the penalty of $1.50 imposed upon all persons who signed and then sold out was to the satisfaction of his hearers. He stated that men who took exception to this provision of the contract were not signing with a view of "sticking" but that every grower who went into the association with a view of staying did not object to the penalty clause.

Mr. Usher is from Graves county and has been one of the most enthusiastic members of the organization since the first year of its existence. He is a farmer, is a plain, practical speaker and has devoted much time to the advancement of the association.

Felix G. Ewing, the general manager of the association, was introduced by Mr. Usher and spoke for about forty minutes and was given the very closest attention. Mr. Ewing is acknowledged the master mind of the great organization and there is no questioning the fact that he is the greatest benefactor of the tobacco growers of the "Black Patch" will ever know. To his energy and intellect is due the organization that has fed more hungry children, give clothing and shelter to more women, brought peace and plenty to more persons than any similar organization known to the people of this state. Mr. Ewing devoted his remarks to what he was pleased to term the subject, "Is it Worth While." After briefly reciting the accomplishments of the association, also calling attention to the fact that the association had made errors, just as every other great combination had erred, but possibly fewer mistakes had been made by the organization of tobacco growers than any other of similar magnitude, he then appealed to his hearers with the question as to whether it was worth while to continue the association or again place the growers of tobacco at the mercy of the trust. He called attention to the fact that there was going to continue to be a tobacco association whether a single acre of Calloway tobacco was pledged or not, and endeavored to impress upon his hearers that they needed the association much worse than the association needed them. He appealed earnestly to the Calloway farmers to pledge their crops and assist in again placing the association in absolute control of the supply of tobacco produced in the black district. He called attention to the fact that it was not because of any failure in handling the 1900 crop that produced discord in the association and stated that the only thing now the matter with the association was a wavering membership.

His speech was one of the most earnest appeals ever made to the people of this county and every man who listened to him must admit the absolute earnestness and honesty of the man. It is regrettable that all farmers of the county did not hear him.

Following the speaking a large amount of tobacco was pledged. Libby Prison Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old Libby Prison diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except Libby Prison diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by Dale & Stubblefield.

COMMUNICATED.

"And behold they cast lots and divided his raiment among them."

It seems from the howl that went up from the editor of the Calloway Times last week that Fido sure felt the lash.

I would ask the forbearance of the dear reader, and will also waive the right of "answering a fool according to his folly," and will lay before you a few facts as to why this underhanded fight is being made against me.

It was my intention in my last article to flush this gang who have been hiding behind the columns of the Calloway Times. It is this same political gang that would crucify a man's good name upon the cross of political prejudice and cast lots afterwards for his raiment. It is the same conterie of political tricksters who disfranchised from fifteen to eighteen hundred Democrats in the reorganization of the county committee. Boldly robbed these honest citizens of their right of suffrage, and when called upon for a defense of their actions they can only yelp "night rider."

What are you going to say to these people in November? When the time comes that you need their help, are you going to ask them to come up and kiss the hand that smote them? Isn't it about time you ceased your attacks on me and clean out your own house? Has it come to pass that a Democrat stands for law and order in its proper sense is without honor in his own party? Let us look at the cold facts in the case.

Judge Wells, in a letter to Gov. Wilson, very frankly admitted that by his bold and outspoken course he had eliminated all chance of being elected to office in Calloway, and it was a Republican Governor who recognized merits. How was that? Ruined his chances in this sanctified hall of elected circles of being elected to office? Three thousand Democrats in Calloway county and a safe working majority of them bold night rider.

Joe McCarrell in Christian county, a Democrat who stood for decency in politics, and by his bold and outspoken course for the same, ruined his chances amongst his own.

Walter Krone, of Lyon county, the noblest Roman of them all, has been forced to seek recognition for true merit at the hands of the Republican party.

Oh, Temporo, oh Mares, and likewise Rats! And the Times, Uncle Ace, Long Tom, and a few others of their breed, through the Times columns are still engaged in branding the majority of the voters of our good county as "night riders." Oh, the transparent duplicity of it all. To bolster up their tottering house of cards they will stoop to arraign neighbor against neighbor, friend against friend, section against section, and with but an eye single to their own political advancement. Woe betide him, and God protect him from their venomous attacks who would seek to oppose them. Nothing is too sacred for their polluting touch. The upbuilding of our county, its financial interests, an earnest and honest desire for a brotherly spirit, and one great common interest among us all, is sacrificed upon the altar of political greed.

The Times and its cohorts wish to know if your humble servant is depending upon what they are pleased to call the "night rider" vote for my election in November. Let us forget Mr. Wear, let me call your attention to a few facts of ancient history that has probably escaped your mind. Let us take the history of the French revolution that resulted in the establishment of a free and enlightened government for France. Did this movement originate among the nobility? Not amount, I become a "night rider" pure and simple.

And 'tis this self-same gang who have been hiding behind the columns of the Calloway Times. It is this same political gang that would crucify a man's good name upon the cross of political prejudice and cast lots afterwards for his raiment. It is the same conterie of political tricksters who disfranchised from fifteen to eighteen hundred Democrats in the reorganization of the county committee. The Times and its cohorts wish to know if your humble servant is depending upon what they are pleased to call the "night rider" vote for my election in November. Let us forget Mr. Wear, let me call your attention to a few facts of ancient history that has probably escaped your mind. Let us take the history of the French revolution that resulted in the establishment of a free and enlightened government for France. Did this movement originate among the nobility? Not to any alarming extent. The rumbling of discontent was first heard among the taboring class of Paris, or as the "clat" at that time called them the "riff-raff and scum of the back alleys." A class of people whom you would dub "night riders," my dear times, and it soon found voice amongst the peasantry of the French Empire. Some more night riders, Mr. Times, for they wanted a voice in the affairs of Government. In time these rumblings resulted in a growth of discontent that was heard all over the civilized world. Who were these people my dear Times? Night riders you would call them, but today France stands a free and enlightened Republic as a monument of the movement started by these — what did you call them? night riders? I am before the people of this county today, Mr. Times, asking for the vote of every honest man who believes in a fair and impartial administration of the duties of this office. The beggar and the banker look alike to me when they bear the stamp of honesty. I shall not stand at the polls on election day and drive a man off to keep him from voting for me simply because you would dub him a "night rider." Neither will you and your cohorts, Mr. Times.

In fact night rider or nigger votes, either, are going to look mighty good to your bunch on the 2nd day of November. Now, Mr. Editor you have been asking me some questions, and you have also been preaching the doctrine of no politics to the Democrats of this county in order to get them to support your so called law and order ticket. Now, I want you and Uncle Ace to come to the front and show your colors. In Christian county the law and order element, feeling that in the nomination of Jack Hanberry against Cook, and Smith vs Smith, it was a case of jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, and that somebody had nearly strangled the "accords" on them and turned "Jack" from the bottom, and also wanting a free from taint law and order man for commonwealths attorney united on Joe McCarrell, a well known law and order man for circuit judge, and Walter Krone, the king bee of them all, for commonwealths attorney. These men are free from any taint of night riderism, and will be placed under the log cabin as nominees of the Republican party.

How are you going to vote Mr. Times, Uncle Ace, and Long Tom? Are you going to practice what you preach and vote for McCarrell and Krone, of whom there is no manner of doubt, or are you going to crawl and vote for Hanberry, who is looked on with suspicion in his home county, and Smith, of whom you have thrown out some very strong hints in the past your own self that he had been lax in his duty towards the night riders?

What are you doing to do about it, you would be great apostles of law and order? Come out and show your colors.

Will somebody tell me, oh tell me please, is the Times editor and Uncle Ace men, or just a disguise?

If this thing of these political misfits masquerading as law and order men were not so hilarious, it might be serious. One thing I admire you for Billie, you come out at last, and died one of the abortion and now if you would only make your correspondents do the same, and while almost everybody knows who Uncle Ace is, make him stick his name to his slush.

I have a whole lot more to tell you Mr. Times, as I always carry all kinds of shot in my locker.

ELECTION.

Tobacco Association Will Hold Precinct Election Throughout Black Patch.

Guthrie, Ky., Aug. 27th. The elections for District Chairmen of the Planters Protective Association are to be held at the public voting place of each district of every county in the association, Sept. 4th, between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The election can be held by the present incumbent, or in the event there is no one holding this position in anyone of said districts, then the county chairman can designate some reliable man to hold said election, after he has taken the oath herewith before a notary public, for the proper conduct of such election. No one is eligible to vote who is not a tobacco planter, and who is not a member of the Association. Any man who has signed the old pledge and has not violated it is eligible to vote, but any man who has violated the old pledge is not eligible to vote unless he signs the new pledge.

The district chairman, or whoever conducts the election in any district should be furnished with an ample number of pledges, so that those who come to the election and have not pledged can sign the new pledge before they vote. These pledges should be very carefully preserved and turned over to the secretary of the county who will tabulate them and then send to the general secretary at Guthrie. There should be no election held in any district which does not raise tobacco, notwithstanding it may be a tobacco county. It is understood that there are a number of counties which it is not necessary to name specifically, that have such a small member and pledge so little tobacco to the association, that it becomes a question for future consideration as to whether these counties will be admitted to the association, therefore the fact of an election being held in such county is not to be considered a contract that such county or any member therein shall be admitted, but it is deemed advisable that all counties heretofore and at present associated with the association hold these elections, and the parties so elected will be considered proper parties to negotiate for membership in the said association.

Yours truly,
F. G. EWING,
Gen. Manager.

The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by Dale & Stubblefield.

10,000 BATTLE IN STRIKE RIOT

DEPUTY SHERIFF IS DRAGGED FROM STREET CAR IN PITTS-BURG AND KILLED.

SCORES SHOT AND BEATEN

Official Is Mistaken for Strikebreaker, and Street Battle Follows—
Volley of Shots Poured Into Car.

Pittsburg, Aug. 24.—Schoonville and McKee's Rocks are virtually under martial law, with the state constabulary patrolling the streets and the strikers of the Pressed Steel Car company sullen and threatening in every move. It is almost assured that Sheriff Gumbert will appeal to Gov. Stuart for state troops.

Unless a house-to-house canvass is made of the strikers' homes it may never be known just how many were killed and injured in the rioting and fighting, which was by far the worst that has taken place since the strike was called six weeks ago. Unofficial figures place the number of dead at six, fatally wounded, six, while scores were shot in the legs, hit by bricks and clubbed into unconsciousness by the constabulary. The known dead: Deputy Sheriff Harry Kater, Harry Milbauer, state striker, shot in left breast; Trooper John L. Williams, body riddled with bullets; Anton Gubers, striker, shot in chest; unidentified white man, striker, shot in body; Trooper John L. Smith.

Street Cars Wrecked.
During the time of the rioting street cars were wrecked, men dragged to the ground and stabbed to death, while a constant hoisting and firing of revolvers accompanied the work.

The rioting began about 8 o'clock when Sheriff Kater was attacked on a street car crossing O'Donovan bridge. He was in citizens' clothing and, evidently being mistaken for a strikebreaker, was ordered from the car by the strikers. While riding after soldiers was turned toward him. When his revolver was emptied he begged for mercy, but was dragged from the car. A bullet entered his forehead, and after he fell to the ground his body was smashed into a shopless area under the level of the railroad tracks.

By this time 10,000 men were crowding the streets, slugging and stabbing all whom they supposed to be strikebreakers. As a second car approached across the bridge a revolver was placed against the motorman's head and he was ordered to stop. Troopers Kater, Williams, O'Donnell, Smith and Jones were on this car. They were ordered off, and the troopers opened fire.

Volley Poured Into Car.
Immediately a volley was poured into the car and Trooper Williams fell to the floor dead. Both cars stopped were wrecked by bricks and ordered back to the city by the strikers.

Williams' body was recovered by troopers. O'Donnell continued the fight, but was brought down and shot through the body. Kater stood over the wounded man firing from a revolver in each hand. When his ammunition was exhausted he was terribly beaten and stabbed by the mob.

Up to this time the state constabulary had not left the company stockade, but with the increased firing the entire mounted forces were ordered out by Col. Smith.

The troopers charged down upon O'Donovan's bridge, and, while still some distance away, the strikers massed and fired. Their shots went wild, however, and as the troopers stepped down they broke and fled.

At intervals the strikers reassembled, and in the battle that followed strikers were shot down right and left, but were spirited away and the exact number of wounded could not be ascertained or the extent of their injuries. Eight, however, are accounted for, all suffering from gun shot wounds or from being beaten over the heads by the troopers.

HEART STITCHED, LIVES

SURGEON SEWS UP TWO CUTS
RECEIVED IN FIGHT.

Organ Is Held in a Tenuculum During an Operation That Requires Almost an Hour.

St. Louis, Oct. 24.—Michael Lawless, who was stabbed in the heart Saturday night, and who underwent an operation in which 12 stitches were taken in that vital organ, still lives.

A remarkable operation was performed early Sunday morning by Dr. Walter C. O. Kirchner, superintendent of the city hospital, after the patient was nearer death than usually comes to one who survives.

Monday the patient was still living and, while Lawless' condition is precarious, hospital physicians say that he has a chance for life.

In the fight he was stabbed in the chest with a pocket knife. A physician made an examination and temporarily bound the wound. The patient was hurried direct to the city hospital reaching that institution at 12:45 o'clock Sunday morning, nearly an hour after the wound was inflicted.

Dr. Kirchner took charge of the case. He made a careful examination. While the patient lay flat a great amount of blood was and much weakness, the doctor noted the robust and perfect physical condition and thought there was a chance to save his life.

Sections of Ribs Removed.
His examination revealed that the knife blade had penetrated the heart itself and had made an opening an inch and a half long. With every pulsation of the heart blood spuried from it.

An opening above the heart was made by the removal of sections of two ribs, and the action of the heart was plainly visible to the surgeon and his assistants. It was seen that the knife blade had penetrated the pericardium, the fiber that protects the endocardium, known to laymen as the heart sack, and the endocardium, or inner heart itself.

Owing to the pulsations of the heart, Dr. Kirchner used an instrument called a tenuculum, with which the heart itself was seized and held while four stitches were made in the endocardium. Then eight stitches were taken in the pericardium, or the outer wall, and the heart was dropped back into the cavity.

FINAL BATTLE FOR INCUBATOR BABY

CHILD'S FOSTER MOTHER SAYS SUIT AT KANSAS CITY WILL BE HER LAST.

ALREADY HAS SPENT $12,000

Little Girl Is Guarded by Detective—
Case Is Set for Wednesday—
Mrs. Barclay Woot Is First Fight.

Kansas City, Aug. 24.—Little Ma Jean Blackby, the famous St. Louis incubator baby, who was kidnapped from Tampa Saturday morning and rescued on a Burlington train late Saturday night, is held by the local police until Wednesday, when the case will be given a hearing in the circuit court.

"We feel that we can't take too many precautions while we are up against a deal like this. You see, they won't stop at anything," said Mrs. Blackby, as she sat in the matron's room with her child in her arms.

"The strain is terrible. I never knew when I put my darling to bed at night whether she'd be there in the morning or not," said Mrs. Blackby. "Three other times they've run away with her."

"Once the papers did not tell about it. It was August 31; two years ago. Mrs. Barclay, with two men, broke into the house by cutting out a back screen. But we stopped them before they got to the depot."

"You can see how it is. I don't feel that she's safe even here. I feel sure that the lawyers cannot take my baby away from me."

"I have been given the custody of the baby, and I'm sure the law of either Missouri or Kansas will uphold me in keeping her. Moreover, I believe we will succeed this time in punishing the kidnappers."

"I am very well satisfied with the Missouri laws," said Mrs. Blackby, as she rested on a cot in a cell in the matron's room. "I have spent $12,000 in what, so far, has been a futile attempt to gain possession of the child. This is positively the last time I shall try to regain her. It has to be settled one way or the other now."

Mrs. Barclay First Won.
The Missouri courts first gave the "incubator" baby to Mrs. Barclay, whose home was in St. Louis. Born in a race with Mrs. Barclay's attorney, Kansas officials who tried to serve requisition papers and take the woman and the child back to Tampa must now wait until the courts hear habeas corpus proceedings.

Acting Gov. Grunich granted requisition for Mrs. Barclay and John Gentry, a private detective arrested with her for alleged kidnapping. Meantime the woman had retained attorneys and began habeas corpus proceedings. The child is held at police headquarters and a detective is in constant attendance.

It is the time of Mrs. Barclay's attorney that through the judge brought the whole matter may be reviewed by the Missouri courts.

COOK HAD BECOME FIXTURE

Much Wonderment at Social Matrons' Meeting Before the New Member Explained.

It was almost the unanimous opinion at the Social Matrons' meeting that it was impossible to keep a cook more than a month without changing. "However," announced the president, "if any person present knows of an exceptional case let her speak!" At this the New Member timidly rose in their midst. The exception is in my house," she said.

This caused the others to sit up. "How long have you had your cook?" quizzed the president.

"Over five years."

For a moment the others stared in amazement, then heads began to bob in admiration and many heads began to swing sideways in vigorous distrust of the statement.

"Is this cook entirely satisfactory to a cook?"

"My husband thinks not, but she stays, nevertheless."

"How do you manage to keep her, then?"

"Because she won't go."

"Ah!"

This ejaculation which escaped from the president's mouth was flashed like magic through the meeting until it was repeated by every member.

The president regarded the New Member with half pity, half scorn.

New Member," said she, the next moment, "instead of advancing a case in which a long-sought solution might have been found, you expose yourself as being worse off than any of your sisters. You show that by allowing this cook to stay over the month you have enabled the mental to attain and bat an extraordinary over you and your husband—just the thing this society has so long fought against! No doubt you rue this day, New Member?"

"I do not," she replied, bridling through the stifles and tart insinuations that so infuriated about her. "For in my house I am the cook!"

Devotion to Sarah.

That matinee girl in an exaggerated form are not specialties of this country is evidenced by the following from a Paris paper:

"They were a boy of about ten young girls, seated yesterday morning on a bench opposite 56 Boulevard Pereire."

"Why? They were awaiting the return home of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt from a triumphal tour of the north of France. The girls had seen her automobile for the first time."

"The girls knew very well that Mme. Bernhardt was due to arrive yesterday but at what time? Having no precise information on that point, they had begun mounting guard at nine in the morning before the home of their idol. Noon came—one o'clock—but no automobile."

"But they were not discouraged. Rather than desert their post they decided to lunch right there—a bench."

"Two o'clock, three, four. At last there is the honk of a horn. The ten girls pick up their handbags and rush toward the approaching automobile."

"A radiant smile from Sarah is their reward—and they step away, quite happy."

Holland Lives Up to Her Pictures.
Holland is one European country that looks like her pictures. There is no better use for the word quaint than to apply it to Holland. The farmers really wear wooden shoes. The land really is diked. Black and white Holstein cattle really pervade the landscape. The men really wear blue jeans shirts outside their trousers as they work in the fields. On bus loads of heads of women in any crowd the silver hair baskets, covered with lace net, really may be seen. The girls and women are really checked without artificial coloring. The fields really abound with wild flowers and windmills really away their quaint, awkward arms in the wind. There is no sham, no pomp and no false and feasting the country. One gets the impression of a rugged, shambling, simple kindhearted, hopeful race in going through Holland.—From William Allen White's Letter to the Emporia Gazette.

A Few Words to Fools.
There is a fool born every minute so we are told; but there is also a great mortality among them. There are fewer active ones alive today than there were last week, so that the world is not overstocked with them.

It seems useless to say much to this kind of people, but we wish to give a few suggestions in the interest of those who are not fools, but friends and relatives of fools.

Unless you are an expert boatman do not take a boat out on the water and in no event unless you are able to control all those who are in it.

Do not try to see how deep you can dive nor how far you can swim into danger.

Steward Commands Police.
Chicago, Aug. 24.—Leroy T. Steward, chief of police, recently took over his new duties, relieving Herman Schlichter, who has been acting chief nearly a year. Reports were current that Steward planned a big "saloon" in the department, but he was silent on the subject, declining to discuss his plans.

Old Church Celebrates.
Elizabethtown, Ky., Aug. 24.—The one hundred and first anniversary of the founding of St. Clare church, at Elizabethtown, was celebrated this week. Father Thomas H. O'Connell, of Bowling Green, presided at high mass and Father Thomas H. O'Connell, of Louisville, preached the commemorative sermon.

A Good Excuse.
He—Confound it!—We've been sitting on wet paint.

She—Yes, dear. I know we have.

He—And you never said so!

She—That's all right, dear. You had said I was to tell you that you were not to go out without your shoes on!

AERIAL EVENTS ARE UNDER WAY

PAUL TISSANDIER MAKES SENSATIONAL FLIGHTS IN A WRIGHT AIRSHIP.

AMERICANS ON THE GROUND

Glenn Curtiss to Make Try for International Cup, Cheered by Countrymen—Bathory Plain Crowded.

Rheims, Aug. 24.—With M. Louis Bleriot, Hubert Latham and M. Leveque qualified as French contestants in the aerial contests for the international cup in the first tournament of aviation, flights were resumed Monday by aspirants to take part in this unique contest of scientific skill. Glenn H. Curtiss, who represents the United States in the contests, has already qualified in the matter of speed and distance and on the first day of the tournament did not make a single flight. Great crowds went toward Bathory plain Monday and many of those who were present Sunday spent the night there. There are a number of prominent Americans here for aviation work.

Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Gould and their son, Jefferson De Mont Thompson of New York; Roy D. Chapin of Detroit; L. H. Kettledge of Cleveland; Clinch Smith, Nat Goodwin and Cortlandt Bishop of New York.

The opening of the seven days flying tests witnessed some sensational flights made by M. Paul Tissandier. While about M. Tissandier described some of the most difficult flights.

Many Wright Ships.
Wright biplanes are much in evidence, and it is in one of these cars than Tissandier made his sensational flight.

The official classification in the 30-kilometer speed test is as follows:

Tissandier, Wright biplane, 28 minutes 59.15 seconds.

Curtiss, Wright biplane, 29 minutes 2.15 seconds.

The classification in the 104 kilometers speed test is as follows:

Leveque, Wright biplane, 5:58.25.
Tissandier, Wright biplane, 5:26.15.
Latham, Wright biplane, 5:22.25.
Latham, Antoinette monoplane, 5:47.45.

Paul Han, Voisin biplane, 10:50.
Sommer, Farman biplane, 11:24.25.
Cockburn, Farman biplane, 11:44.
Rumau-Verilla, Voisin biplane, 12:35.15.

Latham qualified as the third French pilot in the Coupe International contest by covering 20 kilometers in 15:35.

Curtiss for Big Event.
M. Tissandier, with a Wright biplane, is a reserve pilot. He completed two circles over the aerodrome in 15:26 seconds. Bleriot drove a ship of his own construction, Latham, in a second Antoinette, remained in the air for 14 minutes 44.15 seconds. Six reserve pilots are allowed.

In addition to Curtiss, the other aeronauts here who did not essay to fly on the opening day of the tournament were Henry Farman and K. Duhamann.

Curtiss is more interested in the international cup events than any other, though he will go in for the speed prizes.

LOVE LOST, WANTS CASH

Landlady's Daughter Sues Former Star Boarder for $15,000 Heart Balm.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 24.—Miss Beatie Kenney filed in the Platte City circuit court a $15,000 breach of promise suit against Benjamin B. Layton, a young Platte county farmer. Miss Kenney, who is 25 years old and handsome, is the daughter of Mrs. Kate Kenney, proprietor of the fashionable Westminster Platte boarding house.

Layton, who formerly was a railway clerk for the Burlington, was a son of Mrs. Kenney. Miss Kenney's petition says a strong attachment sprang up between them and they became engaged to be married. She alleges that last December 1 was chosen as the wedding day, but that it was postponed from time to time at Layton's request. Since then, the plaintiff claims she fell heir to considerable amounts of money and has married.

Losers Will Be Arrested.
Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 24.—Mayor Hurm has issued orders that all loafers in the city shall be arrested on charges of vagrancy. The city has been unable to procure men to construct a roadway and the mayor desires to compel the loitering loafers to do the work as members of chain gangs.

Dr. L. F. Cain of Oklahoma Weds.
Washington, Aug. 24.—Dr. L. F. Cain of Muskogee, Okla., a prospective candidate for the Republican nomination for the governorship of Oklahoma, was married at Rockledge, Md., yesterday to Mrs. Nora M. Fuller, a "WAGNER" Washington widow.

Tuesdays, except on the first of the month.

A county democratic mass convention is to be held in Murray Saturday for the purpose of electing delegates to the railroad district convention which meets in Owensboro, to nominate a candidate for railroad commissioner to succeed the late Mr. D. Ferguson. But little interest is manifested now in the county mass convention and but very few will attend.

"The city steam roller is busily engaged in improving the alley running west from Second street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue and south to Kentucky avenue. The city has dumped car loads of crushed rock over the alley and it is being mowed solid."

The above news item from the Paducah Sun reminds us to inquire if the steam roller in use is the same machine employed to crush the right of suffrage out of Calloway democracy?

Referring to the action of the first appellate district committee in calling a primary election for November 2nd, to nominate a candidate to be voted for at the regular election November 1910, the Paducah News Democrat waxes warm in its denunciation of the committee and uses such expressive terms as these:

"Machine methods and political trickery have again been invoked." "Pothouse politicians who resort to ways that are devious and deeds that are dark will eventually bring into disrepute any party, in any land."

Mighty strong terms, these, emanating from a paper whose policies are largely influenced by W. A. Berry, who by virtue of his position as executive committeeman of the First district, recently endorsed the dirtiest political theft ever perpetrated, when more than 2,000 Calloway democrats were disfranchised and denied the right of selecting their own party officials. Mighty strong terms, these, from a paper which endorsed the action of the recent Second senatorial district convention in its disgraceful conduct of robbery and theft in defrauding E. Berry, of Benton, out of the nomination given him by the people. Truly, it makes a difference as to whose ox is gored.

Oswald Smith died last Saturday at the home of his parents, a few miles south of town. He recently returned from near Hickman, Ky., where he had been engaged in teaching school. Deceased was a splendid young man and was making preparation to enter the ministry. His sudden demise came as quite a shock to his many acquaintances in this county.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney trouble for many years. Tom Morris lost a barn and about twenty pounds of hay by fire last Saturday afternoon at his farm two miles south of town. The fire originated from a few loads of green pea hay that had been cut and thrown in the barn with the other hay, and spontaneous combustion resulted. Besides the loss of hay two wagons, two mowers, and a number of other farming implements were destroyed. The fire occurred about four o'clock.

Obituary.

Mrs. Bernice Smith, daughter of Mrs. Lunie Wilson, was born May 7th, 1892, died July 2, 1909, aged 17 years, 2 months and 25 days. See was laid to rest at Concord Cemetery. Bernice was married to Herbert O. Smith Oct. 18, 1908. She leaves a husband, mother, one brother and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death. We should not think of Bernice as dead but gone to meet her Father in Heaven. Bernice united with the Christian church at Liberty at an early age and lived a devoted member until death.

It was hard to give dear Bernice up, she always had a pleasant smile for all, but what a happy thought to know she was prepared to go. All was done that loving hands could do, but God knows best. Herbert, live so when your time comes to go you may meet dear Bernice, for she will be waiting and watching for you. Bernice's death was a sorrowful shock to all who knew her, she was sick but a short time. Like a star she vanished from our sight to shine in a brighter clime above. We are sure if the tongue and fins that are now closed in death could speak they would say to the sad ones there is nothing to be dreaded in death. Bernice has crossed the sad river of death into the beyond to await her loved ones who know they will be called sooner or later. Just wait for the summons that will bring you to that happy band on the other shore, where no more farewell tears shall be shed and no more sad good-byes. Another home is saddened. A precious form is still. Another place is vacant. That no one else can fill.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and I have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected. I have been a home-mercantile traveler for sixteen years, and never start out without this remedy. It is a faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols, of Oak and Ind. Ter. When I have used a remedy for thirty years, it shows its value as competent to speak of it. For sale by Dale & Stubblefield.

School Convened Monday.

The Murray Graded school was convened Monday with a full complement of teachers present. A large attendance of both pupils and patrons, including the board of trustees, were present and participated in the opening exercises. Rev. H. B. Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church, delivered the principal address. His remarks were given close attention and appreciated by the assembly. School Superintendent Langston followed Rev. Taylor in a short address that was well received.

The present year promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the school. Under the direction and leadership of Prof. M. M. Faughender, who is just returned from one of the leading training institutions of the country, refreshed with new ideas, and with the able assistance of a splendid array of capable teachers there is no reason why the present term of this school should not be superior to any ever taught in our midst. Prof. Faughender has endeavored himself to the scholars, and while he has only been in our midst a short time has had the satisfaction of seeing the school grow and expand in every way.

One additional teacher was employed for the present term, and now with a full complement of seven instructors, seven class of assured competent instruction.

MERELY MISTAKEN IDENTITY

As from the shelter of the trees we watched the youngsters on the lawn, Mrs. Verabour gave a sigh. "Youth!" she apostrophized "golden youth!"

"You, indeed?" Mrs. Verabour seemed to expect it of me. "But one must conform to the customs of the society in which one lives. As a matter of fact, I had no particularly painful yearning to resume the somewhat clumsy and distressing habit of youth."

"Youth," I felt it my duty to point out, "is not properly a phase of time. It is not a possession, it is a feeling. One has only to desire, and one has. Seek, and one has found. The spirit of youth is within reaching distance of everyone." Then it struck me that Mrs. Verabour was quite near to me, so I ventured a slight bow.

Mrs. Verabour tried to suppress a laugh.

I raised my eyebrows.

"It was such an obvious afterthought," she explained.

Before I could protest Mrs. Verabour said:

"I Hate Boys," She Went on, "They're So Uninteresting."

"I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting."

"I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting."

"I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting."

"I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting."

"I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting." "I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting."

"Don't let's hide there, though." "Oh, you know it, too, do you?" I said. "Why not hide there? No body could possibly find us unless they knew of the place; and I don't mean to do."

Mrs. Seymour shrugged her shoulders protestingly.

"Of course, if you're very keen," she began.

"My dear girl," I cried hastily, "where you please. Heaven forbid that I have reached the age when I can resist with grace."

Accordingly we sought shelter among the rose trees, and, seating herself upon an upturned bucket, Miss Seymour smiled up at me. "I know no more pleasurable sensation than that which comes from being smiled at by a pretty girl. Although something under 40 is the ideal age for a man, at that moment I would willingly have retreated 20 years from this perfection."

I mentioned something of my desire to my companion.

"You're not old," she protested—"that is, not very."

I looked my head sadly.

"I hate boys," she went on, "they're so uninteresting and conceited."

"Youth," I said wisely, "is the only age at which conceit is possible. Then one can be conceited over what one is, or over what one is not."

"Puck," said Miss Mollie, "I think a man ought only to be conceited over what he has done."

"Alas," said I sadly, "that is exactly what he shouldn't be." A remark altogether beyond Miss Mollie's comprehension.

She reflected over it for a moment, and then gave it up.

"You're the same age as Mrs. Verabour, aren't you, Mr. Blake?"

"I was once," I replied, "but that was many years ago."

"We used to play hide-and-seek," I continued, "in this very garden."

"That does sound funny," declared Miss Mollie, with a sudden smile. "You and Mrs. Verabour?"

"Yes," said I. "Hide-and-seek is a most innocent game—it used to be in my young days. What else did they do?"

"Nothing," she replied, looking at me with innocent eyes. (Her mother had just said she had reason for my doubts as to their trustworthiness.) "Did she show you the place in the laurels?"

"We found it together," I said.

"Were you ever discovered?"

"I don't remember," I replied. "Probably not, for we always hid there."

A look of some appreciation came into the young lady's face, and she shook her head at me reprovingly.

"Young Master Jack doesn't appear to have found anybody yet," I said, with some misgivings.

"I expect he's only troubling to look for us," she replied.

"Why?" said I, laughing. "I knew well enough."

"Mrs. Mollie," she said, "ever so shyly."

"Wouldn't you?" she asked, her lips pursed impudently.

Then I knew that my theory was correct. For a Youth was almost within reaching distance of another look, and I should be able to seize it.

"I expect in front of me, back of me, it was becoming me, oh, I have nothing to do with this story toward that hiding-place in the laurels—the hiding-place that I knew, and that Mollie knew."

But when we went there I didn't find any youth. Instead, I found Master Jack, very surely smoking a cigarette.

"Well," said Mrs. Verabour, "so you caught your youth. You found it, of course."

"I saw it," I said, gravely.

"Yes," said Mrs. Verabour, with a smile which was sympathy and half malice.

So then I told her all about it. "You silly man," she said, as I finished, "that was not the spirit of youth you saw, that was a ghost."

HIS COMMENT.

Howell. What did the poor fellow say when they picked him up with a broken leg after being knocked down by a trolley car?

Comment—That it was the first time in his life that he hadn't had to wait for a car.

PUT TO NEW USE.

Crawford. So your wife doesn't make mince pies any more?

Crawford. No. She uses all the odds and ends around the house as trimmings for her hat.—Puck.

PROVED BY TIME.

No Fear of Any Further Trouble.

David Price, of Ogden, La., says: "I was in the last stage of kidney trouble—lame, weak, run down to a mere skeleton. My back was so bad I could hardly walk and the kidney secretions much distressed. A week after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I could walk with out a cane, and as I continued, my health gradually returned. I was so grateful I made a public statement of my case, and now seven years have passed, I am still perfectly well."

The Difference.

Edward, having been refused an other baked potato on the simple but convincing ground that there were no more, according to the New York Sun, made some uncomplimentary remark about the insufficiency of his dinner. "This isn't dinner," corrected the aunt whom he was visiting. "This is luncheon. You don't eat dinner in the middle of the day. You eat that at night." The next day the aunt, being anxious to know if Edward had assimilated his lesson of the day before, said: "Edward, can you tell me now the difference between dinner and luncheon?" "You bet I can," said Edward, very promptly. "Lunch is the meal where you don't get enough to eat."

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Delancey Starch, as it can be applied in such a thin layer that the goods are stronger than other makes.

In the Future.

First Ward Politician—We'll carry our ticket.

Second Ditto—But you forget our opponent is the reform candidate, and he will get all the women's votes.

First W. P.—Won't be any women's votes to count.

Second Ditto—How do you know they won't vote?

First W. P.—Because we have arranged with the stores to have big bargain sales on election day.—Haltmore American.

Unfortunately Coupled.

Alison tells how during Napoleon's Egyptian campaign on some of the Mamelukes observed at a distance than the word was given: "From square; artillery to the angle; save the cannon to the center." The command afforded no little merit to the soldiers even at such an exciting moment, and made them call the asses don't savans.

Trifle Too Eusthetic.

"There's no use in talking," said Farmer Courtess, as he sat down on the horse trough. "I can't get along with some of these here summer guests. What's the trouble?" "I have jes' been lectured by that good looking young woman with glasses for spilling the color scheme of the garden by puttin' parts green on the vegetables."

Important to Mothers.

Remember carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of J. C. Watson.

In Use For Over 30 Years. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Plain Horrid Man.

She—So many men nowadays marry for money. You wouldn't marry me for money, would you, please?

He—(absentmindedly)—No, darling.

She—Oh, you horrid, horrid wretch!

Often the Case.

"Why are you making those horrible faces?"

"I'm suffering from indigestion."

"But the child is screaming."

"Yes, some people can't realize that they are being annoyed."

The Prospect.

"I am sorry that there is a craze for these aeroplane flights."

"Because the lovers who want to take them will be more in the clouds than ever."

For Headache Try Hicks' Capudine. Whether from Cold, Heat, Stomach, or Nerve trouble, it gives relief. It is a safe, effective, and pleasant remedy. It is sold by all druggists.

A Genius.

"How did Tom manage to get so much of his uncle's money?"

"He married his lawyer's only daughter."

Why Take Any Chances?

With many a warning cry, the old man, always pale, now went white. He had been looking at the big black balance as he was acquaintances to believe he has.

UNFORTUNATE SURVIVAL.

Hiram—So ole Hank Hardapple had a hand-to-hand fight with a grizzly bear and lived 't tell 't tale? Miles (disconsolately)—Yes, by gum, an' that seems 't be all he lived for!

PAINT BEAUTY.

Assured of durability, the next thought in painting is beauty—the complete simulating durable beauty, or beautiful durability. The National Lead Company here again offer you the cooperation of their paint experts—this time in the line of color schemes, artistic, harmonious and appropriate. You have only to write National Lead Company, 1912 Trinity Building, New York City, for "House-painting" booklet. Quilt No. 49, and you will promptly receive what is really a complete guide to painting, including a book of color schemes for either exterior or interior painting (as you may request), a book of specifications, and also an instrument for detecting adulteration in paint materials. This outfit is sent free, and to say the least, is well worth waiting for.

Wedding Fee in Installments. Some of the squires in rustic New Jersey seem to have pretty hard pushed for cash. To get the cash they do not hesitate to use most unusual methods. One of these J. P.'s advertised the other day that he was ready and willing to marry couples at any time, day or night, for a consideration of $5 and that he was willing to accept $1 in cash down and the rest in weekly installments of $1 until the fee of $5 was paid up. The very night after the first appearance of this advertisement the J. P. referred to was called upon to "make good" his bluff. Shortly after midnight a couple which had come in an automobile awakened him from his sleep and asked to be married under the installment plan offered by the advertisement. And the J. P. was game and made good.

Sheer white goods. In fact, any fine wash-goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Delancey Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.

He Was Well Equipped. A Methodist bishop was recently a guest at the home of a friend who had two charming daughters. One morning the bishop, accompanied by the two young ladies, went out in the hope of catching some trout. An old fisherman, out for the same purpose, wished to appear friendly, called out, "Ketchin' money, pop?"

The bishop, struggling himself to his full height, replied: "Brother, I am a fisher of men."

"You've got the right kind of bait, all right," was the fisherman's rejoinder.—Success Magazine.

Their Appropriate Place. What is this institution where all the best domestic heart faddists ought to be?

"Why go?"

"Because it is a refuge for the feeble minded, where all the inmates lead the real simple life."

Hard to Manage. "You have a certain and a male on that boat of yours, don't you?"

"Sure thing."

"Why is that?"

"I can't manage her alone."

"That's why you call the boat she, I suppose."

A New Fad. Rural Annie. My dear, your mother told me you are going to get married.

Miss de Pad—Yes, auntie. It's all the style now.—New York Weekly.

Don't dose yourself for every little ailment coming from local contamination. A little rubbing with Hamam Wound Oil will keep it immediately.

Instead of making a fool of a man a woman furnishes the opportunity—and lets him do the rest.

Why, woman's washing soap. It's the best soap for washing. It's the best soap for washing. It's the best soap for washing.

A man seldom has as big a balance as he was acquaintances to believe he has.

LESSON IN NATURAL HISTORY.

Amusing, But Somewhat Expensive, as Miss Patty Realized When the Goat Was Through.

Miss Patty Shepard of North Third Street went to the country with a party of friends on Memorial day. They stopped at a farmhouse where some of the party were well known. Browning about was an old goat. When Miss Patty saw her the nanny was placidly nibbling at a few blades of grass, and she innocently thought that goats were strictly vegetarians. On the lawn in front of the porch she had put her handsome new peach basket hat, trimmed with pretty artificial roses, which she had got from the store the night before. The goat saw the hat and advanced joyfully toward it. Miss Patty laughed. "The old thing thinks they're real roses," she laughed. "Won't she be looked when she smells them?"

Everybody sat still to watch the goat smell the artificial flowers and walk away. But the goat fooled them. The next week Miss Patty bought another hat.—Philadelphia Times.

WIFELY SOLICITUDE.

Burglar—Hands in! Wife—Oh, John, be careful of those gloves; you'll break them!

Tapering Off. Whereas, I, Kitty Samson, have far too many hours. (They say that I encourage them. It really is not so!)

Whereas, To make life simple is what I most desire, for which just concentration is all that I require. Resolved, That I, instantaneously, before it is too late, agree hereby without reserve strictly to concentrate—to give up splitting water, and such alluring tricks, cut down my field of labor and concentrate on six.—New York Sun.

Measuring Brains. The cephalic index of old Athenians was much higher than that of moderns. Cephalic index means volume of brain. It is found by filling a skull with peas and then measuring them. Ancient Athenians have a few peas on us. The Greeks never burst bloodshed like the Romans and some of us moderns.—New York Post.

Mother-in-Law Again. Husband—Why do you hate to see me come home smiling?

Wife—Because I know it means something has happened to poor mother.—Illustrated Dits.

For Colds and Grip—Capudine. The best remedy for Grip and Colds is Hicks' Capudine. It gives relief. It is a safe, effective, and pleasant remedy. It is sold by all druggists.

Appropriate Remarks. Are Jake's rates for his aeroplane high?

"You bet. Sky high."

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD. During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay.

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffering from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold. It has restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Chas. Barclay, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making material, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby through the lungs, expel the obnoxious mucus. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and, in short, establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Buy Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. In Plain English; no Medical Simplified, 1008 pages, over 100 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Consolidated Schools Upheld.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 21.—The court of appeals today decided that the free transportation of pupils from the consolidated county schools is valid, and also that the consolidation of the schools was legal. The decision reversed the decision of Circuit Judge William Reed, who decided that the free transportation was not legal. The transportation was necessary in order to conduct the consolidated school owing to the distance some of the pupils reside from the school. Judge Reed decided that the consolidation of the schools was legal when he granted the permanent injunction, but in order to get both questions before the court of appeals he changed his decision to make the consolidation illegal. The decision was given by Chief Justice O'Rear and much importance bears upon the decision as it may effect county schools in every county. It was a test case from McCracken county, the first county to consolidate the county schools.

S.S.S. CURES

Every case of Rheumatism has its origin and its development in the blood. It is not a disease which is contracted like a cold, but it is in the blood and system before a pain is felt, and the changes in the weather or any physical irregularities, such as a spell of indigestion, bowel disturbance, etc., are merely the exciting causes producing the pains and aches, which are the natural symptoms of the disease. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid and other corrosive irritating poisons in the blood, which are carried through the circulation to every part of the system. These poisons, muscle, nerve, membrane, tissue and joint becomes saturated with these acids, irritating impurities, or coated with fine, insoluble casts, matter, and the sharp, piercing pains or the dull, constant aches are felt with every physical movement. When the blood is filled with uric acid and poison, permanent relief cannot be expected from liniments, plasters, or other external treatment. Such measures give temporary relief, but in order to conquer Rheumatism and bring about a complete cure, the uric acid and other inflammatory matter must be expelled, and this cannot be done with external treatment. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it is a perfect and entirely reliable blood purifier. It goes down into the circulation, neutralizes the acids, and dissolves the irritating deposits which are pressing on the sensitive nerves and tissues, and produces a new, healthy blood. S. S. S. cures the blood, and removes every atom of impurity from the circulation. So instead of being a weak, sour stream, distributing uric acid to the different parts of the system, the blood is strong and healthy and therefore able to supply every muscle, nerve, bone and tissue with nourishment and strength. Then the inflammation and swelling subside, the pains and aches cease, and not only is Rheumatism permanently cured, but under the fine tonic effects of S. S. S. the entire general health is benefited and built up. In all forms of Rheumatism, whether acute or chronic, S. S. S. will be found a safe and reliable treatment. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice you desire will be furnished free.

VISITS CHI

A (alloway Visitor) to City Describes, II Entertaining

Leaving Murray on going down to Paducah occupying a seat in the St. Nichols hotel next morning we took train for the north.

one hour's run we reached Illinois. Passing a portion of East Cairo came to a hilly portion of the state, till we reached the beautiful level country we enjoyed very much in any direction to be seen but corn, hay and oats, as can grow; looks as if a thousand acres in Now and then you can see fine cattle, which are more beautiful. The country and fine farm until night overtook us. This side of Chicago the city we reached.

Next morning we started for Milwaukee on the lake. Going up the lake (which is one of the great lakes) we found the Columbus monument. Paying $1.00 for a ticket, we went to the quarters for the night.
