THE LISTENING POST

● I saw a man come to my home the other day with a team and plow and begin the operation of making a garden about the place. It seems to me that gardening must be terribly late this year, although I must confess my knowledge of gardening is pitifully small. I never liked gardening personally and have done as little of it as possible. Now and then, both in the days of my youth and in recent years, I have been forced or goaded into taking an active part in making a garden, but I have always been rather adept at thinking up excuses for not doing this sort of work.

● I watched the man as he turned up the loamy earth, and had a sudden memory of other days. I remembered the years when my father made a garden and called on me to do certain portions of the work. I remembered, too, that plowing time usually coincided with the time to go barefooted, and my toes suddenly began to wiggle inside my shoes as I remembered how good the freshly plowed earth felt to feet that had just been turned loose from shoes.

● I do not suppose that many boys go barefooted now. Or at least I do not seem to see many. In my time a vast majority of boys went barefooted for the greater part of the summer, and I remember what utter loathing I had for Sundays when I was forced to put on a pair of shoes. I always had a stone bruise or two on one foot and a scratched toe on the other, and shoes in those days were never comfortable at best. When compelled to wedge my feet into a tight pair of shoes all day Sunday I felt that nothing could be any worse, and usually before the day was over I managed to get the shoes off, and what a relief it was. Also, I remember the early days of school, when the weather was still warm enough to go barefooted, how horrible it was to get up in the morning and put on shoes.

● I remember, too, the grand feeling it was to go out where a garden was being plowed, on the first day of freedom from shoes, and tramp along the freshly plowed furrows. I do not believe that any greater pleasure has ever been possible than that, but this pleasure was always tempered by the fact that about as soon as I began to enjoy life orders would begin to come down from the boss about certain duties. I might have to drop seeds and turn the earth back. I might have to bring fertilizer, or I might have to transplant tomato plants.

● But the worst thing, I always believed, was preparing potatoes for planting. My family was a lot Irish and it always required a lot of potatoes. My own private belief was that potatoes should be planted just as they were bought, but the boss had some curious notion about cutting them up into quarters or halves or something. By the time I trimmed a couple of bushels I began to wish that potatoes had never been invented.

● From year to year I had noticed that potatoes sometimes had black spots on them when they were cooked. One year as I was cutting up the seed potatoes I decided that these black spots must be caused by similar black spots on the potatoes that were planted, and so I proceeded to carve all these out as I prepared them for planting. Believe me, this action caused some agitation on the part of my father and considerably more agitation for me. I

Wages Act Injunction Of Lower Court Set Aside

Washington. — The Supreme Court spoke out today against "judicial" supervision of administrative procedure in a decision upholding the right of the executive and legislative branches to set up any standards they see fit for Government purchasing.

Specifically, the court said that the 1936 Walsh-Healey Act requiring Government contractors to pay certain minimum wages, conferred no litigable rights upon the contractors—that Government officials were responsible only to Congress for any maladministration of it.

The court set aside an injunction by which the District of Columbia Court of Appeals had restrained Secretary of Labor Perkins from prescribing minimum wages for iron and steel workers engaged in filling Government contracts.

Col. Anderson, Indian-Fighting Artist, Dies

New York. —Col. Abram A. Anderson, 93, artist, shapshooting Indian fighter and a founder of the United States Forest Reserve system, died yesterday of pneumonia. Anderson was the husband of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Milbank Anderson, who in 1905 established the Milbank memorial fund. It has given more than $11,000,000 to public health work and charities.

Best known for his painting on the life of Mary Magdalene, Anderson painted oil portraits of such notables of his day as Elihu Root and John W. Foster. His most famous exploit was the cleaning out of the notorious Jackson's Hole, Wyo., hideaway of Indians, rustlers and ex-convicts. Anderson stormed the hideout with a band of rangers, and shot down most of the fugitives.

Chicago — An "alarming" increase in traffic deaths brought a warning to American motorists today to "apply the brakes."

Slain Officer Was Friend Of Local Boy

Capt. Robert M. Losey, 31, who was killed in a German air bombing in Norway recently, was a classmate and special friend of Lt. McFall Boaz, son of Walter Boaz of this city. Lt. Boaz, graduate of Annapolis and former officer in the United States Navy, now lives at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Voelpel Presents Program

Mrs. Walter Voelpel presented a very interesting program at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club today at the Rainbok Room. The program was as follows: Piano solo, by Donna Jean DeMyer; Vocal solo, "Trees," by Maurine Ketcham; Musical Twirling by Betty Sue Houston; Flute Solo, "Springs Awakening," Bach, LaNelle Bugg; Song and Dance, "Shortnin Bread," Doris Branch.

Miss Houston was rated excellent in twirling at the recent musical contests at Murray, Miss DeMyer as good, and Miss Bugg rated superior, the highest rating, on the flute. The program was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

President Leon Browder and Theodore Kramer, Jr., are in attendance at the annual District Conference of Rotary at Louisville this week. Several members will attend the inter-city meeting of Rotary at the Gilbertville Dam on Friday, May 10. Mayfield, Murray and Paducah will also be represented at the meeting. An inter-city meeting has been arranged with the Martin club, May 16th. Don P. Hawkins will be speaker of the day. The presidents of the two clubs will give an exhibition of trick and fancy bicycle riding for the inter-city championship.

The club will take two carloads of children to the Crippled Children's Clinic at Paducah, May 1st. A donation was made to the Lions club kiddie lunch fund. The club has completed the fourth month of perfect attendance.

Shipping Hits 10-Year Peak

Washington. — Disclosure that American shipping has reached its highest point in ten years despite neutrality act restrictions coincided today with creation of a special neutrality unit in the Justice Department.

In January and February a total of 1,042 American vessels cleared for foreign destinations with 2,562,000 tons of cargo. The comparable figures for January and February, 1939, were 932 ships carrying 2,264,000 tons.

The Customs Bureau termed this rise "striking in view of the diversion of American vessels from the war zone to Mediterranean, South American, African and Asiatic ports and the withdrawal of passenger liners from the North Atlantic."

U. S. Told To "Put On Brakes" As Motor Death Toll Soars

The fact that 50 more persons were killed in the winter months of this year than last is particularly alarming, because vacation months with their heavy travel are just ahead. It is up to America to apply the brakes.

Safety Leaders Listed
Safety leaders among the cities, with their death rates calculated on an annual basis, were listed this way:
Over 500,000 Population—Buffalo, N. Y., 7.5; 230,000-500,000—Lynn, Mass., 6.0, and Duluth, Minn., 6.0.
Both Lynn and Duluth had perfect records during the first three months of 1940. Among the smaller cities with the same record were Lakewood, Ohio; Springfield, Ohio; Atlantic City, N. J.; Brooklyn, Mass.; Haverhill, Mass.; Jamestown, Penn.; Fairmont, W. Va., and Maplewood, N. J.

Methodists Decline To Pass Judgment On Foreign Policy

Atlantic City, N. J. — A proposal that the Methodist church pass judgment on official relations between the United States and the Vatican was overwhelmingly rejected today by the general conference.

Sponsored by Dr. W. F. Bryan, Huntsville (Tex.), delegate, the resolution called for appointment of a 10-man committee to draft a formal statement on the church's attitude.

Urging a vote against the resolution, Dr. Harold Paul Sloan of New York said: "At this time when the Christian church is being attacked on all sides, it does not seem becoming for the greatest body in Protestantism to be so nervous over such a small matter."

The conference also was expected to take an official stand on the Dies committee investigating un-American activities.

Since Rep. Martin Dies' speech before the conference Saturday, the issue has effected a cleavage between "conservative" delegates and members of the National Council of Methodist Youth.

During the speech, Herman Will, Jr., of Chicago, president of the youth council, led a group of young men in distributing circulars protesting the entertainment committee's action in inviting the Texas Democrat.

Mrs. Sarah Bushart Dies At Latham

Mrs. Sarah Hamlett Bushart of near Latham, Tenn., died last night at 6 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elbert Winstead. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Pisgah Church.

Mrs. Bushart is the grandmother of Orrian Winstead and Ralph Winstead of this city.

Morning Message Is "Christ Transfigured"

In this morning service of the revival at the First Baptist church, Dr. Humphreys used "Christ Transfigured" as his sermon subject. He said: "The place of the transfiguration is significant. Jesus took the three disciples Peter, James, and John apart into a high mountain where he was transfigured before them. It seems that souls get hold of God better in quiet secluded places away from the world and its distractions. Let us consider now the purpose of the Transfiguration: first, the predominant purpose was to prepare Christ for his approaching death. Moses and Elijah talked with Him of his death. God showed his approval by saying, 'This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased.' This experience gave him the strength he needed. We all have our Gethsemanes and we be unto us if we have not had experience in prayer to strengthen us for these experiences in life. The tragedy is not that we have trouble but that we are not often prepared to bear them."

Second, the transfiguration was for the purpose of strengthening the disciples. They would need this strength and assurance when the Master was no longer present with them. We, as Christians, have many endowments for Christ's work, we have progressed in buildings, in an educated ministry, in everything except in the strength of God. This is the thing we need more than all others.

Third, this transfiguration experience gave them power for service. We must use our spiritual powers to serve others. It is only as we take what God gives us and translate it into service for others that God gives us more.

Fourth, the transfiguration gives us a glimpse of Heaven. We only get glimpses of heaven from Christ and from the Bible. Why is this? Because if we saw it all we would be dissatisfied with this earth and what we have now. And, after all, our finite minds cannot comprehend heaven in its fullness. What glory there must be if this is only a glimpse! To be transfigured means to be exalted to something high and glorious, to be changed in appearance. As we live with, serve and commune with Christ we become more like him."

The services are gaining in attendance and interest. The attendance this morning was the largest of any morning during the meeting. Dr. Humphreys will preach tonight on the subject: "What Must I Do to Be Saved?"

Fire Department Called To Extinguish Man's Trousers

The fire department had a freak call this morning about 5 o'clock, when it was called to the rooms over Smith's Cafe, where a bed was on fire. The burning bed was thrown out by the fire boys, and then Chief Roberts began to look around for the person who set the bed on fire.

Imagine his surprise when he spied the guilty man, running up and down the hall with his trousers on fire. The blaze was finally extinguished, after they caught the man and little damage was done except to the trousers and the bed.

The man was a transient, who was spending the night there.

Groups Will Meet In Prayer For M. E. Revival

Group prayer meetings will be held this afternoon and tonight in the home of various members of the First Methodist Church, in preparation for the revival to begin at that church Sunday May 5. At 3 o'clock this afternoon a group will meet at Mrs. T. J. Kramer's home, 312 Second street, and Mrs. Kramer will be leader.

At 7:30 tonight a group will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl Puckett, 202 College street, and Miss Carbolene Gardner will be leader.

In East Fulton, the meeting will be held this afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Robert Burrow 201 Jefferson street, with Mrs. James Felts, leader.

At 7 o'clock tonight the central portion, those residing between Park Avenue and Lake street, will gather at the home of Mrs. J. V. Freeman, 205 Eddings street. Rev. Paul Cates will be leader.

At the home of Rev. Paul Cates, South Fulton, at 7:30 o'clock the South Fulton members will gather. Rev. Alkin will be the leader.

All members of the church are urged to attend one of these meetings and support the young people in the revival next week.

Girl Asks Prize For Man Who Has 26 Living Children

Raleigh, N. C. —Pity the census man assigned to question Guest Teel.

Dr. R. T. Stimpson, director of the State Division of Vital Statistics, said today he had received a letter from Annie Ree Teel, R. F. D. 2, Robertsonville, saying she was a daughter of Teel, and that he was 64 years old and had twenty-six living children. Five others have died, she said.

The girl asked that a prize be given her father. Dr. Stimpson replied he had no prize to award, but that the father deserved one.

State Seizes Liquor Valued At $200,000

Holdings Of Exporters Called Contraband

Frankfort, Ky. —Nearly $200,000 worth of liquor belonging to special exporters at Middlesboro and Fulton was seized by the State over the week-end following decision by the Court of Appeals that the concerns were not entitled to continue operations.

The companies had been selling liquor for re-sale in dry counties of other States and had continued in business under a temporary injunction after the State had refused to renew their licenses last July 1.

Ownership Must Be Fixed
Assistant Attorney General Harry D. France, State Revenue Department counsel, said the next step would be for the courts to determine ownership of the liquor, seized as contraband after Appellate Court dissolved last week the temporary injunction under which the exporters had operated since last July 1.

Revenue Commissioner H. Clyde Reeves said 6,932 cases were seized from the Middlesboro Exporting Company at Middlesboro and 9,001 cases from the C. & G. Distributing Company at Fulton. He said the cases, twelve quarts each, were valued at $12 to $15 each.

Seizure Is Explained
"Whether or not it is contraband is the question," Reeves added. "We think it is."

Reeves explained the seizures were made because the two companies were operating without licenses.

In 1938 five special exporters licenses were issued by the State but after Tennessee had adopted local option last year and the State would not renew the licenses three concerns discontinued business.

Gov. Keen Johnson vetoed a 1940 act designed to legalize the exporting of such liquor.

Mississippi Gets New Boat

St. Louis. —The Mississippi's newest and most modern tow boat, the Diesel-powered "Twin Cities," made a successful trial run here yesterday and was pronounced ready for its first regular trip between Wood River, Ill., and Minneapolis.

The boat registered an average speed of 10.75 miles an hour in tests with and against the current. Its 1,380 horsepower will propel six 1,400-ton barges as a normal load. It is the largest all-steel welded tow on any river in the country.

River men declared modern vessels of its type would surpass the records of the "river days" at the best. The "Twin Cities," constructed at a cost of $250,000, is the first of three tow boats of its type to be built. The other two are about 25 per cent complete.

FDR's Mother Feeling "Very Well" After Sudden Illness

New York — Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, the President's aged mother, was assisted into her Manhattan home late today after suffering a sudden illness while motor-ing in from a luncheon on Long Island and a tour of the New York World's Fair grounds.

"I don't know what happened," she was heard to say as she entered the Roosevelt townhouse in the east 60s with an attendant on either side.

"I must have been poisoned." This apparently was in reference to a statement she made while receiving emergency treatment in a drug store near the fair grounds. There she had expressed belief that her illness was caused by peaches she had for desert at the luncheon in Great Neck.

After she entered, a statement issued from the home said Mrs. Roosevelt was feeling "very well." It was added that she had not been required to retire immediately.

Mrs. Roosevelt was 85 years old last Sept. 21.

Editorial

A BIOGRAPHY ALWAYS NEEDED

When a man becomes large enough to make the race for the Presidency, or thinks he is large enough, there is always one certain rite which must be complied with. It is a curious rite, too, and one which seems largely useless. That one rite is that some professional writer must prepare a book about this candidate—a biography, if you please. Over the course of many campaigns many of these books have been written and published, and some of these look curious indeed, years after the race was made and lost and the man who was the subject of the book has lapsed into obscurity. Of course, if the man happens to win, the book may become a best seller and will be republished from time to time and perhaps other biographies will make their appearance.

One of these books made its appearance in this office the other day. It is a smaller book than usual, but in other respects it follows the same pattern of many other similar books which have come here over the years. It is the story of Frank Gannett, quite a well known newspaper publisher, and because of his occupation, this writer will in time read the book. The book is written by Sam Williamson, a competent writer, and a personal letter comes along from Henry Stoddard, another capable writing fellow.

Gannett, whether he wins the Presidential nomination or not, is quite a remarkable fellow from a newspaper standpoint. Thirty five years ago he began a newspaper career with three thousand dollars in cash. Where he got the cash is not stated, but the story adds he also had some credit and quite a lot of nerve. Today he controls eighteen newspapers in fourteen cities, has an interest in eight radio stations in six cities and in general is quite a fellow.

Some odd ideas crop up in his plans for the future. He has excluded his family from control of his newspapers, and plans to perpetuate them as a foundation. This, he holds, will more certainly insure employment of the many men who helped him in making his remarkable success. He has also gone in for profit sharing on a large scale, and it is said that these plans have been the means of earning steady profits during the ten years depression decade. His far flung business enterprises have functioned so efficiently under these plans that Gannett has had time to travel widely and study conditions both at home and abroad during the past few years. He pilots his own airplane at times and has traveled a quarter of a million miles during the past six years in his own plane.

Gannett has fought Roosevelt and the New Deal with bitterness and with some success. He is credited with doing as much as any man to defeat the Supreme Court revamping plan, and has locked horns with the New Deal many times. It does not appear likely that he will get very far with professional politicians when the time comes for the national conventions, but he does have an interesting background and a record that could win a lot of votes should he be a candidate for the Presidency.

NEW REGIME IN BOLIVIA WATCHED BY U. S.

After nine years of dictatorial rule of war and revolution, of experiments in Communist and Fascist ideologies, Bolivia gives promise of returning to stability and sanity. Constitutionalism has been restored. Restrictions on the press have been lifted. A President elected by the people has been installed in office—Gen. Enrique Panaranda—and he has pledged himself to a square deal for capital, especially foreign capital, to renewal of the external debt service; most Bolivian bonds are held in the United States, and to an end of totalitarian experiments. As Bolivia, like Mexico, expropriated American-owned oil properties, the policies of the new regime in La Paz will be watched with interest in this country.

Bolivia has had a hectic time of it since it kicked out of office its last Constitutional President. It has had the destructive and bloody war in the Chaco jungles. Since 1931 two of its Presidents were victims of coups d'etat and one committed suicide. Socialistic and National Socialistic schemes have been tried and the country has been in close economic relations with Germany much to its present sorrow; it is loaded down with worthless German marks. The indications now are that the South American republic will turn its eyes away from Europe and toward the Americas, and neighboring republics already are showing a co-operative interest.

What the new regime will do in the matter of the expropriated oil properties holds the chief interest for the United States. Formerly Bolivia has been a partner with Mexico in the confiscation game which has worked in opposition to the Good Neighbor Policy and friendly international relations. The two backed each other up in their hostility to foreign investments and constituted a potential threat to United States investments in other Latin American countries. What Bolivia does, if anything, will have its effect on Mexico.—Courier-Journal.

SHUNSHINE AND SHADOWS

Scranton, Pa.—An eight grade boy came to this question in a school quiz:

"What part did the United States Navy play in the World War?"

The boy wrote:

"The Star-Spangled Banner."

Murfreesboro, Tenn.—The main character in a bath tub scene from "The Women" suddenly quit splashing in the borrowed bath tub—and for good reason. The tub had sprung a leak, flooding the stage and part of the State Teachers College audience.

Down went the curtain. A crew of mop-wielders set to work, and shortly the play was resumed.

"Star Dust" Inspired By Famous Song

What is generally conceded to be the greatest of all modern ballads, "Star Dust," by Hoagy Carmichael and Mitchell Parish, has inspired a great picture, the 20th Century-Fox film of the same name which stars lovely Linda Darnell.

The perennially popular number is sung by Mary Healy in the film, starting today at the Fulton Theatre.

The picture tells the story of plucky small-town youngsters scrapping for fame in the great adventure that is Hollywood—a story that well might be the tale of Linda's own meteoric rise to stardom.

Also featured are two brand new songs by Mack Gordon, famous Hollywood song writer. These songs, "Secrets in the Moonlight" and "Don't Let It Get You Down," are two of the best numbers Gordon has ever done and it should be remembered that he was in on such famous hits as "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking," "Never in a Million Years," and many others.

METHODIST W. M. S.
IN GENERAL MEETING

About 30 members of the Woman's Missionary Society, Methodist Church, attended the monthly general meeting held yesterday afternoon at the church. The president, Mrs. Warren Graham, presided over the meeting which was opened with a song, "The Kingdom Coming," followed with prayer by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Saxon.

Rev. Saxon then spoke briefly regarding the revival beginning Sunday, sponsored by the young people of the church, and asked that all members of the Missionary Societies support these young people in this work. The treasury reports of Mrs. I. R. Nolan and Mrs. Abe Jolley were given and acting as secretary was Mrs. Robert Graham, in the absence of Mrs. Alf Hornbeak. Other splendid reports were given by the chairman of committees, including chairman of the departments.

The feature of the meeting was a general review of the W. M. S. Conference held the week of April 15-20 in Mayfield, given by Mrs. Warren Graham. Mrs. Graham told in an inspiring manner, of the wonderful work done there during those few days.

The lesson for the afternoon was given by Mrs. T. J. Kramer and her subject was "The World For Christ." Mrs. Kramer was ably assisted by Mrs. J. V. Freeman who gave an article entitled "The Goodly Heritage," taken from "The World Outlook" magazine. Mrs. Kramer concluded the program with a wonderful review of the life of the great missionary, Walter Russell Lambuth.

At the conclusion of this most interesting program, the meeting was dismissed with song.

MOTHERS' CLUB WILL

The Mothers' Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Leonard Allen at her home, 409 Jefferson street. Co-hostess for the meeting will be Mrs. Mike Sullivan.

4-H CLUB SUPPER
ON FRIDAY NIGHT

The Fulton County 4-H Club council met for a supper at the NYA building Friday, April 26, for the purpose of completing plans for the 4-H club summer activities. A. J. Lowe, president of the council, presided at the meeting.

The date for the 4-H Spring Rally was set for May 24 at 7:30 o'clock. The boys' and girls' demonstration contest and the girls' style show will be held as well as the girls' judging contest in the afternoon, with Fulton girls in charge of the foods judging, Cayce girls in charge of the clothing and style show and Logeston in charge of Home Improvement judging. An educational tour for the older 4-H club girls and boys was planned for August 15 and 16 to Muscle Shoals, Shiloh Park, Pickwick Dam and other places of interest. Plans were also made for the annual 4-H club tour for all members on July 18 to visit the Milk plant, Clothing factory in Mayfield and Noble Park in Paducah.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland will make their home near Wingo.

Norse, Danish
Cash In U.S.
Set At 95 Million

Washington.—The Treasury reported today that Denmark and Norway had around $95,689,000 in cash in this country at the end of January.

This was the first time that the short-term balances of these countries had been included in the department's monthly bulletin. The figures are purposely issued three months late so that they will be of no value to speculators.

The holdings of the two countries attracted interest, because President Roosevelt by a proclamation "froze" the credits of Norway and Denmark immediately after those countries were invaded by Germany.

Tigers Have Won Pennant Already On First Games

If pre-season games mean anything, President Howard had just as well call off the Kitty League race and bestow the pennant to the local Tigers, for thus far the local entry appears to have all that is necessary to win the flag this year.
True, the pitching staff appears to be a trifle leaky at the seams, but if the team can garner fifteen or twenty runs per game, there is no need in worrying about the pitching. In three games during the training season the Tigers have scored almost fifty runs, and while no record is available on hitting it is a known fact that there was plenty of hitting.

Also, Micky O'Neill, Jackson manager, has already gone out on a limb and said that his Generals were certain to finish one, two or three, with a string probability of being on top of the heap. That leaves nothing but the top for the Tigers, for the General have not even been in the ball game with the Tigers.

In the Mayfield game Sunday the Tigers virtually sewed up the game in the first three innings and Manager Poole paid little attention to stopping Mayfield after that.

Of course this record means nothing when the season starts, for all baseball fans know that preliminary games mean nothing except to give the manager a line on what he has. A lot of the lads who took part in these early games will not be around when the barrier drops for the league race, and a lot of others, who looked bad at first will be looking like seven hundred silver dollars when the regular season opens.

But, if preliminary records mean anything at all, and at times they do, the Tigers do appear to have a lot of power. It would seem that Manager Poole should be able to throw a team into the race which can battle after runs from the very beginning. Thus far power simply oozes from Tiger bats, and while pitching will grow tighter as the season opens, this power is natually there and must produce results.

It seems that the infield is virtually set. Manager Poole will guard the front door and Moon Mulling will turn in his dependable game at the middle station. Most fans can't see anybody but the Idaho lad, Ralph Jesh, guarding the territory between second and third, and Kozieaca seems a sure bet at the hot corner. However, there is such a wealth of material in the infield that local fans wish they might keep all of these lads.

The outfield is wide open, with only Frank Filchuck a certainty.
Carl Yount gives every indication of becoming a worthy successor to Ray Clonts, who did the receiving here for the past four years. The pitching staff is one problem which must be worked out, and Manager Poole is devoting great care to this problem.

Fulton To Play Mayfield Browns

The Fulton Tigers will play the Mayfield Browns in an exhibition game at the Mayfield Park tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be no admission. Fulton defeated Mayfield in a game Sunday 17-15.

On Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Mayfield nine will come to Fulton for another game. This game will be at Fairfield and no admission will be charged.

THE SPIRIT OF PIONEERS

When the cry of "Westward Ho," resounded from the wagon train a century or more ago, American milling made its way alongside our pioneer forefathers. So important was milling in frontier days that the name "Honest Old Miller" is to be remembered even 'til this day.

Altho we are not pioneers in the making, yet we cling to some of the traditions of the "Honest Old Miller." We contribute liberally toward the advancement of our town and community; we practice honesty and fair dealings in our transactions, we strive at all times to merit the good will and pa-
