THE LISTENING POST

I wrote something the other day about going barefooted and about how I dreaded putting on shoes for Sunday or on other occasions when I was presumed to be dressed up. The thought brought another idea which also has to do with shoes.

In recent years all of us have expected to get a new pair of shoes which were not uncomfortable from the very first time they were put on. In fact, few of us will buy a pair of shoes nowadays which does not give the feeling of comfort. If there is any tightness, or any looseness, we keep on trying shoes until we find a pair that gives this comfort. Dealers now have a machine which shows how the toes really fit a pair of shoes, and it is really possible to go into a shoe store and buy shoes which feel and are comfortable from the very first. In fact, I usually get a pair of shoes, put them on, have the old shoes placed in the box and walk out with the new shoes on my feet.

It was not always thus. In fact, I read something the other day which really shows what progress has been made in the manufacture of shoes since 1850. Up until that year the only concession shoe manufacturers made to shoe wearers was that some shoes were narrow and some wide. Until that year, in fact, no difference was made in shoes for the right and left feet. All a fellow got in those days was a sort of box, made of leather, which would protect the feet, and no thought was wasted in trying to make a shoe that was comfortable. In 1850 some genius discovered that shoes should be made right and left footed, and from that date on shoes began to be more comfortable.

I have grave doubts, however, as to whether this change was universally made in 1850. For I remember a pair of shoes that my father bought for me about 1880, and I still believe both of them were for the right foot. I never pass a certain spot on a certain highway without remembering that pair of shoes.

On the road between Martin and Union City, most people know there are two small towns which are off the highway. The first, out of Martin, is Gardner, and the next one is Terrell. Both of them are located on the railroad and years ago there was considerable business in both towns. I imagine that this business has declined a lot in recent years, but years ago Terrell, for example, had a pretty good sized flour mill, and several stores.

My father preached in that vicinity and one time I was with him. It was Saturday and I remember there was some discussion before we left home about a pair of shoes for me. It was late in the fall, and my shoes were badly scuffed. I did not want a new pair, for the old ones felt pretty good, and as for looks, I never gave the matter a thought. Arriving at Terrell, we were in a store and father suddenly thought about the shoes. I guess he must have realized that I did not make much of an impression. In any event, he at once asked the storekeeper about a pair of shoes. It was a typical country store, with groceries, hardware, clothing, piles of meat, flour, and a little bit of everything. Also the man had a few pairs of shoes.

He went to work on me, and in those days if a shoe went on a foot it was called a fit. In a few minutes, by dint of much sweating

All Prospect Of Wage Law Changes Gone

House Refers Question To Labor Committee For Study

Washington. —All prospect of Wage-Hour Law revisions at this session of Congress vanished today when the House voted to direct its labor committee to give further study to the question.

The decision climaxed a week of noisy and angry debate on proposed changes. The House had adopted amendments, one at a time, which would have exempted many hundreds of thousands of workers—the exact number was in furious dispute—from the provisions of the law. Then it surveyed its handiwork in its entirety and found it bad.

Everything Undone
A roll-call vote of 211 to 171 undid all that had been done and rejected the amendments as a whole. A second vote, 205 to 175, recommitted the entire subject to the House labor committee for further study and recommendations.

Under the prevailing situation, leaders had no expectation that the committee could complete its work in time for action before the session's scheduled June adjournment.

The result was both a victory and a defeat for administration leaders in Congress. The latter had vigorously opposed the sweeping amendments which were written into the bill in the course of the debate. Their victory lay in the fact that in the end these amendments were rejected.

But, the administration forces had endorsed a series of milder changes, most of them proposed by the Wage-Hour administration itself. Chairman Norton (D-M. J.), and her colleagues of the labor committee made a last minute effort to obtain approval of these by opposing the motion to recommit—but lost.

Local Men Will Attend Building & Loan Meeting

The Southeastern Group of Building and Loan Associations will hold its annual meeting in Louisville, beginning Monday and lasting for three days. Meetings are to be held at the Brown Hotel, with several amusement features being provided for the visiting delegates. Five or six local men plan to attend the meeting, including Secretary J. E. Fall, Maxwell McDade, N. G. Cooke, Bob White, Ernest Fall, Jr., and Hoyt Moore. They will leave Sunday, returning Tuesday night.

College Boys And Strong Man Scheme Plan To Kidnap Hitler

New York. —Some Texas college boys and a professional strong man started scheming up a plan to kidnap Adolf Hitler today while a college dean branded as "war-mongering" the million dollar reward offer for the Nazi Fuehrer. Unidentified Pittsburghers thought President Samuel Hargen Church of the Carnegie Institute, offered the cash to anyone who'd deliver Hitler to the League of Nations, unharmed, before May 31. Lack "Snatch" Plans
The Texas boys telephoned a Dallas newspaper saying they'd like to attempt to "snatch" but were "deterred by lack of finance." They suggested that the Carnegie Institute finance them and forget about the reward.

Will Probably Send Delegation To Protest Tax

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, it was agreed that a delegation would be sent to Frankfort next Friday to protest a ten per cent blanket increase in tax assessments in the towns of the Fulton county which has been proposed by the state tax commission.

The meeting was attended, in addition to the chamber of Commerce officials, by several interested citizens, and all expressed opposition to the proposal. A similar meeting was held in Hickman last night and a delegation will go from there to register Hickman's protest. Public hearings are to be held next Friday morning in Frankfort.

It was pointed out in the meeting that property in Fulton and Hickman is already assessed as high as 90 per cent, with many adjoining counties being assessed as low as 70 per cent.

At the meeting last night it was not possible to secure a committee to make the trip, but efforts were being made today to select this committee. The Chamber of Commerce agreed to send four men on this trip.

N. L. R. B. Aid Admits Wooing Labor Support

Washington. —Heber Blankenhorn, an investigator for the National Labor Board, today testified that at one time he "tried hard" to win organized labor's support for a constitutional amendment to reorganize the Supreme Court.

Appearing before the House Committee studying the board, Blankenhorn identified correspondence in which he said he also had been "mixing into" plans for organization of the steel industry.

Says He Furnished Material
Earlier, Blankenhorn told the committee he "frequently" had furnished the board, for use in cases pending before it, with material gathered by the Senate Civil Liberties Committee, but never placed in its record.

U. S. May Add Turkeys To Lists For Needy

Washington. —Turkey may be added to the list of surplus foodstuffs being distributed among the country's needy by the Government.

The Roseburg, Ore., Chamber of Commerce has asked that the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation purchase turkeys to aid in disposing of a surplus. Senator McNary (R., Ore.), advised the chamber today that the corporation would investigate the advisability of so doing.

The country had its largest turkey crop in history last year. Dealers in many sections were unable to dispose of all their turkeys and many were put in cold storage.

Day At State Reform School Better Than Home To Girl, 15

Ocala, Fla. —Ruby, slender ninth grade pupil from Largo High School, slipped quietly into the Florida Industrial School for Girls, spent a happy day among the students, returned home under protest.

Explained Ruby: "I have heard a bit about the school and decided I wanted to come here . . . my teachers have always told me I didn't behave."

National Debt Given In Census As Lien On Home

Toledo, Ohio. —Mrs. Arthur Cline upset the calm of a census taker today by insisting the mortgage on her home amounted to $45,000,000, which is the national debt limit.

The matter was carried to Richard Marlow, supervisor of census, who said Mrs. Cline's answer constituted a refusal to answer. The woman's husband, a lawyer, declared the $45,000,000 the Government owes is a lien on his home, as well as others in the United States.

The census-taker will make another stop at the Cline home, hopeful of getting another answer to the question.

Unlike Store Ruled Liable For Chain Tax

Frankfort, Ky. —Regulations governing collection of the new chain store tax issued today show that not only groups of similar stores operated jointly but also dissimilar establishments selling any identical line of merchandise are subject to the lev.

The regulations pointed out that drug stores, grocery stores and restaurants operated under the same management are subject to the annual fee if all sell "a line of candies, drinks or groceries." Such dissimilar still establishments are exempt, however, if they do not sell "any of the same general kind" of commodities.

Ranges Up From $25
The new tax, enacted by the 1940 General Assembly, takes the place of the one voided by the courts last year and estimated to produce at least $167,000 annually, ranges from a $25 annual fee for two to five chain stores, to $200 for 251 or more, for each store in this State.

RESERVED SEATS SOLD
Mrs. James Wren will be at the office of Attorney James Warren Monday and Tuesday to sell reserved seats for the 1941 Kitty League season. Fee $3.50 each or two for $6.00. If 1st year's seats are wanted, must be bought Monday or Tuesday. Will not be held any longer. Those buying seats must see Mrs. Warren a person. Adv. 108-21.

"Big Business" Given Setback For Years

Birmingham, Ala. —A 16-year-old schoolboy had a "big business" scheme. But he had no capital. So he stole $20 worth of lorry and a car, rented shed and proceeded to sell half-gotten gains, explaining to customers that they were part of the stock of a firm which had gone out of business.

He had a system of cash and carry. Customers ordered the goods and left the shop with a nearby coffeehouse kept. With the money the boy paid installments on new furniture, a typewriter, bed, potpourri and cash books with which to get his scheme well started. "I was ambitious and wanted to get on," he told the court. But his ambition has had to be curbed for three years.

Tigers Win Over Mayfield 4 To 2 Here Yesterday

After two slugging matches, one of which Fulton won 17 to 15 and the other which Mayfield won 17 to 10, Mayfield and Fulton had a sort of hurling duel here yesterday with the Tigers emerging on top 4 to 2, in a light hitting game. The game was played at Fairfield yesterday and the final game of the Mayfield series will be played in Mayfield tomorrow afternoon. Weather conditions were not favorable for the game yesterday, with a cold north wind blowing steadily, but the pitchers seemed to bearing down and hitting was light for both teams. Madsen pitched the first six innings for the Tigers and held the Browns hitless for five innings. One hit was secured on him in the sixth.

The Browns started a rally in the ninth, scoring one run and having the tying runs on base, but a mixup in base running resulted in a double play on a fly ball to the outfield, ending the game.

Mrs. Reed Dies At Hospital Last Night

Mrs. Mintie Reed, 68 years of age, passed away last night about midnight at the Fulton Hospital after a long illness. Mrs. Reed had been in a critical condition for the past few days and her death was not unexpected.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Hornbeak Funeral Home, with Rev. Lowell Council, pastor of Palestine, conducting the services. Burial will be at Palestine.

The deceased was born in Henry County, Tenn., in 1872. She was married to Mr. Reed, who preceded her in death 28 years ago. Mrs. Reed resided about 3 miles north of Fulton at the intersection of the Hickman-Clinton highways. She was a member of the Methodist church, holding her membership at Palestine.

She is survived by three grandchildren, Mrs. Roy McMillan, Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. Raymond Hewitt and Merritt Milner, both of Fulton and a host of nieces and nephews. Nieces and nephews residing in Fulton are Lon Adams, Virgil Adams, Arthur Adams, Mrs. Milan Wheelers, Mrs. M. B. Hardin, Hays Bryant, Claude Bryan, and Cleve Bryan. The leader extends sympathy to the bereaved family.

Rail Revenues Of Cincinnati Are Attached

Covington, Ky. —Revenues due the city of Cincinnati from the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway, totaling $1,200,000 plus 2 per cent of the operating income, were attached today on the heels of a suit seeking collection of $125,152 income taxes.

J. J. Leary, former Kentucky Attorney General, filed the attachment with Sheriff Henry Berndt, who served it upon R. D. Ruffler, C. N. O. & T. P. agent in nearby Ludlow, Ky.

The revenue is derived on a lease of the municipally-owned Cincinnati Southern Railroad which operates over C. N. O. & T. P. trackage between Cincinnati and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Few Want To Try To Throw Bull, Stranded On Tiny Isle, In Lake

Phoenix, Ariz. —There's a bull stranded on a little island in Canyon Lake. It's in danger of starving to death, but nobody wants the job of rescuing it.

Sheriff Len Jordan notified a cattle company it was their bull and it was up to them to get it off the island. A couple of cowboys went up and looked at the bull and told that boss it belonged to another outfit.

County Sheriff's Office said the bull was a "tool" of Dworkin's.

Probers Told Isles Abound In Facism

Hawaiian Monopoly Charged By Official

Washington. —An assertion by a regional official of the National Labor Board that conditions approximating "facism" existed in the Hawaiian Islands three years ago was introduced today into the record of the House Committee investigating the board.

"If there is any truer picture of facism anywhere in the world than in the Hawaiian Islands, then I do not know the definition of it," wrote Elwin J. Eagen of Seattle, Wash., in a report prepared on his return from the islands in 1937.

Eagen, the board's regional director at Seattle, declared that "virtually every business of any importance is owned or controlled by the so-called big five, that is, American Factors, C. Brewer & Company, Ltd., Alexander Baldwin, Castle & Cook, Ltd., and T. H. Davis & Company, Ltd. These companies have interlocking directorships."

Four Players Are Released—Only 15 Left

A group of four more players are being released today from the squad of the Fulton Tigers, according to W. W. Evans, Secretary. These are Mike Kamosa, first baseman; Phil Carosell, infielder; Ray Ulmer, pitcher; and George Zaharehak, outfielder. With this slash, Manager Poole now has only 15 players in camp and is rapidly whipping the club into condition for the season's opener here Wednesday afternoon, with Union City. Before the opening game, two more pitchers, now on their way here, will be added. Tomorrow afternoon the Tigers will go to Mayfield for a game, following an exhibition tilt here this afternoon between the Tigers and a team from Murray State Teachers College.

A committee from the Baseball Association will call on the merchants of Fulton Monday afternoon in an effort to get stores closed for the opening game Wednesday afternoon. Appropriate ceremonies are being arranged for the game.

ABOUT SUNDAY SCHOOL

(Sunday May 5 has been designated as "Go to Sunday School Sunday." Appropriately Dr. Don P. Hawkins, Christian Church minister, is our guest writer today on the general theme of "The Influence of Mother and Home For God and Native Land.")

The one perennially popular subject in the world is that of home. Whoever would paint, or write or sing himself into international fame, has but to let his genius play upon his topic. Dvorak, the Bohemian composer, did this in his "New World Symphony," with its haunting strains, "Goin' home, goin' home"; James McNeill Whistler, when he painted the portrait of his mother; Stephen C. Foster with his "Swanee River," and "My Old Kentucky Home," and supremely, John Howard Payne, with his "Home Sweet Home."

The most talked about picture at the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893 was a canvas entitled "Breaking Home Ties." Every day crowds surrounded that never-to-be-forgotten picture. It showed the interior of a farmhouse and a country boy saying good-bye to his mother. Through the open door could be seen a light wagon with a boy's trunk on it and nearby his father waiting to start to town and the railway station, where his son would take the train for a far-away city.

It was not an accident that the two most popular songs which came out during the World War were "Keep the Home Fire Burning," and "There's a long long trail a-winding."

Years ago I recall a prize offered by a metropolitan newspaper for the best definition of home; and two of these I recalled, one of them rather imperfectly. Here is the first: "Home—a little hollow scooped out of the windy hills of life for a shelter in the time of storm." And here is the other: "Home—the place where we are treated the best and grumble the most."

There are said to be 25,000,000 families in the United States. Such figures challenge the imagination. Think of it: Try to evaluate the issues. What dreams and what doubts, fears and tears, joy and pain, sacrifice and suffering; Yet in these millions of family groups are sown the seeds of destiny upon the harvest of which hinges the nation's future.

Father may be the head of the house BUT MOTHER IS THE HEART OF THE HOME. Father may be the secretary of the treasury. BUT MOTHER IS SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR, speaker of the house, and director of the Federal Reserve, ALL IN ONE. Let us honor both Father and Mother as we approach another Mothers' Day, link them together affectionately, and jointly pay them tribute in the name and for the sake of "Home, Sweet Home."

The temptation to smother this theme with flowers and fancy is very strong but I do not propose to yield to it. Home building is the highest venture in the world, and fraught with immense possibilities and responsibilities. If things go right in the home, they are likely right elsewhere. Fifty years ago that great churchman, Dr. DeWitt Talmadge referred to the home as "a church within a church; a republic within a republic; a world within a world." I would like to add to this great statement from a truly great man that the home is a democracy within a democracy, and in this fierce struggle that is now on between two

(May 5, 1924)

Evangelist Billy Sunday will not be able to come to Fulton today on account of Mrs. Sunday being injured in an automobile accident Friday.

In the first game of the local season Griner's Kitten swamped Jess Turner's West Tennessee All Stars by the lop-sided score of 14-2.

Gideon Willingham, formerly of this city, has recently been promoted to resident engineer, with headquarters at New Athens, Ill., and will move to that city in the near future.

Mrs. J. M. Culver left Sunday for St. Louis where her son, Robert, will undergo an operation.

Miss Jane Benedict and Miss Neal of Arlington were guests of Miss Myra Scarce during the convention.

Mrs. Winston Norman and children left Sunday for Memphis to join Mr. Norman and make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dement Weaver spent Sunday in Paducah visiting their son, Cecil Robert, who is in the hospital there.

Mrs. N. G. Bishop and daughter, Miss Ruby of Corinth, Miss., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Leath.

forms of government "they" on the one hand, and "we" on the other, the family life must create the spirit and apply the principles forever fixed in the phrase, "government of the people by the people and for the people."

True democracy begins at home. Respect for law and order, discipline, the idea of sharing, the "give and take," which is so necessary to a free people—need to be nurtured in the formative years. The home is a magnificent field for the operation of what we love to call team-work. Before a unified family life in which the stream of interests and ideals flows steadily toward a common goal can be achieved, father and mother themselves must be united in spirit, purpose and affections. If there is anything more tragic than a family where the father stands for one thing, the mother for another and a different thing—where the mother sets children ever against the father, and father places children against the mother—if there is anything more tragic than such a situation, I know not what it is:

The best parents, then are interior decorators, implanting in their children these basic and aged-old qualities: common honesty, consideration of the right of others, the nobility of toil, the heroism of diligence, the grandeur of patience.

Was it not Charles Lamb who said he learned patience at his mother's knee? Did not John Ruskin leave the amazing testimony that as a boy in a Victorian home he could never remember an exchange of angry words between his father and mother? So very much depends on how painstakingly parents do this interior decorating of the characters of the children committed to their care.

Humor is good for the home. Laughter is better than tears; smiles are preferable to scowls. Games and sports in which the family engage together are better than medicine for the health of the home.

Then, religion in the home is a powerful incentive to right living. A family life that is beautifully simple and reverently religious is beyond praise. The American mother chosen for 1939 is Mrs. Elias Compton, mother of three famous sons, and a renowned daughter. One of her sons won a Nobel prize. The character and achievements of all her children are exceptional. When asked the secret of her success she simply replied: "I brought them up on the Bible, soap and spinach." This is a revealing answer and goes deeply. The Bible stands for religion, soap for cleanliness, and spinach for health. John Wesley once said: "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Actually, real religion connotes cleanliness and good health. In truth cleanliness is a part of godliness. Since then the home is so universal, so powerful, so unifying, it is imperative that we give our best to this best of institutions next only to the church, by pouring into it our costly gifts of mind and affection and on this coming Mothers' Day not only honor her who wields the power and influence in the home, but honor God who gave us good Mothers and Fathers.

and pushing and hauling, I had a pair of shoes on my feet, and I felt as if the feet were in a plaster cast. But the storekeeper thought they were fine, my father concurred in the theory, and I secretly thought they looked pretty fine, for they were what we now call ox-blood. Of course, they did not fit, but I never expected a fit in those days, and I wore them out of the store proudly—and stolidly.

For in less than an hour I had more blisters on my feet than I had room for, and the two days spent there are still vivid in my memory. For a week after reaching home I could not wear any shoes, but characteristically, we worked on those shoes with hammer and stretcher, we soaked them in oil and water and finally they were fixed so they could be worn.

But I never pass the little hamlet without remembering that fearful Saturday and Sunday in the year 1896.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET STAGED AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH LAST NIGHT

Carrying out a unique Dutch theme in decorations, placecards, and program, the Junior Class entertained the members of the 1940 graduating class of Fulton High School with the annual banquet last night at 7 o'clock at the First Methodist Church.

The stage was attractively decorated to depict a Dutch scene, with a miniature lake, and windmill in foreground and a white fence banked with tulips in the background. The windows each held a window box with white spring flowers and tulips. The lights were decorated to represent yellow tulips. The color scheme of blue and yellow was carried out in the streamers of crepe paper which were arranged criss-cross over the ceiling. The tables were decorated with mirrors flanked by lighted tapers and tiny Dutch shoes filled with tulips. A delectable three course menu was served by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, after which a very amusing and entertaining program was put on.

Tommy James, president of the Junior Class, acted as toastmaster and presented the following program: "In A Little Dutch Kindergarten", by Misses Jane Dallas and Maurine Ketcham; Miss Winna Frances Price, dressed in a Dutch costume, gave a Dutch dance. Two numbers were rendered by a girls chorus, "Tiptoe Through the Tulips" and "In A Little Dutch Kindergarten".

At the conclusion of the program, several contests were enjoyed. In the ABC contest, Glenn Weather- spoon was the winner. In a posing contest, three of the contestants were so good that a run-off was held. Miss Gloria Nelms was the winner and those receiving honorable mention were Hugh Earle and Felix Gossom. The group then had to write 10-word telegrams beginning each word with the same letter and Jerry Cavendar received the prize for the best telegram.

Besides the members of the Junior and Senior classes, the Board of Education, the Fulton High Faculty and Miss Winna Frances Price were present. The arrangements for the banquet were under the supervision of Mrs. Trevor Wayne and Miss Mary Martin, Junior sponsors.

The program was concluded with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the entire group.

ATTEND PARTY IN HICKMAN

Mrs. Lawrence Holland, Mrs. Maxwell McDade, Miss Betty Koehn, Mrs. Ernest Fall, Jr., Mrs. Bill Browning, Mrs. Robert H. Binford, and Mrs. Hendon Wright attended a party in Hickman yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. John Curtis.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS MONTHLY OPEN MEETING—GARDEN DEPARTMENT HOST

Members of the Garden Department of the Fulton Woman's Club were hosts at the general meeting of the club yesterday afternoon, May 3. Acting hostesses were Mesdames Robert Graham, W. W. Miller, Dorris Valentine, and Mace McDade. Mrs. Ira Little and Miss Laverne Browder served as pages.

For the occasion the club rooms were unusually attractive with flowers grown and arranged by members of the Garden Department. The various arrangements had been judged by a committee, were examined and generally admired by the club members.

The business session was presided over by the new president, Mrs. Mansfield Martin. Minutes of previous meetings were read by the secretary, Mrs. Aaron Butts, and reports were given by the various officers. Mrs. Martin read the standing committees to serve during the coming year. The club voted to give a prize to the department having the highest average of attendance at the general meetings throughout the next club year.

The following delegates were elected to represent the Fulton club at the State Convention to be held in Louisville, May 8-11: Mesdames Mansfield Martin, Warren Graham, Aaron Butts, Ernest Fall, Jr., and Wilmon Boyd. Alternates are Mesdames Robert Graham, J. E. Fall, Hendon Wright, Jake Huddleston and Joe Browder. It was decided that the June meeting of the Fulton club will be held so that the report of the president on the convention can be heard.

Following the business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. S. R. Mauldin, chairman of the Garden Department, who extended a welcome and announced the program. The first number was a piano solo by Miss Donna Jean DeMyer. Mrs. J. E. Fall, was then presented and gave a most interesting talk on famous gardens she has visited. She spoke of the gardens at Mount Vernon and the Hermitage, the Japanese Gardens in San Antonio, Texas, Cypress Gardens in Winter Haven, Fla.; the gardens of Mexico and Cuba, the Magnolia Gardens in Charleston, S. C., and the beautiful gardens in the blue grass section of our own state. In conclusion, she gave a description and history of Bellingrath Gardens in Mobile, and praised them as being the most beautiful gardens she has ever seen.

Mrs. Carl Hastings was then introduced and, in her usual skillful and charming manner, gave a review of Ellen Terry's "Memoirs." This was thoroughly enjoyed and Mrs. Hastings was presented with an attractive gift by the Garden Department in appreciation of her part on the program.

During the social hour delightful refreshments were served by members of the Garden Department. The garden motif was carried out by tiny nosegays on each plate.

Among those who lingered to chat in the club rooms were several of the 16 new members recently taken into the club.

TEXAS VISITOR GOES TO STOUT FALLS

Mrs. Robert Penner, Corpus Christi, Tex., who has been the house guest of Mrs. N. E. Gallahan, Third street, for the past week, left yesterday for Doniphan, Mo., where she joined her husband. They will leave tomorrow for Stout Falls, N. D., where her husband is manager of the Western League baseball team there. Mrs. Penner was accompanied to Doniphan by Mrs. Gallahan.

a "private" radio which interfered with authorized stations had been discovered at Passaic, N. J.

The station used frequencies assigned to licensed stations, the commission said, and in an effort to make detection more complex used the call letters of those stations. At one time, it added, the station operated on 900 kilocycles, assigned to WREN at Buffalo, N. Y., and employed those call letters. More recently it used the call letters and frequency of WHT at Hartford, Conn.

Child Health Day Infant Mortality Aim Is To Cut

Washington. —Reduction of infant mortality and maternal deaths was the goal today of the annual observance of Child Health Day.

To this end the Children's Bureau asked all citizens to study proposals for extending medical and nursing services to areas where they are limited, expanding public health service, preventive and curative medical service for children, health instruction for school and parents, and Federal grants to States to raise the level of health welfare services.

Evening services 7:00 p. m. sermon subject, "The Flood and the Ark." Ladies' Bible class Monday 2:30 p. m. Men's Bible and training class Monday 7:30 p. m. Mid-week Bible study Wednesday 7:30 p. m. Please read Jeremiah 6:16.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, E. R. Ladd, pastor. 9:45 a. m. Sunday school. John Bowers, Supt. 10:55 a. m. sermon. 7:30 p. m. sermon. It is but a very short time until our revival and the thing that should concern each of us most, am I ready for the great work that is out before me. May each of us be in a very earnest prayer for this great harvest time. Will you be very attentive at each service until the revival starts and then do your best to be at each service. You are welcome.

CHURCH OF GOD, State Line. 109. Sunday school 10 a. m. Preaching 11 a. m. Sermon 7:30 Sunday night. Service each Tuesday and Friday. Pastor, Mrs. Thomas Wilson.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, Rev. Woodrow Fuller, pastor. Sunday school, 9:30, E. E. Mount, Supt. Kentucky Sunday School Day, we are striving for 500 in our school.

Be one of that number. Morning worship, 10:50. Preaching by the pastor. Baptist Training Union, 6:15, Marvin Sanders, Director. Evening worship, 7:30. Message by the pastor to be followed by the baptismal service. Be sure and see those who have professed faith in Christ, buried with him in beautiful baptism. We call the attention of all our people to the Youth Revival this coming week in the Methodist Church. Let us give this meeting our support in prayer and attendance.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH, W. H. Saxon, pastor, Church school, 9:45 a. m. Preaching, 11:00 a. m. Subject: "The Need of A Revival." by the pastor. Preaching, 5:00 p. m. Subject: "We Are Able, Let's Go!" by the pastor. Young People's Services, 6:30 p. m. This marks the beginning of our pre-pentecostal revival and we shall be assisted in song by the Rev. W. T. Barnes, who so successfully conducted the singing for you two years ago. Services will be each evening at 7:30 o'clock and the majority of the sermons will be on the Office Work of the Holy Ghost in our hearts. We not only invite you but earnestly urge you to attend every one of these services.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST. "Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-

Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday. The Golden Text is: "The way of the Lord is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity." Prov. 10:29. Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." (11 Cor. 6:2). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Now," cried the apostle, "is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation"—meaning, not that now men must prepare for a future-world salvation, or safety, but that now is the time in which to experience that salvation in spirit and in life. Now is the time for so-called material pains and material pleasures to pass away, for both are unreal, because impossible in Science. To break this earthly spell, mortals must get the true idea and divine Principle of all that really exists and governs the universe harmoniously." (p. 39).

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST CHURCH, Elder Aaron Reeder, pastor, Song service at 10:45. Preaching by pastor at 11 a. m. Everybody is cordially invited.

TRINITY EPISCOPAL CHURCH, Charles F. Wulf, Rector. 9:45 a. m. Church school. 7:30 p. m. Evening Prayer and Sermon. 2:30 Wednesday afternoon. Trinity Guild meets in the study. Everyone cordially invited to attend church services.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH, D. F. Hawkins, Minister, Bible school 9:45, G. K. Underwood, Supt. Carl Buckingham, Assistant, Mrs. J. D. Ferguson, primary, Supt. Bible school, with classes for all ages. All are cordially invited. Lord's Supper and morning worship at 10:50, when the minister will speak on the theme "Mending Nets or Remaking a World." Special music. C. E. at 6 with an inspirational youth program. Fine attendance is marking these meetings. At 7:30 the minister will speak on the subject "Mortgaging the Future." Special music. No prayer meeting Wednesday night on account of revival at Methodist church. Choir rehearsal Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Every day was a circus—for a while

The roar of the crowd... the thundering hoofs foretold the fall of mighty Rome—all because an empire went pleasure-mad and forgot what made it great. Rome went soft.

All play and no work has always spelled collapse—for a person as well as a nation. Isn't a balanced life with a fair share of work and a fair share of leisure more sensible and satisfying? Then tasks become attractive—and there's still ample time for your hobbies, family and friends. They help you readjust your perspective... revitalize your good humor... rest your mind and body. Good work puts you in a mood for recreation, and healthful recreation puts you back in the mood for work. Your moderation puts you in balance and in harmony with progress.

A tall, stately glass of Budweiser is a standing invitation to make your moments of relaxation complete—with the companionship that Budweiser offers when you are alone with your family... and the hospitality it offers as the Perfect Host to your guests.
