Dairy Special Train Leaves Fulton Oct. 18

West Kentucky visitors to the National Dairy Exposition and Tri-State Fair will travel to Memphis on "Kentucky Day," Tuesday, Oct. 18, on the lowest railroad fares ever granted for an agricultural event in the South, according to Frank D. Fuller, secretary-manager of the Fair.

Three special trains will be operated from West Kentucky and one from Louisville on "Kentucky Day." Tickets will be sold for the West Kentucky special trains at approximately three-fourths of one fare for the round trip. Passengers will alight from the trains at the entrance of the Fair Grounds. Returning, trains also will leave from the Fair.

The Illinois Central will operate two special trains, one starting from Paducah and one from Wickliffe. The N. C. & St. L. railroad also will start a train from Paducah. Tickets on regular trains west of Paducah will be sold on "Kentucky Day," at a special rate of one fare for the round trip. Tickets on regular trains will go on sale from Oct. 14, good returning to Oct. 22, at a special rate of one and one-half fare for the round trip.

As an example of the extreme cut in fares, the "Kentucky Day" excursion rate from Paducah to Memphis is $4.55 for the round trip, whereas the regular round trip rate is $12.12.

The I. C. Paducah special will leave there at 5:30 a. m. It will leave Mayfield at 6:15 a. m. and Fulton at 7:00 a. m. No stops will be made between Fulton and the Fair Grounds, where the train is due to arrive at 10:00 a. m. Returning, the Paducah train leaves at 9:45 p. m.

The Wickliffe train leaves at 6 a. m., reaches Fulton at 7:00 a. m., then runs without scheduled stop to the Fair Grounds, arriving at 10:00 a. m. Returning, this train leaves the Fair Grounds at 9:45 p. m.

The N. C. & St. L. "Kentucky Day" special will leave Paducah at 5:00 a. m.; Benton at 5:35 a. m.; Murray at 6:12 a. m.; Paris, Tenn., at 7:00 a. m.; and Jackson, Tenn., at 9:15 a. m. The run from Jackson to Memphis is scheduled without stop. The train will arrive at the Fair Grounds at 11 a. m. and returning, will leave at 11:55 p. m.

Altogether there will be nearly 40 special trains into Memphis during the exposition, which opens Saturday, October 15 and closes Saturday, October 22. Besides the four trains from Kentucky, there will be seven special trains from Tennessee, 14 from Mississippi, five from Arkansas, four from Missouri, one from Dallas, Tex., two from Illinois, one from Cleveland, Ohio, and prospects are good for several others.

An attendance of between 300,000 and 350,000 people is expected, the largest in the history of the National Dairy Association.

UNION CITY BAPTISTS BAPTIZE IN FULTON BAPTISTRY

Rev. Jenkins, pastor of the Union City Baptist church, in company with a number of new converts and members of his church, visited Fulton Sunday afternoon to baptize some of his new converts in the baptistry at the First Baptist church. A large assembly witnessed the service. The Baptists at Union City are building a new church but the baptistry is not completed.

FULTON-PADUCAH ROAD WILL BE COMPLETED

From present indications the highway between Paducah and Fulton will be completed this year, notwithstanding the fact that the contract for grading from Fulton to Wingo was held up along with $1,000,000 of other contracts by State Auditor Shanks when it was discovered the Commission had exceeded its appropriations by several thousand dollars.

Prominent citizens of Fulton, Graves and McCracken counties went to Frankfort last week and appeared before the commission with the convincing proof of the necessity of completing said highway, the only north and south highway through the state in West Kentucky. The result was the Commission wired the contractors to go ahead and complete the work. Other contracts will be curtailed but the Fulton-Paducah road will be completed as quickly as the contractors can do the work. This highway will connect with the Fulton-Union City highway, thence to Memphis and other points South.

PRETTY STORE FRONT

The handsome new store front at L. Kasnow's is completed and is causing much favorable comment by those who stop to admire the improvement. Mr. Kasnow is to be congratulated on beautifying his place of business and giving it a touch of city appearance.

Morris Chowning Safely Home Again

Morris Chowning has returned home from the American Legion Convention which was held in Paris, France. It is interesting to listen at Morris tell about the big event and what a delightful time he had.

Gosh Gardner Dies In Michigan.

The remains of Mr. Gosh Gardner, who died at his home in Michigan Tuesday, was taken to Mayfield for interment. Mr. Gardner was well known here and formerly resided in the Beckett neighborhood. Some ten or twelve years ago he sold his farm to Mr. Ernest Bennett and removed to Michigan. He was about 68 years old at the time of his death; highly esteemed by a large circle of friends who deeply sympathize with the bereaved ones left behind.

The deceased was a brother of M. L. and Milt Gardner.

A. E. STEIN GUEST OF LIONS CLUB

Editor A. E. Stein, of the Clinton Gazette, was a guest of the Lions Club at their noon luncheon last Friday. After being introduced to the members by Lion M. B. Daniel, who was in charge of the program, Mr. Stein delighted the assembly with a talk upon citizenship and service. Too bad that every citizen in town could not have heard it. Editor Stein is a fluent speaker and his talk was calculated to instill in those present the value of loyal citizenship to a community.

They're Not All in the Ball Park

Governor Peay Passes Away

The announcement of the death of Governor Austin Peay of Tennessee, was received in Fulton early Monday morning with general regrets.

Gov. Peay died at his residence in Nashville, Sunday evening shortly after 7 o'clock of what physicians said was a cerebral hemorrhage. Gov. Peay was 51 years old. He was the first governor to be elected in Tennessee for three consecutive terms and the only one to die while chief executive of that State. Besides his widow he is survived by one daughter and one son, also two sisters.

The body laid in state at the capitol in Nashville from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Tuesday and on Wednesday was taken to Clarksville, the governor's home, for burial. Services were held in the Baptist church, in which he had retained his membership.

Speaker Horton New Tennessee Governor

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 2.—Henry H. Horton, of Lewisburg, who automatically succeeds Governor Austin Peay, is the first man in the history of Tennessee to become chief executive to the death of the governor. Mr. Horton is elevated to the chair through the constitutional provision which holds that the speaker of the Senate shall succeed the governor in the event of death of the chief executive.

Gov. Horton will serve the year and three months of the unexpired term without the formality of an election.

Gov. Horton has had a long and varied career. Born on a farm, he has taught school, practiced law, held several public offices, operated a grist mill, owned a large farm and been a bank director.

The new governor was born February 17, 1866, in Jackson county, Alabama, near Princeton. His father, Henry H. Horton, was a Baptist missionary preacher and native of Tennessee. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore Horton, was a descendant of Thomas Moore, famous Irish poet.

Young Horton's family moved to Scottsboro, Ala., when he was 18 years of age. While there he attended the Scott Academy two years. He then left school and became a teacher in Madison, Ala. After remaining a year, he entered

Horton's Statement

Senator Horton's statement follows:

Gov. Peay has fallen a martyr to duty. "His untimely death at the height of his great service to the state was occasioned by overwork. He gave all of his great mind, all of his once virile body, all of his health, and finally life itself to the people of Tennessee he loved so well. Unappreciative of his unselfish devotion to duty—jealous of his unparalleled accomplishments his enemies took advantage of his failing health to make their attacks more cruel, more unjust, more false with each passing day."

"The standard has fallen from his lifeless hand. The task is ours to raise it aloft and to try bear it again to the heights to which he carried it. "Under the constitution of the state the heavy responsibility of the great office which Gov. Peay adorned now devolves upon me for the remainder of his term. God willing, I will complete his unfinished work. To that high mission I dedicate myself and summon all patriotic citizens to my assistance."

Our line of Christmas Cards for 1927 have arrived. They are without doubt, the most handsome we have ever had and the prices are the lowest. All are beautifully engraved and remember, we imprint your name on Christmas Cards absolutely free.

Never mind the weather, let's get together. You are invited to make your selection now while the line is complete, and pay in December.

We can render you more careful service at this season of the year.

ZANE GREY GIVES OLD PROBLEM A NEW TWIST

A new twist to an old formula is developed in "Drums of the Desert," Paramount's screen version of Zane Grey's "Desert Bound," whereby the apparent lead becomes a "heavy," and the presumable villain proves to be the hero.

Wallace MacDonald, cast as the "heavy" points to this unusual phase of motion picture construction.

"To all intents and purposes," MacDonald states, "I am the romantic lead in the opening sequences while Warner Baxter is the 'heavy.' I play my role clean shaven and with leading man gestures. Baxter plays his with a mustache and circumstances point to his being the one responsible for the dirty work."

"That's the way it is in life, too. You never know who may be a villain at heart. In this story I turn out to be the bad man who does all the villainy and loses the girl to Baxter. But at the start I get all the breaks."

Marietta Millner plays the girl. Incidentally, she's the only white woman in the picture, the majority being Navajo Indians. Exterior scenes for the production were made on the reservation in Arizona.

"Drums of the Desert" reaches the GRAND Theatre, October 10-11. John Waters directed. Ford Sterling is co-featured with Baxter and Miss Millner.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

On Thursday, Sept. 29, at their home in Riceville, suburb of Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. David F. Merryman celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

It was a glorious occasion and one hundred and twenty-five friends and relatives enjoyed it with them. A bounteous dinner was spread in the Baptist church and all enjoyed the occasion immensely. On departing, each one wished the happy couple fifty more years of wedded bliss. The distinguished couple is loved and highly esteemed by a large acquaintance, and their golden wedding anniversary will remain a cherished memory in the minds of all present.

Miss Ethel Mae Matthews, who has been visiting relatives in Forestdale, returned to Memphis, Monday night.

On registration day Tuesday 850 Democrats and 212 Republicans were registered in Fulton.

"CAT AND CANARY," A SPOOK SPECIAL, OPENS AT ORPHEUM

October 10, for 2 Days Run

Laura La Plante climbs another rung on the ladder to universal popularity through her interpretation of the steller role in Universal's "The Cat and the Canary," the fascinating mystery-drama which enjoyed continued country-wide success, as a stage play from the pen of John Willard.

Go to the Orpheum if you want to enjoy an evening packed full of thrills and delicious suspense. You'll be hanging on to your seat for dear life from start to finish.

The story is characterized by interesting and effective photographic shots, reflective of the genius of Director Paul Leni. His instinctive sense of beauty and drama bring into play an interpretation of the values of the plot, producing the audience-reaction so eagerly sought after by directors.

In order to achieve his objective, Leni has made full use of the laws of action and reaction by using suspense-lifting interludes to heighten the dramatic tension through laugh-provoking situations injected at opportune intervals.

Laura La Plante as usual, gives an eminent performance fully justifying her stellar prominence in the movies. Arthur Edmund Sarew is splendid in his role, as are the other members of the supporting cast, including Tully Marshall, Lucien Littlefield, Forrest Stanley, George Siegmann, Flora Finch, Martha Mattox and others.

HAVE YOU ATTENDED THE MAJESTIC DEMONSTRATION?

The Majestic Range Demonstration all this week at the Fulton Hardware Company's store on Lake street is attracting many visitors to the store. The Majestic is the delight of many Fulton homes. It is a range in a class of its own with 40 years of reputation to recommend it. During the demonstration this week, all who buy a Majestic is given absolutely free a complete set of handsome DeLuxe nickel plated copperware. The trade-in allowance is another pleasing feature of demonstration week when your old range will be accepted as part payment on a new Majestic. If you have never had the merits of the Majestic explained to you, visit the Fulton Hardware Company this week and let an expert tell you all about it. Then you will understand why Majestic has been chosen to serve more than a million homes and hotels, where appearance is held at a premium and cooking must never fail.

CITY INSTALLING FORTY-ONE HUNDRED FEET OF NEW WATER MAINS

In order to serve the people more adequately and give service to some that have not been served heretofore with water, the city is laying 4,100 feet of new water mains. Lee Roberts, who is superintending the work says six more fire plugs will also be included in the project, and the plug at the corner of Second and Carr streets will be extraordinary. Lee is ever on the alert to give Fulton the best fire protection possible and has made a wonderful fire chief.

IDEAL GARAGE BUILDING

Work on the Snow-White garage building on Fourth street is progressing rapidly. All of the steel work has been placed and W. M. Hill & Sons is laying the 16,000 square feet of concrete floor. Work has now progressed sufficient to give some idea of what an ideal home the Snow-White, authorized Ford dealers will have when completed.

O. E. S. INSTALLATION

Fulton City Chapter O. E. S. met in regular communication Monday night at the Masonic hall, with a large crowd present. After the regular opening of the Chapter and all work attended to, Mrs. T. J. Grigg, installing officer, and Mrs. Rupert Stille, marshal, installed the following effective and appointive officers to serve for the ensuing year: Mrs. Edward Heywood, worthy matron; Mr. D. Fred Worth, worthy patron; Mrs. Hardeman Howard, associate matron; Mrs. Henry F. Taylor, secretary; Mrs. S. A. McDade, treasurer; Mrs. M. F. DeMyer, conductress; Mrs. W. J. Coulter, associate conductress; Mrs. Mary Bullock, chaplain; Mrs. Abe Jolly, marshal; Mrs. T. D. McWhorter, organist; Mrs. E. N. DeMyer, Adah; Mrs. Max Cummings, Ruth; Mrs. Seldon Cohn, Esther; Mrs. G. B. Butterworth, Martha; Mrs. Rupert Stille, Electa; Mrs. Calla Latta, warder; Mrs. M. F. DeMyer, sentinel.

Sick Committee—Mrs. Grant DeMyer, Mrs. Jessie Martin, Mr. L. Kasnow.

Finance Committee—Mrs. T. G. Grigg, Mrs. M. F. DeMyer, Mr. Edward Heywood.

Next meeting of the grand Chapter will be held in Lexington, Ky., October 25, 26 and 27.

High School Notes

Our cafeteria will furnish wholesome lunches to anyone for 20c: soup, 5c; sandwich, 5c; milk, 4c; and dessert, 5c. Only foods that can be handled in a sanitary way and that are nourishing are sold. Our foods are screened from flies, this being done to further sanitation. Miss Warren is the efficient head of the Junior High school cafeteria, while the high school one is maintained by the domestic science department under the capable direction of Miss McMinn.

The Reverend C. H. Warren made a very interesting talk on Thursday morning at the Junior High school. It was enjoyable to the students and to the teachers.

Mr. Aubrey Nugent started back to school Friday when he came to the Junior High school and gave a most interesting talk to the students. His first day was a very successful one, and we hope that he will not play "hooky" for too long but that he will return and again talk to us.

The Reverend B. J. Cantrell, of the Christian church gave a very interesting talk to the high school on Tuesday morning. Mr. Cantrell chose as the topic for his address, a recent poem of Carl Sandburg, America's poet. Emphasis was placed on the building of character and life was likened to an anvil upon which iron is shaped.

A charming musical program was rendered Monday morning by Mr. Stuart Brown, vocalist, and Miss Ivora Cantrell, accompanist. Generous applause followed the rendition of Mr. Brown's first number, after which he sang, "Yesterday," as an encore.

Miss Ethel Mae Matthews, who is a student in Draughn's Business College, Memphis, is spending a few days with relatives in Forrestdale.

Church News

Bishop Woodcock arrived in Fulton Wednesday evening of last week and held confirmation services on Thursday morning at 8:00, leaving immediately afterward for Crutchfield. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Coulter took the Bishop and Dr. Boyd to Crutchfield in their car, where the party had lunch with Dr. and Mrs. Boyd, after which the Bishop took train to Arlington and from there to Columbus by taxi.

The Bishop inspected the new site for the church on the townsite to which Columbus is to move and approved the plan of the removal. In the evening he held a conference with the members of the congregation and friends returning to Fulton in the car of Mr. Coulter, who had driven to Columbus for that purpose.

The Bishop spent the night in Fulton, leaving the following morning for his home in Louisville.

Mr. Chester Turner and family, of Crutchfield, and Dr. and Mrs. Boyd motored to Columbus last Sunday, where Dr. Boyd held service at 11:00 a. m., preaching to a large congregation. After the service, the party motored to a schoolhouse where they had a picnic lunch. On returning to Crutchfield Dr. Boyd held evening service at which there was a large gathering and which expressed itself as highly pleased with the service.

Miss Hattie Mae Godfrey, organist at Trinity, has been quite indisposed for the past week, and may not be able to preside at the organ next Sunday.

Little Mercedes Khourie was detained at home last week, suffering from a severe cold.

Judging from the fine coat of tan acquired by Bishop Woodcock during his recent vacation, he must have had a most enjoyable time.

CHESTNUT GLADE HIGH

Chestnut Glad High School, opened August 29, with a splendid attendance. Despite the fact that the wagons have not started, the majority of the students have been coming regularly, and the High school has reached the greatest enrollment in the history of the school.

With the exception of two teachers, Mr. Thacker, who has charge of the eighth grade, and Miss Mattie Prichard, who has charge of the sixth and seventh grades, the faculty is the same as last year.

Miss Ruth McGee, our music and expression teacher, returned to her work two weeks ago, after an enjoyable tour of the Southwest.

The first month of school has already passed and much work is reported to have been done in each department.

Mr. Cheek, professor of the Fulton school, delivered a most enjoyable talk in Chapel last Wednesday. Mr. Cheek's talk was of a wonderful variety which made it possible to reach both large and small pupils. The subject of his talk was taken from the Bible. Several passages from the book of Exodus served as illustrations for his most effective points. Through his talk the students were made to realize that the Bible is not a book of dry reading, but a book of interest for all types of readers. He stressed especially the necessity of reading the Bible and still more the necessity of putting its teachings into practice. I am sure all the students profited by this good man's talk trust he will visit us again soon.

The Athletic Club gave an ice cream supper at the school building, Friday evening, September 16, which proved to be a great success.

The orchestra entertained at Welch last Friday evening.

Miss Pearl Bourne, State

Worker among the young people in W. M. U. work gave a very interesting and inspiring address at the church on last Tuesday evening. Miss Bourne is a very fluent speaker, and her audience on Tuesday evening was delighted with the message she brought. It is hoped we can have her with us more often in the future.

Sunday is promotion day in our Sunday School. Attractive departmental programs are being arranged, and immediately after the opening devotional in the various departments the Promotion Cards from class to class, and Promotion Certificates from department to department, will be presented, enabling all pupils to go to their new classes for the lesson period. You will find enthusiastic and competent officers and teachers in all departments of our Sunday School, and a full attendance is urged.

The West Kentucky Association will convene with Kirbyton church Tuesday morning, October 14th, at ten o'clock. A large number of messengers from this church will attend the two day session.

BEST REDPATH ENTERTAINERS

The Parent-Teachers' Association are to be commended on the splendid attractions and entertainment to be presented in Fulton at High School auditorium, on October 12, and January 3. Only the very best has been obtained, and while one of the bookings costs the association $300.00, they are offering tickets at an exceedingly low price as follows: Single Admission for Lecture—Adult, 75c; Student, 40c. For Orchestra, Adult, $1.00; Student, 60c.

Season Tickets—Adult $1.25 Student, 75c; family, $3.00.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Valentine announce the marriage of their daughter, Thelma, to Mr. Dailie Roberts, which was solemnized Friday evening in Union City, Rev. Mr. Gregory officiating.

The bride is a popular teacher in the South Fulton schools, and has a wide circle of friends who will wish her a happy life with the man of her choice.

The groom is the son of Mrs. W. M. Roberts of South Fulton, and is quite an estimable young man, with a host of friends to wish him a happy voyage with his fair young bride. He is engaged in the advertising business with the Foust Co., with headquarters in this city. The newlyweds are at home to their friends on Paschall street.

ESCAPE INJURY IN WRECK

Hickman, Ky., Sept. 26. —Tobe Jackson, Fulton County jailer, wife and party had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon when his car turned completely over on the new gravel highway two miles below town. Mr. Jackson sustained a gash in his left cheek and a gash in his forehead, but the rest of the party suffered only nervous shock and bruises. Their escape was miraculous.

Lesson for October 9

ELIJAH HEARS GOD'S VOICE

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 19.
GOLDEN TEXT—Wait on the Lord, he of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Elijah Hears God's Voice.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God Encourages Elijah.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Listening to God's Voice.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How God Speaks to Men.

I. Elijah's Flight (vv. 1-14).
Upon Ahab's return from the excitement on Mount Carmel, he told his wife all that Elijah had done, that even all her prophets had been hewn to pieces by the sword. This so enraged her that she sent a message of death to Elijah, who seems to have been waiting at the gate (vv. 1, 2). Though Elijah had courageously stood before the king and the priests of Baal, he now cowered before this woman, and fled for his life. Let us beware lest when we think we stand, we fall (1 Cor. 10-12).

1. Elijah under the Juniper tree (vv. 3-7). The Juniper tree was a shrub of the desert which afforded shelter and protection to travelers from the burning sun by day and the cold wind by night.

(1) His request (v. 4): "This was that he might die. This was no doubt a foolish thing for him to say, but let us be as considerate toward him as was God. The discouragement, and even despondency, of Elijah, was due to the nervous strain of about four years of unusual service for God, which culminated on Mount Carmel. Such nervous reaction is to be expected, and surely the heart of this lesson will be missed unless we see it in that light, and see God's tenderness toward his overworked servant.

(2) God's tender treatment (vv. 5-7). a. He gave him sleep (v. 5). "He giveth His beloved sleep" (Ps. 127:2). b. He sent an angel to cook Elijah's meal (v. 6, 7). The angel of the Lord is usually understood to be the second member of the Holy Trinity. If this be correct, then we see Jehovah-Jesus preparing food for His servant Elijah, as He afterward did for His discouraged disciples by Galilee.

2. Elijah at Horeb (vv. 8-14). God had kindly ministered to His discouraged prophet so that he would be in a fit condition to receive the needed instruction and correction.

(1) God's interview with Elijah in the cave (vv. 9, 10). a. God's question, "What doest thou here, Elijah?" (v. 9). This was a stinging rebuke, though most kindly given. It implied that his appointed messenger was now far away from the field of duty. How blessed to know that "A God-forsaken saint is not a God-forsaken saint!" b. Elijah's answer (v. 10). Elijah tried to vindicate himself by asserting his jealous loyalty to God—that in spite of all this the people had not only rejected his message and dishonored God, but sought to destroy him.

(2) God's interview with Elijah on the mount (vv. 11-14). While standing before the Lord on the mount, God caused a mighty demonstration of wind, earthquake and fire to pass before him, to show unto him the nature of the work he had been doing for God, and to show him what was lacking in his work for the fullest attainment of success. Elijah had about him much of the whirlwind, earthquake and fire. His work had been terrifying and alarming, but it lacked in gentleness and love. This object lesson in the days of God's working is a needed message for this age, which is so wonderfully characterized by noise and clamor. The world is not "taken for Christ" by the fleshly energy and enthusiasms of conventions and committees, but by the quiet hearts who go forth proclaiming God's Word in the energy of the Holy Spirit.

II. Elijah's Return (vv. 15-18). Though Elijah had erred, God brought him again into His service. How comforting to know that God does not reject His servants because of their failures in times of despondency! He deals with them after the motive of their hearts. Elijah was nourished and instructed by the Lord and then sent on a high mission. God took Elijah out of himself by giving him a new commission. Before God would come in His chariot to take Elijah home, he sent him upon a three-fold ministry.

1. To anoint Hazael king over Syria (v. 15).
2. To anoint Jehu king over Israel (v. 16).
3. To anoint Elisha as his own successor in the prophet's room (vv. 19-21).

Look Up to God

Dare to look up to God and say: Deal with me in the future as Thou wilt; I am of the same mind as Thou art; I am Thine; I refuse nothing that pleases Thee; lead me where Thou wilt; clothe me in any dress Thou chooseth.—Epictetus.

One Vast Union

A FARM WAGON THAT IS GUARANTEED

The amount of satisfactory service that a wagon will give depends entirely upon the material and skill the manufacturer puts into it. We want to show you a wagon that is built of the best materials by men who know how—

THE JOHN DEERE WAGON The Wagon That is Guaranteed

A special machine automatically measures the inside of the skin of the John Deere farm wagon and shapes the axle to fit accurately. The skin is set in red lead under high pressure. It has exactly the right pitch, and the axle has the right gather to make the John Deere wagon run lighter than other wagons. With the John Deere sand- and dust-proof skids there is no wearing of bearing surfaces—the oil stays in—the wagon is always smooth-running and light-pulling. Only carefully-selected oak and hickory are used in the John Deere Wagon, and every piece of wood is air-seasoned under cover in our own yards for at least two years. The tires are set hot under hydraulic pressure and under a gauge that assures proper dish—the load is always carried on plumb spokes. And don't forget this other big feature—the heavy malleable fifth-wheel with corrugated coupling—no bending or breaking of kingbolt—bolster does not get out of line and rock—no danger of tipping when handling large, top-heavy loads.

Come in and see this wagon—read the guarantee on the tool box. Let us explain the many fine points embodied in it.

HENRY GRQWERS FAVOR NEW POOL

Ask Payne to Call Meeting of Organization Committees At Mayfield

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 3 — Enthusiastic endorsement was given to the proposal to reorganize the Dark Tobacco Growers' Cooperative association under a new contract in seven district associations by Henry county growers in a mass meeting at Paris, Tenn., this afternoon. Geoffrey Morgan, general manager of the old dark pool, stated on his return here from Paris tonight.

The Henry county growers adopted resolutions calling upon J. H. Payne, of Arlington, representative of the western district in the present cooperative association, to set a date for the meeting of county organization committees at Mayfield to reorganize along the lines provided for in the new contract. The growers appointed the following organization committee to represent them at the proposed meeting in Mayfield, J. L. Stewart, M. L. Kemp and W. E. Bandy.

MRS. CARRIE DUNNING, OF MAYFIELD, DIES

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 3—Mrs. Carrie Dunning, 49, wife of Geo. Dunning, well known tobacco man, died at her home on South Fifteenth street this morning about 4:30, following an illness extending over several weeks, resulting from a stroke of paralysis.

Besides her widower she is survived by three children, Randall and George, Jr., and Mrs. Harold Lewis, all of this city. A large number of other relatives also survive, including four sisters; Mrs. Wm. Pitts, Dyersburg, Tenn.; Mrs. F. G. Davis, Fulton; Mrs. C. L. Powell, Paducah, and Mrs. Schuly, Greencastle, Ind.

ST. LOUIS HARD HIT BY THURSDAY'S TORNADO

Work of clearing up the wreckage, recovering bodies of dead and caring for the injured in Thursday's tornado at St. Louis is a big task. Six square miles in the city was wrecked with an estimated loss of $75,000,000; ninety killed and over a thousand injured.

Tuesday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat said:

"Aided by a full day of sunshine, tornado relief work was rushed forward at top speed yesterday by the Red Cross and associated agencies, while the storm-torn area took on the aspect of a deserted city as nearly one-half of the families whose homes were wrecked sought safer refuge.

"Yesterday was marked by feverish activity, in the streets where wrecking crews tore down condemned and threatening structures, in the homes where household furniture and belongings were hurriedly packed and carted away, and at Red Cross Headquarters, where the detail of emergency relief kept the offices in a continuous uproar.

Of 3,300 families affected by the tornado, last night more than 1,500 had moved of their own accord or had been moved at the expense of the Red Cross from their shattered dwellings. In preparation for the rehabilitation work that is expected to start at the end of this week, the name of every family affected by the tornado was listed by the Red Cross.

STREET IMPROVEMENT CONTRACT NEARING COMPLETION

Work on all of the streets in the business district included in the street improvement program has been completed except Fourth street. The construction of the bridge across Harris Fork creek will cause some delay on this street, but the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. Most of the streets have been opened to traffic and are delightfully satisfactory.

Since Chestnut Glade now has an official correspondent who is in school, I shall confine my items to general neighborhood news. A school reporter is a splendid idea and insures proper publicity for the activities of the school, which is difficult for me to obtain.

Three afternoons a week at nursing class has left me rather short of time, so have neglected the items a bit. Miss Garrison, of the Health Unit, located at Dresden, gave the last lesson Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Minnie Thomas. Due to the rain, several were absent, and it was arranged to devote one more afternoon to review work for their benefit. Two of the ladies volunteering to substitute in the absence of Miss Garrison. This is one of the most important of the many achievements of the Ladies' Club. We wish every lady in the county might enjoy the same privilege we do.

Mrs. Roy Watts, who has been confined to the hospital for some time, is at home again, getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wilkerson are rejoicing over the birth of a son, Wednesday, Sept. 26.

A fine horse belonging to Tilman Oliver, was killed by lightning Thursday night.

Mr. Albert Caldwell's tobacco barn was destroyed by fire last week. There was no insurance.

Mr. Will McConnell lost a fine cow, Friday.

Homecomers this week are Mr. and Mrs. Malcom Johns and Miss Mamie Milam of Martin; Wayne Rhodes of Salem District, Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Moore, of Fulton.

The greatest singing for quite a while was held at Chestnut glade first Sunday. Our home leaders were ably assisted by Mr. Cashon and three other leaders of Mayfield, Ky. Mr. Herman Cashon, of Dukedom; Messrs. Bill and Jack Matthews, of Pierce, Tenn; little Miss Brown, of Fulton sang a solo. Many visiting singers were present. We are glad to have them with us and extend an invitation for them to come again and bring others.

Singing at Dukedom next Sunday at 2:30. The Matthews brothers promise to be there. We hope our singing folks will show their appreciation of the cooperation of our Dukedom friends by attending.

LESS POLITICS—MORE BUSINESS—KENTUCKY'S NEED!

Kentucky's greatest need today is less politics and more business. Our State has been handicapped and our progress impeded because selfish interests have blocked the way, preyed on our governmental agencies and exploited our people and resources to further their own selfish aims.

Fortunately, an awakening is at hand. The right-thinking voters of all parties are now mobilizing for the greatest people's victory ever achieved against the forces of Entrenched Privilege. The fight is on. Good Citizenship is at grips with the Spoilsman and Corruptionists. It is a battle in which the forces of Right and Decency will never sound retreat.

The State of Kentucky now has an annual income of more than $1,000,000—an average of $66 for every family in Kentucky. Yet a state is steeped in debt and every taxpayer is compelled to share an unnecessary burden because a bi-partisan group of unscrupulous men, for selfish reasons, in every way possible spend huge sums of money in their efforts to control legislation and policies of the government and thus effectively sidetrack any measure of relief that may be designed to benefit our people.

To meet this situation, the Democrats of Kentucky have drafted from retirement former Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, who, more than twenty years ago, gave to Kentucky one of the best and most business-like administrations in the history of the Commonwealth. During that magnificent service, from 1900 to 1908, Governor Beckham paid off an inherited deficit of $1,800,000. Without increasing the tax rate or issuing an interest bearing warrant, Governor Beckham also succeeded in building a splendid new Capitol, established two Normal Schools, lengthened the common school term as well as accomplishing many other improvements, and on leaving office, left $1,250,000 in the State Treasury. The record has never been equaled before or since!

Such performance by a public official is ample assurance of what may be expected in the way of service in the future. The people are demanding an efficient, prudent and economical administration of the State's affairs. The fairest promise of the results desired is held out in the election of former Governor Beckham and the entire State Democratic ticket of capable men and women who have been nominated for positions of public trust and responsibility.

A vote for Governor Beckham and the ticket he leads is a vote for the future progress and welfare of Kentucky. It is a vote to lead the State forward into better times and conditions. Such a vote is at once an opportunity, a privilege and a duty.

Can any citizen afford to ignore that duty? Will any citizen fail to render the notable and patriotic service to our State that the present opportunity provides?

I. C. EMBLEM DISTINGUISHES LONG DISTANCE PASSENGER TRAINS

Wonder what a railway towerman thinks about as he keeps his vigil over the trains that thread their way along the tracks beneath him?

Well, here is what one Illinois Central System towerman thought about, and he jotted it down in a letter to President L. A. Downs:

"I am proud to be affiliated with an organization whose efforts are constantly directed toward the goal of providing

'better service' to the public. The Illinois Central System emblem, pledging 'Courteous and Efficient Service Always,' expresses our purpose admirably. Why not paint this beautiful emblem in colors on the tenders of the locomotives which pull our up-to-the-minute passenger trains?"

President Downs thought well of the suggestion. As a result, the tenders of all locomotives pulling the Panama, Seminole, Floridan, Hawkeye, Daylight, Diamond, Chickasaw and other long-distance passenger trains will bear the Illinois Central System's famous emblem, three and one-half feet in diameter, in colors, and Towerman F. B. Wesley, of the Chicago Terminal has received the thanks of President Downs for the suggestion.

Great Concern

"I'm nearly sure that's an old friend of mine sitting at that table over there."
"Then why don't you speak to him?"
"I am afraid to, because he's so shy that he would feel quite awkward if it turned out to be another man after all."

Why Your Electric Bill Is Running Higher Now

The days are shorter, the nights longer. The daylight hours are short. The electric light hours long.

The accompanying table gives the dark hours of the fall and winter months. Study it carefully. It will explain why your electric light bill is higher in winter than in summer.

A 60-candle power lamp costs only three-fifths of a cent an hour to burn. If you burn one 60-candle power lamp from dusk till 10 o'clock every night throughout the year it will burn 38 hours in June and 204 in December.

At three-fifths of a cent an hour per lamp you would use 22 4/5 cents worth of electricity in June and $1.23 in December.

You are getting the same amount of light in each case but in the winter you have used ELECTRIC light more hours. If you keep a store and close every night at 6 o'clock in the summer you will need no light whatever; but in December there are 80 dark hours from dusk till 6 o'clock, and it will cost you 48 cents per lamp for the 80 hours.

Whenever you think your electric light bills are too high we want you to tell us about it but kindly take these facts into consideration in contrasting your winter and summer bills.

SOME RAILWAY ESSENTIALS

It takes more than trains and tracks to make a modern railway plant. These are fundamental, but there are other essential elements.

Millions of dollars are invested, for example, in station buildings for the accommodation of passengers and the reception and delivery of freight, in shops and machinery for repairing cars and locomotives and in enginehouses where locomotives are sheltered and made ready for service. The buildings in use on the Illinois Central System alone, if brought together, would cover the space of a fairly large city.

Signals, too, are important factors in railway operation. They vary in kind and cost from relatively inexpensive hand-operated markers, which show the position of switches, to elaborate and expensive automatic electric systems, which control the movement of trains.

Facilities for replenishing the fuel and water supplies of locomotives are established at short intervals along the line. Elevated bins filled by mechanically operated buckets or belts serve as coaling stations. Water tanks are provided up to a maximum capacity of 200,000 gallons. In many localities treating plants must be maintained to prepare the water supply for boiler use. The Illinois Central System operates 107 fuel and 378 water supply stations.

The costs of providing such essential facilities, of keeping them in repair and of enlarging or replacing them from time to time are among the principal items of expenditure by the railroads. The Illinois Central System, for example, has spent in the last five years for the installation, upkeep and improvement of its tracks and adjacent facilities, not including cars and locomotives, more than a quarter of a billion dollars.

The railroads must continue to make large expenditures for the upkeep and modernization of their properties to keep in advance of the ever-growing transportation requirements of the country. Consequently, the earning power of the railroads must always be such that the money needed will be steadily forthcoming from revenues and from investors. The benefits to the public of good transportation depend largely upon railway credit.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

President, Illinois Central System,

BIG POINTS IN JUDGING CATTLE

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Dairy cattle judging as practiced today is based on the supposition that a correlation exists between producing ability of the dairy cow and her conformation, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The principles of judging commonly used in selecting animals of the approved conformation are outlined in Miscellaneous Circular No. 99-M, just issued by the department. The publication is well illustrated with photographs illustrating various points in dairy cattle judging.

The aim of the circular is to show the dairyman or the prospective dairyman, who has first made his selection and choice from the records of production, by what points of conformation he should be guided in selecting animals for his herd so that they may approach as nearly as possible the type selected by the breed association and followed generally by judges in the show ring. The publication will also serve as a guide for students in dairy husbandry who may wish to compete in judging contests.

Since the most important objective in dairy cattle judging is to enable one to select more efficiently cows that will be economical producers of milk, it is well first to fix clearly in mind the points that are thought to be most closely associated with milk production and that are therefore the major points, and to leave those of less significance in the background. From the present knowledge of the relation of function to form, these points are dairy temperament, body capacity and mammary system. Of less importance from the production standpoint are general appearance and type, also size and condition. In addition there are what might be called the fancy points, closely associated with type, such as a pretty head, level rump, small horns, straight back, and well-balanced udder. These fancy points are only slightly, if at all, correlated with producing ability. They do, however, add to the beauty of the animal and thus enhance its selling value.

These points and the emphasis to be placed on them in judging animals are discussed in the circular in considerable detail. A copy may be obtained, as long as the supply lasts, by writing to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Satisfactory System of Calf Feeding Developed

The Ottawa (Canada) experimental farm has developed a fairly satisfactory system of calf feeding. For the first feeding they see to it that the calf gets the colostrum milk from its dam. If this is not available then another fresh cow is used. For the first two weeks the calf gets a daily ration of from eight to twelve pounds of whole milk. This is given three times a day so as not to overload the stomach of the calf.

The amount of milk is slightly increased during the third and fourth weeks. Following that time the calf is gradually shifted to skim milk and is fed a grain mixture plus a calf meal. Only a limited amount of this meal is given at first and the amount gradually increased as the calf increases in size.

The calf meal which they use as a substitute for the fat in the milk is made of two parts of finely ground oats, two parts of corn meal, one part of ground flaxseed, one-half of one per cent salt and 1 per cent bone meal. Two parts of oil of meal may be substituted in place of the flaxseed, but it is not so good. This mixture is fed by putting the amount needed for a day's feeding in a pail, pouring scalding water over it and then feeding the mixture the following evening and morning.

Low-Yielding Cows Will Reduce Dairying Profits

It is low-yielding cows that "play hob" with farm dairying. They eat just about as much as cows that yield a profit, and each one costs just as much in labor, feed and equipment as does a good cow, the one that makes money for her owner. The worst thing about these low yielders is the fact they put milk on the market in competition with the money-making cows, and do this during times of surplus. Thus they increase the supply of milk out of proportion to the demand, which lowers the price of all milk throughout the year, whether used on the fluid market or for butter, cheese or other dairy products. The menace to dairying is not more good cows, but too many cows of low production.

Sire for Dairy Herd

Most dairymen prefer to purchase a young bull. By so doing they save express charges, they run less chance of introducing disease into their herds, and they get a bull that is easily handled. It is a safer practice, however, to buy a proven bull. The get of a bull furnish the best proof of the kind of individuals he will sire. An inexperienced breeder should have some one familiar with pedigrees to advise him about the breeding of a bull before purchasing.

When Will We Over-Do the Dairy Industry?

Human mind and human tendencies usually follow closely behind the Cycle of American Trade and Commerce, which is to say that with the most of us when everything is good we think it will always remain good, and when everything is bad we think it will always be bad. When the trade cycle reaches the peak of history you will find the most of us right there, and when it sinks into oblivion you will see the most of us right there. This has caused the great disaster which inevitably follows the over-production of any American commodity, but we must bear in mind that there are a few things which carry a substantial demand that will insure the basis of production almost indefinitely.

Predictions from all ranks of life from the common laborer up to the world's Statisticians have been coming in from everywhere with regard to the over-production of the Automobile industry. We thought 5 years ago that automobiles would finally come down somewhere near the cost of production like our many other vehicles and most manufacturers would be forced out of business. WHAT ABOUT IT TODAY? Automobiles have the right of way and will continue so until something better and more economical comes in to take their place in the big world. If it is true with the automobile it is true with the dairy cow. She is here to stay just so long as there is nothing to take her place.

The world's greatest wizards have never found anything to take the place of the human cotton picker. The same wizards have failed to produce a substitute for cow's milk and her manufactured product. When human elements fail the dairy cow is the only thing to furnish feed for our hungry babies. When disease preys upon the human structure and robs it of vitality and digestive ability then we prolong life with a glass of cow's milk. Cow's milk is usually the first and last thing in the human life. Why is not the dairy cow the foster mother of the world? A balanced ration is necessary to make strong and healthy children and therefore develop in each individual a strong and vigorous constitution and a keen intellect to combat the problems of life. A balanced ration can not be had without the dairy product. All forms of bread have substitute, all forms of meat bearing animals have their competitors, but the dairy product stands at the head of the corner in every great feast, and without fear of competition.

5 Great Reasons Why Dairying Will Remain Profitable.

(First) The dairy product can not be substituted;

(Second) Every state, county health organization with all Doctors and Hospitals co-operating are continually educating the people to the importance of milk and its vital effect upon the human body. This has caused the consumption of milk to increase 16.2 per cent per person during the last 5 years.

(Third) The American population is increasing over a million people each year. The rural sections are depopulating at the rate of half million people each year. Decrease in farm population means decreasing the dairy product and increasing the demand of the same.

(Fourth) The culling* of the dairy cow for T. B. and low production is taking the dairy cow out of the world faster than she is coming in. We have 8.6 per cent less dairy cows in 1927 than in 1925.

(Fifth) When considering most all other forms of agricultural commodities we can double their volume from 12 to 18 months, but with the dairy industry it takes an average of 2 years and eleven months to produce the dairy cow. Dairying must necessarily come through a process of slow and gradual growth and from all available information obtainable the over production of the dairy industry is indeed problematical if at all.

The Fulton Chamber of Commerce has made Investigation.

The Fulton Chamber of Commerce, of Fulton, Ky., has made a comprehensive survey of the dairy industry by consulting with several State Universities as well as several Agricultural Extension Departments and the Agricultural Extension Department of the National Government and feels assured of the continued prosperity of the dairy industry, and therefore encourages extensive expansion of the dairy industry in Fulton community.

Cooperation Stressed

Mr. Hudson is perhaps one of the most forceful and entertaining speakers ever heard at an Association of Commerce dinner here. A man of keen wit, he has his audience laughing one moment at some keen jest, and almost before the laugh has died, he crashes through with some remarkably telling observation. The man is, as would be supposed, an ardent believer in civic organizations as a necessary adjunct to civic progress but he does not hold to the belief that a civic organization can function without the aid and cooperation of the membership.

"Cooperation builds cities—team work organized our army and navy—team work won the war, and team work—honest to God shirt-sleeves team work and cooperation will make this organization the kind of an organization you want it to be."

"I like to compare an organization with an automobile, either a high powered speed wagon or a rattling flivver, according to the amount of interest members take in it. The more important parts such as the motor, engine, batteries and ignition are represented by your officers. Your members are the wheels, body, wires, tires, crank, nuts and so forth. Occasionally a nut drops off, and you lose a member. The secretary is the mechanic and general flunky. He keeps the wind shield clear, the grease cups filled and keeps the horn in tooting order. The members supply the gasoline and lubrication. The president sits at the wheel and steers the old bus and tries to keep it in the middle of the road. Occasionally you have a blowout, and the members all come if it is free. When the mechanism is in perfect order, the gas tank filled, the spark plugs clean, and the engine hitting on all six, it is a pleasure to hear the motor hum. There is no speed limit, a clear track ahead and no detours. I hope your organization is that kind of a machine. Be a cog in the wheel of progress and support your organization."

Vital Part of Civic Life

"Modern Chambers of Commerce are necessary. The Chamber of Commerce as an institution needs no defense, its place in the industrial and commercial life of the community and nation has been firmly established, and it is today acknowledged to be the one institution best equipped to handle the problems involved in the building of a modern city."

"It has vindicated its right to existence wherever it has had a fair chance and the necessary moral and financial support with which to carry on."

"It is the only organization that can handle the civic problems of the community without friction, because it is a neutral body, non-political, non-denominational, numbering among its members representatives of all the varied interests of the community."

"It is to the community what a train dispatcher is to a railroad; it co-ordinates all the different activities into one smooth running system. No city that makes any pretense of keeping abreast with the twentieth century ideas and ideals of city building will attempt to function without a modern Chamber of Commerce."

The Community Mirror

"The Chamber of Commerce is the community mirror. It is a true reflector of the industrial, commercial, physical, mental and spiritual makeup of the city. It registers the actual condition of all the elements and activities that enter into the building of a city as accurately as a photographic negative."

"It is the one great organization in the community which has no axe to grind, because it is entirely unselfish, serving all with the same measure of helpfulness."

"The dues a man pays to the Chamber of Commerce is not an expense but an investment—it is the rent you pay for the space you occupy."

"Remember this, competition no longer exists between firms or individuals, but between cities and communities. Be loyal to home merchants. Hard roads run out of towns as well as into them. Be upon your toes. Its your ability to use what you've got to get what you want that counts."

"Boost your business—boost your town and boost your competitor. Cities do not happen. Cooperation builds them. Never speak slightly of your home town."

Urges Optimism

"A man is like a track, useful if pointed in the right direction but he cannot go further than his head will let him. Be cheerful, be pleasant, be optimistic and you'll be happy."

"Hook up with the other fellow and help to make your city the kind of city you want it to be. Every city or town is just like its inhabitants—no better, no worse. Show me the city where the business men pull together and I'll show you a live one. On the other hand show me the city where the inhabitants have their hammers out and it's a good town to go through. You can't saw wood with a hammer. It takes push to run a wheelbarrow. Cities do not just happen—cooperation builds them. Like your town and like your work. If you don't like your job, quit."
