May Try For Senate Seat In '42 Field

Road Commissioner Says Best Interests Served By

Frankfort.—Mr. Alex Donabedian, candidate for the seat of State Commissioner of Roads, which is made avail- able by the resignation of Mr. Wm. W. Hall, today announced that he will run for the office, as the only one so far to have done so.

Whether or not the present administration decides to run Mr. Hall's best interest will be judged by the voters.

The two men, according to what Mr. Donabedian has heard, have arrived at a compromise, and will run on the Republican ticket as a unit.

MOTHER'S DOWS H开战

The Leader will gladly correct any errors in its text.

The object is broad—to promote the frequent exchange of ideas, to aid industrial development of each in 1938.

If the American countries can to-dow, it is perfectly obvious that the United States is ready to redistribute its gold and silver among currencies, to aid industrial development between the Americas. This undertaking is completely different from the great Latin Export Bank. This not an undertaking of the United States, but a joint undertaking of the five countries, and perhaps later of others who may join. It will be more the Bank for International Settlements.

It will be controlled by a board consisting of one member from each participating country. Capital will be subscribed by each in proportion to the dollar value of the foreign trade of each in 1938.

The object is broad—to promote trade between the Americas, to foster good will, to help stabilize currencies, to aid industrial development and replace foreign trade. If it be argued that the United States faces a choice of once more holding the bag as the "rich uncle," it will be remembered that the economic affairs in this country is thrust into the hands of "rich nations," whatever they like it or not.

There is only a question of whether they are willing to strike out boldly and exercise that leadership, or sit idly by while others make or break them, to fall into the hands of those who will grab it by pressure and violence for political ends.—Park City News.

It COSTS TEN DOLLARS IN LITTLE BIRDY

It is reported that Rhode Island has passed a law which calls for a fine of ten dollars upon anyone found driving on worn tires. This is a good, Judah it will work remains to be seen. It does seem quite possible that we should have to have laws to make people care what they do, just as the law on local entregue to tell them to do, for the fellow who drives on worn tires is not only making his own neck, but the neck of everyone he meets on the road. Maybe now—if Rhode Island anyway—drives will find it cheaper to buy new tires than to pay a ten dollars fine for "taking a chance" on the old ones.

LESS FRICTION?

As we look around the country we seem to see signs that there will be fewer strikes and acute labor troubles this year than last. We do not mean to be overly optimistic on this matter because there is still talk of labor troubles, but this note is just to impress us that both labor and management are beginning to see the necessity of settling their differences without resort to strike, and it is perfectly obvious that a strike is not the end of the world as those who are the so-called juridical strike and the so-called sympathetic strike. Labor and industry seem to be getting a clearer view of each others problems and of their common interests.

Well Folks, It's Old Man Pickle Still Whittling On Those Prices!
I have reached an age in my day of life when the evening streets throw a haunting shadow behind me. As the softening light In her life which, more and more, increasingly the prominent and prominent he is the one who said, and smiled not its first moments, and upon that path—my mother.

There were dominant emotions which she seemed to express was unimportant compared to the emotions that were the most important to me. It was evident to me that the emotions were secondary to the emotions that were important to her. It seemed as though the emotions were simply a way to express her emotions, to give them a voice. It was her way of expressing the emotions that she felt were the most important to her.
