ONLY ONE MORE SESSION.

There will be only one more session of our fiscal court when the present 16 justices will sit. We have always favored a court with a fewer number of men on the bench, but now since the time is drawing to a close for the usual 16 to give way to only five, we are beginning to regret to see the time come when the places that now know them will soon know them no more. The business under the new order of things may be transacted just as well in every particular, but it will never be done by better men than the ones that now honor that place. We have been present at nearly all, if not every session of the court, for over 20 years, and we must be allowed to say and express our belief that the court that just adjourned here last week was the best all-round fiscal court we have ever witnessed. Every man on the bench we believe to be an honest man free from any kind of extravagance or jobbery. They are gentlemen of economy, yet not niggardly in their appropriations. They in their dealings with the poor and unfortunate were generous and human. In mentioning the good traits about the justices we must not overlook the honesty and fairness manifested by the presiding officer, his honor Judge Dupriest. His rulings and decisions were fair and free from partiality and were always on the side of justice, fairness, economy and humanity. County Attorney Heath was at his post all the time and was at a moment's notice ready to give any legal advice which he did in many important matters of interest to the people in a way that showed he was perfectly familiar with the law. The court was in session four days during which time a vast amount of important business was transacted in a way that will be satisfactory to the citizens and tax-payers of the county. There was much business to perform under new laws all of which was done in a friendly business like way.

Brother Curd, write another "How is this for high."

The infidel, the catholic, the heretic, the thief, the robber, the midnight assassin, small-pox, cholera, spotted fever, killing frosts, failure in crops and hell itself all combined are not disturbing and troubling the people of the United States and doing as much damage as the continual talk of the office seeking politician. If there were not another speech made to the people of this county in two years by any politician be he democrat, republican or populist our people by the end of that time would be the most prosperous, contented and happiest in the state.

They still sell whisky in Saint Louis on Sunday.

If 2,000 voters in Marshall county will pledge themselves to attend strictly to their own business and not listen to any public political speaker for a term of two years, and practice industry, economy and sociability, our word for it the country will be out of debt, old notes will be paid off, mortgages will be released and they will be a contented and happy people with money plenty in their pockets. We are confident such a move on the part of our people would destroy the cry of "hard times."

The tariff bill is in danger of defeat in the senate. Democratic traitors the cause.

The howl of the politician wanting office is the true cause of so much discontent among the happy people at home. If it were not for the siren song of the office hunter and the inflammatory articles of the paper seeking subscribers the average citizen would never stop to complain of "hard times." There is enough imaginary troubles, trials and distress brought on our people by the demagogues seeking office to damn the last one of them.

The democrats of Minnesota have denounced the democratic senators in congress in language too plain to be misunderstood.

Trouble in store for Mr. Coxey.

BEN KEYS FOR CONGRESS.

Hon. Ben Keys was nominated for congress last week by the populist convention, which met at Paducah last week. This convention built a platform with eight planks in it and upon this Mr. Keys at once took his seat and will fight during the rest of the summer or until he goes down in defeat as usual. There is nothing very bad in the platform. Plank No. 1 is all right except the "unlimited coinage." That will never suit the people who love sound money in this country. We endorse plank No. 2 but don't believe such a state of affairs exists at present. Plank No. 3 is all stuff and is impracticable and will never be carried into law. Plank No. 4 has nothing good or bad in it, or anything else, more than the same old song for "payment of debts both public and private." Plank No. 5 we heartily endorse and so does our party. Plank No. 6 announces the party's opposition to Cleveland's administration and the issue of interest bearing bonds, and wishes enough money made by the government to pay the debts of the people. Plank No. 7 is all right and our party endorses it. Plank No. 8 is all right and we with that party believe in the election of a United States Senator by the people. This party changes its platform as often as a Chameleon does its colors, all for the purpose of trying to catch the popular breeze, but so far it has failed.

There can be no doubt but that Cleveland is the greatest American patriot since Washington. He is as free from bargain and intrigue as any man that ever filled the presidential chair. Lincoln was a great and true man, but we people could never see it that way until he was dead and we knew more of him. So it will be with Cleveland when he is gone and the country knows more of him it will be universally conceded that he was an honest man.

Don't forget that Calloway county will give her vote to the right man in the congressional primary.

Col. J. C. Noble has been cursed and abused for over twenty years by the same men who are now praising him to the skies. With whom did the change come, Col. Noble or the people, or have they both changed? In this respect we think both of them are about like the boy who said he had "loved so many gals that now he did not know which one he did love best." Col. Noble and his present followers have thrown their political arms about so many parties that now they can't tell which one they "love the best."

No more creamery business at Murray; the evidence in the United States court and the cyclone together knocked the wind out of that peculiar industry in that fair city.

The names of the democratic Judas' in the senate are as follows: Hill, Gorman, Smith and Murphy.

When ever you are complaining of hard times look at your income and see if you are not doing as well or better now than you have for ten years. Also examine your expense book and see if you are not more extravagant now than you have been for the past ten or fifteen years. This is the proper way to ascertain how badly you are suffering from these "hard times" of which you are so prone to complain.

What has Mr. Keys done to his party that it will persist in placing him in a position to go down in defeat at every congressional election? He failed to carry his own voting precinct before, and of course will do so again.

The veto of the re-ignition bill by Mr. Cleveland was sustained by the house 144 to 115, a lack of 74 votes to carry it over the veto of the president.

Road Supervisors.

There has been more or less talk, speculation and electioneering among quite a number of our people in regard to the road supervisors ever since the new law was made. This is the first time the fiscal court has been in session since the new law went into effect and it was at this term that a supervisor or supervisors were to be made and their duties given them. The court early in the session decided to elect one for each new justice's district and Thursday at 1 o'clock p. m. was the time fixed to elect them. At the appointed hour the work was begun. Five names were presented to the court as candidates from District No. 1. The result of the vote was announced and Mr. A. H. Travis was elected. Twelve names were put in nomination in District No. 2 and the vote resulted in the election of W. H. Johnson. There were four candidates in District No. 3 and H. F. Gough was elected. In District No. 4 eight men were nominated, but W. W. Ray was the lucky man. After a struggle among seven men in District No. 5 John A. Stringer came under the line with victory perched on his brow. The final result showed that five good men were elected and their names are as follows: A. H. Travis, district No. 1; W. H. Johnson, district No. 2; H. F. Gough, district No. 3; W. W. Ray, district No. 4; J. A. Stringer, district No. 5.

Assessment Not Changed.

County Judge Dupriest showed us the information he received from the clerk of the State Board of Equalization, which was to the effect that the assessed values fixed by the people of this county would remain as given to the assessor by them. So there will be no changes made in the assessed values of lands, personality or town lots, which is very satisfactory news for the people to hear.
