After some discussion of the situation and ways and means of carrying out the object of the organization, the president and secretary were authorized to confer with the Ohio Valley Railroad Company in regard to the consolidation of the several charters, building through from Henderson to Clarksville, and adopt whatever direction may seem best. ...

The incorporators are greatly encouraged with the prospects, and are very confident of an agreement by which all the money necessary to build this line will be easily raised. ...

Premiums to Subscribers.

It is an established custom for newspapers in larger cities to offer many of inducements to subscribers, many of which simply humbug the people. ...

On the other hand there are legitimate methods of swelling a subscription list, one of which we have concluded to adopt. ...

While our paper, in this the most prosperous year it has ever known, and now enjoying the largest circulation ever before attained by a local paper in Southern Kentucky—already finds its way, in either the WEEKLY or TRI-WEEKLY form, into almost every household in Christian and into many in adjoining counties and throughout the State, there is still room on the list for more. ...

And the more we get the more we want, the better paper we can publish and the more valuable to advertisers our space becomes. ...

We are determined to not "keep up with" but to keep a little ahead of "the procession" and "push" the KENTUCKY NEW ERA until it shall become a familiar and welcome "Family Newspaper" throughout the length and breadth of Kentucky. ...

With the aforesaid end in view, we have determined to send one of our subscribers one THOUSAND DOLLARS ($1,000) in standard, valuable articles which will be useful and desirable in any household. ...

Every new subscriber to either the WEEKLY or TRI-WEEKLY for one year, who pays cash in advance, and every subscriber now on the list who will pay all arrears and for one year in advance will get a ticket in our grand Gift-Distribution, which will be publicly conducted in this city on April 15-17. ...

The list of premiums will be published, as it is made up. There will be no postponement of the drawing or scaling of the prizes, and every ticket holder will have exactly the same chance to win. ...

Remember the terms: for $1.50 or $2.50 you can get the WEEKLY or TRI-WEEKLY KENTUCKY NEW ERA—a large well-printed, new, clean family paper—for one year, and you may get a premium worth a hundred dollars or more. ...

This is an opportunity of a life time and everybody—poor men especially—should embrace it. Call at the office or send money in any of the following ways. ...

The New Era Co., Hopkinsville, Ky. ...

N. B. Follow strictly the above address and avoid confusion and delay. Receipts and tickets will be sent by return mail. ...

The New Railroad.

Clarksville Tobacco Leaf Oct. 13. C. H. Ryan, of Russellville, Mr. Michael, of Louisville and Mr. Riley, whose place of residence we didn't learn were in the city Saturday and put in bids for the building of the new line of the I. A. & T. railroad from a point near the residence of Sam Stacker, on the main line of the L. & N., to Elliott's farm, on the old I. A. & T. line. ...

The gentlemen mentioned and Mr. Cobb all went to Louisville yesterday, and it was decided there to whom the contract would be awarded. ...

Work will be begun at once and pushed to speedy completion. The point of intersection with the old line of the I. A. & T. is about a mile and a half beyond Glenellen Station. ...

Surveys will begin immediately for changing the track beyond the place of intersection to a standard gauge, but the change will not be actually made until the completion of the new line. ...

Dr. J. M. Logan's tobacco barn in Fayette County was destroyed by fire the other day, together with the contents consisting of ten thousand pounds of tobacco and other property. ...

The barn was a fine one, and the loss was a heavy one. ...

The loss was estimated at about $10,000. ...

DEFENSE OF CO. D.

Capt. Feland Makes a Spirited Retort To The Charges Of The Owensboro Company.

Ed. NEW ERA. Will you be so kind as to allow me space in your columns, sufficient to answer some very serious charges which the Owensboro Messenger, copied in this morning's issue of the South-Kentuckian, has made against me and my company. ...

I must say that there was never as little as the Messenger says in connection with the Owensboro boys. ...

I am inclined to believe the statement that the Messenger says is untrue, with us for the reason that the rest of the article plainly shows it. ...

We never had the slightest ill-will against Capt. Bishop or any of his men, and as every body knows "it is but nature, that we, as veterans should look upon them as vanquished with that comradely feeling which every gallant soldier, and I am assured that every man in my command looked upon their competitors after the drill was over with a mixed feeling of admiration and pity, rather than with a knowledge of their own superiority. ...

For the expression of kind feeling and high regard for the company it was made by the officers highest in power, we are more than thankful and trust that these outpourings of sympathy will have the effect of making the Owensboro company more friendly and gentlemanly to us. ...

For their thinking that they were entitled to first money I cannot blame them, but I am sure that they would not have been so quick to get angry if they had thought it best in order to make their understanding that they had at least a little to do, and that they had better not get angry with the Owensboro company. ...

We did not quarrel about this, but we got the money, and I am sure that we got it in a fair and equitable manner. ...

In regard to the Judges, I must say, that I never heard of but three Judges and do not believe that any body else was called in to decide the matter. ...

"If I was to live my life over again," said an American default as he cocked his head in the office of a Montreal hotel, "I'd be a lawyer instead of a cashier." ...

For why?" was asked. "Well, I embezzled $7,000, and am an outlaw and an outcast. My brother-in-law, a lawyer, managed an estate so that it put him $15,000 ahead, and they have just elected him mayor of the town and got him to join the church. I advise young men to think of these things."—Wall Street News. ...
