WED. EVENING, APRIL 25.

Judge Willis Reeves, of Bowling Green, Ky., has been nominated for Judge of the court of appeals of that district.

Ex-Gov. Jarvis has been appointed to succeed Senator Vance deceased, of North Carolina, in the United States senate. Jarvis will take his seat at once.

Miss Sue Garrett, the good editor of the Smithland News, could confer a favor on her readers to tell them the name of the writer who writes the "Open Letter" under the non de plume "Correspondent."

The Louisville Times very aptly remarks that Mrs. Lease has dropped "Yellin" from her name, but not from her habit. This is keeping the word of promise to the hope, but breaking it to the ear.

The Galveston News defines a fool as a man who goes up to a blockhead and implores him to be sensible. Coxey admonishing the senate will furnish an apt illustration of the correctness of the definition.

It is said that 140,000 mines of Pennsylvania and other states are out on a strike. Also that other miners and laboring men of the different states of the union will join them to increase the number to 1,500,000.

It seems that the men who have deserted Stone in this county are few and far between. This thing of sensible men leaving such an officer as Capt. Stone, without cause, is not so common as some would have you believe.

In an open letter Col. Breckinridge appeals to the people of God's country for a re-election to congress. As he recently deposed that he has lived in hell for the past ten years, it would seem that his appeal is addressed to the wrong constituency.

Treasurer Morgan must certainly think Gen. Coxey's band a bad set, from the fact that he has issued an order that the treasury vaults were not to be unlocked while Coxey's crowd were in Washington. We think Treasurer Morgan has a good head on him. Such hoaxes and cranks can't be trusted very far.

The man who has corn to buy wants the prices to be low, but the man who has wheat to sell wants the prices high. So it is only a game of one class trying to oppress the other. Is this patriotism? We think not. There is only one party in this country that wants the masses kept free from the oppression of the classes, and that is the democratic party.

This party is free from class legislation, therefore it is free from oppressing the masses.

RAILROAD TAXES.

At the last session of the county court of claims that court instructed and employed county attorney H. M. Heath and J. M. Fisher to demand the taxes of the P. T. & A. railroad for the years 1891-2-3, and if the company don't pay the taxes a suit will at once be instituted against the road for the amount of taxes now due. The road lying in this county was assessed in 1891 at $100,200; the tax rate for that year, for county purposes, was 27 1/2 cents on the $100 worth of property, which makes the amount of taxes due for that year $27,555. The assessed value of the road for the year 1892 was $199,800, at a county rate for that year of 30 cents, which makes the taxes due the county for that year amount to $59,940. In 1893 the assessment of the road was the same as the year before, but the county tax rate for that year was 57 1/2 cents on the $100 worth of property, which makes the amount of taxes due the county much higher. It amounts to $1,148.85, which added to the amounts of the two previous years makes the nice little sum of $2,023.80 now due the county.

The attorneys in the case will proceed at once to collect these amounts and pay the money over to the county. There have been some doubts about the collection of these taxes until recently, and if these are collected, which there is now no doubt, they will come in a good time. The county will soon be out of debt any way, but if the railroad taxes are collected there will be money in the treasury. This will be good news to the tax payers of the county.

Coy Notes.

COY, KY., April 17.—There is a general complaint of tobacco plants being very scarce on account of the recent freeze.

The prospect for a fine wheat and hay crop is very good in this neighborhood.

Mr. J. Satterfield, of Paducah, visited his sister Mrs. C. P. Lyles, last week, who is very ill with catarrhal fever.

Mrs. Tom Ford passed from the stage of life last Saturday morning after a lingering illness of consumption. She leaves to mourn her death a husband and four children besides a host of friends and relatives. A large crowd attended the funeral, which was conducted by Eld. J. R. Hill of the Christian church. Her remains were interred at the Bethlehem cemetery Sunday evening.

Willis English happened to a painful though not serious accident last week. While hauling an ax caught in the wheel causing it to strike young English, the blade entering his thigh.

Uncle Tom Grubbs and daughter Mrs. Alice Holman, have moved to Briensburg at which place they will make their future home.

Miss May Flowers, a charming young lady of this vicinity leaves next week for Christian county.

The Sunday school at Palma will on the third Sunday in June have a celebration, it being a live Sunday school for the past nine years.

Mr. H. F. Gough, our prominent

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

With a strong desire to both please and interest the readers of the Tribune, we hereby give a brief account of our trip to the southern coast of the state of Mississippi, where we saw many things of interest which we take pleasure in giving to our readers.

If you will examine a map of the state of Mississippi you will find that on the extreme south end of the state there are three counties that touch the coast on the Mississippi Sound, Jackson, Harrison and Hancock. Jackson borders on Alabama and Hancock on the state of Louisiana while Harrison lies just in between these two counties. Mississippi City is the county seat, about the middle of the county, but at the end next to the beach. It is a very poor town and contains about 500 people.
It has one of the largest hotels on the coast between Mobile and New Orleans, where southern tourists spend the summer. In the southeast corner of this county you will see where Biloxi is situated, a distance of ten miles from the county seat. At this place is where we spent most of our time. It is a beautiful little city of 5,000 people whose chief occupation is catching fish, oysters, shrimps and clams and keeping hotel. It is situated on the shore and also on the L. & N. almost midway between Mobile and New Orleans. The oyster industry has caused the town to grow very rapidly in the past four or five years, and by the way it is said to be second in age to St.
Augustine, and much older than New Orleans. All of its people are good, quiet and well disposed people, with but little to do, except eat, sleep, fish and drink.
But of late several cannery houses have been erected and are now running in full blast. The water here comes out of an artesian well 600 feet deep. It is lighted by electricity and its streets are made of oyster shells and are as level as a floor. There are several large season hotels here that are very fine and are delightful places to stop. They all front the beach where the refreshing and invigorating breezes off the salt water are felt and enjoyed. These hotels are full of people during the winter months from the north and during the summer months from the south. The northern visitors are all just now leaving and the visitors from the south coming in to spend a few months from labor.
Several distinguished visitors have been here during the past few weeks, among whom was Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, who is here now. He is said to be here for his health, which his close friends claim was broken down by the adverse criticism he received from the press of the country for pardoning those Chicago anarchists. Most every great man does something that eventually works his political condemnation, and the pardoning of these murderers is what did it for the governor of Illinois. He seems to be heartbroken, with his ambition gone, and this uncalculated act on his part is no doubt the cause of his sudden break down in health and energy. He has his physician with him who gives constant attention to him. He will return in a few days to the scenes of his labors. There are a number of people here from Illinois and without exception all condemn the governor for the one stroke of his pen that liberated the infamous anarchists and set them free in the city of Chicago.

TO BEAUVOIR.

Now again if you will let your eye run down the map from this place, Biloxi, along the coast, only five miles, there you will see the word "Beauvoir," which is the name of the Davis place. This place we have always had a strong desire to visit, but the opportunity never came until last Friday, April 20th, 1894. Five of us chartered a sail boat to take us from Biloxi to Mississippi City with the understanding that we must stop at the "Davis place," as it is called here, on our return.

Going out on the "briny deep" in a small sail boat was an entirely new experiment to us, but we went all the same and before we were three miles out the breezes came up from the west and the little craft was rocked like a doll by the rolling billows as they passed, but the nifty captain only smiled at my apparent unhappiness while the water whipped the vessel and made our clothes wet, but he kept the sails properly adjusted and the little "Clara" landed us safely at Mississippi City, and brought us back and put us off at a projected war near the home of the late president of the Southern Confederacy.

But on our approach to the mansion we were indeed surprised to find only an old German and his wife the sole occupants of the entire premises. The house is one of the old style southern mansions built long before the war by a rich southern planter by the name of Brown. The house sets back from the beach about one hundred yards. It is built high off the ground. It has four large rooms with a broad piazza 20 feet wide all around it, and a wide hall-way running clear through the full length of the house; the ceiling is 18 feet high both in and out of the house, with the bed room of Mr. Davis extended out one way and the cook and dining rooms paralleled from the other corner.
Everything belonging to these rooms have been wrapped up in carpets, the furniture, the pictures bric-brac, fine chairs, settees and now laying about in the various rooms with the dust settled upon them just as they were left by the family when they went a way to their Briarfield plantation near Vicksburg when Mr. Davis was taken ill. It will be remembered that he died in New Orleans, but was buried in Richmond Va. He left a wife and two daughters, one married a banker in the west and Mrs. Davis and Winnie are now boarding in high style at a fashionable hotel in New York, partly from the rent derived from her farm near Vicksburg, and partly from the charity received constantly from the admiring friends of her lamented husband. She has never returned to the old home since the death of Mr.
Davis.

There are several fine small houses in the yard, that in other days were used for his servants and also Mr. Davis' library and studio, that stands in the yard. It was in this house that he wrote his life, and the same desk and chair is there and the ink is still on the floor, where he would throw it with his pen while writing.
He left a very fine library which is still at Beauvoir.

The coast storm that came last October blew down many trees in his yard and washed away a beautiful 60 feet front on the beach and all of these trees are still here and the yard looks like an old field with trees down here and there.
It is in bad condition, and has the appearance of an old out house where night hawks, owls and bats are the only company for the lonely visitor.

This 1,100 acres of land was donated to Mr. Davis by a lady friend of his since the close of the war, and it has been willed by Mr.
Davis to his daughter, Miss Winnie and it is said here that she will visit the re-unions of the Southern Veterans at Birmingham, Ala., next week, and will deed it as a present to that association. On this large body of land there are not more than six or seven acres cleared, and the most of it is planted in a vineyard, which is now gone to ruin and is only an old waste. The neighbors living by say that Mr. Davis was a smart, kind hearted man and that he would accommodate himself to any and all people with whom he came in contact. The people here complain at Mrs. Davis for leaving the dear old home in the south where her deceased husband was so dearly beloved by his southern admirers, and taking up her residence in a hotel in New York, to live off the charity of the friends of Mr. Davis. Miss Winnie has been engaged three times but each engagement has from some cause been broken off and now at the age of 30 years, she is still single.

The history of the eventful life of this distinguished southern statesman is too familiar to the readers of the Tribune to need any comment at this time by us. But he was a great man, and whether he served his country well, during the fiery trials of the war and reconstruction, it only remains for coming posterity to write the true verdict.

Rather Breezy.

MR PACE "TUMBLES"

Along with these pleasant spring days the wave of the mother hubbard is abroad in the land.

Mr. Bud Thomas is very low with consumption.

This place is practically without mail facilities and the people are going to have a change are know the reason why. When it takes a letter from three to five days to get from here to Benton, a distance of only four miles, and vice-versa, there is surely something wrong somewhere.

The speech of Hon. W. J. Stone on the Bland bill has the true ring about it. Even our populist friends have applauded it.

Mr. Taylor Pace, of Scale, who is counted a very nervous man had a funny experience a few days ago.
Armed with a rope, razor and an accident policy he sallied forth to catch and mark a yearling calf.
He succeeded in roping the somewhat unruly beast, took a hitch or two with the rope around his waist opened his razor and settled down to business. But no sooner did that bovine feel the cold steel enter his hide than he bolted, dragging Taylor after him, round and round, and the further he went the faster he got. A couple of dogs joined in the chase and things got pretty lively. Taylor hallooed "fire, murder," all the time making desperate efforts to free himself, and striking at the rope with the razor; finally by a well directed stroke he severed the rope and landed over in a mud hole. He got up arranged his toilet as best he could and said "that calf could go to the devil, so far as he was concerned; that he had changed ends so often in the last few minutes that he had forgot what his policies were, but he would vote for Judge Dupriest or burst a suspender." For further particulars ask H. B. Carper.

Tobacco plants are a scarce article.

When men quit talking about how mean their neighbor is 'tis then you can make ready for the millennium.

A wedding will take place here soon; the contracting parties are a dashing young widower and a young lady of the old maid persuasion. So says madam rumor.

Mr. Allen Thomas died at the home of his brother last Monday.
He had been very low for sometime and his death was not unexpected. He was thirty years old and unmarried. We have known him almost from infancy and can say in truth that he had many friends. Peace to his ashes.

We see that our old friend and schoolmate Max Chaudet has been promoted to superintendent of carriers at Springfield, Mo. Here's our hand Max, and may you continue to go up.

Mr. Tom Grubbs, late of Palma, is now a citizen of this town. He has purchased the Dyke property on Main street.

The man or the boy who is ashamed of his calling will never amount to much. The hand spanked country boy who knows how to manipulate a plow line over the back of a superannuated mule is vastly superior in brain and brawn to his city cousin who dubs him as a "clod-hopper," and who was born with a silver spoon in his mouth and had the seat of his pants dusted with the toe of a golden slipper. The former often becomes a statesman, while the latter rarely aspires to anything higher than a "dude" or a bank cashier.

The man who will sit around for days at a time, chew "terbacker" that cost him a dollar a pound and talk hard times, go to town and fill up on "snake juice" at a dollar a quart, and then go home to his good wife and give her a lecture on the beauties of economy. is a fraud and a hypocrite as well.

There is a tragedy in love affairs happening not a thousand miles from here if touched up by a competent pen would pale into insignificance Tennyson's "Enoch Arden." Perhaps one of these days I will assume the role of novelist and write it up for the Tribune.

THE GUESSING CONTEST:

A fine picture 2 1/4 feet given away free to the lucky guesser. A dollar's purchase entitles you to a guess at the half-gallon jar of corn, to be opened and counted July 4th. Ask farther for particulars.

Given Away Free!

A New $30
Sewing Machine
TO BE
—BY—
J. W. COLE
The Cash Grocer.

A new $30 Sewing Machine will be given to the person or persons buying $1 worth of groceries from my store and guessing the total number of grains of coffee in two one-pound packages of Arbuckle's coffee. If no person or persons guess the exact number of grains in the two packages, then the person or persons guessing nearest to the number will be entitled to the machine.

Who Can Guess?

Every person who buys $1 worth of groceries between the hours of 5 o'clock Monday morning March 5th, and 9 o'clock Monday night April 30th, will be entitled to a guess, or a guess for each dollar's worth purchased. Guess early and often. Each and every guess will be recorded in a register kept for that purpose.

The object in offering this gift to the lucky guesser is to advertise my business, so as to acquaint and to convince the people of the fact that I sell groceries cheaper than any other house in Marshall county.

The Guessing

Will be conducted in a fair and square manner; no one knows how many grains of coffee these two packages contain; no one will know until the judges, appointed for the purpose, open and count them on the 1st day of May.

Come and try us and get the best groceries for the least money in Marshall county, and a chance at this nice new $30 sewing machine.

A good letter from Oak Spring came in too late for publication last week and is rather old for this week, says a few things not to be overlooked. It says, "what is looking fine, but we fear politics will damage the crops." And, "we are better off than most neighborhoods, we have only one populist, but he is a very quiet and good neighbor." We agree with our correspondent in regard to politics damaging crops. If the farmers would look after their crops more and politics less, there would be less howling about hard times.

At Home in Heaven.

Death visited the home of J. A. and Liza Clark, near Aurora, Sunday morning April 8th at 4 o'clock and bore away on its pinions their little Lonny, age 9 years 5 months and 10 days. He was a lovely little boy, kind and obedient and gentle disposition made every one love him. He had been afflicted sometime with dropsy, which caused his death. He bore his affliction with patience; his last words were, "don't give me any more medicine to-night, papa." Then he sank in the slumber of death to wake no more.

Dear mother weep not for your little boy, for while you toil on earth Lonny is watching at the pearly gates to welcome you and papa home. Although we are sad to give him up, we must console ourselves by thinking our loss is his eternal gain. A FRIEND.

Strange Note.

The following note was sent to the Tribune a few days ago for publication, but the writer failed to sign his name. Does anyone know him or the parties concerned? It reads thusly:
"How is this; a man loves a girl better than he does his wife; he now lives in North Benton; he moved from the country a few days ago; the girl is now in Paducah; we can guess who he is."
We don't exactly understand what the writer means, but probably others do.

A Good Change.

Among the amendments to the charter for towns of the sixth class, of which Benton is one, we find that the last legislature made this excellent change in the time of holding civil courts. The police court for the trial of civil cases has heretofore been held quarterly or every three months, but under the new act approved March 19, 1894, the police judges of fifth and sixth class towns will open a court once a month for the trial of civil cases.

A Narrow Escape From Loss of a Limb

Dreadful Case of White Swelling—A Perfect Cure.

One of the most serious forms of scrofula and one of the most difficult to cure is that of white swelling. Hood's Sarsaparilla has accomplished many wonderful cures of white swelling, one of which is related below by Mr. B. E. Thomas, a manufacturer of harnesses, saddles, etc., at Evansville, W. Va. Read his letter:

"I was seized with a severe attack of white swelling. Five years later I had to have the flesh on my limb cut open and the bone scraped. After the flesh healed up I was not troubled again until January, 1892. I was taken down with the grip which settled in the previously affected limb, sore continuing where there had been scars, one in particular penetrating to the bone. The whole front of my leg from knee to ankle swelled up."

A Mass of Corruption.

I could get but little ease and comfort and less benefit from the medical treatment I received. Some of my friends advised me to have the leg amputated, but I hesitated, not wishing to lose a limb. Perchance I saw an advertisement in a paper embracing a testimonial for Hood's Sarsaparilla from one Mr. John McMurray, telling what Hood's Sarsaparilla had done for his son. I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and bought six bottles of it about three months ago. I had not taken it two months when I could see it was doing me more good than anything I had taken. I have now used about three bottles. The sores have all healed up and

Farmers; Your Attention, Please!

68 YEARS B. F. Avery & Sons' Plows

Have been in use, and last season there were some valuable improvements made on all steel plows by making the handles open at bottom to prevent the carrying of dirt. One main reason why you should buy one of Avery's plows is that it is an old established factory and will continue perhaps for 100 years yet to come; thereby you are assured when you buy one of Avery's you can get points and bars for your old plows; which ought to be considered before you buy a plow.
