Mass Meeting At City Hall Tonight

Every citizen in Fulton is urged to attend a mass meeting tonight at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock to discuss and perfect plans for locating a hospital in Fulton.

At a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce in which doctors, pastors of churches, bankers and representative citizens took part, enthusiasm ran at high tide for locating a hospital in our city. The honored guest of the occasion was a well known surgeon of Paducah, and as one of Fulton's leading doctors expressed it, "one of the most noted surgeons south of the Ohio river, a man whom he had known for more than twenty years and eminently suited to be at the head of Fulton's hospital." Practically every doctor was in attendance and made like expressions.

The biggest surprise to all is why such an eminent man in his profession, whom Paducahans fairly worship, because of his outstanding successes for the past quarter of a century would come to Fulton.

We dare say that it is a sacrifice. But seeing the dire need of such an institution here and for the love of suffering humanity, dollars and cents are not considered.

It is Fulton's outstanding opportunity, will we grasp it? Every doctor in the community can recite cases where loved ones have passed away for the want of immediate attention, and now that the biggest handicap has been overcome by locating a man of skill and ability to take charge, the thing to do is dig down in our pockets and go the limit. The physicians of the town will do their part and it is up to the citizens to meet them half way.

President Hardesty of the Chamber of Commerce appointed Rev. C. H. Warren chairman of the hospital committee, who will preside at the meeting at the City Hall tonight, Friday, November 4.

The ladies, as well as every other citizen of Fulton should attend the meeting and take part in the discussions and planning for the campaign to put the project over quickly and successfully.

Those who made enthusiastic talks at Tuesday's meeting were Dr. Cohn, Rev. Warren, Dr. Luten, Rev. Cantrell, A. M. Nugent, Dr. Gourley, Dr. Rudd, Secretary Motley, Dr. Henry Alexander, Clarence Pickering, Dr. Jones, President Hardesty.

BARLEY THRILLS HIS AUDIENCE AT CITY HALL WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The City Hall was packed to full capacity Wednesday night with men and women eager to hear Senator Alben W. Barkley deliver his message in the interest of the candidacy of J. C. W. Beckham and the entire State Democratic ticket.

After reviewing the main issues of the campaign in which he paid his respects graciously to Judge Sampson, the speaker closed his talk with an earnest appeal to vote for Beckham for Governor.

Characterized by Frankness
"His whole public career has been characterized by a frankness and a moral courage which men and women of the same quality must admire," said the speaker. He is a gentleman in all that the term imports, clean in his personal life, upright and honorable in his conception of public duty, with no selfish ambition to promote or private advantage to advance, we present him to the people of Kentucky in the ripeness of his experience and in the maturity of his years. We present a man and a ticket which is not afraid to stand for civic righteousness in the administration of government; which opposes the efforts of every species of special privileges to dominate or destroy faith in the people's government. We present a man and a ticket which cannot be intimidated or cajoled into a betrayal of public duty.

"In behalf of this cause I ask the support of men of every walk and station of life and of every political or religious persuasion. In behalf of such a cause do I ask the support of Kentucky women. Women are more sensitive than we men can possibly be to the evils of bad government.

"When they gather their children about them and pour into their youthful ears the principles of Christianity, or civic righteousness and love of country, if on the outside there is injustice, crime and rotteness in our public life, they feel the effect more surely and more promptly than is possible among men. We complain of crime and the lack of its punishment. There is crime in America, and its punishment seems to diminish as crime itself increases. But how can we condemn the petty thief, the highway robber or the forger and let go unwhipped of justice the man in high political station who undermines the foundations of free government?"

"In the name of all that Kentucky has meant to us in nobility of character, in distinction of race, in worthy achievement through the years and everywhere; in the name of the countless millions yet to come, to whom we wish to hand this Government of ours as upright, as free, as worthy of confidence and support as when it came to us from the hands of our forefathers, I ask an overwhelming verdict at the ballot box for Governor Beckham and his comrades in this fight."

County Attorney Lon Adams introduced Judge Voris Gregory, who entertained the audience with a 30 minute talk and introduced Senator Barkley. Mr. Bright also made a brief talk.

NEW PRAISES FOR MARIAN NIXON IN "CHINESE PARROT"

Marion Nixon is said to have reached the height of her beauty and opportunity in the screen version of Earl Derr Biggers' mystery novel "The Chinese Parrot" in which she is co-featured with Edmund Burns. Miss Nixon's role in this Universal-Jewel production which has been booked at the Orpheum is that of Sally Phillimore, the beautiful daughter of a proud but impoverished family that sways the social destinies of Honolulu. The part calls for exceptional histrionic ability and according to those who have seen the picture, Miss Nixon walks away with flying colors.

"The Chinese Parrot" was directed by Paul Leni, one of the greatest of European directors, who came to this country a year ago under contract to Universal. His first production was "The Cat and the Canary" hailed as a directorial triumph, and resulted in his being chosen to handle the Biggers' opus.

The supporting cast embraces some of the best known players in the industry including Hobart Bosworth, K. Sojin, Anna May Wong, Albert Conti, George Kuwa, Edgar Kennedy, Fred Esmelton, Dan Mason and Slim Summerville. The screen adaptation was made by J. Grubb Alexander.

Vanishing (Indian) Summer

Celebrate In Fulton, Nov. 16

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Friday night plans were perfected and committees appointed to stage one of the biggest celebrations on Wednesday, November 16, ever attempted in Fulton, when the new paved streets will be opened to traffic and the new White Way turned on.

A special invitation is extended to everybody to visit Fulton on the sixteenth and take part in the festivities and enjoy our hospitality. The entertainment committee is working overtime to provide attractions for your enjoyment and pleasure and to entertain with good wholesome amusements. Free tickets will be issued to the picture shows. Free tickets will also be given the school children representing the rural schools, on the two Victrolas to be given away, and to the grown-ups free tickets will be given to the farmers on the two purebred Jersey bulls to be given away. And when we say free, it absolutely means that no one will be expected to buy anything or spend a cent to procure a ticket for the prizes to be given away.

The only requirement necessary is that you register your name when given the ticket so the committee in charge will know you are not a resident of Fulton, as no one living in the city limits will be eligible to capture a prize given away. It will also be arranged so no one school can get both Victrolas. These are both fine musical instruments valued at more than $250.00. The bulls are probably valued at between $300.00 and $450.00. No one person will be allowed to get both bulls.

The entertainment, which will all be free, will start early in the morning, closing at night with the fire department putting on an elaborate demonstration and beautiful fire works display, under the supervision of Chief Lee Roberts, assisted by Paducah firemen. Of course, there will be plenty of good music.

It is understood that the Elks Club will sponsor a big street dance at night with music furnished by their own orchestra.

Why the Big Celebration
The Fulton people are not selfish. The contractors are completing one of the most gigantic improvements the city has experienced in years—the new reinforced concrete streets and new white way. The citizens are jubilant and during this season or occasion of general joy, they want their friends and neighbors to join them in the "jubilee of their spirits." They want to cement the ties of friendship more closely and let you know that you are one of us.

Why the Prizes
Fulton is alive to the full realization that our schools are developing the minds of men and women of tomorrow, and when tomorrow comes we want the children to look back on yesterday and recall that Fulton afforded them many happy hours of enjoyment with music from the world's greatest talent.

Fulton is also alive to the interest of lending every assistance to the development of our surrounding territory and promoting dairying in this vicinity, that's why two bulls are to be given away, and we know of no better time than on this occasion to make the awards.

Keep a lookout for the official announcement and make your plans now to celebrate in Fulton, Wednesday, Nov. 16.

GO THE EASY PAYMENT ROUTE

The Fulton Building & Loan Association Will Assist You Financially

With a million and a half dollar institution standing ready to assist you financially, why should any citizen of our city worry for one moment how he can pay for his sewer connection or street improvement?

The Fulton Building & Loan Association is one of Fulton's strongest financial institutions and has plenty of money on hand to relieve you of all financial embarrassment on any improvement you want to make about your premises and allow you to make small monthly payments on same so you will hardly miss it.

They will not only loan you money to pay for sewer connection and street improvement, but will loan you money to remodel or repair your home, build a garage or dwelling.

Others have gone the "easy payment route" through the Building & Loan Association, so why not you?

With the vast amount of improvement going on now in Fulton, everyone can't pull out his check book and draw on his bank account in "big chunks." Yet no one should retard progress with money so easy to get and the long term of years in which to pay it back.

Truly the Fulton Building & Loan Association is the "poor man's friend." It has rendered assistance to others and will assist you if you want to go the easy payment route on any improvement.

NORMA TALMADGE STARS IN "CAMILLE"

Brings to Screen Greatest Achievement of Divine Sarah and Duse

Generally acclaimed as the greatest triumph of the speaking stage's foremost actresses, notably Sarah Bernhardt and Eleanora Duse, "Camille," modernized for the screen, now becomes Norma Talmadge's crowning achievement.

"The finest screen performance of all time," is the tribute paid to Miss Talmadge by motion picture critics.

Produced by Joseph M. Schenck for First National and directed by Fred Niblo, the modern "Camille" has an unusually strong cast in support of the star.

Gilbert Roland, a young Spanish actor whose portrayal of "Armond," has created a sensation in filmdom, is Miss Talmadge's new leading man. Other players in "Camille" include Alec B. Francis, Rose Dione, Lilyan Tashman, Helen Jerome Eddy, Carmelita Geraghty, Harvey Clark and Tom Ricketts.

The feature, of course, is invested with all the lavishness which always marks a Norma Talmadge vehicle. The gowns worn by the star are extremely dazzling.

New effects in beautiful motion picture photography are achieved by Oliver Marsh, chief cameraman during the filming of "Camille." The picture comes November 7 and 8 to the Grand Theater here.

See us and let us explain to you how easy it is to pay for your street improvement and sewer connection through the Fulton Building & Loan Association.—J. E. Fall, Secretary.

The children of Mr. A. E. Shankle, Wade and Wyatt Shankle and Mrs. George Demster, of Sikeston, Mo., were here to attend Mrs. McClure's funeral.

Beloved Woman Passes Away.

"Not dead, but sleeping." Mrs. Louise Shankle McClure, wife of Mr. Jeff McClure of Mayfield, Ky., died at the Mayfield hospital Tuesday afternoon, November 1, at 4 o'clock. Her husband and children were at her bedside when the final summons came. Mr. Amos Stubblefield, of the Fulton Undertaking Company, took charge of the remains and brought the body to Fulton and had charge of burial arrangements.

The funeral was held from the home of her son, Mayor W. O. Shankle, 414 Eddings street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, services conducted by the Rev. J. V. Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist church. Interment followed at Fairview cemetery, where she sleeps beneath a mound of beautiful flowers.

Active pallbearers were W. P. Murrell, R. S. Williams, N. G. Cooke, R. B. Beadles, A. M. Nugent, Walter Rhoades.

Honorary pallbearers were: Martin Chambers, Mace McDade, Sr., Geo. Crafton, W. W. Morris, W. A. Terry, Henry Hastings, J. B. Cequin, T. F. Linton, Columbus Wilson, J. W. Shepherd. All old acquaintances of the deceased.

Mrs. McClure was born in Statesville, N. C., in 1854, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Allison, and the youngest of a family of eight children.

In 1861 Mr. and Mrs. Allison, with their family, migrated to Henry county, Tenn. In 1871, Miss Louise Allison was married to Thomas James Shankle at Paris, Tenn. To this union eight children were born, four of whom are living. On November 15, 1882, Mr. and Mrs. Shankle removed to Fulton, Ky. In November, 1896, she and her husband and family removed to Lake county, Tenn., and on January 1, 1900, to New Madrid, Mo., and early in the year of 1917, moved to Lillbourn, Mo. On September 24, 1917, the death angel entered the Shankle home and carried the spirit of her companion to its eternal home. After the death of her husband, she removed to Sikeston, Mo. In August, of 1925, she was united in marriage to Mr. Jeff McClure of Cottage Grove, Tenn., afterwards locating in Mayfield.

Besides her husband, she is survived by four children, A. E. Shankle, of Shawnee, Okla.; Mrs. W. E. Cayce, W. O. and Thos. L. Shankle, of Fulton; one sister, Mrs. Cal Thompson, of Springfield, Tenn., and one brother, G. O. W. Allison, of Crossland, Ky., also several grand children.

It was in 1867 deceased professed faith in Christ and joined the Antioch Methodist church. Her Christian life was beautiful from its beginning to its close. Wherever she moved she carried her church letter and took an active part in church work. After a long, busy and useful life, she died as she had lived—honored, trusted and loved. She reared her own monument while she lived in the hearts of all who knew her.

Many join us in sincerest sympathy for the bereaved ones.

Attend Funeral.

Mrs. Cal Thompson, 84 years old, of Springfield, Tenn., the only living sister of the late Mrs. Jeff McClure, with her son, Geo. Thompson and his son, Orion Thompson and wife, arrived in Fulton Wednesday afternoon after driving 75 miles, to attend Mrs. McClure's funeral. Notwithstanding Mrs. Thompson's advanced age she said the two and a half hours drive did not tire her but very little.

CLOWNS HOLD MONSTER CONVENTION IN CHICAGO

Forty Showmen Will Be Here With Robbins Bros. Circus

Clowns of every nationality are now headed in this direction. The traveling company numbers exactly 40 Merry Andrews of all heights and sizes. There is Kenneth Waite, famous in the hippodromes of France; Andrew Casino, formerly jester for the Shah of Persia; Fred Barner, the great English pantomist; Jules Finnish, who hails from Spain; George Johnson, known throughout America as "the millionaire clown;" Al Binger, dean of all sawdust comedians; Jim Spotts, the most noted of clown policemen, and others equally as well known in the land of the white tops and spangles.

Prior to the opening of the present season's tour, the merry band met in convention. Here were discussed the thousand and one antics, grotesque costumes and ingenious mechanical devices that now play a part in the Robbins Brothers' circus performances. The three days' convention resulted in what is said to be the greatest parcel of tom foolery ever put together by a gathering of skylarkers, as will be seen when the circus comes to Fulton Monday, October 31.

Hardly will the curtain have fallen upon the final scene in the gorgeous fairyland production of "Santa Claus in Fairyland," when, with a burst of merry music, the whole population of clownland will swing into view. And, during the two hours' of arenic numbers there will be scarcely a moment when the "Silly Forty" are not capering through the rings over the numerous stages or around the mammoth hippodrome track.

In addition to the two legged comedians, the Robbins Brothers are this season presenting a large number of dumb clowns. Bears, monkeys, ponies, dogs, elephants and even ganders have been trained to perform laughable tricks. Thus in contrast with the brilliancy of the aerialists and the daring of the riders, a plentitude of humor lends variety to what is said to be the greatest main tent program yet conceived by the famous showmen.

AN EGG A DAY KEEPS THE SHERIFF AWAY

Out at Omaha, Nebraska, there is a hen by the name of Babe Ruth that has laid an egg a day for 150 days. It is presumed the hen was given the name she has because of her persistency in producing an egg a day, or knocking a home run each day in the game of egg-laying.

Now there are two kinds of hens, the laying and the lying kind. The laying kind are the hens that come from their nests cackling, heralding to their owners they have laid an egg; and the lying kind are those that also cackle when they come from their nests telling their owners they have laid an egg. The difference is that in the first case the hens really have laid eggs, while in the second instance the alarm was false, the eggs could not be found. Babe Ruth belongs to the first class—the laying kind. With enough hens like these, any farmer could keep the sheriff away.

Mr. W. C. Latta, of near Fulton, has a flock of hens that belong to the laying variety. There are fifteen hundred of them producing eggs at a handsome profit to their owner. Mr. Latta knows how to care for them and states they are the best money-makers on the place. They pay the bills at the store, clothe the family, educate the children, provide luxuries, and keep a good healthy balance in the bank for Mr. Latta.

Those fifteen hundred hens sure pay and keep the sheriff away. We need more hens of the laying, paying kind. Mr. Farmer, let that hen scratch for you while you are engaged in scratching to lay up a competence for a rainy day.

Hens that lay an egg a day will keep the sheriff away.

TWO MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

Two major requirements make up the law governing railway rate making, which has been in force for more than seven years, explains L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central System, in his November 1 letter to the public. One is that the management of the railroad must be honest, efficient and economical. The other is that rates must be made so the railroads as a whole will be able to earn a fair return upon the value for their property.

In regard to the first requirement, President Downs writes: "The honesty of railway management during these seven years has been unquestioned; efficiency has been demonstrated by great improvement in service; economy has been shown by an actual increase in net earnings during a period of high prices, advancing taxes and declining rates."

However, with respect to the second requirement, President Downs explains that in only one year of the seven, 1926, has the return earned by the railroads come up to the mark set by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a fair return. For the full seven years the railroads have lacked more than one and a quarter billion dollars of earning such a return.

Furthermore, writes Mr. Downs, the fact the railroads have failed to earn this return in a period of heavy traffic means the shortage is certain to be greater when business declines.

J. C. W. BECKHAM SWEEPING TO VICTORY

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.— (Special). That the Democratic State ticket headed by former Gov. J. C. W. Beckham will win a sweeping victory at the election to be held next Tuesday was the prediction made here today by Thomas S. Rhea, State Campaign Chairman. The failure of the Republican party to meet important issues and the action of G. O. P. leaders in virtually repudiating the party's nominee were contributing factors, Mr. Rhea said, in the collapse of the opposition's campaign drive.

Mr. Rhea's statement follows:

"It is now one week until election. At this time it can be stated with absolute certainty that J. C. W. Beckham will be the next Governor of Kentucky and that all of his comrades on the Democratic state ticket will be swept into office on November 8 by a great majority.

"Our margin of victory will be substantial. It will approximate a landslide. We will carry every district in the State with the exceptions of the Tenth and Eleventh and even in these Republican strong holds normal G. O. P. majorities will be greatly reduced.

"The Republican party's campaign effort, weak and flabby from the outset, has deteriorated to such an extent that the G. O. P. leaders in city and State are in a panic. The opposition closes its campaign without having developed a single redeeming issue and with a nominee thoroughly discredited in the eyes of Kentuckians. With their embargo of silence party leaders have repudiated their nominee in a manner hitherto unknown in Republican campaigns in Kentucky and this situation, promptly sensed by the masses of our voters, is in no small measure responsible for the margin of victory that will be noted next Tuesday.

"At this time I wish to extend, through the press of Kentucky, the sincere thanks and appreciation of our committee for the loyal and unswerving

HUNTING BEGINS AT REELFOOT

Duck Season Opens in Tennessee, to Continue Until February 1.

The fall hunting season opened Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock on Reelfoot Lake, the mecca of all the Nimrods of this section from states besides Kentucky and Tennessee. The duck shooting season on Reelfoot Lake is one of the best anywhere in the United States, and it is said will be better this season than for many years past. The weather, however, so far has been too warm for the great migration of the ducks and they may not be as plentiful today as they have been on other opening days in the past, but with real cold weather, which is due now anytime, the ducks will migrate very fast.

The duck hunters throughout this section have been going to the lake for the last several days, opening up club houses, putting in provisions, and stocking their larders. Some of the club houses have been full since Saturday, many hunters going down for an outing and fishing trip. The duck season lasts until February 1, and from now until the last day, every club house on the lake, and there are many of these, and all of the hotels will be thronged.

BEELERTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Beelerton interest is being taken by the teachers, patrons and pupils in the improvements which are being made on the school campus. The front of the campus has been sodded, and a concrete walk has been constructed. This adds much to the general appearance and attractiveness of the school. A committee consisting of the following students: Pauline Brown, Obert Bushart, Zelma Pillow, Lowell Weatherspoon and Carmie Hicks has been appointed to aid in keeping the school ground clean.

Supt. W. S. Scholes and "Uncle Billie" Craig, Instructor in Teachers College, Bowling Green, were visitors in the school last Wednesday. Mr.
Craig made an interesting talk to the Juniors and Seniors.

Beelerton basketball teams came out on the short end in two games played at Shiloh during the fair last Friday. The girls' game was a hair raiser, the score being 9 to 12. Bushart was high point, other players being Foy, Brown, Fite and Wiley.

In a boys' game Beelerton had all the odds against her, Shiloh having won all games played in the last two years.
Although outweighed and more experienced was the Shiloh team. Beelerton was never outplayed until the last quarter, when the heat began to tell.
Hicks was high point man, the other players being H. Bush-art, Brown, Bennett and Moore.

The high school pupils and the members of the faculty with a few visitors enjoyed a Hallowe'en party.

The high school pupils and the members of the faculty with a few visitors enjoyed a Hallowe'en party at the high school Saturday night. The auditorium was artistically decorated with black and gold crepe paper, witches, Jack O' Lanterns and other wierd adornments suggestive of Hallowe'en. Games and contests of different kinds were used for entertainment and prizes were awarded to the winners.
After the games a delectable course of cream and cake was served.

The P. T. A. will meet next Friday night at the auditorium.
The meeting was postponed last Friday night on account of the musical contest at Shiloh.
Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the splendid program, and the "get-together" spirit.

TRY THIS TEST OF KNIT-TEX

To prove how practical the claims we make for this remarkable topcoat are, do this:

Roll it up and stuff it in your traveling bag on a long journey. Take it out when you need it and without pressing—put it on. Not a wrinkle.

It's a specially knit fabric (found only in the Knit-tex Coat) that looks like an imported overcoating.

And now you can get the Knit-tex Coat in wonderful new Herringbones and English Tweeds as well as the fine mixtures.

Lesson for November 6

AMOS PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

LESSON TEXT—Amos 5:1-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let judgment run down as waters and righteousness as a mighty stream.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Treating Everybody Right.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Kind of Man God Hates.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Squaring for God Against the Crowd.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Conditions of Divine Approval.

I. Israel's Desolation Predicted (vv. 1-3).

Amos lamented over the doom which was to overtake the nation. Israel is called a virgin because she had never been subdued by any foreign nation (see Isa. 23:12). Her falling to rise no more sets forth the utter desolation and helplessness to which the Assyrians subjected the nation. From this captivity Israel never returned. Those who came back from the Babylonian captivity were largely from Egypt.

II. The Call to Return to God.

God through the prophet says, "seek ye me and ye shall live." The implication is that while the divine judgments are not executed, an opportunity is offered for them to turn to God. In their turning to God they were to renounce:

1. Idolatry (vv. 5, 6).

They were to turn away from the places of idolatry—Bethel, Gilgal and Beersheba. God's judgment was to strike these places.

If they would not come to Him for life He would be their destroyer. "Our God is a consuming fire." The only one who can give life to those who seek Him is the one who shall destroy.

2. Cease to pervert judgment (v. 7).

"Turn judgment to wormwood" implies the bitterness of the perversion of justice to the injured.

3. Cease to dethrone righteousness. "Leaving off righteousness" is thought to mean that unrighteousness was allowed to take its place. In this third exhortation the Lord's name is given with the following statement of some of His works:

1. "Maketh the seven stars and Orion;" 2. "Turneth the shadow of death into morning;" 3. "Maketh the day dark with night;" 4. "Collecteth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the earth," both in rain and deluge; 5. "Strengtheneth the spoil against the strong."

III. The Sins Committed by the Wicked Nation (vv. 10-13).

1. They hated the judge who condemned their wicked practices (v. 10).
2. They abhorred him that spoke uprightly (v. 10).

This most likely referred to the prophets themselves who told them of their sins and urged uprightness of life.

3. They trampled upon the poor (v. 11).

The rich built magnificent houses out of the proceeds extorted from the poor.

4. They afflicted the just (v. 12).

This they did by taking a bribe.

5. They turned aside the poor in the gate (v. 12).

Because they had no money the poor were turned aside.

It was most difficult for the poor to get justice. The times were so evil that the prudent would best keep silence.

IV. The Conduct of the Righteous (vv. 14, 15).

No condition in the world, religious, social or political can become so difficult that the righteous are shut off from help. The righteous can:

1. Seek God (v. 14).

Those who seek God shall have with them the Lord God of hosts.

2. Hate the evil (v. 15).

Evil must be hated. The sin question must be settled before God can bestow His blessings.

3. Establish judgment in the gate.

It was the custom in that day for the courts of justice to sit in the gate of the city. The prophet urges upon them the responsibility to place honorable men in charge of public affairs.

V. The Judgment to Fall (vv. 16-20).

There is coming a day of retribution. Justice and right shall be vindicated. This will be realized in the day of the Lord (II Thess. 1:7-10; James 5:7). All wrong shall be righted at that time. May we earnestly pray, "thy kingdom come."

VI. Worship Without Holiness of Life an Abomination to God (vv. 21-27).

Sacrifices, observance of feast days and singing, when the heart is out of fellowship with God, is most displeasing to Him.

Two Different Things

The love of God and the world are two different things. If the love of this world dwell in thee, the love of God forsakes thee; renounce that, and receive this; it is fit that the nobler love should have the best place and acceptance.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN

If you think your town is best, Tell 'em so.
If you'd have it lead the rest, Help it grow.
When there's anything to do, Let the fellows count on you—You'll feel bully when it's thru.
Don't you know.

If you're used to giving knocks, Change your style; Throw bouquets instead of rocks.

For a while.
Let the other fellow roast.
Shun him as you would a ghost.
Meet his hammer with a boast And a smile.

When a stranger from afar Comes along,
Tell him who and what you are —Make it strong.

Needn't flatter, never bluff, Tell the truth, for that's enough; Join the boosters—they're the stuff.
Sing your song!

FULTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTIVE

(I. C. Farm and Factory) Old methods of doing things change in nearly every line of business, and chambers of commerce are no exception to this rule, as evidenced by that organization at Fulton, Kentucky.
In this community, like many others in western Kentucky, the farmers grew tobacco as their chief money crop, and the weed was crowned king of the field crops. Like many other kings he led his followers for a fall, which in this case proved to be a financial one. Having suffered a severe blow and becoming disorganized because of leadership, the people cast about for some new leader.

The business men of Fulton took the initiative in directing the future development of their trade territory. They worked out a constructive program.
They were men of vision, looking beyond the limits of their hustling little city. Reorganization and reconstruction of the Chamber of Commerce was the first step in the program.
The membership was increased, the exchequer replenished so that the plans for future action might be carried out under the direct supervision of a qualified secretary, which resulted in employing S. S. Motley. He has fitted into the Fulton plan and with the hearty cooperation of business men and farmers, most gratifying results are being obtained. Much work had been done by the Development Bureau of the Illinois Central Railroad and others in trying to diversify their crops. Dairying was pushed by the Illinois Central. Pure bred bulls were loaned free to the farmers back in 1917 and some interest was shown by a minority of the farmers.

Mr. Motley hit upon a new idea for the Chamber of Commerce. It had been a long-established custom of the Fulton merchants to give away an automobile or car of some kind to stimulate business. Secretary Motley suggested that the Chamber of Commerce inaugurate a new program by giving away good Jersey cows instead of autos. The suggestion being a most excellent one, was approved unanimously and necessary funds provided for purchasing the cows. For eight consecutive weeks there was one dairy day per week, at which time two registered Jersey cows were given away on the streets of Fulton. This method has resulted in the distribution of more than 300 cows, and the good constructive work is still in progress with enthusiasm running high. The business men of Fulton are building wisely and for the future. The money expended will come back to them a hundred fold.

King Tobacco is dead! In and surrounding territory have selected for their leader a queen—the Dairy Cow—the Mother of Prosperity! Long live the Queen! Under her leadership Fulton will become one of the outstanding dairy centers of the South.

Home Hazards

More than 18,500 men, women and children were killed in accidents in their own homes last year. This astounding loss of life comes from mishaps that occur while performing home duties.

The serious aspect of this type of accident is never considered until someone meets death, and then it is quickly forgotten.
Practically every community of any size, national bodies, state organizations and local associations are constantly endeavoring to solve the traffic problem and find a way to prevent the useless waste of life resulting, but practically no one is worried about the toll taken by home accidents.

When we come to realize that almost as many, if not more lives are sacrificed in the homes of the land than on the streets and highways, more caution may be practiced in the home.

When this fact is impressed on the mind of the average housewife she may be a little more careful when she climbs up on a step ladder to wash the windows or mounts a stool to dust a tall piece of furniture. The man who does his own repair work at home may be a little more thoughtful when he climbs a ladder to paint the porch roof or tinkers with the electric wiring, if he keeps uppermost in his mind that the hazards of the home are equally as great as the hazards of the highway.

Share In the "South's Milk Pail."

The following taken from the I. C. Farm and Factory, a monthly magazine published by the development Bureau, are actual facts without any frills or flounces:

"The Illinois Central Railroad was the very first to take up the dairy development work in the southland. It was a pioneer in this type of farming. It was the first railroad in the South to plan a constructive program and put same into practice. The management of the road had faith in the South's possibilities and believed that other than cotton crops could be grown profitably.
To sell the business men and the farmers on the subject was no easy task, as every farmer in the South was accustomed to just one crop, cotton and the credit system. Such being the case, the South had its years and periods of depression. Cotton was a gambler's crop. The farmer was not only gambling with the markets, but he was gambling with the weather as well, a combination hard to beat.

"Gambling in the growing of cotton reached the breaking point in 1914, when cotton went begging and could be had at the buyer's price. In fact, it was next to impossible to give it away.
Condition agriculturally was going from bad to worse. The farmer's outlook was a gloomy one.
It was at that time that the Illinois Central came to the rescue by furnishing butter makers and pure bred dairy sires free to the communities where the farmers would practice dairy farming.
A contract was established and the farmers, business men and the Illinois Central formed a partnership that has continued in force and is growing stronger every year, with the result that the communities where the new order of things was accepted and consistently followed, are now prosperous. The dairy cow was made the basis of this diversification program, plus some good laying hens. Good pastures, forage crops, and other necessary feed crops were grown for this live stock, and the task of supplanting a one-crop system was on.

"For years the farmers and cotton planters had been buffeted about by the ill winds of low prices and the boll weevil. But it is an ill wind that blows no one some good. And so it was in this case. It blew to the farmers of the Illinois Central territory crop diversification, dairying and poultry raising. It blew to them 365 pay days in the year instead of just one. It blew to them soil conservation. And last but not least it blew to the farmers residing in the milk pail of the South, prosperity.

"Out of it all there is emerging a New South and a New Era.
No longer will it be necessary for the people of the southland to import hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of butter, cheese, milk and cream annually for home consumption. This demand will be largely supplied on the farms of the South. And the millions of dollars formerly finding their way into foreign markets will remain at home to be used in the development of the farm, home, community and the state.

"The Milk Pail of the South holds out opportunities to the young man of other sections of the country and the good people bid him welcome. Now is the time to act. He who hesitates is lost. Do it now and share in the inevitable prosperity of the South's Milk Pail."

Your Suit and Overcoat Need the Wrinkles Taken Out.

You know what a beauty shop can do for faces—how it can remove wrinkles from cheeks and crow's feet from eyes. But did you ever visit a "beauty shop for suits"—a modern dry cleaning and sanitary pressing establishment?
Here, again, is a "fountain of youth"—this time for clothes.

For example, take one of your own suits to the O. K.
Steam Laundry—one you've worn often. If it's a light suit, the grime is plainly visible, at collar and cuffs; perhaps there is a bit of grease on it from your car. If the suit is dark, the dirt may not show—but it's there. One cannot ride in automobiles and taxis, and not get dirty.

But see what your dry cleaner, the O. K. Laundry, can do for this suit.

First, it is tumbled in warm, drying air; the moisture is removed, the dust shaken out, obstinate spots loosened. An expert "spotter" then goes over the garment by hand—stains and spots vanish before his skill. Next, the suit is soured gently, thoroughly, back and forth, in the purest of cleaning fluids. Soil embedded in the fabric is filtered out; grime and grease are dissolved away.
After most of the moisture has been whirled out, the suit is carefully dried in a breeze of fresh, warm, sterile air, then with the warm air sifting thru it, it is fluffed softly. The nap comes to life, the cloth becomes fresh and smart again.

Nor is this dry cleaning "magic" limited to men's suits and overcoats. Hats and gloves, women's coats, suits, dresses and blouses, children's clothes —almost every article of wearing apparel can be given this same renewing, refreshing treatment. And how much longer clothes wear when they receive it. Truly dry cleaning pays its own bills.

Of course, we make a specialty of dry cleaning draperies, rugs, etc. Don't overlook this

"Electric Power!— A Consumer-Owned Industry"

Says Haley Fiske
President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company

"There can be no doubt that light and power distribution is a most important element in our life, in the community, in the neighborhood, in the household. The ownership of the electric light and power companies is now in the hands of more than 2,000,- 000 direct investors in public utility stocks, and indirectly, in the hands of millions more of bank depositors and holders of life insurance policies through their ownership of public utility bonds. This is people's ownership under public regulation."

SINCE Mr. Fiske's statement was made, the number of investors in electric power companies has grown to over three million.

It is estimated that during 1926, nearly four hundred thousand customers bought over three million shares in the electric power companies serving them.
All told, over thirteen and a half million shares of stock have been purchased by the customers of these companies. These owners are found in every walk of life.
Two companies alone report nearly fourteen thousand customer stockholders, representing 269 separate occupations.

The movement toward customer ownership of industry finds its largest expression in the electric power companies because of the high sense of responsibility developed by these companies in their dealings with the public.

Operated under the American principle of individual initiative, and directed by a personnel of tested integrity and public-mindedness, these companies have so definitely identified themselves with the interest of the public, that the structure of America's prosperity and progress rests to a large degree upon their service.

America's unequalled level of comfort and prosperity, made possible through cheap, abundant power, developed under the American principle of individual initiative, is the best of reasons why that principle should be preserved and perpetuated.

Advertising a Sale!

YOU don't leave your rig in the middle of the road and go to a fence-post to read a sale bill do you? Then don't expect the other fellow to do it.

Put an ad in this paper, then, regardless of the weather, the fellow you want to reach reads your announcements while seated at his fireside.

If he is a prospective buyer you'll have him at your side. One extra buyer often pays the entire expense of the ad, and it's a poor ad that won't pull that buyer.

An ad in this paper reaches the people you are after. Bills may be a necessity, but the ad is the thing that does the business.

Don't think of having a special sale without using advertising space in this paper.

One Extra Buyer
at a sale often pays the entire expense of the ad.

FULTON COTTON GIN BUSY

The editor visited the Fulton cotton gin a few days ago where the fleecy staple was being separated from the seed and baled for shipment. Wagons filled with cotton were being weighed and unloaded, and we noticed that Manager Joe Davis would give each one a cash check as his wagon was unloaded. Mr. Davis said the crop was short this year, but prices were good. They will gin around 500 bales which will total more than $60,000.00. Cotton is not grown extensively in Fulton vicinity, but in the lower end of the county it is practically all cotton. The boll weevil, the greatest enemy of the southern cotton grower, has never reached this section of country, therefore, some of our farmers are finding it a profitable crop to till in with.

CHARITY CHEST

Winter is coming on, misery is bound to increase. Some poor child will need a pair of shoes, some poor widow will need a piece of bread to stop the mouths of her hungry children, or some poor deserving man will need the price of an operation. Who will be ready? Who would respond more quickly and more cheerfully than the church?

Without discouraging the efforts of other organizations for charity work (they will have plenty to do), it can well be said that one of the chief reasons for the existence of the church is to do charity work among the poor. (Mt. 25:35-40). The church that fails year in and year out to function along this line is about as well to close its doors. There is not a better tonic for the general welfare of the church than "to visit the fatherless and widow in their afflictions." Let charity work abound, and "do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him."

The Church of Christ has begun to raise a charity fund to use especially among the needy people of Fulton. The Charity Chest is fastened to the wall near the entrance of the building. Men are urged to do without a cigar or a piece of tobacco; the children are urged to do without a stick of gum; the women are urged to deprive themselves of a luxury, and all to put these amounts in as a free-will offering into the charity chest.

A little later the women will be asked to gather unused garments and work them over for the poor. So if you have a dress too small for yourself, or which your child has outgrown, keep it for the wardrobe at the Church of Christ. Clothing and other needs will be supplied as far as possible after the committee on charity has been convinced that the applicant is deserving.

Miss Matthews by Radio

A midnight musical program was given Tuesday night to Miss Mervyn Matthews, one of our South Fulton girls, and was broadcasted from Memphis Commercial-Appel Station W.M.C. "Down in Dixie." Two beautiful classic numbers were given on the piano by Miss Matthews and the smoothness and artistic touch with which the numbers were rendered was in evidence and worthy of special note.

A number of the Fulton people "tuned in" for the occasion and very much enjoyed the program.

For a short time we will accept subscriptions for this paper and the Memphis Weekly Commercial Appeal—both papers one year for only $1.25.
