Progressing At A Rapid Pace

Fulton may apparently be a little slow in civic improvements and taking hold of certain projects, but we have always noticed when the town is thoroughly sold on anything—the best is none too good.

After reviewing some of the good things accomplished within the past few years and looking over the city and surrounding territory we must admit we are progressing at a rapid pace. In fact, we have accomplished more within the past five years than we did within the ten years previous. And more money has been paid out in Fulton and vicinity within the past two years for constructive work and improvements than twenty years preceding.

And just here we will make this prediction, that within the next five years more will be accomplished and more money paid out in Fulton than the twenty-five years previous or perhaps in the history of the town. In fact, at the pace we are traveling now Fulton will be elevated from a fourth class to a second class city. The foundation is being permanently laid now for such an elevation and when we are towering above our neighbors we will look back in amazement and wonder how it was done. We have the making in our citizenship and nothing can retard our progressive speeding.

During the Past Five Years

Another artery of transportation has been grafted to the main trunk line of the great Illinois Central railroad system, known as the Fulton-Edgewood cut-off, shortening the distance of rail transportation between Fulton and Chicago twenty miles. A valuable asset to Fulton's prosperity and future greatness.

A $450,000 bond issue was voted to improve our county highways. Today we can travel from one end of the county to the other in comfort and pleasure on hard surfaced roads and within another year practically every cross road in the county will be surfaced with gravel.

Thousands of feet of new water mains installed, enlarged and extended to give efficient service to a growing population. In the business section, lead pipe connections made for each business house.

A $70,000.00 bond issue was voted and a complete new sewer system installed.

Every street in the business district and some of the residential streets rebuilt and surfaced with reinforced concrete. New reinforced concrete bridge constructed across Harris Fork creek on Fourth street forty feet wide to take care of increased traffic coming into the city over national highways and other improved roads.

The fire department with a $14,000 equipment brought up to the highest standard of requirements and efficiency.

Along with other improvements our educational system has advanced materially. A $50,000 building being the latest addition to the city's school properties—a handsome modern structure for the high school.

Practically every church building in the city remodeled and enlarged. The Baptists erected a handsome $60,000 house of worship and the Methodists are completing an $85,000 edifice.

A number of business houses and many beautiful dwellings have been erected and Fulton's growth and prosperity continues uninterrupted.

South Fulton Going Speed Limit
South Fulton, Tenn., our sister city with just an imaginary line between the two cities, is also going the speed limit of progress and prosperity. What may be said of Fulton's activities and achievements can also be said of South Fulton. Within the past five years they too, have accomplished more than the ten years previous in many respects. Recently they have completed a $40,000 sewer system, brought their school up to the highest standard of efficiency; built many pretty homes and are now making extensive improvements on their streets. They also contemplate installing a complete water system of their own.

Celebrate In Fulton, Nov. 16

The good people of Fulton extend you a special invitation to celebrate with them on Wednesday, November 16. They are making great preparations to make your visit enjoyable and profitable. They want to cement the ties of friendship more closely and let you know that you are one of us.

The entertainment committee is working overtime to provide attractions for your enjoyment and pleasure and to entertain with good wholesome amusements. Free tickets will be issued to the picture shows. Free tickets will also be given the school children representing the rural schools, on the two Victrolas to be given away, and to the grown-ups free tickets will be given to the farmers on the two purebred Jersey bulls to be given away. And when we say free, it absolutely means that no one will be expected to buy anything or spend a cent to procure a ticket for the prizes to be given away.

The only requirement necessary is that you register your name when given the ticket so the committee in charge will know you are not a resident of Fulton, as no one living in the city limits will be eligible to capture a prize given away.

It will also be arranged so no one school can get both Victrolas. These are both fine musical instruments valued at more than $250.00. The bulls are probably valued at between $300.00 and $450.00. No one person will be allowed to get both bulls.

The entertainment, which will all be free, will start early in the morning, closing at night.

Why the Big Celebration

The Fulton people are not selfish. The contractors are completing one of the most gigantic improvements the city has experienced in years—the new reinforced concrete streets and new white way. The citizens are jubilant and during this season or occasion of general joy, they want their friends and neighbors to join them in the "jubilee of their spirits."

The city of Fulton gave Beckham 732 and Sampson 231 in the governor's race.

HOSPITAL MOVEMENT TAKES ON NEW IMPETUS.

Secretary Motley had a special meeting with the local doctors Monday afternoon and presented a new idea as regards the local sentiment of Fulton people. Up until recently it has been the opinion of the common layman that the doctors should build their own hospitals, if this be fair, why not the lawyers build their own courthouses and the ministers build their own churches was the sentiment of Motley's address to the physicians.

A hospital in Fulton should be for the physical welfare and happiness of Fulton's people, just as our churches are for the spiritual welfare and Christian happiness of our people. Mr. Motley declared. A hospital is not a commercial institution, and has no place in the commercial annals of common society. Motley's address was keen and directly to the point and should appeal to the intelligent mind of any fair thinking people.

After Motley's address was concluded the meeting was turned over to Chairman C. H. Warren who presided over one of the most practical and enthusiastic meetings that has yet been held. The doctors present were as follows: Dr. Henry Alexander, Dr. Seldon Cohn, Dr. D. L. Jones, Dr. R. T. Rudd, Dr. George A. Crafton, Dr. Horace Luton, all of Fulton and Dr. W. D. Henry of Crutcherfield, and Dr. R. L. Bushart, of Beelerston. Rev. Warren stated that it was one of the best meetings that he had ever attended with reference to a hospital in Fulton. It will be recalled that Dr. Warren was the instigator of a hospital drive in Fulton two years ago when considerable effort was launched for a local hospital, but failed to develop into a reality. Dr. Warren was firm in his convictions as regards the needs of a hospital and has never given up the idea, and it now looks like his dreams are going to be realized.

Another Meeting Monday

A special meeting of the hospital committee was held Monday night with the following members present, despite a downpour of rain. Chairman Warren, Secretary Motley, President Hardesty, Dr. Cohn, Dr. Luton, Dr. Jones, Tom Franklin, Ira Little, Vodie Hardin, R. S. Williams, with Joe Davis, Joe Browder and J. E.

Motley Addresses

High School Students.

Secretary Tells Pupils They Must Think For Themselves.

Secretary Motley of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce delivered an excellent and practical address before the high school student body Monday. Mr. Motley's address dealt with practical idealism and the accomplishments that grow out of such idealism.

"You must dare to think your own thoughts and reach your own conclusions," he said, "and have the courage to stand by your convictions when you reach them." He then pointed out the danger of not having convictions about the fundamental things of life.

"Parents sometimes stand back and let their children choose the wrong things of life because they themselves are lacking in the ability to stand up staunchly for the right," the secretary said.

Mr. Motley advocated a careful and wise economy which should consist of going in debt, if need be, but never getting in debt, and stated that in regard to money that it should be spent but never allowed to "get away" from its possessor.

The student body was delighted by the fine address of Fulton's enterprising young secretary and will gladly welcome him again.

CLARA BOW, ESTHER RALSTON CO-STARRED

A Frank Lloyd Production, "Children of Divorce," Unites Two Beauties

Clara Bow and Esther Ralston are co-starred in Frank Lloyd's sensational Paramount picture, "Children of Divorce," which arrives at the Grand Theatre, Nov. 14 and 15. As Kitty Flanders and Jean Wadlington, both players are said to do their very best work.

Kitty and Jean first meet in a convent as "children of divorce." All four parents have gone their own separate ways. The tragic mistake her father and mother have made with their lives makes a deep impression on Jean and she resolves never to marry until she is sure the right man presents himself.

Ten years later, Ted Larabee, a handsome youth whom Jean loves dearly, proposes. Wishing to test him out, Jean withholds her answer until he has actually made good. Realizing her motives, Ted engages in practice as an engineer. Everything goes along smoothly until the eventful afternoon on which Ted enters his office to find it transformed into a bedlam of jazz by Kitty and her wild friends. After the first hour, Ted forgets his vows and again becomes one of the gang. Next morning he finds Kitty in his room and a wedding ring on her hand. They are now husband and wife!

That's the start of "Children of Divorce." Gary Cooper, Elmer Hanson and Norman Trevor are featured. Hope Loring and Louis D. Lighton scenarized Owen Johnson's novel.

FULTON, THE HUB

It can truly be said that Fulton is the hub of a network of highways. In every direction out of the city, road work is in progress. Some have already been completed. J. A. Colley reported at the Chamber of Commerce meeting Friday night that he was assured by the road builders on the Jeff Davis highway between Fulton and Wingo that this road would be completed this year into the city. Large crews are now at work on this road.

In company with Secretary Motley of the Chamber of Commerce, the editor took a trip out on the Fulton-Harris highway a few days ago. This road is being surfaced with gravel, and is almost completed. Mr. Motley is particularly proud of this road, as it was through his persistent efforts that the road will be completed within a few days. Motley did some hard work in getting the work started and pushing the project through when road enthusiasm was at low ebb along the route. This is a Tennessee road but the good citizens of Fulton, Kentucky, as well as Tennessee subscribed liberally to finance the project. It is a splendid road improvement, and those taking part in its construction are to be commended on the excellent work accomplished.

Work is now in progress on the last connecting link of the Mississippi Valley Highway between Fulton and Martin. Tenn. Fred and Ernest Brady and Hagler & McDade, of Fulton, have the contract. 11.07 miles, for the grade and drainage, pipe and culvert work, to be completed within 200 work days at around $75,000. The Martin end was sub-contracted to Geo. W. Turner of Memphis. Within the next 30 days more than 250 mules with large crews of laborers will be engaged on dirt work, says contractor Mace McDade. This is Project 213-A of the Mississippi Valley Highway and will be 5 feet wider than any State aid road with a 31 foot top from shoulder to shoulder surfaced with concrete.

Lawrence & Co., of Jackson, Miss., was awarded the contract for all bridges on the project over 20 feet which has been sub-contracted and to be completed within 175 work days. There are half dozen or more large bridges to be constructed on this highway between Fulton and Martin.

Brady Brothers, Costello and McDade built the road from Martin to Dresden. All is completed with gravel surface, except about one mile on the Dresden end.

The Martin-Greenfield road will be completed within the next 30 days, says Mr. McDade. Hall & McDade were the contractors on this road for dirt work only.

F. G. Hall's contract for grade and drain work on Martin-Union City road to Obion county line was sub-contracted to Walker Dew and Mace McDade, Jr., has been completed and will be surfaced with gravel this year. Work of graveling is being pushed to completion now.

Fulton-Union City Road
The grade and drain work on the Fulton-Union City highway was completed some time ago, as well as the bridge work contracted by W. M. Hill & Sons, of Fulton, but will not be surfaced until next year with concrete. For some months this road has been almost like a pike. It is a connecting link of the Jeff Davis highway and traffic is heavy over this road.

Since the completion of the connecting links of the Mississippi Valley Highway through Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman and Fulton counties, traffic has been heavy over this road. This highway enters Fulton on Cemetery street.

The Fulton-Hickman highway, which was completed this year is a Federal Aid road, and is an excellent gravel surfaced road.

Road Work Progressing Rapidly Throughout Fulton County

Now that Fulton county has found a gold mine when it uncovered a rich gravel pit bought by the county near Crutchfield, every road and cross road in the county will no doubt be graveled as soon as the work can be done. A road in which Fulton is especially interested in at this time is known as the middle road. The Robinson Company who contracted 17 miles of gravel road have a large crew of men with a fleet of light trucks surfacing this road now with gravel from the county's "gold mine," the finest and largest deposit of gravel known in Western Kentucky. It is said that this gravel is very small and has sufficient clay mixture to cement it almost equal to concrete.

From all indications Fulton and Fulton county should not suffer for the want of roads. In the lower end of the county road work has progressed rapidly and will continue until all roads are surfaced with gravel.

BUFFET LUNCHEON

On Friday, October 28, the Community Service Department of the Woman's Club opened its activities for the season with a buffet luncheon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Binford on Eddings street. With the officers, Mrs. Binford, chairman of the department, Mesdames A. J. Turney, I. H. Read, W. J. Willingham, Jake Huddleston, Fred Worth as hostesses.

The reception suite was a dream of autumn, with the artistic arrangement of colorful foliage, and profusions of yellow chrysanthemums and marigolds. Witches, black cats and pumpkins softened by the mellow glow of shaded lights lent a happy atmosphere to the occasion. A yellow bowl filled with marigolds interspersed with autumn leaves and surrounded with fruits, created a delightful center motif for the dining table.

The guests were seated at the seven quartette tables during the luncheon hour, all of appointments were in Halloween effects and were cleverly carried out in placards and nut cups.

After the delicious two course luncheon, Mrs. Binford in her gracious manner introduced Mrs. J. E. Fall, the president of the Woman's Club, and Mrs. J. E. Brann, the president of the club, each in a happy way gave very inspiring and interesting talks concerning the work of the club.

The guests for this lovely occasion were the members of the executive board of the club, the wives of the ministers of the city and the members of the community service department.

J. L. TATE PASSES AWAY

Funeral services for J. L. Tate were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence on State Line street, conducted by the Rev. Tom Prince, assisted by Rev. C. H. Warren, interment following in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Tate passed away at his home on State Line Thursday, October 20, after a lingering illness.

Everything that loving hands and skilled physicians could do to relieve suffering and prolong life was done, but the summons finally came and he was ready to go. Today his wide circle of friends are bowed in grief with his loved ones left behind. The deceased had been a citizen of Fulton and nearby community for many years and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was a native of Tennessee, born on April 24, 1853, but had lived in this vicinity practically all of his life. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Amos Stubblefield, and three sisters: Mrs. Tom Roberts, Mrs. Wes McGowan, Mrs. J. H. Hogz.

The Fulton Building & Loan Association will loan you the money to pay for your street improvement and sewer connection.—J. E. Fall, Secretary.

Importance of Paint

Hard to Overestimate

Nothing freshens and beautifies the countryside more than paint. An improved road generally is the forerunner of a larger use of paint. And paint applied to the farm dwelling is just in the lead of better agricultural methods without, and a happier and better educated family within. A good coat of white paint has been known to raise the standard of living in an entire countryside.

A far-sighted banker in southern Arkansas, Carl Hollis, vice president of the Merchants & Planters Trust & Savings bank of Warren, has earned the title of "White Paint Hollis," because he refused a small loan to a farmer, but agreed to loan a larger sum provided the borrower would paint his house white. The farmer took him up. The example has been catching, and now there are many white-painted houses in that county.

Our cities are growing at the expense of the country. The best way to keep the boys and girls on the farms is to make things there more attractive for them. Many a farm wife and mother has been praying for better things—more comforts and labor savers and education for her children—and maybe for herself. God has sometimes answered such prayers through the husband and father—and the banker—with a coat of paint as a starter. Paint preserves and brightens all it touches. New paint awakens a new spirit, new aspirations, stronger determination and fresh courage.

Front Yard Reveals

Character of Owner

The planting in the front yard of a city or suburban home occupying a rectangular lot of ordinary size is as much a part of the public street as is the parkway. It should be developed with this in mind.

While fault has been found with the Americans' method of discarding walls and fences and setting their homes where all may see, no defense is needed other than the example of the beautiful results which this practice has achieved in our garden suburbs.

But these results depend upon the extent to which the planting in front yards is in keeping with the nature of our front yards. The planting should harmonize with that in adjoining grounds. It should enhance the merits and screen the faults of the house architecture. And it should express the occupants of the home as their clothes should express them. The public aspect of the home grounds should not be out of keeping with the character of its occupants.

Attractive Small Homes

It is a common sight in residential sections of our cities to see unsightly rows of houses of the type which are built by the mile and sold by the foot. They are identical in design, planning and setting. If careful attention had been given to the fundamental principles of good planning and designing, these same dwellings could have been built with far more pleasing results, and at no greater expense. Those who build small houses become responsible not only for creating the desire to build attractively and economically, but also for preserving the ideals which lead people to build beautiful homes with loving hands and eager hearts.

Guarding Against Fire

One of the most useful safeguards against fire hazards in dwelling construction is the fire stopping of walls, partitions and floors. Fire tends to spread upward. Hollow walls and partitions, hollow spaces back of furning on masonry walls, and even hollow floors offer inviting runways for the rapid communication of fire from cellar to attic and from side to side. The remedy lies in adequate fire stopping, which will make an all-lumber residence considerably safer against the spread of fire than masonry wall and the lumber floor construction without fire stops.

Shingle That's Attractive

To those who desire an unusual roof treatment, the shingle thatch offers many attractions. It has become very popular for use on country houses, clubhouses, mountain camps, etc., as well as city residences. It produces a remarkably effective reproduction of the old-fashioned straw thatch and is often stained the color of weathered straw.

Your Suit and Overcoat need the Wrinkles taken out

You know what a beauty shop can do for faces—how it can remove wrinkles from cheeks and crow's feet from eyes. But did you ever visit a "beauty shop for suits"—a modern dry cleaning and sanitary pressing establishment? Here, again, is a "fountain of youth"—this time for clothes.

For example, take one of your own suits to the O. K. Steam Laundry—one you've worn often. If it's a light suit, the grime is plainly visible at collar and cuffs; perhaps there is a bit of grease on it from your car. If the suit is dark, the dirt may not show—but it's there. One cannot ride in automobiles and taxis, and not gather dirt.

But see what your dry cleaner, the O. K. Laundry, can do for this suit.

First, it is tumbled in warm, drying air; the moisture is removed, the dust shaken out, obstinate spots loosened. An expert "spotter" then goes over the garment by hand—stains and spots vanish before his skill. Next, the suit is soured gently, thoroughly, back and forth, in the purest of cleaning fluids. Soil embedded in the fabric is filtered out; grime and grease are dissolved away. After most of the moisture has been whirled out, the suit is carefully dried in a breeze of fresh, warm, sterile air, then with the warm air sifting thru it, it is fluffed softly. The nap comes to life, the cloth becomes fresh and smart again.

Nor is this dry cleaning "magic" limited to men's suits and overcoats. Hats and gloves, women's coats, suits, dresses and blouses, children's clothes—almost every article of wearing apparel can be given this same renewing, refreshing treatment. And how much longer clothes wear when they receive it. Truly dry cleaning pays its own bills.

Hydro Development On Cumberland Rests With Power Board, Is Report

The Cumberland Hydro-Electric Power Company has exercised its option to purchase the Cumberland Falls and a large tract of land around it from H. C. Brunson, who, for many years, has owned the site and operated a summer hotel beside the Falls.

This purchase has reawakened in various parts of the State considerable interest regarding the future of the Cumberland Falls tract—whether it is to be both a scenic attraction and the site of a great hydro-electric project, or is to remain as it is indefinitely.

A few weeks ago, Senator T. Coleman duPont, of Delaware, a former Kentuckian, offered to purchase the Falls and surrounding land and give it to the State for park purposes, provided the power company would relinquish its option.

Officials of the Middle West Utilities Company have just issued a statement covering the history of the negotiations and the development of plans for the Cumberland hydro-electric project. This statement brings out four important points in the discussion of the issue. They are:

Four Important Points

1. The Middle West Utilities Company was required by contract to renew the option or to acquire title to the Falls tract, and to carry out the plan for development, subject to the action of the Federal Power Commission.

2. The engineering plan for the development does not contemplate the destruction of Cumberland Falls, but does provide for its preservation, and there is no good reason why the Falls region should not have both a large state park and a hydro-electric plant.

3. Whether or not a hydro-electric plant will be built near Cumberland Falls rests on the decision of the Federal Power Commission.

4. About $140,000 was spent by the companies on preliminary surveys and options, with full publicity given on all activities. A major part of this was spent before any agitation was raised against the project by those who express fear of the destruction of the falls. The full statement follows:

Preservation of Falls

About three years ago the Middle West Utilities Company had brought to it by the Cumberland Hydro-Electric Power Company a proposal for a hydro-electric development at the Cumberland Falls, in Kentucky. The Cumberland Hydro-Electric Power Company held option on the land necessary to the development.

The Middle West Utilities Company and its operating subsidiary in the territory involved, the Kentucky Utilities Company, entered into a contract with the Cumberland Hydro-Electric Power Company whereby the Middle West Utilities Company agreed to construct a hydro-electric development at this site and obtain a market for the energy, provided a satisfactory license was granted by the Federal Power Commission.

The Middle West Utilities Company's plan for the development embraced preserving the beauty of the Falls by going up the river over one-half mile to build the dam, and tunnel the water to a power house a mile below the Falls. Neither the dam nor power house would be visible from the Falls. Further, the plan took cognizance of the need of water at the Falls during the dry season to maintain its beauty. These plans were not formulated to circumvent public objection, but had been developed considerably before any agitation manifested itself.

Complete Publicity Given

Approximately $10,000 was spent in having the proposed development examined by engineers and in securing options on lands which would be overflowed. During the period in which this work was accomplished, complete publicity was given all activities. No question of destroying any of the natural beauties of the Falls was raised. After application had been filed with the Federal Power Commission for a license to make the development, the question of the destruction of the scenic attraction of the Falls was actively agitated in Kentucky.

In the wake of several months of this agitation, Mr. Coleman duPont offered to purchase the optioned land for the development and present it to Kentucky as a state park. On August 22, 1927, he addressed a letter to Mr. Samuel Insull stating his willingness to buy the land at the optioned price.

If the Middle West Utilities Company would abandon the project.

Contract Obligation

In this letter's acknowledgement by Mr. Samuel J. Insull, Mr. Insull stated that he had discussed Mr. duPont's proposal with Mr. Stephen Mather, Director of the National Park Service, United States Department of the Interior. Mr. Mather's attention was called to the fact that the Middle West Utilities Company was not a free agent with regard to the Cumberland Falls development. "Until the Federal Power Commission takes some action," Mr. Insull's letter read, "we are pretty thoroughly obligated, and if a satisfactory license is granted we will not be in a position to withdraw without the agreement thereto of our associates in this matter, the Cumberland Hydro-Electric Power Company."

The Cumberland Hydro-Electric Power Company was unwilling to withdraw from the development. Its position is made clear in the following telegram to the Middle West Utilities Company, dated October 13, 1927:

Explanatory Telegram

"In re Cumberland Falls development and contract of October 12, 1925, with Middle West and Kentucky Utilities Company, we are informed by Mr. Herrington of Kentucky Utilities Company that Brunson (owner of the site) refuses to extend option expiring October 16, 1927, for Cumberland Falls development. We call your attention to provisions of contract requiring that Middle West, pending issue of Federal license, is under duty either to renew and keep effective the options for site or to take up said options and acquire title to same. Middle West should acquire title under Brunson's option. Middle West is required to do all things necessary to prevent loss of site and loss to Cumberland Company on account of reimbursements provided in our contract."

The Middle West Utilities Company, therefore, had no alternative save exercising the option and purchasing the site.

Purchase of Tract Required

The reason Mr. Brunson refused to extend or renew the option was that Mr. Tom Wallace, editor of the Louisville Times (a principal opponent of the development), had secured a second option to be exercised the instant the Cumberland Company's option was allowed to lapse. This action of Mr. Wallace precipitated the purchase and materially complicated the situation. The Middle West Utilities Company's position of simply being required to protect the option pending decision of the Federal Power Commission, was changed to that of owner.

The Federal Power Commission's decision was expected early in October, but it has not yet been delivered. Neither the Cumberland Hydro-Electric Power Company nor any of its officials or employees is allied with or connected in any way with the Middle West Utilities Company or other so-called Insull interest.

Two Principal Facts

E. H. Rollins & Company have participated in the negotiations with the Middle West Utilities Company, representing the interests which secured the original option on the Falls. Existing agreements provide that any bonds issued for financing the development shall first be offered to E. H. Rollins & Company. The agreement also provides that if a satisfactory license is granted by the Federal Power Commission, a company shall be formed to make the development, 65 per cent of its common stock to be owned by the Middle West Utilities Company and 35 per cent by the interests which originally secured the option.

The two principal facts of the issue, therefore, are these:

1. The plan for development of the Falls, in addition to the industrial advantages to a large section of Kentucky, took every precaution for the preservation of the natural beauty of the Falls.

2. The Middle West Utilities Company, obligated by contract to protect the option subject to granting of proper license by the Federal Power Commission, was forced to the exercise of the option by Mr. Wallace's endeavors to gain control of the site before the Commission's decision was given.

County Agent For Fulton County

After being without a county agent for some time we understand that a competent man has been employed to devote his time to the work in Fulton county. The work to be financed by the state in conjunction with the County Board of Education and the farmers and others in sympathy with the work paying a small fee yearly.

The county today, without a competent instructor along agricultural lines, is going backward and is not in the progressive class. Too much cannot be said of the great good a county farm agent can do for the school boys and girls thru the Junior club work and actual agricultural instruction in the schools. The editor has watched with much interest the progress made and the work accomplished along that line by the county agent in Obion county. The boys of that county were the only club members who exhibited pretty Jersey calves at our county fair last August, and we admired the interest and efforts displayed in capturing blue ribbons.

FORD HAS A NOVEL PLAN

$150 Down and $12.50 Month
as Service Charge

New York, Nov. 4.—In introducing his new model to American automobile users soon, Henry Ford will present a novel financing plan that is expected to create a sensation in the industry rivaling that caused by his announcement a few years ago of the famous "$5 down, $5 a month plan."

Under the new scheme, to be known as the "club plan," Ford proposes to sell the new model for $150 down and $12.50 a month, the monthly payment being regarded as a service charge and continuing as long as the car is in use. At the end of the year, if the buyer wishes, he may have the car overhauled for a moderate charge or may exchange it for a new automobile.

The plan, according to those in the industry, who have heard of it, is an adaptation of the "drive yourself" idea, title of the car remaining with the company. Presumably, it can be turned back if the user is unable, or unwilling, to continue monthly payments.

Under the arrangement it is obvious an outright sale is never completed, the monthly service charge of $12.50 virtually amounting to a rental charge that continues indefinitely, so long as the car is in service.

"Club Plan" Alternative.
Whether outright sales would be made in the customary way at an established price, was not indicated, but it was assumed among salesmen for other companies that the "club plan" would be offered as an alternative, suitable for the driver, who did not wish to invest a large sum in a car, preferring to pay the monthly maintenance charge.

Only Ford's vast resources would permit adoption of such a program, according to Wall Street bankers, who were inclined to doubt that such a radical step would be taken by Ford in bidding for new business. The scheme would necessitate keeping an immense amount of capital tied up in cars held by users, although it was pointed out that after a year or two the income from such a source would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars a month.

RED CROSS STILL ACTIVE

for Flood Sufferers

Sixty thousand meals a day still are being provided by the American Red Cross to sufferers from last spring's Mississippi Valley flood.

Reports from Red Cross relief workers in the valley issued today by national headquarters showing progress of the work up to Oct. 15, gave the total number of persons who have received reconstruction aid up to that time as approximately 500,000.

This aid included the furnishing of farm implements, seed for planting, livestock and the repair or rebuilding of dwellings. The replanting of flooded land has totaled more than 1,600,000 acres, while 23,000 acres still are reported under water.

How to Get the Best party-line Service

Avoid lengthy telephone conversations over a party line.

If you find the line is in use by someone else hang up the receiver.

Always wait until the bell goes ringing before you start talking.

To those who are subscribers to a party line telephone it must be evident that the quality of service they get is largely a matter of co-operation upon the part of the users themselves.

For instance, subscribers should be considerate of the length of time they use the line so that other parties may derive their share of its use.

Then, too, when a party line is found to be in use, the receiver should be replaced on the hook immediately; otherwise the conversation will be interfered with.

If the receiver on a party line telephone is lifted while the bell is still ringing, it causes other bells on the line to ring, too.

The observance of the Golden Rule among party line subscribers is certain to result in good service and friendliness.

HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN IS NOW ON.

The committee named by President Hardesty of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held at the City Hall last week are now in the midst of a campaign to secure sufficient funds to establish a hospital in Fulton. Rev. C. H. Warren is chairman of the Hospital Committee and a number of loyal citizens are cooperating with him in an effort to make the campaign a success. Perhaps you have not been approached on the subject and have a desire to lend your support to the movement. If such is the case telephone the Chairman, it will be an incentive to encourage the splendid efforts now being waged to locate an institution in our city we need the worst kind.

It is not necessary to tell an intelligent public of its needs. We see with our own eyes every day loved ones carried to like institutions in other cities, often times under the most trying circumstances. Not so ed away and left a little child. Had she been willing to kiss that little one good-bye and undergo an operation in an out-of-town hospital, she may be living today. She said she did not mind the operation, but to kiss her baby good-bye and leave it was more than she could stand.

The opportunity to locate a hospital in Fulton was never better than today. Will you lend your assistance to its establishment?

THE LAW OF RATE MAKING

The law which governs the making of railway rates contains two major requirements. One is that the management of the railroads must be honest, efficient and economical. The other is that rates must be made so the railroads as a whole will be able to earn a fair return upon the value of their property. This law has now been in existence more than seven years.

The honesty of railway management throughout these seven years has been unquestioned. Its efficiency has been demonstrated by a great improvement in service; railway transportation today is uniformly prompt and dependable. The economy of railway management has been proved by an actual increase in net earnings during a period of high prices, advancing taxes and declining rates.

The first requirement of the law has therefore been fully met in all particulars. Turn now to the second requirement.

In only one of the seven years has the return earned by the railroads as a whole come up to the mark set by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a fair return. That was in 1926. For the full seven years the railroads have lacked more than one and a quarter billion dollars of earning such a return. In view of this experience, everyone ought to know by now that no return is guaranteed to the railroads. If they fail to reach the return aimed at, there is no provision for making up the difference. Furthermore, the fact that the railroads have failed to earn this return in a period of heavy traffic means the shortage is certain to be greater when business declines.

Honest, efficient and economical management of the railroads alone is not enough to gain the end for which this law was enacted, which is the maintenance of an adequate system of transportation. The second requirement of the law is of just as much force as the first, and failure on the part of our rate-regulating authorities to meet it has the effect of nullifying what the railroads have accomplished by meeting the first.

When this situation is fully realized by the public, there will undoubtedly be a marked public sentiment in favor of maintaining a level of rates that will accomplish the full intent of the law.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

"Electrically equipped homes mean happier and more healthful homes. The cost of electrically operated labor-reduction devices is offset many times by the saving, the increased efficiency, the protection to health and the contribution to the general well-being of the family of such devices."

THE constructive efforts of the forward-looking electric power companies of the United States have released an ever-increasing number of women from the exacting duties of the household to more congenial and interesting pursuits of life.

Every new electrical invention finds an abundance of power ready to serve it. Through the enterprise of these companies, inspired by individual initiative, electric power plants and service facilities are being constructed five years in advance of consumer demand. Since 1900, the capacity of these plants has been doubled every five years.

Keenly alert to their social obligations, these electric power companies have not been content to rest on the expansion of their facilities. The most expert, highly skilled and highly trained technical personnel in the whole field of industry is working for the betterment of electrical service and the reduction of its cost.

As a result of this sense of trusteeship, the average home today enjoys the comforts and conveniences of electricity at a cost of only a few cents per day.

Operating under the American principle of individual initiative, and working in the interests of the public, these specialists in science, engineering, finance and administration constitute one of society's greatest forces in the promotion of a freer, more enlightened and abundant life.

In the continued support of this principle lies America's assurance of all that makes for progress, prosperity and cultural opportunity.

GOOD TELEPHONE SERVICE APPRECIATED

If there is anything a newspaper office appreciates more than another, it is satisfactory telephone service, and it would be ungrateful of us not to commend the splendid efforts put forth by local Manager J. T. Hale in giving Fulton an uninterrupted service during the recent street improvement program when many of the company's telephone poles were removed, carrying cables and many lines. Time and again the editor has stopped and watched the skillful work of linemen remove poles filled with wires and in some cases wondered how it could be done without interrupting service, but if it has caused any interruption in service we have failed to detect it over our line and much of the most difficult work has been in close proximity to our office.

Manager Hale says, "Our aim is to render a service that will be satisfactory to our customers. We realize that difficulties will sometimes occur despite all our efforts to avoid them. Under the listing of The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company are shown the telephone numbers which should be called to report difficulties. If at any time difficulties are not promptly corrected or unsatisfactory conditions persist, we shall appreciate your communicating the facts direct to the manager, telephone 9000."

No manager of the local exchange has put forth any greater effort to render satisfactory service than J. T. Hale, and that is saying a whole lot, because McNish and Mitchell had an enviable reputation for services rendered during their management of the Fulton exchange.

COOPERATION OF THE PUBLIC IN PREPARING CHRISTMAS MAIL

The tang in the air and the wonderful colors of autumn leaves evidence the fact that another year is nearing its close and that the holiday season with its spirit of good will and cheer will soon be here.

Christmas is a time of joy and gladness, and the custom of exchanging gifts, greeting cards, and other remembrances which is so generally followed during the holiday season is one of the main factors in promoting this happy condition. The observance of the custom of exchanging gifts greatly increases the volume of mail during the month of December, and it is therefore necessary to do everything possible to facilitate and expedite its handling.

A sentimental value is attached to Christmas mail, and, in order to be in keeping with the purpose for which sent, it should reach the addressee in time to give its full measure of happiness and cheer on Christmas Day.

If you will observe the following suggestions your mail will be sure to reach its destination in time to give its full measure of happiness and cheer on Christmas Day.

Address all mail plainly and completely in ink.

Pack carefully in strong containers. Wrap parcels securely but do not seal.

Do not place Christmas seals or stickers on address side of package.

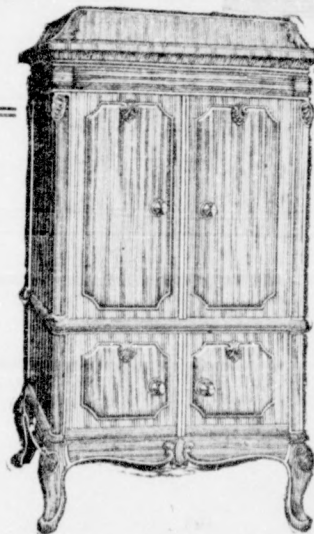

Do not enclose any written matter in parcel post packages.

Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas," or with similar inscriptions.

Mail Early. And it is more important that Christmas mail be mailed early this year than before because Christmas Day falls on Sunday.

HOSEA PREACHES GOD'S LOVE

LESSON TEXT—Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9.

GOLDEN TEXT—I desire mercy and not sacrifice and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Wonderful Love.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Wonderful Love.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Unchanging Love of God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Loving-Kindness of God.

Hosea's message was primarily to Israel. The nation was outwardly prosperous, for its height of temporal glory was reached in the time of Jeroboam II. (See II Kings 14:29). With this prosperity came luxury, immorality and apostasy. Calf worship and Baal worship were substituted for the worship of God.

I. The Apostasy of Israel (chs. 1-3).

Israel's covenant relationship with Jehovah is presented under the figure of a marriage. Their spiritual whoredom is symbolized by the example of an unfaithful wife.

1. The marriage (ch. 1, 2).

Hosea was commanded by God to take an unchaste woman to be his wife. While this was a strange act, yet it was right, for it was commanded by God, and its motive was the elevation of the woman to the prophet's moral plane. It was designed to show God's wonderful condescension and love in entering into covenant relationship with a nation of such immorality. The nation had no more to commend it when God chose it than this unchaste woman when Hosea contracted marriage with her.

2. The unfaithful wife (ch. 2).

Notwithstanding the wonderful condescension on the part of the prophet in contracting marriage with this woman, Gomer, the unfaithful wife, departs from him to consort with her former base lovers. This shows Israel's base ingratitude in their departure from God to go after idols. Sore chastisement fell upon her for her unfaithfulness.

3. Illustration of Gomer, the unfaithful wife (ch. 3).

This illustrates God's undying love for Israel. The motive governing the prophet's act was love. God's love for Israel is just as real. His grace will yet move Him to take back that nation to Himself.

II. God's Love for Israel (Hosea 11:1-4, 8, 9).

1. Its beginning (v. 1).

It began when Israel as a nation was in its childhood. God loved the nation even while in Egypt.

2. "Called my son out of Egypt" (v. 1).

God called Israel out of the bondage of Egypt and brought them into Canaan, the land of freedom—flowing with milk and honey. Such love and favor placed Israel under peculiar obligation to God.

3. "Taught Ephraim to go" (v. 3).

In spite of Israel's backsliding (v. 2), God is represented as teaching Israel how to walk, even as a father taking up his child in his arms. God watched over them as parents watch over their children by night.

4. "I drew with cords of a man" (v. 4).

Observe that His drawing was not with a stout rope as used with an unruly heifer (ch. 10:11), but a cord such as a man could bear. God's wonderful love in Christ should constrain us to obey and serve Him.

5. Took off the yoke from the laws and placed food before them (v. 4).

The figure is of a husbandman lifting the yoke from the oxen so that they could eat.

6. Unwillingness to give them up (vs. 8, 9).

In spite of all Israel's sin, God was unwilling to destroy them.

III. God Pleads for Repentance (11:8-9).

Notwithstanding their awful sin, God urged Israel to turn unto Him. He is doing the same to backsliders today. He made promise unto them.

1. "I will heal their backslidings" (v. 4).

This is on the condition of frank and full confession.

2. "I will love them freely" (v. 4).

This is characteristic of God. Only God can express unmerited love.

3. "I will be as the dew to Israel" (v. 5).

God will refresh the nation as dew does the parched grass.

4. Growth promised (v. 5).

5. Beauty assured (v. 6).

6. Pleasant fragrance (v. 7).

While this is a picture of the restored nation, something similar may be seen in the fragrant, fruitful lives of men and women who have sinned and come back to God.

Faithfulness is All

He who is faithful over a few things is lord of cities. It does not matter whether you preach in Westminster Abbey, or teach a ragged class, so you be faithful. The faithfulness is all.—George MacDonald.
