EXTRA! THE MURRAY LEDGER. EXTRA!

VOL. 31, NO. 31.

MURRAY, KENTUCKY, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1909.

$1.00 PER YEAR.

BIG CROWDS ATTEND SPEAKINGS AT NEW CONCORD AND MURRAY.

The end came Saturday at Murray. Friday the candidates were at New Concord and were greeted by a splendid crowd of the untirred and unpurchasable yeomanry of the east side. It was a grand occasion for the boys who have been commissioned to capture the old rooster and hundreds of volunteers were ready to join the army.

They came to Murray to receive their farewell reception before starting out to get the rooster. A big crowd gathered to wish them God speed.

At New Concord Chas. Jordan, candidate for sheriff, gave a splendid account of himself and spoke in part as follows:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—It is a little funny and peculiar to see a man out here announcing himself as a Republican nominee for office, most especially is this true by referring back to only a few months ago to see how our opponents treated this matter as a little joke. My friends, it was stated at the time that probably ten per cent of Republicans and night riders would vote for Republicans and we are here before the people whom we are proud to meet and have listen to us.

Why is my friend, Mr. Holland, out here at present when he claims as a Democrat he is with 3500 against our only 800? There is something that causes him to be here. There is an uneasiness somewhere, my friends, or it is either the lack of confidence in the Democratic Party in Calloway county, or it is lack of confidence in himself that he realizes he is not the proper man. Why it is I don't claim to know, but there is something that causes him to be here.

The time has come in Calloway county when people are looking for the man instead of the party. The office for Sheriff of Calloway county does not mean that a man must be Republican or must be a Democrat. My friends, I as a Republican can make you a Sheriff. Mr. Holland as a Democrat can make you a Sheriff, but we are here announcing as the nominee of the Republican Party. We feel like we must have support from all the Calloway people. My friends, Mr. Holland may claim that he is the nominee of the people. If he is the nominee and if he has the confidence of the people, would he be here proclaiming you to stick to the no nine?

We have talked about the duties of the sheriff's office. Mr. Holland has stated on different occasions different things that he has done during his term as sheriff. He stated that his qualifications were superior to mine. My friends he has stated how he collected taxes, how he has saved money for the people of Calloway county, how he has captured night riders here and how many different things he has referred to, to cause the people to think that he could perform the duties of the office better than myself. My friends I want to say to you that I am a plain country-raised boy. I have the qualifications to fill this office. If it is necessary to go before the people here to look after men who have committed crimes it is my duty and I have the courage and manhood to do this. These statements that have been made by my opponent that his bravery tempted him to go after horse thieves, etc. when other men might not go, is only a farce. We have had sheriffs in Calloway county before Mr. Holland, we have a sheriff now. It has been the pleasure of Mr. Holland to read on every occasion the oath he expects to take this time, and from his uneasiness my friends he shows that he is afraid that he will not take this oath this time. He takes this oath that he will perform the duties, that he will administer to the rich and poor with no respect to persons. My friends, this is a duty that I will have to perform. I want to say to you gentlemen I want to have the vote of every man in this county whether he is a Republican or whether he is Democrat. I want you to vote for me not because I am a Republican, but vote for me because you think I am the man to fill the place.

I am not a Demosthenes, nor a Cicero, I am not a Patrick Henry nor Henry Clay but I would like to be a little Washington here in old Calloway to help lead the people from the tyrannical rule of Britton. Our good country must be delivered from this condition. I want to call your attention to this question of citizenship. It has been a question for the past few weeks whether or not I am a citizen of Calloway county, whether or not I will hold office when elected on November 2nd. I shall answer this in as few words as possible. I am a citizen of Calloway county. The constitution which Mr. Holland reads before you is true. I have read decisions handed down by the court of appeal, a superior court to Mr. Holland, and I am satisfied to make this race.

Mr. Holland stated that he expected on the 2nd of next November 750 majority in his favor. If this is so, my friends, why does he require me to take up so much time to explain this matter of citizenship. Turn with me to the Calloway Times published yesterday: "We suspect the candidacy of the gentleman from Graves is only the basis of a scheme to create a muddle in the sheriff's office in this county, in order that it may be made appointive, then we will have an appointed Republican sheriff and deputies, as we now have an appointed Republican county judge."

I want to say my friends that this statement here is as untrue as can be stated. I am making this race from a true standpoint. Again: "The only thing to do, to be on the safe side, is to elect Walter Holland sheriff and circumvent the wiles of designing politicians."

ARE COMMANDED BY "THE PEOPLE."

The Commander in Chief, THE PEOPLE, hereby commands and orders of all subordinates, and in the name of God and the Republic, as follows:

Brigadier Generals Patterson and Jordan, Colonel Erwin and First Lieutenant Langston, in charge of the guard house and commissary, are detailed and chosen from all the army to go forth and capture the stolen rooster. That the army might know these officers by these presence we send with this order a photograph of Brigadier General Jordan, Colonel Erwin and First Lieutenant Langston which are as follows and made a part of this order. We advise further, that owing to the fact that Brigadier General Patterson has been especially commissioned to lead the vanguard a photograph of him was not obtainable when the order was issued.

That no mistake might occur it is ordered that the official photographer furnish a good likeness of the stolen rooster and which is also published and made a part of this order:

Be it further decreed, that these officers especially detailed are commanded to be diligent in their inquiry, determined in their purpose and return not until this command is fulfilled. That these officers might know the disposition to make of the stolen rooster when recovered it is further ordered that the official photographer furnish a picture of the old hen house from which the rooster was stolen and which shall be included in this order and is reproduced as follows:

This special detail is ordered to place the stolen rooster in this house and notify the Commander-in-Chief, THE PEOPLE, when the army will assemble and offer up thanksgiving and prayer.

Therefore, be ye diligent in all things, returning not until this command is accomplished.

THE PEOPLE.
Done by order of THE PEOPLE, this year and day of our Lord 1909, October 31st day.

The yell of law and order, law and order; the yell of night rider, night rider, were both dropped like a hot brick and now it's nigger, nigger, nigger! Like wounded snakes they are biting with their poison and venom at everything in sight.

HANBERY ADMITTED THE DEFEAT OF THE COUNTY TICKET.

Jack and Denny left Murray Saturday at noon. Before leaving the hotel for the depot Hanbery called Chas. Jordan to one side in the hotel and taking him by the hand told him good-bye and as he did so said:

"THERE IS NOTHING BETWEEN YOU BOYS AND VICTORY, JORDAN, BUT THE COUNTING OF THE VOTE. YOU'VE GOT IT WON."

A NEIGHBOR WRITES IN INTEREST OF ERWIN.

Mr. Editor:

I want to say a few words through the Ledger in behalf of Clay Erwin, candidate for county attorney on the anti machine ticket.

I have known Clay since childhood, he having been born and raised on a farm in this section. His family are amongst the best people in Swann precinct. His father, although a republican in politics, having served as magistrate in this district several years. Clay has always borne a good reputation with the people who have known him since childhood, as being sober, honest and truthful, and a gentleman in every respect. After completing his education he turned his attention to the study of law, was admitted to the bar, and for the past two or three years he has resided at Murray, where he has successfully practiced his profession. We know he is competent to fill the position to which he aspires and recommend him to the consideration of the voters in other parts of the county who possibly do not know him so well.

Clay's devotion to what he conceives to be his duty is now being tested. Some three or four weeks ago two of his brothers were stricken with typhoid fever and have been, and are now, very low, and there being no woman in the home, Clay quit his canvass and came home to help his father nurse the stricken boys. This has, of course, prevented him from making a thorough canvass, and from being present at the speaking appointments to meet his opponent. But I believe that the people of this county will take these facts in consideration and that his interest will not suffer because of this self sacrificing spirit shown by him.

I understand that it is being circulated on the east side of the county that he will not even get the vote of his own party on this side where he is known. This is absolutely untrue. I don't know of a single one of them that will not vote for him, and when the report is sent in from Swann precinct you are going to find that a whole lot of other folks have voted for him and Chas. Jordan, another good man born and raised up in Swann precinct and that Swann district is proud of her two sons. I am told that last week when Mr. Holland was sick and could not be present at one or two of the speakings that Mr. Barnett said that Jordan ought not to speak in Holland's absence. This was a little bit inconsistent, in view of the fact that Mr. Barnett has been not only been using his own time, but also that of his opponent who has not been presenting a single time on account of the illness of his brothers. But if the candidates for sheriff had failed to speak I suppose that Mr. Barnett would have used their time also. I rather think he needs a good deal of time to explain things.

SUBSCRIBER.
We wait the good Democrats of Calloway county now, while an opportunity is ripe, to spot those Democrats who are now bolting their party nominees and working for the success of the Republican ticket. — Times.

Got the same editor back to get out the nigger issue of the Times that it had some few weeks ago as evidence from the above. If we mistake not the Ledger reminded the Times at the first publication of the above statement that the democrats of this county had already spotted the real bolters and they have them so ripe they wont keep longer than Tuesday.

Some few folks might wonder who is the daddy of the nigger edition of the Times since John Mc left town but nearly all can see the "birth mark." This editor has this to say about us: "The time of Jennings in this county we believe, is short, and he will leave this town unhonored, unwept and unsung."

Bet a dollar and a quarter the fellow who wrote it leaves first, and everybody will sing.

Ellie Myers died Thursday at his home on the west side of the county of congestion. He was about 28 years of age and was single. He is survived by a mother. Burial was in South Pleasant Grove Cemetery.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William O. At

If the land is free from burrs and cockles, let the sheep run over the grain and cornfields.

Regular food, clean, pure water and good housing will prove encouragement to the flock to do their best.

The farm is the place to grow the finest type of manhood. Happy is the farmer who is raising a good crop.

Prize money and will often run time producing good, profitable crops of market hay for an ordinary working lifetime.

Before retiring at night visit the stable and see that everything is all right. You may save a good horse by this little attention.

All fallen and wormy fruit fed to the pigs will do them good and return a profit to the farmer. It will also keep down the insect pests.

It is a good thing to keep accounts of all farming operations to know just where one is at all the time. We all like to know what the other farmer is doing, how he does it, and how much he makes.

It is time to cut the corn. If you wish to have them in flower at Christmas rather than (like all the world) at Easter, Frezdas, too, should be potted immediately for Christmas flowering.

Many complain that the birds eat up all of their garden seeds. This may be true in very rare cases, but it is not generally true. Some birds will eat some of them, but some waste in all crops must be expected.

Among bulbs suited to the window garden, the cyclamen is one of the most interesting varieties. The foliage is neat and elegant, and the whole growth makes a compact little bouquet. The flowers are unusually picturesque in their form.

Those who intend setting out trees and other plants in the fall should make their selections and have their orders in ahead of shipping time. Deal with agents and nurserymen who are known to be honest and who have stock that is up to grade and will grow.

Many farmers have a notion that because sheep will eat weeds and leaves of brush they do not need any other kind of food. Often when there are no weeds or grass in the pasture the sheep are allowed to graze almost the bare ground, and they are expected to live and thrive on this.

When the colts begin to eat, give a variety of feeds for the building of the various tissues of the body. Clover hay and wheat bran contain necessary mineral matter for the building of bone. Flax seed meal in small quantities is good for keeping the colts' bowels in good condition and for making their coat sleek.

An occasional bran mash, with about a pint of molasses should be given when a day's rest or light work can be had. Keep your stock clean and in shape as possible. By far the most important matter is that they should possess like characteristics of temper, and disposition, so that they will work in harmony.

Instruct your shipper to wrap the roots of the plants well and have him inform you by mail as to the time the shipment is made, so that you can be on the lookout for them and receive them without unnecessary delay. The plants should be insured against fungous diseases and injurious insects. Most states enforce this legally.

The durum wheat seems to have plenty of good qualities, and is coming to the front every year in western Nebraska and Kansas. Such being the case, the millers might as well make up their minds to deal with it. Farmers in the western part of this state are just finding out how to raise it; in years past they have not sowed it early enough and have not used enough seed.

Nitrogen must be maintained by legume crops and the best legume for the corn belt is clover. The clover crop should be left on the ground. If removed, not much, if any, nitrogen is added to the soil. If the crop is removed and fed to average live stock and the manure given average care and hauled back to the field, the loss is nearly one-half of the plant food and three-fourths of the organic matter. If a good crop of clover is left on the ground after every three or four years, only the seeds being removed, it will supply sufficient nitrogen for quite large grain crops.

Give the colts plenty of room to run about in.

Chilly nights makes one think of the winter's supply of fuel.

Be regular in cleaning the hen house and you will not be troubled with vermin.

Working capital for the successful farmer: Money, 25 per cent; brains, 75 per cent.

Sheep are exceedingly fond of turnips. Harvest the largest and leave the remainder for the sheep.

A general observation of care in collecting eggs, resulting in fewer rats and spiders, will raise the average price.

When getting machinery for the dairy, get the best appliances you can, but remember that it requires judgment to work it.

After you have worn out a horse by hard work do not sell him for a mere song. His faithfulness should not go unwarded.

Introduction of new blood into a flock of noted layers strengthens the blood. If the newcomers are close descendants of a strain of prolific layers.

The old Madonna Lily or St. Joseph's Lily (Lilium candidum), is still of the most noble and stately of our garden lilies, and this is its planting season.

Daffodils are perhaps the first choice with crocuses, snowdrops and grape hyacinths for variety, and in shady places lilies of the valley and some others.

Hay farming with chemicals as commonly practiced no doubt removes more fertility than it restores, but the process is very slow and no doubt highly profitable under right conditions.

Rhubarb needs plenty of rich fertilizer. Equal parts of hen and horse manure with autumn leaves to cover the crowns during the severe winter months will keep the plants for early spring sprouting.

If the hen has to battle with the strain of growing new feathers with a short supply of nourishing foods, her flesh will be used up for making feathers and she will grow poor and weak under the strain.

With most of the turbanous and bulbous plants it is imperative to reset in the fall in order to secure a new root growth before the dormant season of midwinter, so that early growth and blossoming will take place.

The Dutch bulbs, so-called tulips, hyacinths and crocuses have a distinctive charm in their whole form, color and manner of growth, which gives them a very secure place of their own in the floral census of the year.

Rhubarb roots should be replanted occasionally. If the stools remain undisturbed for several years they often commence to decay in the center and after awhile the whole root becomes diseased. Do not allow the seed stock to ripen.

Straw manure makes an excellent mulch for the winter. It will fill the holes and catch all the soil that washes into them. The manure contained in the straw will help to make the ground more productive when it is again cultivated.

The results from more than 100 cow trials, located in over one-half of the counties of New York State, indicate that where neither lime nor inoculation is applied the chance of a successful crop is not more than 20 per cent, or one chance in five.

With the high price of both wool and lambs, it is important that we should give the sheep and lambs extra attention during the most trying seasons of the year. One of these trying seasons is during the latter part of the hot months when the weather is excessively warm and pastures short.

Much improvement can be made by the weaning of the lambs in the summer; by doing this the ewes are given a chance to recuperate before the next breeding season. These lambs if put on fresh clover pasture will also fatten and be in better market condition than if let run with the ewes until late fall.

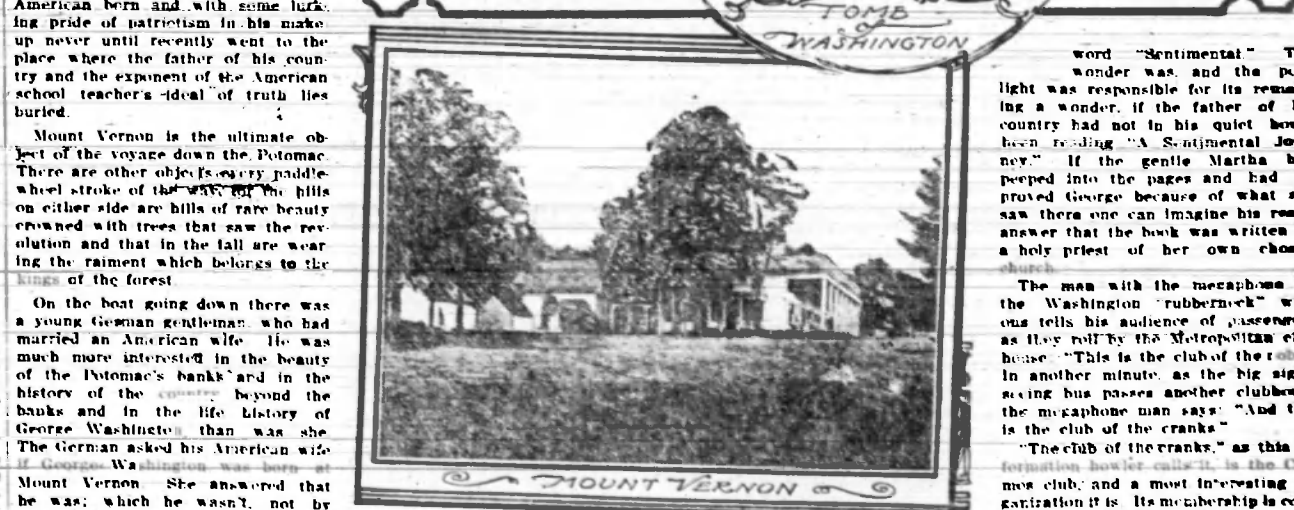

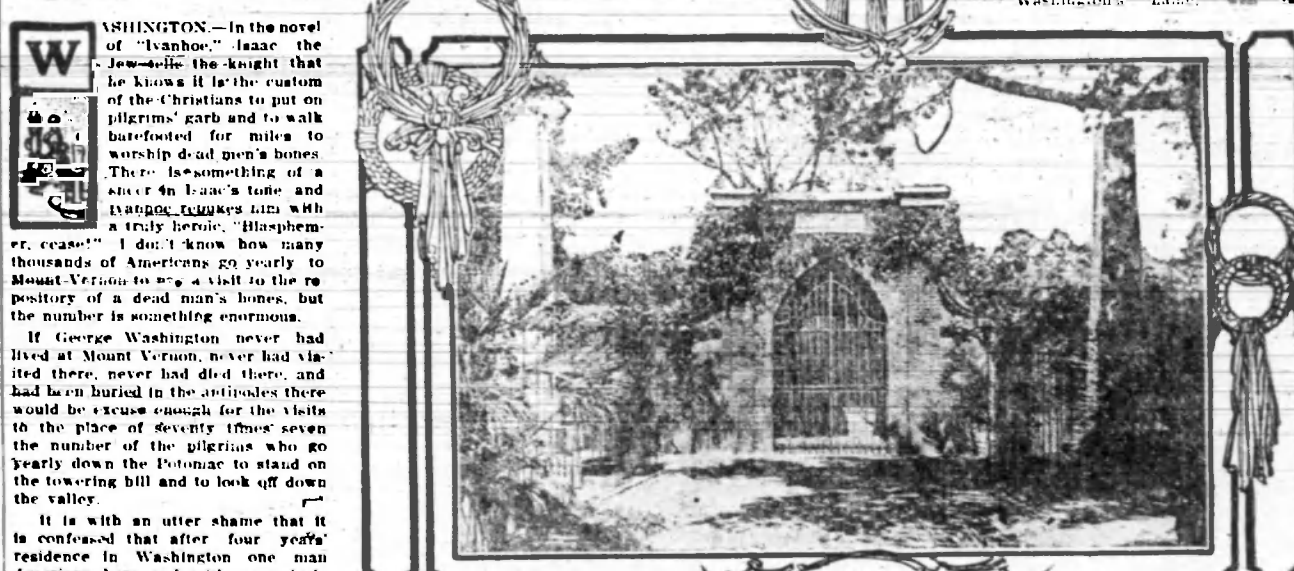

In several places owners of large herds of dairy cows report that their output this summer has fallen from 10 to 15 per cent below that of last summer. In most dairy sections, too, there are more cows this year than last, and the fact that less milk is produced this summer than last summer clearly indicates that the average flow per cow has decreased very much.

When the horse refuses to pull, do not get excited and abuse him. Be kind, caress him and allow his excitement by speaking kindly to him. Leave the team alone for ten or fifteen minutes, then urge them again turning them a little to the right or left so as to get them in motion before they feel the weight of the load behind them. Drive them about 10 or 20 steps and stop them. If on a hard pull stop the steered animal and let him rest. Then pat him and start again.

MOUNT VERNON SHRINE of AMERICAN PATRIOTISM

WASHINGTON AND HIS FAMILY

TOMB OF WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON.—In the novel of "Ivanhoe" Isaac the Jew—like the knight that he knows it is the custom of the Christians to put on pilgrims' garb and to walk barefooted for miles to worship dead men's bones. There is something of a stranger in Isaac's tone and language, however, when he says: "I don't know how many thousands of Americans go yearly to Mount Vernon to see a visit to the repository of a dead man's bones, but the number is something enormous."

If George Washington never had lived at Mount Vernon, never had visited there, never had died there, and had been buried in the antebellum there would be excuse enough for the visits to the place of seventy times seven the number of the pilgrims who go yearly down the Potomac to stand on the towering hill and to look off down the valley.

It is with an utter shame that it is confessed that after four years' residence in Washington one man American born and with some luck, ing pride of patriotism in his make up never until recently went to the place where his father's country and the exponent of the American school teachers' ideal of truth lies buried.

Mount Vernon is the ultimate object of the voyage down the Potomac. There are other objects, every paddle wheel stroke of the way, but the hills on either side are higher and more heavily crowned with trees that saw the revolution and that in the fall are wearing the raiment which belongs to the king of the forest.

On the boat going down there was a young German gentleman who had married an American wife. He was much more interested in the beauty of the Potomac's banks and in the history of the country beyond the banks and in the life history of George Washington than was she. The German asked his American wife what she thought of the place.

which he thought worthy enough to buy. The light wasn't good on the afternoon in mind and all that one pilgrim could make out of a book's title, above which was written Washington's name, was the word "Sentimental." The wonder was, and the poor light was responsible for its remaining a wonder, if the father of his country had not in his quiet hours been reading "A Sentimental Journey." If the gentle Martha had peeped into the pages and had reproved George because of what she saw there one can imagine his ready answer that the book was written by a holy priest of her own chosen

The man with the megaphone on the Washington "rubberneck" was one tells his audience of passengers as they roll by the Metropolitan club house. "This is the club of the club. In another minute, as the big night siren hisses another clubhouse the megaphone man says: "And this is the club of the cranks." As this to formal club, and a most interesting or exciting it is. Its membership is composed of scientists, some physicians and clergymen a few lawyers and two or three newspaper men. The scientists are in the great majority.

It costs a pretty penny to join the Metropolitan club and to pay the dues and to live the life of the club. The initiation fee at the Cosmos club is rather small, and the dues are light, but there are scores of members of the Metropolitan club. The club of the club, who usually pay twice or three the Metropolitan's initiation fee and the Metropolitan's dues if the expenditure could gain them admission to the club where the "cranks" foregather.

Every Monday night is called "social night" at the Cosmos club. Of course the clubhouse is open at all times, but on Monday evening the members make a special effort to be present and there is always a large gathering in the great, sweeping rooms of the house where once lived Holly Madison.

They don't intrude "shop" upon you in the Cosmos club. The members are a genial body of men and they have many guests from all parts of the world. They find out what the great lives talk about and then some one who knows the subject is promptly introduced to him. There are few world subjects upon which you cannot get an expert opinion in the Cosmos club.

The members, of course, have their hobbies and they ride them. In one corner of a room there will be an astronomical group, and there will be another corner with a fish group and another corner with a bird group and another corner with a talk about and then some one who knows the subject is promptly introduced to him. There are few world subjects upon which you cannot get an expert opinion in the Cosmos club.

There is a real interest, however, in the library of the old house. In the main the books are simply copies of those which were on the shelves in Washington's time. The originals, as I understand it, are in several libraries of the country. There are two originals, however, which are open at the little gazebo, so that if the light be good, one may read Washington's name written in his own hand and the title of the book

THE MURRAY LEDGER.

O. J. JENNINGS, EDITOR.

Entered at the postoffice at Murray, Kentucky, for transmission through the mail as second class matter.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1909.

THE CONTRAST IS DRAWN.

The most convincing evidence to thinking persons that there is corruption and rottenness, or more plainly speaking, "something dead up the creek," between the democratic judicial ticket and the county tail to their kite is the fact that neither will endorse the other openly. Why does this condition of affairs exist? If either is too corrupt or crooked for the other to endorse openly it is too corrupt and crooked to endorse by silent consent. Is the tail of the kite attempting to lend dignity to the kite itself or is the kite attempting to lend dignity to its own tail? There is some reason for this, silence and it will not bear investigation in the open.

Upon the other hand Judge McCarroll and Hon. Walter Krone, who have spoke at many places in this county in the interest of their own candidacy, have upon every occasion made a plea for clean politics, a plea for a change of affairs that will bring peace and quiet out of political chaos in Calloway. We quote in substance what each of these men have said upon every occasion:

What McCarroll said: "who has the courage of his convictions. He is well equipped for the office which he seeks. No man in the state would make a better sheriff, and he deserves it. That I have been hired at a fixed salary to run for circuit judge, in order that I might help to defeat the Democratic Party of this county. This charge is utterly false as you must have grounds, and why should I not known when it was made. But this I do say, that you cannot do a better thing in the coming election than to vote the Republican ticket in this county. These men are all clean men, good men, all competent men, honest and trustworthy; they are all law abiding men, they represent everything that the people in this audience want."

"Who ever heard that Judge Patterson was ever under suspicion of being in the slightest degree in sympathy with lawlessness in any of its forms? Who ever heard of Charlie Jordan being connected within anything wrong and lawless? I have never met a man who so impressed me as a model gentleman. He has stood for the law and order of his community, he has respect for the courts of the land. He is a man of moral and religious sentiments, he is a man

Look a little farther and detect the hypocritical action upon the part of the head of the other ticket, and we appeal to all thinking, reasoning voters to answer for themselves the reason. Below we publish what Jack and Denny have said upon every occasion in behalf of the tail end of their kite:

Jack Hanbery said:

Denny Smith said:

SOME REAL NIGGER SPOUTIN'.

Stung by Ollie James' refusal last Monday to take up the cat-o-nine-tails and lash the thousands of honest, decent democrats of this county who will not steal or endorse theft, and in the presence of a number of gentlemen standing in the court yard after dimes had finished speaking, Zeb A. Stewart made the declaration that "NORODY BUT NIGGERS AND NIGHT RIDERS WERE GOING TO VOTE THE REPUBLICAN TICKET."

Sweet talk, beautiful sentiment from the lips of a great law and order apostle. Zeb Stewart nor the Calloway Times can neither insult the decent citizenship of Calloway county nor in their endeavor are only heaping coals of fire upon their own heads.

OUR LAST APPEAL.

This is the last issue of the Ledger that will reach the public of Calloway county before the election. But little can be said by us that will now be of influence or effect upon the citizenship of this county regarding their determination in the fight that has been waged and which will culminate Tuesday. The public opinion is moulded and nothing that we might say will detract or add to the result.

This paper has made an honest fight for the rule of the people and against the rule of a few. We have fought fairly, we have fought in the open, we have fought for the basic principles of the party, the tenants of which we hold sacred. We have fought without fear or favor, we have fought without malice, we have yielded unto Cesar the things which belonged to Cesar. We have fought for that which an honest conscience dictated to be for the best interests of every man, woman and child in this splendid county.

The accusations, the maledictions, the abuse, the vilification and the falsehoods hurled broadside at us by the gang at whose alter we refused to bow and offer up supplication only fanned to flame a determination to hew to the line permitting the chips to find lodgment where they may.

We have seen the inconsistency, the hypocrisy injected into this fight and we exposed it. We have witnessed the emptiness of the lash applied by those who have often and watonly abandoned the fundamental principles of the party of Jefferson, of Jackson, of Clay, of Calhoun and of Bryan and we protested. This lash was not applied to maintain democracy, it was applied to maintain selfish, greedy personal interests. The tenants of democracy have been trampled under foot like a dirty rag, the rights of the people have been over-riden to satisfy the greed of gold, until like the worm of the dust, they have turned to defend and avenge themselves, and we have championed their cause.

We have stated our reasons for this fight and honesty compels an admission of the stability of the platform on which we stand. Party officials have favored a few at the cost of many within its ranks and the conduct was wrong. Party corruption purchased success for favorites at the cost of others and it was wrong. Party officials have satisfied personal aims at the cost of the rank and file and it was wrong. Officials prepared a feast and made merry while the boys in the trenches sang the requiem.

The disposition of this question is in the hands of the sovereign voters of this county. Your verdict as it will be rendered will be the decision of the highest tribunal on earth and must be accepted. Take it and as you go into your booths on Tuesday do with it as your honest, sincere and prayerful conscience dictates and you have fulfilled the highest duty of citizenship.

THE BROOKLYN STATE.

Judge, "Jack." Attorney, "Denny." Master Commissioner, "K." Trustee Jury Fund, "Z. A. S." Editor, "Herschman."

Nigger!

Nigger, nigger!

Nigger, nigger, nigger!

Nigger, nigger, nigger, nigger!

Polls open at 6 and close at 6 o'clock.

Keep the fact in your head that Jennings is not a candidate.

The Times aborted again Saturday afternoon and it was a nigger.

Wert knows how cold the receptions were at the speakings the past week. He kept his eye on the "thermometer."

The Times states that McCarroll and Krone met with "icebergs at Stella." Must have learned that from Wert's "thermometer."

Vote your honest convictions; vote for majority rule; vote to destroy gag rule; stay with the old hen house from roost pole to roof.

A nigger in Almo wrote a letter to a nigger in Murray and the Times immediately issued a nigger extra. Aint that going some, aint in the same day?

We can't see the necessity of importing Jake Corbett of Ballard county, to learn the gang how to steal. They can give him cards and spades and beat him two in the game.

McCarroll and Krone profess to be the only true bottled-in-bend advocates of law and order.

What's s'matter with "Newt" and "L"? Thought they'd that kind.

When a newspaper finds it necessary to issue an extra edition of its paper to give an account of the fact that a nigger in Almo wrote a letter to a negro in Murray isn't it evident that such a newspaper has but very little to talk?

Jake Corbett closed up his tour of Calloway in Murray where he spoke to about 50 voters. Jake was heard to declare that Calloway had fewer people in it than any county he ever saw. He was judging from the crowds he had out to hear him.

We would suggest that the niggers in Almo quit writing letters to the niggers in Murray and that the niggers in Murray quit writing to the niggers in Almo for a few days at least. It will put Billie Wear and the gang to a heap of trouble to get out an extra nigger edition of his paper for each letter that is written.

The county candidates spoke at Concord on Friday. Fully two hundred voters heard every candidate through. A fair and conservative estimate of the crowd was more than four to one for the straight democratic ticket.

Damn! Aint so funny we want the people to know what the Times said about it. Heard every candidate through! Ask Ed Phillips if that don't jar his punches. "Four to one" for what? The woolcock has been dead two weeks but he is just to get to fall over dead again.

A LITTLE HISTORY.

Calloway county has administered many rebukes to corruption within its history. "So far shalt thou go and no farther" has been enforced many times. Many of our citizens will recall these contests.

Jas. Hutchens defeated P. M. Ellison for county court clerk. Geo. Craig defeated L. C. Linn for county judge. Charley Stewart defeated J. A. Radford for sheriff. Butler Keys defeated Jas. Spann for judge. Geo. Diuguid defeated J. H. Coleman for county attorney. B. C. Keys carried Calloway county by 99 votes over Chas. K. Wheeler for congress.

Calloway has hundreds of citizens who will not be bound by party lines or driven by party lash in the endorsement of corruption as is evidenced by the above.

BIG CROWDS ATTEND SPEAKING

Continued from First Page. and their deep, dark schemes. Mr. Jordan is being misled by bad men, and will see his error after it is too late.

Now, my friends, the idea is that there is somewhere someone or other that is trying to place me before you as a schemer. My friends, the only scheme there is to it is that I want to be your sheriff and the votes of the people will determine whether or not I am to be, and if you determine to give me your vote you will give it to a man who will go forth and discharge his duty to every man alike.

Now, my friends, I want to take up some of my time in noticing a few of the many articles that have been published in the Calloway Times regarding our nominations and race for election. Listen to this.

"Gov. Willson regards a Republican alliance with night riders as disgraceful and disgusting, and does not hesitate to say so."

Ladies and gentlemen, I was raised "right over" here not far away. People who know me know where I stand. This disgraceful reference here and the language in which it is written was intended to poison the minds of the people towards us.

Again: "Let all good republicans, and all others who do not favor night ridership, talk a little business straight from the shoulder and demand of the would be Republican candidates to say whether or not they approve of night rider methods, and say whether or not they are trying to lead the republican party into the night riders camp."

It is not necessary for me to state whether or not I am a night rider or whether or not I am a night rider sympathizer. The Republican party has never claimed this night rider question nor I have had no man come to me and make any proposition relative to the night rider or anything of the kind.

A letter from Kirksey published in this same paper and signed by Long Tom says:

"Last in the county papers the announcement of some more candidates subject to the action of the Republican party. The good, clean, honest republicans in this section object to them using the cabin as their device next fall. I think a stocking leg would suit better, as they are a mixed up breed. One has been a Union Democrat and the other has been a Republican. Well, we Democrats don't mind them, and the good Republicans, don't claim them, and they will have to have a device of some sort. Let us hear from other correspondents what they think. I just suggested a stocking leg, if anybody else can think of something better I will give way."

Kind friends I want to say to you these things were written for a purpose in this paper. It seems to me like the purpose of this was to intimidate the Republicans of Calloway county. I would be glad that the Republicans and Democrats see what is going on. Now as to this Patterson business referred to yesterday by Mr. Holland, there was a purpose in going to see Mr. Patterson. There is a little nigger in the woodpile here. The time has come when Mr. Patterson is not such a night rider or night rider sympathizer as he was represented to be in the campaign last fall between him and Mr. Holland. And not only has he been in conversation with Mr. Patterson but the other nominees with him have been going over this county for private caucuses with men who were called night riders or night rider sympathizers by their gang. The truth of the business is, the time has now come when Mr. Holland sees that Jordan is a very rugged road for him to travel and that on Nov. 2nd he is fearful that he will fail to land into victory. They must now leave out the night rider issue and turn to the democrats and appeal to them that they must stick to the nominee.

Mr. Holland stated that I would not come over here and make these statements. I am here. I wish I had thirty minutes more to talk. I want to say that I thank you for your attention. Ladies, I want to thank you for your presence and attendance. Your presence on every occasion graces our audience and for this we feel very grateful to you.

Gentlemen I want to say to you don't vote for me because I am a Republican but because you know I am the right man for sheriff of Calloway county. If you do that my friends I will ask you to support me.

Gentlemen let me tell you the story of Uncle Ephram and the cheese. Uncle Ephram had been serving his master well and when Christmas came his master wanted to give him something to show that he appreciated his services, and knowing that he liked cheese he put a box of cheese under Uncle Ephram's door. Uncle Ephram found the cheese and had his wife to make some biscuits and put the cheese between them and ate it and thought it was good. His master gave him a box of cheese every Christmas for several years and after he died his sons kept up the old habit, but being tricky put a box of axle grease in front of Uncle Ephram's door instead of the cheese. Uncle Ephram found the axle grease and smeared it between his biscuits and ate it and made faces over it.

Now my friends here is the application, Mr. Holland has been treating the cheese off the people for many years but this year the people are going to give him a box of axle grease and give Jordan the cheese.

F. M. Youngblood, of north of Kirksey, who returned last week from Dawson left Friday for Creed Springs, Ill., where he will spend several weeks for the benefit of his health.

Republican Gibraltar Turns Democratic By Big Majorities For All Offices.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 3. The democratic landslide of Tuesday was unprecedented in the political history of Christian county. For the first time in the history of the county, a city are in democratic hands. The Third Judicial district, Judge J. T. Hanbery, of Hopkinsville carried every county in the district and his majority is the largest ever known, aggregating 2,007 votes, distributed as follows:

Christian 383; Trigg, 492; Calloway, 767; Lyon 356. For commonwealth's attorney, Denny Smith's majority is considerably more than 1,700.

Christian county, known as republican Gibraltar, on account of its enormous majorities in former years, executed a complete flip-flop and every candidate the democratic ticket is electing by overwhelming majorities ranging from 404 in the county clerk's race, up to 1,352 in the race of D. J. H. Rice, for commonwealth's attorney. Alesworth negro preacher, who has held office many years under republican administration. The democrats also elected a host of members of the fiscal court, together with the county judge and five out of seven members of the city council.
