Plans have been completed for holding the Methodist conference in this city from Tuesday, November 10, until Saturday, November 14. It is estimated that five hundred delegates will attend. The opening session is scheduled to be preached by Rev. W. M. The afternoon sessions are scheduled to start at 3:00 o'clock, and various preachers will be appointed to conduct these services. Rev. E. M. Mathis, pastor of the First Methodist here, concluded in announcing the conference.

Plans and arrangements are now being completed to take care of the delegates and visitors in the homes of Fulton people. On Sunday, the last day of the conference, 1,000 or 1,500 guests are expected.

STRAND THEATRE TO HAVE HALLOW-EEN MIDNIGHT SHOW

Plans have been made by the management of the Strand Theatre here for a special midnight Halloween Show, Saturday night, showing "The Legion of Terror." This picture is an appropriate one for the occasion.

A production race between Columbia and Warners, reported here a few weeks ago, to complete a Black Legion picture has been won by the former. Columbia's "Legion of Terror" is ready for release any minute. Warners finished "Black Legion" this week and expects to screen it within two weeks. Each had hoped to have its picture out before a verdict was reached in the trial of 11 Michigan men accused in the killing of Charles A. Poole. Both stories are based on the Detroit case.

LEWIS TELLS OF HOMECOMING GAME

Tomorrow will be the testing day for the Bulldogs! Just how good are they? Will they be good enough to be in the "A" class? Was last week's exhibition just an accident? Will they be able to stop Albritten, the outstanding back of the conference? Will their passing attack function against the Tigers? All of these and dozens of other questions will be answered at Fairfield Friday, at 2:30. Murray is confident of victory. They are bringing their crack high school band to put on a demonstration between halves and to parade just before the game. In fact, they think the game is in the bag. Well may they think this! They have not lost a game this year. They have tied Mayfield at nothing all and they are in second place in the conference race. The Bulldogs do not have such an imposing record. They have lost three games and won two, but they have played in a bit faster company than the Tigers have. The two teams seem to be about evenly matched. The Tigers will try to shake Albritten loose for a touchdown jaunt, while the Bulldogs will seek to get their brilliant passing attack to function. The Tigers will have a decided weight advantage in the line. While the backfields will be about equal in weight. Both are smart and alert teams, anxious to win.

In fact, this game will be about the most crucial one played in the conference this week. It will just about decide the championship. Paducah will be backing the Bulldogs. The local fans should be backing them. If they want to see the Bulldogs perform in all their glory they should see the game. Coach Carter will start Crawford and Thomas at end, Williams and Snow at tackle, Cooke and Lovelace at guard, Peeples at center, Nanney and B. Williams at half, Beedies at quarter, and Parker at full.

In addition to the game, the football queen will be crowned just before the game starts. For the last three days the students have been selling tickets for the game and securing votes for queen candidates. Four beautiful princesses, Carolyn Hill, Cavita Brown, Kathleen Winder, and Elizabeth Drysdale, are the candidates for this honor. It will be a great day and a great game! Be there to see it.

Coach Carter's Bulldogs of Fulton High School ran wild here last Friday afternoon, to win over Dresden the one-sided score of 55 to 0. Nanney made the first touchdown soon after the game got underway, and from then on, line-backs, end, and runs and aerial plays netted the Bulldogs the topheavy score.

COLORS GRID TEAM CONTINUES TO WIN

The grid team of the Rosenwald colored school of South Fulton, continued its winning streak last Friday by defeating Union City 32 to 0, in a game played here. Rosenwald scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, coasted through the second, scored again in the third, and twice in the fourth. So far this season, the local team has won four and tied another, with no losses.

Coach Newbern evidently has drilled his boys well, but he states that the big battle will be at Paducah this Friday.

J. C. Wiggins, supervisor of old age pension investigation in Fulton county, states that so far eleven grants have been made in this county, ranging from $8 to $12. Payments of these pensions will start soon.

SEVEN PARTIES NAMED ON ELECTION BALLOT

Ballots which are being arranged for distribution in the twenty-three precincts in Fulton county, Tuesday, November 3, contain the emblems of seven parties in the Presidential race.

The first column contains the name of the Democratic party under a circle which is surmounted by a rooster. There follows a list of eleven Democratic Presidential electors.

Then follow the names of M. M. Logan for United States Senator; Charles K. O'Connell for Clerk of the Court of Appeals; R. Lee Stewart for Representative in Congress from the First district and J. E. Rhew for magistrate in Magisterial district No. 6.

The log cabin in the second column is set over a circle and the name of the Republican party.

In addition to the eleven presidential electors, there are the names of Robert Lucas, nominee for the United States Senate; R. Lee Stewart, for Clerk of the Court of Appeals; Robert N. Brumfield, for Representative in Congress from the First District.

Next in order are the columns for the Union Party, Communist party, Socialist Labor party, Socialist party and the Prohibition party. Only the two major parties have full tickets. All have full sets of residential electors except the Communist party, which named only two, H. A. Davis, Louisville, and Fernando Burch, Covington.

Here in Fulton the people will elect two new members for the Fulton city school board. Four candidates have filed for nomination as follows: Vodie Hardin, Paul Hornebeak, R. E. Goldsby and R. H. Wade. The board is composed of five members, three of which hold office and are not up for election at this time.

The officials were E. C. Berry, Supt.; C. E. McGee, District Sales Manager; L. S. Tague, Route Agent and W. M. Everett, Traveling Commercial Agent.

The program was as following with C. H. Melton acting as chairman: Miss Kathleen Winter, vocal solo and guitar; Martha Melton, piano solo; colored quartet composed of porters from the local force. Kentucky Needs Roosevelt

Kentuckians . . . and the citizens of other States should be grateful to FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT not only because of humane and progressive social security legislation but because of the conversion of deep despair and economic chaos into confidence and orderly prosperity.

In 1932 - - Under Hoover

Frantic home-owners could not pay their mortgage interest—sometimes 8 or even 12 per cent.

Banks were staggering under a weight of "frozen" loans, loaded with unsaleable real estate.

Banks were failing at the rate of 100 a month. Bank deposits were not protected.

Business, unable to get credit, piled up 25,000 bankruptcies in 1932

Kentucky factories were closing and cutting off men periodically.

Educators were conferring about plans to save the educational system from collapse as revenues shrank.

Wheat was 48 cents a bushel, corn 24 cents. It cost more to raise stock than it brought at market.

The family automobile rusted in the barn—no money for gas.

Some 900,000 farms were sold by foreclosure or for unpaid taxes.

Farm Cash Income DROPPED

Under 4½ Billion -- 1932

In 1936 - - Under Roosevelt

Home Owners' Loan Corporation restored 1,000,749 homes to their owners, F. C. A. saved a half million more.

In June, 1933, mortgages were foreclosed at the rate of 1,000 a day; in March, 1936, foreclosures were lowest in 5 years.

By paying $225,000,000 in back taxes, Home Owners' Loan Corporation enabled towns and counties to continue schools and other public services.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation advances of $75,000,000 for home repair benefited workmen, contractors and dealers.

Farmers have saved over 20 million in annual interest charges on loans refinanced by F. C. A.

The exchange of liquid government-guaranteed bonds for frozen mortgages has protected the savings of 50,000,000 people invested in real estate by banks, insurance and loan companies.

Dollar wheat is back and corn tripled in price.

New automobiles carry the farmer to a market where his stock sells at a profitable figure.

Not a single bank failure in the entire Nation in 1936, for the first time in 55 years. Banks savings are protected by Federal deposit insurance.

Educators are teaching in better equipped, modern buildings than any time in history.

As the farmer's income has increased, the business of every merchant, large or small, has grown.

Fear has been banished; hope has returned and the feet of the Nation set definitely on the road to abundant prosperity.

Farm Cash Income ROSE

2½ Billion in 1936

WE URGE ALL KENTUCKIANS, MEN AND WOMEN, DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS, TO VOTE FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND THOSE WHO WILL HELP HIM -- SENATOR M. M. LOGAN AND THE STATE'S DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMAN, N. J. GREGORY.

Vote The Straight Democratic Ticket November 3rd.

WARM, CLEAN HOUSES FOR THE FARM FLOCK

It is very important that you have your flock in a warm, clean house by November 1. This will mean more profit to you for the following reasons:

1. A warm clean house will increase the disease resistance of your birds from such diseases as infection, bronchitis, roup, chicken-pox and cinder.

2. Hens cannot use the food they consume for egg production if they use it to warm the wet mud under their feet while out in the chicken yard.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that you cannot afford a warm place for your farm flock. Scrap lumber can be used to strip the cracks. Many houses can be made warmer by setting corn fodder on the north, east and west sides. In many cases it will be an advantage to build up the inside of a chicken house with fresh dirt where dirt floors are used. If possible, it would be much better to put a concrete floor in your chicken house. This will not cost much if the farmer can do this work during his spare time. A concrete floor should have at least two inches of cinders and two inches of gravel underneath it. This will prevent collection of moisture during cold damp weather.

Concrete floors should be kept covered at all times with straw. This will make the house easier to clean and keep dry and warm. A straw loft can be put in many houses very economically. This will keep the flock warmer and also improve the ventilation.

Don't let your hens freeze this winter. They will not make you a profit unless they are well protected from cold weather.

PROPERLY COOKED INEXPENSIVE CUTS OF MEAT ARE GOOD

If the homemaker uses inexpensive cuts of meat, can they be made appetizing?

It's all in how they are cooked, in the opinion of the home economics department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Money-saving cuts of meat are beef chuck, rump, flank, round or shoulder, shoulder and breast of lamb, and shoulder of pork. The tougher cuts require moist heat and slow cooking, so braising is suggested for cooking round or chuck.

Season the meat with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and brown in a small amount of fat. Then place in a deep baking dish, surround with vegetables, add seasonings and browned onions and enough water to half cover the material. Cover closely and bake in a very slow oven from one to four hours until tender. It may also be cooked on top of the stove if care is used to keep the water below boiling.

Roasts should be cooked slowly, because it gives them a better flavor, a more uniform degree of doneness, and less shrinkage. Tests made in the home economics laboratory showed that roasts cooked at high temperature shrunk five times as much as the one cooked at a low temperature. It was also found that searing results in greater shrinkage, despite the popular opinion to the contrary.

Meat is highly desirable in the daily diet, one third of a pound of boneless meat per normal adult is certainly not injurious. Meat is high in iron, phosphorus and copper, and in complete protein.

AMERICAN FARMERS CAN PROFIT FROM THIS

Farmers in South West Africa are finding the production of karakul pelts a profitable business, says a report to the Louisville District Office of the Department of Commerce. Production advanced in the last ten years from 26,000 pelts in 1926 to 514,193 pelts in 1935. The average price in 1935 for karakul pelts was approximately $4.75 but it is anticipated that this price will increase during the current year. This has resulted in many farmers in South West Africa turning to this type of farming.

DAIRY PRODUCTS SHOW INCREASE IN KENTUCKY

The production of milk on farms in the State of Kentucky totaled 196,110,205 gallons in 1934, according to a special report to the 1935 Federal Farm Census and just received by the Louisville District office of the Department of Commerce. Shelby, Jefferson, and Graves were the three leading counties in the State in 1934 in the production of milk. Cows milked in 1934 numbered 584,784, an increase of 20 percent over 1929, and were reported on 227,302 or 62 percent of all the farms in the State. Butter churned on farms in Kentucky amounted to 24,349,225 pounds in 1934, an increase of 1,463,525 pounds over 1929. The three leading counties in the State in the production of butter in 1934 were Pulaski, Pike, and Christian.

EX-CLINTON BARBER HELD FOR ROBBERY

The arrest of Charles Locke, age 43, one time barber of Clinton, Ky., was announced Saturday at Paducah by authorities of the state police department, who said that he is wanted in Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Louisiana, Arkansas and Illinois on several charges of highway robbery.

Locke was arrested on Tuesday of last week by state police at his home in Clinton, but his apprehension was kept secret until Saturday. He is being held in the McCracken county jail at Paducah.

POOR BUSINESS TO BREED LATE LAMBS

Saving late lambs for breeding is condemned by Richard C. Miller in a new University of Kentucky College of Agriculture circular called "Ewes for Commercial Flocks." Late lambs have few good and many undesirable characteristics, so far as breeding ewes are concerned, he declares. The use of late and unthrifty ewe lambs has seriously affected the quality of the Kentucky lamb crop, he believes. Mr. Miller, in this circular, discusses the use of range and native ewes, when and where to purchase ewes, culling of the flock, sanitation and other subjects of interest to sheep raisers. The circular is No. 286, and may be obtained from county agents or by writing to the college.

GREAT DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY
SEEN BY CHAIRMAN BARNES

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 29.—While the outlook is bright for a tremendous Democratic majority in Kentucky this year, perhaps a landslide greater than that of four years ago, State campaign chairman, State campaign chairman, urges the county campaign chairman and precinct workers to leave no stone unturned to get the voters to the polls Tuesday, November 3.

"Everything points to an unprecedented majority in the State," Chairman Barnes said. "The Democratic party has a registered majority in the State of close to 200,000; we have the most militant organization that has been perfected in recent years; every man and woman in the various county organizations has the same object in view, a majority to exceed that of four years ago, and this can be accomplished only through hard work on the day of the election.

"We at campaign headquarters urge the precinct workers not to be lulled to a state of inactivity through overconfidence, and when the vote count has been completed I know everyone comes with a thrill such as can come only from an old-fashioned Democratic landslide."

It is apparent that the Republican campaign in Kentucky has collapsed. It was stated during the week by former Senator A. O. Stanley, who has devoted four weeks in campaigning through the State in the interest of President Roosevelt, Senator M. M. Logan and the Democratic congressional nominees.

"I have never seen such inactivity on the part of a Republican organization during more than thirty years in politics," Senator Stanley said, "but this lack of activity on their part must not cause a let-up on the part of the Democratic workers throughout the State."

"I have never seen the Democrats of Kentucky so united as they are this year," Senator Stanley said, "and this can mean only one thing, a majority for President Roosevelt and Senator Logan in the State and for the congressional nominees in their respective districts greater than ever before."

"It is only through organization that the ballots are placed in the boxes on election day," Senator Stanley said, "and my campaign over the State convinces me that the Democratic organization this year is the best ever welded together. For that reason I feel sure the national party leaders will have reason to rejoice when the returns from Kentucky are relayed to national headquarters and to President Roosevelt in the White House."

AMOS ROBEY

Amos Robey passed away at 8 A. M. Friday morning, October 2, in the Fuller-Gilliam hospital in Mayfield, Kentucky. Death was due to an infection of the throat brought on by an attack of tonsillitis. The body was brought to Fulton and prepared for burial by Winstead-Jones funeral directors, and later to the home of his parents in the Chapel Hill-Johnson Grove community. Funeral services were held at Chapel Hill Saturday at 2 P. M. by Rev. Cletus Moore of Greenfield, assisted by Rev. H. A. West of Union City. Burial was in the church cemetery. Flower girls and honorary pallbearers were girls and boys who had ridden the South Fulton School bus which he had driven for the past two years. Flower girls were: Geneva Sharpe, Jewell Ferguson, Alice Allen, Sarah Norman, Martha and Dorothy Roach; the pallbearers were: Honorary, James Warren, Howard Webb, Cleo Peoples, Henry Lee Allen, Billie and John Owen. Active, Paul Nanney, Jack Crockett, Hafford Milstead, John Robert Dedmon, Chester Brown Hastings, and James Dedmon.

William Amos Robey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Robey, was born January 20, 1913. He married Miss Edna Meacham of Fulton, Kentucky, on November 12, 1933. At the time of his death his wife was seriously ill with tonsillitis at the home of her parents and was unable to be with him at the hospital or to attend the funeral. He is survived by his wife, parents, one brother, Joe Robey, one nephew, Raymond Robey, his grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Robey and a number of other relatives.

With the exception of only a few weeks Amos had spent his entire life in this community. The past season he was a bus driver for the Fulton Ball Club. He had just started his third year as driver for the South Fulton School bus. He was a kind, affectionate boy who would do anything possible for his friends. That his friends were legion was manifested by the many who called at the home, the beautiful floral offerings and one of the largest crowds ever known to attend any service at Chapel Hill.

WHY WE ARE FOR ROOSEVELT

Speaking generally, we are for Roosevelt for the same reason that we think we would have been for Jefferson or Jackson or Lincoln had we lived in their day. We are convinced that future historians, as the years bring the complete perspective, will record Roosevelt along with those. We believe that in him the times providentially produced the man that we have lived through an era far more dangerous than any of us fully realized; that our very form of government might have perished had we not been blessed with a leadership equipped with those qualities of courage, vision, understanding, human sympathy and daring which must be present if a major crisis is to be survived. Further, we believe that had we drawn in 1932 a Polk or a Hoover, a Buchanan or a Harding, our highly intricate economic system might have been completely smashed.

It is needed only to recall a few of the events—the banking paralysis, the food riots in the cities, the organized defiance of the courts in the agricultural regions, the use of the army against veterans in the Nation's capital, the hunger and the desperation—to picture what might have happened had the ship of state then been turned over to a muscle-bound, tradition-minded and near-sighted pilot. Thank God we didn't get one, but instead one who could keep his head when all about were losing theirs, who could remain calm-eyed while the panic reigned, who could be different, who could experiment who could sense the full size of the peril and take such chances as were necessary to the rescue. Let it be thought that we are swept away with hero worship, let us record now that we think this man's list of shortcomings high in ratio to the very size of his genius. That is always true with the really great. We have criticized him much, and will much more; but what we are trying to do with is the "net," the balancing average, of the man. And that is higher, in our opinion, than that of any other public figure of our time. When all the petty stuff which boils to the surface of any political campaign—when that is gone and forgotten—when 1940 shall have come and departed and a few decades have been superimposed, we predict that they'll be looking for a spot somewhere within view of the Potomac to build something grand to commemorate the name of the one who licked a depression that was worse than war.

COUNTY SCHOOLS

Clyde Lassiter, superintendent of the Fulton county school system, has been given state-wide recognition upon his fine work with the schools of this county. He has been able to go forward through the cooperation of the County Board of Education, composed of some of this county's most forward-looking men. They all deserve commendation for their labors in interest of education in our community.

The people of the Cayce neighborhood are justly proud of the fine new school building which was recently completed there. The building is situated on a high promontory, and is ideally located in the center of the county.

Many citizens who have had occasion to visit the new Cayce school are highly appreciative of the progress that is being made there.

APPLIED CHRISTIANITY

"The trouble with civilization," an old journeyman printer of our acquaintance used to say, "is that we have a dearth of Christianity and a super-abundance of religious observance."

And so it has been, it seems to us, in our American political life, up until some three years ago. We had listened to droning sermons about "freedom of opportunity," had been fed by our political orators on fine catch-words and high-sounding phrases, to prove that we were each had every one of us happy and contented and just about the most prosperous folk to o' the globe.

Then came the great depression and disclosed the fact that in our political religion there was precious little solid comfort for a man out of work; that the ponderous platitudes about our freedom didn't put money in a pay envelope, didn't feed hungry children. We found that the "land of plenty" might be in sight for a precious few—but not for the rank and file. Our "religion" was all right, but our political Christianity so to speak, was impractical and unworkable.

With the coming of Franklin Roosevelt, this country has seen applied in its government, in three short years, more of the practical teachings of humanity, democracy, yes, of Christianity, than has ever been attempted by any chief executive. We have all believed in many of these fine and humane and Christian things that Mr. Roosevelt has put into practical use. They were among our early teachings; they were in the Bible. We parroted our belief, but we did not practice.

Franklin Roosevelt has brought to the Nation a new order in more ways than one—not the least of which is concrete proof that the fine theories that we have heretofore confined to political oratory, and to political creeds may be put into actual practice—that even in politics this country may be made the better by a little applied Christianity.

FUTURE CRIMINALS

Parents of today, and civic leaders everywhere, are puzzled as to how to solve the ever-increasing problem of guiding the footsteps of the children, so that they will grow up to be decent, up-standing citizens.

Right here in Fulton there is a problem among the younger generation. But the most appalling situation of all, is the problem of controlling young boys whose parents are afflicted by economic distress. These children may be seen day after day on the streets, ragged and dirty, running about with idle minds quick to grasp mischief and meanness, which will eventually cause them and their parents serious trouble.

These neglected children become hard because of the lack of proper care in early childhood. They become street urchins, store vandals. Fulton merchants are constantly pestered by their stealing, and local police face a problem in handling them. As these boys grow older they often develop criminal traits. Then they become not only problems but a menace to the community, state and nation.

Either the parents of these children must give them proper guidance or it becomes the problem of the court to send them to reformatories.

GOOD TO DISCUSSCATTLE FEEDING

Foreheads wrinkle as cattle men ponder the problem of profits from high-priced feeds this year. Should they buy more cottonseed meal and feed less corn? What about molasses? Then there is soybean oilmeal. Just what concentrates can a farmer feed and keep out of the red?

In the Kentucky College of Agriculture radio program over WHAS November 3, Prof. E. S. Good will discuss the feeding of concentrates to beef cattle. Other numbers in the college's radio program that week include an agricultural engineering talk on Nov. 2, news of the farm and home Nov. 4, a review of the home economics nursery school Nov. 5, and questions and answers Nov. 6.

BEEF CATTLE FEEDERS LISTEN TO RADIO

Because of the high price of feed this winter which makes feeding of beef cattle, undertake farmers should listen to the radio program over WHAS on November 3.

Prof. E. S. Good who has charge of the Animal Husbandry Department at the University of Kentucky will discuss the feeding of cattle and different feed combinations.

which will be helpful and save some feeders a loss of time and money.

FARM BUREAU MEETING AT LEDFORD SCHOOL HOUSE

The third organization meeting for the colored farmers of the bottom section of the county will be held on the night of Nov. 2nd at 7:00.

Rev. W. O. Parr, District Organizer of the Purchase will be the principal speaker. Since this is the only community of the county where the colored have an organization, all the colored people from the entire county are invited to attend and hear this wonderful speaker talk on Farm Bureau work.

4-H CLUB ACHIEVEMENT

The annual 4-H Club Achievement Day program will be held at Cayce school building on Saturday, November 7th. The program will consist of a number of talks by members and parents of 4-H Club members. The program will begin with a report of the work done and the prizes won by different clubs then the members will listen to the State and National program which will be broadcast over the radio.

The members should bring a picnic lunch as a number of contests and games will be played in the afternoon.

A Star Performer!

Outstanding performance in Flour, as in football, is the result of a careful selection of material, painstaking preparation and expert supervision.

Back in 1907, when football stars thought less about news-reel cameras, Browder Milling Company began its operation. Housewives quickly noticed the outstanding performance of our FLOUR. They found it to be a "Star Performer" in the field of baking.

Today, we have maintained that reputation in these Famous Brands:

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
WEEKLY BUSINESS SURVEY

Notwithstanding the handicap of unseasonable weather throughout most of the country, retail trade moved forward in vigorous fashion during the week, according to reports to the department of Commerce from cities throughout the country. Gains over the same period last year were generally well maintained. While warm weather in many sections took much of the edge off buyers' eagerness to lay in stocks, wholesalers reported a good demand for accessories, underwear, hosiery, home furnishings and piece goods. Holiday gift merchandise also reflected strong buying with marked tendency toward earlier accumulation of stocks and better grade merchandise. The wholesale electrical appliance industry continued to exceed last year's figures by very wide margins, although wholesalers were complaining that profits were not what they ought to be. A distinct shortage was reported in prospect for holiday merchandise with delivery lag in some products reaching to 3 and 4 months. In the industrial fields there was a general picking up of production. The automobile industry was getting into its stride for the 1937 models which stimulated business in many lines. With the advances in car-loadings there were increases in railroad buying. It was said that orders are expected to be awarded soon on about 150 locomotives for which bids have been asked. There seemed to be less tension along the Pacific Coast regarding the labor situation. Portland, Ore., reported that the wheat inquiry from Europe continued active and is expected to result in important business as soon as the maritime situation warrants. Over 700,000 bushels have been loaded for Europe so far this year which compares to no loadings last year. Total wheat loadings from the Columbia River are the largest since the 1931-32 crop year with the exception of subsidy loadings in the early part of 1934. Recent Japanese purchases reported to be over 600,000 bushels to date with further inquiry expected. Memphis reported weather conditions ideal for cotton which far exceeds expectations in the local territory. Atlanta reported that many textile mills have production sold through the first quarter of 1937. Detroit reported an increase in 18% in industrial employment between October 1 and 15. Florida's estimated citrus crop for the season was 37,500,000 boxes compared with 29,500,000 boxes last year. Louisville reported that the Federal Land Bank of that city had the best September collections in 7 years; 90% of all matured installments on $201,000,000 of F. L. B. loans outstanding in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee reported paid in full.

SOUTH FULTON

The State High School Inspector will probably come to South Fulton this week. Ohio county teachers will meet at Reelfoot Lake October 31 to enjoy a fish fry. According to a recent report in "The Tennessee Teacher," organ of the state education association, South Fulton teachers are 100 per cent in membership in the state and county educational association. All classes are putting on a final effort to help their candidates be crowned king and queen of the Hallowe'en Carnival. The minstrel is also coming along in top shape. A prize will be given to the "tackiest" couple and also a prize will be given to the individual wearing the best Hallowe'en costume. Geneva Sharpe, former student here, has re-entered school. The school will go to see the Rexall Streamline train Thursday. All the seniors have seen "A Midsummer Night's Dream," in connection with the study of English Literature. The senior king and queen were elected Monday. They are Robert Lee McKinney and Irene Todd. It seems that Johnnie Lancaster is still hearing Lum and Abner. He has started talking about it again. The Hallowe'en Carnival is getting underway. Practice is being held every night this week. The seniors are represented well with two girls and five boys in the minstrel. A senior cake was given away last Friday at noon. A party of ice cream and cake was enjoyed by the class as Johnnie Lancaster drew it. A box supper was held Wednesday night in the gymnasium, sponsored by the Sophomore class. A good time was had by all and many interesting games were played. Both buses will run Friday night to the Hallowe'en Carnival. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was enjoyed Monday afternoon by members of the English classes. A cake will be given away by the Junior class Friday night at the Hallowe'en program. You may purchase a chance from any member of the class. The Juniors' Hallowe'en party, given Friday night was a big success. Many were present and the games were enjoyed by all.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM
OPEN TO SUGGESTIONS

Approximately 180,000 students in seventy-nine colleges and universities of the Middle West and South are reading this month the opening advertisement of a series designed by L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central System, to arouse their consciousness of the railroads.

"Railroads welcome new ideas," announces the opening copy, which is illustrated with a drawing of the Green Diamond streamline train emerging from a test-tube. The advertisement lists current railway achievements as proof that modern railway policies of management "are based solidly upon the test-tube findings of current public usefulness and favor." The Green Diamond is mentioned as a case in point, and Mr. Downs closes with a reminder of what railroads mean to the nation and to schools.

Similar advertisements are scheduled to appear in the student newspapers at all colleges and universities on the Illinois Central System lines and at the more important off-line institutions in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, the eight states in which the railroad has its greatest mileage.

"Our purpose is to contribute to education for useful citizenship," said Mr. Downs. "The earliest memories of present college students do not go back beyond about 1920, which means they have grown up in a period then more spectacular developments in other forms of transportation have dominated their picture of transportation. In very recent years the railroads have been doing some spectacular things, too, making improvements which should appeal to young people's imagination. Through such developments as streamline trains, air-conditioning, faster schedules and so on, considerable new interest in railroads has been aroused. This is a logical time, therefore, to come forward with a program of advertising which will give our young people a background of information against which to appraise the position of modern railroads in the modern scheme of things."
