THE LISTENING POST

● I was reading something the other day which had been written by a fellow who has just taken over a newspaper in a Middle Kentucky town. This new publisher was giving his views on what it takes to be a newspaper man, and in the main, I believe he offered a pretty fair platform for the activities of a working newspaper man. In one respect, however, I was forced to disagree.

● The publisher was describing a newspaper worker as a man "who with an atmosphere of curiosity about him and asks questions endlessly." With that latter statement I am inclined to take issue, for I hold that endless questions will usually defeat the purpose of a country newspaper man. (I am speaking of country newspaper men alone, for I know nothing of the work and problems of the city newspaper man.)

● My own experience and observation leads me to the belief that when I start asking questions, particularly endless questions, I put people on guard and they will not talk, or if they do talk, it is in such stilted and guarded manner that their words are worthless. I have noticed it many times when I was trying to work a story out of somebody that the sight of a notebook would usually freeze the person up entirely. When a person knows and realizes fully that he is talking to a newspaper man and sees that newspaper man making frenzied notes he becomes so flustered that he is unable to talk freely or intelligently. As a natural consequence he talks so carefully that little real information can be secured. A notable exception, however, will usually be found among lawyers and police officials. Police officials are thoroughly accustomed to being questioned and can talk readily under the impetus of carefully chosen questions. Lawyers, it appears to me, like to be questioned, but when interviewing lawyers regarding cases in which there is divergence of opinion, a newspaper man soon learns to be cautious, for lawyers are rather smooth when it comes to getting things into newspapers which will aid in their cases when they come to trial. I am not thinking of any lawyers in particular, but merely thinking aloud and remembering certain cases which have embarrassed me.

● I once read an article written by Isaac Marcossin, Kentucky bred crack reporter and interviewer, who in his time, interviewed most of the great figures of that day. He said that he always concealed his notebook if possible, and depended upon his memory for many things. "A notebook freezes up your man," he said. "The best procedure is to try to talk to the man as freely and as informally as possible and then build your story upon that conversation." In interviews of that sort, naturally, Marcossin usually had to submit his written story for final approval before its publication, but he said that he used notes as little as possible.

● I have seen this come up many times in my home, country fashion of covering stories here. I have not, of course, covered many big stories, but over the years were pretty big, and which had all the elements of the big city stories. Always I have found that casual conversation with interested parties would always get better results than copious notes and a steady stream of questions. Of course, some questions must be asked now and then, but these should be fitted into the sequence of the conversation and no question should ever be asked merely to keep the talk going on. And if a person is ever telling a straight narrative of the story, never appear deeply interested or make notes, if the conversation can be remembered. Too many times I have done this and had the straight running narrative stopped and never resumed.

Men With Families May Resign Posts

Overwhelming 71 To 7 Vote Sends Measure To House For Action

Washington.—By an overwhelming vote of 71 to 7, the Senate today passed and sent to the House the administration bill empowering the President to call out the National Guard and Army reserves for a 12 months period of duty anywhere in the Western Hemisphere, American possessions or the Philippine Islands.

First, however, the chamber adopted an amendment permitting Guardsmen with wives or children dependent on their salaries or wages to resign.

Just before the bill passed, it escaped being drastically altered by the narrowest of margins. On a vote of 39 to 38, the chamber rejected an amendment by Senator Adams (D-Colo.), limiting the service of the Guard to continental United States, American possessions and the Philippine Islands.

Amendment Fought
This would mean that the President could not send Guardsmen to Latin America. The administration leaders, who have made no secret of their fear of German penetration in that area, were quick to fight the amendment. Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), said it would be "folly" to serve notice on the world that all "our pious resolutions" on "democracy and solidarity in the Western Hemisphere" are of no more effect than if adopted by a quivering bee.

Adams told the Senate that he would be willing to give the President complete freedom in time of war, but in peace-time he wanted Congress to retain power to say whether troops should be dispatched to foreign lands.

Attendance Increases At Revival
A good crowd attended the revival at the Church of Christ last night when the evangelist, Flavil Colley of Dallas, Texas, took his subject from Luke 14:26: "If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple."

Evangelist Colley, a wonderful speaker, presents the Gospel in a very forceful manner, using a plain and simple way of presenting the truth.

The subject of his discussion tonight will be "The Conversion of the Eunuch" taken from Acts 8.

You are welcome to attend and take part in the great congregational singing, led by J. B. Cox.

Gun-Totin' Mayor Leads Police Clean-UP Of Atlantic City
Atlantic City, N. J.—With the city jail already crowded, police continued to scour the town today for every man they could find with a "known criminal record."

The search was instituted by gun-totin' Mayor Tom Taggart who told the cops he wanted every "undesirable" chased out of town or put in jail.

Eighty policemen roared applause last night when Taggart promised them that "henceforward nobody shall interfere with any of you in the performance of your duties."

Funeral For J. H. Jonakin Today—3 P. M.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Chapel Hill for J. H. Jonakin who died yesterday at noon at his home, 8 miles south of town. Funeral will be conducted by the Rev. W. W. Armstrong, Methodist minister of Memphis, assisted by the Rev. J. A. Kelley, pastor of Chapel Hill. Burial will be in Chapel Hill cemetery in charge of Hornbeak Funeral Home.

Active pallbearers will be grandsons and sons-in-law while the following honorary pallbearers were named—Dr. R. T. Rudd, S. A. McDade, Sam Holman, Litt Dedmon, Babe Robey, Wilma Owens, Will Robey, John Owen, Martin Chambers, Jeff Nanney, Jim Crockett, Albert Hutchins, Robb Holman, Bud Gossom and Abner Roper.

Mr. Jonakin, who was 80 years of age, was born in Hickman county, Kentucky on July 13, 1860 and moved to Obion County, Tennessee, with his parents while a very small boy. On June 3, 1883 he was first married to Miss Eleanor Jones and to this union four children were born. They are Mrs. Pearl Weaver, Mrs. Albert Owens and Mrs. Billy Jolley, all of Fulton, and Selsel Jonakin of Chattanooga, Tenn. After her death on April 24, 1895, he was married to Miss Lee Ella Murchison on May 1, 1898 and to this union were born nine children—Mrs. Gerald Woosley and Mrs. Robert Wade of Union City, Mrs. Austin Gernigen of Tupelo, Miss, Mrs. Noble Butterworth of Paducah, Miss, Clyde Lightfoot of Memphis, Miss Delma Jonakin of Natchez, Miss, James H. Jonakin, Jr., of Troy, Tenn., Mrs. Johnny Cook and Mrs. Jim Burke, both of Fulton. All of his children survive.

Mr. Jonakin, who spent his entire life in the Chapel Hill community, was a prominent farmer of that section. For many years he has been a member of the Methodist Church, holding membership at Chapel Hill. A faithful husband and deserving father, he always worked for the betterment and progress of his community. In his passing, the county loses an outstanding character, one who will be sadly missed.

Besides his wife and thirteen children, he is survived by three brothers, Bob Jonakin of Fulton, Will Jonakin of Jordan and Isham Jonakin of Hickman; one sister, Mrs. Isora Verhine of Union City; a number of nieces and nephews and the following grand-children—Kenneth, Selsel, Jr., Bobby and Patty Jonakin of Chattanooga; Jim Weaver of Louisville; Myron Weaver, of Atlanta; Bob Weaver, of Birmingham; Misses Eleanor, Ava Love and Nola Mae Weaver, Phyllis Lynn Cook, Sarah Jane, Virginia Lee, Billy and Fred Jolley, all of Fulton; Mrs. J. R. Brazzell, of Clinton; Mrs. Eddie Fritts of Cape Girardeau; James Austin, Dorothy Elizabeth and Frances Gernigen, of Tupelo; Emily Jane Woosley, Bobby Sue and Marjorie Ann Wade of Union City. Three great grandchildren survive, sons of Jim Weaver.

Chamber Of Commerce Has Good Meeting At Fulgham Last Night

The local Chamber of Commerce met last night in the second of its Good Will Dinners with the people of Fulgham Community, the meeting being held in the high school there. Owing to conflicting engagements, the attendance from Fulgham was hardly up to standard, but fortunately a good attendance from Fulgham caused the meeting to be well attended and full of enthusiasm.

Miss Doele Jones of Fulgham was in charge of the program for the Fulgham community and presented an amusing and interesting marriage ceremony, in which Miss Fulgham was married to Mr. Fulton, the parts of the bride and groom, the minister and the musician being played by attractive little children of the community. It was a most original program and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Miss Doele Jones, who has been in charge of previous programs, always has some original ideas for these meetings and never disappoints the Fulton visitors.

Mr. Stroud gave the address of welcome to the Fulgham community and Theodore Kramer, Jr., gave the response.

Dr. W. H. Saxon, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, was the principal speaker and gave a splendid address on "The End of the Rainbow." In this address he listed the many things which are so sought by men and women as they seek the end of the rainbow to get the gold that is said to be there, and then gave a definition of the real riches that are to be found by the earnest seeker. It was a highly interesting address and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Husband Of Former Fultonian Dies In Russellville
Byrne A. "Peg" Evans, 47, editor and publisher of the Russellville News-Democrat, died at his home there, yesterday. His wife, Mrs. Aileen Chambers Evans, formerly lived in Fulton and has many friends here who will regret to learn of her husband's death. Mrs. Evans is the daughter of Jim Chambers.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon in Russellville. He was a native of Simpson county and attended Bethel college. He became editor of the News-Democrat after serving as a second lieutenant in the World War and purchased the paper in 1930. An athlete in student days he devoted spare time to coaching Bethel teams in the '20's. Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Misses Dorothy and Virginia.

Ending Reunions Of South's Vets Is Plan Of Chief
Richmond, Va.—Gen. Julius Franklin Howell, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, said today he would recommend no further reunions after the annual meeting in Washington October 8 to 11.

"There are few of us left," he said simply. "I'm afraid this has to be our last meeting."

Only a handful of the armies of the Confederacy—General Howell estimates between 100 and 200 veterans—will be in Washington to swap yarns and say their last goodbyes. He said there were probably about 1,200 surviving veterans in all.

President To Visit Key Points In Nation's Defense Program
Hyde Park, N. Y.—Seven, key spots in the nation's vital eastern seaboard defense system will be visited over the week-end by President Roosevelt, the temporary White House announced tonight.

The chief executive will inspect Navy yards and other defense centers in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

He leaves Hyde Park late Friday, arriving in Portsmouth, N. H., early Saturday to inspect the Navy yard, which now is building five submarines.

He then will go by boat to Boston, where in the Navy yard six vessels are under construction, after which he will drive to the Army arsenal at nearby Watertown, Mass.

The largest Navy buildings project in New England is at the Quincy yard, where 12 ships are under construction, one the giant battleship Massachusetts, a 35,000-ton warrior of the sea.

Walter J. Hoshal Will Speak Here Sunday Night

Walter J. Hoshal, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Kentucky, will be the speaker at the First Baptist Church Sunday night at 7:30 and everybody is cordially invited to hear him. Mr. Hoshal, who travels all over the state, has made more than five hundred addresses during the present year and has traveled almost 25,000 miles during this period. He is an interesting speaker and has a burning message for the people of Fulton.

Talk Of Susie's Going Hollywood Is Hushed By Zoo
Cincinnati.—Any Hollywood effort to make glamor girl of Susie, the Cincinnati Zoo's prize gorilla, will have to be made here.

Ned Hastings of the zoo staff said he had been advised of a pending offer of a part for Susie in a mystery-thriller ("Dear On Arrival"), but that it involved a trip to the West Coast.

"Nix," said Hastings, "cost of the trip, plus the risks involved, plus the fact that we'd lose one of our star attractions, make it impossible for Susie to leave. If they want her in the picture, they can take the scenes right here."

SIX DIE IN NEVADA GASOLINE EXPLOSION
Las Vegas, Nev.—The death toll of a gasoline explosion rose to six today, including five members of the family of Thomas Myers, near whose establishment the blast occurred.

Myers himself was injured critically and eight other persons also suffered burns and other wounds.

The dead were Mrs. Myers and four of her children Mrs. Linda Myers Leavitt, 19, bride of four months, Kathleen Myers, 16, Teddy, 9, and Doreen 2 and a neighbor child, Era Megrette, 1.

Myers, a gasoline dealer, said the explosion occurred while he was transferring fuel from a truck in his back yard to small containers for patrons.

Frozen Funds May Help U. S. Collect War Debts
Washington.—The first hope in many years of collecting a substantial sum on the $14,500,000,000 World War debt arose Thursday when Secretary Morgenthau disclosed that the Government was studying the question of seizing some of the foreign funds "frozen" in this country.

At a press conference, the Secretary made it plain that the Administration has not decided what to do with the frozen assets, but asserted that before they were released he wanted "to see what happens to American investments and debts over there."

All Debts Included
He included the war debts owed to the Government, with all business and other private debts, in this statement.

Previously he had discussed the chance that the frozen funds might be used to reimburse Americans for destruction of property in invaded countries, but this was the first time he acknowledged that war debts collection also was under study.

The frozen funds are unofficially estimated at $3,500,000,000. They belong to the invaded countries of Europe. France owes $4,300,000,000 on war debts, Poland $367,000,000 and Belgium $460,000,000.

Four Outside Fian
This method, apparently, could not be used to collect the $5,000,000,000 owed by Great Britain, $2,025,000,000 owed by Italy, $1,300,000,000 owed by Germany, or $400,000,000 owed by Russia.

The list of countries whose American assets have been impounded subject to special Treasury license before they can be removed from this country includes France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. Officials declined to say how much of each country's funds were held, or what they totaled.

India Offered Better Than Dominion Rank

British Seek Full Support Of Rich Empire Of East

London.—India was promised "free and equal partnership" in the British Commonwealth today as Britain sought to unify the greatest possession of her empire for an amassing of manpower and wealth against Germany and Italy, the latter now driving for an outlet into the Indian ocean.

The pledge, announced by L. S. Amery, British secretary of state for India, in the House of Commons, was interpreted authoritatively as offering an "even broader" status than that of dominion, which is enjoyed by Canada, Australia and South Africa. Post-war dominion status for India was proposed by the government last October.

A similar statement was made simultaneously by Lord Lillithgow, viceroy, in India.

Fullest "sympathy" was expressed for Indian insistence that the new constitution should be framed by Indians and ready "assent" was announced to organization, after the war, of a body representing the principal elements in Indian national life to devise a new constitution.

An invitation to Indian leaders to join the Governor General's executive council and establishment of a war advisory council which would contain representatives of the Indian states also was announced.

Airplane Show Big Attraction

Interest is increasing among youths of this section in the model airplane show which is to be staged at the Fair Grounds Friday morning, August 23, at 10 o'clock during the Ken-Tenn Exposition, under the auspices of the Young Men's Business Club.

Three events are scheduled for showing including gas motor planes, rubber band planes and the detail model show to show which model is nearest like the real model it represents.

There is no limit on size, make or model of planes entered or by whom they are entered. Solid models, scale models and flying models will be entered. A model airport, with hanger, run-ways, etc., will also be on exhibition.

The capital prize to be awarded will be a "Soaring Eagle" plane, 6 feet wing-spread. Other prizes are to be awarded, including cash. During the day a real plane will be present to do stunt flying and to carry passengers.

NO TIME TO BE SOFT-HEARTED

It is quite evident that strong efforts are being made and will continue to be made to induce America to send foodstuffs to conquered European nations. It appears probable that such efforts will come from men in high places, for only the other day a United States Ambassador was quoted as saying that unless this nation helped feed those nations there would be "howling hell" there this winter. The Ambassador expressed his belief that the British government should relax its blockade in favor of such shipments in order to prevent this coming to pass.

The British, as was to be expected, paid little attention to such a statement. The British hold to the belief that Germany created this condition and therefore should meet conditions as they come. They state, and logically, that Nazi Germany disrupted normal life in Belgium and other conquered nations, confiscated all available stores of food and carried these stocks into Germany for the support of the Reich. "If Germany will treat those nations fairly and divide equally, there will be no starvation in Europe," the British say. The inference is left quite plainly that there will be no relaxation of the British blockade for this rigid blockade is aimed directly at Germany. The British believe they can bring Germany to her knees this winter by use of this weapon, and there is much logic in the belief. The Germans have won great victories and have overrun many lands since the war crashed into the open months ago, but they have not yet found an open market for needed supplies, and the coming winter will bring grave problems to Hitler—problems which may not be solved by overwhelming military forces. If hunger is rife in all the conquered nations, if starvation looms for millions in those countries, The Germany Army will be kept fairly busy in holding in check those starving millions. For when starvation comes men become reckless beyond all known limits.

If this nation wishes to directly aid the German cause there can be no better way than by sending food to those stricken countries. Even if Hitler did not openly take those food supplies for use in Germany, even if he allowed the food to be used by those for whom it was intended, this country would be giving Germany invaluable aid in a critical time. Nobody who has studied the methods of Nazi Germany believes that the Nazis would allow the foodstuffs to be used by those in need if Germany needed it. Every act of the nation proves otherwise.

It is not a time to grow big hearted and sentimental. The case is not similar to World War days when this country fed Belgium. At that time Belgium was a fighting nation, with an enemy army on her soil. The Belgian King was at the head of his troops through the entire war, and it was the stern intention of the Allied nations to restore Belgium to its former status. This aim was fully carried out. Now Belgium is a nation which surrendered, and is directly under German control. In case of German victory there will never again be an independent nation. To all intents and purposes Belgium is today a part of Nazi Germany, and helping

THE BATTLE OF AFRICA MERE SKIRMISHES

Using its North African possessions of Libya and Ethiopia as bases, Italy strikes at Egypt, at the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, at the British colony of Kenya and at British Somaliland. These skirmishes in the desert are given the grandiose title of the Battle of Africa. Italy's entry into the field of land fighting is described in press dispatches as a drive to gain possession of the Nile Valley, the Suez Canal and the mouth of the Red Sea. In the lull in the conflict between Germany and Great Britain the engagements take on a proportion far beyond their real importance.

That Italy has begun the offensive there seems little doubt. It already has crossed the Kenya border and gained a foothold in the Sudan. It has engaged in serial combat with the British from Gibraltar to Palestine. It now strikes at Egypt and the northeast corner of East Africa. But the task confronting it is herculean and the easy victory over the almost defenseless natives of Ethiopia is no augury of success.

In numbers the Italian forces both white and native are far superior to the British. It estimated that Italy has a half million troops of all kinds in Libya and Ethiopia. For the most part, however, the British hold the strategic positions, the heavily defended water hole in the desert, and British ships guard the coast line. Any mass attack over the trackless waste and under the blistering sun would be almost foolhardy for the best of troops and the Italians are notoriously bad soldiers.

In time the small British force might be driven out of British Somaliland, but that would be no great loss. Aden guards the mouth of the Red Sea and before the war Britain offered to give Italy its desert strip of northeast Africa.

The African campaign which was expected to coincide with the invasion of the British Isles has begun ahead of time and will no doubt continue. If Britain falls the next big battlefield will probably be the Dark Continent. If Britain holds out Italy's dream of Empire goes glimmering as it cannot hope to survive a protracted struggle.—Courier-Journal.

STRESS IMPORTANCE OF MILK

An adult should drink a pint of milk daily and a child two pints, according to health standards of home economists at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Thus a family of two adults and three children need eight pints or a gallon of milk daily. A good milk cow should produce two to four gallons daily, or enough to supply milk and some cream and butter for a family of five. However, since a cow must be dry a part of the year, a farm family should have at least two milk cows.

SUNSHINE AND SHADOWS

Coldsboro, N. C.—Farmer John Tart couldn't account for the plaintive peeping coming from somewhere in the house and he knew he hadn't any baby chicks.

But when he opened a door to a cabinet, out hopped a chick. He says the heat wave hatched one of the eggs stored there.

Kansas City.—The prowler who entered Gen. M. Wilkerson's home believed in comfort, Wilkerson said he entered through the service door. Opened and read the daily newspaper. Sat in Wilkerson's favorite chair. Rested on the bed. Departed with a ring and stud valued at $35.

Elm Creek, Neb.—Night policeman Simon Laycock obligingly helped a motorist change a tire.

Investigation the next day disclosed it was a tire stolen from Leonard Tool.

To confirm it all, the thief later shipped the tire to Laycock—charges collect.

DR. I. H. READ IS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Friends and neighbors honored Dr. I. H. Read with a surprise weiner roast on his birthday late yesterday afternoon at the "Happy Hour" croquet court. When Dr. Read returned from work at 6 o'clock he found them all gathered and a bountiful lunch spread.

The menu consisted of toasted weiners and buns, potato salad, baked beans, dressed eggs, sliced tomatoes, pickles, iced tea, ice cream and cake.

Miss Lucile Clapp presented him with a beautifully decorated birthday cake. The evening was spent in games of croquet and a jolly good time was had by all. All left wishing him many happy returns.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Allen and little daughter, Janet Sue, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Huff and son, Ray Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clapp, Jr., Miss Vera Holt, Miss Willie Jolley, Miss Jean Jolley, Miss Anita Moore of Union City, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holland and Read Holland, Dr. and Mrs. Read, Rev. and Mrs. Knox Lambert of Martin called during the evening.

ARRIVED FOR JONAKIN FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Weaver arrived this morning from Louisville for the funeral of Mr. Weaver's grandfather, J. H. Jonakin. Mr. and Mrs. Myron Weaver will arrive early this afternoon from Atlanta, Ga.

Seisel Jonakin, Jr., is arriving today about noon from Chattanooga, Tenn.

BRIDGE PARTY HONORS
BRIDE-ELECT LAST NIGHT

Another in the series of pre-nuptial parties being given in honor of Miss Sarah Helen Williams, whose marriage will take place Thursday, August 15, at the First Christian Church, was the delightful bridge party given by Miss Jane Scates at her home on Second street last evening.

The house was attractively decorated with roses and vari-colored garden flowers and the bridal motif was carried out in the tallies. Contract was played at four tables and high score prize for the players, bath powder, went to Miss Martha Moore. Miss Treva Whayne cut consolation. The honoree was presented a lovely pair of floral prints.

At the conclusion of the games a delectable salad plate was served to the players. The guest list included the honoree, Misses Peggy

Williams, Mary Virginia Whayne, Treva Whayne, Betty Koehn, Virginia Meacham, Eleanor Ruth Jones, Rubye Boyd Alexander, Martha Moore, Lillian Cooke, Jane Alley, Martha Melton, Paducah, Margaret Clark, Carolyn Beadles, Mrs. Randolph Kramer of Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Joe Hall.

BUNCO CLUB WITH
MRS. MAX MCKNIGHT

Mrs. Max McKnight was hostess to the Thursday Bunco Club yesterday at her home on Jefferson street, entertaining eight club members and four visitors—Mrs. Presley Campbell, Mrs. Lee Roberts, Mrs. Cecil Wiseman and Mrs. Marion Sharpe.

Mrs. Wade Leath held high score for the series of games and received lingerie, Mrs. John Morris made bunco and was given a vanity set while Mrs. Roberts, with guest high, was given toilet articles.

Mrs. McKnight served a dessert course.

Mrs. George Turner will entertain the club at its meeting next week.

LUTHER-GREEN WEDDING
THURSDAY IN MEMPHIS

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock Miss Lucille Green, daughter of R. A. Green, became the bride of Monroe Luther, son of Mrs. J. T. Luther of near Fulton, in a quiet ceremony performed in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Galen C. Fain, Memphis, with the Rev. Fain officiating. Close friends of the couple were present.

The wedding was solemnized before a background of gladioli and ferns with tall tapers burning at each side.

The bride wore an ensemble of dusty rose alpaca and lace with white hat and accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of pink Rubrum lilies. She was graduated at Fulton High school and for the past several years has been bookkeeper at the City National Bank.

Mr. Luther, who attended school at South Fulton, is employed with the National Life and Accident Insurance Company. They will make their home at the home of the bride's father, 116 Cedar street.

Immediately after the wedding an informal reception was held and Mrs. Fain served ice cream, in the shape of wedding bells, with cake. The group then went to William Len Hotel for the wedding supper.

Those present besides Rev. and Mrs. Fain were Mr. and Mrs. Grady Varden, Mr. and Mrs. Finis Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Speight, Mr. and Mrs. James Warren, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiggins and Mrs. Don Hill.

REPORT BY EMPLOYMENT
BUREAU SHOWS WIVES
BORROW MAID'S WAGES

Indianapolis, Ind., —The fact that housewives often borrow all the maid's wages was cited by the Indiana State Employment Service as one of the many reasons explaining the shortage of domestic help.

Maids also leave service, said George J. Smith, Indianapolis manager of the service, because employers contend that their help should run a "short order house," serving snacks at all hours, including the wee ones.

Smith contends that factory and industrial jobs, which are now becoming more plentiful for women are more desirable than positions as maids because in the latter capacity:

1. The pay is too small in comparison to the work.
 2. The employers give too little consideration.
 3. The care of children is too trying.
 4. No private quarters are provided.
 5. There is no leisure time.
- However, Smith said, most maids regard their work as "good training" professional and matrimonially.

BLAMES 'CARELESSNESS' FOR OVERSPENDING OF NEGRO SCHOOL FUNDS

Frankfort, Ky., —State Auditor David A. Logan reported today "carelessness" of a former Kentucky State College for Negroes bookkeeper was responsible for an overspending of the school's appropriations by $18,895.

Logan declared he did not intend to "censure" either President R. B. Atwood or the state board of education but said it was his purpose to "emphasize the necessity for experienced and expert business management."

Bowling Green Hits In Opportune Fashion To Whip Tigers Last Nite

Although the Tigers hit on even terms with Bowling Green last night, each team getting eleven blows, the Barons managed to group hits better against Gentry than did the Tigers against Kincannon and the Barons won going away 9 to 5. The final game is being played to night and if the Tigers can salvage that one it will mean an even break on the six game road trip. Tomorrow night the Tigers entertain Union City at Fairfield.

The Tigers were in the game only a few innings last night. The Barons took a two run lead in the second and third and the Tigers managed to tie that score in the fifth. The Barons came back for three runs in the same inning and added three more in the seventh.
