MAY the spirit of hospitality and friendliness, so typical of the Christmas Season, remain with you throughout the year and brighten the associations you share with others.

The Week's Recipe

Christmas bread, rich with candied fruit and nuts, is traditional in many households for Christmas Day breakfast. Mrs. Pearl Haak, University of Kentucky food specialist, likes this recipe.

Christmas Bread

1 package granulated or compressed yeast, 1-2 cup lukewarm water, 1 cup scalded milk, 1-3 cup shortening, 1-3 cup brown sugar, 2 teaspoon salt, 4 to 4 1-2 cup enriched flour, 1 egg, 1 cup quick or old fashioned rolled oats, 1-2 cup pecans, 1 cup mixed candied fruits.

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Pour scalded milk over shortening, sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup flour. Add beaten egg and softened yeast. Fold in roll oats, pecans and candied fruit. Add enough flour to make a soft dough.

Turn onto floured board and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Make dough into a ball. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Shape into two round loaves. Place on greased cookie sheets. Brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees, and continue baking 30 minutes more. Cool and frost with thin powdered sugar frosting. Decorate with candied fruit and nuts.

Christmas Breakfast: Broiled grapefruit, scrambled eggs, little pig sausages, Christmas bread, butter and coffee.

Merry Christmas!

May your holiday be merry, your tree laden with good things and your happiness unending. Simple pleasures of the old-fashioned, homespun variety are still the most enjoyable at Christmas time, even in this streamlined age! So in the modern manner, with old-fashioned sincerity, we say, "Merry, Merry Christmas."

Gifts to Christ

Lesson for December 28, 1952

WHAT the world brings to Christ is never to be compared with what Christ brings the world. Not all the Christmas gifts that ever were, including those given to the cause and in the name of Jesus, equal a small part of the value of Jesus himself to the world. Nevertheless, ever since the time of the wise men from the east, gifts have been brought and laid at the feet of Christ, in one way or another.

Wisdom

Many treasures of wisdom, through these 19 centuries, have been poured out for the Master's service. Not that men can make God wise; but the wisdom and learning of mankind can be, and have been, put at the disposal of Christ and his cause.

Dr. Foreman

To take the fact alone: the translation of the Bible into hundreds of languages throughout the world. The work of translating can never stop, because languages keep changing; the English and the French of this century are not the same as they were centuries ago, and Bibles translated for those times become hard to understand in our day.

Not that a new English translation is needed every few years; but somewhere, all the time, into some language or other, this work is being carried on. It is no simple job; a translator must not only know Greek and Hebrew, but also, and very thoroughly, the language into which he translates. Most good translations are made by groups, for many heads are better than one, at this work.

When we add to the work of the translators all that other scholars have done, all the brain work that has gone into the printing and binding of the books and distributing them in many ways; we can see what the devotion of intellectual talents has meant, through the centuries, to the Christian religion.

Wealth

Think what a difference it would make, if suddenly every Christian in the world decided that the Lord's work could get along just as well without being offered another cent. No new churches would be built; existing churches would fall into decay because no one would pay for their repair (and free labor wouldn't do it, because that too is a form of wealth). Home and foreign missions would come to an end. Christian schools, hospitals and colleges would close down. No Christian books of any kind could be printed. Radio religious broadcasts would cease, because there would not be any one to pay for them, and even the "free" time, which always costs the station something, could no longer be offered.

From Each His Own

Christianity is today an international religion, though it started off as the religion of a few Asiatic Jews. But Jesus was scarcely out of his cradle before those men of the East came, and they were the first of a long line from every nation and race in the world.

In America we think of Christianity as almost an American religion; but it is not. Americans have brought much to Christianity, their energy, their pioneering spirit, their practical slant on everything—these have given to Christianity in North America a "color" and a "style" all its own.

But we are not the only Christians, perhaps not even the best ones. There are Indian Christians, and Chinese Christians; there are Christians among the Eskimos and Zulus. There is some Christianity behind the Iron Curtain; it is found in Scotland, Sweden, Spain, El Salvador.

And while we are all brothers under the skin, the fact remains that it takes all kinds of Christians to make the Christian world, and to make the world Christian. Our missionaries do not go out to make American Christians; they go to make Christians. And every one who comes to Christ brings something which is specially his own. As Rev. John Monson's hymn has it:

"Fear not to enter His courts in the splendence
Of the poor wealth thou wouldst reckon as thine:
Truth in its beauty, and love in its tenderness,
These are the offerings to lay on His shrine."

Holiday King With Corn Bread Stuffing

There's something about a turkey that makes him a welcome guest in the house when the family gathers for Christmas. He is a regal bird alive, of course, and he's one that loses little grandeur when he has been cooked a golden brown and served astride the biggest platter in the house. And when he is cornbread stuffed, he's fit for even Santa Claus.

Try it ahead of time in a Sunday chicken if you want to be sure before preparing the holiday dinner. You will find corn bread stuffing good with any kind of bird, fish or meat.

ROAST TURKEY WITH CORN BREAD STUFFING

1 12-lb. turkey
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup chopped onion

2 cups bacon fat or margarine
1/2 quart broken corn bread (or part bread)
4 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 eggs, well beaten

Rub inside of oven-ready turkey with the 2 teaspoons salt. Cook onion in half of the bacon fat or margarine until soft, but not browned. Melt remaining fat and add with onion to corn bread. Mix well. Add seasoning and egg and stuff into turkey. Skewer, truss, rub skin with soft margarine or shortening, and place on a rack in an open roasting pan. Cover with clean white cloth moistened with melted margarine or shortening. Roast at a low temperature (300°F.) for 4 to 4 1/2 hours, basting as needed.

RESOLUTION

In memory of our most honored and devoted brother, companion and Sir Knight, Walter L. Travis, who passed from the portals of the finite through the gates of the infinite on Nov. 18, 1952, after having given his best for the Masonic bodies of Benton for a number of years and who, at the time of his death, was serving as tyler and sentinel of the respective bodies.

Therefore, Be It Resolved that the various bodies have lost one of their most devoted and faithful members, whose counsel always was wise and one who always stood ready to do anything for his lodge and brethren, as well as anything for the betterment of the community in which he had lived and also anything for his church.

Be It Further Resolved that we express to the family our deepest sympathy, and assure them that their loss of husband, father and grandfather was our loss also, and pray that He who is able to take care of all our needs comfort them and keep them ever.

And Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this resolution be filed in the minutes of each of the Masonic bodies, that a copy be sent to the family, that copies be sent to the Benton newspapers and that a copy be sent to the Masonic Home for publication.

More than two thousand years ago,
 three Wise Men followed the Star of

Christmas Greetings

FOR many of us the Holiday season is also "inventory time." This is a happy coincidence. Because, when we come to count our assets... none is quite so valuable as the one that never appears on our books, but which is always written large in our hearts... the friendship and loyalty of those whom we are privileged to serve. To one and all of you we say most sincerely: "Thanks a million... and may the happiness of the season abide with you and yours throughout the New Year."
