C. of C. Banquet Brilliant Success

The annual banquet of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce at the Usona Hotel, Tuesday evening, was a brilliant success and the program committee is due special credit for the splendid entertainment which was a rare treat for the 140 members and guests in attendance. Among the number were prominent farmers and several from neighboring towns.

The menu was a feast fit for the Kings and the unique feature was the cakes furnished by master minds of Hornbeak's Bakery. Each individual cake was embellished with C. of C. on top in yellow lettering. The Usona service was perfect.

The music furnished by the Elks Moonshine orchestra was greatly enjoyed.

President A. M. Nugent acted as toastmaster and in his characteristic way of good humor called on Hon. Heber Finch to introduce Mr. Walter Jenkins and his accomplished accompanist, Mrs. G. G. Bard.

Walter Jenkins

Mr. Jenkins who is nationally known for his wonderful musical talent as a song leader, and who is now song director of the First Methodist Church of Memphis, conducted the singing.

Mr. Jenkins carries with his musical attainments the unusual tactics of smiling and energizing personality which he effectively injects into his audience and makes every man sing with a smile. The entire audience were thrilled beyond expression with his perfectly unique manner in which he carried on. Rev. Vaught was so taken with his refined and cultured humor that he is now endeavoring to engage the service of Mr. Jenkins for the revival meeting which will be held in the new Methodist church later on. If Mr. Jenkins comes here it will be almost impossible to predict the wonderful effect which will surely come to bless Fulton.

Col. W. B. Henderson Was the Principal Speaker.

Colonel W. B. Henderson who is director of the Memphis station of the United States and Foreign Trade Commerce, was the principal speaker of the evening. It may be well at this time to modestly elaborate on the wonderful constructive status of the work which Col. Henderson and his associates are doing for the country generally. There are 30 stations of Col. Henderson's institutions now operating throughout the United States, which is no doubt doing more to efficiently maintain the broad and liberal channels of commerce and industry through which several billions of dollars of American commodities find their way to foreign countries.

Col. W. B. Henderson

Col. Henderson is a native of "OLD KENTUCKY," having been reared near Princeton, and a graduate of several branches of Kentucky Universities. He is broad and liberal in his views and most tactful in his ability to drive his convictions home to his audience. He has spent a most busy life in the welfare of this country; he served many years in the State legislature of our State and thereby gained a most intimate knowledge of the vital issues of our commonwealth.

We feel sure that the Government made a wonderful selection when it engaged the services of Col. Henderson to head one of its stations. The editor of this paper has been associated with newspaper work in Fulton for 27 years and has been present at all of the prominent functions of our city during this time but can justly say that this event was beyond question one of the most valuable and entertaining events that we have ever had.

Speakers Loud in Their Praise of Our Secretary.

The entire speakers body were loud in the praise of the wonderful work of Secretary Motley who has so efficiently served our organization for the past year. We do not know of any better piece of business our Chamber of Commerce has ever done than when we imported S. S. Motley from southeast Missouri to direct the affairs of the organization. Mr. Motley has been resourceful, tactful, industrious and cultured in all his efforts during the year. Aside from his civic duties he has endeavored throughout the year to exemplify the importance of maintaining the high social environment which is a vital issue in the material growth of any city.

Hardesty Makes Short Talk.

Ex-President E. C. Hardesty who headed the organization last year gave a brilliant and brief talk on the past activities of the organization and predicted an unprecedented future progress for 1928.

President Nugent Makes Talk.

Mr. A. M. Nugent who is cashier of the Farmers Bank of Fulton, is now the president of our Chamber and seems to be fully spiced with enthusiasm. He made a most wonderful appeal to all Fulton citizens to get behind the Chamber of Commerce in all of their grit and vim and help the organization put over the program for the year. The peak of Nugent's address was reached when he told the audience that there were two distinct classes of people in the community. He characterized them as follows: "There is one class who is willing to sacrifice his time and money to make our city a better city in which to live; they try hard and sometimes fail in their efforts. There is another class who tries to do nothing but criticize and always succeeds. I want to distinctly get these classes out of my mind and try to see just what class you belong in, and LET'S GO."

Secretary Motley Address Audience.

What was no doubt one of the most brilliant short talks of the evening was an address by Secretary Motley, who in his snappy and sparkling manner addressed the audience upon the subject of "the duties of a secretary." "Every form of social and commercial life is now in the midst of the greatest revolution in history," Mr. Motley said. Because of the fact that higher civilization coupled with a rapid increase of world population there must be of necessity an unprecedented expansion in all of our duties, he told the audience. Mr. Motley characterized the future secretary as a man of cultured and refined characteristics. He also said that in the near future that the modern secretary would be in the same class with the ministers and school teachers. He pointed at the fact that our cities are no longer measured by material structures alone, but largely by the general conduct and character of its citizenry, and said that it was fast becoming the duties of the secretary to take important parts in the work of maintaining and promoting the moral and social environment of the community.

Mr. Motley's remarks were inspirational because of their timely importance, and largely because of the very fact that his conduct throughout the past year has clearly exemplified his convictions.

McGinnis Reads Notes of Past Activities.

H. F. McGinnis who was vice-president of our organization for last year read the notes of our past activities and made a splendid comment upon the work done. Mr. McGinnis is local manager of the American Cigar factory here and is in close touch with the city's welfare generally.

Water Question Finally Settled

FULTON WILL CONTINUE TO SUPPLY WATER TO SOUTH FULTON

South Fulton citizens will continue to enjoy the elixir of life from the deep wells of her big brother across the line.

Many minds were relieved Monday evening when a satisfactory agreement was reached between South Fulton, Tenn., and Fulton, Ky., regarding the water question which has been a matter of contention between the two cities for some time, and the same service rendered will be continued uninterrupted, both in the water supply and fire protection.

The contract has been signed by South Fulton authorities with Fulton, Ky., for water service and fire protection, and all the preliminary work of installing a water works plant in South Fulton is off.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF OUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DURING 1927

(By H. F. McGinnis)

Our Chamber of Commerce took up its duties in earnest on February 1st, 1927, and the following features of improvement and accomplishments were earnestly prosecuted by officers and special and standing committees of our Chamber.

1. The securing of necessary funds with which to employ a city nurse was secured by popular subscription under the direction of our Chamber of Commerce.

2. Securing endorsements from city property owners on the 10 year payment plan thru which the sale of bonds were made possible to procure money to have our streets, was actively prosecuted by our Chamber.

3. A special committee from our Chamber was appointed to work with the street committee and city engineer in an official capacity to successfully carry out our paving and proper sewer connections which proved a wonderful source of service.

4. A special road committee from the Chamber of Commerce took an active part to forestall the suspension of State highway construction on one of our state roads which no doubt made the completion possible in 1927.

5. A special committee appointed from our Chamber to carry on highway construction has been responsible for one of our greatest accomplishments in highway construction in our history.

6. Representatives of our Chamber were active and instrumental in the discovery of our Gravel pit and the purchase of same which added many miles of hard roads to our district.

7. A special committee under our agricultural development program inaugurated the Dairy Day campaign which was a wonderful success and is now being used in various parts of 5 states.

8. Our Chamber of Commerce is directly responsible for our new Fulton County Farm Improvement Association and the procuring of a county agent to aid our farmers.

9. Our Chamber conducted a five days' dairy and poultry campaign which has proven to be a wonderful stimulant in agricultural pursuits.

10. Chamber has spent unlimited time in the general trade and social relationship with our rural communities which is a most spectacular effect to all concerned.

11. The continued conduct of our Chamber of Commerce throughout the year has permanently established a combination of collective wisdom, intelligence, civic pride and good will that bespeaks for our people a steady march upward to heights of accomplishments.

As we see it, the intangible properties which our organization has so successfully accomplished is far greater to us than the material or visible accomplishments which we have brought to your attention. It has developed local pride, it has made for us numbers of new friends which we hope to continually maintain and classify as our most valuable assets. We are happy to say that we are proud of our Chamber of Commerce and its activities for the past year and are therefore encouraged to go forward with an increased energy for still greater developments in mind for 1928.

Just as the Democratic party is hitting on all six and giving an exhibition of close harmony, someone has to do a Heflin.

"TELL IT TO THE MARINES" SHOWS LON CHANEY AS HE REALLY IS

Lon Chaney, whose portrayals of cripples and weird characters have been the talk of the world, veers to the other extreme, and physically at least, gives the public a glimpse of the real Lon Chaney, trained athlete and sportsman, in "Tell It to the Marines," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's epic of the Marine Corps, coming Monday and Tuesday, January 30 and 31, to the Grand Theatre. As a veteran Marine sergeant, Chaney heads long marches, fights strenuous battles—and shows that he's far from a cripple. In fact—one has to be an athlete, he held, to play crippled roles. William Haines, Eleanor Boardman, and a notable cast appear in the new picture, filmed with government cooperation.

MYSTERY MAKES A NEW GRIFFITH FILM

"One Exciting Night" Contains About All Ingredients, Plus a Storm Scene.

For his latest motion picture sensation "One Exciting Night," which has been announced as the feature attraction for next Monday and Tuesday at the Orpheum Theatre, D. W. Griffith, master-maker of photoplays, has taken for his cue the increasing popularity of the last two or three years of the stage melodrama and has produced a mystery picture par excellence.

In this newest of Griffith films, a United Artists Corporation release, the great director gives five of the six elements that go to make up effective mystery—secreted treasure, personal disappearance, puzzling homicide, hidden identity and the return of the avenging spirit. And with it he gives the spectator an altogether marvelous assortment in the way of actual entertainment.

There is as sweet and dainty a love story as ever was filmed; there is mystery galore—mystery till the audience sits breathless—and then comes relief from the suspense in the form of the most delightful and laughter-provoking comedy from Romeo Washington, a wonderful blackface character who finds himself torn between love of a dusky maid and fear of the peering eyes and stealthy figures that creep in and out are seen everywhere.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT HOUSTON, TEXAS, JUNE 26

Now that Houston, Texas, has been selected for the 1928 Democratic Convention, the entire South is jubilant and a precedent of more than half century has been shattered.

The last national Democratic convention to be held in a distinctly southern state convened in Charleston, S. C., in 1860. In that convention the party split over the slavery issue and the free wing nominated Stephen A. Douglas and the slavery wing nominated John C. Breckinridge.

The division resulted in the election of Abraham Lincoln, and the democracy lost the supremacy it had held with little interruption for 60 years.

Considering the geographical locations of the former convention cities, and their importance, from the population standpoint, the significance in Houston's winning of the 1928 session of the Democrats is the more fully realized. It may be properly considered a victory not only for Houston but for the South, the South that is amazing the nation with its material growth and development.

BETTER PRICES

At no time lately have we had a better demonstration of the tobacco situation than we have the past year. The farmer was unable because of natural conditions to plant a full or usual crop of tobacco, hence the short acreage is responsible for the prices that have been and are being paid for last year's crop.

It has been demonstrated that it is impossible by agreement to cut the acreage. There are enough farmers who disregard their word to make this kind of an agreement impossible, hence if left to a decreased acreage by organization it will fail.

There is one way, however, that this acreage can be decreased, and it is a wonderful way to do it, and will put money in the pockets of the farmer. If he can be (and he can be) induced to secure more cows and chickens, plant fruit trees and learn how to care for each of them, then a small crop of tobacco well cultivated, well handled and graded will not only be profitable, but he will find the cows, the chickens and the orchard are well worth looking after and profitable.

There is not much hope of getting the farmer of the present day to make this change all in one year, he is like all of us, too set in his ways to take up and try new things quickly. But there are in most every home boys and girls who, if properly educated along the right lines of thinking, will see the point, and when they become farmers as they will if the proper inducement is offered them, diversify to the extent that there will be but few if any, bad years on the farm.

One of the great troubles with us all, we have not the patience to grow. The writer heard a man prominent in his line, that of the poultry business, make a statement that we have not forgotten, and have thought much of and about it since. He made the statement in advising a young man who was considering going into the chicken and egg business, to start in a small way, and made this significant observation: "I have never known anyone to start in the chicken business in a small way with a few birds who made a financial failure of it, neither have I ever known any one to start in with a large flock and plenty of capital who failed to go broke."

This is a real statement, and we have not the space to go into detail of reasons for success and failure, but if you will study the matter you can conduct the right and reasonable answer. Our greatest trouble is we all want to be wholesalers and none of us willing to start as retailers.—W. T. Scott, in The Bulletin.

LIONS HONOR MEMORY OF LION MORMAN DANIEL

The Lions Club, at their regular meeting Friday, devoted the hour to the memory of Lion Daniel.

After beautiful tributes were paid to the departed, the following resolutions were adopted.

Whereas, be it resolved that we, the Lions club of Fulton, Ky., mourn the loss of one of our best members, Morman B. Daniel, who has been a member of our organization since the first Friday he came to Fulton, October 30, 1925. We know our community is better for his having lived in it, and our young life can do well to emulate the life he lived.

Whereas, be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of the Lions club, and a copy given to the Fulton newspapers and a copy sent to W. E. Daniel of Clinton, Ky.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Morman B. Daniel has been a member of the Board of Stewards of this church since 1925. He was made a member of the Board immediately after he became a citizen of this city. He was faithful, active and energetic in the discharge of his obligations as a member of the church and this Board. His influence in the church was wholesome and especially so among the younger members. He was instrumental in organizing a Young Men's Bible Class and was the teacher thereof. Under his guidance this class grew rapidly from its organization. He was a young man of strong convictions and moral courage, sufficient to stand by his convictions at all times. He was a man of clean speech and habits. He had in him the elements of leadership, and he was the leader of a splendid body of young men belonging to the Sunday school of this church.

Therefore, be it resolved by the Board of Stewards of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Fulton, Ky., that in his death, this church and this community has lost a member whose influence was wholesome and whose example may well be emulated by the entire membership of the church.

Be it further resolved this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this Board and a copy thereof, signed by the Chairman and attested by the Secretary, be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and a copy be given the local press.

H. B. Vaughn, Pastor,
A. G. Baldrige, Chairman
C. G. Fields, Secretary.

CHANGE NAME OF CLASS

The Young Men's Sunday school class which was taught by Morman B. Daniel, had the name changed Sunday to the Morman B. Daniel Sunday school class. A room in the new church was dedicated to his memory.

Sixty-three members of the class were present and a picture of the class was made. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to become members.

Lesson for January 29

THE GROWING FAME OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 3:7-12; 8:22-26

GOLDEN TEXT—The common people heard him gladly.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Followed by Crowds of People.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Growing Fame of Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why the People Followed Jesus.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Secret of Jesus' Fame.

I. Jesus Ministering by the Sea (3:7-12).

1. Why He withdrew. It was because of the murderous plotting of the Pharisees against His life. So violent was their hatred against Him that they conspired with the Herodians, whom they regarded as traitors to their nation and country, to put Him to death. Their opposition was aroused when Jesus claimed to have power on earth to forgive sins (2:10).

It grew in intensity when He mingled with publicans and sinners (2:16) and was thrown into a violent flame when He set at naught their false interpretations of the Sabbath law (2:23-28). Criticism and harshness causes Jesus today to withdraw from our presence.

2. To whom He ministered (vv. 7-8).

A great multitude, representing a wide stretch of territory. They came from Jerusalem and Idumea on the south, from beyond Jordan on the east, and from Tyre and Sidon on the northwest. Jesus was the magnetic attraction—the hero of the hour. The interest of the whole country centered in Him.

3. The result (vv. 9-12).

(1) So great was the pressure that lives seemed endangered by the thronging of the multitudes. Some came out of curiosity "when they heard what great things he did" (v. 8). Others came for physical benefit, to be healed of their diseases. To escape from the throng He ordered the disciples to secure a little boat for Him.

(2) The unclean spirits prostrated themselves before Him (vv. 11, 12). They confessed Him as the Son of God. They had no doubt about His deity. This testimony He refused to receive because (a) the time for His declaration was not yet ripe, (b) they were not the beings to make Him known. He would not receive tribute from such a source. He would be proclaimed only by those who loved and honored Him.

II. Jesus Ministering at Gennesaret (8:22-26).

1. Jesus recognized (v. 54). The people quickly recognized Him because they had witnessed His mighty works. The feeding of the 5,000 was doubtless still in their minds. Perhaps many of them had witnessed His works in Capernaum and nearby places. They had doubtless heard Him teach also. He was recognized wherever He went. When He rules in the lives of believers today, those who come into touch with them recognize the fact. They take knowledge of them that they have been with Jesus (Acts 4:13).

2. The people ran to see Jesus (v. 55). They did not go about this in a half-hearted way. Those who really come into touch with the Lord Jesus Christ have called forth from them unusual energy. The degree of reality of our contact with Him is expressed by our enthusiasm.

3. They searched the whole region for those in need (v. 55).

Those who were found to be sick and in need were carried in beds to Jesus. Those who have come to know Christ will go about earnestly seeking for the lost to bring them to Christ. It matters not what effort is required.

4. They were made whole by His touch (v. 56). The only touch which is needed for the healing of the human soul is that of faith. When the individual is brought into touch with Him by a vital and living faith, sin is vanquished and sickness and death lose their power.

$50 OUTFIT PRESENTED TO OVERTON FOR LEGION WORK

S. Watkins Overton suspended city business for 20 minutes Friday.

It was during that time that a tape measure sped around, up and over his body.

Wat Overton, American Legionnaire, had won a new suit. So S. Watkins Overton, mayor of Memphis, had to have it fitted.

Friday, Overton presented $234 to Joe Bearman, chairman of the legion membership drive. The money represented 78 paid memberships that Overton had enlisted.

A $50 Suit.

The $50 suit of clothing had been offered by G. C. Sensing, manager of Hoyle & Rarick, for the first legionnaire to obtain 75 paid members in the drive. It was Overton's prize. He took it with the remark:

"I sure need it. I haven't had time to fool with clothes since I started this mayor business."

Memphis Post No. 1 of the American Legion, has obtained more than 1,000 members in the drive which began Jan. 13. The objective is 3,000 members.

"Health Center" Has Cut Mortality Rate

East Harlem, one of the most congested districts in Manhattan has carried on a most interesting health program during the past six years, resulting in a decidedly reduced mortality rate, writes Savel Zimand in the New York Times.

The East Harlem health center is operated by the health department of the city, assisted by private health and social agencies. During the last five years the general death rate of Manhattan has increased while that of East Harlem has been reduced materially. The rate for Manhattan in 1925 was 4.9 per cent greater than in 1920 and that of East Harlem was 20 per cent lower, according to Kenneth D. Widdemer, executive director of the center.

One of the most important gains was made in the case of infant mortality. From 412 deaths of children under one year of age annually in 1916-20, the number dropped to 104 in 1925. All of the children's diseases decreased.

The American Red Cross was responsible for the origin of the center, providing headquarters and the funds during the first three years. Six years ago the city health department and 22 agencies established the real center. From time to time departments have been added and the facilities increased.—Welfare Magazine.

Close Association of Parents and Teachers

The Kansas City Council of Parents and Teachers, organized as a council in 1915, has grown to a membership of 22,000, standing as one of the foremost councils of the national parent-teacher organization. The council is made up of the following groups: Sixty-nine grade school associations, with 19,252 members; 26 preschool associations, with 537 members; 6 high school associations, with 918 members; 4 junior high school associations, with 1,247 members, and 2 church and community house associations, with 112 members. The largest single group membership comes from the Bancroft school, where 1,054 parents are active members. The Northeast Junior high school, with 620 members, is the largest high school association in Missouri. The J. C. Nichols school association has the distinction and honor of having every father, mother and teacher a member.

The room-teacher plan, together with the hearty co-operation of principal and teachers is held responsible to a large extent for this 100 per cent membership. Mothers act as sponsors for each room, answering questions of parents as to the purpose of the movement, its value to children, and the use of dues. The mother sponsors work with the membership committee.—Christian Science Monitor.

Trees for Highways

The following communication to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch is pertinent: "I should like to ask through your columns just why do the advocates of tree planting on the public highways not advocate fruit and nut trees, where the soil is adaptable or suitable for such trees. Inasmuch as fruit and nut trees would be so much more valuable to the citizens of the state and reduce the cost of fruits and nuts, which are becoming prohibitive?"

"At least every other tree should be a fruit or nut tree, and I believe every citizen would be willing to pay for at least one fruit or nut tree. I'm sure I would pay for more than one."

"Make the highways attractive by mixing fruit and nut trees among the shade trees—half of each, at least, and give fruit and nuts to all."

See Home as It Will Be

Architectural service is not an extravagance, not even an expense—it is an investment and a genuine saving.

Always build from plans, and before going ahead have a picture made of what the plans call for; in that way avoiding disappointment later when the building is up.

The expense of a rendered perspective sketch is small, and it often reveals the need of changes here and there. These can be easily made in the plans.

The Weed Law

Rank weeds give a neighborhood a scraggly and unkempt air. The complete citizen attends regularly to the moving and removal of unsightly weed patches wherever they may be responsible for those unpatriotic growths. Where the property owner or tenant lot owner neglects his duty, there is authority and responsibility to inspect and act for the community good at the expense of the delinquent weed crop producer.—Lafayette Journal and Courier.

Don't Spare Paint

Those who refrain from adequately painting exposed wood are in the class with the penny-wise, pound foolish. In addition, failure to paint loses one an esthetic pleasure which must be classed with one of the true joys of life.

Your Suit and Overcoat need the Wrinkles taken out

You know what a beauty shop can do for faces—how it can remove wrinkles from cheeks and crow's feet from eyes. But did you ever visit a "beauty shop for suits"—a modern dry cleaning and sanitary pressing establishment? Here, again, is a "fountain of youth"—this time for clothes.

For example, take one of your own suits to the O. K. Steam Laundry—one you've worn often. If it's a light suit, the grime is plainly visible at collar and cuffs; perhaps there is a bit of grease on it from your car. If the suit is dark, the dirt may not show—but it's there. One cannot ride in automobiles and taxis, and not gather dirt.

But see what your dry cleaner, the O. K. Laundry, can do for this suit.

First, it is tumbled in warm, drying air; the moisture is removed, the dust shaken out, obstinate spots loosened. An expert "spotter" then goes over the garment by hand—stains and spots vanish before his skill. Next, the suit is soured gently, thoroughly, back and forth, in the purest of cleaning fluids. Soil embedded in the fabric is filtered out; grime and grease are dissolved away. After most of the moisture has been whirled out, the suit is carefully dried in a breeze of fresh, warm, sterile air, then with the warm air sifting thru it, it is fluffed softly. The nap comes to life, the cloth becomes fresh and smart again.

Nor is this dry cleaning "magic" limited to men's suits and overcoats. Hats and gloves, women's coats, suits, dresses and blouses, children's clothes—almost every article of wearing apparel can be given this same renewing, refreshing treatment. And how much longer clothes wear when they receive it. Truly dry cleaning pays its own bills.

Of course, we make a specialty of dry cleaning draperies, rugs, etc. Don't overlook this

OPINIONS DIVERGE ON POLICY OF TEXAS IN NATIONAL CONVENTION

Fort Worth, Texas.—Two radically different views of the part Texas should play in the Democratic National Convention, which meets at Houston in June, are presented by State Senator Thomas B. Love and C. C. Renfro, both of Dallas, in extensive articles in the February number of Bunker's monthly, issued here Saturday.

Contending that an attempt is being made to convert the Democratic Party into the party of anti-prohibition through the nomination of a "wet" candidate, Senator Love declares this move should be met by instructing the Texas delegates to the convention to vote against Governor Al Smith of New York or any other "wet" candidate.

Wants to Avoid Turmoil.

Mr. Renfro advocates an uninstructed delegation, so far as candidates are concerned, insisting that "Texas must not send another trouble-making delegation to the national convention." He says that if the turmoil of the New York convention four years ago is repeated at Houston it will absolutely destroy the influence of the Democratic party in national affairs.

Senator Love raises the question, "Expediency or the Right—Which?" and Mr. Renfro says the real question is, "Do We Want a National Party?" Senator Love was formerly the Democratic National Committeeman from Texas. Mr. Renfro, a Dallas attorney, is secretary of the Texas Uninstructed for President Club.

Cannot Win With Wet.

Senator Love declares that even if the Democratic party could win with a "wet" candidate, the party should not purchase victory at the price of doing wrong. But he denies that it can win with such a candidate. "As surely as righteousness exalteth a nation," says Senator Love, "this is a time when unrighteousness will both defeat and degrade the Democratic Party."

"It does not require an intensive investigation," says Senator Love, "to know that any wet nomination for the presidency this year by the Democratic Party will smash the Solid South to smithereens. No wet presidential candidate has any better chance of carrying the South than a dry candidate would have to carry New York in 1928, or than Woodrow Wilson had to get a majority of the vote in New York in 1912 or in 1916, or than James M. Cox had in 1920 or John W. Davis had in 1924."

Denies Other Charges

Mr. Renfro denies that an uninstructed delegation from Texas would increase the probability of a "wet" candidate, but insists it would increase the probability of harmony in the convention. He denies that the movement for an uninstructed delegation is in the interest of a wet candidate. "Our object in advocating a delegation uninstructed as to the candidate," writes Mr. Renfro, "is to guard against the very thing that happened in the last convention. We want to send a delegation to the next convention that conceives the Democratic party as a truly national organization, that sees the delegates from other states, especially from states outside the South, as their fellow-Democrats, concerned about a common object—that of equipping party for national service—and not as sinister conspirators to be feared so greatly as to make it necessary to safeguard the delegation with iron-clad instructions against their machinations. Above all we do not want a delegation exuding venom and hatred toward the delegates from other states and toward the candidates they may propose. To send such a delegation would mean deliberately to plan to promote discord and disruption in the convention and to block all chance of equipping the party for the great opportunity for national service that is now presented."

Will Work for Party

While denying that his movement is working for the nomination of any particular candidate or kind of candidate, Mr. Renfro adds, "but we frankly confess that we are willing to take off our coats and go to work for the election of any good Democrat whom two-thirds of the delegates, representing the Democrats of every state in the Union, and not just one section or one faction, after due deliberation, decide to nominate."

Senator Love contends that the Smith leaders are on record as saying that all they ask of Texas is an uninstructed delegation, and charges there is a direct connection between the Smith organization and the organization Mr. Renfro represents. To meet this, he declares, it is necessary to instruct the Texas delegation against Al Smith and other "wet" candidates.

Urges Anti-Wet Instructions.

"If the Democratic party is kept out of the liquor business in 1928, as I am sure it will be," Senator Love continues, "it will be done by Texas instructing its delegates in the primaries next May, against all wet candidates for president by name, and Texas should have the credit for that achievement. On the other hand, if the Democratic party goes into the liquor business Texas should have the credit of fighting it to the last ditch."

"There is no danger of the Democratic party becoming the party of anti-prohibition, replies Mr. Renfro. "Certainly there is no danger of a Texas delegation, freely elected by a convention formed by the Democrats of the state in accordance with the regular procedure, becoming participants criminis to any move to commit the party to such a course. But it requires two-thirds of the votes of a national convention to nominate a candidate, and, the votes of the very delegates who are pledged to support these tabooed candidates will be needed to name the one who is finally nominated."

Plan Would Mean Strife

Mr. Renfro contends that instructions such as Senator Love proposes would alienate these delegates from the start and promote strife. "Let's send a delegation to the national convention that will work for harmony instead of disruption."

Senator Love points out that a wet president could defeat prohibition by his control of the law-enforcing machinery, and by the appointment of wet judges to fill vacancies on the United States supreme bench. Texas should work to prevent this, he contends.

The two articles together exceed 10,000 words and are exhaustive and interesting.

YOU ARE INVITED

The Secretary of the Fulton Poultry Association has called a mass meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in Fulton, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

This promises to be a very interesting and instructive meeting, especially for all who are interested in raising better poultry.

Mr. McPherson, our new County Agent, will have charge of the meeting and will impart some valuable information on the chicken industry which will be helpful to all concerned.

There will be talks made at the meeting by several poultry men well up on the industry and the exchange of ideas and experiments will be interesting.

The Fulton Poultry Association is a live institution, backed by men who have no selfish motive in view except to assist and educate the people of this vicinity in raising better poultry and realizing a profit on their investment.

If you are not interested in poultry, attend the meeting anyway. The County Agent is anxious to get acquainted with you. He is a man bubbling over with experience and helpful ideas regarding every phase of farm work and is ready to assist you in every branch of endeavor. If you are in a rut and see no way out, give him a chance, and maybe he will "yank" you out with ease and start you on the road to success and prosperity.

SPECIAL OFFER

For a short time we will accept subscriptions for this paper and the Memphis Weekly Commercial Appeal—both papers one year for only $1.25.

COOPERATION BREEDS SUCCESS

J. T. Watkins, secretary of the Fulton Poultry Association, is happy. After years of hard work in an effort to create an interest in the poultry industry in this vicinity and to demonstrate the breeding value of purebred, standard bred, thoroughbred chickens for success, against great handicaps and little encouragement, if any, the new county agent, Mr. McPherson, gives him his heartiest support by starting a systematic campaign of culling every flock in the county where it is permissible.

It is a wonderful start in the right direction for our county agent, because with this encouragement it will inspire Mr. Watkins to put his best efforts in the work and be one of the ablest assistants in accomplishing just what Mr. McPherson desires, to make of Fulton county the banner poultry producing county in the state, if not in the South. This is just one among other good things we have to develop.

The people of this community are just now beginning to see the results of Mr. Watkins' persistent efforts in preaching the gospel truth of breeding pure birds. The wise ones said nothing but were converted and today you will find a number of folks in this vicinity without a scrub.

The wonderful improvement was especially noticeable at the poultry exhibit of our county fair last year when the largest and best poultry show ever witnessed here was an outstanding feature. This year it promises to be even better.

J. T. Watkins is not a farmer. He is a railroad man working for the Illinois Central. He has a run between Cairo and Memphis. His home and family is in Memphis. His hobby is chickens. He is a poultry specialist and is thoroughly familiar with every branch of the industry. He can look at a chicken's eye and tongue and diagnose its case perfectly.

Many a fine bird in his backyard has found its way to the frying pan because a feather was either too long or too short, in this way he has managed to keep his pens up to the highest standard of perfection. No wonder his success in capturing prizes and blue ribbons.

Now that he has the cooperation of the county agent in his efforts in Fulton vicinity we can expect greater improvement in the poultry industry here.

Mr. Watkins lays great stress on breeding, and says "Now is the time of year that many folks are buying their males, which are to head their breeding flocks, and I cannot say too emphatically to be careful that you purchase the right sort. So many times the mistake is made of putting off the buying until it is too late and then we hunt around, here and there, and take just whatever there is to be had, with no choice whatever."

NEW MASTER COMMISSIONER

George C. Roberts, well known business man of Fulton, senior member of the Roberts Clothing Company, has recently been appointed Master Commissioner of Fulton County by Judge Joe Williams. The appointment is for a six-year term. Mr. Roberts succeeds John E. Melton.

This was Judge Warren's first court in Fulton, and the splendid manner in which the court's business was dispatched was cause for much comment by the legal profession.

No cases of unusual importance come up at this term to report.

DOES POULTRY PAY?

In a chat with the editor last week the question was asked, "Why, with our ideal location and climate, do we not take more interest in poultry and make greater profits?"

I am greatly interested in poultry and know where fortunes have been made. Management is the secret of success with poultry as with everything else. Naturally one would lose interest in any enterprise unless he could show a profit, and if a cost account were kept it is doubted that many could show a profit.

For the capital invested, no product on the farm can show as great a profit or as quick a turn over of capital as a chicken. However, it must be said that few know how to care properly for poultry.

Through these columns an endeavor shall be made to help you, by calling to attention proper methods for greater profits.

Let it be understood that the writer is not a poultry expert, but a farmer who has made more or less extensive study of this work, and who will be glad to assist others.

Teaching You Thrift

Practice makes perfect. Schoolmasters of today as well as yesterday constantly repeat that truth. Pupils learn by applying it.

Application of that principle to our everyday habits proves its practical help. We learn by practicing, whether it be a good habit or a bad habit.

This bank teaches you thrift by leading you to practice it. The lesson is easily learned once it is begun. To become perfect in it requires constant practice. A savings account is the most consistent method of practicing thrift.

BEELERTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Noel Kendall, who is teacher in the Junior High was called home last Tuesday on account of the serious illness of his mother and has not yet returned but we hope to have him back with us soon. Miss Rebecca Robey who has been filling Mr. Kendall's place has been doing splendid work and we appreciate her cooperation with us.

Since the last news appeared the boys have played a very interesting basketball game with the Crutchfield boys on their court, the score being 9 to 6 in our favor.

We are practicing hard on the approaching debate with Fulghum. The debaters are studying for the trial debate which will be held in a few days. The subject is: Resolved that the McNary-Haugen Bill should be enacted into a law by Congress. Beelerton has the affirmative and we are expecting some good points from our students. Beelerton will be represented by three of the following: Hugh Wright, Pauline Davis, Harry Bushart, Nell Wright, Lowell Weatherspoon and Zelma Pillow.

Mrs. D. D. Crisp, the primary teacher who has been quite ill for the past week, was able to return to school Monday morning to continue the excellent work which she has been doing. Miss Boone Walker, who has been substituting for Mrs. Crisp, has done wonderful work and we were glad to have her with us.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Kirksey is leaving us and we hate to give her up. She has been a valued assistant in our school for the last three and one-half years and has won the love and admiration of the students as well as the people of the community. We feel that in losing her, we are losing one of the best teachers in the county, but know that Mrs. Kirksey has bettered herself by accepting a position as bookkeeper in the state library at Frankfort, Ky. The good wishes of her many friends go with her and may she have great success in her new position.

The board will have a new teacher for us in a few days, in the meantime Miss Boone Walker will substitute.

"Welfare of Electric Power Companies is Public's Welfare"

Says
New York Herald-Tribune

"The theory of regulation is that utility service shall be furnished at cost, which includes a fair return on the value of the property used to furnish the service. It contemplates utilities sufficiently prosperous to furnish high grade service, not corporations held down to starvation rates."
