We were shocked on hearing the report of the untimely and tragic death of Paul Vaughn, which took place at Tobacco, Sunday afternoon, by being struck by a southbound N. C. & St. L. train about 3:30 o'clock. "Paul" as he was affectionately called, was familiarly known over this section of the county, having lived on O. F. Curd farm the past 8 years with the exception of this year, when by his own peculiar idea, decided to move, where he located near the railroad bottom, of which place he lived in a small bus, accident.

'Congratulations! How did you do it?'

"How did I do it? Well, it started seven years ago when I made up my mind that SOME day I would have my own business. From that day I began saving—opened an account at the Bank of Murray, fed it every Saturday night, and let the 4 per cent interest ride... the account grew, and now... well, thanks for the congratulations!"

Like this young man, you too can be successful if you will start saving HERE—NOW. The Bank of Murray welcomes you and will be glad to serve you completely.

Joe T. Lovett, Editor
Entered at the Postoffice, Murray, Ky., as second class mail matter.
Post Office No. 100.
Second Class, October 30, 1928.
Advertising Rates and information about Calloway county market furnished upon application.

The Ledger & Times is dedicated to fair, impartial and conscientious service to Calloway county; subservient to no master but the progress and well-being of this community and seeking patronage solely upon merit.

Warning to Contributors

A few misguided imbeciles with a perverted sense of humor have been taking advantage of persons and organizations in their communities as well as the Ledger & Times by sending in false accounts of marriages and other items which have absolutely no foundation in fact.

The Ledger & Times is determined to put an immediate and drastic stop to such practices. False and malicious items have been kept in this office and every effort will be made to track down their authors so that proper punishment may be meted out. The Ledger & Times extremely regrets and sincerely apologizes to those who have been victimized by its acceptance, in the best of faith, of these false statements.

The Ledger & Times wants the news of Calloway county, the true, reliable, accurate news, but even at the sacrifice of this, the following rule regarding acceptance of contributions of items is hereby made:

No item will be accepted unless the editor of the Ledger & Times has the true name of the contributor. Items may be signed by a "Non-De-Pume", but they will be ignored unless the contributor also gives his or her actual name. The actual name will not be published, on request, but it must be had by this office before the item will be used.

A Splendid Family

In these days of skitting hither and thither about the country in a wild scramble to improve one's financial status, it is refreshing to read of a substantial family of fine, old American stock that stayed at home, tended to its own business and enjoyed life to the utmost. Such we include, in the history of the Lawrence family, whose mother succumbed week before last, at the ripe old age of ninety-two, within a few miles of where she was born.

Doctors and health authorities have succeeded in lengthening the span of human life an average of several years but practically all of the gain has been made in the decrease of infant mortality and not in the length of time that the average individual manages to hold on to earthly existence. Life is too complicated and too fast for advanced ages to be reached, except in occasional instances.

The Lawrence family is one of extreme longevity. For a man eighty-two years old to have a living mother is indeed a rarity. And it is of unusual import, too, that all of Mrs. Lawrence's children were living and in good health at the time of her death. In the same country and of the same stock is the same community in which they were born.

These splendid people are the most reliable and substantial citizens. They are of the stock that gives America its foundation and its stability. Honest, reliable people who not only obey the letter but the spirit of the law; who work hard, mind their business and live honestly. America needs more such families as this. And it does have more than ready for their never broken into print.

"Far from the maddening crowd" of ignominious strife, the Lawrence family wishes never learned to stray. Along the cool, sequestered, vale of life, they kept the noisiness, even tenor of their way."

There never has been any logical reason, of course, why a rich man should not be equally punished with the poor man for the same crime. But it certainly has been a tremendous task to bring it about and if we have finally reached that goal in our American jurisprudence a step worth commemoration has been attained.

There may be a bit Bohemian and we cannot help a feeling of innate satisfaction when some "rich bug" pays for a crime in the same manner that we feel sure would be meted out to some poor man in the same boat; and we're sure, his suspicious that most of us poor folks feel about the same way.

relating his conclusions from personal experience as an advertiser. He had tried every method to decide which was the cheapest and most effective. The superiority of the newspaper may be summed up in the statement that it is a medium for the advertiser which people want and are willing to pay for having delivered to them. Louisville Courier-Journal.

Dollars Lose Their Immunity

The conviction of a "rich bug" clear put an end to the talk that "You can't Put a Million Dollars in Jail." That used to be one of the greatest battle cries of the Socialists and Iconoclasts.

If that day is over and we hope it is, at least it isn't near so hard to do as it once was. America will be considerably nearer that ideal that Jefferson had in mind when he wrote the Declaration of Independence, the "equality" of all men.

The next conviction to break the ancient adage was the conviction of former Senator and Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. Though he is not a millionaire, his political and business connections gave him the protection of "a million dollars."

Third on the list of millions protected defendants in criminal cases is Pantages, the theatre millionaire accused of an offense against a girl of minor age. If the west coast libertine goes free it will be a narrow squeak for the jury reported 11 to 1 for conviction.

There never has been any logical reason, of course, why a rich man should not be equally punished with the poor man for the same crime. But it certainly has been a tremendous task to bring it about and if we have finally reached that goal in our American jurisprudence a step worth commemoration has been attained.

There may be a bit Bohemian and we cannot help a feeling of innate satisfaction when some "rich bug" pays for a crime in the same manner that we feel sure would be meted out to some poor man in the same boat; and we're sure, his suspicious that most of us poor folks feel about the same way.

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1822, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of incalculable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better methods to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that the dreaded germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Betadine, the modern antiseptic. You can get Liquid Betadine in a size to fit your needs and prices, from Dale, Stubbinsfield & Co.

Many Books on Weather
The weather bureau at Washington has in the course of its existence accumulated a library of more than 17,000 books all relating to the weather. This library is frequently resorted to for the purpose of answering the thousands of questions which are constantly being received. The department endeavors to answer all such inquiries but sometimes finds itself stumped, for it appears that there is a great deal that is not known about the weather.

How Perfectly Awful
"The average blue law," says a writer in the Vancouver Province, "is usually the result of the impact upon a minority mass psychology of an urge to sacrifice inherent in a truly vivid and full nature that has been warped by centuries of domineering teachings originally induced by material poverty."

I had no idea it was as bad as that!—Detroit News.

Smartest Class
According to Dr. Edward R. Free, New York scientist, mechanics constitute the most intelligent class of the nation. Next come engineers and technical men, with business men third. Actors, physical class, children and professors rank lowest, excluding the large class of morons. He based this rating on the hypothesis that intelligence is the ability to reach a correct conclusion from discoverable facts.—New York World Magazine.

Children love the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup" and gladly take it even when taken. It is a natural laxative. No other has five regulates the tender little bowels so nicely. It sweetens the stomach and starts the liver and bowels with out cramping or overacting. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs. Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies as children of all ages printed on bottle Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

JUST JOTS

Miss Hebe Dahlke, of movie fame, is a newly commissioned Colonel on Governor Simpson's multitudinous staff. Page Fifty Arkuckle, boy!

The Paducah Sun-Democrat says it is an unwritten law that every "rich bug" shall be "sent to jail" on that detail, Brother Mitchell.

Sunday's papers reported the stock market back to normal but it is doubtful whether some of the margin players recovered that quickly.

Senator Sackett has undertaken to explain to President Hoover why there were some vacant seats during the President's address at Louisville. But what bothers Democrats is that there never seems to be any Republicans absent at the polls.

Briland has now held the office of Premier of France twelve times. Perhaps he's the model for some of our perpetual office seekers.

Now if some crop such as potatoes or turnips could be used to solve the farm relief problem would be solved. A turnip ought to make a pretty fair Yo-Yo at that.

The Grocery Bill of the Ledger & Times staff has been increased within the past week. The boys have been composing the "Cook Book of the Murray Woman's Club" and claim that the tasteful menus make their mouths water.

Now is the time for all good merchants to start their Christmas advertising. Shop early!

The multitude of automobile accidents makes us sometimes wonder if the stone age wasn't a quiet, peaceful era in the world's history.

Pools will drive and drivers will fool around.

Where Turpin Tarried

On the Great North road, in England, stands a very ancient and historical inn, known as the "Eight Bells" and this inn is the cause of much disturbance amongst the local inhabitants, because of the likelihood of its being closed down.

This old inn has many interesting historical facts attached to it, and amongst others, Dick Turpin is said to have made frequent calls at the "Eight Bells" during his famous ride between London and York. Another famous writer, according to local report, was Bill Lums.

A Mayfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, to be affiliated with the National organization, has been organized, with Edwin Morrow as president.

R. M. Fairleigh & Co. of Hopkinsville, will open a tobacco factory in Mayfield, according to the Kentucky News-Kent.

Just Like An Ostrich
A medical authority says that a person who tries to cover up skin blemishes and pimples with toilet cream and powders is just as foolish as an ostrich that buries its head in the sand to avoid danger. Skin eruptions are nature's warning that contamination is throwing poisons into your blood stream and weakening your whole constitution. Remove the contaminated condition and you will strengthen your system against disease and clear up your disfigured skin. The best way to do this is with a course of Herbol, the vegetable medicine that acts naturally and easily, which you can get at Dale, Stubbinsfield & Co.

If you were your grocer?

DAY after day of futile waiting for that bill that remains unpaid. It doesn't promote good will. And it isn't fair.

Put yourself in the place of your grocer, druggist, clothing or dry-goods merchant, requiring ready money to meet manufacturer's bills and expenses. Wouldn't you feel that "square-shooting" means prompt payment?

Nowhere else in the world do you get the same quality, service and courtesy that you get from your local merchants. They serve you faithfully and cheerfully every day, striving to make this community in which you live a better one; supporting every movement for the improvement of your welfare.

Is it fair to mis-treat him through slow payment that eats up all the small profit that he makes on earnings? If you do work or service for him, don't you expect to get your money from him promptly? He is willing to accommodate you, but:

Tiger to Play Fulton

After a week's rest the Tigers will face the strong eleven from Fulton on the local grid Friday Nov. 1.

Coach Gardner has been getting the boys through strenuous practice this week. This promises to be one of the most interesting games on the home field. Both teams are in excellent shape.

Getting the Most out of School
To get the most out of school you must serve it: for in school, as in life, the highest satisfaction is in giving. The student who thinks first of the school, who is proud of its good name, and puts its interests before their own, will to its purpose and ideal.

A student of this type has a good school spirit; for school spirit is not noise, nor does it consist so much in cheering team on to victory, or backing it in time of defeat as in being loyal to its purpose and ideal.

As many students as possible should go in for athletics. In doing this they should go in wholeheartedly, with or lose.

Every student should engage in some intellectual activity. If the school has a paper, try to write for it. If it has literary societies or musical organizations join them or go in for public speaking and debating. Of course, no sensible student will overdo these activities. By doing these things it not only shows true school spirit and is a help to the school, but you will form friendships that will last for a lifetime.

In the students' opinion, to support these activities there is one thing that must not be forgotten, that is to master their work. Learn to get it thoroughly and in the least possible time, and for help only when it is impossible to go on without it.

Therefore, the one who gets the most out of school usually puts this most in it—Catherine Purdon.

"Who! Who!" says the old owl and "Where? Where?" whispers the old witch. "It will be all over town and finally at the high school building, Thursday night, October 31. When a good time will be issued to every one who is present. All kinds of shows, acts, and amusements are being planned.

YOUNG MAN

It is for age to give advice to youth. Ask any successful man to explain the rudiments of advancement and undoubtedly he will say: "Young man! SAVE YOUR MONEY!"

Behind this sage advice lies the well known truth that man must labor and save at either one period of his life or another. It is by far better to devote the enthusiastic days of youth to the serious business of making a living—and accumulating wealth.

Our bank offers Strength, Service and Constructive Advice to the young men who will be tomorrow's captains of industry.

PAINS Went Away

"I was very much run-down in health, had a dreadful ache across the middle of my back. I had a dull, tired feeling, and I was tired when I got up in the morning. I got no rest from my sleep, and I was sleepy all day long."

"My husband got a bottle of Cardui for me. It was not long before I began to show a decided improvement. My strength began to return and I felt much more like myself. The sleep spells gradually quit and the pain in my back and sides disappeared."

"Cardui is a splendid tonic for women. I proved it for myself."—Shirley, Box 22, R. F. D. 1, Elgin, Texas.

not. A carnival Queen will be elected from the list of contestants representing each class in high school.

The English II class organized a club on Oct. 14, 1929, which is composed of 23 members. The members are as follows: William Dickerson, Jim H. Davidson, Loma Dye, H. H. Fawell, Jr., Meadow Harrison, Mrs. Hart who is our teacher, Ed Frank Kirk, both shares, Lashier, Charles Miller, Sadie Nell Outland, Bonnie Span, Pat Wear, O. C. Wells, Jr. and Marguerite Willard.

The officers were elected at the first meeting which are as follows: Ed Frank Kirk, President; Pat Wear, Vice President; Meadow Harrison, Secretary; Charles Miller, Treasurer; H. H. Fawell, Jr., Constitution writer. These officers will hold their office one month and then others will be elected.

The purpose of this club is to collect magazines and papers, and to stand on your feet and express your thoughts clearly. The name has not yet been decided upon, but will be next meeting. At the next meeting the first thing that is done is the minutes of last meeting and approved. The next thing is any new business and any unfinished business; if there is any we see to it. When they have finished this, we then give articles which are all very interesting.

RAW MILK—PASTEURIZED MILK CONTROVERSY
I think the milk-consuming public should be familiar with a few facts concerning pasteurized milk before action is taken.

Every person who will not hesitate to say that milk produced for the pasteurizing plants is not produced with the same care and the same degree of cleanliness as milk produced which is sold in its natural state. Pasteurized milk is not cleaned milk, much less clean milk.

The writer is not at all confused as to the purposes of pasteurization, for at best pasteurization is only a partial disinfection of an already dirty milk. Milk after it has been filtered, clarified and pasteurized should not contain any sediment (foreign matter) whatsoever. But what about it here it goes through all this manipulation? Only the coarser particles of dirt can be filtered out. This fifthness, however, is left in the milk for hours before it reaches the plant and all of the soluble portion has been dissolved and combined with the milk, contaminating it.

The manager of the pasteurization plant is not a fairy (or at least I have never seen one that way). He cannot wave a magic wand and separate the chaff from the wheat.

Natural or raw milk, properly produced, such as most of our milk delivered in our city is produced, has never been contaminated. It is produced clean and wholesome—does not need to be filtered or clarified, for it is produced in a clean, sanitary manner.

We leave it to the consuming public which they prefer—milk which has never been clean or milk which has been contaminated and partially disinfected by pasteurization. I believe the consuming public will say, "Pure milk is better than purified milk."

In the October issue of "Good Health," edited by the noted food specialists, Dr. John Harvey Kellogg, he writes: "In the pasteurizing of milk, the milk-souring germs are killed, but the spore-forming germs remain unaffected because a much higher temperature is required to destroy them, a temperature of from 220 to 240 degrees Fahrenheit. In other words pasteurizing destroys the harmless acid-forming germs, leaves nothing to hinder their development and mischievous activity. If pasteurized milk is not kept cold, but is allowed to stand for some hours at a higher temperature it will not sour if it has been well pasteurized, but, instead, the dangerous Welch's bacillus and other dangerous germs, will develop in it and it will become unfit for use. Even dangerous to life."

Diarrhea in children is often due to this cause. Pasteurized milk is heated only to 145 degrees Fahrenheit, therefore you can easily see that through such process there is not the slightest chance of destroying the real and dangerous germs. On the other hand through the cooling process this growth is almost altogether destroyed, inasmuch as high-class natural or raw milk producers cool the milk directly after it is milked—bringing it to a temperature of 40 degrees.
