MILLIONAIRE FOUND GUILTY OF VOTE TAMPERING

Frankfort, Ky.—James Wallace, former state treasurer and millionaire owl and tax collector of Fulton, Ky., was convicted of two counts of vote tampering with election returns in the August primary, a Frankfort circuit court jury held Thursday afternoon in finding him guilty of the first charges against him.

For three hours and five minutes the 12 jurors, seven of whom are farmers and the others merchants, deliberated the charge before returning their verdict.

A mirror of surprise greeted throughout the courthouse when the verdict was read, but the 6'4-year-old defendant remained composed.

"I am innocent," said Wallace as the death sentence was read. "I intend to go down fighting." He added that he was "not discouraged and that he would continue to fight against various accusations that have been made about him.

The former treasurer lashed out against those responsible for making the charges against him.

"The evidence is not sufficient to sustain the charges against me," Wallace declared. "I am innocent of the charges."

HERE'S NOW TO BE HIGHER FEED COST

"Back Up" Corn With Other Feeds to Grow Pig for Market Quickly.

"Back up" corn with other feeds to grow pigs for market quickly. When prices are high, the feed cost per pound of pork is dependent on the price of corn. Food is the main ingredient of pigs, and a certain amount of corn must be fed to make it profitable to raise pigs. For many years, corn has been used as the main ingredient of pig feeds, but the rising cost of corn has made it necessary to find other feeds that can be used in combination with corn to make it profitable to raise pigs. Suggestions have been made to use alfalfa, which is a good source of protein, but it is not as nutritious as corn. Alfalfa contains nitrogen, but it does not contain enough of the other nutrients that pigs need to grow and stay healthy. Therefore, it is necessary to use other feeds in combination with corn to make it profitable to raise pigs.
