Opening Services Methodist Church Largely Attended

Sunday was a day of great rejoicing in Fulton. The occasion was the formal opening of the new Methodist church building. Bishop Horace M. DuBose, of Nashville, was the chief speaker of the occasion and delivered two inspiring sermons during the day. The subject for his morning sermon was "The Divinity of Christ," and at the evening service, "The Joy of Christian Life." The large auditorium was filled to capacity, estimated at 1,200. Many out-of-town visitors were in attendance as well as members of local churches.

The musical numbers, under the direction of Mrs. Chas. Brann, with Mrs. Clarence Maddox at the organ, was a pleasing part of the order of worship.

BIBLE PRESENTED TO CHURCH

Hon. H. T. Smith presented to the church, in a very fitting manner a bible given to the church by Mrs. Mary Collins, the widow of Bro. Collins, one of the pioneer pastors of the church, the bible being one given Bro. Collins during his ministry. Mr. Smith said: Ladies and Gentlemen: This church was organized between the years 1867 and 1870 by the Rev. J. T. Collins. The exact date of its organization is not known; we have no record of it. He was the first pastor of this church; he was twice its pastor. This bible I hold before you was presented to him by a congregation he served in Memphis in appreciation of his services as its pastor. It is approximately 80 years old and is in perfect condition. He wielded a wonderful influence in this community for good. He was an outstanding preacher for his day or this day. He was a profound thinker. His English was as pure and chaste as the icicles that hang from Diana's brow; his spirit was as gentle as an evening zephyr. He was a good man. In memory of his departed spirit and as a gift to this church I am commissioned by his widow, Mrs. Mary C. Collins, to present this bible.

In accepting the bible on the part of the church, Bishop DuBose said: On behalf of this congregation and its pastor, and all that are represented in the relations of this church, I am commissioned to accept this timely gift of Mrs. Mary Collins, the widow of an ex-pastor of this church, and a pre-eminent pastor in that it was under his hand and ministry that the church was founded.

On an occasion like this signalized by the completion of the house of worship, represented by the assembling of wood, brick and mortar, of wondrous glass and all equipment for comfort—a shrine—there could be no more fitting a gift than this. This house with its divine splendor and completeness, with joyousness which breaks out of the heart of every one of us, was built to enshrine this word: Not as a token of the out-pour of genius, but to honor this book; enshrine this book in our very hearts. This book is a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night; it is to guide the assembly that meet in this house. This matchless, enduring, unchangeable word of God. Therefore on behalf of the pastor, and the congregation, and the whole administration of this church, I express to thee our heart-felt thanks for this timely and thoughtful gift.

DR. VAUGHT PRESENTS BISHOP DU BOSE

In introducing Bishop Horace M. DuBose, Dr. Vaught, Pastor of the local church, said:

I am sure each one of you, whether a member of this church or not, are glad that this day has come, and that in our midst has been erected a temple to God, and I trust this morning, through all the years, it will be used for no other purpose than the advancement of His Kingdom, and this room may be termed a place of Holy of Holies, and when we come into it, come with the reverence that should come from the children of God. I am sorry I do not have room for all of the churches of our city this morning, but limited space prohibits. We are glad indeed to have these former pastors present with us: Brother Waters, Brother Sellers and Brother Walker, and our dearly beloved Brother Norman.

I know of no Bishop or preacher I had rather have than the man whom I have known for a number of years. When I was secretary of the Epworth League work I knew him; in fact, he has the distinction of being the father of the Epworth League movement. He is just a little sensitive for fear we might make him feel old. When I was over in the Holston Conference we called him "our elder Brother," and it is with a great deal of pleasure I present to you Bishop Horace M. DuBose, of Nashville, Tenn., who will now preach for us.

Sermon by Bishop DuBose

Heartily and most enthusiastically I am moved to congratulate you upon the achievement of your great task—the completion of this church. The building of a great house and shrine of worship in any community is an occasion of congratulations. Such a house becomes a prophecy, not only a prophecy, but an overt demonstration. It is history in the making, history made and history and history yet to be made; and the completion of a house of worship under conditions indicated is significant as to its prophecy, and reciprocates in the ratio of its significance of the sacrifices as a result of unselfish giving and contribution. On that most holy spot perhaps of all the earth, the site of the ancient temple, I stood and recalled the quotation of David when he said, "I will not offer unto the Lord that which cost me nothing." So you have offered Him this house, and today in a most reverent manner opened and presented it to the use of the Christian people for the service of God in a great temple of worship. There is hardly one in the land greater. In all of the Memphis Conference I am sure there is not a house that surpasses this in its simplicity, convenience and beauty. So I most heartily congratulate you, I pray that all the things which this house may be fulfilled to you and those who may be privileged to worship here during the coming years.

I am inviting your prayerful attention to the eleventh verse of the fourteenth chapter of St. John, "Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me; or else believe me for the very works' sake." The form of words can have little significance.

A pleasing feature of the church activities is the Sunday school work. A visit to the various departments is interesting. Each room in its artistic beauty reflects the handiwork of its superintendent and assistants.

MORMAN B. DANIEL BIBLE CLASS

The Morman B. Daniel Bible class is showing a continued progress under the leadership of Joe Davis. Sunday's attendance was 45, and all present manifested a splendid interest. Mr. Davis brought to the class a most inspiring message. He gave a most impressive word picture of Christ and His daily life as an individual. He pictured to his audience the Christ as a supreme being with great patience and endurance showing the wonderful works of a loyal spirit and emphasized the great importance of a better understanding of our duties and the peculiarities of our fellowman, declaring that the lack of a better understanding of our fellow man and a positive conviction upon which our conscience may safely be based is the one great obstacle and barrier between many men and a happy and successful life.

May we again say that Mr. Davis is going to prove himself a wonderful class leader and it is urgently important that every young man who is now not attending some Sunday school is standing in his own light and will soon be awakened to the fact that he is in a class to himself insofar as Fulton is concerned. The class will meet at the church next Sunday morning at 8:45 where they will assemble for a visit to Clinton where they will be the guests of the Young Men's Bible class of that city. Cars will be provided for all who care to go and it is hoped that the full membership will be present.

CLINTON LIONS HOLD GOOD MEETING

The Lions Club of Clinton was host to a big get-together meeting of the business men of Clinton last Friday night which was held in the Woman's Club building. The ladies of the club served delightful refreshments during the meeting.

The meeting was a very fine meeting and was largely attended by the people of Clinton. Thomas King of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, and Secretary Motley, of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce were the speakers of the evening. Both men spoke very much at length of the importance of civic pride and urged the people of Clinton to take more interest in community development, declaring that local pride and community activity was one of the most vital and most needed features of the day.

Several other talks were made by local men of the community. While they were short, they carried a splendid spirit of awakening to the community and it looks like Clinton will soon be on the firing line.

HOW TO MATE AND FEED BIRDS, SELECT AND CARE FOR HATCHING EGGS.

By Hunter Whitesell

Mating

It is of utmost importance that eggs are selected from healthy, vigorous birds from one to three years of age.

Do not set eggs of pullets unless they have been laying for several months and are mated to cocks which are from two to three years of age. If you have cockerels only, mate them to hens.

Mate one cock to 15 to 20 hens if of a small breed. For Rocks, Reds or any other large breed use one cock to every 10 or 12 hens. Some prefer to use one to every eight to insure fertility.

If one has a large flock it is best to have it separated into several pens so that males can't fight.

Select only eggs from hens which you know were laying as early as November in their pullet years and which continued to lay through the winter. In this way you can build an egg strain in show stock. Furthermore, one egg sold anywhere from November to the last of February is equal in value, generally, to 2 1/2 eggs sold later in the season.

Any kind of a hen can lay in the spring and summer when there is plenty of vegetable and animal matter, and the days are long. Remember also, that a poor cock begets his like.

Feeding

While there are a great many good combinations you may use in mixing your egg mash, I personally prefer the commercial feed. These ready mixed feeds contain a balanced ration, are well mixed and save time.
However, by adding a pint of quart of poultry cod liver oil to it. Mix in enough bran so that there are no lumps, then scatter this in your mash. You get more eggs that are productive of stronger chicks. Furnish plenty of fresh water, grit, oyster shell and some kind of green feed.

Be sure to scatter a scratch feed, either home or ready mixed in straw. Have the straw at least six inches deep, two feet is better. Hay is not so good, and if used, scatter shucks in it so that it will not pack down.
Do not have a hay litter over a foot deep. Scratching for the grain gives necessary exercise.
Scatter in litter 3 pounds early each morning, and 7 pounds each afternoon half hour before roosting time for each hundred hens. For the heavy breeds, 4 to 8 pounds morning and afternoon. If birds lose body weight increase above amounts gradually until not over two pounds more per hundred is fed per day.

It is important that dry mash be in hoppers available for them at all times, as well as water.

Care of Eggs

Collect eggs several times each day, placing them in egg carriers or in boxes containing dry sawdust. Keep them in a dry place where the temperature ranges between 50 and 60 degrees. Turn them twice a day, never less than once. Do not keep an egg longer than ten days and expect a good hatch.

Keep all eggs uniform in length, width, color and shell.
Discard the large, small, round, long, off color, thin shelled or porous, ridged or dirty eggs.

It is better to set often from a large flock than at long periods from a small flock.

Fresh eggs hatch earlier than old eggs and produce stronger chicks.

son, "SUSIE'S KITCHEN

FACES CHARGE

14 YEARS OLD

Negro Arrested at Cleveland Wanted for Murder at Hickman

Hickman, Ky. — Fourteen years after he had murdered a white man in Hickman, Willie "Cornbread" Brown, negro, has been arrested in Cleveland and will be brought back to Hickman to face a charge of murder.
Brown is alleged to have shot and killed Henry Johnson, prominent member of a Mississippi family, here in 1913.

Brown was arrested by Cleveland authorities on a charge of bootlegging and while intoxicated is said to boasted that he had been wanted by Sheriff Goulder Johnson, of Hickman, who was sheriff at the time of the killing. The Cleveland police immediately wired Mr. Johnson here and local officers will go to Cleveland at once provided the negro consents to return to Hickman without the necessary papers.

At the time of his death, Mr.
Johnson was in charge of work on the Mississippi river levee at Hickman and was shot and killed by Brown who was employed on the levee when he went to the camp of negro workers to quell a disturbance. The negro made his escape and, although a wide search was conducted, posters advertising the negro's escape were circulated all over the country, he had not been heard from until the message from Cleveland was received.

CLUB MEETING

The music department of the Woman's Club met Wednesday afternoon with Miss Mary Elizabeth Beadles, at her home on Carr street.

The Chairman, Mrs. Gingles, presided over the meeting.
Each member responded to roll call with a current event pertaining to the musical world.

After a short business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. R. S. Williams, leader for the afternoon, who gave an interesting reading on "Women in Music," and told of America's foremost women composers. The musical program arranged by Mrs. Williams was as follows:

Scottish Legend... Mrs. Beach
Miss Huddleston
Sweetheart...
Reida Johnson
Mrs. Howard
The Fauns... Chaminade
Miss Nix
One Fleeting Hour Dorothy Lee
Mrs. Callham
Barcarolle... Chaminade
Mrs. Maddox
To Eosra... Pearl Curran
Mrs. Williams
Years at the Spring Mrs. Beach
Mrs. Brann
Night... Verne Tomlinson
Dusk In June Verne Tomlinson
Miss Fields

The fact that the two numbers rendered by Miss Fields were composed by a former Fulton girl, made them all the more interesting and especially appreciated. At the conclusion of the program the hostess served a delectable salad course to twenty members and three visitors, Mrs. J. E. Fall,
President of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Gideon Willingham and Miss Annie Lucile Goldsby.

FIND NEGRO HEIR TO HUGE FORTUNE AFTER LONG HUNT

Mayfield, Ky. — Tom Johnson, 54, a negro plasterer, was informed Friday by an attorney from Tulsa, Okla., that he is owner of a quarter section of land there upon which are located 40 or more producing oil wells, and that his wealth ranges somewhere "between 10 and 20 millions."

Johnson, who lives with his wife and son at Pryorsburg, a little village south of here, said,
"I hope I get it."

Ben C. Axley, the attorney, said the negro had been identified as the object of a four-year search. He left Oklahoma after being allotted the land, which was his by right of being born in Creek territory of an Indian mother.

Johnson has retained attorneys to investigate the situation.

Senator Alben W. Barkley

SENATOR ALBEN W. BARKLEY PROMINENTLY MENTIONED AS PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER

Atlanta, Ga., February 7.—Half a dozen southerners, some of them men long nationally prominent in the affairs of their party are being advanced for the Democratic presidential nomination at the Houston convention, June 26.

Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi and Rep. Cordell Hull of Tennessee have been endorsed by congressional colleagues or the legislative bodies of their states. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, senate minority leader, has attracted mention since his controversy with Senator Hefflin of Alabama. Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky and Carter Glass of Virginia have loomed as favorite sons of the states to represent in the upper house.

Senator George has experienced a rapid rise in political life. Mild-mannered, studious and dignified, he followed closely in the Senate the fiery Tom Watson, and few Georgians expected him to be so constantly in the limelight. In this estimate they were correct, but the new senator had been in office but briefly when he was recognized as one of the leaders of his party.

Beginning legal practice in 1901, he became a solicitor-general in 1907 and as superior court judge in 1912. His advancement five years later to the state court of appeals was followed shortly by his elevation to the associate judgeship of state supreme court. He defeated strong opposition for the Senate in 1922.

Robinson was congressman, governor of his state and United States senator within the brief span of two weeks. He went to congress at the age of 30 and was serving his fifth term when he resigned on Jan. 14, 1913, to be inaugurated on Jan. 16 as governor. A few days later the legislature elected him to the United States Senate. He was chairman in 1920 of the Democratic national convention in San Francisco and three years later became minority leader of his party.

Mention of his name as a presidential nominee is no new experience to Robinson, for in the turbulent days of the Smith-McAdoo deadlock in 1924, he was a strong "dark horse." President Wilson spoke of him as "a real moral and intellectual leader" of the party.

Cordell Hull has been in the lower house of congress for 20 years. A student of domestic and world problems, he often was called upon for advice by President Wilson and other party leaders. He served from 1922 to 1924 as national party chairman.

For 13 years Alben W. Barkley was a member of congress from Kentucky. Beaten for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1923, he in 1926 was graduated to the United States senate. He was known during his career in the house as a strong supporter of Woodrow Wilson.

Constantly absorbed with national affairs for 26 years, Carter Glass, of Virginia has seen service since 1902 in the house of representatives, in President Wilson's cabinet as secretary of the treasury and finally in the senate. He is a native of Lynchburg, Va., where he is a publisher.

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

Twenty-five members of the McCracken county calf project met Saturday in Paducah with County Agent W. C. Johnstone and signed an agreement with the City National Bank of Paducah to purchase 25 purebred heifers at prices ranging from $85 to $150. The members of the project are students in McCracken county high schools.

A calf will be registered in the name of each member of the club, and each member will take a calf to raise. They will pay for the calves from dairy products. Some of the calves are due to freshen shortly after they are purchased. To safeguard against the loss of any animal within one year after their purchase, insurance has been purchased to pay 75 per cent of the cost to be apportioned between all the members in proportion to the cost of each animal.

4-H STANDS FOR HIGHER IDEALS

"4-H Club work is a form of education furnished by the federal, state and county governments for farm boys and girls for the purpose of teaching them through demonstrations, improved farm and home practices that have been found, through research and experiment, to be sound, practical, and helpful. The boys and girls actually put these improved methods into practice on the farm and in the home.

"The four H's stand for Head, Hands, Heart and Health. 4-H Club work emphasizes the equal training and development of these four points in the life of every farm boy and girl.

"Any farm boy and girl between the ages of 10 and 21, living in a county where there is a county agricultural agent, a home demonstration agent, or both, may take part in club work by making application for membership to the county agricultural agent or home demonstration agent or any member of the Extension Service, in his state; to their teacher, or to a regularly organized club in the community in which the applicant may live."

NEW CHURCH FOR MAYFIELD SOON

Baptists Adopt Plans Submitted for Plant to Cost $200,000

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 30.—With the approach of spring, the Baptists of Mayfield have determined to get busy in their building program, and last evening, following the regular preaching services, heard M. S. Roberts, Nashville, of the agricultural firm of Hart, Freeland and Roberts, explain the plans prepared at the request of the building committee. Mr. Roberts explained all details of the plans.

The church voted to rescind a former action designating a certain piece of property in the city, and adopted the plans as offered, which contemplate the present location on the northeast corner of South and Eighth streets. The plans call for an expenditure of approximately $200,000, and it is believed the raising of the present church will start some time in early March.

The new church, which will be of Gothic design, will be built on the corner, with a court between it and the Sunday school plant, the latter being three stories and a basement. The outline of the church portion of the building follows in the main the present building. The two buildings are joined on the east side of the lot, making the entire building what is called "U" shaped affair.

Timothy had been passing judgment on a neighbor, a judgment that was far from flattering. "I hate the old cat," he cried, stamping his foot. "You shouldn't say that, Tim," corrected his mother. #### Such Extravagance icance aside from the personality of the man who frames them; but linked with a great personality blended with the passion of a great soul of utterances words themselves come to have within a large degree personality of their own, and to give utterance to them is power and command. For instance, when Lenin, the Russian Bolshevik, planned and published a world compact, the world rejected his overture and turned with loathing from the possibility of such a hateful leadership; but when Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States published the fourteen points the world leaped with rejoicing to his suggestion and entered into the fellowship of that great ideal in a hope of the perpetual freedom, the perpetual enthronement of the human mind and its fellowship of brotherhood and universal citizenship. Over the door of a Roman Catholic church in Latin America (not in the United States of America, but in Latin America), is a legend which reads, "Come unto Mary all they that labor and are heavy laden and Mary will give them rest." These words are put into the mouth of Mary and one reads with distrust and dislike, but when they are ascribed to the Son of God one reads them with joy and thanksgiving.

The words of our scripture this morning are the words of the Son of God; they are life; they are truth; they are not only a divine revelation of life but they are the truths of life, and leads us to Him to whom we go for the words of life.

In the year 1918 there was installed in the great harbor of San Francisco a device whereby the thoughts of men would be attracted and startled when sounded. The purpose was to send out into the storms, fogs and darkness a call into the places of safety; into the harbor of restfulness, and the great sea calls out to those on the land and the seas of the approaching danger. Some heed the warning and others ignore it. More than two million people can hear it when it cries out the warning to the ships on the oceans and in the harbor.

The words of our scripture this morning are the words of Christ sailing out through the ages to the uttermost limits of the universe concerning His personality. His truth and His power. To accept and believe the words of Jesus Christ is to accept and believe the uttermost of the absolute truth, to accept and believe the words of Jesus Christ is as a tree that is planted in fertile soil and that blossoms and brings forth fruit; it is as red blood that courses through the human body, producing the great emotions and thrills of human thought; to believe the words of Jesus Christ is to be a Christian in that true, large, eternal sense; it is to come into fellowship with things divine and eternal, to have the life of God gliding through your mortal bodies from the soles of your feet to the crown of your head and to the very tips of your fingers, and think the Galilean thought, and feel with the Galilean heart and in all things speak the Galilean speech. But to reject the words of Jesus Christ is to reject life and to strip one of the right to be called Christian; it is to open the life to the invasions of the wastes of death; it is to wander away from God, away from right, away from truth, and away from hope.

Jesus Christ is the supreme fact of the universe, is the supreme truth in the universe. Words I speak unto you they will live and they are truth; but every great fact requires a great truth and requires a great and serious consideration. The divine truth in connection with these words relates to our personal faith in Jesus Christ.

Oh, my fellow countrymen, my fellow countrywomen, in this great day let us consider what is our personal faith in Jesus Christ. What is more important to us than the value of realities? What is more important to every one of us than our faith in Jesus Christ? But however great a proposition may be it must be subjected to testimony of witness and argument; so this great truth concerning Jesus Christ is personal and His words for Messianic reign on the earth is power for the forgiveness of sins and His sovereign gift to eternal life. All these are to be found in the divine words as in human consciousness and the realm of apprehension which the socialist sought to embrace in his science so feebly, so incomplete. These are truths written on the consciousness of every one, as the truth of our Lord of Salvation.

What is faith in Jesus Christ? First of all, it is unequalled apprehension of the personality and humanity, and the realization of his Godhead. It is vastly more than that. It is the conscious union of our own spirits and our own lives with His. Christ was born a babe, an dthosed dimpled cheeks of the child of the Madonna became the eternal Godhead as the consciousness of the fullness of that divine Godhead came to Him and He became more conscious of His Godhead. I heard a preacher once say that Christ was not aware He was the Son of God until He was baptized, but the scriptures make it plain to me that the first moment of human consciousness, whether it was in Bethlehem or not, brought the testimony that He was the Son of God, and the eternal Godhead was to dwell in the Galilean frame and make one eternal Christ. The supreme truth with Jesus Christ is demonstrated by Himself as He walked the sea of Galilee, agonized in the garden, witnessed before Pilate, agonized on the cross, lay in the sepulchre for three days and rose in the glory of the resurrection on Easter morning. This Jesus Christ is the person in himself. The supreme proof of Jesus Christ is His personality. Personality is a word used by all but little understood by any. Personality is that part of our lives which gather what is good and what is evil within us—that self which is to be destroyed remains in the graves until destroyed but this personality is to live forever and at last be brought face to face with God.

It is the personality of Christ that is the supreme truth and in which He made the appeal, "Believe me that I am in the Father." This is borne out in four Gospels, by the fisherman who saw Him walk on the sea, with the seven stars in His right hand and the seven golden candlesticks.

Divine personality of Jesus Christ as told by the four Gospels is accented all through history. His personality is confirmed and proved by His physical frame, that human body born in Bethlehem, that growth through childhood, youthhood and young manhood, the man who left the hammer in Joseph's shop in Nazareth and ran the plane along the rough edges of the boards; that man who labored in Galilee; the physical frame of that man is the proof of this Christ. Never man had such a frame until after the glory of the resurrection of the just when we shall awake in His likeness.

I heard one of my brothers of authority in the church talking about the glorified body of Christ on the day of the transfiguration. I said our bodies are to be glorified in the resurrection, but His body was not glorified; it was glorious; it needed not to be glorified from the time of His birth until His ascension. It was not glorified on the morning of the transfiguration. He was always glorious. So it was His Galilean body—chief among ten thousand, and altogether lovely.

There has been a letter preserved supposed to have been written by a young patrician during the days of Jesus. It is a very ancient letter and supposed to come from the hands of this young patrician addressed to his father in Rome. The letter said in part: "At this time there is considerable interest in Jerusalem about the great Galilean teacher. His speech is wonderful, and wonderful in person. His face is luminous, His eyes are deep and full of serene light and rich ringlets fall from His shoulders, and he has in His voice an intimation of softness which was never before heard in a human voice." In the attempt to describe the Son of God, what a human picture! Of if man could have seen Him as He was; He was matchless among men, likewise above them. He rose above all of them. Never man spoke or thought like this man. This man has power on earth to forgive sins.

Then His mentality: In His manner and bearing as a sheep before her shearers, and a lamb before the slaughter, He opened not His mouth. Never a time when he did not have words to answer. This is the proof of His personality—expressed in His physical frame in His manner before men. This through all of His days is the proof of His personality and not His mastery over men.

Cyrus and Xerxes, and all authority of Rome combined, drew after them men through the source of imperial authority; they had in their hands life and death, and Xerxes had more than two million men on the shores of the Aegean Sea to fight against the Greeks. Alexander drew men toward him through the love of conquest, and William II drew great multitudes of men through the sheer forces of militarism, who not only had the issues of judgment, but fascinated by the greatest pageantry the world ever saw, but Jesus draws men after Him through the love of His person, "and if He be lifted up will draw all men to Him." Through the shame and agony of His suffering through the hour of death, the three days in the tomb, and His resurrection—it is the majesty of His personality and His love that draws men to Jesus Christ.

One of these brothers said to me here today, "Suppose St. Paul could look down from Ephesus and see this congregation this morning." His heart would overflow. It is the drawing of Jesus Christ after days and nights of sleep in the holy sepulchre and lifted the frame out of the grave and stepped into that frame again that bring men to Him. It is His majesty of power over men, the personality of Jesus Christ, the Godhead that draw men unto Him.

The time has come when we must put emphasis on the doctrine if Jesus Christ is our God. Bless God, it is true, Jesus, the Galilean is the eternal God, and to Him was given all power, and all strength, and all wisdom.

But the time passes, and we must not forget an appeal is also made to His works. "Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me; or else believe me for the very works' sake." Take the concreteness of the work. "Believe me for the very works' sake," so the appeal is made to the works of Jesus Christ. I was on the battlefield of Agalou where Joshua sought that great conquest with the Ammorites; when the day was declining and saw he must have hours of daylight, he stretched forth his hand and asked that the sun stand still. They had come to a great issue. Joshua needed time in order that the victory might be his, and God gave this time through the performance of a miracle. I stood by the great uncovered walls of Jericho, and I said surely a miracle was wrought here. Surely it was a miracle, and when God needs a miracle there will be a miracle and that is the best argument for it. A leprosy race suffering with the sores of the flesh, and made whole. The need of miracles! Jesus has power over sickness, over the strong, over the weak and over sin.

Once there was a young student who went to one of God's prophets and said, "Give me proof Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and lived in the world, and wrought miracles, and died for me." He said, "Come with me." He showed him the statue of Christ by one of the great sculptors, and the young man stood and looked at the statue and said, "It is most marvelous, but I do not believe. This is the work of only a sculptor." Again he said, "Come with me," and showed him Reuben's great painting showing the body being taken down from the cross, the head was so lifeless on the bosom, the limbs were lifeless, they watched, they anointed Him, they wrapped Him in linen and laid Him in the sepulchre—the painter had left all the coloring in his picture. The student looked for a long time and finally said, "It is wonderful, but it is the trick of the artist. I do not believe." He said, "Come with me again," and they went into the great auditorium where multitudes of people sat and heard a prima donna sing, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The young student sat thrilled with wonder, and said, "It is the power of woman's voice. It is the charm of the voice. It is wonderful, still I do not believe." The man again said, "Come with me," and they went down into Water street and through the dirty allies where McCortley was preaching salvation to the outcast, preaching salvation to the scarlet men and women, and the drunkards, and the young student heard his words of exhortation, the most earnest call of this unmusical voice, and they saw them come one by one, accepting salvation, and the student turned and said, "I believe." What the artist couldn't do in marble or with paint and brush, or the prima donna with her voice, this rural man preached Jesus to scarlet men and women and the student believed. "Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father in me," Jesus Christ has power over the world—not only power over death, but power to give eternal life.

There is one of the most beautiful structures in Paris. It is a great mosaic of Napoleon. About it clusters a group of angels, but I lifted my eyes upward and saw a painting, and on that painting is a cross, and above that cross are the gates of heaven around which the angels of heaven wait; on that cross a man is climbing, from the top of that cross he will step into paradise to be with God forever, always. "Believe me for the very works' sake," Amen.

BUSINESS FOR 1928 HAS A HEALTHY OUTLOOK

From all available information which we are able to assemble, we are encouraged to believe that the business season now before us will unveil a very prosperous and stable season for those who will qualify of its opportunities.

There does not seem to be any indications of extreme or abnormal fluctuation in any of our regular channels of commerce and industry, as a matter of fact things seem to be gradually but rapidly enough adjusting themselves to a perfectly normal and stable foundation. Local indications as regards our immediate community are showing a decided reaction and that most favorably as compared with a year ago.

This can largely be attributed to some very vital and outstanding facts which are perfectly obvious to any fair thinking mind and we will endeavor to bring them to the attention of the public. First, we have enjoyed a very normal yield of all classes of farm commodities. Second, we have enjoyed a very fair price for our crops. Third, we have the benefit of some splendid highways which we did not have last year at this time. A year ago most of the rural cars were stored for the winter and common traffic was almost at a standstill. This caused a very unfavorable reaction on every form of social economics, it cut down our purchasing attitude and brought matter of exchange to its lowest ebb.

The conditions of our rural roads were no worse a year ago than our city streets which have also been completely transformed into modern city thoroughfares, and our people are encouraged to stir among themselves and the spirit of commercial exchange is now at its best in Fulton and Fulton community.

Our office was frequented all through January with our local farmers who seemed to be enthused with perfectly new ideas for the coming season. Nearly every farmer you meet now is in search of some certain stable commodity which he would like to buy and states that he has the money with which to pay. Such an attitude as that paints to our mind a picture with several bright colors. It shows that renewed confidence is in evidence, energy is aroused and real progress will surely be attained. We must always recognize the importance of social and economic relationship among our people, when we fail to stir and come in contact with our fellowman we will soon become selfish and indifferent, our minds become extremely dulled and the spirit of progress soon ceases to be an existing virtue in our daily life.

It is quite true that it takes more to support us when we stir but it also creates within us a spirit of thrift and production and we believe that it is more costly to hibernate than to associate.

WHY SELECT EGGS FOR HATCHING?

By Hunter Whitesell

Most everyone knows that this should be done, for flock improvement, but know it, how many do it?

This article is to serve as a reminder of things which should be done by those who wish to have a better flock next year than they have this. The improvement costs nothing.

Eggs that are off in color should not be set, for usually they were laid by a hen which produces only off colored eggs. Her daughters will likely do the same thing. The same is true of the hen that lays the small, the round, the long or other imperfect eggs. Do not set such.

Examine all eggs before a strong light, and discard those which have even a small crack, or are checked. Eat or sell them, for they will do no good in the incubator. Those that are porous (show many light spots) will not hatch for they will admit too much air to the embryo, and cause too much evaporation.

Dirty eggs may have germs on them which will cause death to the chick after it has hatched.

Somewhere between the 12th and 18th days the position of the unborn chick is fixed in the egg. If the small end of the egg is up at that time it will pip at the small end and will drown in the liquid that runs out of the egg. The shape of the egg (long or round) will be the factor determining the time the position becomes fixed.

If you can't tell the large from the small end of an egg, do not set it, for no other reason than that you will be unable to put the small end down before the position becomes fixed. Only one out of ten hatch.

Abnormally large eggs may contain two yolks or whites. Eliminate them from the setting.

WILL DIVERSIFICATION PAY ON THE FARM

That a diversified farm program will pay is no longer a question where it has been successfully tried out, we have just gotten hold of a few facts that occurred in the Iowa state during 1926 and will bring them to your attention.

During 1926 the wealth per capita in Iowa was $3,539, being nearly double that of the country over. The farm cash income of Iowa during 1926 was $718,000,000, an average of $2,821 per family. Some folks look upon Iowa as a one crop state because it is generally known as a corn belt state. The following statistics will change your viewpoint entirely.

The corn crop was only 8 1-2 per cent of the net cash crop, during that year the Iowa farmers sold 10,702,000 head of hogs, 1,899,000 cattle, 862,000 sheep, 289,000 head of veal calves, 32,000,000 head of poultry. The reason that the corn crop was only 8 1-2 per cent of the farm sales was because the live stock and poultry consumed over 400,000,000 bushels of the corn crop which brought the farmer over $1.00 per bushel.

The dairy and poultry products of Iowa during 1926 brought the farmer an astounding sum of $204,477,000.

Is Iowa Going in the Hole? No!

On December 11, 1920, the Federal Farm Bank loans were $98,636,000 and on February 17, 1927, this huge sum had been reduced to $6,794,000. This shows a decrease of thirteen million each year for the last seven years. The above figures show that Iowa has a most complete system of diversified farming. It also shows that during the depressed period of agriculture that those farmers who intelligently diversified their farm programs have gone forward in a most progressive way. These statistics have been furnished us by Ex-Governor James P. Goodrich of Indiana and we believe that they are based on facts.

ALL CAN HELP

The progress of a community does not depend merely on the enterprise and activity of its leading business men and organizations.

Every clerk who works in a store, every mechanic in his factory, every farmer in his field, every housewife in her home, each one has some effect on the future of that community.

If the salesman is actively pushing for new patronage and to please old customers, he helps the city's retail business to grow. If the mechanic is efficient, he assists his employer to sell more goods. If the farmer is diligent and scientific, he adds to the resources of the neighborhood. If the housewife improves the home place, she promotes the city's reputation for culture and finish. We all have to do our share, to secure the development of Fulton and Fulton county.

PRINTER'S INK

There is an old adage which goes something like this: "A drop of ink makes millions think." It is a true saying. Several years ago one of the large printing establishments sent out a hundred thousand questionnaires to people of all walks of life, asking them to name the greatest invention for the benefit of mankind. After the returns were all in and tabulated it was found that the common match had won the day, but was followed by printer's ink, which ran a close second. After you have read this foregoing "stuff," you will say what does it all mean? Simply this: I wish to bring out the value of printer's ink. If by some mischance the formula for making printer's ink was lost and we couldn't have any ink for three or more months, the world would become stagnated, business would be at a standstill, schools and colleges would suspend; newspapers would go out of existence and the world would degenerate into a lot of heathens as far as learning and civilization are concerned.

All of which brings me down to this point: If you have anything you wish to boost, you must use printer's ink. If you wish any project to succeed you must use printer's ink. The success of any one thing depends upon printer's ink. The trouble with the majority of people they don't use printer's ink enough. If you have a bright idea put it in printer's ink and then we will all benefit from it. If you wish your business to succeed, if you wish your county fair to grow; if you wish the office of county agent to materialize into one of the best in Kentucky, you must use printer's ink.

The columns of the local papers are always open for the use of people who have bright ideas or plans or suggestions that will benefit the community. They stand ready to boost anything that will advance Fulton and the surrounding community at all times. They will furnish the ink to spread the news of your ideas.

MORE TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENTS

The long distance telephone system in the Southeastern States will be enlarged and improved by the addition of 134 new circuits during 1928, according to plans announced by the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

The expansion and reconstruction work will involve an expenditure of more than $4,000,000. Approximately 11,385 miles of new circuit will be added which will make a total of 241,543 circuit miles of wire and 29,639 miles of pole line at the end of the year.

In Kentucky more than $611,000 will be required for new circuits and reconstruction work and a total of eleven new circuits will be added, representing 895 circuit miles. This will give Kentucky a total of 21,255 miles of circuits and 3,380 miles of pole line at the end of the year.

All the new circuits and improvements are planned to care for the increasing volume of toll business and to extend the high speed service to additional points.

Telephone officials state that the developments in commercial long distance telephony last year were among the outstanding accomplishments of the Bell System. Service was established between the United States and England, and between the United States and Mexico.

New improvements and inventions have speeded up the service so that the operators handle a great volume of calls almost as quickly as local calls are completed. It is stated that the high speed service will be extended and that the new circuits will enable the company to care for the growth of the state.

HAND PICKED CAST IN "SWIM, GIRL, SWIM"

Good news from Hollywood. Starting next Monday and continuing for two days, the Grand Theatre will present dashing Bebe Daniels in her latest Paramount comedy, "Swim, Girl, Swim."

Advance reports have it that this production is the best Miss Daniels has ever made and if facts mean anything, the reports cannot be exaggerated. "The Campus Flirt" was a knockout, but critics agree that "Swim, Girl, Swim" has it topped.

Here are the facts. In the first place the story was written by Lloyd Corrigan who knows everything about how a college story should be written with color, romance, thrills and laughs. It was directed by Clarence Badger and this man has never been known to miss.

It has a star particularly suited for just this sort of thing—fast moving comedy—and the cast is hand picked. James Hall, Gertrude Ederle—yes, the famous Trudy of English Channel fame, is in the cast—Josephine Dunn, William Austin and James Mack are only a few of the names.

The story is about a girl who swims the channel and yet who is unable to swim. And that is a situation. There are races and chases galore, just one event after another. And, just to be sure that the college atmosphere was really there, Miss Daniels selected the University of California in Los Angeles for the location of the campus scenes. More than 200 students participate in the production.

"Swim, Girl, Swim" is the first picture Trudy has ever appeared in. Her role is a good one and she is seen as a player and also in her customary role of a swimmer.

Buying and Planting to Improve Highways

Roadside planting seems to be undergoing the discussion stage and that is well in a way because it demonstrates interest in the subject. Some states have regulated roadside planting by law and others have shown how trees or shrubbery might be set out and have warned that tall trees might cast enough shade on adjoining fields to hamper crop growth. As the matter stands now whatever might be done would be unofficial. The highway commission exercises authority over the right of way on all state roads and local authorities have jurisdiction on county and township highways. Officials of that body offer cooperation, but are not in a position to offer anything else. They have no funds that can be used for the purpose of buying trees or planting them. Roadside planting extends beyond the influence of any single community because it contemplates lining highways with trees from one city or town to another. This requires singleness of purpose on the part of various clubs, societies and interests. If the trees are to be set out those interested in the work may well get together shortly and discuss their plans so that some well-defined program can be outlined and followed. The expense should not be a bar. Many a club would be willing to be responsible for a specified strip of highway.—Indianapolis News.

OPEN HOUSE MEETING AT AMERICAN LEGION HALL

The open house meeting at the Legion Hall for ex-service men Thursday evening, February 2, was a delightful occasion and greatly enjoyed by all in attendance. The address by Rev. B. J. Cantrell was instructive and inspirational, as well as the splendid talks made by Post Commander Capps and Clarence L. of Hickman, Commander H. J. Potter, E. N. DeMyer and others of the local post.

Splendid music was furnished by the old time Fiddlers' orchestra. An excellent lunch was served army style.

One hundred and six were in attendance, including forty out-of-town visitors.

The exchange of war time experiences by the ex-service men, in some instances, were amusing. It was a good natured, jolly crowd.

The real feature of the meeting was centered on procuring the 1929 State Legion Convention for Fulton, and to arouse interest in promoting the great work of the Legion.

Marshall Alexander Post No. 72, is to be congratulated on the splendid work they are doing and deserve the cooperation of every red-blooded American citizen of Fulton in procuring the 1929 State Legion convention.

For a short time we will accept subscriptions to The Advertiser and Memphis Weekly Commercial Appeal, both papers one year, for $1.25. This is a splendid opportunity to get your home paper and city paper for only $1.25 a year.

PREPARATIONS NEEDED TO SAVE PIG LITTERS

Grady Sellards Has Tips for Swine Growers

The spring farrowing season is at hand. The wise hogman gets the equipment in order, making it fully adequate to save all the pigs possible. Grady Sellards of Kentucky College of Agriculture gives this advice. Houses should be thoroughly overhauled and cleaned. They should be scrubbed with boiling water containing a pound of lye to every 20 or 30 gallons. Boiling water destroys round worm eggs, thus removing the possibility of pigs becoming infected early in life with round worms.

When possible, houses should be located on ground on which no hogs have run or which has been in a cultivated crop since last used. Keeping pigs on clean grounds the first four months of their lives removed the possibility of damage from round worms.

In many hograising communities the portable house is becoming increasingly popular. This is true because it can be kept on clean premises. It also provides some protection against epidemics that sometimes occur in herds housed together in colony houses.

The colony house usually costs more to build. It is argued by some of its exponents that it saves labor in the care of the sows and pigs. Other hogmen say that this factor is more than offset by the sanitary advantages of the portable house and by the fact that they cost less.

Special attention should be given roofs, to see that they do not leak and result in damp bedding. Dampness is a serious thing, and often results in pneumonia. Damp bedding should be replaced with dry bedding.

In fact, dampness should be the criterion in the frequency of changing bedding. Only a small amount of bedding is necessary—just enough to keep the sow and pigs comfortable, but not enough to cause the young pigs to become entangled and crushed by the sow.

Lesson for February 12

JESUS PICTURES THE KINGDOM OF GOD

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:14, 15: 4:1-11

GOLDEN TEXT—Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How God's Kingdom Grows.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How God's Kingdom Grows.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How the Kingdom Grows.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Growing Kingdom of God.

I. Jesus Preaching the Gospel of the Kingdom of God (Mark 1:14, 15).

1. The time.

After the voice of John the Baptist was stilled because of his imprisonment, Jesus took up the message.

2. What He preached.

It was the gospel of the kingdom of God. Since "gospel" means "good news," the good news which He preached was that Christ had come to establish His kingdom.

3. How He preached.

He said, "Repent, for the kingdom is at hand." The King was then ready to set up His kingdom if the Jews would receive Him.

II. Jesus Pictures Four Classes of Hearers (Mark 4:1-20).

1. The place—the seashore—(v. 1).

He was obliged to enter a boat to escape the pressure of the crowd.

2. Why He taught in parables (vv. 9-12).

It was not until the rulers had set their hearts against Him that He employed the parabolic method.

3. The parable of the four kinds of ground (vv. 3-8; 13-20).

Observe that the seed and the sower are the same in all these instances, but the results are entirely different, determined by the condition of the soil.

(1) The Wayside (vv. 14, 15).

The wayside means the track beaten by the hoofs of animals and the feet of men. Because the soil was unbroken and uncultivated the seed could not get beneath the surface therefore was devoured by fowls, which represent the agents of Satan (v. 15).

(2) The stony ground (vv. 5, 6, 16, 17).

Stony ground means stones with a thin layer of soil upon them. Under such conditions the seed grows quickly and is soon scorched because it has not much depth.

(3) The thorny ground (vv. 7, 18, 19).

In this case the ground is good, but has thorns in it. It is mellow and has depth, but has not been cleaned of the thorns. The thorny ground hearers of this age are: (a) Those who are so immersed in worldliness, business and anxious care that the good seed cannot mature; (b) those who are rich. The effect of riches is often to blind the spiritual perceptions; (c) those who are running after the pleasures of life. All these things choke the Word.

4. The good ground (vv. 8, 20).

This ground differs from all the rest. It is soft and mellow, deep and moist, therefore is capable of bringing forth fruit in varying degrees of abundance.

III. Jesus Pictures the Growth of the Kingdom (Mark 4:21-34).

1. The parable of the candle (vv. 21-25).

The bushel stands for the cares and material things of life, and the bed for ease and comfort.

2. The parable of the growing grain (vv. 26-29).

(1) The attitude of mind of the gospel preacher (vv. 26, 27).

He should with the utmost fidelity cast seed into the ground, preach the Word, and leave results to God.

(2) The processes of the spiritual life are gradual (v. 28). It is "first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear."

(3) The consummation of the spiritual process (v. 29).

Despite the difficulty under which sowing is done, we can be assured of a harvest time.

3.—The parable of the mustard seed (vv. 30-34).

(1) The unimportant beginning (v. 31).

(2) Its vigorous growth (v. 32).

The greatest power on earth today is that which had its inception in the preaching of the gospel.

(3) Its lodging capacity (v. 32).

The birds which lodge in the branches represent the children of the evil one who find protection and food in that which was inaugurated by Jesus Christ.

Worship God

First worship God. He that forgets to pray bids not himself good-morrow or good-day.—T. Randolph.

Serving God

God is better served in resisting a temptation to evil than in many formal prayers.—William Penn.

The Soul

Oh how much greater is the soul of one man than the vicissitudes of the whole globe!—Bulwer-Lytton.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING VALUED AT $27,000

Hickman Merchant Wins Suit Against Insurance Firm

Hickman, Ky.—In the suit of S. M. Naifeh against the Scottish Union and National Fire Insurance Company, and others, for destruction of his three-story building here last April, by lightning, involving $27,000 in insurance, Mr. Naifeh came out winner. The case had been hard fought since Wednesday morning, with a packed house during the entire trial, and when the verdict came in there was vociferous applause.

The jury was out only 16 minutes. Judge J. E. Warren's instructions to the jury were, if they found from the evidence that the building was hit and destroyed by lightning, to give verdict to the plaintiff, and if they did not find it that way, to give verdict for the defendants.

The building fell during the flood last April and the defense claimed the flood caused the building to collapse, while the plaintiff claimed it was destroyed by lightning during a storm.

FULTON

"Not the oldest, nor yet the youngest; not the richest, nor yet the poorest; not the largest nor yet the least; but take it all in all, for men and women, for flocks and herds, for fields and skies, for happy homes and loving hearts, the best place outside of Heaven the Good Lord ever made."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Lon Binford, whom the dear Lord saw fit to take to Himself Jan. 11, 1928. I feel inadequate to the last, but must say something in praise of this cultured Christian woman whose light has gone out. No, no, it shines brighter and brighter. God wanted her for His garden. He always plucks the choicest flowers. She was a devoted wife and mother. Her children arise up and call her blessed; her husband also and he praiseth her. It can truly be said, none knew her but to love her; none named her but to praise her.

She leaves a devoted husband, many darling children and grandchildren whom she dearly loved and inspired. With a host of relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss, who will sadly miss her, for we so loved her. She is one more beckoning us to heaven, where there is no pain; rest, sweet rest, ever with Jesus. Would I could drop some word of comfort in the bitter cup, but how unavailing is human sympathy; I know you all are Christians, trusting in the dear Saviour. I therefore point you to the great comfort. He and the healing hand of time can only dry your tears and ease your aching hearts. I add a few verses written by my sister, Victorine Blankenship, when our dear mother passed in the great Beyond:

It is He who bids me pass,
Under the chasting sod;
It is my Father's voice I hear,
The voice of Eternal God.

I know that round thy suffering bed
Were angels pure and bright
Who gently bore thy spirit away
To realms of everlasting light.

It seems I hear thy sweet spirit say,
My dear ones, I am at rest
Within my Saviour's close embrace,
And pillowed on His breast.

There can never feel a pain,
I know no sorrow now;
The Saviour's hand has chased away
All care from my brow.

But dear ones, meet me here,
In this bright world above,
Where we shall never part again,
Where all is peace, joy and love.

Written by her loving Sister-in-law, Laura L. Shepherd.

It certainly looked encouraging to the basket ball players last Friday night to see such an increase in attendance. We hope that we may have such an increase at the games this week end. It helps the players to see that the mothers and fathers take some interest in our athletics.

The Boys' Team will meet the Hickman team this Friday night at Hickman. The girls' team will meet the Wickliffe team here at the High school gym. Come out and see for yourself what a fine bunch of youngsters we have up here.

Last Friday the Piano Club conducted a very enjoyable chapel program. It consisted of the following numbers:

Vocal Solo—"Pal of My Dreams," by Bada Mitchell.
Piano Solo—"Voices of Spring," by Mary Hughes Chambers.

This program was enjoyed very much and we hope that the piano club will have charge again soon.

Monday morning the program was in charge of Mr. Swann. He gave a very interesting talk on "Woodrow Wilson as an Educator."

The Junior class is planning a play which will be given soon.
