THE LISTENING POST

● I have observed over the course of quite a few years that when this time of year comes around, with consequent dull business with no mail of any importance coming in, that the amount of mail which isn't worth anything at all seems to surge upward and begin to break all previous records. Whether the folks who send out this unimportant mail time it in this way, or whether it is merely a coincidence I do not know. I only know that in these days of blasting August heat I get more worthless mail than ever before. Take Saturday morning's gist, for example.

● The first letter bears on the envelope the return card of the Golden Rule Fellowship, and the thing weighs at least three ounces. What is in the letter I do not know. I have been getting these letters for two or three years and have never opened one to find out what's it all about.

● The next letter, and it's new in my list, comes from the Home Furnishings Industry Committee. Vaguely this letter must have something to do with advertising furniture, and if the weather ever cools off I will look at it and see if there is any nugget of gold contained therein. But I fear not.

● The next one is a blue letter from the N. C. A. Press Service in Washington. These have been coming along for years and I have no idea what cause this Press Association is serving. I know merely that it has nothing of interest, and therefore it goes into the waste can about twice a week.

● Then there is a white envelope, with no return card, and curiosity causes me to open it. It is a bit of publicity for a Chicago resort where hay fever is conquered. The resort hopes I will publish the letter—but I won't.

● Next comes a letter from the Central News Bureau, Chicago, and many of them have previously found a home in the waste can, for they usually contain some publicity for Great Lakes travel. I believe that some paid advertising might produce some business for those steamers, and if they will ever send me a free pass on the boats I will give them a free story. Otherwise, no dice.

● Then here is another with the imposing title "Committee to Defend America By Keeping Out of War." No doubt this is a good cause, and I hope it succeeds. But the press releases sound rather silly and all are terribly dull and stilted. Not much hope here.

● Then a fat envelope addressed to the Chief Editorial Writer, from Room 412, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York. Let's see what the big town boys want. Well, it is advertising a certain book, and no doubt it is a good one. A copy sent complimentary would have been received with more thanks.

● Then the usual government stuff—a letter from the Department of Agriculture, another from a congressman containing a speech he made recently, two from the War Department, and one or two others which are not easily classified. Then one from the Distilled Spirits Association, one from the Committee on Public Relations of the Eastern Railroad, one from the Dodge Reports Press Service, from the Middle West Improvement Committee, one from Liberty Features, one from Editor and Publisher, and a mixed assortment of communications from various people who wish to sell some sort of service to this newspaper. This is just one day's harvest, and there will be plenty more tomorrow and the next and week after week.

American Government Tells Nazis That Refugee Ship Must Not Be Molested In New Blockade Zone

Note Is Delivered To Berlin Government—Ship's Course Not To Be Changed

Washington, —The United States informed Germany in a formal note made public Sunday night that it expected the Army transport American Legion, steaming homeward with nearly 900 Americans from Petsamo, Finland, would not "suffer molestation by any action undertaken by the German armed forces."

Publication of the note followed the German Government's public statement in Berlin Saturday that it would not be responsible for any harm that befell the ship if it followed the course outlined by the United States.

Wasn't Odder New Course The State Department said Alexander W. Kirk, charge d'affaires in Berlin, had been instructed Saturday afternoon to deliver this Government's communication to the German Foreign Office.

Standing pat on the United States' decision that the transport should pass between the British island of North Aona and Cape Wrath, off the northern coast of Scotland, the note declared the question had been given "serious and protracted consideration" by this Government and that it had been determined that not other practical course existed."

Last Rites For Dick Bard Held Sunday Afternoon

Rev. W. H. Saxon, pastor of the First Methodist church, conducted the funeral services for Dick Bard, prominent Fultonian who died Friday afternoon at his home after a brief illness, at the First Methodist church yesterday afternoon. Burial was at Fairview, with the Hornbeak Funeral Home in charge.

Active pallbearers were Louis, Roy, Albert, John E. Irvin and Cleveland Bard, and Bud and Lucian Browder, all nephews of the deceased.

Burglar At Weaver Home

Saturday night, between the hours of 12:30 and 4:00 a. m., a burglar entered the home of Mrs. Pearl Weaver on Norman street and took a pair of trousers, containing money, keys and other articles of value, belonging to Myron Weaver. The robbery was discovered when Mr. Weaver, prepared to return to Atlanta, Ga., at 5 o'clock, arose at 4 a. m.

Senator Wheeler Would Cancel British Debts With Base Sites

Washington, —Cancellation of a portion of Great Britain's war debt in exchange for leases on naval base sites in Britain's Western Hemisphere possessions was advocated today by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.).

Wheeler, who at times has been highly critical of administration efforts to aid Great Britain, said it was his opinion that a deal making naval bases available to the United States in part payment on the war debts could not be regarded as an unethical act since it would involve only the strengthening of American defenses.

He told reporters, however, that he was "glad to see that the President is not considering trading American destroyers for these naval bases and thereby weakening our own defenses."

The President told his press conference yesterday that negotiations were under way with Great Britain for the acquisition of Western Hemisphere naval and air bases,

J. M. Hogan Dies Sunday

J. H. Hogan, father of Mrs. Tom Jolley, south of town, died yesterday morning at 10:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Jolley. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Jolley home with burial in the Martin cemetery.

Besides Mrs. Jolley he leaves one other daughter, Mrs. Della Mitchell Brown of Alton, Ill., and eight grandchildren.

Mr. Hogan was for many years a resident of Martin, Tenn., but has spent the last year with Mrs. Jolley. He was 89 years of age.

Illinois Reds Sue For Place On Ballot

Chicago, —Attorney General John E. Cassidy and thirty-three other city and county officials in the State were sued Saturday for damages of $90,000 in Federal Court by nine persons who asked that the defendants be restrained from interfering with efforts to place the Communist Party on the Illinois ballot this fall.

The plaintiffs named Communist candidates for State offices, and Attorney Ira Silbar, who has been held in jail at Lewisville since July 22 on a charge of criminal syndicalism. Silbar and three companions were distributing Communist literature at the time of their arrest.

A general conspiracy to deprive the plaintiffs of their constitutional rights was alleged in the bill which enumerated many instances of Communist sympathies being arrested, beaten or run out of town for circulating Communist literature nominating petition and literature.

Draft Will Pull Many Valuable Men Away From Revenue Dept.

Frankfort, Ky. —The State Revenue Department, headed by a commissioner who has yet to see his 30th birthday, would be hardest hit under the pending Conscription Act, but heads of other Government departments are beginning to worry about pulling some "key positions."

When Dr. James W. Martin was named revenue commissioner four years ago he reorganized and expanded the department, filling it with "young blood." Inquiries show it probably has more unmarried men between the ages of 21 and 30—the anticipated draft age—that any other Government agency in Kentucky.

Harlan Gun Toll Rises To 3

Harlan, Ky. —The shooting to death late Saturday night of Walter Roe, 30, miner at Sampson, fifteen miles southeast of Harlan, brought the county's week-end gun death toll to three, and the county's homicide record for the year to twenty-five. Most of the cases are to be investigated by the grand jury convening in Harlan Circuit Court Monday morning.

The body of Roe, with five bullet wounds, was found, Sheriff Herbert C. Cawood said, after Cam Fee, 45, farmer, appeared at the Sheriff's office with the statement that he had "killed a man." Fee surrendered after walking across a mountain from the sleeping scene with his son-in-law, L. L. Landry. Sheriff Cawood said Fee was declaring he employed a .38-caliber pistol at Roe after the latter had threatened him with a pistol. "I know I killed him because I fired five shots at him," Fee said.

Wounded In Abdomen The death of Roe was added to that of J. C. Whitwood, 21, of Moulis, who was shot and killed in a gun fight with Albert Clark, 25, and that of Joe Napier, 22, miner of Verda, who was fatally shot as he walked off a mountain after work. Clark was dangerously wounded in the abdomen in the fight with Whitwood. Cecil Dean, of Verdun, unemployed, was held under a murder warrant as the slayer of Napier.

Clements Funeral Held Yesterday

Funeral services for Mrs. L. J. Clements, who passed away, Thursday night at her home Third street after an extended illness, were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist church. Rev. W. H. Saxon conducted the services. Burial was at Palestine cemetery, in charge of Hornbeak Funeral home.

France Honors 3 U. S. Drivers

Vichy, —Three American ambulance drivers were awarded the Croix de Guerre with special citations by the French Government today for bravery in action. They are Charles Willen, New York; Thomas Esten, Paris, formerly of Boston, and Jack Calhoun, Paris. Willen's citation said when his ambulance was caught in heavy shellfire he left his stretcher-bearers and went on alone to his destination.

Esten was cited because for three days and three nights he helped carry wounded from the front lines to first aid posts, frequently acting as stretcher-bearer. Calhoun was cited for having carried on through heavy shellfire, helping to evacuate wounded although his ambulance was struck repeatedly by shell splinters.

Would Lose Accountants

"It would do things to us," commented Clyde Reeves, present commissioner, himself single and within the draft age. "We'd lose nearly all our junior accountants." Ward J. Oates, Reeves' executive assistant, estimated around thirty men would be affected, including a number of section heads and other "key men" among the 200 employees.

It was regarded as probable that Reeves himself would be exempted as holding a necessary Governmental office, but he indicated he would leave that to others.

Poole Resigns As Manager Of Local Ball Club

Jim Poole, who has piloted the Fulton Tigers since the beginning of the 1940 season, turned in his resignation to the board of Directors Saturday. Moon Mullen will serve as manager for the remainder of the season.

Poole's letter of resignation is as follows:

Mr. K. P. Dalton, President Board of Directors Fulton Baseball Club Fulton, Ky.

Gentlemen:

It is now an evident fact that it's impossible for the Fulton club to win the second half and get in the playoff.

As manager of your team I have hoped to make this possible but owing to various circumstances, over which neither of us had control, I am denied this satisfaction.

By spending money, which you were unable to do, in bringing in a lot of players we might have found a winning combination.

There are a lot of other facts to be considered when we try to see why a better ball club could not be obtained for Fulton.

The season is now approaching the end and only a few more days remain in which to secure new players if you so desire. Your finances are at low ebb.

In view of the facts briefly outlined above I have concluded to tender my resignation as manager of the Fulton ball club, same to take effect today or at the pleasure of your Board of Directors.

My stay in Fulton has been a pleasant one and I believe I have acquired friends, friendships I shall always cherish.

Wishing your club much success for the remainder of the season and thanking you for past favors I am,

Yours truly,

Jim Poole

Smith Signed

Malcolm Smith, local left-hander, has been signed to finish the season with the Tigers. Smith formerly served as pitcher for the locals. The club is now trying to get two new players. After tomorrow, the team can sign up three rookies, to be getting in shape for the 1941 season. According to K. P. Dalton, president, the club has a pitcher in mine that probably will sign the Tigers today.

POLICE COURT

Jack Mills and Lois Casey were tried this morning in Fulton police court on charges of being drunk in a public place. They were each given 30-day suspended jail sentences.

Polls Called Way To Speed Democracies

Berkeley, Calif., —Democracy can be made as fast-moving as dictatorships by using scientific ways to determine quickly and accurately its popular and expert opinion on national and international problems. Dr. Norman C. Meier, University of Iowa psychologist, asserts.

Dr. Meier said some change to speed the process of determining national opinion in democracies pressed for time by lightning changes in international affairs was "inevitable."

Would Get Expert Opinion

To do this would embrace the taking of polls of expert opinion. From a democracy's roster of thousands of experts, specialists and experts of many other fields would be selected individuals for their ability to give valuable advice on complicated matters not familiar to the general public. All of them could be polled in a few days.

Dr. Meier said it now is possible, through already established public opinion polls, to determine within ten days and in emergencies even within forty-eight hours the national sentiment on a given question.

Snake Handlers To Appeal Fines

Barbourville, Ky.—Fined $50.00 each in City Court in the first test of the 1940 State act prohibiting the use of snakes in religious services, three Harlan countians were free under bond today pending appeal.

The three Harlan residents, Raymond Hays, Allen Christian and Freeman Wallins, offered no defense after the issue of religious freedom had been barred from the trial. A rattlesnake and copperhead snake taken from them were ordered destroyed.

Mrs. Ethel Campbell, arrested with the men after a service held in an unused storeroom last Sunday following dispersal of the sect from the public square, was freed by the court when it was shown she was not named in the blanket warrant.

Workers Pledge Full Support To Defense Job Of Tennessee Valley

Knoxville, Tenn., —The Tennessee Valley Authority, rushing construction of new electric generating facilities to meet national defense needs, received a pledge today from its 10,000 employees that nothing would be permitted to interfere with the program.

The pledge was in the form of a resolution by the Tennessee Valley Trade and Labor Council which promised "full-hearted support in the great national effort" and "the routing out of every form of sabotage and subversive influences." The authority recently had a contract with the council embracing 16 A. F. of L. Unions.

The resolution was given to the Authority by S. E. Roper, council president, and shortly afterwards the agency announced the award of contracts totaling $3,522,777 for electric generating equipment. The Allen-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., was given contracts totaling $600,000 for turbines and governors at TVA's Paducah Locking and Wilson Dam. The same company received a $200,000 contract for two generators needed at Wilson Dam.

Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., received a $1,000,000 contract for a generator at the TVA's Paducah Locking and Wilson Dam. The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., received a $1,000,000 contract for a generator at the TVA's Paducah Locking and Wilson Dam.

THE THREAT WITHIN OUR OWN COMMUNITIES

An incident at Somerset, Ky. services to illustrate the danger to our democracy that threatens from within.

Three members of the religious sect known as Jehovah's Witnesses had been arrested in Somerset on charges of sedition, based upon their advocacy of "theocratic government" and a complaint that they had pushed a pamphlet through the bars of the county jail.

When one of them was brought to trial, the Rev. C. H. Talbot, pastor of Somerset's Presbyterian church for 25 years and secretary of the Rotary club, happened to be in the court room.

The defendant was depressed, ill-dressed, without funds to employ counsel for his defense. So, without giving much thought to the matter, Rev. Talbot asked permission to say something. He recalled that the U. S. Department of Justice had asked all good citizens to beware of hysteria, and that this trial verged on just that. He said that the Constitution guaranteed the rights of free speech and freedom of religious worship to all the people. By depriving the defendant of those rights, the court was depriving itself, then Somerset, then every man, woman and child of such rights, the minister added.

That was all there was to it. But the consequences have not been as mild. Reports are that many Somerset people thoroughly disapproved of Rev. Talbot's little speech. His friends have told him he shouldn't have said anything. And others have been far more harsh.

"If I'd preached all that in my church instead of saying it in the court, my listeners would have come around to shake hands and say, 'fine sermon, Brother Talbot,'" he said. "But because I said it in court they're thinking terrible things about me. They've even called me a Fifth Columnist—and for 18 years I've taught my Boy Scout troop about the American Flag and the Constitution it stands for."

The turmoil over the war has brought on both the agitation against the Jehovah's Witnesses and the type of reaction that greeted Rev. Talbot's little speech in Somerset.

Several months ago no one would have paid any attention to the members of the religious sect, and statements such as that made by the minister were so commonplace that they passed without notice.

Developments have come so rapidly in the last few months that they have stretched the nerves of the people near the breaking point. In some instances, hysteria has gained an upper hand over common sense.

Fortunately, this country has not lost all its sense of fairness, nor its sense of humor. If we permit ourselves to lose these two essentials, we will be threatened by a danger far greater than any that might confront us from without. The very precious liberties worth fighting for under our democracy would be gone.—Sun-Democrat.

SUNSHINE AND SHADOWS

Detroit—Two years ago Antonio Picone, Jr., was bridegroom at a mock wedding staged by his fraternity brothers at an embalming school.

"I never saw the girl again but recently received a letter in which she informed me she was actually my wife," Picone said in court in asking an annulment. He got it.

WOMEN, DENOUNCED AS BARHOGS, DO SET THE EXAMPLE FOR SWEET SIXTEEN

Judge Franklin Taylor in the Kings County Court, New York, may have erred in suspending sentences of six men convicted on impairing morals, as purchasers of drinks for a sixteen-year-old girl in a Brooklyn barroom. But why are girls so numerous in barrooms, nowadays, and so insouciant as whisky drinkers?

Because the example is set by older women and because women in respectable walks of life, eager to aid in procurement of repeal, preached the doctrine that temperate drinking is all right.

There was a definite, not of course wickedly-intended, pre-repeal movement in defense of drinking, led largely by socially prominent women of unexceptionable personal conduct.

Judge Taylor's denunciation of women as barhogs who discourage respectable men's patronage of saloons alleges a condition not commonly seen, and how women being barhogs affects the question of guilt or innocence of six men buying drinks for a feminine minor is unclear.—Louisville Times.

Today's Oddity

Uniontown, Pa.—Fayette County Commissioner Arthur Higginbotham, who is confined with a broken leg, hopes the visit of three friends to his home bears no ill omen.

They were a minister, undertaken and a tombstone agent.

New York.—Frank Libuse, comedian at the World's Fair Aquacade, uses a series of fake mustaches in his act and blows them off during a comedy routine with a flute.

It seems that nobody had been able to find the discarded handlebars until recently when stagehands found three bird's nests in movable scenery—all fashioned out of Libuse's mustaches.

Seattle—Detective Lieut. William D. Rehmke, pursuing an automobile thief, parked a police car equipped with another county's license as a camouflage in a downtown alley.

When he returned the car was gone. Police had impounded it for being parked in an alley.

Manhattan, Ill.—This thought Farmer Howard Kurkhamt as he selected a piece of gaily wrapped candy out of a box, looks like a choice bite.

He unwrapped it and bit down hard. Bang!—Something exploded in his mouth. Investigation developed that it must have been one of the youngsters' July 4 Torpedoes which in some manner found its way into the candy box. Kurkhamt suffered a lacerated cheek.

Hollywood—the coolest form of movie entertainment, says M. E. Muniz, New York psychologist, is a film of the rolling ocean.

Sea pictures are even cooler than snow scenes, reported Muniz, after testing a mixed audience of 50 with an electric measuring device.

Comedy is cooling, too—unless it really is funny. Sideshaking laughs send the temperature up.

Premerton, Wash.—Denver R. King, seaman on the U. S. S. Lexington, aircraft carrier, has patented his cure for motorists who dash through red stoplights.

His device flattens to the pavement while the light is green, pops up when it's red.

A hook snares any car trying to run the signal.

Manitowish, Wis.—Henry Khunert, lake resort proprietor, wants to get rid of a large island that a storm left on his doorstep.

Set adrift by the storm, the island—a tree covered mass 600 feet long and 50 feet wide—moved more than a quarter of a mile across the lake to come to rest on the Kuhnert beach.

Ford To Build Plane Engines

Detroit.—The Ford Motor Company, which has been experimenting for several months with aviation engine plans to build 4,000 air-cooled airplane engines for the United States Government, it was learned authoritatively today. The engines will be of the type made by the Pratt Whitney Company.

At the Ford offices here it was said arrangements for the contract had been conducted with William S. Knudsen of the National Defense Council.

Construction of the 4,000 motors, it was added, would not interfere with Henry Ford's plans to produce an aviation engine of his own, upon which several weeks of preliminary work have been disposed of. The Ford aviation engine is to be liquid-cooled.

"Dixie" Traced To Old Note

Houston, Texas—A New Orleans bank may have been responsible for the term "Dixie," applied to the land below the Mason-Dixon line. Henry E. Eirod, Houston engineer, believes that the Citizens Bank of New Orleans was the originator. The bank's 10-plastre notes, issued in 1852, were printed half in English and half in French. On each note was the word "Ten" and the corresponding French word, "Dix." Southerners called the bills "Dixies." In those days, States issued their own money. The New Orleans bank was prosperous and its notes circulated widely throughout the South, which came to be known as the land of the "Dixies," and finally, Dixieland.

Bank Hold-Up Suspect Held

Frankfort, Ky.—Herbert K. Moss, F.B.I. special agent of Louisville, today said a man he identified as Arnold Boorman, 24, wanted in Indianapolis on bank robbery charges, had been caught here and between $10,000 and $11,000 in cash recovered.

Moss said a complaint was filed this morning in Federal Court at Indianapolis charging him with robbing the Fletcher Trust Company East Side branch there of $12,600 Thursday.

The man was asleep in a Frankfort hotel when Moss, city police and State Highway patrolmen slipped into the room and offered no resistance, the F.B.I. agent said.

Police Chief Guy Wainscott said two pistols were found under the pillow and a rifle was near the bed.

Nature's Danger Signal

How much easier it is to keep well than to get well. In these strenuous times so many people have fagged out "feeling." They are tired all the time. They think they are all run down when they are more apt to be all wound up. And they do not recognize this as nature's danger signal that something is wrong.

Sunday Game Is Rained Out In Mayfield-Tigers Win Saturday

All games in the Kitty League set for yesterday afternoon were rained out. Fulton was due to play the third game of a series in Mayfield, and the Tigers leave today on a road trip which will last six days. Three games are to be played with the Generals in Jackson, followed by three in Hopkinsville. The team will return to Fairfield next Sunday.

Win Saturday Night

The Tigers look as thrilling a game as has been played all season here Saturday night, coming from behind in the ninth with two outs to win from Mayfield 5 to 4. The finish left the crowd limp with excitement, and many could not believe that the Tigers had actually won the game.

The Browns took a two run lead in the first inning as Dave Read got off to a shaky start. The Tigers then proceeded to hammer White for three runs to take a one run lead. Gotter relieved White and pitched hitless ball until the fatal ninth. Read steadied and held the Browns until the seventh when, with two down, Landersieck doubled and Kowal singled to tie the score. In the next inning, with a runner on third, Mathis dropped a fly ball in right and what appeared to be the winning run checked in.

Gentry hit for Read to open the 9th and struck out, as Gotter blasted his fast ball across. Mullen, with a three and one count, singled sharply to left. Males flew out to 2nd and the game appeared to be over. Quackenbush hit a line drive to Patterson at 2nd and for a second Patterson appeared to have caught it for the final out. Many fans were leaving, and then it was seen that Patterson had dropped the ball and Quackenbush was on first. Ted Pawelek came up and Gotter threw a fast ball. The Tiger catcher leaned into the fast ball with great gusto, and for a moment it seemed that it was going over the fence. It hit the fence and rebounded, and during this period Mullen and Quackenbush were legging it for the plate. Both scored and the game was over.

Poole Goes Home
Manager Jim Poole, who has piloted the team all season, was given his release Saturday and the team placed under the management of Moon Mullen. This step was taken largely to effect some financial saving, as it was felt that the team could not hope to finish higher than sixth or seventh place. Manager Poole stated that he did not blame the baseball association for the action, although he was disappointed that a better showing was not made for the second half.

Frank Filchick, fiery Tiger player, left here Saturday morning for Memphis, where he took a plane for West Coast to begin training for the professional football season with the Washington Redskins. Peterson has taken his place in the local outfield.

SOFT BALL GAMES

Tonight will see the beginning of a full week in the Softball League. In the first game to be called at 7:30 tonight the Baptist Cardinals will cross bats with the battling Bulls. These Methodist Bulls, although not the first place team, are fully capable of upsetting any team in the league.

In the second game of the evening the Methodist Dodgers will engage the Christian Royals. The Royals are one of the most improved teams in the league while the Dodgers are the only team in the league holding the distinction of having defeated the leading Blues. So softball fans can expect a real battle when these two teams tie up in the final game of the evening.

French Hear 6,000 Bridges Must Be Rebuilt

Vichy.—Returning from an inspection tour of France's devastated areas, Minister of Communications Francois Pietri reported Sunday that 6,000 wrecked bridges and substantial railroad trackage, motor highways, telephone and telegraph lines must be rebuilt or repaired immediately to bring transportation and communications back to normal.

Pietri said retreating French forces alone had dynamited fifty bridges spanning the Rhone River. The famous three-arch bridge at Le Tell was destroyed, while twenty bridges in the Drome Department and eighteen in the Isere Department were wrecked.

It was estimated that approximately 200,000 men would be required to repair damage to France's telephone and telegraph system.
