S.S.S. CURES OLD BLOOD TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison is at the bottom of a great many old blood troubles. The disease may have been contracted years ago and some treatment used that removed the outward symptoms and shut the virus up in the system to slumber in the blood, but it only awaited a favorable opportunity to break out in some form again. Certain forms of catarrhal troubles, especially where the bones are affected, scrofulous affections, non-healing sores, ulcerated membranes, etc., are due to this specific poison. Perhaps many who are afflicted in this way are ignorant of the fact that the seeds of this mighty poison are still hidden in the blood. Like the deadly serpent, which is dangerous as long as the faintest spark of life is left to enable it to sink its poisonous fangs, this powerful disease will corrupt and debilitate while the least particle of its insidious virus remains in the blood.

The best time to get rid of Contagious Blood Poison is when the disease is first contracted, and before its virus so penetrates the blood as to cause ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, etc. Then of course the victim is saved much humiliation and suffering; but even after the poison has become established in the system it can be removed and a cure effected if the blood be thoroughly purified with S. S. S.

S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It possesses penetrating powers that enable it to go down into the blood, and remove the last trace of blood poison. It cures all blood troubles simply and solely because it removes the cause from the circulation. Not only does S. S. S. cure Contagious Blood Poison when first contracted, but reaches it in any of its stages, even where the trouble has been inherited. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form. You cannot rid of your old blood trouble if you will take S. S. S. and allow it to purify the blood. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

TAFT CONFERS WITH RAILROAD OFFICIALS

HEADS OF COMPANY'S BIGGEST LINES ASK NO MESSAGE RECOMMENDATIONS.

CRISIS BASIS OF ARGUMENT

President Believed to Have Refused to Yield to Importunities and Is Expected to Urge Changes by Congress.

Washington, Jan. 4.—President Taft's conference with the heads of the country's biggest railroads, which began Monday morning, ended with the president's refusal to yield to importunities and his expected to urge changes by Congress.

The conference ended at 11:30 and none of the visitors would discuss the meeting other than to say they entered a general protest against the amendments.

The president's callers were President Mellon of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, President McCrea of the Pennsylvania, President Lusk of the Union Pacific and Alfred E. Brown of the Philadelphia & Reading, President Brown of the Southern and President Brown of the New York Central. Attorney General Wilentz also attended the gathering.

It is understood they sought to convince the president that further legislation at this time would upset conditions in the railroad and industrial world which generally had been righting themselves in the last two years.

The railroad men seemed dejected when they left the White House and it was inferred their mission so far as holding up the president's special message was concerned was a failure.

President Taft said after the conference that he still expected to have his interstate commerce message ready for congress on Wednesday noon.

The railroad men came, it was said, to present their views on the various phases of the recommendations they have taken from Mr. Taft's speeches and from special news articles which have forecast the message.

The conference was said to deal especially with proposed limitations of issues of bonds and other securities.

Prediction of the completion of the next message have been such as to cause slight alarm to corporations.

What Message Will Ask. Summarized, it is generally believed the message is as follows:

No amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law is necessary.

Many large corporations are violating the Sherman law.

It is the duty of the executive to enforce the law, but if this be done, as is his intention, a panic or commercial chaos may be precipitated.

As a refuge for the large combinations he recommends a national incorporation law. He says the law should provide:

1. For voluntary incorporation.

2. For supervision by the Bureau of corporations of such combinations as secure national incorporation.

3. For control by the Bureau of corporations of all issues of stocks and bonds, which shall be paid for in cash, property or services.

4. Prohibition of a corporation to own stock in a competing corporation.

5. For annual reports covering the financial condition, the business or organization and corporate transactions of the corporation.

6. For the safeguarding of business secrets, while, at the same time, providing for the publication of all facts so far as they may be in the public interest.

Knut Nelson to Preside.

Washington, Jan. 4.—According to present prospects Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota will preside at the trial of Secretary of the Interior Hatcher and Chief Forester Pinchot, which is to be conducted by a joint committee of six members each from the senate and house.

Charges of conspiracy, made by both sides to the controversy, will make the position of chairman of the investigating committee difficult to fill.

Cold Feet Cause Divorce Suit.

Pittsburg, Jan. 4.—Alleging among other things that her husband insisted on placing his cold feet on her back at night and that he kept a revolver under his pillow and an ax in the closet to stop her protests, Mrs. Anna M. Welfer has filed suit in divorce against her husband, John C. Welfer, a rich grocer.

Two Murderers Executed.

DR. COOK'S WIFE HIDING

FRIEND DECLARES EXPLORER'S WIFE IS DISGUISED WITH HIM.

Claims He Never Contributed Any Money to the Support of Family.

New York, Jan. 4.—The Journal prints the following story:

Mrs. Frederick A. Cook, wife of the discredited Arctic explorer, is hiding in the vicinity of New York under an assumed name and awaiting an opportunity to make a financial settlement for money advanced to Cook since their marriage.

She has in her possession, it is said, the most valuable parts of Cook's diary, accumulated on his last trip to the frozen north, which she intends to retain until a satisfactory arrangement shall have been made.

An effort to establish the truth of a rumor that Mrs. Cook intended to seek a separation from her husband was not successful, further than the statement of friends that she felt very keenly the humiliation that followed Cook's failure to establish his claims to having reached the north pole and the running away while under fire.

Mrs. R. O. Webber, the wife of a prominent member of the Arctic club, who is one of Mrs. Cook's closest friends, told a reporter that the wife of the explorer was thoroughly disgusted with Cook's conduct.

"The fact of the matter is, Mrs. Cook told me her husband never contributed a penny toward the support of his family from the day their little daughter, Helen, who is now 6 years old, was born. She had not only supported the family, but had given him funds for his hunting trips."

"When Dr. Cook made some money out of his recent lectures I can well understand that she would wish to be reimbursed. From all that I have learned, he did not give her anything out of this money. Also, I can very well understand she may have some of his most valuable records which she intends to withhold until her claims have been settled."

Train Wrecked on Ledge

Four Coaches of Derailed Rock Island Flyer Hang Over Fifty-Foot Incline.

Jan. 4.—With scores of passengers lighting to escape from the wreckage, four cars of the Golden State Limited of the Rock Island railroad hung at the very verge of a 50-foot embankment near Moline, when the train left the track after a cylinder head of the engine had blown out.

The wreck, caused by a narrow margin being one of the worst in the history of the road, had the coaches gone a few feet farther and plunged over the embankment, the loss of life would have been appalling. The weight of the heavy engine and the strength of the couplings was all that held the coaches.

Only one passenger was seriously injured. He was Clarence Stone of Clinton, Ia., who had thrown his broken. One woman crawled out the window, forgetting her baby in her panic and leaving it behind. She became hysterical when she learned what she had done. A fellow passenger rescued her baby for her.

KILL NIGHTRIDER WITNESS

Alabamian Shot to Death in Buggy and Companion's Horse Fired Into.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 4.—James Middleton, a wealthy farmer and stock raiser, was assassinated at Loxley, Ala., near the home of D. L. Comstock fired into by unidentified parties.

Middleton was the principal witness for the state in the night-ride cases against Roy Stapleton, Dick Plonety and other to be tried in the United States court here on January 10, and Comstock was also a witness for the state.

Middleton was shot on a lonely road while in a buggy in company with W. H. Wade, who hastened to Hay Minette with the injured man and started to Mobile for treatment, but Middleton died on board a Louisville & Nashville train.

The sheriff of Baldwin county and a posse of deputies are searching the country for the assassins.

Is Breakfast Food Peanut Shell?

Chicago, Jan. 4.—The Chicago Federation of Labor adopted resolutions calling upon the national pure food commission to investigate if peanut shells constitute the basic element in the manufacture of breakfast foods.

"In a recent freight car wrecked it was discovered that several cars consigned to breakfast food concerns were loaded with peanut shells from the peanut butter factories in the south," said President John Fitzpatrick.

STOPPING LEAKS

FLOODS ISOLATE WESTERN CITIES

EIGHTY MILES OF RAILROAD TRACK WASHED AWAY AND TRAINS TURNED BACK.

THREE PACIFIC STATE AFFECTED

Passengers to California Points Are Sent Over Southern Route—Southern California Towns Affected.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 4.—Traffic on the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad (the "Salt Lake Route") between this city and Los Angeles is paralyzed. Floods in southern Utah, Nevada and California have swept away about eighty miles of track.

Fast trains over the Salt Lake route, including the famous Los Angeles Limited, between Chicago and Los Angeles, are being returned to this city. Passengers destined for California points were sent over the Southern Pacific by way of Ogden, in a special train.

The Los Angeles Limited went west over the southern Pacific and will be no routed until washout on the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake are repaired.

Los Angeles Isolated for 48 Hours.

Los Angeles, Jan. 4.—After being isolated for 48 hours by floods, partial communication has been established between Los Angeles and the outside world. The Los Angeles Limited went west via El Paso, instead of Ogden. Much concern still is felt by officials of all three transcontinental roads reaching this city. On the Santa Fe conditions are particularly bad. The second section of the Santa Fe California limited is held at Cajon, Train No. 7 and No. 3 from Chicago, both due here Saturday, are stalled at Barstow, and train No. 6, enroute, is at The Needles. They probably will arrive Wednesday.

Flood Leaves 1500 Men Idle.

Stirling, Ill., Jan. 4.—Heavy ice flows and high water in Rock river washed away the dam in the race surrounding the wheel pit of the Harvester company. The damage will exceed $50,000 and throw 1500 men out of employment.

200 Escape When Ships Collide.

London, Jan. 4.—The British steamers Ayraire, for Durban, and the Arcadian, for Glasgow, collided in a fog in the Irish Channel. The Arcadian sank. All of her crew scrambled aboard the Ayraire, but 12 Lascars returned to get their money and were drowned. The Ayraire had 200 passengers aboard. She was badly damaged, but was towed to Holyhead.

Costly War on Tuberculosis.

New York, Jan. 4.—More than $8,000,000 was spent during the year 1909 in fighting tuberculosis in the United States.

This money was used, according to a bulletin just issued by the New York Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, in treating 120,000 patients.

Missouri Makes Money.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 4.—Missouri's expenses for the year 1909 were more than covered by the state's income, according to the report of Treasurer Cowgill recently submitted to Gov. Hadley. The receipts from all sources were $3,551,733.65 and expenditures $3,507,801.47. The surplus, added to the balance remaining at the close of 1908, leaves a fund of $2,447,932.18.

KILLS WIFE AND SUICIDES

W. S. GIBSON, FEARING LOSS OF $250,000, MURDERS SPOUSE.

Carnegie's "Model Superintendent" Thought He Was in Clutches of a Woman.

Pittsburg, Jan. 4.—Fear of black mail was an indirect cause of the tragedy in the suburb of Muncie, in which Winfield S. Gibson, Andrew Carnegie's model superintendent, shot and killed his wife, wounded his son of 13, fired at a younger daughter, and then put a bullet into his own brain.

Gibson had for a long time been fearing blackmail by a woman. He talked of it to his wife and others and got the notion that his fortune of $250,000 might be rifled from him. It was finally arranged that he should transfer the property to his wife, and he decided to her $200,000 in real estate and passed over the remainder in securities and money.

When Mrs. Gibson handled the family purse she undertook to reform Gibson's drinking habits by putting him on short money allowance. This led to petty quarrels. There was a big row just before Christmas, when he demanded from her and failed to get $14,000 so that he might distribute $200 gold pieces among his friends.

The trouble just before the tragedy was over $10. Gibson had been drinking and when his wife refused him he pulled out a pistol for a general slaughter. The daughter lost only a front curl, but was frightened into spasms, which have recurred so often that her condition is critical. A child of 3 was unharmed.

Gibson got started toward wealth with a bricklayer in the Homestead mill. Stunned that Mr. Carnegie wanted certain land in Muncie, Gibson obtained an option on it with the savings of a few hundred dollars. Not long afterward "Carnegie's" agents bought him out at a big profit.

Statue of Lee to Stay

However, No Effort Will Be Made to Have Congress Accept Virginia's Gift.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The marble statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee, clad in the uniform of a Confederate soldier, stands in Statuary Hall at the capitol and probably will remain there until the end of all things, despite the protests of the Union League and all others who dislike such honor being conferred on the great leader of the Confederate forces.

It has been definitely determined that no effort will be made to have the statue formally accepted by congress and no ceremonies will be held in connection with its unveiling, that having been done long ago without services of any kind.

Wants to Be State Hangman.

Pittsburg, Jan. 4.—A proposition to have a state hangman will be before the state legislature at its next meeting. Edward Swartwood, for years deputy sheriff at Pittsburg, and who in his day has hanged 21 men, has formally announced himself as a candidate for the position. Swartwood will be remembered by baseball fans as a famous batsman of the Pittsburg team many years ago an umpire in the National league.

Roosevelt Kills an Elephant.

Holms, Uganda, Jan. 4.—The American naturalist expedition arrived here and reported all well. While in camp at Kikindu, Col. Roosevelt killed a Bull elephant which had tusks weighing 110 pounds. The expedition has gone to Butab, 27 miles distant.

WIFE WILL WORK FOR PAROLE

May Work in Tailor Shop or Construction Gang—Wife Will Go to Atlanta to Live and Will Circulate Petition.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 4.—Charles W. Morse arrived here at 10:45 Monday morning to begin his 15-year sentence for misappropriation of funds of the National Bank of North America in New York.

Morse was given a bath, provided with a convict suit and his hair clipped. He then was taken to a cell and afterward escorted to the great dining hall, where he found an individual table bowl of vegetable soup, slices of bread and butter, meat and coffee. After supper he will go to his cell for the night and in the morning will be "mugged" and measured for the Herkilton system.

According to Warden Moyer, Morse's life will be like that of other convicts. No favors will be shown because he once handled millions. Asked what Morse would be put to work at, the warden said:

"I don't know yet. For a man of his age I should say the tailor shop or construction gang, do you mean Morse will do manual labor?" was asked.

"Well, of a sort," replied the warden.

"No convicts do clerical work here now. Morse and I will get along. I believe he will be a model prisoner."

The federal prison is of recent erection, and the government has tried to make it a model. The prison itself is an immense brick structure, with quarters for about 2,000 prisoners. It stands in the middle of a 150-acre tract of land, which is cultivated by convicts. The structure, from the exterior does not suggest a prison. It looks rather like a great baronial castle.

Warden Moyer has advanced ideas about prison discipline. He does not believe in bodily punishment. The interior of the prison is scrupulously clean and convicts are made to bathe every day.
