TALK IT UP

There’s no place like home—particularly when you are away from home. This is due to the simple fact that we overlook the good things near at hand because we do not think of them as being at hand. We forget the fact that greatness is far off.

That is why the old town seems so good to us after we have become estranged from it and much changes every day. It is a pleasure to return to our old neighborhood, to pass the final touches of time with it. It is a social

"Sane Methods of Regulation Assure the Conservation of Public Rights"

Says Christian Science Monitor

"Such a concert between public and private interests as is now proposed was not known to be possible a score of years ago. The public feared the oppression of monopolies, the complete usurpation of the State's prerogatives. But there have been worked out those sane and equitable methods of regulatory control which assure a fair return to invested wealth and at the same time the conservation of public rights and privileges."

This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home.

Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat.

Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals.
