ELECTION

Fulton County is to have a period of quiet in between the two great elections of November 7th, but the work of the County election districts will not be over until the duties are due in the county auditor's office. The election of officers will be held here to an inclusive jurisdiction in the county, bringing with it a number of districts and additional duties, so that the public will have to pay attention to the results of all the elections. The vote in the county will be canvassed on the Friday following the election, and the report of the duties of the will have to be made to the Board of Elections.

SOUTH FULTON

The wedding of Miss Cara Browning, daughter of Mrs. Sam Holt, to Edwin Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hardy, was held Saturday, December 12th at one o'clock a three emirs Luncheon was served to twelve guests. Games of ladies croquet were played and all the guests formed a perfect court to the ladies in which they were served. Miss Eula Rogers held second high score and was presented pillow cases. Miss Mary Anderson received a manicure set as low score prize. The honoree received an attractive gift.

Steve Wiley, chairman of the program committee, presided. She very graciously welcomed the Paris, Tennessee artists who were present. Mrs. Virginia Smith and Miss Porter played the piano; "Third Movement of Tchaikovsky Concerto" by Bach, "Berceuse" by Chopin, and "Sparks" by Moszkowski—Miss MeSwain

In the refreshments.

The room was attractively decorated with a Christmas tree in its usual place. The refreshments were made by the members and guests, and the event was held in the dining room of Miss Porter. The occasion was one that the members and guests were all pleased with.

The Hands
That Shape America
By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

In every community, the men and women who work in industry are shaping America's future. Their efforts and achievements are essential to the growth and progress of our nation.

The workers in industry are not just building products, they are creating the foundation for America's economic prosperity. Their work is not just physical, it is mental. They are constantly innovating and improving, always searching for ways to do things better.

In a world where technology is advancing at a rapid pace, the workers in industry are on the cutting edge. They are the ones who are developing new products, new processes, and new ways of doing things.

But it's not just about the products they create. It's about the people they create. The workers in industry are often the backbone of their communities. They provide jobs, they support their families, and they contribute to the overall well-being of their towns.

So let's celebrate these workers. They are the unsung heroes of our society. They are the ones who are truly shaping America.

The hands that shape America are everywhere. They are in the factories, they are in the offices, they are in the laboratories. They are the ones who are working hard to make America a better place.

Let's give them the recognition they deserve. Let's celebrate their contributions and their achievements.

The Hands That Shape America. Let's honor them.

It Can Be Done

It's time to take an automobile along—by rail—when going on a journey. And here's something else that helps the sensibility of Illinois Central freight service.

A Chicagoan who writes in the South decided to take his label cruiser with him. He entered the car and said: "Can it be done?"

How it was done would make a long story involving measurements, equipment, boxes, and bonuses. But it was done. Instantly prepared, the patron now given his lunch at Illinois Central would hardly know he is eating the service to his breast.
