THE LISTENING POST

I was privileged to read a letter the other day written by a man who went to the far places of the world many years ago and who has never come back to what we call civilization, except for a few trips, which were brief. For almost fifty years he has lived in Alaska and reared a large family and his letter reveals that while he may not have found riches in terms of gold he has found evidently what he desired and has made life mean something for himself.

Twenty odd years ago Joe Browder of this city made one of his trips to Alaska. On the boat from Seattle he was impressed with the manner of a certain man, Van Ribber by name, and tried to form an acquaintance with him. Van Ribber was reserved and did not seem inclined to talk a great deal to Mr. Browder. The latter, however, struck by his Indian appearance, his ready wit, his Indian yarns and manner of speaking, kept on trying to get to know the man.

Arriving at Skagway, Mr. Browder boarded a train for a 300 mile trip down into the interior of Alaska and again his trail crossed with that of Van Ribber. They went to Selkirk, I believe, and still Van Ribber did not seem to make friends. Then on a river boat the two continued their journey and it was here that Mr. Browder began to get Van Ribber thawed out. He said that one guide who was attached to his party came to him and warned him against Van Ribber. "Why, he is a squaw man," the guide told him.

Mr. Browder saw Van Ribber leave the boat at some river camp and greet his family. He told me about the greeting, saying that Van Ribber's wife, an Indian squaw, stood impassively at the landing and never smiled, never said a word, while her husband greeted the eleven children. One by one he picked them up and kissed them, including the oldest, a child sixteen years of age. Then when this was all finished the wife came to him to be greeted in the same manner.

Mr. Browder, during his stay there, got to know quite a lot about Van Ribber, who had been born in Kentucky. He later lived in Virginia and had a fair education. When the gold rush started he went to Alaska, telling his friends and relatives that he would come back if he struck it rich, otherwise he would remain in Alaska.

The Fulton man had not heard from Van Ribber in more than twenty years, and was surprised and delighted to have a long letter from him the other day. In this letter Van Ribber told of his family. Twenty years ago he had eleven children, and four more came along after that date. One boy, twenty-one years of age, was drowned a few years ago, and a fifteen year old girl died. He now has four sons of military age, but hopes that they will not have to go to war. I was struck by one thing in the letter, for Van Ribber sees and feels life pretty much as I do. "Life goes by so fast," he said. "It seems only a few months ago that I was driving dog teams over the Pass, and yet that was in 1896." Van Ribber is now past seventy years of age, but stated that he was thinking of making another trip to the States, and if so, he promised to look up Mr. Browder. He told of the fine garden that he has this year and right now is having the things which we have in early spring.

Remember that this man, born in Kentucky and reared in Virginia, has lived the life of a pioneer all these years. He is a hunter and trapper, and stated in his letter that he had reared his large family with his rifle and traps. Practically all his diet is meat and last year, I think it was, he came to the States to get some dental work done. The dentist asked him about

Willkie Called "Unpatriotic" By Sec. Ickes

Hits Criticism Of President Roosevelt As "Unpardonable"

Washington, —Secretary Ickes, sarcastically calling Wendell Willkie a "simple, barefoot Wall Street lawyer," tonight accused the Republican Presidential nominee of "unpatriotic demagoguery" and "unpardonable references" to President Roosevelt.

In a reply to Willkie's acceptance address at Elwood, Ind., the Interior Department head asserted that Willkie's criticism of Mr. Roosevelt's conduct of foreign affairs was "contemptible."

Concerning Willkie's challenge to Mr. Roosevelt to meet him on the same platform in joint debates, Ickes said:

"One cannot challenge the President of the United States to go about the country barnstorming, after the pre-radio fashion of the past century, without laying himself open to the charge that he is indulging in cheap bravado."

"Strikes At Prestige"

"The gravity of Mr. Willkie's offense consisted of the fact that he was reflecting upon the dignity and striking at the prestige of an office which, as a candidate himself for the Presidency, it ought to be his zealous duty to uphold and defend. The President cannot adjourn the battle of Britain in order to ride the circuit with Mr. Willkie. The Presidency is not a job for a mountebank."

"At that, Mr. Roosevelt has been effectively debating the Wendell Willkie of this country for years and will continue to do so."

"If Mr. Willkie is so eager for a debate in order to hold his audience, I suggest that he challenge his running mate, Senator McNary, with whom he is at greater variance on domestic and foreign issues than his speech of acceptance shows him to be with the President."

Ickes said the Willkie speech had failed to live up to its advance "build-up."

Bund-Klan Rally Interrupted By Arrest Of Kuhn Backers

Andover, N. J., —An out-in-the-open flare-up among elements of the German-American Bund and welding of a sympathy relationship between the Bund and the Ku Klux Klan appeared today to be the fruits of a Klan "Americanization" rally at the Bund's Camp Nordland here.

The rally was dispersed yesterday when six men began distributing a pamphlet entitled "An ap-

Judge Studies Banks' Pleas On Job Taxes

Paris, Ky., —Circuit Judge William B. Ardrey Monday withheld judgment after hearing arguments on the Anderson National Bank's petition for a temporary injunction to restrain the State from attempting to collect unemployment compensation taxes.

The Citizens Union National and the First National Banks of Louisville joined the Anderson National Bank, of Lawrenceburg, as co-petitioners in the test suit. Attorney General Hubert Meredith represented the Commonwealth.

The bank's attorneys contended the State Unemployment Compensation Board has no right to attempt to collect compensation assessments against the banks, because the banks, as instruments of the Federal Government, are immune to such taxation except with the assent of Congress. They seek the restraining order to prohibit the collection of taxes claimed due by the State from March 5, 1938, to January 1, 1940.

The banks announced they would pay the taxes from January 1, in conformity with 1939 Federal legislation.

The banks' attorneys argued costs to the banks of making payments of restorative assessments and penalties would be more than $200,000 for one year.

Tombstone Text Scares Vandals After 6 Years

Phoenix, Ariz., —From an unused cemetery, in which are graves of many Phoenix pioneers, a headstone bearing the inscription, "To all vulgar men and all the Gods: Disturb us not—was stolen eight years ago."

The warning apparently affected the vandals, for two years ago the stone turned up at the city outskirts.

A police officer, finding it unwanted, took it to his home where it remained until recently when officials of the Pioneer Cemetery Association heard of it.

Today the tombstone is guarding the rebuilt vault of J. H. W. Jensen, picturesque character of early Phoenix.

DAVES HILITE TO INVADE ENGLAND

London, —Minister of Information Alfred Duff Cooper broadcast a dare to Adolf Hitler tonight to carry out his threat to invade Britain.

"We are quite ready to receive him now and we shall really be very disappointed if he does not turn up," Duff Cooper declared.

Broadcasting after a day which brought the first let-up in a week of mass Nazi air raids, Duff Cooper went on.

"This week-end, we were told by German boasters and bullies, was to be a week-end of terror in Great Britain."

"I am now speaking towards the close of Saturday evening, the middle of the week-end which has hitherto been a singularly quiet and peaceful one."

"There is no terror in Great Britain today. Rather there is a sense of achievement, a spirit of confidence, a note of victory and longed-for that they shall come again in greater numbers in order that we may continue to take a more fearful toll of them than we already have taken."

Believe U. S. Refugee Ship Is Near Newly-Mined Waters

Washington, —Unofficial calculation tonight placed the refugee ship American Legion in or near British waters where Germany expressed concern over "mines we cannot control."

Dr. Wilhelm Tannenberg of the German embassy here summoned a press conference to express assurance "that German military authorities will not in any way—even unintentionally—threaten the American Legion" but to renew a warning about the danger of mines.

Aboard the Army transport, the 897 passengers, mostly Americans, apparently were ignorant of the situation. Replying to an inquiry sent Saturday, when the original warning was issued in Berlin, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, minister to Norway, wired the Associated Press from the ship.

"Your message first intimation of newly-mined area. No one aboard informed."

Fulton Boys Go To Army

Bernard Forthand, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Forthand, and William O. Locke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Locke, left Fulton Friday night for Fort Knox after enlisting in the U. S. Army for a period of three years.

FARM INCOMES

Chicago, —With farm income running ahead of 1939 and prices of principle commodities higher than a year ago, analysis of market statistics today indicated that United States farmer's chances of receiving the best income in a decade depend on price trends in the future.

Price developments in turn, depend partly on the war and world conditions. In the last four months of 1939 farmers benefited from sharp price rises due to the war. Now semi-paralysis of international trade and inability of many European importing nations to buy foreign farm commodities are affecting U. S. domestic prices.

Trade experts here said, however, that if restrictions on European demand are removed and some revival in export business is permitted, American farmers should benefit. Certain so-called food deficient countries are believed to have substantial credits in the U. S., they said.

In the first six months of 1940 cash farm income from marketings, plus government benefit payments, totaled $3,824,000,000, an increase of almost 9 percent compared with the first half of 1939. Experts pointed out that half the margin of improvement over last year has diminished recently since the price break of May.

NAZI PILOT TAKES TIME TO WRITE 'G' IN SKY

London, —One of the German fighter planes which escorted the waves of Nazi bombers in the attack on London Sunday took time off from the war to do a little fancy sky writing.

As the bombers droned on toward the capital, the lone fighter plane dropped out of the formation and the pilot made a huge letter "G" in the sky in smoke, apparently in honor of Marshall Hermann Goering, head of the Nazi Air Force. Then, with British fighters in pursuit, the Nazi sped on to catch up with the bomber formation.

WHAT DID HE SAY

Asheville, N. C., —Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, gets there every time. To fill speaking engagements at Lake Junaluska and Asheville after his automobile stalled in flood waters, Dr. Graham climbed a mountain trail, hitch-hiked on a passenger train and then caught a freight train. When the latter came to an impassable trestle, Dr. Graham walked across and boarded another train on the other end. He spoke his speech.

Burglar Breaks Windows Last Night

A burglar broke into the Meacham & Hutchens grocery this morning between 3 and 4 o'clock and stole some cigarettes and butter. He gained entrance by breaking out the front plate glass window.

Two windows were broken out in the service station on Commercial Avenue, operated by Lowell, "Shorty" Williams, apparently by the same person. The would-be burglar threw a brick through the windows of both rest rooms, but was unable to gain entrance into the station. Miss Robey, nurse at the Fulton Hospital, heard the burglar and called Williams, who came immediately to the station. No trace of the burglar has been found as yet.

City Tournament Is Under Way

The tournament to pick the City Golf Champion is now in progress at the Fulton Country club and twenty golfers are participating.

Three matches have been played so far. Louis Spivey defeated James Cullum and he will meet Ernest Fall, Jr., who defeated Dr. Lattimer.

L. O. Carter will play P. T. Jones and Jack Moore plays Clyde Williams, Jr. The winners of these two matches will play.

Charles Murphy and Frank Carr will engage in a match and Hunter Weeks and Buck Bushart are matched up.

In the second bracket, Bud Davis has defeated Joe Hall and he will play the winner of the Frank Beadles-J. T. Howard match.

J. D. Hales and Jerry Cavendar will play and L. H. Weeks and "Boots" Rogers are teamed up.

Eighteen holes are being played in this match play, but for the finals, 36 holes will be required to decide the champion of the Fulton club.

No definite date has as yet been set for the playing of the finals, but it will probably be the first week in September.

This is the first championship tournament of this kind to be held on the local golf links and interest is keen.

German Officer Escapes At Camp Of Canadians

Toronto, Ontario, —A German officer was reported Monday night to have tunneled his way under the barbed-wire fence of a northern Ontario internment camp and escaped.

Police and military authorities expressed the opinion he had out-aided in the getaway, believed to have occurred during a thunderstorm between midnight and dawn.

The man was described as 29, five feet eight inches tall, 158 pounds, with heavy eyebrows. He speaks perfect English.

$1,545 Found In Officials Desk Drawer

Frankfort, Ky., —That a lot of things besides dust can accumulate in desk drawers was confirmed today by William Blanton, new State motor transportation director. In this case $1,545 in uncashed checks, money and express orders and even some cash.

Routine clearing out of a desk used by an employee who left last June disclosed the forgotten payments for permits of various kinds sent in by bus lines, truck owners and others.

Called Carelessness

"There was nothing to suggest dishonesty—just careless," Blanton said. "Some of them ran back to 1936 and that meant checking through the files for four years to determine in many cases what the payments were for."

New Explosive Called 100 Times As Potent As TNT

Burbank, Calif., —Dr. Arthur W. Shaudovsky, former Brussels scientist, said today a uranium explosive developed in the United States is "at least fifteen times more powerful and perhaps almost 100 times more potent than T. N. T."

Dr. Shaudovsky, who came here from Wilmington, Del., said he and two other research engineers tested the explosive in a remote spot and found that whereas 1,500 grams of high-power dynamite did 888 foot-pounds of work, only 100 grams of the uranium explosive accomplished 4,270 foot-pounds of work—with only the downward force measured.

"Although the amount detonated was so small," he said, "the air blast shook a tower more than a mile away."

A Perfect Mate If He Keeps This Pledge

Kansas City, —A couple appeared before James A. Kilmer, deputy recorder of deeds, for a marriage license but before she accepted it the bride said firmly:

"My husband has to sign this oath before we get a license and I wish you 'authorities' would witness it."

The oath: "I do hereby promise my wife I won't go out at night after we are married. I will not play cards. I will only call on women when accompanied by my wife. I will not drink any more than my wife allows. I will let her be boss in every way."

The bridegroom signed.

Eustice Harris Runs And Runs Into The Law

Baltimore, —Saturday was a day of blue miseries for Eustice Harris, 29-year-old Negro.

Harris, fleeing from a group of produce men who accused him of stealing a crate of oranges, dodged into a building. It was the Central Police Station.

Harris continued his flight into a nearby garage where he hid behind a car. It was a police car.

Harris took up his flight again and ran smack into a man. It was Patrolman Adams Brooks.

Changes To Plug Loopholes In Hatch Act Urged By Author

Washington, —Strengthening of the Hatch politics law at points recently involved in controversy between Democratic and Republican Party leaders was proposed today by Senator Hatch (D., N. M.), who also asked that primary elections be covered by the amendments.

One of his amendments, Hatch said, would "make it clear that the aggregate of political contributions which may be made by any person, directly or indirectly, in one cal-

U. S.-Canada Defense Board To Meet Soon

Officials Asked To Recommend Men For New Posts

Hyde Park, N. Y., —The first meeting of a permanent United States-Canada board of defense was projected for early next week as President Roosevelt began today the selection of its American members.

By telephone from his home, Mr. Roosevelt asked State, War and Navy Department officials in Washington to recommend four or five persons, drawn chiefly from the armed forces, to serve on the board with an equal number of Canadians.

There was nothing to indicate whether he would call on the Army and Navy high command for the personnel or rely on subordinate officers. But he hoped to complete his choice by Thursday in preparation for the board's initial meeting at a place not yet designated.

Meanwhile, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau left his Beacon, N. Y., home today for an undisclosed destination in Canada. There was speculation in Washington that his trip might be in connection with the defense project, but here at the summer White House Presidential attaches said they had heard nothing of Morgenthau's Canadian visit.

The rapid pace of developments leading to the unprecedented strengthening of U. S. ties with a nation at war emphasized the gravity with which the chief executive viewed the problems of continental defense.

Friday night he disclosed he was meeting Canadian Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King Saturday at Ogdensburg, N. Y., to discuss "mutual problems of defense."

Their agreement to set up a board to consider the defense of North America, was announced jointly by the two chiefs of state yesterday.

In effect, it made neutral United States, for purposes of North American defense, an ally of a nation actively at war with Germany and Italy.

Clarabelle, Cat That Thought For Editor, Dies

Montgomery, Ala., —Many newspaper offices have cats, but few have been immortalized by "quotations" on the editorial pages as Clarabelle, The Montgomery Advertiser's office cat.

Since Editor Grover C. Hall gave the yellow and black creature that wandered into his office some four years ago his coffee cream, Clarabelle had been a "newspaper woman."

Editor Hall used her as a medium to express philosophical thoughts. Sunday night Clarabelle died. Old age, they said.

Editor Hall Monday pleaded with followers of Clarabelle not to give the Advertiser another cat. He affirmed:

"There is no possible substitute for Clarabelle in this office."

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES

Just at this time, when there is a great deal of discussion about the matter of controlling campaign expenditures, it is interesting to learn that there has always been considerable thought given to the proposition of the federal government paying campaign expenses for major parties. In 1907 President Theodore Roosevelt, in his annual message to Congress, stated it as his belief that the federal government should pay such costs. He stated that if this could be enacted into law "the need for collecting large sums for campaign expenses would vanish," and with that the attendant evils of such things. However, he completely ignored the smaller parties, and if his suggestion had been adopted his own Progressive party would have been left out in 1912. It will be remembered that he formed a third party to defeat Taft in that year.

Thirteen years later William C. McAdoo said the expense of the national elections should be paid for by the United States Treasury and it should be made a crime for any man to contribute a dollar to influence an election. In 1924 the Democratic platform carried a plank, embodying a suggestion originally offered by William Jennings Bryan, advocating reasonable means of publicity, at public expense to present claims of rival candidates.

In Colorado some concrete efforts have been made along this line. A law was enacted in that State in 1909 which provided that the state chairman of each political party should receive from the state treasury a sum equal to 25 cents for each vote cast in the last election for the nominee for governor of that particular party. The only other contribution permitted was that each candidate for office might give a sum not exceeding 40 per cent of the first year's salary of the office he was seeking.

Other men have worked over this problem, including the late Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, but the Colorado law is the only one which has attacked the problem directly. This law, by the way, was declared not constitutional by the state supreme court before it was ever given a trial, therefore no definite proof exists as how much a law would really work. The supreme court based its decision on the theory that the state constitution forbade the use of public money for partisan purposes.

It can really be seen that men who habitually seek office would like to find some way of making these campaigns without any personal costs. If such practice should become common in national campaigns it would inevitably work down to states and counties, and this would fasten a system on the public which could be as vicious as present customs. The entire problem simmers down to the fact that elections are too easily bought, and corrupt money is too easily secured. For a time it was believed that the various corrupt practices act might act as a check on growing campaign costs, but it was found that contributions could be too easily concealed for these acts to really curb the evil. In almost every race now in Kentucky it will be found that the listed costs of any candidate are very

GERMANY PLOTTING AT CANAL'S BACK DOOR

While President Roosevelt is negotiating with Great Britain for the acquisition of air and naval bases in the Caribbean to safeguard the Panama Canal and with Canada on Hemisphere defense, both the Canal and Hemisphere defense is being threatened at a most vital point to both. Nazi agents are busily at work in Colombia spreading an insidious form of propaganda aimed at impressing the people with Germany's armed might, with the military weakness of the United States and with the inevitability of German world conquest. At the very back door to the strategic watchway this work of Nazi agents aided by their tools and the appeasers of the Republic is particularly menacing.

The situation in Colombia is something of a paradox as pointed out by Russell Porter in a dispatch to the New York Times from Bogota. The country is the most democratic of any in Latin America. The Government is on the closest terms with the United States and is co-operating in the work of Hemisphere defense. The people for the most part are anti-Nazi. But propaganda is working and the Nazis are reported to be spending between $60,000 and $70,000 a month in their campaign in the press, on the radio and by word of mouth.

Only last summer the Government dismissed all German aviators on the Colombian air lines. Before then the Nazis dominated that vital service. They knew the topography of every inch of land including the Panama Canal zone. They were potential pilots for bombing planes when der Tag arrived on this side of the Atlantic. But that did little to safeguard the Canal.

A few months ago President Santos declared there was no fifth column in Colombia. The fifth columnists radiate from the German Embassy it is charged, from the Berlin radio station, from the German news services and they are aided by fearful and bewildered Colombians.

ITALY'S LAND GRABBING IS MACHIAVELLIAN

Reminiscent of the tactics used by Nazi Germany toward Czechoslovakia and Poland, Fascist Italy berates, vilifies and bulldozes its tiny neighbor, Greece. In fact it goes beyond the vicious Nazi technique. In the Machiavellian style it torpedoes one of Greece's two cruisers and attacks by air its small fleet of destroyers, blaming British submarines and British planes for the outrages.

The pretext for the Italian campaign against Greece is the same as the pretext for the German campaign against Czechoslovakia and Poland. The little Hellenic Kingdom is accused of mistreating the Albanian minority, the Albanians being under the so-called protection of Italy. The specific case was the murder of an obscure Albanian nationalist, whom Rome calls a patriot and Athens a bandit. That murder committed on Albanian soil and probably by Albanian is denounced by Rome not only as an atrocity, but as an attack on the Fascist State itself.

To expiate the crime, Athens is told to hand over to Italy the island of Corfu, its Adriatic coast and a corridor to the Aegean port of Soloniki. As a Mediterranean nation, declares a spokesman of Italy at the Embassy at Athens, Greece should be in Italy's hands and without any ties with Britain. Only a few days before, Premier John Metaxas broke those ties when he declared that Greece was neutral.

small. Every intelligent person knows full well that the listed cost is only a small part of the actual money spent. Some of it may be honest money, money, honestly contributed with no hope of reward, but the fact remains that corrupt money can be spent in the same concealed manner. Whether the Hatch Bill will undo some of the evils which have grown up remains to be seen. It is at least a start in the right direction.

PICKLE-LYTTON WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Pickle, South Fulton, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy, to Sydney Lytton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lytton of Union City. Nature's Danger

Signal

How much easier it is to keep well than to get well. In these strenuous times so many people have fagged out "feeling." They are tired all the time. They think they are all run down when they are more apt to be all wound up. And they do not recognize this as nature's danger signal that something is wrong.

Centry Blanks Generals With 3 Hits In Opener In Jackson, 2-0

Jim Centry was in superb form last night in Jackson, besting Jess Webb in a tight game 2 to 0. Centry allowed only three hits, all singles and was never in any particular danger. The fast ball right hander fanned eleven men, and walked four and in general kept the Generals at bay until his mates could put over the winning runs.

These winning runs were slow in coming, by the way, for old Jess Webb had a lot on the ball too, and kept the plate protected until the eighth frame. In this inning Males doubled and Ted Pawelek, who has a habit of coming through in the pinches, blasted a long triple. In the ninth frame Gello singled and Moon Mullen doubled to score the pint-sized second baseman.

The series is being continued in Jackson tonight, and one rained out game is to be played during the series, making four games to be played in three days.

CARDINALS AND DODGERS WIN SOFTBALL GAMES

The Baptist Cardinals played top form ball last night to defeat the Methodist Bulls by the score of 13 to 0. In spite of the fact that the Cardinals scored freely the game was one of the shortest games played all season.

In the second game of the evening the Methodist Dodgers managed to defeat the Christian Royals by the margin of 11 to 7. This game was closely contested all the way and the outcome was not certain until the last inning.

Tonight two fast games will be played when the Bulls meet the Crusaders in the first game and the Royals challenge the Blues in the second game.

GUN THAT SHOOTS 10,000 TIMES A MINUTE SHOWN

Los Angeles. —A compressed air gun which the inventors say will shoot 10,000 times a minute and possibly many more was demonstrated today with half-inch ball bearings as bullets.

At 100 feet the missiles pierced airplane armor plate and cut a 3-inch oak plank in two.

The gun emitted only a gentle hissing noise.

The gun muzzle was colder after the firing than before. Instrument dials indicated the air pressure was 150 pounds a square inch. The inventors said 2,000 pounds pressure would be feasible.

The inventors are William B. Hale and Durand Beam, associated with Roger J. Adams, Hollywood engineering research technician.

"Anyone who can spray plants with a hose could knock down a diving plane with this gun," Hale said.

UNEMPLOYMENT FUND OF STATE REACHES $29,000,000

Frankfort, Ky. —The Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission had on deposit in the Treasury of the United States $29,471,279.48 as of July 31, it was reported today by Executive Director Vego E. Barnes, who said that the total included interest earnings of $1,305,515.43.

Kentucky has withdrawn from the fund since January, 1939, $7,915,000.00 for payment of benefits to eligible unemployed workers. In July the commission paid out $454,118.41 in insurance benefits.

Barnes stated that wages subject to contributions for the first quarter of 1940 indicated a 1.6 percent increase in payrolls in employment covered by the Unemployment Insurance Law. In the first quarter of this year, Kentucky employers paid into the fund $1,821,846.12 a decrease of 7 percent from contributions for the corresponding quarter of 1939. Workers' contributions totaled $687,162.95, a decrease of 6 percent from the first quarter of 1939. The agency is now processing contribution reports for the second calendar quarter of 1940.

Funds collected by all state unemployment compensation agencies are deposited with the secretary of the Treasury of the United States in trust for payment of job insurance benefits. This is a requirement of the federal act. The administrative costs of the unemployment compensation agencies in the 51 jurisdictions of the United States are paid out of funds appropriated by Congress and allocated to the various agencies on a line budget basis.
