Stetson Downs Murray 6-0 In Final Game at DeLand

Defeat Is Fifth for 'Breds Against 3 Wins

A band of Hatters of Stetson University outfoight the Murray State Thoroughbreds to emerge victorious 6-0 in a football game played at Hulley Field, DeLand, Fla., November 23.

The defeat was Murray's fifth of the season against three wins. The game was fought out on the ground. Each team took to the air only six times and each team completed only one attempt.

The Kentuckians' lone drive started on their own 45-yard line in the initial period. The march of the Racehorses was unhindered until Stetson was backed to its own 8-yard marker, with first down and 8 yards for a touchdown.

Stetson Scores in Third The Stetson marker came in the third quarter when MSC fumbled and the Hatters recovered in mid-field. Smith, rabbit running Stetson back, made 17 yards. Wotring made eight and then Smith was flipped for a 4-yard loss.

The remainder of the game was a run and kick affair. In the closing minutes the 'Horses tried to stave off defeat with passes, but the Hatters had every one covered.

The victory over the Murraymen came as a climax to a 2-day Homecoming celebration for Stetson.

Summary of the game: Lineups—

Table with columns: Murray (0), Pos., Stetson (6). Lists players like Alderson, Cook, Mullins, Gunter, etc.

Scoring touchdowns: Stetson, Gannarelli. Officials: Marshall (Georgia Tech) referee, Burkhalter (Auburn) umpire, Lynch (Texas) headlinesman, Spring (Florida) field judge.

The student council will meet Monday night, December 9, according to Minnie Lee Ligon, president of the group.

Physicists Have Round-table Talk

Members of the Nathan B. Stubblefield Physics Club engaged in a round-table discussion at their regular meeting Monday night, November 25.

The discussion was conducted by Dr. Charles Hire, sponsor of the club and head of the physics department of the college, and also by Prof. Franklin Yancy, co-sponsor and instructor in the physics department.

The club was unable to have its regular program because of the musical recital given in the auditorium Monday night at 8 o'clock.

STAFF PROGRESSES RAPIDLY ON WORK FOR 1936 SHIELD

Prof. F. C. Pogue Says Yearbook is Ahead of Schedule

500 PICTURES WILL BE IN CLASS SECTIONS

The annual staff of Murray State College is making phenomenal progress on the 1935-36 Shield, Murray College's official student yearbook, Prof. Forrest C. Pogue, faculty sponsor of the publication, and Russell McCracken, editor-in-chief, announced today.

All copy for the football write-ups, class identification pages, faculty pages, and music department has been sent to the printer said Mr. Pogue. The staff expects to have Training School, building departments, and division pages in the hands of the printer by December 15.

Professor Pogue stated that all copy would be at the printer's according to schedule. The schedule calls for 50 per cent of the copy to be in by February 25, 1936, and the remainder not later than March 8.

The annual will stress informal photographs in division pages, faculty and snapshot sections. A special section will be withheld from the printer in order to bring the yearbook up to date.

Wayne, Millard, business manager, expects to launch the drive for advertisements the first of next week.

ORCHESTRA GIVES F.D.E.A. CONCERT

Prof. Price Doyle Directs Group in Program of Classical Selections

The Murray College orchestra presented a classical concert before members of the First District Education Association just prior to the address of Upton Close in the college auditorium Friday night, November 29. Prof. Price Doyle, head of the music department of Murray College, directed three numbers and an encore selection from the masters.

The program follows: "Overture to the Bartered Bride," Smetana; "Andante Cantabile," from the Fifth Symphony, Tchaikowsky; "Danse Chinoise," from Nut-Cracker Suite, Tchaikowsky; "Danse Arabe," from Nut-Cracker Suite, Tchaikowsky.

James Mason is On English Staff At Ark. A. & M.

James H. Mason, who received his A. B. degree from Murray in '34 and his M. A. degree from George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., in August of 1935 is now head of the Training School English department at Arkansas A. & M. College, Jonesboro, Ark.

At Jonesboro he is in charge of the school paper, a weekly. He also sponsors the Dramatics Club.

DR. C. C. SHERROD, ART STUDENTS ARE ON FDEA PROGRAM

Head of Tennessee College Speaks on Elementary Education

MRS. HALL DIRECTS "HANSEL AND GRETEL"

Among the inspirational talks made by speakers appearing on the FDEA program was that given by Dr. C. C. Sherrod, president of the State Teachers College at Johnson City, Tenn. Dr. Sherrod chose as his subject "Modern Trends in Elementary Education."

Emphasizing the fact that progressive teachers today are presenting their work in larger units rather than as isolated bits of information, Dr. Sherrod developed his talk by discussing four other important trends; namely, an effort to help the individual to adapt himself socially, increased activity on the part of the child, an attempt on the part of the teacher to provide for individual differences, and character building.

Some results of modern trends in education could be seen in the marionette show, Hansel and Gretel, given by junior high school students of the Training School. This was given under the direction of Mrs. Hall, director of art in the Training School, who very interestingly discussed "The Marionette as a Means of Integrating Art with Subject Matter in the Grades."

At the close of the meeting those present were invited to talk with the children concerning the making and manipulation of the marionettes.

SOCK AND BUSKIN GIVES 1-ACT PLAY

Palmer Corn Stars in Knobble Comedy Monday Morning November 25

"My Lady's Lace", a one-act comedy by Edward Knoblock, was presented by new members of the Sock and Buskin Dramatic Club of Murray State College in chapel Monday, November 25.

All the cast did well in their roles, but Palmer Corn, as Jonkheer Ian von der Bom, the superficial, fortune-hunting young fool from Amsterdam and "Paree", was especially praised in the comments of the student body.

The plot centered around the successful efforts of Meffur Antie (Alice Yates), beautiful daughter of strong-willed old Myneher Cornelis (Martha Ward), to show her father the unworthiness of Jonkheer von der Bom, to whom her father had decided to wed her.

She was aided in her attempts by her nurse, a lace-maker, Moeder Kaatje (Corinne Thurman). The setting is in the seventeenth century.

Football Banquet Will Be December 12

The annual football banquet of Murray State College will be given at Wells Hall, Thursday, December 12, from 6 to 8:30 p. m.

A dance will be given after the banquet in honor of the football squad. The Girls' Pep Club is expected to sponsor the dance. Miss Dixie Moore, Princeton, who is football queen of Murray State and is also president of the Pep Club, will attend the banquet.

Miss Ruth Sexton and R. E. Broach are in charge of the program for the banquet. The captain of next year's football team will probably be announced at the banquet, as was the case last year.

PORTFOLIO SHOWS CHRISTMAS CARDS

Artists Display Their Handicraft in Library Friday December 6

Opening their Christmas card campaign, Portfolio Club members sponsored a display of their handicraft on the first floor of the library Friday, December 6.

All of the work is original student production under the direction of Miss Margaret Woodbridge. Proceeds of the sale are to be used in payment for the Shield picture. Cards may be purchased in any number, but dozen lots would seem to be preferable to the buyer since exclusive designs are guaranteed in this way, the club officials explained.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Murray State College men's glee club, shown in the picture above, is one of the outstanding musical organizations on the campus. It regularly gives concerts and provides a means whereby the serious student of voice may have an opportunity to show his talents in small vocal ensemble work.

Ethel Barrymore Colt To Appear January 28

Ethel Barrymore Colt, daughter of Ethel Barrymore of the famous Barrymore troop of stage and screen stars, will be the feature artist in two plays to be presented by the Playgoer's League, a New York Theatrical Agency, in the Murray State College auditorium, Tuesday, January 28, 1936, according to announcement made by Dr. Charles Hire, president of the local league.

Two performances will take place on the above-mentioned date. The matinee performance will begin at 2:30, featuring "The Rivals". The evening performance will commence at 8 p. m. and will show one of the year's shows "Accent on Youth".

Last spring the Murray branch of the Playgoer's League sponsored "Her Master's Voice", and "Whistling in the Dark", both of which were tremendously popular with local audiences.

The January 28, 1936, showing will complete the series of shows put on by the League.

17 Respond to Cutchin's First Call for Basketmen

Veterans, New Men in Cage Uniforms Again

Seventeen candidates, including 8 holdovers from last year's varsity, 4 1934 Freshman lettermen, 1 former Junior College star, and 4 newcomers reported to Coach Carlisle Cutchin November 25 for the first basketball practice of the year at Murray State College. Of the 17 candidates, 10 stand six feet or over in height.

The candidates reporting for practice were: Captain James Phillips, Tolu; Ross Magruder, Kovi; Curran Howie, Barlow; Willard Carroll, and Louis Graham, Heath; and Wilford Baker, Birmingham, lettermen from last year; Joe Herndon, Paducah; and Clarence Butler, Mayfield, varsity holdovers. The 1934-35 Fresh team is represented by Ethridge McKeel, Murray; Wilms Kiefer, Henderson; Bob Noel, Somerset; and Bourke Mantle, Bardwell. Floyd "Red" Burdette, '35' luminary from Martin, Tenn., starred with the University of Tennessee Junior College last season. Riley Dennington, Melber, Ky., former varsity squader; Paul Fowler, Murray, football player; Joe Dunn, Arlington; and L. D. Ferguson, Hardin, are the newcomers to the squad.

Many of the players are former high school stars and the majority of them play any position on the team, so Coach Cutchin has not definitely decided just what position they will perform in as yet. In try-out lists, however, there were 4 centers, 8 forwards, and 5 guards listed.

As yet there have been no home games scheduled, but Coach Cutchin stated that if possible the Thoroughbreds would meet two opponents at home before Christmas with December 13 and 17 being set as tentative dates. The team will play about 20 contests during the season, with the majority being conference contests. Murray is a member of the S.I.A.A.

According to the Thoroughbred mentor, the Murrayites will not make a trip South this season, but will play teams in Eastern Kentucky in preference. When asked about prospects for the season, the coach replied: "It is impossible to predict anything on their present playing, but judging from the number of veterans we have back and the 'fancy looking' new comers, we should have a 'mighty good club'."

Walter Beasley Jr., president of the class, announced the aims, purpose and general character of the class. The class, announced the aims, purpose and general character of the class.

BAND WILL GIVE WINTER CONCERT ON DECEMBER 17

Prof. William Fox Will Direct Evening Program

PROF. FRANKLIN INGLIS, INSTRUCTOR, TO ASSIST

The annual winter concert of the 80-piece Murray State College Band, "best in the S. I. A. A.," will be given in the Murray College auditorium at 8:15 p. m., December 17. The band will be under the direction of Prof. William H. Fox, who will be assisted by Prof. Franklin P. Inglis.

The program will be opened with the overture to "Euryanthe" by the German composer, Carl Maria von Weber. As a contrast to this number, the sparkling "Rhapsodie Norvegienne," by Edvard Lalo, a nineteenth century French composer, will be presented.

Mr. Inglis, conducting a small ensemble, will for the third number, play a short number, "Fantastique," by Prof. Warren Angell, a member of the Murray College music faculty. David Guzon's setting of the "Arkansas Traveler," an old American fiddler's tune, will also be played.

Those curious to find out what other nations think of our "jazz" will do well to listen to Debussy's "Pavane for the Violin," taken from the suite for piano, "The Children's Corner."

The mythological story of Phaeton is well delineated in the tone poem of the same name by Camille Saint-Saens. For the closing number Mr. Fox and the band will play the finale from the ballet suite, "The Seasons," entitled "Autumn."

DR. CARR DELIVERS SPEECH ON "FAITH"

Dean Says Loyalty Will Counteract Pessimistic Philosophy

Dr. John W. Carr, dean and former president of Murray State College, told the students of the institution that faith in themselves, in their fellow men, in their community, and in the world in general, will counteract any tendency that the civilized races of the world may have toward "damnation and the bow-wow's."

Dr. Carr delivered his address on "Faith—A Definition and Example" at the regular Murray College chapel hour Monday morning, December 2.

"Anyone who utters a prophesy of war before a civilized body of people is simply issuing poison," Dr. Carr said. "We have begun to settle disputes by reason, law, and good fellowship," he continued, praising the work of the League of Nations and of the World Court at The Hague. The Murray College dean's comments on the peace organizations of the world were commendatory. He praised the work of the American Red Cross, saying, "God only knows how much good it has done."

Wynns Teaches at Puryear, Tenn.

Joe Palmer Wynns, Puryear, Tenn., former student of Murray State College, is now teaching the seventh and eighth grades at Puryear. Mr. Wynns was promoted to this position after teaching the first three months of the year at Hico School in the primary grades.

While attending Murray State, Mr. Wynns was a member of the Wilsonian Society. He is a graduate of Murray High School.

SOCK AND BUSKIN TO GIVE COMEDY

"Three Corned Moon" Planned by Dramatic Club for December 12

"Three Corned Moon", a 3-act comedy, will be given by the Sock and Buskin Club for the benefit of the Shield, annual publication of Murray State College, according to Prof. Forrest Pogue, sponsor. December 12, is the tentative date for the play. In case of postponement it will be presented January 9.

Those who will take part in the play are: Bill Carrier, Louisville; Mae Balbach, Waupun, Wis.; Phillips McCaslin, Murray; Stuart Jackson, Montgomery, Ala.; Alton Thacker, Murray; Katherine Bondurant, Murray; Dixie Moore, Princeton; Bob Blaeser, Paducah.

FDEA Members to Vote On Meeting Date for '36; H. L. Smith Named Head

Nations Should be Humble, Declares Neely At Vesper

With Sam Boyd Neely, Hazel, junior in Murray State College, reminding the members of the Christian Association that nations as well as individuals should be humble on Thanksgiving Day, the vesper group met Sunday evening, November 24, in the Murray College auditorium, with Miss Martha Ward presiding.

The program consisted of: "Into My Heart", sung by group; scripture reading, Cecil Gentry, Reidland; solo, "Satisfied with Jesus", Barkley Walker, Barlow. Prof. F. D. Mellen, instructor in English at Murray, pronounced the benediction.

COLLEGE CONDUCTS STUDY CENTERS IN WEST KENTUCKY

Prof. Poole, Ashcraft, Cox Teach Nine Classes

PADUCAH, PROVIDENCE, STURGIS, M'RION LISTED

The extension department of Murray State College has organized and is conducting study centers in West Kentucky for the purpose of offering college work to employed teachers and students.

Prof. C. P. Poole, instructor of education, and Prof. G. C. Ashcraft, social science instructor, both faculty members of the Murray State College, are teaching Education 117, Child Psychology and Sociology 214 at the Paducah center. Prof. J. B. Cox, graduate of this institution also is supervising study centers at Providence, Ky., offering Education 200 and 212; Sturgis, Education 212; Marion, Education 117, and 212, and also Hygiene 104.

In the Education class at Paducah, Professor Poole has 47 enrolled. They are: Mrs. Anna Thomas, Goldye B. Rosenthal, Marion Allen, Mrs. Voicie Walters McNutt, Mrs. Roland D. Hale, Harry B. Ford, H. E. Powell, C. R. Moffitt, Josephine Magruder, Katherine Warfield, Ada Rose Newport, Elizabeth Rowland, Mable C. Roberts, M. Minus, Olma Gay Stove, Fer-

Miss Thelma Drinnon, Paducah, recently elected president of principals and supervisors of KEA and supervisor of elementary education in Paducah, announced that the sectional department of the KEA would henceforth be composed of four divisions: the conference of elementary teachers; upper and intermediate sections; the primary division, of which Miss Nellie Mae Wyman, education instructor of Murray State College, is chairman and Miss Bertie Manor, instructor in the Murray Training School, is vice-chairman; and the conference of nursery and kindergarten units.

SECOND AMATEUR CONTEST IS HELD

Ruhl Is Winner of First With Accordion Solo, Given in Chapel

The second of a series of amateur musical contests, sponsored by Prof. Doyle, was given in chapel Wednesday morning, November 27. Mr. Doyle announced that the winner of the previous contest was Bud Ruhl, who played an accordion solo.

The program was opened by a piano solo by Miss Louise Griffin, who gave a rendition of "St. Louis Blues" and "Darktown Strutter's Ball."

Miss Martha Ward, Clinton, second on the program, gave two musical readings: Eugene Field's "Little Boy Blue," and "The Gate." The last feature of the program was a German band consisting of William Carrier, clarinet; Bud Ruhl, bass horn; Morris Carrier, cornet; and Allen Cash, baritone. This band, called by its members the "Hungry Five", played three German folk songs: "Hi-lee, Hi-low," "Where, Oh Where Has My Little Dog Gone?" and "Ach, du Lieber Augustine."

Manless Dance Held

The Co-ed Pep Club of Murray State College sponsored a formal manless dance Thursday evening, December 5, at Wells Hall from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The girls that were dressed as boys called for the girls at 7. There were three no-breaks in the dance. Music was furnished by Roy Darnell, pianist.

Group Favors $12.00 Per Capita For Schools

Every member of the First District Educational Association will have an opportunity to vote on the proposal to change the annual meeting date from the Friday and Saturday following Thanksgiving to the second Friday and following Saturday in October.

This action was taken Saturday morning, November 30, in the concluding FDEA session held in the college auditorium.

H. L. Smith, Paducah, was elected president of the FDEA for the next year; Jack Gardner, Bardwell, vice-president; Everett Howton, Princeton, FDEA director; C. H. Gentry, Reidland, KEA director; Secretary Patterson, of Myfield, announced that the next meeting will be held at Murray State College.

The association adopted a resolution favoring "the continuance of the new school code as it now stands for two years trial before advocating any radical changes and that we, as an association and as individual members shall see that our Senators and Representatives are informed in regard to our desires."

Endorsing the $12 per capita, the association went on record as favoring "the adoption of a financial educational policy for the state that will make for greater permanency in educational planning throughout the state. We deplore the fact that under the present setup, administrators are unable to plan constructively and wisely for the financial administration of their schools."

Resolutions of appreciation and cooperation were extended to President M. O. Wrather, to Secretary Patterson, to Supt. J. H. Richmond, to Harry W. Peters, to P. H. Hopkins, head of the KEA, to the city of Murray, and to Murray State College.

The following educators in Western Kentucky were appointed by the delegations committee to represent the FDEA in a delegation to the KEA which meets in April: Clyde Lassiter, Fulton County; Miss Vera Beckham, Hickman County; Dentis McDaniel, Hickman County; Jack Gardner, Carlisle County; Hickman Balroze, Graves County; Holland Rose, Marshall County; C. H. Arnett, Bullard County; Herbert Smith, Lyon County; E. F. Glenn, Livingston County; Edward Blackburn, Caldwell County; and C. A. Hollowell, Crittenden County.

Miss Thelma Drinnon, Paducah, recently elected president of principals and supervisors of KEA and supervisor of elementary education in Paducah, announced that the sectional department of the KEA would henceforth be composed of four divisions: the conference of elementary teachers; upper and intermediate sections; the primary division, of which Miss Nellie Mae Wyman, education instructor of Murray State College, is chairman and Miss Bertie Manor, instructor in the Murray Training School, is vice-chairman; and the conference of nursery and kindergarten units.

In his welcome address Friday morning to members of the FDEA, Dr. James H. Richmond told the assembly that it is "our definite purpose to maintain the respect which Murray State College has earned throughout the 'South'."

He told the teachers "We need to reorganize under the new school code to the end that we may give a better accounting of ourselves to the taxpayers of Kentucky."

Declaring that the president of Murray College, its faculty members and personnel, will at all times be available for problem consultations by local boards of education in this district, Dr. Richmond said: "This college belongs neither to Murray nor to Calloway County, but to the people of Western Kentucky. We must sacrifice provincial self-interest to the benefit of the greatest number of people. The greatest number of students in this section should and will come to Murray, but we will never let our numbers grow at the expense of quality of service. Our main purpose is to train well."

Gowen Speaks The Rev. T. E. Gowen, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Louisville, substituted for Dr. W. J. Hutchins, Berea College president who was suffering from a fractured hip. His address was continued.

THOUGHTLESSNESS

The thoughtlessness of people is in a large measure responsible for much of the unnecessary drudgery and unhappiness and exorbitant monetary outlay in the world today.

Approximately 20 per cent of the students at Murray State College are working their way through school. The remaining 80 per cent know this fact, but they are only subconsciously cognizant of it.

They see students working at the various tasks assigned to them, and yet they ones in that 80 per cent group continue to pile extra work upon the members of the 20 per cent group.

It is just as easy to toss paper in a waste basket as on the floor; just as easy to throw cigarette butts on the ground as around building entrances; and just as easy, and much more sanitary, to expectorate, if it is necessary, on terra firma as to clutter up sidewalks, floors, and entrances with sputum.

There is only one legitimate reason for such conduct and that is thoughtlessness. And yet students go to school to learn how to think logically and to express themselves clearly.

People who do the above mentioned things do not think, but they express themselves clearly—and the reaction to such expression is inevitably unfavorable to those who indulge in such silly actions.

Pride in his college should make each person concerned do his part toward keeping up the best possible appearance on our campus. But if this factor is not enough to make students think, let them consider the money involved. This college is a state institution and is dependent upon taxes for its existence. The parents of college students pay much of those taxes, and the more taxes a parent has to pay the less money his son or daughter in college gets to spend. Those students who are unlucky enough not to work their way through college should realize these things and act accordingly.

STOP THAT!

Anyone who attended the harp recital in the college auditorium on Monday night, November 25, will attest that there was entirely too much "outside" interference.

Time after time the program was interrupted by loud noises from the upper foyer. The interruptions ranged from heinous shrieks to deep-throated blasts from a bass horn.

If those who attended the recital had not been accustomed to like noises during campus programs before, one thunder-like report that rang through the auditorium might have resulted in a stampede for the doors.

Students and "outsiders" who contribute their time and money to programs on the Murray College campus do so with the understanding that they will get the greatest value for their expenditures. Such is not at all possible when programs are repeatedly marred by disturbances. The disturbances annoy the audiences and are very inconsiderate of the entertainers.

When seats are available on the ground floor of the college auditorium, people seldom sit in the balcony. In view of the fact that most of the disturbing noises in the past have come from the balcony, would not be reasonable to believe that the balcony could be closed to the disturbers?

Special programs on the campus at Murray College have always been of the most cultural nature. They deserve the cooperation of all.

Miss Jane Melugin has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Pre-Medic Club at Murray College. Dr. J. O. Nail is sponsor of the club and Hal McLean, Sturgis, is president.

TIRED OF IT ALL?

Whether a student comes under the classification of a "book-worm," half-time student, or whether he puts in just a small amount of his time on his studies, or is just a "college loafer," there naturally comes a time when every student—either as a group or as an individual—becomes "tired of it all" and wants to get out and wrestle with the great outside world—away from books, studies, and work.

It is just human nature that he should do this. The lion cannot be caged all the time; the captured bear is given a wide space in which to roam; and even the tamest of canary birds are set free to get some fresh air occasionally. So it is with the college student; he spends much of his time at study, recitation, and worrying about the outcome of the whole state of affairs.

As a result, he gets tired, stale, dull, and lifeless—not wanting to study, but caring only to "get by" the best way possible and get out into the great out-of-doors for refreshment.

Of course there is a remedy for this matter—although it has not been practiced to any great extent in our institution. Right here in the State of Kentucky there are many beautiful sights that could be used as refreshing helps and educational measures.

Science teaches us that travel is one of the greatest means of education—when then—do not some of our college clubs and societies plan more week-end trips into various sections of the state? For instance, leave at the close of the day's work on Friday; spend two nights "a la camp" and return to the campus Sunday afternoon!

The cost of these trips is small, the value gained is great, and the places of interest in Kentucky are numerous. Think it over—clubs and societies of Murray State, and let's get the "open air" movement under way.

STUDENT, SPARE THAT BOOK!

The recent display of library books that had been misused by college students on the large table in the lobby of the library building should cause college students to be more careful in their handling of these books. In the collection of torn and mutilated books displayed were books that required a lifetime of study to write. Some had been completely destroyed in a few minutes through carelessness of someone who probably will never write a word that will benefit the literary world.

As a remedy for this condition it has been suggested that a course in the care of books and magazines be offered. In this course the student should be taught that the red string on reserved books is not a handle by which the book is to be carried; that magazines are not placed in the reading room for persons to cut out striking pictures for notebooks and room adornment; that books should be taken care of even though they are school property, and that underlining passages, dog-eared, and mistreating of books be discontinued.

AN "OFF DAY" OR TOO MUCH TURKEY?

Upton Close's address before the fifty-first annual session of the First District Education Association might well have been entitled "The Gloomy Side of Heaven, and of Earth, and of What Have You!" His prophecy of an impending war was as foreboding as it was vague and improbable. Such a war as Mr. Close would have us believe is hovering over the universe could bear only the most fantastic title of "The War of the Animate and Inanimate Substances,"—atoms versus atoms, spirits versus spirits, with innumerable little "formless fears" as the threatening allies.

His prophecies were of the type that put "wild" ideas in the minds of little boys, and of munitions makers, and cause the merchants of death to lie down to "pleasant" dreams.

His general outlook on civilization fifty years hence was everything but entertaining. His alum-coated pills of wisdom painted a word-picture that was "gloomy". It was a discourse that one would expect to be stimulating—stimulating to a degree of apathy—a dream, not unlike the dreams that chronic sufferers of indigestion are troubled with: a dream of one whose thoughts and inspirations are at sad odds with the dreams and inspirations of many other people, about the same things. They are not dreams from the opium pipe, because opium puts forth dreams in whose themes someone is benefited.

It is only just that we give the speaker the benefit of a doubt. It is a foregone fact that everyone who makes public appearances has what has been appropriately termed "off days." Friday, November 29, 1935, might have been one of those days in the career of Upton Close.

That, or too much Thanksgiving turkey, may have prevented the speaker from talking in a language void of forecasts of damnation and the bow-wows for Mother Earth.

WE'RE NO ENGINEERS, BUT—

Now, we're no engineers, but— Before the first excavation is made on the sites of the new buildings for Murray, let the engineers and landscape artists bear in mind that the shortest distance between two points remains a straight line. Let the plans for the sidewalks in the new campus proper area be made accordingly.

Sidewalks for decorative purposes only are all right,—inconvenient as they may seem at times. The walkways leading to the new health and home management buildings must contribute beauty to "west Kentucky's most beautiful campus." More than that—the walks must be arranged so that a stay-off-the-grass sign will not be needed for students who take the shortest route to and from classes.

McLean to Head Pre-Medic Group

Hal McLean, junior, Sturgis Ky., was elected president of the Pre-Medic Club of Murray College that was organized Thursday evening, November 21, under the direction of Dr. J. O. Nail, college physician. Other officers elected were: William Crawford, Boaz, vice-president; and Miss Jane Melugin, Murray, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the club, which will meet on the first and third Thursday nights of each month, is to create a greater interest in the study of medicine.

Dr. Nail gave a talk on the requirements, tuition, and grades of the different medical schools in the United States. In his talk Dr. Nail stated, "There were approximately 120,000,000 people in the United States and there were approximately 150,000 doctors giving each doctor 800 people to care for." He also said, "Students should study medicine because they like it, and are interested in it, and not because someone wants them to."

He further stated: "Doctors do not have to practice medicine unless they want to. They may do research work, because hospital inspectors, enter into the army or navy, become county health doctors, or become doctors for insurance companies." In conclusion, Dr. Nail gave advantages of the medical profession. There were 16 members present.

Head-Wuster

Miss Norma Lenore Head, 22, daughter of G. C. Head of Vicksburg, Ky., and Walter Wuster, 22, Burns, Ky., were married at Salem, Ky., by the Rev. Calvin Black, pastor of the Salem Methodist Church, on Thanksgiving Day, November 23.

Mr. Wuster is a former student of Murray State College, and is now teaching at Mullikin, an elementary school in Livingston County. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wuster plan to enter school at Murray State during the spring semester which begins January 27.

DORM DOINGS

By Curran Howle

Virgil "Stew" Stewart, previous writer of this column, and Murray's all around campus man and member of the '33-'34 basketball team is spending the week with his friends in the dorm. "Stew" has been doing graduate work at George Peabody College at Nashville.

Murray's varsity football team returned from Deland, Fla., about 11 o'clock Monday night, November 25, 1935. Those who were awake at the time left their beds and books to greet the "M" men.

The use of the cuspidor, which has been out of use since this time last year, is returning to the "dorm" rooms.

The Varsity basketball men, trying to discontinue their smoking habits, have brought them a supply of cuspidors from the basement and have bought them a plug of tobacco and the old antiques are getting a daily workout.

Thanksgiving comes but once a year but when it comes it brings turkey or chicken with all the trimmings. The boys' dormitory, last week-end, looked about as deserted as a country church yard at 12 o'clock midnight.

The five nit-wits of the dorm, deciding that they must spend the night together, tied three beds together and climbed into them. They reported that they had a good night's sleep, from 3 to 4 in the morning.

Benny Cook and James Bogle on returning home late Tuesday night were surprised to find that their room had been on fire and a note lying on Jimmie's bed stated that Dick Royal and Louis Applegate had made charges against the firm of Cook, Bogle & Co. as follows: "$5.00 each for fighting fire, $3.00 each for damages to clothing burned in fighting fire, please remit, times are hard and every little bit helps". The source of the fire was undetermined.

"Sad" Fowler and Elmer Cochran report that their suite mates are real old fashioned "old maids". They retire every night at nine and rise at nine the next morning, classes or no classes. They should be pretty healthy young men according to the "norms" of healthy children.

All was quiet on the western front during Thanksgiving holidays. Just a few stragglers were left to greet the teachers on Friday.

Before holidays it could be heard around in the halls: "Gee, I'll be glad to get home for a rest," but when they returned they said, "Oh, murder! I'm so tired and sleepy I've just got to get to bed and get some rest."

There were approximately 300 teachers who dined in Wells Hall on Friday. This did not include students of the college, but consisted of teachers from the First District Educational Association.

Since the football boys have come back from Florida, several of the girls are flaunting souvenirs from the sunny shore of the south.

It is requested of the boys to get the girls in on time, on date nights, for three times late means a week-end campus.

Workers Form Church

Wells Hall working girls whose working hours prevent their attending church on Sunday have organized and hold church services in one of the girls' rooms at 9:30 every Sunday-morning. They have elected the following officers: Dutch Tanner, president; Eriene Brewer, vice-president; Eloise Porter, secretary-treasurer; and Esther Denson and Ruth Kesterson, song leaders.

Lancaster, Mitchell To Debate Question of Congress' Power

The advisability of giving congress the power to over-ride the supreme court by a two thirds majority of both houses will be debated by the Henry Clay Debating Club Tuesday, December 10. This is the Pi Kappa Delta question for the year. It is a question which is debated in most of the colleges of the South.

Dallas Lancaster, Dexter, will uphold the affirmative side of the question, while Virgil Mitchell, Reidland, will be on the negative. Murray orators have used the Pi Kappa Delta topics in many of their forensic clashes of previous seasons.

Chris-O-Grams

By CHRIS

Early in the spring I attempted to concoct a feature story on nicknames by which members of the faculty had been known in college, but my attempt was nipped while budding by the strange reluctance of the faculty to reveal the desired information. Some evidently shared the sentiments of Dean Edmonds' predecessor, Dean Austin, who, in answer to my request for his nickname, declared vehemently, "You'll never, never find out from me!"

Others mumbled with hurriedness that smacked of guilt that they "didn't have any." I did discover that Dr. Poret was once known as "Plato" and that Dr. Hicks and his college roommate were both named Guy and were referred to as "the guys". Mr. Horton was cast in the role of a college president in a chapel program and earned the sobriquet "Prexy". Mr. Pogue had the largest collection. His oratorical tendencies won him the appellation of "Senator", his characterization of the leading roll in the play "Charm" caused him to be called "Charm", and after his algebra teacher accused him of trying to pass the course on the strength of his personality, "Personality" Pogue was inevitable.

That was as far as I was able to get, and if some aspiring young reporter desires to take up this bit of sleuthing, I hereby donate him all copyrights.

Those of us who remember with pleasure Israel Zangwill's "Melting Pot", given very successfully several years ago at Murray State with an all-faculty cast, wonder why another faculty play has not been forthcoming. Even with Miss Bishop become Mrs. Frost and gone, there is still much histrionic talent among Murray's profs. Mr. Lowry demonstrated his ability as the hero in the "Melting Pot", "Charm" established Professor Pogue's reputation, and, although few know it, Dr. Carman once played in Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors".

Murray College not only has its Clark Gable in the person of Gene Bland, but many have commented on the amazing likeness of Sam Boyd Neely to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. Those who have seen Lindbergh declare Neely resembles the man even more than he does photographs of the famous flier. And we have a double for Laurel and Hardy, the comedy team, in the persons of Paul Antibus and Letcher Melton; Harry Basan plus a moustache would make a perfect Groucho Marx to accompany Cecil Gentry as Harpo; Sarah Cucinotta Crane is said to resemble Jean Parker of the movies; and Macon Dismukes is slightly reminiscent of Our Gang's Spanky McFarlane.

Sports editor Jimmie Bogle and Gene "Clark Gable" Bland had the edge taken off their enjoyment of Thanksgiving holidays. They were held up and robbed of Bland's car and Jimmie's $17. Tough luck, boys, and I can certainly sympathize. A burglar visited the refrigerator on the back porch of my own domicile and took—one whole pound of butter!

Talley's Tales

Murray was a lonesome place last Thursday. Everybody who didn't go to a Turkey Day football game must have stayed at home and twiddled his thumbs.

Friday was plenty lively though. Upton Close seemed to know everything bad, but none of the good things that have happened in the world—yet he offered no solution whatever for the world's troubles. If he is as smart as he tried to appear, he would probably be ruling the world instead of lecturing.

Murray State is still going places—the stadium is to be completed and two new buildings are coming right up.

Afterthoughts: Bingo has his Doctor of Music degree and is bringing several pals up for their—the cat at the library has disappeared . . . When it rains it pours! . . . Twelfth week tests, basketball, and Christmas coming right together . . . Some Murray State student said the "plasma" of the library needed sweeping—it wasn't a freshman either! . . . Pogue was much in evidence Friday—and that reminds me that I must do some work on one of his famous term papers . . . Adios and a Merry Xmas . . . and a Happy New Year to all!

Keep it all a secret!—

Did you know that Murray College is actually an institution? That Professor Pogue really isn't married? That Col. Fats Everett has a pronounced waist-line? That our piano instructor is an Angell? That Gwen Berry's weakness is for drum majors? That the 1936 Shield is to be the best yet? That Robert Rowland's hair is really blond? That Dixie Moore is not Bob Blaeser's sister? That Joe Horrell delights in sarcasm? That it's less than two weeks until Christmas holidays begin? That this column is sillier than silly?

One more thing—you said it—Merry Christmas!

Seven Ages of Woman Portrayed By Club in Regular Meeting

The seven ages of a woman, ranging from infancy to old age, were portrayed in a program given by the Household Arts Club after its regular business meeting, Tuesday, December 3, in the chapel of the administration building. Miss Jane Farr gave a short talk on "The Value of a Home Economics Clubs in College".

Preceding the program, plans were discussed for a spring fashion show, as a means of raising money to pay for a page in the "Shield", annual publication.

The club decided to have a social December 16, to be given in the home economics laboratory of the liberal arts building. Each member was requested to bring an inexpensive gift to the social.

Buy Xmas Seals

The annual sale of Xmas Seals, sponsored by the Woman's Club of Murray and Dr. J. A. Outland, county health physician, was started in Murray Friday, December 6. One half of the money collected will be used by the Murray Woman's Club to help furnish milk to undernourished school children in Calloway county as a prevention of tuberculosis. The other half will be used in the education, organization, and demonstration of tuberculosis work as a whole.

Mrs. C. S. Lowry, Murray Training School, has charge of the seals which are to be sold by the Training School children. Miss Frances Sexton and Miss Capple Beale have charge of the sales at the Murray High School.

Because of the sales of these Christmas stamps thousands of afflicted people have been reached through schools, clubs, and other channels. Since 1908 there has been a nation wide sale of seals to help combat the disease which has been in existence since 1600 years before the Christian era.

24 Murray Gridders Are Awarded Varsity "M's"

Stewart Will Lose 10 Lettermen Next Year

Twenty-four college football players were awarded varsity "M's" November 26 in recognition of their work during the season just closed. The awards, which include letters to 2 centers, 5 guards, 5 tackles, 4 ends, 4 halfbacks, 2 quarterbacks, and 2 fullbacks, were made by Head Coach Roy Stewart.

The 'Breds lose 10 of the 24 lettermen in Captain Casey Organ, guard; Alt-Capt. Joe Torrence, tackle; Joe Mullins, all S.I.A.A. guard; Eddie Curran, end; Edwin Gunter, center; Gordon Filled, guard; Sam Greenwell and Russell McCracken, quarterbacks; Houston Elder and Brady Taylor, halfbacks.

Fourteen lettermen will return to carry on for Murray State next fall along with seven who failed to letter and 16 freshman numerals. It is believed that next year will see one of the best teams in Thoroughbred grid history put onto the field.

Those awarded varsity letters were: Centers: Edwin Gunter, Paducah; and C. W. Hardin, Jellico. Guards: Capt. Casey Organ, Morganfield; Gordon Fields, Hornbeak, Tenn.; Joe Mullins, Humboldt, Tenn.; James Tolson, Murray; George Neese, Hazel. Tackles: Alt-Capt. Joe Torrence, Nashville; Benny Cook, Paducah; Herman Land, Jellico; Russell Snyder, Corbin; and Homer Wright, Hickman. Ends: Joe Herndon, Paducah; Vanard Alderson, Paducah; Wilms Keifer, Henderson; and Edwin Curran, Murray. Halfbacks: Julian Henderson, Fulton; Charles Yarbrough, Murray; Houston Elder, Marion; and Brady Taylor, Murray. Quarterbacks: Sam Greenwell, Morganfield; and Russell McCracken, Springfield, Tenn. Fullbacks: Burnette Miller, Adairville; and Paul Fowler, Murray.

CLUB OFFERS HARP RECITAL

Angelo Cortese Presents Program in Murray College Auditorium.

Angelo Cortese, announced as one of the outstanding harpists of the South, gave a recital in the auditorium of the Murray State College, Monday night, November 25, which certainly justified his reputation. From beginning to end his audience was kept in rapt silence at his marvelous technical and expressive qualities which many do not associate with the harp as it is ordinarily played.

Mr. Cortese appeared under the sponsorship of the music department of the Murray Woman's Club. His program consisted of: "Aubade," "Priere" and "La Source" by Haselmans in the first group; "Pastoral" by Lebane, "Patrouille" by Haselmans and the "Sextet" from "Lucia di Lammermoor" of Donizetti in the second group; "La Gitana" by Haselmans, "Music Box" by Poenitz, and "The Brook" of Zabel, of the third group; Debussy's "First Arabesque," "Gnomes" by Haselmans and "Spanish Dance" by Tedesco, in the fourth group. For the two encores, Mr. Cortese played the old English air, "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "In a Garden" by Schultze.

Miss Helen Sharp of Murray State College, spent the week-end in Fulton with her parents.

Starks Serves on Maintenance Staff at Murray

U. G. Starks, Murray, who was in charge of the CWA labor in the construction of the $30,000 stadium, has, since its completion, been a member of the maintenance department of Murray State College. Since the beginning of the summer semester, he has served as college carpenter.

The Murray craftsman has been closely connected with the work on Murray campus. In 1930, when the men's dormitory was being built, he was chosen as building inspector, and he worked as master craftsman on the new library building at Murray State.

In discussing the new buildings which will be constructed on the Murray campus soon, Starks declared that the health building will be located just north of the men's dormitory. It will be 273 feet long and 219 feet wide, with part of it having three stories. Besides classrooms, offices and additional gymnasiums, the building will have a 96x35 feet swimming pool.

MILLER GIVES 16 FROSH NUMERALS

Yearlings End Grid Season at Martin, Tenn., Friday November 22.

Sixteen Murray State College freshman football players were named November 26 by Coach John Miller to receive letters for the 1935 season. The Frosh Thoroughbreds closed their schedule November 22 with the University of Tennessee Juniors at Martin, Tenn.

Those named by Coach Miller to receive numerals were:

Tackles: Lewis Applegate, Paducah; Harold Mowery, Mayfield; and Kenneth Sheridan, Princeton. Ends: Gene Bland, Cairo, Ill., alternate-captain; Dale Deibert, captain, Decatur, Ill.; Melvin King, Murray. Fullbacks: Floyd Jerry Durst, Marion; and John Mitchell, Clay. Quarterback: Hugh Finley, Hickman, Ky. Guards: Sam Goodwin, Carmi, Ill.; Thomas Rayburn, Clay. Halfbacks: John Jasper, Fulton; Claude McRaven, Clinton; Bobbie Dick Nunn, Marion. Centers: Lyle Putnam, Murray; and David Sherer, Murray.

Sport Spasms

By Jimmie Bogie

Everyone seems to be present and accounted for after Thanksgiving holidays. All the Thoroughbred football players have checked in their grid togs until next spring, and Coach Cutchin's basketekers have taken over the athletic activities for the time being. The basketball team should have a far better season than did their football brethren, by the way.

There were a lot of disappointed Murray State students over the holidays as the Paducah Tornado was a little too strong for the Mayfield Redbird; Morganfield, the home of Organ and Greenwell, won over Hal McLean's Sturgis High eleven; and Elder's Marlon team lost to Princeton. Yours truly saw his old alma mater gallop over East Prairie, Mo., however, so "I ain't mad at nobody."

Say! who started all this Bowl idea, anyway? First it was the Rose Bowl in Pasadena; then the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans; the Orange Bowl in Miami; and the Cotton Bowl in Memphis. Now Paducah has got the fever and wants to start a Strawberry Bowl. Add to this the Hopkinsville idea of a Tobacco Bowl (must be a pipe), and there are too many bowls. The majority of us, however, could get along nicely on a Soup Bowl-filled to the brim with nice steaming bean soup, tomato soup, vegetable soup—or what have you?

Then there is the story of the two high school elevens in Western Kentucky who have boasting-ly claimed they could win over our Thoroughbreds. To which we hastily reply: Gentlemen! Our Freshman football team is through with "pigskinning" for the season and have taken up basketball; furthermore, if they were playing football still, they would need more than a mere scrimmage, but IF YOU REALLY FEEL SO INCLINED—perhaps Cape Girardeau would not mind coming back for another game or two.

My idea of an all-Thoroughbred-opponent football team for 1935 would include: Reed (Western) and Snell (Howard) ends; Harrison (Howard) and Pittard (Middle Tennessee) tackles; Cook (Western) and Bosarge (Millsaps) guards; Cooper (Howard) center; Smith (Stetson) quarterback; Harbin (Howard) and Bowen (Millsaps) halfbacks; Traynor (Springhill) fullback—this gives Howard 4, Western 2, Millsaps 2, Stetson, Springhill, and Middle Tennessee one each.

To convert this crew into a little better ball club, we could insert our own Mr. Joe "Moon" Mullins into one of the guard positions, replacing Bosarge of Millsaps. "Moon" was the best lineman this writer saw perform during the past season.

The Thoroughbred football team is reported to have had a swell time on their Florida trip. It sure seemed like a "deserted village" while they were away and regardless of a poor season, it seems more like home to have them back again.

Captain Jim Phillips, Thoroughbred basketek leader, gave his teammates a rousing talk the other day after practice. In his talk he stressed training to such an extent that it would not be at all surprising if the cigarette industry should suffer quite a relapse for the next three months—at least as far as 16 Murray State cagers are concerned.

Southern Methodist should hand Stanford set-back number three in as many tries at the Rose Bowl; L.S.U. will defeat any opponent picked for the Sugar Bowl; and Miami University is in for a bad day at the Orange Bowl. With the playing of these contests and a couple of others, football will be

Kerr, Celtic Star, Lectures To Players, Coaches on Basketball

John Kerr, former coach and star player of the New York Celtics, national professional basketball champions since 1914, addressed a group of coaches and players from neighboring high schools and the varsity and freshman squads in the little chapel of Murray College Monday night, December 2, on the various problems that confront coaches and players during the season. He illustrated his lecture with motion pictures of the New York Celtics, and several shots of the world's champion free-thrower in action.

After the lecture Kerr answered questions the coaches asked him on the various kinds of offenses, defenses, shots, and other problems.

Kerr formerly was associated with Duquesne University, where he was assistant coach for several years. At the present he is touring the country in the interest of standardizing the game of basketball.

Among those present for the clinic were Karl Johnston and his Brewers squad; Homer Holland and Lorenzo Lackey with the Sharpe ball club; Coach Matt Sparkman and his Benton basketekers; the Almo squad; representatives from Aurora and Kirksey High school; the Lynn Grove team; the Lowes Blue Devils; the Training School team; Murray and Hazel High representatives; and Coach Pennebaker of Golden Pond.

20 Survive First Squad Reductions by Coach Miller

Twenty members of the freshman squad survived the first cut at Murray State College, Coach Miller announced here today.

Those remaining on the squad were: Tom Atwell, Dale Deibert, Hugh Finley, Dick Whitledge, Thomas Reno, Howard Paschall, James Lowry, Howard Paschall, John Jasper, Lambert Overfield, Gene Bland, Lyle Putnam, J. R. Davis, Bill McRaven, Bryan Williams, Buron Austin, James Hurley, Woodrow Burlison, Hyland Latta, and James McDaniel.

Cutchin and Stewart To Attend S. I. A. A. Meet December 9-10

Coach Carlisle Cutchin, athletic director and Roy Stewart, varsity football coach, will represent Murray State College at the annual S.I.A.A. meeting to be held at Birmingham, Ala., December 9 and 10. The S.I.A.A. is the largest athletic association in the United States.

At the meeting they expect to complete the 1935-36 basketball schedule and to arrange a 1936 football schedule.

Coach Stewart announced the probability of a 10-game football schedule in '36. He has received propositions from Transylvania and Morehead for games to be played on this schedule. This is the first time these colleges have offered their grid teams as hay for the Thoroughbreds.

According to Coach Cutchin, the only basketball games scheduled at present are for January and February. He expressed his desire for a game before the Christmas holidays which start December 18.

practically forgotten for another year. —So watch the Thoroughbreds win the S.I.A.A. basketball championship this year.

So until January 11, 1935, when the next issue of the COLLEGE BLUES is scheduled to go to press, this scribbler wishes to bid a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you and yours.

DEIBERT, BLAND SELECTED HEADS

Frosh Choose Leaders at End of Grid Season Each Year.

Dale Deibert, end, was elected captain of the '35 freshman football squad at its last meeting of the year Monday, November 25. Gene Bland, who also plays the end position, was chosen alternate-captain.

Following the custom of the freshman squad, the captain is not elected until after the season is complete. Throughout the season, the coach appoints the captain for each game. Deibert was appointed captain for every game of the schedule.

These two 170 pound ends of Coach Miller's Yearlings, Deibert and Bland, played in every quarter of the season, and each proved to be an invaluable player. Much is expected from them next fall when they try for the varsity.

FROSH BOW 38-6 TO U. T. JUNIORS

Tennesseans Are Too Much For Miller's Crew at Martin.

The Yearlings of Murray State College were downed by the University of Tennessee Juniors by a score of 38-6 at Martin, Tenn., November 26.

The undefeated team of Martin, Tenn., outclassed and outplayed the Murray Freshmen during the entire game. The Juniors scored their first touchdown early in the first quarter of the game and again before the quarter was over. Two touchdowns were scored in the third quarter and two in the last. Murray scored in the first quarter when Mitchell made a run around left end. The extra point failed.

The Tennesseans made 20 first downs to the Murraymen's 6 and completed 12 passes while Miller's men completed only 5. This game completed the season for the Murray Freshmen. They defeated the Union eleven, tied Western, and were defeated by Middle Tennessee freshmen.

Study Centers Are Proving Successful, Says Director Smith

The extension department of Murray State College has organized study centers which have thus far been successful, according to a report received from Prof. E. H. Smith, head of the department.

Prof. J. B. Cox is teaching approximately 70 students. He teaches classes in Education 200 and Education 212 at Providence. He also teaches Education 212 at Sturgis and Marion, and at the latter place teaches in addition Education 117 and Hygiene 104.

Chemists Plan To Sponsor Dance for Saturday, Dec. 9th

Chemistry Club held its regular meeting in the chemistry lecture room Tuesday night, November 26, with Pope Johnson presiding. It was decided at this meeting that the club will sponsor a break dance which will be given Saturday night, December 9, in the men's gymnasium, according to Louis Hicks, vice-president.

Plans were also discussed for the picture in the Shield and the annual Chemistry Club banquet. Dr. E. B. Houston, who was scheduled to speak to the club, was unable to be present.

The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, December 10.

23 Frosh Report for First Basketball Drill

Coach Miller Has Much Material for Year

Twenty-three freshman basketball prospects reported to Coach

John Miller here December 2 for the first practice of the year. Prospective players, including 11 forwards, 9 guards, and 3 centers, were on hand for the first day's work which consisted of dribbling practice, fundamentals, and scrimmaging.

Those reporting for practice on the first day were: Forwards—Rudy Yancey, Dick Whitledge, Hyland Latta, Tom Atwell, Lambert Overfield, Lyle Putnam, Hastings Kenney, James McDaniel, Dale Parker, and Preston Harris. Guards—Gene Bland, Bill McRaven, James Hurley, Sam Goodman, Byron Williams, James Lowry, Howard Paschall, James Crosby, and Woodrow Burlison. Centers—Joe Reno, Benny King, and J. R. Davis.

Three more Frosh candidates reported later. These three included John Jasper, guard; Dale Deibert, center; Hugh Finley, forward; Tom Rayburn, guard, will be out in a few days. Bobbie Dick Nunn, a forward, is still recuperating from an injured leg and will not be able to report for practice until after the Christmas holidays.

Senators, Representatives To Visit Murray College

Ben Grogan Suggests Meeting for West Kentucky

Murray State College will be the gathering spot of Senators and Representatives from Western Kentucky Thursday, December 12, according to information released here today by the college. These senators and representatives, who have been holding meetings in various locations in Western Kentucky, are coming to Murray at the suggestion of Representative Ben Grogan of Murray.

Senators from the first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and eighth districts of Kentucky and representatives from Ballard and Carlisle, Caldwell, Christian, Crittenden and Livingston, Fulton and Hickman, Henderson, Hopkins, Graves, Logan, Lyon and Marshall, McCracken, McLean, Muhlenberg, Todd, Trigg, Union, and Webster Counties have been issued invitations. Of this group of representatives Duke Mayfield, Graves County; and Marion McCarthy, Webster County, are graduates of Murray State College, while W. E. McGary, Ballard and Carlisle county representative, was formerly a student of the same institution.

A special chapel assembly will be called for Thursday, December 12, replacing the regular Friday meeting, and every Senator and Representative will be introduced to the student body and faculty. The visitors will be guests of honor at a noon luncheon at Wells Hall after which they will be given the key to the college campus and invited to make themselves at home, visit classrooms, and hold any meetings they wish to while on the campus.

The Rotary Club of Murray will assist in entertaining the visiting statesmen during their stay in Murray.

Oboe Recital of Prof. Inglis Is Musical Event

Among the outstanding musical events of the fall semester at the Murray State College was the oboe recital of Prof. Franklin F. Inglis, given December 3, at the college auditorium. Mr. Inglis is the instructor of wind instruments in the college music department. He was accompanied by Prof. Warren Angell, college piano instructor.

The program was opened with the Handel "Concerto" for oboe in G minor. Mr. Inglis played this number which was strongly redolent of the concerto grosso style of the period with great finesse, in the true style of Handel. Mr. Angell's accompaniment was given with an appreciation of the difficulties of that style of music.

Perhaps the best number on the program was the Mozart "Quartet" for oboe, violin, viola and cello. In this number Mr. Inglis was assisted by Prof. William Fox, violin; Mrs. Marcia Fox, viola; and Prof. Arthur T. Meyer, cello. Mozart at his best was typified in this number. Mr. Inglis, by his transitions from register to register and from piano to forte, proved that he is truly worthy of his teacher.

In his third group Mr. Inglis gave several short numbers from the pens of various composers. The first was the first of the three Schumann "Romanzen" for oboe and piano. Truly Schumannesque in conception, it is at the same time hard on the oboist's constitution as little or no time for breathing is given. Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Hebraic Lied", in the true Russian vein, was one of the best numbers of the entire evening. As the first of the two examples of modern music for oboe, Mr. Inglis played the "Gigue" from the "Suite" for oboe and piano by Walter Piston.

As the final bit of modern music Mr. Inglis, assisted by a string quartet made up of Mr. William Fox, and Mr. Earne Connette, violins, Mrs. Marcia Fox, viola, and Mr. A. T. Meyer, cello, presented the "Quintet" of Arnold Bax for oboe and strings.

Relations Club Discusses Plan For Procedure

"Parliamentary Procedure" was the principal topic of discussion at the meeting of the International Relations Club in Prof. W. M. Caudill's room Tuesday, December 3. Mr. Caudill, geography instructor, led the discussion.

The club has been challenged to debate the Henry Clay Debate Club sometime soon on the pro and cons of the Ethiopian controversy. The International Relations group accepted the challenge.

Industrial conditions are considerably brighter for Murray and vicinity following the announcement by the Murray Chamber of Commerce that the Hosley Mill would be opened here early in January.

cerned with the higher aspects of education coupled with morality. "Education teaches one to think in terms of higher service," he said. "The teacher is the true guardian of the children. There is no substitute for work. Men of principle are the principal men."

W. P. King, secretary of the KEA declared to members of the FDEA: "You are an integral part of this great progressive age." The KEA, he said, is doing something for state and people in carrying on and advancing the cause whose principal purpose is the defeat of ignorance.

Friday afternoon, Harry W. Peters, recently elected state superintendent of public instruction, gave greetings to the teachers present and expressed the hope the FDEA would continue its splendid work. He said Murray and the community would be greatly benefited by the incoming of Dr. J. H. Richmond as president of the college here.

Miss Clara Rimmer, critic teacher of Murray Training School, presided over the elementary section of the divisional meetings. Dr. C. C. Sherrod, president of State Teachers College, Johnson City, Tenn., spoke on "Modern Trends in Elementary Education". The junior high school students of the Murray Training School presented a marionette show, and Mrs. Mary Ed McCoy Hall, college art instructor, discussed "The Marionette as a Means of Integrating Art With Subject Matter in the Grades."

O. R. Barker, Bandana, Ky., principal of the high school there, presided over the high school session, with Dr. W. S. Taylor, dean of the college of education in the University of Kentucky, delivering the main address, "Factors Affecting Choices of Occupation."

The two principal speakers of the meeting were Dr. G. Bromley Oxnam, president of De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., and Upton Close (Josef Washington Hall), noted lecturer and world traveler.

"The preservation of democracy depends upon the increase of cultured people in democratic states," declared Oxnam in an address correlating culture with the preservation of democracy. "Culture is what is left after one has forgotten everything. It is understanding, quickened and deepened; a breath of outlook; a catholicity of sympathies; refinement of taste; appreciation of beauty; a delicacy of feeling; a sense of measure; and a modesty of judgment; and a 'something of the heart'."

Upton Close painted a gloomy picture of war and the dissolution of all systems of Western Empire, a mixture of races, and Mongolian dominance over the white race, which would emerge swift upon the heels of imminent world conflict.

Prof. F. D. Mellen Addresses English Club November 26

Prof. F. D. Mellen, instructor in English and public speaking, addressed the English Club Tuesday evening, November 26, in Dr. Drennon's room. In the absence of Miss Mae Balbach, president, Vernon Smith, chairman of the program committee, took charge of the meeting.

Mr. Mellen spoke of the trends in English literature during the creative renaissance from 1800 to the middle of the sixteenth century.

Professor Mellen described Marlowe as one of the chief figures in the beginning of the renaissance and showed his influence on the writers of that period. Other important writers discussed were: Shakespeare, Milton, Keats, and Shelley and their contributions to the pastoral poets of the English Renaissance.

Les Savants

The annual initiation of Les Savants was directed by the instructor, Miss Mary Coleman, in their program of initiation on Thursday night, December 5, at 7:30 in the men's gymnasium of the liberal arts building.

ORATORIO WILL BE GIVEN BY CHORUS

Prof. Leslie Putnam Will Direct Program on Sunday, December 15.

The Murray State College chorus, directed by Prof. Leslie Putnam and Murray A. Capella Choir and a quartet of soloists will present December 15, in the college auditorium at 2:30 p. m. the oratorio, "St. John's Eve," by Frederic H. Cowen, an English composer well known for his many works in the choral field.

"St. John's Eve" was especially written for the Birmingham Festival of 1885. The soloists will be John Travis, Providence, Ky.; Linda Sue McGeehee, Mayfield, Ky.; Margaret Trevathan, Benton, Ky.; Phillis McCaslin, Murray, Ky.

The presentation of this oratorio is peculiarly appropriate since Mr. Cowen died October 6 of this year at the age of 88.

Lunch Club Meets Five Times Per Week In Mentor's Room

One of the most active clubs on the campus is the Lunch Club which meets five days a week in Professor Cutchin's room at noon. The members are a group of boys who drive from home to this institution every day.

The officers of the club who were elected for the fall semester are: John Hardeman, Sedalia, president; Charles Henry Parks, Puryear, Tenn., vice-president; Woodrow Dill, Model, Tenn., secretary-treasurer; Dallas Lancaster, Dexter, sergeant-at-arms.

The Lunch Club has 40 members, representing a 20 per cent increase over last year. Each member is given an opportunity to express his opinion on any subject he desires during the session at noon.

At the beginning of the year all freshmen who would submit to the club initiation were admitted. Those admitted were: Brown Clayton, Hazel; Dale Parker, Brandon; R. C. Stewart, Murray; and Ralph Paschall, Puryear.

Training School

Under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Ed McCoy Hall, art instructor, the home economic and art department will sponsor a Christmas project for the needy children. It will consist in gathering up all the old broken toys that can be found, repairing and mending them, and giving them to other children for Christmas. Mrs. Hall stated: "Due to the limited time between now and Christmas, the students could not do very much, but they all were very sincere and ambitious in carrying out their project."

During the FDEA program the art department of the Training School featured a marionette show, "Hansel and Gretel," which was enjoyed by all present.

The chapel program for November 25 of the Training School was conducted by Miss Alice Waters, a returned missionary from China. The program was very instructive and proved to be of a great deal of interest to all students. After her lecture, many questions were asked, which she answered with great delight and satisfaction.

The chapel program for December 6 was in charge of the Senior class. They gave to the audience the different types of present day literature. This was the first appearance of a class program this year. The students and faculty will look forward with a great deal of pleasure to the appearance of the Training School orchestra which will give a complete concert at the regular chapel hour on December 16.

Coach Thurman's Training School Colts will be in perfect condition for Friday evening, December 6, when they clash with the quintet from Aurora, for the opening game of the season. Mr. Thurman expects to put a hard fighting defensive team on the hardwood this year. He stated that the entire personnel of the team had changed from last year.

The probable lineup for Friday night's game will be Calhoun, center; Bailey and Thompson, forwards; Boggs and Turnbow guards. The 1935-36 schedule is as follows: December 6, Aurora here; December 13, Hardin, here; January 3, Golden Pond, here; January 11, Almo, here; January 17, Clinton, here; January 24, Hickman, here; January 31, Wingo, here; February 7, Hazel, there; February 14, open date; February 21, open date; and February 28, Hardin, here.

Miss Bertie Manor, first grade teacher of the Training School, was called to her home Saturday, November 30, on account of the death of a friend. She returned Tuesday morning. Mrs. W. Z. Carter had charge of the first grade during her absence.

The student report of the last six weeks were placed in their hands Wednesday, December 4.

Mrs. Casey Organ, secretary of the Training School was not at the office on last Monday on account of illness.

Murray Chiefs Go To Meeting At Louisville

Dr. J. W. Carr, dean of Murray State College, accompanied by Mrs. Carr, attended the meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which was held at the Brown Hotel in Louisville, December 2 to 6.

Mrs. Gillis Cleo Hester, registrar, and Miss Alice Keys, administrative secretary of the college, also attended the meeting.

Dr. Carr went to Louisville Tuesday for a conference with George H. Sager, Jr., state director of the PWA, concerning the building program of Murray College.

On Friday, the Council of Public Higher Education had a meeting at the Brown Hotel. Dr. Carr and Regent B. L. Trevathan, Benton, are members of this council. R. E. Broach, business manager of Murray State, and P. W. Ordway, bookkeeper, also attended the session of the Council of Public Higher Education.

Has Old Paper

"In pursuance of law, I, Martin Van Buren, President of the United States of America, do hereby declare and make known—"

The above extract is from one of the most interesting stories of a Vandalia, Ill., newspaper, dated January 18, 1839. This paper is in the hands of Kelly P. Salmon, Murray student.

The Illinois State Register, a 4-page semi-weekly paper, does not contain a single headline but only bulletins or labels of the news that is to follow. Another interesting feature of this paper may be found in the print. This print is about one-half the size of the print found in the modern newspaper.

This paper is given over to the news of the nation, state and community. The two inside pages contain the news of the Illinois State Legislature and news of the neighboring towns, while the first and last pages are filled with short bulletins of advertisements, lottery, for sale notices, and community news.

The paper was published by William Walters.

The new Memorial Baptist Church will conduct services in its partially completed building Sunday morning, December 8. The Rev. Carroll Hubbard, student of Murray State, is pastor.

'Till Next Year

Christmas Holidays begin for Murray College at the close of classes Wednesday, December 18. Classwork will be resumed January 2.

This issue of the College News is the last to be published before the holidays. The next will be dated Monday, January 5.

The staff members take this opportunity of wishing all their friends the merriest of Christmas and the Happiest of New Years!

College News Sends Three Staff Members To K. I. P. A. Meet

Keen Johnson

The College News was represented by Prather Glidewell, Christine Brown, and Edward Freeman, staff members, at the fall meeting of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association Friday and Saturday, December 7, at Bowling Green.

Glidewell is student editor of the College News and Miss Brown is managing editor. Freeman is publicity assistant.

Keen Johnson, lieutenant-governor-elect, addressed the association Friday.

Amateur Hour Held In Chapel For Third Time

The third consecutive Wednesday amateur program was presented December 4, by Prof. Price Doyle. The program was given following the announcements made by students and faculty.

Dr. Hire requested that the students who had received letters from him to follow the instructions enclosed.

"Major" Doyle then presented his amateurs. Maurice Brausa, Murray, Ky., was first on program with a baritone solo, "Stars of the Velvet Sky". The last number was a group, consisting of Josiah Abell, Paducah, Ky., Usher Abell, Paducah, Ky., and Floyd McClure, Decatur, Ill., better known as the "Red Hots". They played a medley of popular numbers and for an encore, "Sweet Sue". The instruments used were a bass fiddle, saxophone, and a guitar. "Major" Doyle did not have to ring the "Gong".

Murray's Students Still Prefer Them Dark 'n Handsome

Murray College co-eds prefer tall, dark-eyed brunettes, according to a College News "survey" made yesterday as to their "ideal man".

And brunettes again seemed to play the favorite when two out of every three boys interviewed said the ideal girl would be a winsome, curly-headed brunette.

When approached by the reporter, each student interviewed looked amazed and said "Why, I've never considered just what my ideal really is", but all did seem to have definite ideas on the subject.

Louis Hicks, secretary of the junior class, would like an outdoor type of girl with black hair and a sun-tan, and one who would make a boy forget his bashfulness.

Macon Dismukes, freshman from Paducah, favors a brunette who takes orders and never gives any, and one who won't talk to strangers.

One unusual feature of the survey was the fact that only one boy said he would want the ideal girl to be a good cook. Dalton Woodall, Kuttawa, named this as the first requisite, although she must also have a pleasing personality and be a good dancer and driver. He also said, "Size should not enter into one's selection of the one and only girl".

Wants Blondes

A platinum blonde with light blue eyes is the ideal of Henry Davis Whitfield, drum major at Murray State. She would have plenty of pep, and wouldn't be two-faced or a two-timer.

The girls seemed almost unanimous in desiring a boy who does not drink, but one who smokes. Isabell Gilbert, college cheer-leader, said "Above all, though, don't let him be a sissy".

Everyone agreed that the ideal should be considerate, peppy, likable by both boys and girls, and should have a magnetic personality and fairly good looks. They also stressed the necessity of being able to dance well.

Then there were some who don't have an ideal man. Dot McElrath, secretary of the sophomore class, said "I'm disillusioned. I haven't any ideal man".

One freshman girl said THE boy would have a nice singing voice so he could croon to her and she wouldn't have to worry about talking. And one senior said she prefers quiet, intelligent boys who have a knowledge of the classics.

When Miss Minnie Lee Ligon, junior from Farmington, was questioned, she said "I don't know enough about the subject to talk about it".

Although the girls knew most of the characteristics of their ideal man, they didn't seem to have any preference about whether he is a football player, a musician, or just an in-between type.

Invitations are being issued by the "M" Club, athletic organization of Murray State College, to the annual initiation and awarding of letters to new football players who have earned varsity letters during the 1935 football season. Nine new letter earners are being sent invitations.

ments used were a bass fiddle, saxophone, and a guitar. "Major" Doyle did not have to ring the "Gong".
