Letter To Editor

Shanghai, China
Oct. 24th, 1926
C. P. O. No. 123

Dear Editor:—
Christmas is coming before long when people feel as much like children as they ever did. I think as much about them, so I thought I would tell you a bit about my kiddies. "Chicks" and my working man's moon.

Soon after coming to China I went with a Missionary to see a idol temple. The Missionary preached to the Buddhist priests. They didn't seem impressed with the Message. The Missionary told me "There is not much hope brought three dozen soft white shirts with him and that the car held trunks of clothing, a cooler, a complete set of light housekeeping things, and also a freeseer cooler.

So on this lovely morning, he was driving steadily along a gravel-covered road. The canvas-covered car moved smoothly on its way, all ways an object of friendly interest.

Mr. Dickman was feeling very large and important. He was in the commissary department was working well for all concerned. Had he not consigned to the freeseer cooler a beautiful chicken pot pie, was that not ice in his life refrigerator?

So Hilary was singing "tra-la-tra-la-la-in," in rather a growling voice, when a snappy-looking state policeman pulled up beside him.

"Halt!" said the policeman.

"Sure enough!" retorted Mr.

The largest snake in modern times is the anaconda, an "aquatic" beast living in the swamps and rivers of the dense forests of South America. It is of a general olive-brown color, with two alternating rows of large oval black spots on its back. It is white with black spots underneath. The anaconda lives in the water, but often climbs into the trees. It feeds on birds and mammals and does not bite humans. One method is to lie submerged under the water with just its head exposed, watching for prey, or to establish itself in the branches of some tree over a hanging stream of game. As it belongs to the family, it coils around its victim, crushing it to a pulp before devouring it. It is the most ill-tempered of large boas.

THE LEDGER & TIMES

Consolidation of The Murray Ledger, The Calloway Times and The Times Herald, October 20, 1928.

Entered at the Postoffice, Murray, Ky., as second class mail matter.

Subscription Rates:—In First Congressional District and Henry and Stewart Counties, Tenn., $1.00 a year; elsewhere, $1.50.
Advertising Rates and information about Calloway county market furnished upon application.

The Ledger & Times is dedicated to fair, impartial and conscientious service to Calloway county; subservient to no master but the progress and well-being of this community and seeking patronage solely upon merit.

Better Times Ahead

It is an unusual coincidence that a month that brings wailing and gnashing of teeth in the cities over the stock market crash should, at the same time, bring the highest encouragement to the farmers interests of western Kentucky that we have had in a blue moon.

The fall has been one of the most ideal curing seasons in several years. The local tobacco market averaged better than $12.00 a hundred last year with a large quantity of the best quality leaf bought privately in the home. Consequently, there is ample reason to believe that the entire 1929 crop will average not less than $13.00 a hundred.

It is estimated that there are between twelve and fifteen million pounds in Calloway this year and if the guess on the average and the estimate on the crop are both accurate, we shall realize something like a million and a half dollars.

At the same time we are reminded of the adage "do not count your chickens before they are hatched" but there are other harbingers of better times in the year to come.

The past summer and fall were much better than usual for feed crops which bring prosperity to the county by keeping at home that money usually sent out to feedstuffs. The Murray Milk Products Company is supplying a steady income, which amounts to about $250,000 a year.

Our good prospects in one basket so that there is no room for good cheer and encouragement over the outlook for the coming twelve months.

As one local citizen pointed out a few days ago, if some twenty or twenty-five men would start buying farms, land would very soon set on a "bull" market. The low price of land is largely caused by discouragement over the past few crops and a lack of faith in the future. Another year or so, equally as favorably as 1929 would change conditions very much for the better.

Traffic Carelessness

It is rather humiliating to broadcast our civic faults to the world, but it is no secret that Murray has the poorest obeyed traffic regulation of any city in this section. In fact, we might rate fairly high in a nation-wide contest.

All of us are guilty. We drive as if there were no other one on the streets or highways but ourselves and if any one else is there most of us act as if he had no business there at all.

Last summer the local police made an effort to enforce the law and making full stops at all boulevards. For about three days the injunctions were obeyed but soon after were relegated to oblivion along with the duties and other relics of antiquity.

Every circuit court has on its docket a number of cases over auto accidents and crashes. Practically every day a minor collision on the streets of Murray. The Ledger & Times would like to see a sincere, wholehearted effort to enforce these traffic regulations before another tragedy occurs.

We don't mean to make "goats" out of a few isolated offenders but to put the works on everyone and keep it there.

Personally, we have no ambition to be tagged with the doubtful honor of living in "one of the worst traffic regulated towns in the country."

We are rapidly getting that reputation and if that be treason make the most of it.

Joppa News

There was a program given at Joppa last Friday night, a large crowd attended. It was one of the best programs that was ever given at Joppa. Every one reported a nice time.

Mrs. Ralph Norwood spent Sunday with Mrs. Ella McDaniel.

Miss Eileen Henderson and Jessie Crass spent Sunday with Miss Keith Byers.

Miss Trava Byers spent Saturday night with Mavis Byers of Hardin.

There was a musical given at Mr. Charley Lee's Saturday night. Those present were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee, Mr. Boss and family, Mrs. Mies Puckett and family, Kittle Marian, Lillie Rose, Jessie Crass, Treva Byers, Melba Crass, Eileen Henderson, Mary Rose, Eileen Henderson, Kleith Byers, and Messrs. Wayne Henderson, Cleland Byers, Euclid Brown, Paul Henderson, Lewis Mathis, Alton and Talmage Ross, Max Cross, Leon Byers, Seymour Nanne, Carmel Byers, and James Wilkins. And probably others whose names are not mentioned as all are not known by the writer. Everyone left reporting a nice time.

Nelson-Datson
Miss Jewel Nelson and Mr. Ralph Datson surprised many friends by going to Metropolis, Nov. 2, and getting married.

Mrs. Datson is the daughter of Edd Nelson, Mr. Datson the son of Henry Datson, both from Marshall county.

Though they be young, their many friends wish that they may never regret the step taken.

James Wilkins spent Saturday night with Leon Byers.

Mrs. Odek Nimmo is ill with typhoid fever, but is improving. Goodnight!

KEEP 'EM IF YOU WISH!

Postmaster General News statement that persons are under no obligation to pay for or return articles mailed them unsolicited will be a relief to many who have been imposed upon. It is a frequent practice, growing in volume, of "chance" houses to mail weeklies, handbills, socks and various other articles, including packages of Christmas cards, that have not been ordered, with a letter asking remittance of the price of return of the goods. This imposition entails the trouble of re-examining, mailing and paying postage on things not wanted. Sometimes threatening letters follow if articles are not promptly returned. Now, the Postmaster General says no one is obliged to return any such articles. They were sent unsolicited. Let the sender get them back the best way he can. —Cynthiana Democrat

Run-Down

"About seven years ago, I was all run-down, worn-out and never felt good," says Mrs. Harry Cantrill, of Cape Girardeau, Mo. "A chair would be more welcome any time than my work."

"I was so tired when I would arise in the morning. Instead of being rested, I felt terrible."

"At last, mother told me to take Cardui, and I did. After the first bottle, I could tell a difference, and when I had taken five bottles the tired feeling was all gone. I felt like a different person, thanks to Cardui. I hope that other mothers will try Cardui. I have been wonderfully benefited by it."

Farm Situation Looks Up, Local Banker Says

"Much encouragement is to be found in the agricultural situation in this section," according to a letter addressed to a number of Calloway farmers last week by the Bank of Murray in a signed message by Edd Philbeck, cashier.

An outlook for one of the most successful tobacco markets in several years, the steady streams of money being paid by the milk plant and a better demand for produce, live stock together with a larger than ordinary crop of feedstuffs this year are highly encouraging, the letter says.

The message in full follows:

"During the late summer and evidence of returning confidence on the part of the farmers of this section. We have endeavored to locate the causes of this change of sentiment."

"We talked with many farmers. We asked them questions about their own and their neighbors' business. Then we talked things over with our organization. We talked with successful business men. We tried to get a cross section of the sentiment as to the outlook for farmers and farming. Our inquiries and observations have led us to the conclusion that farming conditions are steadily improving. The outlook for the sale of farm lands is better than at any time since 1920."

"In Murray there should be sold this year, twelve million pounds of tobacco. At the satisfactory price that it has started, it should yield the farmers almost one and one half million dollars."

"Dairying is increasing rapidly and is found to be quite profitable. The milk plant is a valuable asset to this community. The farmers are paid twenty-five thousand dollars per month for their milk products."

"Produce is selling at a good price. There is a demand for hogs, cattle and sheep. A good crop of corn, hay and other feed stuffs has been made and being stored. This has been a good year for farming and the industrious farmer will be paid for his efforts."

"We are inclined to be optimistic about farm lands and farming in Calloway County and adjoining counties."

Circus Indiana To Eat At Home Thanksgiving

PARIS, Tenn., Nov. 22.—Seven Indian braves and squaws left stranded in Paris when Gentry Brothers' circus went broke here a month ago, were made happy by Sheriff Guy Wiggins received a check from the commissioner of Indian Affairs at Washington for $263 with which to pay expenses of the red men and women back to the Indian reservation at Rose Bud, S. D.

"The youngest of the braves was the only one that could speak English, but all tried in earnest fashion to express their gratitude to Sheriff Wiggins as he put them aboard the midnight train last night."

The Indians have been camped at the fair grounds since being left in Paris and the receiver appointed for the show has cared for them. They were under lease to the show and it left to the sheriff's lot to appeal to the government for funds to return them to the reservation homes.

In this wild drama of Spain, Chaney rides a great pachyderm at the head of a herd, plotting the death of a king. The new story is a vivid drama of the jungles with Chaney as a trapper of elephants, tigers and gorillas. Lupee Veles, Estelle Taylor, Lloyd Hughes and others of note are in the cast. Tom Browning both wrote and directed the new play.

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms.

The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old fashioned remedy, which you can get at 25¢ per bottle from Dale, Stoddiefield & Co.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms.

The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old fashioned remedy, which you can get at 25¢ per bottle from Dale, Stoddiefield & Co.

the same of our school. The Kentucky cardinal was chosen as our emblem because he inhabits our sylvan haunts in large numbers and is a frequent and welcome visitor to farm homes. His many striking qualities are emblematic of the ideals toward which we aim: he is gorgeously beautiful and at the same time, a sweet singer; he is diligent and industrious, fearless and brave; he is constant through the storms of winter and the heat of summer; both friendly and gay, jaunty and debonaire. The Kentucky cardinal is the worthy emblem of our aspirations.

Faxon's Hearty Helpers conducted the chapel program Thursday morning, November 21. The program follows:

Scripture reading—Trevia Colson.

The Lord's Prayer—Clark Ross.

Song—"The Spanish Cavalier"—The Society.

Reading—"Mother"—Ruth Barnett.

Violin solo—"Over the Waves"—Eddie Hale.

Vocal solo—"Carolina Moon"—Elbert Colson.

Jews Harp selection—Orval Reading—"My Alligator Grit"—Irene Folwell.

The Faxon Leaders' League, sponsored by Mrs. Martha Hule, home economics instructor, will give a chapel program soon.

Mr. Max Hart, principal of Kirksey high school, is to deliver and address at chapel on Thursday, December 5.

We are looking forward to the program by this able orator and school man.

Faxon's Hearty Helpers are working on a play "When They Build the D. & R. G." and other features of a night's entertainment for December 14. The group is being coached by Miss Audie Folwell, English instructor, who is sponsor of the club.

Faxon school will be dismissed this week and for Thanksgiving holidays.

The faculty, consisting of Mr. O. W. Barker, principal, Mr. Dennis McDaniel, Mr. Lorwin Swift, and Misses Audie Green, Martha Hule and Audie Louise Folwell, will attend the P. D. E. A. meetings to be held at the Murray State Teachers College Friday and Saturday.

Five hundred music lovers attended the Faxon Musical Festival held in the high school auditorium, Saturday evening, November 23.

"The best festival we have had" and "The best fiddlers' contest I have ever attended!" were heard on every side at the seventh session of this annual event of Faxon high school. The interest and enthusiasm of the audience were remarkable, and the good spirit manifest among the contestants was most admirable.

Nine fiddlers entered the hats, and many other guitar, banjo, mandolin, and other instrument players performed during the evening.

College Freshmen To Play Obit Saturday

A high class football game is promised at the college field Saturday afternoon with the announcement that the freshmen eleven of Murray State Teachers College will clash with the power full high school team of Obiton.

The freshmen have been doing good all this year and have gained much strength and experience since their defeat at the hands of Nashville by a narrow margin, at the opening of the season.

Obiton is reputed to have one of the best high school teams in West Tennessee and the game is expected to be a battle royal.

Attaining Happiness

Plenty comes from within, and from within. Pretty good evidence of the truth of this statement is found in the fact that a third of the people in the world are not happy. There is a chance for happiness—find it.

Lighting Freak

One of the strangest of the many "lighting" freaks which is sometimes found on the heads of a hawk. It is a tube of a glass substance projecting above the ground like a stump of a bush. Beneath the sand it is often several feet long with many branches and twigs, much like a root. It is caused by a direct stroke of lightning, the tremendous heat of which fuses the wet sand into a hollow glass tube. Another odd freak of lightning was the bolt which tore the clothes from a man's back with out killing him. His perspiration apparently had been instantly transformed into steam by the mighty electric current. The minute explosion blew off his clothing.

Old Disease

Witch, the oldest of childhood diseases, which deforms the bones, is thought by modern science to be caused by faulty nutrition and lack of sunlight. Nevertheless, records of primitive man, as well as those of the ancient Greeks and other ancient peoples, suffered as much from rickets as do young children of today. Egyptian mummies and the bones of early American Indians, as well as the primitive religions paintings, disclose the prevalence of the disease.—New York World.

One "Dahlin" to War

The Civil War revolutionized the habits of the people, writes Warren F. Spaulding in "The Boston Transcript." All their movements, mental and physical, were quickened. Having had the news of the war day by day, they never returned to the old ways. The daily newspaper was the child of the Civil War. People became accustomed to news every day. They found that other things were in the world and they must have the news about everything every day; the daily newspaper had become indispensable.

Hot Springs National Park

In 1920 the five Springs and four sections of land surrounding them were set aside in act of congress, thus making the first national reservation in the state. The park was changed from Hot Springs reservation to Hot Springs National Park. It contains 924 acres and includes Hot Springs mountain, North mountain, West mountain, Sugar Loaf mountain and Whittington Lake park. The Springs are grouped about the base of Hot Springs mountain, and their aggregate flow is 61,200 gallons a day.

Music in the Ant Hill

Perhaps it requires a stretch of the imagination to picture an ant playing the violin. Yet certain varieties of the creatures come close to doing that very thing. Nor do they have to manufacture the music-producing instrument. Nature has provided them with a finely-tuned lute fastened to the abdomen and a pleural, or sounding board, so conveniently placed that by rubbing the surface the ants can produce exceedingly delicate and high-pitched musical notes.

The Fall of Man

The serpent had been about the Fall of Man. Two farmers met at the end of the service. "Well, how did ye think of the service?" asked Tammas. "Oh, Davit replied, 'The service was a right, but I was just thinking what a difference it was to be able to see the history of the world if I'd been in Adam's place. To see Adam give a hunk for apples.'—Birmingham (England) Weekly Post.

Seventeenth of March

Once "Neah's Ark Day"

Long before the Irish taught us that March 17 was St. Patrick's day, this date was celebrated in England for a very curious reason. In the Middle Ages it was regarded as the anniversary of the day upon which Noah's Ark was specially made the occasion for the performance of the mystery play that dramatized the biblical record of the flood. In this Neah's Ark day was always the principal comic character, being depicted as the typical shrew.

The quarrels between Neah and his helmsman created great amusement for the spectators. When the ark is ready the lady stoutly refuses to go in unless she may take some of her friends along. The shrew, however, will not be so easily accommodated, and when the ark is about to start she is thrown overboard. The shrew's wife then tries to bribe her mother aboard. They find her with her gnomes in a tower and after much rough by play and broad comedy they seize her and drag her to the ark. Arrived there the shrew's gnomes and other creatures, suffered as much from rickets as do young children of today. Egyptian mummies and the bones of early American Indians, as well as the primitive religions paintings, disclose the prevalence of the disease.—New York World.

Science Finds Another

"Birthplace of Mankind"

The traditional site of the Garden of Eden as the birthplace of man is now thought to have been definitely placed. According to Dr. G. O. McHardy's latest researches, the man first appeared about 12,000 years ago, probably in Mesopotamia. The theory is based on recent excavations around Baghdad. A still earlier type of man lived about 1,200,000 years ago, when the climate was uniformly mild. They managed to survive three successive ice ages during which the glaciers descended from the north and covered a large part of the earth. During the fourth ice age, early man was driven into caves to live and become a nomad.

According to Dr. Ernest Antevy

A Swedish geologist, man began to develop into his present form only about 12,000 years ago. It was about this time that the glaciers receded from the Scandinavian peninsula. It is thought that the polar ice caps may also melt in another similar period of 12,000 years, leaving the earth in a climate of perpetual spring.

Didn't Want to Be Cared

It happened in the waiting room of the Melbourne hospital. He was a full-blooded aboriginal, an unused in the ways of white doctors. He turned to the pretty youth sitting on his left and questioned him about his condition. "I got crook (sore) and they're going to be cut out," said the youth. The aboriginal, then, turned to the laborer on his right. "What you got?" he asked. "Gutter 'ave me arm off—me wrist's poisoned." "Bright make a hole for the door," "I got it healed," he gasped as he ran.—Sydney Bulletin.

Called His Education

"Well, my good fellow, this is a great university, its name is known in every corner of the world. When you leave here you will be proud of your background. Think of it. You have had every advantage a prince can desire. Your four years have been spent in profitable pursuit of the greatest thoughts of the greatest minds the world has known. Now your time has come to choose a profession. The world is entitled to expect a lot from you. What are you going to turn your hand to?" "I've got a fine job in a pickle factory,"—London Tit-Bits.

Converted

(By Hoyt Moore in the Fulton Daily Leader)

I am always being told to print something which some person deems of more than ordinary importance, and lots of times the person will add in conclusion: "Put it on the first page, so everybody will see it. Nobody reads anything except the first page anyhow."

Being an accommodating sort of fellow I usually comply with such requests as far as possible. Sometimes it is not possible to carry out the request, for one reason or another, and then I usually get a gentle reprimand from the interested parties, which I take with good grace, and promise to do better next time.

But when I am told so often that nobody reads anything but the first page of this newspaper, I always think of that newspaper classic concerning the merchant who did not advertise. "Nobody reads the paper anyhow," the advertising expert labored day after day with this merchant, but he always made the stock reply that "nobody reads your paper." Finally the advertising man got desperate and tried to show the merchant that people did read the paper. In an inconspicuous place, on an inside page of the paper, buried as it were, between all sorts of advertising, the solicitor inserted a small ad which

"What's that cat story you have out on me?" he inquired.

"What's the matter?" queried the newspaperman.

"Matter?" the merchant snorted. "The matter is that every man, woman and child in the entire country is calling and asking

Then followed the street address. Then the advertising man came out that day, and in less than an hour the merchant who said that nobody ever read the paper was waiting in a call for the newspaper office.

"What's that cat story you have out on me?" he inquired.

"What's the matter?" queried the newspaperman.

"Matter?" the merchant snorted. "The matter is that every man, woman and child in the entire country is calling and asking

It's NET Cost That Counts

It ain't what you pay for anything that counts.

It's what you get while living. I haven't sold a policy in over 30 years that hasn't given MORE than I promised. Life insurance is not a temporary proposition with me, it's my living and my ambition to place the VERY BEST protection with my home folks that money can buy. If I can't give you more for the money I don't ask for your business.
