MURRAY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1911.

10 CENTS PER YEAR.

CLANCY MCCOOL HELD ON BOND OF $2,500.

Examining Trial Completed Before Judge Patterson Saturday. Manslaughter Charge.

At press hour McCool had not made bond, but it is said he will be able to do so Friday. Those who have consented to sign the bond are reported to be James Bell, Dr. Blalock, Barto Bailey, O. T. Foster, and Brent Hart.

Paul Patterson, son of the county judge, tells us at the last minute that Bob Shoemaker and Brent Hart made the bond.

The examining trial of Clancy McCool, charged with killing Joe Utterback Christmas eve, began Saturday and was continued over till Tuesday when it was completed in the afternoon. After hearing the evidence and argument, Judge Patterson held McCool for the crime of manslaughter, to await the action of the grand jury, and fixed his bond at $2,500.

The trial has attracted great interest, and numerous witnesses testified in the case. There were six eye witnesses to the shooting, Ed and Harry Utterback, brothers of the deceased, Otley, Kemp and Oatman Farley and George Cain, the last named being the star witness for the defense. He testified that Joe Utterback was advancing on McCool with a knife in one hand and a large bottle in the other when the shot was fired. The other witnesses contradicted this testimony and some of them swore the shooting was without any sort of provocation, excepting a previous difficulty McCool had with Ed. Marshal Brooks testified that the defendant told him he was going to "get" some of those boys when they got outside the corporate limits. This was after Ed Utterback had pushed McCool down in front of an east side restaurant, while "playing policeman."

The prosecution was represented by county attorney Erwin and Festus Acree. Phillips & Stewart and R. T. Wells appeared for the defense.

The biggest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's stomach and laxative. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle you don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.

DOINGS IN DARKTOWN AND THE AFTERMATH THEREOF.

Entertainments Saturday Night and Sunday Leave Bad Taste in Mouth of Several.

Among the entertainments of the past week was a delightful card game at the residence of Joe Hester, a colored man, below the railroad. The guests of the evening are alleged to have been Sam Grogan, John Thurman, and Joseph Warfield. A most pleasant evening was being had when the festivities were marred by a petty quarrel over a bungling effort of some one to "turn Jack from the bottom." This necessitated the presence of Marshals Nix and Brooks. The dispute will be settled by Referee Judge Simpson, who in such cases usually plays high-low-jack-gift-and-the-game, and takes the pot.

Another affair, more largely attended, was a gathering of sable brethren near the swapping ring Sunday. The seductive pleasures of pontz, commonly called "craps", was indulged in and refreshments of gin at intervals was dispensed. The receiving line was made up of Hons. Mark Anthony Brutus Scruggs, John Sherman Grear, Felix Skinner, Esq., Louis XIV. Skinner, Socrates Pittman, Wm. Penn Ford, Powell W. Clayton McKinley and Headley Boyd Miller. At an inopportune moment Constable Everett Roberts arrived on the scene. His presence was generally regretted by all, and many hurriedly left the park in disgust. Some several, however, were kind enough to accompany him to town, and he left them for the present at a house party being given this week by Jailer Wirt Alderson in the county bastille.

They Returned.

James Cole, D. L. Redden and Jack Wall have returned from Frankfort where they went to direct the legislature in matters looking to the uplift of the grand old commonwealth. Incidentally they visited the magnificent plants of Old Taylor, Old Crow and Old O. F. C., where the manufacture of ardent spirits is a revelation to those who have never seen it pouring from the "worm of the still." Jack says they have the cider mills around Pottersville skinned a cable tow's length from the shore; and it is the unanimous opinion of all that they are making it faster than it is being used.

Church Announcements.

Let me say to the good people of Martin's Chapel as I am engaged to hold a series of revival meetings in Memphis, Tenn., and it will be necessary for me to be absent on the fourth Sunday in February attending these meetings. I will preach at Martin's Chapel on next Sunday at 11 a. m. The subject of the hour will be "Christian Courage." I shall be glad to meet every member of the church. J. M. HAMIL, Pastor.

Notice.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to us by note or account come and and settle at once. We are going out of business and want you to settle now. Thanking you for past favors. CRUNK & HICHS.

Neville Williams, until recently deputy county clerk, is in Colorado, Texas, for his health. He may decide to locate at that place.

Mrs. Dan Holland and Mrs. Thomas visited in Almo last week.

FRANCIS MARION BARNETT FOLLOWS WIFE TO GRAVE.

Death of Prominent Citizen of Almo Grieves Many Relatives and Friends.

Mr. F. M. Barnett, of near Almo, died at his home Monday evening of pneumonia, at the age of about 71 years.

The announcement of his death came unexpected and was a shock to all who knew him and admired him for his many good traits of character. He was a fine neighbor and a true friend. As a follower of the "lost cause" he was a brave soldier and as a lover of the Southland his patriotism was a beacon light to his associates.

He is survived by three sons, Irvan, John and Lee, and one daughter, Mrs. Charles Morris. Mrs. W. N. Beale, of Murray, is a sister. His wife died only a few weeks ago from a burn caused by falling into a kettle of lard.

The burial took place in Murray at the City Cemetery Tuesday afternoon. Rev. J. Mc. Pool conducted the funeral services.

"Ah, well, friend Death, good friend thou art. I shall be free when thou art through. Take all there 'is - take hand and heart. There must be somewhere work to do."

Some Talk!

There is some talk to the effect that a move will be put on foot looking to changing the county seat to Hazel. We believe a large majority of the voters of the county favor a change of site. The programme has not yet been perfected but enough is known that it's under consideration and that Hazel may offer to build and hand the county a new court house on a silver platter, free of charge, or, at least make a big donation to same. While it seems too good to be true, yet stranger things have happened. - Hazel News.

ONE CERTAINTY.

Some Murray People Fully Realize it Now.

Mrs. A. V. Tutt, Murray, Ky., says: "I cannot express my gratitude for the great benefit I received from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a long time I was afflicted with kidney complaint. I had a dull pain in the small of my back which bothered me almost constantly and when stooping or lifting, sharp twinges darted through my loins. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning I was lame and sore. I tired easily, felt languid and occasionally was very nervous. Headaches and dizzy spells also bothered me, and too frequent passages of the kidney secretions caused me great annoyance. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply at Dale & Stubblefield's drug store and after I used two boxes I was entirely relieved."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is no common every day cough mixture. It is a meritorious remedy for all the troubles, some and dangerous complications resulting from cold in the head, throat, chest and lungs. Sold by all dealers.

The roids have improved considerably and many people out of county are here to-day.

SEXTON BROS. PURCHASE JOE FARLEY'S INTEREST.

Big Hardware Store Changes Hands. Mr. Farley Goes Into Ice Business.

The firm of Sexton, Farley & Co., proprietors of the big hardware store in the Gatlin building, has been dissolved, Mr. Farley retaining. Bert Sexton has bought an interest in the business and the new firm will operate under the name of Sexton Hardware Co., as they have not fully decided on the name. J. D. and Bert are popular young men and will no doubt enlarge and augment the already successful business.

Mr. Joe Farley has bought an interest in the Murray Ice Co., succeeding Mr. T. B. Wright who goes to Dalton, Ga., to engage in business. We regret to lose Mr. Wright, as he is a progressive citizen and a gentleman in every respect. All wish him continued success in his new home.

Ryan & Co. are invoicing this week, after which the firm will become incorporated. The name of the new concern has not been chosen.

TOBACCO GETS HIGH PRICES AT CLARKSVILLE.

Farmers Satisfied With Conditions Prevailing.—New Crops Coming in Rapidly.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 25.—Daily sales were held on the loose floors last week at the highest prices of the season. Tobacco is bringing splendid prices and farmers seem satisfied over prevailing quotations. The receipts of prized tobacco in the independent market were 98 hogsheads, all new crop. The sales were 7 hogsheads, old crop. The salesmen of the Dark Tobacco Growers Association have done some grading of type samples but are not yet ready to open their market. The following prices are quoted for old tobacco:

Trash $4.00 to $4.25, low lugs $4.50 to $5.00, common lugs $5.25 to $5.75, low leaf $7.00 to $7.75, common leaf $8.00 to $8.75, medium leaf $9.25 to $10.25.

Notice.

Friends and Patrons:—Since I have been appointed deputy county clerk at Lynn Grove, Ky., and received the first appointment, I thought it needless that I advertise; but since there has been a second appointment later than mine, and he has advertised in both papers, I deem it necessary that I let the people know through our papers that I am in the work to stay and that I did receive the first appointment at this place, and any work in that line that you should have done, I shall give it my best attention if entrusted to me and am ready at all times to serve you when called upon. Yours to serve, BOZ STORV, Deputy Clerk.

MANY FROM MURRAY SEE "THREE TWINS" SHOW.

Two Coaches Filled With Passengers Went to Paducah Wednesday Night.

Eighty-one tickets were sold here Wednesday evening for the special train that carried passengers to Paducah to see the "Three Twins" show, forty-six at Benton and many others along the route. The special returned at one o'clock Thursday morning. All were pleased with the performance and with the courtesies extended by the railroad people. It takes Billie Hills to work up a crowd.

The Kentucky theatre was taxed to capacity. The Paducah News-Democrat says the show was the best musical production that has been seen there this season.

Among those who went from here were: Rainey T. Wells and wife, Solon Higgins, wife and daughter; H. D. Thornton, wife and daughter; Pat Pitt and wife, Everetts Irvan and wife, Noah Gilbert and wife, Headly Gilbert and wife, Mrs. Warren Swann, Mrs. H. W. Methodist Church Notes.

The Methodist church of our town has made an exceptional financial record as was attested at the business session of the first quarterly conference on last Monday. Every connectional assessment was reported paid in full at this conference and this is a record that few if any churches have equaled. The presiding elder has challenged the entire conference on the record. If all the membership will arrange for their connectional offering at an early date, Murray will make a record that no church can surpass.

At the morning service Sunday the pastor, Rev. P. B. Jefferson, will preach from the text "Strive to enter in", Luke 13-24, the theme being "A Spiritual Failure, and Why?"

The special music is as follows: Voluntary—Prelude in A flat, T. Edwin Solly—Mrs. Joe Ryan.

Offering—Vocal Solo, selected—Miss Eula Whitnell.

Postlude in E flat, Edward M. Read—Miss Gladys Owen.

At the evening hour the theme will be "Soul Treatment", Mark 8: 34-38. The service of song will begin at 6:45.

The devotional services of the League will be held at the church on Monday night at 6:45 o'clock. A cordial welcome awaits you in all of these services.

The Womans Foreign Missionary Society of the church will entertain in a talent reception at the church on Friday night of this week. All members and friends of the congregation are invited.

CUPID'S CAPERS IN THE COUNTY OF CALLOWAY.

Romance of The Unknown correspondent Responsible for Marriage of Mrs. Hay.

Mrs. Wm. P. Hay, of north Murray, and Mr. James Lippincott, of Oxlahoma, were married last Saturday evening at the home of Wiley Utterback. Rev. J. Mc. Pool said the ceremony which made united the twain for life. This marriage was the "romance of the unknown correspondent." Mr. Lippincott put a notice, in a spirit of fun, in a matrimonial journal. In the same vein Mrs. Hay happened to answer the advertisement. A correspondence led to an exchange of photos and finally the culmination of marital vows. Mr. Lippincott comes recommended as a substantial citizen. Mrs. Hay is a highly esteemed lady. The Ledger wishes for them all the happiness imaginable.

Curt Holland and Miss Lois Smith, east of town, were recently married. Curt is a son of Esq. George Holland. Miss Smith is the daughter of Elias Smith and is popular. They are splendid young people and have many friends.

Alex Scott, of Boatwright, and Miss Jennie Walker were married Sunday. Eld. Morgan said the ceremony.

Another marriage of general interest was the union of Mr. Connie Radford and Miss Kittie Pearl Neal. Miss Neal is the daughter of Mr. James Neal and is a most attractive and amiable young girl. Mr. Radford is the son of Sam Radford, of near Kirksey, and is a splendid young man. Congratulations.

Lee Mason, county court clerk of Graves county, was married last week to Miss Minnie Robinson, of Illinois. Mr. Mason has been peeping about over in this direction, with supposed matrimonial intentions, but this move has evidently put a quietus on Madam Rumor.

MARRIAGE LICENSE (for month of January)

TUBERCULOUS CATTLE.

New York State Veterinarian Charged With Having Sold Unsound Cows.

Lexington, Ky.—Stanley Millard, the local member of the board of control of charitable institutions of this state, has gone to New York to lodge a charge against the New York state veterinarian. As purchasing agent for the board of control in the dairy department of the Kentucky sayings, Millard bought 24 Holstein-Friesian milk cows from herds in New York. A certificate of absolute soundness for each of these cows was given by the New York state veterinarian. Upon their arrival in Kentucky the cows were distributed among the sayings, where they were recently examined. It was found that 24 of the 71 were affected with tuberculosis. Millard now charges that the New York state veterinarian permitted the sale of these cows without a sufficient test and intends to thrash the matter out with New York state officials. He expects to secure from the state of New York payment for the cattle that were destroyed after it was found that they were diseased.

LICENSE FEE OF $1,000 UNFAIR

Court of Appeals Decides License for Money Lenders is Prohibitive.

Frankfort, Ky.—The judgment of the criminal division of the Jefferson county court was affirmed by the court of appeals in two cases of the city of Louisville against P. H. Pooley. The lower court held unconstitutional Sections 5a and 5b of the license and license of Louisville providing a license of $1,000 a year on the business of loaning money on chattel mortgages, assignment of salaries, etc. The court here says that, while the question of a license fee is ordinarily a question for the legislative power, this rule is subject to the limitation that the tax imposed should not amount to a prohibition of any useful or legitimate occupation. In the case at issue the court holds a $1,000 license "unreasonable, oppressive and prohibitive."

Petition for Rehearing Against Burley Tobacco Society is Filed, Contrary to First Report.

Winchester, Ky.—The Lexington report that the plaintiffs, J. E. Galskell, L. B. Cockrell, J. L. Brown, Eli Dugan, others, had failed to file their petition for a rehearing in the court of appeals against the Burley Tobacco society was erroneous, as the petition was filed by their attorneys. The syllabus of the petition recites that the action was brought by the owners of the tobacco, applied in 1906 and 1907 against the Burley Tobacco society to recover, among other things, a specific fund derived from the sale of their tobacco, known as the "buyers' fee," and amounting to $750,000, which $11,000 is in the form of cash in bank. The suit is based upon the positive allegations in the petition that the defendant trustee has wrongfully converted this money to its own use, and is insolvent.

JUNKET WAS A FAILURE.

Lexington City Fathers Say They Found Nothing New.

Lexington, Ky.—Mayor Shain and members of the city council who went on a junket to Indianapolis and Ft. Wayne as the guests of John Blair McAlfee, of the Lexington and Inter-union railway, returned. The purpose of the junket was to give the commission on the operation of the railway, which was being operated by the Lexington and Inter-union railway, a better acquaintance with brick street construction. The commission says they couldn't see the streets for the brick, and they heard nothing about brick streets that they didn't know, and they found Ft. Wayne as dark as a dungeon.

A Roman poet told of the pride one of the late Caesars took in his great whiskers. On some of the wildwood hills I have seen beards some feet long, a switch of the loose ends hanging out from under the waistcoat. Others braided the growth and tied it around the neck, while still others braided it around the waist, tying it behind like apron strings. One told me he combed and plaited his every night, and put it away into a long linen bag or nightgown, so as to keep it from getting all tangled up with his wife and his feet.—New York Press.

BEEF TRUST QUIZ BY GOVERNMENT

FEDERAL GRAND JURY CALLS FOR EMPLOYEES AND BOOKS OF THE BIG PACKERS

WATCH PLACED ON WITNESSES

National Packing Company in Concern Which Is Believed to Fix Prices to Be Closely Questioned About the Matter.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—The work of preparing the case of the government against four big meat packing concerns of this city to ascertain whether they have operated to control the prices of fresh meats was begun in the United States district court Monday before Judge K. M. Landis. A special venire of jurors appeared before Judge Landis and 23 men were chosen to compose the grand jury, that is to hear the evidence and decide whether indictments shall be returned against the packers.

The firms against which the government will proceed are Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Morris & Co. and the National Packing Co., which it is alleged is controlled by the other three for their common benefit. Early Monday deputy United States marshals were started out with more than a score of subpoenas and writs to bring before the grand jury employees and books of the concerns involved.

The government expects to prove that the National Packing Co. fixes the prices for all members of the beef trust. The same prices are bid for cattle, hogs, sheep, lamb, calves. The only bids which differ are made by representatives of small independent packers or shippers. When this source is supplied, the great bulk of the product goes to the packers at their bid.

Daily they refuse to take the full supply of cattle and hogs which amounts to not more than 60 per cent of the supply last year, but have the animals in the pens for a day or two and then buy them cheaper on the claim that they are "stale."

Coincident with this action at the yards, the packers dominate the provision pits on the Board of Trade. This power enables them to raise the prices of their products, and distribute at board of trade prices all over this country and Europe. This manipulation has destroyed public speculation in the provision pits. It is an old axiom that a speculator may be "right" on provision, yet lose all his money. The pit is "milked" the year around, and although provisions prices are higher than at any time in 40 years, no outsider has made a dollar.

The panic of two years ago hit the packers hard on the matter of getting accommodations from banks. When the high tide of prosperity returned last summer, Armour put an issue of $20,000,000 4 1/2 per cent bonds, part of a total of $50,000,000. For the first time in the history of the business, the company made a public statement of assets. Swift & Co. increased its capital stock $10,000,000, Morris & Co. put out $10,000,000 of bonds and Cudahy $2,000,000. This was done to meet any future money pinch.

The first statement of earnings given to the public by Armour & Co. last summer, when the new bond issue was offered, showed that for the preceding year the net profit applicable for dividends was $7,127,000. This was at the rate of 35 1/2 per cent on its $20,000,000 of capital stock. Swift & Co. for the year ending Oct. 1, 1929, after writing off liberal estimates for depreciation, showed net earnings of 13 1/2 per cent on its $50,000,000 of capital stock, an amount 12 1/2 per cent on its $30,000,000 capitalization the year previous. The Swift stock has been increased $40,000,000 in 10 years.

Will Be Still Higher, Armour Says.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—"You can eliminate the meat packers entirely from the situation and the high prices will remain. The prices are high by the laws of nature, and natural laws cannot be changed. The best we can do is to comply with them, increase production and prices will fall." This is the defense by J. Ogden Armour, head of Armour & Co., against the charges made by "meat strikers" that the packers are responsible for present high meat prices. "The present market for live stock is not the sort the packers would choose," he added. "We would prefer to buy cheaper and sell cheaper."

TRIES BLACK HAND METHOD

GIRL DEMANDS $250, THREATENS TO KILL BANKER.

She Admits Writing Letters and Says She "Just Had to Have the Money."

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 25.—Greenfield is seething with excitement over exposure of a "black hand" letter which implicates a young girl, Miss Opal Woodman, a daughter of Mrs. Josie Woodman.

C. H. Sheffield, cashier of the First National bank of Greenfield, received a letter ordering him to leave $250 at a certain place by 8:30 o'clock that evening, and threatened if this was not done, "the life of your son is in danger."

Mr. Sheffield immediately wrote a note in reply, stating that because of the enormity of the sum it would be impossible to get the cash that evening, and stationed guards to watch the place until 3 a. m. when they left. Later it was found that the note had been taken.

The next day Mr. Sheffield received another note which read: "No excuses of that kind so. Your own life is in danger unless you leave $250 this evening."

Mr. Sheffield wrote another note and watchers stayed near the place all night. Early in the morning Harvey Woodman, the 14-year-old son of Mrs. Josie Woodman, was seen to take the note and the men stationed there followed him home.

Suspicion for various reasons turned toward Miss Opal Woodman, the 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Woodman, and she was taken to the office of Attorney C. J. Doyle, where she made a full confession, saying that she had written the notes herself. The only reason she gave was that she "just had to have the money."

Miss Woodman comes of a good family, her mother, a widow, being in comfortable circumstances though not wealthy. As the letters were sent through the postoffice the case will be turned over to the postal authorities.

ROBBERS LEAD DOUBLE LIFE

Family Physician Believes the Thief Was Insane at the Time he Committed Crimes.

New York, Jan. 25.—Search for Vincent Vander Weyde, a prosperous young real estate broker, 30 years old, who last Tuesday disappeared from the home of his widowed mother at 415 West 115th street, ended in the Brooklyn morgue Monday morning when the robber who on that same day murdered a Brooklyn jewelry dealer and took carloads of loot when the police got him, was identified as the missing man. Dr. Charles E. Donnellon of 68 West Seventy-first street, the family physician and for years a personal friend of Vander Weyde, made the identification.

Dr. Donnellon said Vander Weyde came to his office Thursday morning and asked for something that would stop an intense pain in his head. The doctor prescribed and Vander Weyde left for downtown. That night he did not return home and his mother asked the doctor to make a search for him.

Dr. Donnellon said Vander Weyde made a comfortable income from his business, was in no financial difficulties and his home was happy. A sudden attack of insanity was the only reason the doctor gave for the attempted robbery and suicide.

DEATH OF EZRA KENDALL

Fatal Illness of "The Vinegar Buyer" Began at Los Angeles in December.

Martinsville, Ind., Jan. 25.—Ezra Kendall, widely known as humorist, actor and lecturer, is dead, at the Martinsville sanitarium of hemorrhage of the brain. Kendall's fatal illness dates from Dec. 18 when he was stricken while playing in "The Vinegar Buyer" at Los Angeles. Kendall, for more than 25 years, has been before the public. He was taken ill with inflammation of the liver in the west, and grew worse so rapidly that he was obliged to cancel his theatrical engagements.

GIRL REFUSES TO TALK OF CASE

Two Former Railroad Employees, One of Which Has Three Fingers Missing, Think Bandits Came to St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 25.—At the request of W. B. Slocum, fireman of Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 8, which was held up and robbed near Glenage, Mo., Friday night, the police at Jefferson City are holding two men, one of whom Slocum is positive was the leader of the trio of bandits.

The man answers the description of the leader of the bandits in a general way. He gave his name as James Hartley, and denied knowing anything of the robbery, saying he passed Friday night at the home of a farmer named Case at Ellis, Mo., 30 miles from the scene of the robbery.

The other man gave his name as Gilbert McPherson and said he was from Kansas City. He said he had been in St. Louis visiting two brothers, and said he was not near the scene of the robbery Friday night.

In the hope of obtaining a tangible clue to the identity of the band of train robbers, Frank Lehman, a detective in the employ of the railroad, went to Eureka Monday to question a young woman who is said to have admitted she knew one of the men.

The young woman made admissions to Deputy Constable John Schenck when questioned Saturday, but she has kept her lips tight shut, refusing to say anything further.

Although he has detailed men to question the young woman, C. C. Eames, chief of special agents of the Missouri Pacific, declared a Monday that he regarded the clue as of little importance.

"I think we know who the men are," he said, "but we are not overlooking anything in the shape of a clue."

Working on the theory that the bandits were men of railroad experience, railroad detectives are tracing the movements of several former railroad men, against whom suspicion has been directed. The fact that one of the bandits is described as having a mutilated hand is regarded as an important clue.

It is known that secret service men are looking for two former railroad employees, one of whom has three fingers missing from one hand. Inquiry is being made among railroad men in St. Louis for them.

Belief that the bandits sought refuge in St. Louis was strengthened by the finding of a boat in which it is believed they floated more than a mile down the Meramec river in the direction of St. Louis.

Confession of Sailor Clears Mystery of Pretty Girl's Death in Rochester, N. Y.

Portsmouth, N. H., Jan. 25.—James E. Hall is in irons in the brig of the receiving ship Southey at the navy yard here under double guard after his confession that he assaulted and murdered pretty seventeen-year-old Anna Schumacher in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, Rochester, N. Y., at dusk on August 8 last year. The girl had gone to the cemetery to lay flowers on her father's grave.

Hall, after two days grilling by District Attorney Widener of Rochester and Sheriff Gillette of Monroe county, N. Y., broke down. He is a nervous wreck and for fear he might commit suicide two marines are watching him constantly.

Hall said that he was a Swede and had been living in Wisconsin with his foster parents. He had been a tramp, hearing his way west on Erie trains from Chicago. On the evening of August 8, he said he had dropped off a freight outside the cemetery on the outskirts of Rochester, intending to sleep under a tree.

About 6:30 o'clock he saw a girl strolling down one of the cemetery paths. He followed her, thinking along under the trees. She laid a bouquet of flowers on a grave, and when she was returning toward the cemetery gate he approached and began chatting with her.

As they approached the river bank he spoke to her disrespectfully. She repulsed him and tried to run away. Hall then struck her with his fist. "Only to stun her," he explained. She struggled but he overpowered her.

"I dragged her body, not knowing whether she was dead or alive," Hall said, "to a sand pile near the river bank. I found a spade, dug a shallow hole in the sand and buried her. I didn't know whether she was dead or alive. I was scared."

PAULHAN TOLD TO BEAT IT

He Failed to Appear as Guest of Honor at Banquet and Letter Followed.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 25.—When Louis Paulhan was at the zenith of his career as star of the aviation meeting, the Cercle Coquelin, planned a banquet, at which the great manbird was to have been the guest of honor. He failed to appear, and the Cercle expresses its displeasure at the snub in a letter appearing Monday in a local French paper. The letter is couched in satirical language. It calls Paulhan "the bird-like capricious" and concludes:

"You are a great aviator, M. Paulhan, and a charming good fellow, but continue." Which, freely rendered, resolves itself into the popular phrase: "Beat it!"

DIVORCEE TO FORGET HIM

Mrs. Frank J. Gould Will Wed Nephew of Sugar Trust Head, and Then They'll Travel.

New York, Jan. 25.—"I am going to forget I ever was Mrs. Frank J. Gould," said the former wife of the young millionaire, in stating that she and Ralph Thomas, nephew of the sugar trust head, will be married next April.

We are going to travel and travel and travel, added Mrs. Gould. Mrs. Gould obtained a divorce from Frank J. Gould several months ago after several temporary separations.

Woman Artist Dies at Dinner.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—On the eve of her departure for the east, the complete "loss" around the world Miss Effie Santagone, an English artist, aged 25, dropped dead while at dinner in her hotel. She suffered from heart disease.

SAY MADRIZ IS FIGUREHEAD

BRUTAL RULE SAID TO CONTINUE IN NICARAGUA.

Pugilive From Country Declare That Dr. Irujo Former Minister General Is the Real Power.

Port Limon, C. R., Jan. 28.—Dr. Carlos Pamas and Honors Hildebrandt Rivas and Pablo Irujo, have just reached Managua from Managua, which place they fled to escape the persecutions of the government. They took to the mountains and underwent great privations before reaching the Costa Rican border.

They declare that Dr. Madriz, the new president of Nicaragua, is nothing more than a figurehead, and that Dr. Irujo, the former minister general, under Zelaya is the real power in the country. The political chiefs are the same now, as under Zelaya's regime. Rivas has been superceded.

A rigid censorship of the news is maintained, and nothing goes through the telegraph or cable office that has not been censored.

The government of Madriz is not that to which the people of Nicaragua looked forward. Not only in his line of conduct a continuation of that of his predecessor, but his accession to power has already been marked by blood, 15 people having been wounded, two of them seriously, by Masaya, at a meeting given up in his favor. In Granada, orders have been issued to intimidate those citizens who have not been won over to the new regime and the chief of police of that place has carried his unconstitutional proceedings to such a point as to threaten with shooting such a worthy citizen as David Arellano.

DOCTOR KILLS INCURABLE

Murder Charge Against Hungarian Who Follows Suffering Patient's Request.

Budapest, Hungary, Jan. 25.—A sensational murder charge, involving the ever intricate problem as to the right of a doctor to kill an incurable patient, is absorbing public attention here.

The accused man is Dr. Joseph Fekete of Rostog, Hungary. He admits having given poison to a patient at the latter's request.

The victim had endured appalling suffering for ten years, and his malady being without remedy and probably likely to entail many more years of torture, the doctor administered poison with the full consent of the family, who were assembled at the bedside. A nurse maid had been leaning at the door, and on her evidence Dr. Fekete found himself charged with the capital offense.

The case is without precedent in the court here, but with public opinion wholly in favor of the prisoner, it is unlikely that he will be severely punished.

DEED GIRLS TO TILLMAN

Children Transferred to Grandfather Under Law of South Carolina.—Parents Living Apart.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Benjamin R. Tillman Jr., institute suit against Senator Tillman, her father-in-law, to recover the custody of her two children now in care of Senator Tillman, Senator Tillman said Monday.

"My son and his wife have been twice separated and are now living apart. She is in South Carolina. They disagreed last February, but later were reconciled and at my suggestion went west, intending to remain a few weeks ago they again disagreed, and Mrs. Tillman left."

"Finding that his wife showed no inclination to return to him, my son decided the children to me. Under the law of South Carolina this may be done by a father for the good of his children, or by the wife in case the father is not living. That is why they are now with me."

Young Tillman is widely known and popular here. Two years ago he went to work as a miner in Southwestern Missouri. At present he is clerk to the senate committee.

Girl Beats a Highwayman

Cleveland, O., Jan. 25.—An incautious highwayman held up Miss Lula Van Fleet, teacher in Lincoln High school, Miss Van Fleet, after severely punishing him, threw him in a snow bank and jumped on him. I am not saying, however, in her agitation she left her purse in the snow, and he got it from the ground, and the robber got it after all.

New Comet Photographed.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 25.—Photographs of the new comet known to astronomers as A. 1910, were taken at the Harvard College Observatory. The comet was a conspicuous object in the western sky at sunset.

Two Quakes in St. Vincent.

Kingsdown, St. Vincent, Jan. 25.—Two sharp earthquake shocks were felt throughout the island at 2:58 o'clock Sunday afternoon. In Kingsdown the protracted shocks caused a panic, but no damage was done.

New York Lion Murder Record.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Thirty more unexplained murders was the record of New York City for the year 1929. The highest number in the first three months of the new year, according to a report just issued by the police department.

RIISING FLOODS THREATEN FRANCE

PARIS INUNDATED AND PROPER TY ALONG THE RAGING SEINE IN GRAVE DANGER.

POPULACE HELP SAVE BRIDGES

Crowds Along River See Constant Stream of Wreckage Flowing to Sea.—Much Damage to Buildings From Deep Water.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The flood situation in Paris reached a more critical stage Monday morning. The Seine has risen 9 inches since 2 o'clock, and the river now registers 24.7 feet at Pont Royal. This is the highest the river has been since 1902, when it reached 28.87 feet, the highest point recorded in the history of France except in the year 1612.

Reports indicate that one-fourth of the entire territory of France is under water.

A terrible tempest of rain and wind which broke over the city at daylight only adds to the horror of the situation and to the suffering of the poor. Although the waters of the Seine's affluents above the city still are rising rapidly, the municipal authorities were hopeful that the maximum stage of the waters will be reached by nightfall.

Wreckage Rushes Toward Sea. The river presents an awe-inspiring spectacle. A quarter of a million people in a drizzling rain through the stone parapets and quays watching the yellow tide which is crowded with driftwood, wine casks and other wreckage, rushing seaward. The water now is almost flush with the arches of the bridges.

Firemen, policemen and troops are working like mad at all the bridges disengaging blockades resulting from the floating debris, and it is hoped that all the bridges will be saved. Traffic on several of the smaller ones, however, has been stopped.

All of the cellars along the quays are filled with water. One of the chief dangers is the weakening of the foundations of the buildings along the water front by the seeping waters. The retaining walls of the foreign office are surrounded by water, and the beautiful garden in the rear of the building is a veritable lake.

The streets around the Chamber of Deputies are considered unsafe, and all traffic in these thoroughfares has been forbidden.

The tunnel between the Quai d'Orsay and the Quai d'Austerlitz stations is a rushing stream. The basement of the Palais de Justice is full of water and the first floor of the central police station is untenable.

Flood Causes "Water Famine." The partial interruption of the water supply for household purposes threatens the capital with a water famine. The police are notifying the inhabitants to boil water used for drinking purposes and thereby avoid the danger of a typhoid epidemic.

A cyclone near St. Germain broke Monday, flooding the valley as far as Malmesbury. The lower portion of the Seine de Boulogne is a blanket of water reaching to Hagastella.

BATTLE SHIPS ARE FAST

War Vessels Exceed Designed Speed in Guaymas Trials, Says Wireless Report.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Six battle ships of the American fleet at Guaymas, in command of Rear Admiral Schroeder, exceeded the designed speed during fall power steering trials last week. They averaged the Connecticut, Minnesota, Kansas, New Hampshire, Idaho and Mississippi. The information came in a wireless dispatch, undated, to Secretary Meyer and excited favorable comment among the naval officers.

Negro May Go to West Point.

New York, Jan. 25.—For the first time in more than a quarter of a century, West Point is confronted with the possibility of having to accept a negro as a cadet. Oliver R. Smith, of Cheverus, Wyo., in the Senate, has been named as the alternate for the next Wyoming senatorial vacancy at the military academy. This vacancy in the Wyoming allotment is soon to occur.

City of Providence to Be Raised.

St. Louis, Jan. 25.—The steamer City of Providence, sunk at the mouth of the river des Peres, is to be raised if the plans of Capt. William H. Thruway, owner and captain of the boat are realized. The cost of raising the boat has been estimated at about $200,000, which is according to the captain, only one-fourth the value.

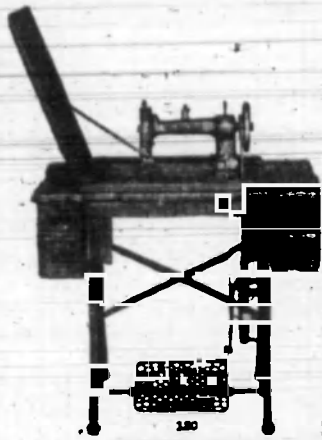

Snow Death to 15,000 Bunnes.

Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 25.—The big snow played havoc with rabbits. One man bought 400 rabbits and showed them others who came here and killed them and shipped them away. The number up to about 15. The only weapon required to kill the rabbits was a brushback or a club.

"WE NEVER SLEEP"

A. B. Beale & Son, Murray, Ky.

THE MURRAY LEDGER.

O. J. JENNINGS, EDITOR.

Entered at the postoffice at Murray, Kentucky, for transmission through the mails as second class matter.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1910

Col. Henry Thompson has retired as managing editor of the Paducah News-Democrat. The "Boss," as all newspaper men call him, is a Calloway county man, born and reared at old Wadesboro. With his brother, James P. Thompson, they made the old Paducah News a great success and a power for good. These gentlemen will ever be close to the hearts of the great common people. The elder brother is dead but not forgotten. They gave of their time, means and money toward the upbuilding of West Kentucky--they were always in the forefront of all movements tending toward the advancement of this section. We trust Col. Henry is supplied with sufficient funds to provide him with comfort in his declining years. But we doubt it, as no dishonest dollar ever touched his palm and he spurned usurious nature with scorn and contempt, and he has dispensed charity with a lavish hand. We regret to say that such characters are not appreciated as they should be in this age, when the dollar is placed above the innate worth of man. But there'll come a time.

"Uncle" Israel Putnam Tisdale, a colored man, died recently at Glasgow at the age of 120 years. Early in life, when Clay, Calhoun and Webster were children, when Napoleon Bonaparte was scarce emerged from the military school at Brienne, when Mirabeau, Washington and Robespierre were yet unknown to history, when Pitt, Fox and Burke, the great English statesmen were not yet at their zenith, before Nelson gained the glorious Wadesboro. With his brother, James P. Thompson, they made the old Paducah News a great success and a power for good. These gentlemen will ever be close to the hearts of the great common people. The elder brother is dead but not forgotten. They gave of their time, means and money toward the upbuilding of West Kentucky--they were always in the forefront of all movements tending toward the advancement of this section. We trust Col. Henry is supplied with sufficient funds to provide him with comfort in his declining years. But we doubt it, as no dishonest dollar ever touched his palm and he spurned usurious nature with scorn and contempt, and he has dispensed charity with a lavish hand. We regret to say that such characters are not appreciated as they should be in this age, when the dollar is placed above the innate worth of man. But there'll come a time.

It seems that Frank Fisher is to be postmaster of Paducah again--just as we expected. He is a whole-souled, congenial fellow, one of the make good kind. The first time we saw Frank Fisher he was a barefoot boy, tethered to the end of a cotton rope, walking between the handles of a Keep All Taps Screwed Up Avery Eight, and observing carefully the perambulations of a patient mule. The last time we saw him he was skidding down Broadway in a $3,000 limousine, with chauffeur in front and liveried footman behind, and a Joe Cannon cigar perched at an angle of forty-five degrees. We note in the public prints that he is on as familiar terms with Taft, Hitchcock, Aldrich and the other big guns, as Stanford White was with little Eva. All of which helps to maintain our theory that this is a great poor man's country, if you know how to work it.

A stranger is being held at Henderson who does not know his name, nor where he lives nor where he wants to go. About six bits worth of Henderson lick will get anybody in this fix. This 'piece' is written by a man who once passed through Henderson and who walked around awhile with Judge Bud Givens, the versatile genius who edits the paragraphs and the pay checks on the old reliable Henderson Gleaner.

Col. John D. McLeod, editor of the Hazel News, emits this spark of sentiment and romance in a late edition. As he has a wife and some seventy-five or thirty children he should be good authority on "How to Keep Peace With the Old Woman." He says: "All that most married women need to make them beings of light and jewels of gladness is more kisses from the old man and less growling about how the potatoes are fried. No woman can be an angel without a sip of nectar now and then, and the husband who fails to grant a supply of ambrosia to the sprites of muslin, who make paradise on earth a possibility, deserves to be 'hen-pecked' all his days."

The Clinton Gazette thinks "Democracy is in danger." But isn't rushing into danger Democracy's long suit? We believe it was Shakespeare's Hamlet who said:

"Though I am not splenetic and rash, Yet have I something in me (in me something) dangerous, Which let thy wisdom (wisdom) fear."

Hallie Reeves, horned and riz up to manhood in Hopkinsville, and who has gained fame as a novelist among those who are addicted to her particular kind of dope, has inflicted another book on the public, with out provocation and evidently with malice aforethought.

The new comet is easy to locate. It appears a short distance above the horizon, and a little to the south of west, at a right angle from the evening star. At present its brilliancy is somewhat obscured by the dazzling light emitted from the Kentucky legislature.

There is a lively fight on for the Federal district attorneyship of Louisville. The contestants are M. H. Thatcher, from everywhere, and J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, of the firm of Acree & Speight of Murray. Of course West Kentucky is strongly committed to Speight.

The Kentucky Senate on last Tuesday passed the first bills of the session, the most important being the Thomas bill for indeterminate sentences for convicts and the Arnett bill fixing the status for taxation of stock in foreign corporations.

Friedman, Keiler & Co., Old Taylor, et al. have four majority in the Kentucky Senate and a presidential officer who is right on the spot. The Clinton Gazette will please keep its salve corked up until it sees further.

The paramount issue among peanut politicians--who will be master commissioner in Calloway. A surprise is in store for those interested.

Arthur Goebel, brother of the late Wm. Goebel, died in Phoenix, Arizona, of consumption. He left a large estate.

Dr. Nuttall, who recently had charge of the Feeble Minded Institute, is reported to be nutty.

Technical Training What Is Wrong with Our System

By PROF. CHAS. P. PARK

WE HAVE HEARD and read a great deal of late about industrial education. But what do we mean by "industrial education?" There seems to be much confusion in the understanding and use of this term. Under this heading one writer may include schools of drawing, while another may mean classes in shop arithmetic or courses in textile processes or schools of manual training or trade schools, etc. But I think we should agree that the term ought to mean schools directed to prepare young men or women for trades or to help men already in the trades to understand better their particular line of work and to become more efficient. That there is great need of such schools is appreciated by all who are connected with the management of mechanical industries.

Among the controlling difficulties in the deplorable fact that the majority of the working people regard with indifference everything except that which immediately concerns their own interests and there is no power to which appeal can be made to compel these people to attend any educational institution if they do not desire to do so.

We have heard much of late years of captains of industry; but the efficiency of the industrial art depends, in a very large measure, and probably to a constantly increasing extent, upon the capacity of the non-commissioned officers; in other words, upon the foremen and the superintendents. It is for these men that the school for industrial foremen was started six years ago by the trustees of the Lowell institute under the auspices of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. These foremen receive the same education to-day as the ordinary mechanic and it was thought that it would be a great benefit to the community at large if they could have some training in applied science. To attempt, however, to train young men separately for the position of foremen would be, under the existing organization of labor, an impossibility, as the foremen must continue for the present, at least, to be promoted from among the workmen. Therefore, to give them such an education as is desired, it is necessary to train men who are already working at their trade.

The country is well supplied with technological schools of college rank, which are turning out technical engineers; but there is great need of technological schools still, of high grade, whose function shall be to train foremen and superintendents, or to fit men to occupy such positions. There are many occupations in which advancement is dependent upon knowledge of general scientific principles as well as upon skill.

Physical Culture for Young Women

By WELLS ANDREWS, M. D.

Of great importance to the young girl is a thorough knowledge of the special hygiene and physical culture demanded in her own case. Many of the customary modes of dress and habit and occupation result in physiological evils. Young women should know that there are acts of omission and commission which predispose to infirmities and disorders of various kinds.

It is unwise to omit plenty of bodily exercise in the open air as well as exercise of the intellect in various judiciously selected studies.

The increasing exigencies of modern life and the desire to render girls accomplished at all hazards have originated a system of forced mental training, which greatly increases the irritability of the brain. At the same time only sedentary amusements are indulged in, to the exclusion of active exercise out of doors.

The slow but powerful influence of music and dancing on the nervous system are quite overlooked. The excessive attention given to music in female education is, moreover, indirectly harmful by not leaving sufficient time for other and more serviceable employment of mind and body.

The consequence of all this is that young girls too often return from school to their homes hysterical and capricious, weak in mind and habits and prone to paroxysms upon any mental excitement.

At dancing assemblies the tightly laced stays, the exposed chest and thin draperies furnish a combination of influences the combined effects of which no constitution could withstand.

To these is added the breathing for hours of a heated and vitiated atmosphere, and, after this, of passing, when relaxed and exhausted, into the cold currents of a frosty night air.

So far from wondering that many suffer because of these imprudences, our surprise should be that any escape.

A high school of aerial navigation is—French at I have been organized on this basis: All former students of the polytechnic schools, the schools of bridges and highways and mining, engineering and of rural construction are admitted as students of course. Graduates of science in general physics and mechanics are admitted upon examination in the drawing of machines. Other places are awarded upon open competition.

The course of instruction comprises a scholastic year. The principal courses are in all branches of aerial navigation, aerostatics and aviation, and about motors, especially gas motors. The annual lectures about the various topics are arranged in such a way that the students will be kept posted about all evolutions in aerial navigation and of the sciences relating to it. In addition to this instruction the student shall execute practical work relative to aerial navigation and to motors. To students who have completed all the courses as well as the technical work and have successfully passed the examinations the diploma of engineer of aerial navigation shall be awarded.

Besides the regular students any person may attend one or several lectures without participating in the technical work and without being entitled to examinations or to the award of the diploma. The regular students pay $200 tuition fee. France was the first country to organize aerial navigation and it is the first to found a higher course of instruction in aerial navigation. The University of London has also arranged for a special course in aeronautics.

A Woman's Way

By Mrs. Stanley Wrench

There was a high, red brick wall, moss covered and fern grown, that shut in the garden, but just where the first glint of morning sun came up from the moorland there were two great gates of hammered iron, light as air, wrought into fantastic shapes of flowers and scrolls and through these the villagers peeped sometimes at the little gray ladies and their garden.

The inmates of that great, lonely house were two. Miss Lavonia was old, but long, long ago they said the O'Shea came back here with this daughter, then a lovely maiden, and she carried in her arms a crying baby not her own. The other sister, more beautiful than the dawn, said the peasant folk, had died in some far-off land, her father cursing her as she died, but he had hidden the other—carry this child of shame home to the gray house in the quiet garden. Now, when Miss Lavonia's cheeks were puckered and wrinkled like boiled milk, when her hair was as white as the daisy mist, Miss Bettina's cheeks were exquisitely fair, like the heart of that wonder flower, the rose; her eyes were like forget-me-nots and her hair rivaled the sunbeams that chased the brown bees through the golden bracken.

Small wonder was it that Michael Bradley thought this: small wonder was it that the soft-faced artist-poet grew to look for her coming over the heather-scented moor as morning by morning she sped forth to her poor pensioners, for ill-born though the old O'Shea had called his grandchild, Bettina had the open hand of her ancestors and with Miss Lavonia's purse to fall back upon she dispensed freely.

It was one autumn morning when he told her the truth and likewise read an answering truth in those glorious eyes of hers. She loved him. Then suddenly his own eyes grew dim. It was so true amongst the fast-fading heather that the voices of the past came thrilling and thrilling away came shrill and clear. "Why do you sigh?" she asked him, quickly, watching his face with her eyes aglow. "Are you sorry at ready that you have told me you love me?"

A mist dimmed the man's eyes as he bent to kiss her and his voice was hoarse as he bade her "Nay," but in his heart Michael Bradley knew that he lied. Here between the high moorland and the sea a night's struggle was going on in a man's heart and all that day he dwelt in the Valley of Indiscretion; it was when evening came that his better self won.

In the long narrow drawing room, where the walls were pale rose and the carpet a faint pearly gray, were chairs of bone-colored wood were upholstered with rusted velvet and a scent of lavender lingered in the Rose du Barry curtains; Miss Lavonia faced him primly, her long, thin, white fingers clasped closely lest they should show him how she trembled, the folds of her gray silk gown falling stiffly over her little high-heeled shoes.

"You say you love me," she murmured an hour later, as she wrote to Michael Bradley that she would not see him any more. "God forgive me! He loves her, she loves him. I must not keep them apart. It may not be right, but I fear it is really a woman's way."

THE WONDERBERRY OR SUNBERRY

Has Proved a Great Success—Thousands Say It's the Best Thing They Ever Grew.

The Wonderberry or Sunberry, the marvelous garden fruit originated by Luther Burbank, and introduced by John Lewis Childs, the well known seedman of Floral Park, N. Y., has proved a great success all over the country. Thousands of people say it is the best thing they ever grew.

Mr. John Burroughs, the well-known author, Naturalist and bosom friend of Theodore Roosevelt, says it is the most delicious piece of berry he ever tasted, and a marvelous cropper.

A Director of the New York Agricultural Experiment Station says it fruits abundantly even in pure sand. In the short season of North western Canada it is a godsend, and fruits long after frost has killed most garden truck.

It is Hall, Wichita, Kan., says thirty people grow it there last season with perfect satisfaction.

K. S. Enoch, Hammond, La., says it yields $250 worth of fruit per acre with him. Mrs. J. H. Powers, 1732 Kenwood avenue, Chicago, raised enough berries on a space 120 feet to supply herself and friends.

J. P. Swallow, Kenton, Ohio, says it is equal for all purposes to any other fruit. Rev. H. H. Sheldon, Pacific Grove, Cal., says he likes the berries served in any and every way.

W. T. Davis, Enon, Va., says it is true to description in every way, and fruits in three months from seed.

Judge Morrow, of U. S. Circuit Court, says the Wonderberry is simply delicious raw or cooked.

Mr. Childs exhibited one plant five months old bearing 10,375 berries which measured about eight quarts.

Mrs. Harlow Vincent, Hayden, New Mexico, says it stands the long, hard droughts of that climate and fruits abundantly all summer.

It is certainly the most satisfactory garden fruit and the greatest novelty ever introduced.

Saving Time.

The family was to leave on the two o'clock train from Broad street station, so the mother was all in a hurry as she hurried the children in a certain West Philadelphia home.

Now, children, get everything ready before luncheon," she said. "Don't leave everything until the last minute."

And the children said they wouldn't. Luncheon ended, they hurried into their wraps and started. In the hall the mother said:

"Edward, you didn't brush your teeth."

"Yes, ma'am, I did."

"But you couldn't," she said, "you didn't have time. Why you just got up from the table."

"I know that," said Edward, "but we were in such a hurry I brushed them before I ate."—Philadelphia Times.

President Taft on Discontent.

President Taft, is one of his addresses to the farmers of Florence, N. C., told a story about discontent.

"No man," he said, "can really understand chronic discontent after having eaten one of those famous pine apples of North Carolina. Chronic discontent does, however, exist. Now and then we find a case or two among farmers when the weather goes wrong."

"Ah, yes, Joseph, you have cause to complain, a lawyer said to a farmer. The harvest has been very bad, no doubt of that. But you should remember that Providence cares for all, and even the birds of the air are provided for."

"Yes," said the discontented farmer, "so they are—off my potatoes!"—Washington Post.

The Ruling Passion.

An old Irishman, in describing a "game but not forgotten," said: "This was the foina man entirely and he'd be living now. If it wasn't for the shark. He had a dog and sure that beast would bring him home from the saloon when he was on a binge and liquor he couldn't see a sheep before him. And when he died—'tis the truth I'm speaking—his ghost walked at night, both back and forth, betwixt the saloon and his house, and he'd say 'so drunk his dog knew him!'"

INSOMNIA Leads to Madness, if Not Remedied in Time.

"Experiments satisfied me, some years ago," writes a Topeka woman, "that coffee was the direct cause of the insomnia from which I suffered terribly, as well as the extreme nervousness and acute dyspepsia which made life a most painful thing for me."

"I had been a coffee drinker since childhood, and did not like to think that the beverage was doing me all this harm. But it was, and the time came when I had to face the fact, and protect myself. I therefore gave up coffee abruptly and a absolutely, and adopted Postum as my hot drink at meals."

"I began to note improvement in my condition very soon after I took on Postum. The change proceeded gradually, but surely, and it was a matter of only a few weeks before I found myself entirely relieved of the nervousness passed away, my digestive apparatus was restored to normal efficiency, and I began to sleep, restfully and peacefully."

"These happy conditions have continued during all of the 3 years, and I am able to say that I owe them entirely to Postum. For that I begin to drink it I want to use words."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in plain "There's a Reason" how Postum came to be so good for you. It is a book that will help you to get some "new" ideas through common sense to be new, and will permit this grab

BURDEN IS ON

WHERE BRUNT OF MENTAL EXTRAVAGANCE

Monopolists. Made Millionaire Publican Party's Tariff Pay Nothing Like Share of Taxes!

Recklessness in expense, suitable for the ruin of happy home Extravagance that grows rapidly ethically or in business.

This is likewise true of estate or a nation. The increase of expenditures is due to the extravagance in high places in the present scale of national something to set position and increase the of those who regard the enemies.

Not so many years ago can people regarded with along the extravagance of $75,000 a year for salary of the United States of the White House. They spend annually $28,420 in purpose.

The presidential garage cost $40,000 a year, or more a day, to maintain. The supplies for the table at a cost of $9,000 most $25 a day. How expenditures strike the street who earns perhaps a day, and must support two or three children on income?

Hundreds of eastern have been made by the high tariff which gives the of taxing the west. rate profit. These rich families spend money in their own comfort and but do not pay anything proportionate share of the appropriations for national government in income?

June 30, 1910, they are $28,23. The two-dollar family of five pays a directly, 862 of this expense. National extravagance of the individual engendered among the of the tariff. Its burden the bondholding rich, a wage-earning poor.

A Sample of Protection

"What is a Republica Seattle Post Intelligence proceeds to answer by saying: 'Among the a protectionist, because believe in pauperizing America by closing the American tariff on foreign labor as by the shipload free of pote with American labor protected interests do not tariff loot with labor an but, on the contrary, it labor as cheaply as the of the tariff. The burden of the Pittsburgh district beneficiaries of the pro are filled to-day with for by innocent of the count and institutions. The highest benefit labor at all, factories only who are it to plunder American charging unreasonable home markets to answer by saying: 'There is a reasonable free trade markets in the world'

The Ship Subsidy

The Humphrey ship introduced in the house, told, the approval of it. It also has the approval who hope, by the aid of money, out of the fed. We have no doubt that ported by the hardy Cleveland who have, in trying to get some 'new' ideas through common sense to be new, and will permit this grab

LUNCHEON A LA ALORICH

BURDEN IS ON POOR

WHERE BRUNT OF GOVERNMENTAL EXTRAVAGANCE FALLS.

Monopolists, Made Millionaires by Republican Party's Tariff Policy, Pay Nothing Like Proper Share of Taxation.

Recklessness in expenditures is responsible for the ruin of many a happy home. Extravagance is a habit that grows rapidly either in the family or in business.

This is likewise true of a city, a state, or a nation. The astounding increase of expenditures at Washington is due to the example of extravagance in high places in recent years. The present scale of national finance is something to set poor men thinking and increase the animosity of those who regard the rich as their enemies.

Not so many years ago the American people regarded with apprehension the extravagance of expending $15,000 a year for salary of the president of the United States and upholders of the White House. To-day we expend annually $289,420 for the same purpose.

The presidential garage and stables cost $40,000 a year, or more than $100 a day, to maintain. The greenhouse supplies flowers for the president's table at a cost of $5,000 a year, or almost $25 a day. How do these expenditures strike the man in the street who earns perhaps two dollars a day, and must support a wife and two or three children on that meager income?

Hundreds of eastern millionaires have been made by the Republican high tariff which gives them the privilege of taxing the west for their private profit. These rich men and their families spend money like water for their own comfort and amusement, but do not pay anything like their proportionate share of taxation.

The appropriations for expenses of national government in 1930 were $240,000,000. For the year ending June 30, 1931, they are $1,014,014,298.23. The two-dollar-a-day head of a family of five pays, directly or indirectly, 85¢ of this expense bill.

Our national extravagance is a reflection of the individual extravagance engendered among the beneficiaries of the tariff. Its burden is not upon the bondholding rich, but upon the wage-earning poor.

A Sample of Protection "Rot."

"What is a Republican?" asks the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and then proceeds to answer its own question by saying: "Among other things he is a protectionist, because he does not believe in pauperizing American labor, closing the American factory or stopping the American plow." There is no tariff on foreign labor and it comes in by the shipload free of duty to compete with American labor. The protected interests do not divide their tariff loot with labor and never will, but, on the contrary, they buy their labor as cheaply as they can get it; hence it is that the mills and factories of the Pittsburgh district, the greatest beneficiaries of the protective tariff, are filled to-day with foreigners utterly ignorant of the country's language and institutions. The high tariff does not benefit labor at all, but the manufacturers only who are enabled by it to plunder American consumers by charging unreasonable prices in the home market while selling their products at a reasonable profit abroad in free trade markets in competition with the world.

The Ship Subsidy Grab.

The Humphrey ship subsidy bill introduced in the house, has, we are told, the approval of the president. It also has the approval of every man who hopes, by its aid, to get a lot of money out of the federal treasury. We have no doubt that it will be supported by the hardy mariners of Cleveland who have, for years, been trying to get some such legislation as this through congress. But it remains to be seen whether congress will permit this grab to go through.

REASON FOR POSTAL DEFICIT

Loose Business Methods of the Government at Washington Responsible for Annual Loss.

It should be borne in mind that what President Taft calls the deficit in the post-office department is not real. The post-office department is earning a large surplus profit on the business it carries on for its patrons. Even if all publishers and private individuals and firms withdrew their business from the post-office department the government would still have its own large, distribution of letters and printed material to make for congress for the departments at Washington, and for the official business of several hundred thousand people constituting the civil and military services of the United States. It would probably have to pay from seventy-five to a hundred million dollars a year to carry on its own postal business. Yet the books of the post-office department do not make any account of this vast item. It is safe to say that there is no other government in the world whose postal department is not credited with the expense it incurs for handling the business of the other departments. It is a scandal and a public disgrace that business should be done so loosely at Washington that no post-office records are allowed to show what it actually costs to distribute the speeches of congressmen, the documents sent out from the agricultural and other departments, and the millions of letters relating to government business. It is just as much a matter of government expense to transport official documents as to transport troops. The war department makes record of the cost of transporting troops, but no reports of the post-office department indicate the cost of carrying the government's own materials—Review of Reviews.

A Promising Opportunity.

What a chance is now offered the writer of political fiction. Pinchot's defiance was only a part of the great strategy. His dismissal releases him from responsibility of the administration. The return from Ellis Island will be hurried. There is now a direct representative on the ground available to lead the revolution. The campaign for 1912 is in full swing. The ticket, Roosevelt and Pinchot, is as good as nominated. Bulling, Cannon, the water power trust, the Guggenheims, et al., will furnish targets and make it possible to keep up the fireworks, until the final spectacle of the charge up the San Juan hill of protected monopoly is ready. It will be a poor imagination that cannot fit any happening at Washington into this skeleton of a story.

People Want Investigation.

We do not believe that the country will be satisfied with the apparent determination of the president to smother plans for the investigation of the sugar trust, the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, the land office scandals and the telephone merger. Resolutions demanding these inquiries have been referred to committees and it is intimated that none of them will be acted upon. These matters deal with questions that vitally affect the public and the public has a right to be furnished with the official and exact facts concerning them.

Has Not Seemed So.

Senators Aldrich and Lodge are complaining that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Curtis has assessed higher duties on certain commodities than the Payne-Aldrich tariff law contemplates. Can any duties be too high in the opinion of these eminent stand-patters?—New York World.

Personal Government on the Lathmus.

The Republic cannot but look with a certain measure of apprehension upon the proposal—embodied in the Mann bill, which passed the lower house of congress—to abolish the Panama canal commission and govern the canal zone by a director general, appointed by the president.

The thing is contrary to the spirit of our institutions. One man power government comes close to despotism. St. Louis Republic.

BREAKS A COLD IN A DAY

And Cures Any Cough that is Curable.

Noted Physician's Formula.

This is said to be the most effective remedy for coughs and colds known to science. "Two ounces Glycerine, half ounce Concentrated Pine; Put these into half a pint of good whiskey and use in doses of tea-spoonful to a table-spoonful every four hours. Shake bottle frequently." Any druggist has these ingredients in stock or will quickly get them from his wholesale house. The Concentrated Pine is a special pine product and comes only in half ounce vials each enclosed in an air tight case. But be sure it is labeled "Concentrated." This formula cured hundreds here last winter.

EPIDEMIC OF ITCH IN WELSH VILLAGE

"In Dowlais, South Wales, about fifteen years ago, families were stricken wholesale by a disease known as the itch. I believe me, it is the most terrible disease of its kind that I know of, as it itches all through your body and makes your life an inferno. Sleep is out of the question and you feel as if a million mosquitoes were attacking you at the same time. I knew a dozen families that were so affected.

"The doctors did their best, but their remedies were of no avail whatever. Then the families tried a druggist who was noted far and wide for his remarkable cures. People came to him from all parts of the country for treatment, but his medicine made matters still worse, as a last resort they were advised by a friend to use the Cuticura Remedies. I am glad to tell you that after a few days' treatment with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent, the effect was wonderful and the result was a perfect cure in all cases.

"I may add that my three brothers, three sisters, myself and all our families have been users of the Cuticura Remedies for fifteen years. Thomas Hugh, 1650 West Harrison St., Chicago, Ill., June 29, 1909."

A Real Catastrophe.

Philip, aged four, is in the habit of going across the street to a neighbor's house for milk. One day in December he returned home with an empty bucket and a grave face. "We can't get any more milk," he announced in a tone worthy with the importance of his message. "The cow's dried up." And, as he started in surprise at him, he suddenly clinched the matter with an observation, evidently of his own: "They don't think that she'll throw out till spring."—The Liberator.

He Asked Too Much.

They had been engaged for exactly 17 seconds by the cuckoo clock. "Clara, dear," queried the happy youth, who had a streak of romance running up and down his person, "will you promise to love me forever?" "I'd like to, George," replied the practical maid, "but I really don't expect to live so long."

True Friendship.

"Why did you tell your friend that the dressmaker had totally ruined your dress?" "Oh I simply thought it would make her happy."—Hugobon's Liberator.

Real Early Rising.

Farmer Brown and Farmer Jones were near neighbors, and many a dispute took place as to who was the earlier riser. Both maintained that each excelled the other.

One day Farmer Brown determined to put the subject to test. Rising very early one morning, about two o'clock, he proceeded to visit his friend. Great was his astonishment when he saw Mrs. Jones hanging out the clothes in the garden.

"Farmer Jones about?" he asked. "Well," replied the lady, "he was the first part of the mornin', but I dunno where he be now."

Professional Conduct.

One of the best stories told about Mr. Birrell concerns a poor client, a woman case he took up for nothing. When the case had been won, the client gratefully sent him the sum of five, which he accepted in order not to give offense. A colleague reproached him, however, for this "unprofessional conduct" in taking less than gold. "But I took all the poor lawyer had," said Mr. Birrell, "and I consider that is not unprofessional."—M. A. P.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and stable.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drug. It is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

S.S.S. SKIN DISEASES

The skin is composed of two distinct layers. One is known as the epidermis, or outer skin, which has no blood, and serves principally as a covering to the body, and a protection from outward dangers to the delicate flesh beneath. The other layer is known as the derma, or true skin, and is composed of elastic fibres, fat tissue, glands, lymphatics, nerves, etc. The thousands of tiny veins and arteries with which it is interlaced constantly supply every fibre and tissue with healthful properties from the circulation to keep the skin smooth and perfect. This is changed, however, when the blood becomes infected with humors, acids or impurities. Instead of constantly supplying rich, nutritive properties to the skin, the circulation deposits the acid impurity with which it is contaminated, into the sensitive fibres and tissues. This causes irritation and inflammation, which splits or breaks the thin outer cuticle, while the tissues beneath ulcerate and discharge upon the surface in the form of Eczema, Sal. Rheum, Tetter, etc. There is likewise a dry form of skin disease, such as Acne, Psoriasis, etc. In these varieties the humor in the blood diseases and inflames the glands, hair follicles, etc., causing them to swell and protrude to the outer surface. Pimples, rashes, eruptions and like troubles, are all dependent on imperfect blood, and no one can have a good complexion, free from humiliating blemishes, unless the skin is kept healthy by good blood.

S.S.S. CURED ME.
Some time ago I was troubled with a severe skin disease called Acne. Small pimples would appear on my face and neck which would in time become inflamed. My complexion was mottled and yellow and most annoying. I hesitated to read about S.S.S. and concluded to give it a trial; the result was entirely satisfactory. My complexion soon became clear, the pimples disappeared, and my skin became soft and smooth. I cannot too highly recommend S.S.S. to any who are likewise afflicted.
— LUCY GOODING, Pollock, Pa.

Impurities or bery humors, is nourished, soothed and softened by a cooling, healthy stream of blood. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein lies its ability to cure skin diseases. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free.

Notice.

We, the physicians of Murray, realizing that our fees are too small in view of the increased cost of living, do hereby agree and solemnly bind ourselves to the schedule outlined below:

Ordinary prescription, $.00, Day calls in the city of Murray, $1.50. Night calls in the city of Murray, $2.00.

Day calls in the country will be $1.50 for the call and 50 cents additional for each mile—i. e. for the first mile, $2.00; 2nd mile $2.50, etc. Night calls in the country, one half more than day calls.

Frequent settlements encouraged.

We do not wish to work a hardship on anyone, but must have more money for our services. Charity cases may be sure of the same careful and painstaking attention as the best paying man in the county.

We ask the people to compare these prices with the fees of other professional men—lawyers and even ministers: considering the work who is the most poorly paid?

Oil Heat

Without Smoke

No matter how sensitive your olfactory nerves may be, or under what working conditions you encounter the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

you will not detect the slightest odor of smoke.

The Perfection Oil Heater neither smokes nor discolors. The new

Automatic Smokeless Device

positively prevents smoke. Repeated tests during its incineration and development, demonstrated its ability and sure efficiency.

The wick cannot be turned up beyond the point of its greatest effectiveness. It looks unobtrusive and thus makes the greatest heat yielding flame without a sign of smoke or odor. Removed in an instant for cleaning.

Solid brass foot holds 4 quarts of oil—sufficient to give out a glowing heat for 9 hours—solid brass wick carrier—lamp top—cool handle—oil indicator.

THEY GROW HAIR

Certain Ingredients If Properly Combined Stimulate Human Hair Growth.

Resourcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Beta-naphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe, antiseptic and antieczemic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean healthy condition.

Philocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Retall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally.

We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair, providing of course that there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want everyone troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Retall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Retall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold in Murray only at our store—the Rexall Store. Dale & Stubblefield.

Saved at Death's Door.

The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers, of Transit Bridge, N. Y., when his life was "wonderfully saved."

"I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow; eyes sunken; tongue coated; emaciated from losing 40 pounds, growing weaker daily. Virulent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then that matchless medicine, Electric Bitters, cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong. For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles they're supreme."

Sold at Dale & Stubblefield's.

Coleman & Wells.

The law firms of Coleman & Linn and Wells & Wells have this day by mutual consent, dissolved. J. H. Coleman and Rainey T. Wells have formed a partnership under the firm name of Coleman & Wells, and will practice in the courts of the State, with their office on the east side of the court square, being the same office heretofore occupied by Coleman & Linn.

Late Minks Wanted.

If you are a trapper and trapping for the money there is in it, don't kill the minks you catch, if you do you will lose money. If you are trapping with steel traps, when you start to your traps take a sack with you, if you have a mink that is not injured too bad put him in the sack, bring it home and put it in a box or cage and bring it to me. I will pay $2.50 a piece for female minks and in addition to the above will pay $10.00 reward to the person bringing me the largest number of female minks between date of this ad and the last day of January. Now, if you have any minks get busy. — STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

One of Wisconsin's Mothers

Who Always Keeps Per-na in the House.

"I am now able to do my housework again, and have a good appetite. I have used thirteen bottles of Per-na and one of Manalin. My husband and children are also in good health. We always keep Per-na in the house. I thank you a thousand times for your advice." — Mrs. Alvina Piamann, 204 Walnut St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

If any one really wanted to find out whether or not Per-na is good for the baby who would be naturally ask? Some one who never used Per-na? Some one who is prejudiced against Per-na? Some one actuated by selfish motives who is opposing Per-na for the sake of the notoriety?

Would any sane person who really wanted to know about Per-na ask any of these people? Of course not.

Who would they ask? They would ask mothers who have raised babies and used Per-na for their babies times without number. They would ask the parents who love their families, and know more about Per-na than all the professional writers in the world.

Above we give the portrait and testimonial of one of the mothers who has used Per-na, and who has raised healthy and happy babies. We have many more such mothers in every state in the Union. These mothers give their testimonials entirely unqualified, without pay or expectation of pay. Their only desire is to point out to other mothers a useful and reliable family medicine.

VOL. 11, NO. 44

DR. T. M. GRAVES

One Of County's Oldest and Most Highly Esteemed Citizens.

ENO CAME PEACEFULLY AT HOME ON INSTITUTE ST.

Was a Practicing Physician For Years and Had a Host Of Friends.

Dr. T. M. Graves, possibly one of the very best known men who ever lived in Calloway county, died at his home on Institute street last Saturday, about 12:30 o'clock of the infirmities of old age. Dr. Graves was born in Bedford county, Tennessee, in the year 1824 and was therefore 85 years old past. He commenced the practice of medicine at the age of 19 years in Tennessee. Soon after he moved to this county and continued to practice his profession. Later he moved to Texas where he resided several years and then again returned to Calloway where he continued to live until his death. He devoted over 50 years of his life to the profession of medicine and was skilled in his practice. He was a man of splendid attainments, devoted to his profession and many of our citizens today owe their health and possibly their lives to his ability. He retired from active business only about ten years ago since which time he has lived in retirement.

Dr. Graves was a gentleman of the old school, he won friends through sheer personal magnetism, and while he lived beyond the allotted three score and ten years, his death brings regret and sadness to the many citizens who knew him and loved him for his splendid manhood. Always attentive to his duties, yet with a heart full of sympathy and kindness his life was a benediction.

He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and a Mason.

He is survived by a wife and six children. Mrs. W. T. Sleds, Mrs. Boone Reed, of Benton, Misses Cora and Polly, Dr. Wildy, of this place, and Albert Graves, of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Sunday at 1 o'clock by Rev. H. B. Taylor, of the Baptist church. Interment was in the Dale grave yard.
