Solid South's 228 Delegates May Oppose Al Smith

Several States Put in 'Doubtful Class' If Balloting is Long

A general feeling of unrest exists among Democratic voters at this time and a review of the situation leads us to believe that the Solid South's 228 delegates will go to the Houston convention in June instructed to oppose Al Smith, notwithstanding Smith is the strongest logical candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination that has been announced.

The "solid South" consists of 10 states, beginning with Virginia, just from Washington in the east and extending to and including Texas in the distant southwest. The phrase is used to describe the 10 states which have never gone Republican since Civil war and reconstruction days. It does not include those Southern or border states which have occasionally gone Republican, such as Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma. The "solid" South is the true heart of the Democratic party, with a better title to weight in the party's councils than any other section.

The "solid South," as limited to those states with a record of unbroken support of the Democratic national ticket, weighs in the National Convention exactly 228 out of a total of 1100 delegates. Of those 228 delegates it is almost possible, indeed, it is practically possible, to say that not one will favor the nomination of Governor Smith of New York. So far as there is any probable exception it would be in a limited area in Southern Louisiana, centering about New Orleans, which is a wet city and has an old French-Catholic background.

In addition to the southern part of Louisiana, there might be an isolated district here and there in the "solid South" which would send a Smith delegate. But if there are such exceptions they will be found in most cases by a unit rule, which decrees that all the delegates from one state must vote as a unit; and in all states, with the possible exception of Louisiana, the unit will be anti-Smith.

All Anti-Smith

The net of this computation is that practically all the 228 delegates from the "solid South" will be anti-Smith. It would be safer to bet that Smith will not have eight delegates from the "solid South," than to bet that he will have 28. All the talk about the South becoming reconciled to the nomination is incorrect. No such tendency on any effective scale exists.

These 228 delegates will be against Smith. But just how implacably against Smith, just how willing to take a last-ditch position and vote through to the end of the convention against the New York candidate?

So far as the delegates reflect accurately the sentiment of their communities they would practically all take the last-ditch position. The people of the South, by an overwhelming majority, are opposed to Smith, and their opposition is attended with that kind of emotion which would regard steadfastness to the end as a duty. In almost any Southern community the delegate who returns from the convention with an unbroken record of having voted always against Smith will be more approved than a delegate who at some point concedes the nomination of Smith to be inevitable or expedient and votes for him. This would be true.

Mrs. M. C. Nall, New President of Womans Club

A well attended meeting of the Woman's Club was held Friday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Main street, Mrs. J. E. Fall, the president, presiding. Much business was transacted, including the election of officers, as follows:

Mrs. M. C. Nall, president; Mrs. Robert White, first vice-president; Mrs. Lawson Roper, third vice-president; Mrs. J. E. Fall, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Chas. Binford, treasurer. The five new officers elected, will begin their duties in office in April.

Mrs. Fall, who has served the club as president for the past two years, has made a lovable and efficient officer by her untiring efforts in bettering the club. Under her presidency, the club roster has been greatly increased and the club has been benefited by her guidance. Mrs. Nall, the newly elected president, was signally honored by the entire membership, in view of the fact that she has only been a resident in the city two and one half years. Mrs. Nall was elected a member of the club shortly after coming to Fulton, and her activities in club work during this time has proven her worth to the honor bestowed upon her.

All of the newly elected officers have been active workers of the club since its organization. A bright future is predicted with these excellent officers at its head.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. Fall introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. J. E. Warren, of Mayfield, State President of the Federation of Woman's Clubs. Mrs. Warren gave an interesting talk on the work of the pioneer clubs, how their effort had been the foundation of the splendid organizations and brought vividly to the minds of her listeners the immensity of the work and great future in store for the club women.

Mrs. R. S. Williams sang two spring songs, "To Eostia," by Pearl Curran, and "Howdy Do, Mis' Springtime," by Guion. Mrs. Gus Bard accompanied.

Mrs. Nall closed the program by giving two Irish readings, "Nora at the Country Club," and "Ancestors."

During the social hour the members of the community service department served tea and wafers. Hostesses for the day were Mesdames L. C. Browder, and J. F. Royster. Pages were Mesdames Hunter Whitesell, Sara Meacham.

Getting Out of Patience

Are You In Favor of Good Streets?

Attend the Chamber of Commerce Meeting Tuesday Night, March 13th, and Tell 'Em About It.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday night, March 13, the citizens of Fulton will be given an opportunity to express their views and desires as to whether the city should continue the street improvement program this spring.

Notwithstanding that the city administration is in favor of continuing the street improvement program this year, nothing will be done until they get a census of opinion from the property owners. Therefore, it is urgently requested that you attend the meeting Tuesday night and take part in the proceedings. The council will meet Friday night, March 16, to receive the report from the Chamber of Commerce.

Two streets, Maple avenue, in East Fulton and Fourth street in West Fulton, have signed up and been accepted by the council for improvement. Why not include every street in the corporate limits? If we are to keep pace with our neighbors, this work should be done this year and NOW is the time to start.

With the average American citizen, pride in his home town is second only to pride in his family, home and business. He is always ready to back his town against the advantages of any other one of equal size. He is proud of its streets, fine residences, parks, schools and public utilities. He is proud of its age or its progress. With this sentiment—almost an inherent American characteristic—it is not hard to understand the universal desire for paved streets.

What Paved Streets Mean to the Average Town

Throughout the country, town improvement is the order of the hour. The time is past when the paved street was exclusively a big city feature. Whether the town is one of 500 or 500,000, it wants the best it can afford in street improvements. Practically every article that contributes to the American citizen's personal well-being or to his industry has to be carried to his home or his place of business over streets. He has pulled up the old-fashioned fence around the doorway, extended the lawn to the curb line and made the street a part of the community home and workshop. He refuses to stand for filth in the street or alley, just as he refuses to tolerate it in the store, office or factory, and is willing to pay his good money to secure the paved street and alley which can be kept practically as clean as the floors in his home. For these reasons he demands of his town officials that true values shall be given him for his investment in paved streets. They must return to him a full measure of revenue in the form of healthful surroundings, must back his pride in his home town, and must serve best the transportation demands to be made upon them.

BELOVED WOMAN PASSES AWAY

The announcement Sunday afternoon that Mrs. Henrietta Stuart had died at 1:30 o'clock, cast a shadow of gloom over the whole community. In the death of this good woman we fully and keenly realize our loss. She was a true friend, and her devotion to those she loved would make a bright chapter in any life. She lived a consecrated Christian life, and such pure, bright lives inspire the belief that there is a better world beyond, where filled from the corroding cares of earth the good and true are reunited "after life's fitful fever."

At the time of her death, Mrs. Stuart was 84 years old. She was a native Tennessean, born in Hardeman county near Whiteville, but had lived in Fulton a number of years. She was a devout member of the First Baptist church of this city, loved and esteemed by the entire membership.

Surviving are four children: Mrs. T. H. Irby, Mrs. R. M. Redfern and John Stuart of Fulton, and Phil M. Stuart, of Shawnee, Okla., also several grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the First Baptist church, conducted by the Rev. C. H. Warren, paying a beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased. The remains were carried to Bolivar, Tenn., for interment.

Carpenters are busy at work remodeling the Cohn Building on Walnut street, preparatory for occupancy by Irby Drug Co., Irby Fashion Shop and Dr. Seldon Cohn. Dr. Cohn will occupy the entire half of the upper story with his office and operating rooms, while the other half will be cut up into office rooms to let.

AT THE ORPHEUM MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Palm Beach was in a furore on arrival of "The Joy Girl," special train, which carried Olive Borden and company from New York to Florida, for the filming of this great picture, which was so named in honor of the beautiful and popular star, Olive Borden.

Miss Borden, who was brought from the West Coast Studios to star in "The Joy Girl," was the subject of a welcome at the station which was worthy of traveling royalty. It was a case of the South welcoming its own. Miss Borden is a true Southerner, calling Norfolk, Va., her birthplace.

Neil Hamilton, much sought after by producing companies these days, played the male lead opposite Miss Borden. Other principals in the cast are: Marie Dressler, who plays the comedy role of Mrs. Health; Mary Alden, William Norris, Helen Chandler, who quit "The Constant Nymph," to join the film company.

"The Joy Girl" will have a two days' showing Monday and Tuesday, March 12 and 13, at the Orpheum, with special music by an eight piece orchestra.

New Cream Station

The Gray-Von Allen Milk Co., of Louisville, is opening a cream station on Main street opposite Bennett's drug store with Frank Sellars in charge. A better man could not have been selected than Mr. Sellars to manage the Fulton station as he is well known here and popular with the farmers.

JOHN CULVER LOCATES IN BARTLESVILLE, OKLA.

A letter received from John M. Culver, ordering The Advertiser sent to his new address "as we want to keep in touch with all that happens in the old home town," he said, was received this week and we are delighted to learn that he and his estimable family are happily located at Bartlesville, Okla.

After selling his business in Fulton, Mr. Culver visited numerous places in which to locate and finally decided on Bartlesville. We see from his letterhead that he is treasurer and general manager of the Bartlesville Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Incorporated.

Mr. Culver writes that Bartlesville is a nice little city of about 23,000 and is sure that he and his family are going to like it. He closed his letter with kindest regards to all of his old friends.

It was generally regretted when Mr. and Mrs. Culver left Fulton. Mrs. Culver was a favorite in social, club and church circles, while Mr. Culver had always taken an active part in every undertaking for the betterment of the community, and for many years a valuable asset to the business life of the city. His popularity was fully expressed by the large vote he received when elected city councilman, which office he held with distinction. It was through his untiring efforts that the playgrounds at the public schools were equipped with modern devices for the delight of the children.

We keenly feel the loss of these good citizens, but wish them every success in their new field of endeavor.

Fulton Nurses File Suit for Damages

Miss Alice Owen and Ellen M. Johnson, Fulton nurses who were injured in an automobile accident on the highway between Fulton and Mayfield, Feb. 25, have filed damage suits in Graves Circuit Court against Edward Stain of Mayfield. Each ask $10,437.50 damages for personal injuries, medical bills, etc.

NEVER LOOK TIGER IN EYE SAY ADVENTURERS

Another schoolbook tradition is exploded. Never look a tiger, leopard or lion in the eye in case you meet one.

If you do, they know they have been seen and instinctively feel they are to be attacked. Their strategy is always to make a quick charge.

Look over their heads or to one side until you get your gun aimed. Then, if the beast is still there, you have a chance. Otherwise, turn and walk away hoping something big and ponderous doesn't land on your neck.

Ernest B. Schoedsack and Merian C. Cooper spent eighteen months in the jungles of northern Siam filming "Chang," Paramount's thrilling melodrama which reaches the Grand next Monday and Tuesday. They know tiger and leopard habits. Both men assert that the natives were unanimous in asserting it is inviolate destruction to try to hypnotize a big cat by gazing into her eyes.

Friends of Col. Lake Erie Holaday will be glad to learn that he is recovering after an illness of some months.

BEELERTON SCHOOL
NOTES

The Beelerton Basketball teams attended the Invitational Tournament at Bardwell Saturday and Sunday night of last week. This is the first time that we have ever taken any interest in athletics and although we have lost the greater per cent of our games during the year, we feel that the way our teams played, our future is a bright one.

Our boys played in fastest game of entire tournament, with a score of 20 to 23 in favor of Cunningham. At the end of third quarter the score was 21 to 12 in favor of Cunningham, but our boys rallied in the last quarter and brought the score up.

The girls' game was a bit one sided, the Bardwell girls carrying the victory. Although our girls were outmatched, they played a hard game.

We wish to congratulate Miss Ima Fite, guard on girls team, who was chosen as one of the All-Star team. Miss Pauline Davis and Mr. Paul Brown received honorable mention by judges for their good playing.

The District Tournament will be held at Wickliffe next Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3. We are undecided as to whether we will attend.

On last Thursday morning, Mr. Bennett was with us during our chapel period. He made a very interesting talk and we enjoyed having him with us.

The debating team will meet Hickman at the home auditorium on Thursday night, March 1. We have the negative side of McNary-Haugen Bill in this debate and our representatives are Miss Zelma Pillow, Pauline Davis and Mr. Lowell Weather- spoon.

A faculty play will be given in a short time. Be sure and watch for the date!

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Sunday morning the First Christian church on Carr street was damaged by fire, estimated at between $6,000 and $8,000. Sparks from the furnace flue falling on the dry shingle roof is thought to have caused the conflagration. The pipe organ is said to be considerably damaged also. The fire department did heroic work in getting the fire under control and saving the main part of the building and the new addition from destruction as the flames spread rapidly over the dry shingle roof and had a good start when detected.

Plans are now under way to repair and remodel the building, with a larger auditorium and modern conveniences. $7,500 insurance was carried on the building.

High School Notes

The classes of Mrs. Brann of the High school had charge of the chapel program last Wednesday morning and presented a very interesting program. After a few well-rendered numbers from the singing class, the orchestra played several splendid numbers.

Bro. Cantrell, of the First Christian church, presented to the high school a small jar of fruit that was gathered from the gardens of George Washington in 1862. This was well received by the students and the thanks of the entire school are given to Bro. Cantrell for the unique gift.

Thursday, the third lecture of the series of lectures on the Bible were given by Mrs. Binford who talked to the girls about Esther, and Mr. Joe Davis, who talked to the boys about Job. Both of the lectures were splendid and we hope Mrs. Binford and Mr. Davis can be with us again soon. Thursday afternoon a special chapel was conducted immediately after lunch. Mr. George Russell, of Philadelphia, played several splendid numbers on his violin, accompanied by Miss Sarah Butt and Mr. McPherson organized an agricultural club. Quite a number of boys and girls joined this club.

Friday morning at the usual chapel hour, Mr. Russell again played for the students and Miss Sarah Catron Smith told in a most interesting way, of her trip abroad, confining her talk to her visit in Germany.

Monday morning, Elsie Windsor gave two humorous readings, entitled, "A Leap Year Mishap," and "When Father Broke His Arm," after which Mrs. Kalkinska, of Bowling Green, made a Tuesday morning, Mr. Myers made a most interesting talk on the great magician, Harry Houdini. He described very vividly some of Houdini's major feats.

The girls' basketball team will go to Wickliffe this week to take part in a tournament.

The Juniors are hard at work on their play which will be presented sometime in March.

Lucille Smith, Avanelle Greene, and Avery Hancock were selected by the faculty to be members of the newly organized affirmative debating team. They will go to Clinton in the near future to debate there.

WORK IN THE RIGHT

Carr street never looked prettier, than on Tuesday after the full length of the street was swept clean by a large force imbued with the clean up spirit. Chairman Paul DeMyer, of the city street committee, is to be commended on his clean-up efforts, which we hope will continue uninterrupted, for Lord knows the city needs a general cleaning up.

MR. YOUNG MAY RECOVER
AFTER LOSS OF BOTH FEET

Friends of Robert A. (Bob) Young, will be glad to learn that he is getting along nicely at St. Joseph's hospital in Memphis, following the amputation of both legs just below the knee. Mr. Young was the victim of a horrible accident near Rialto, Tenn., last week. He was conductor on northbound Illinois Central freight extra for Mounds, Ill. The train stopped for water at Rialto, six miles south of Covington, where he inspected his train. When the train pulled out he attempted to board a box car. One of his feet became entangled in the rails and he was pulled under the train, both feet being mashed off.

A Negro physician, Dr. D. R. Sidler, of Rialto, who was standing within a few feet of Young probably saved him from being ground to pieces. He rushed to the trainman's aid and snatched him from under the cars. The Negro doctor also administered first aid treatment to the injured man and took him to Covington where Drs. H. W. Sale and N. R. Newman treated and sent him to Memphis in an ambulance.

Mr. Young is a Fulton boy, and is very popular in railroad circles. He is married and lives at 1051 Rayburn Avenue, Memphis.

"I can get more pasture from four 10-acre lots than from one forty," says G. W. Hewer, Cape Girardeau, Mo. "Grass is fresher, cattle eat more."

Floyd Newman, Creighton, Neb., crossed fenced into 10-acre fields for hogging down. He writes: "Hogs did better, corn lasted longer, no waste, manure was left on the field and I saved picking expense." For fencing hog-tight we recommend

With it you can hog down corn, run stock after harvest, rotate crops, keep weeds down, fertilize the land, etc. It hangs fast under shock and strain but springs right back again. ## HOME MIXED RATIONS FOR BABY CHICKS

By Hunter Whitesell.

Most experimental stations recommend sour milk as the very first feed to be given at the age of 3 days. Feed nothing before that.

For the next eight or ten days feed hard-boiled eggs mixed with oatmeal. It is best to grind the eggs before mixing with an equal amount of oatmeal. Feed only a little five times each day. After ten days and for the next two months feed a mixture of 2 parts bran, 2 parts middlings, 1 part corn meal. Keep this before them in hoppers, at all times. If milk is not before them at all times, add 1-2 of one part meat scraps to above mixture. After two months feed this mixture one part bran, 2 parts cornmeal, 2 parts middlings, 1 part ground oats. If milk is not given daily, add 1 part meat scraps.

Where meat scraps are not available, tankage (60 per cent protein) may be substituted according to the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Just as soon as chicks can handle cracked corn 1-2 and 1-2 cracked wheat you may feed thrown in the litter twice a day, morning and late afternoon. Use only corn cracked fine at first.

When convenient also keep bone meal in a hopper for them at all times. A substitute for this is "Baby Chick Oyster Shell."

OAKLAND PRODUCTION 112% AHEAD OF 1927

March Schedule Exceeds Last March By 10,000 Cars; Manufacturing and Sales Departments Expanding

Pontiac, Mich., March 5.—The increasing factory facilities of the Oakland Motor Car Company and the heavy winter demand for the Oakland and Pontiac Sixes are reflected in a record March production schedule of 27,773 units, which exceeds by more than 10,000 cars, the company's output during March of 1927.

January and February also witnessed the establishment of new Oakland-Pontiac records. As a result, by the end of March the company will have built more than 73,800 cars, a three month total exceeding by 112 per cent the 34,737 unit production during the first three months of 1927.

The completion during February of a third assembly line in the Pontiac Six factories contributed greatly toward the February record and is assisting the company materially in reaching its high March total.

Further production increases are anticipated in April, when the new $3,000,000 car assembly building for the Oakland All-American Six will be placed in operation. It is expected that the last week in March will be devoted to moving machinery and equipment from the present Oakland assembly building to the new structure, which is similar in all details to the model assembly building of the Pontiac Six.

Keeping step with the growing demand for Oakland and Pontiac Sixes, W. R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales, has expanded the field organization through the establishment on March 1, of additional district offices at Milwaukee, and Washington, D. C. The Oakland Motor Car Company now has 24 district offices, said to be the second largest district office group maintained by any automobile company. This expansion follows on the heels of a January enlargement of the sales organization when Mr. Tracy opened regional offices at New York, Cleveland, Atlanta, Chicago, San Francisco and Kansas City, besides increasing the size and personnel of all district offices.

The Smoothness and Snap That All America is Demanding

There's no longer any doubt about it. America is demanding more and more from its automobiles. More power... more style... more speed. And above all else... more smoothness and snap.

Because of its ruggedly constructed chassis... its bigger clutch and smoothly shifting gears... and the super-precision construction demanded in the All-American principle of design.

Smoothness that brings to driving new pleasures and new delights. Snap that responds to the traffic signal as a sprinter responds to the gun. Smoothness and snap that you know are the very essence of motoring satisfaction. Smoothness and snap that you find revealed in the All-American Six.

Once you've experienced its smoothness... once you've witnessed its snap... you'll know why the All-American Six is winning such tremendous success!

RECORD-BREAKING PROGRESS

One of the outstanding pieces of construction of the season of 1927 was the surfacing of the Mayfield-Fulton highway, U. S. 45, in Graves, Hickman and Fulton Counties with bank gravel. Of this distance, 29,948 miles is in Graves county, 3,355 miles in Hickman county and 1,477 miles in Fulton, making a total of 34,775 miles. The gravel was put on this roadway 18 feet wide and gives a completed highway through Kentucky from Louisville through Paducah, Mayfield, Fulton, Union City, Tennessee, thence and on through Memphis, Tennessee to the Gulf Coast.

The gravel used came from pits alongside the road and is well graded gravel of glacial formation which contains just enough iron and clay to make an excellent binder.

Cooperation Necessary

The grade and drain contractors were at work the whole time during which surfacing operations were under way; in fact the last work on the grade and drain contracts was finished three days after the surfacing was completed and no doubt the surfacing could have been finished earlier had the grade and drain work been completed and out of the way.

N. E. Stone & Company, of Madisonville, Kentucky, had the contract for surfacing the entire length of this road.

The contractor started the first work on June 29, 1927, and completed all of the jobs on December 6, 1927, or five months and seven days, of which 114 were working days. During this time 34,775 miles of road were built and an average of 1,284.4 tons of gravel placed per day or a total of 146,422 tons on all the jobs.

Mrs. Deward Vaughn and little daughter, Elaine, left Wednesday morning for Gulfport, Miss., to join Mr. Vaughn who is employed there in railroad work.

The public is cordially invited to attend a program to be given by the P. T. A. at McFadden school next Wednesday evening, March 14th, at 7:45 o'clock. A small admission of 10 cents will be charged at the door, the proceeds to be used for school purposes.

FAITHFUL GIANTS

Nothing about a railroad is more fascinating to the average person or more important to railway operation than the power plant on wheels which pull the trains. The massive size, tireless power and seemingly intelligent responsiveness of locomotives have a vivid appeal to the popular imagination. An adequate supply of efficient locomotives kept in first-class condition is a fundamental requirement for satisfactory railway service.

The Illinois Central System, in keeping with its pledge of efficient service, maintains an adequate supply of all types of locomotives essential to meet its patrons' demands. At the traffic of this railroad has grown through the increased population and the agricultural, industrial and commercial development of its territory, its locomotives have kept pace accordingly in both number and power. In 1856, the year its charter lines were completed, the Illinois Central had eighty-three locomotives. Now it owns more than 2,200, and about one-fourth of them are less than seven years old. These 2,200 locomotives are equivalent in power to more than 10,000 locomotives such as the ones used in 1856.

Keeping the locomotive supply of a large railway system adequate and up to date, entails heavy outlays of capital. Since the beginning of 1920, the Illinois Central System has spent nearly $10,000,000 for the purchase and modernization of locomotives. Its expenditures for keeping its locomotives in good condition amount to around $16,000,000 a year.

Investments in road and equipment are permanent pledges of a railroad's desire to serve the public. Such investments can be productive only as they promote the prosperity and earn the favor of the users of railway service. The extensive investments which the Illinois Central System is constantly making to increase and improve its facilities are evidence of its faith in the continued good will of its patrons.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

President, Illinois Central System.

Farm Notes

By H. A. McPherson,
County Agent

The ear of certified Triumph potatoes came in last week and most of them have been disposed of, but if you haven't got yours, you can get them at any of the leading grocery stores, as they are taking around half of the ear. The merchants and farmers are to be congratulated on getting in the first ear of certified potatoes in this part of the state. Potatoes to be subject to certification must stand five field and one bin inspection, which insures us of the best possible seed stock.

All potatoes should by all means be dipped before planting.

Treatment:

Before cutting the potatoes to be used for seed should be treated for Phizoctonia (black scurf) and scab. Prepare the treating solution as follows: Dissolve one ounce of corrosive sublimate (which can be purchased at any drug store) in one quart of warm water and mix with 7 1-2 gallons of cold water. This makes 1 to 1000 solution. Use only wooden or earthenware containers because metal is corroded by the solution.

Soak the seed in the solution as follows:

First lot of seed in freshly prepared solution, 1 hour; second lot of seed in same solution 1 1-2 hours; third lot of seed in same solution 1 3-4 hours; and fourth lot of seed in same solution for 2 hours. After using the solution four times it should be poured out as it has been rendered too weak for further use. This solution is deadly poison and should be kept away from livestock, children and poultry.

After soaking, the potatoes should be spread out so they can dry. When dry, place them in clean containers. Five to seven hundred pounds of a high grade fertilizer should be used per acre. 10-4-4 or 10-4-6 any high grade fertilizer is all right if it contains enough potash. Your money invested in fertilizer ought to pay you around 100 per cent profit.

Sweet Potatoes:

If we expect to make a success growing sweet potatoes, we must follow a more definite program than we have in the past. Our lands are becoming infected as well as our houses and seed stock, and it is up to us to combat these diseases. Potatoes should never be bedded in the same place twice, unless all the old soil is removed, and the planks sprayed with a strong solution of corrosive sublimate. Seed should always be grown from vine cuttings and only good healthy smooth potatoes used for seed. They should be dipped in the above recommended solution for Irish potatoes and allowed to remain in the solution from 20 to 30 minutes, depending on quantity of infection. To grow good potatoes you should use from 400 to 600 pounds of a high grade fertilizer such as 10-4-4, or 8-4-6, etc.

Orchard Work:

Have you pruned and given your trees the dormant spray for San Jose scale? These two operations are the first essentials for good fruit. Oil Emulsion should be rate of one gallon to 20 or 30 gallons of water, depending on the amount of infection.

Hog Cholera:

I understand there has been and is now a lot of hog cholera over the county. My recommendations would be to keep a close watch on your hogs, and when the first one shows signs of being sick or off feed, vaccinate the bunch at once. The reason some people have lost faith in vaccination is because they wait until they have lost a hog or two, then it is too late to vaccinate.

If you have cholera close to your hogs, it is advisable to vaccinate. Mineral Mixture for Hogs: One of the best and cheapest mixtures is 100 pounds ground limestone, 100 pounds acid phosphat and 10 pounds salt. Mix thoroughly and place in one compartment of your self feeder or a convenient box.

INSTRUCTIVE FARM NOTES

In this issue of The Advertiser will be found interesting and instructive "Farm Notes," by H. A. McPherson, county agent. Mr. McPherson was instrumental in getting a sufficient number of farmers interested in growing potatoes in the county this year to order a carload of certified seed.

Potato growers interested in receiving the largest net return from Irish potatoes should not fail to use certified seed. Often farmers fail to get a good yield from their potatoes even under ideal conditions of soil, fertilizer, cultivation and weather. Usually this is due to diseases present in the seed, especially the one known as Mosaic disease. Mosaic cannot be recognized in the seed and while the potato has the appearance of being healthy at the time of planting, the leaves on the young plant soon begin to wrinkle and pucker up, which dwarfs the plant. This condition reduces the plant's ability to manufacture plant food and reduces the yield in some cases as much as 75 per cent.

What "Certified" Means
The demand for seed potatoes as near free of diseases as possible has become so great that several of the northern and western states have established a system of inspection while the plants are growing, as well as after harvesting. In most of these states, in those fields that show less than four per cent of diseased plants, the growers remove the diseased plants and potatoes and sell the remainder of the potatoes as "certified," while those fields having five per cent or more cannot be certified. Each bag of certified seed will be tagged with the official certificate of the state in which they are grown.

FAITHFUL GIANTS

"Faithful Giants," is what President L. A. Downs of the Illinois Central System terms railway locomotives in his March 1 letter to the public. Their massive size, tireless power and seemingly intelligent responsiveness have a vivid appeal to the popular imagination, he explains, and an adequate supply of them in first-class condition is a fundamental requirement for satisfactory railway service.

There is more than poetry, however, to these power plants on wheels. Since the beginning of 1920 the Illinois Central System has spent nearly $40,000,000 for the purchase and modernization of locomotives. Its expenditures for keeping its locomotives in good condition amount to around $16,000,000 a year.

"As the traffic of this railroad has grown through the increased population and the agricultural, industrial and commercial development of its territory, its locomotives have kept pace accordingly in both number and power," President Downs writes. "In 1856, the year its charter lines were completed, the Illinois Central had eighty-three locomotives. Now it owns more than 2,200, and about one-fourth of them are less than seven years old."

BETTER THINGS SURELY EXIST

One piece of crime news after another seems to "break" for newspapers all over the country. One case is hardly disposed of, until another one shows, ready to occupy the front pages of the press.

Even in the short space of weeks this year, several hideous crimes have occupied the front pages. There was the long trial that involved Henry Judd Gray and Mrs. Snyder, which terminated with the death penalty.

The curtain dropped just in time to make way for the terrible crime at Los Angeles, in which Hickman played the stellar role. The trials this year of George Remus, and the Hill case in Illinois, and the Mrs. Gatlin trial in North Carolina, all have made crime news occupy prominence so far this year.

In all of this, the newspapers are almost compelled to give mention on their front pages, because the public demands it. As far as the editors are concerned, they detest the idea of filling up the columns with crime news. Few editors might enjoy that kind of reading for their patrons, but the bulk of them would rather have news of higher value, news that would erase crime and provide food for the better things that surely exist in this life.

POULTRY DEVELOPMENT

The poultry breeders of this community are beginning to be known to the outside world. The Development department of the I. C. R. R. has two men in the field who are taking pictures of flocks for the Farm and Factory monthly issued by this department. Among those flocks snapped for the magazine are the Buff Orpingtons of Mrs. D. J. Perry, and the White Leghorns of Hunter Whitesell. These pictures will appear in a future issue.

This is only one more way to prove Thoroughbred poultry pays. If you do not already have thoroughbred poultry, there is a good opportunity right now to get some first class settings of eggs from the Standard Bred Poultry Association of America, who are putting on a drive for 10,000 new breeders. To get these new members they have organized a Junior Members Association, placed the dues at one dollar per year and with the first year's dues, you receive a setting of eggs of any breed you may desire.

J. T. Watkins, Secretary Fulton Poultry Association, has some applications and will be glad to send your name in for membership.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR MEETING

Fulton Commandery No. 34, K. T., held a called conclave on March 1 for the purpose of annual inspection, and the conferring of several degrees of Knighthood. Beginning work in the afternoon and continuing until the Orders of Red Cross and Malta were given.

The fraters then retired to the dining hall, where tables well filled with a variety of good eats, awaited their coming, prepared under the supervision of Sir Knight M. I. Boulton, the commandery's expert chef, who is an adept when it comes to satisfying the wants of the inner man.

After enjoying the sumptuous feast and some choice cigars, the fraters returned to the asylum, and exemplified the Temple degree in a splendid and impressive manner, witnessed by quite a number of visitors and members. The inspecting officer, Sir Knight G. P. Ginn, of Ashland, Grand Sword Bearer, made a very interesting and instructive talk on the work of Templarism. Sir Knight Fred Acker, of Paducah, Grand Prelate, entertained with a few remarks that were appreciated, as he is very popular with the Masonic fraternity, who are pleased at any time to have him with them. Sir Knight Joe Randall, also of Paducah, made a talk, that interested his hearers, as "Uncle Joe" is well versed in Masonic lore and usually tells them something worth hearing.

Our Excellent Prelate, D. Fred Worth, was delegated by the Commander to introduce and welcome the visitors, which he did in his usual suave and pleasant way, making them feel very much at home. Phil H. Porter, of Clinton, after he created a knight, expressed his pleasure, in a few well chosen words, for the opportunity of being admitted into the order of Knighthood.

Other out-of-town knights in attendance not mentioned were W. M. Reams, E. S. Rosselle, J. E. Payne, J. C. Habacker, of Paducah; C. W. Bridges, G. M. Woodyard, Clinton; A. Voorhees, Oria Leet, W. L. Bushy, and J. G. Cooper, Hickman; P. L. Pillow, Water Valley.

SOLID SOUTH'S 228 DELEGATES MAY OPPOSE AL SMITH

Compromise Element

There will be among the delegates from the South a certain degree of disposition to compromise, to accept the nomination of Smith as either inevitable or expedient. And yet, on the other hand, even among those Southern Democratic leaders who are most free from religious prejudice and least moved by the implacable motives that affect the Southern voters — even among these there is a strong distaste almost a bitter hostility to the Democracy of New York and other sections of the North which Smith represents. Southern Democratic leaders feel that their territory has been for 50 years the unfaltering, loyal Rock of Gibraltar which has always, without exception given its votes to the Democratic candidate for the presidency — and yet during all that time they have never been permitted to name the Democratic candidate or hardly even to have an important hand in naming him. The only man of Southern birth who has had the Democratic nomination since the Civil war was Woodrow Wilson, and he was only able to get it, as a Southern Democrat once said, by going to live in New Jersey.

The Southern Democrats, with their record of party loyalty, constantly see their 228 delegates outvoted in the national conventions by the 90 delegates from New York, which has gone Democratic only since 1892, plus the delegates from Pennsylvania, which has never gone Democratic since the Civil War, plus the delegates from other Northern states, which are no more Democratic than Pennsylvania.

Set of Emotions

Out of this intricacy of one set of emotions and conditions among the Southern voters and a different though parallel set among the South's 228 delegates in the convention it is difficult to estimate what will be the sum that practically the delegates will vote against Smith in the early ballots is certain, the important question is whether they will take a "last ditch position," whether they will vote against Smith to the end.

The 228 delegates from the South, even if they should all take the "never surrender" position, would not be enough, of themselves, to prevent the nomination of Smith. The entire number of delegates from the whole country will be 1,100. Under the Democratic rule, two thirds are required to make the nomination — which is the same as saying that one-third of the convention can veto the nomination of any candidate. One-third of 1,100 is 367. To prevent the nomination of Smith it would be necessary for the 228 delegates to have the equally persistent aid of 139 delegates from elsewhere. The necessary 139 will undoubtedly be present in this convention. That is to say, from states or parts of states, such as, for example, Indiana, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Missouri, Tennessee and many others — from these states, or from other parts of the country, there will be at least 139 delegates, and probably quite a few more, whose attitude toward the nomination of Smith will be closely similar to the attitude of the 228 Southern delegates.

Lesson for March 11

JESUS FEEDS THE MULTITUDE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 6:31-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the bread of life; he that cometh to Me shall never hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst.
PRIMARY TOPIC—An Unusual Meal
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Hungry Crowd
FED.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Meeting Every-Day Needs.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Compassion for Human Need.

I. Jesus' Invitation to the Weary Disciples (vv. 31, 32).

The apostles had just returned from an evangelistic tour in Galilee with a report of what they had done and taught. Their ministry occasioned no little stir. Besides, Jesus Himself continued to preach. As a result of their combined ministry, the commotion was so great that there was no opportunity for resting or eating. In such a time of need Jesus invited His disciples to retire from the crowd and rest. In order to do this they departed privately by ship for a desert place.

Periods of withdrawal from the crowd in fellowship with the Lord are necessary after evangelistic campaigns. They serve a double purpose.

1. To get the eyes of the ministers off themselves and their work.

2. To prevent dependency for their failures.

II. Jesus Teaching the Ignorant Multitude (vv. 33, 34).

1. Thronged by the people (v. 33).

The wonderful words and works of the Lord and His disciples brought the multitudes to them. To escape the throng they took their departure for a desert place (v. 32).

2. The Lord moved with compassion (v. 34).

Instead of becoming irritated by the intrusion of the crowd His heart was moved with pity. His personal interests were forgotten as the needs of the shepherdless sheep pressed upon His notice, therefore He began to teach them many things. Jesus is now the same compassionate Savior, touched with the feelings of our infirmities (Heb. 4:15).

III. Jesus Feeding the Hungry Multitude (vv. 35-44).

1. Conference with the disciples (vv. 35-38).

(1) The disciples request that the multitude be sent to the surrounding villages to buy bread (v. 36). According to Matthew, Christ made the proposition that the multitude be fed (Matt. 14:16).

(2) Jesus commands them to feed the multitude (v. 37).

(3) The disciples' perplexity (v. 37).

They began to calculate as to the amount of provisions required. They asked the Lord whether they should go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread. Their perplexity was due to the fact that they were depending upon their own resources instead of Christ. To be face to face with the humbly impossible has a threefold benefit: (a) It makes us realize our dependence upon Christ; (b) Drives us to Him for help in our need; (c) Leads us to give Him the glory for the results. Though our ability to teach, preach or to give, be meager, when coupled with the Lord's ability, it is equal to any demand.

2. Jesus' method in feeding the multitudes (vv. 39-44).

(1) The Lord's part. This was to issue instructions as to the method of procedure and to create the provision. Though they had but five loaves and two fishes He so increased them that the need of the hungry multitude was met.

(2) The disciples' part. They were to have the people sit down in companies so as to facilitate distribution. They then took that which the Master had blessed and distributed it to the people. The disciples' responsibility was not for the creation of the provision, but for its distribution to the people. (3) The people's part. Their part was not to create nor distribute, but obediently to sit down and partake of the provision. Even after the bread had been blessed by the Lord and distributed by the disciples, they would have famished with hunger had they not partaken of the food. Unless the people receive Jesus Christ and the salvation which He has provided they shall eternally starve. The Lord has done His part. The disciples are under solemn obligation to do their part and the final responsibility rests upon the people.

Obedience

Obedience is the secret. Not slavish obedience, but sympathetic, loving, eager obedience. May the law of holiness be to me welcome as the light, sweet as the flowers, more to be desired than much fine gold.—W. L. Watkinson.

A Brother's Keeper

A genuine brother's keeper is more concerned with his brother's perils than his own pleasures.—Christian Observer.

Telephone Expansion Reflects the Progress of the South

THE commercial progress and growing financial strength of the South are so closely related to the continued expansion of the telephone service that the past year's achievements of the Southern Bell Telephone System are of more than ordinary interest.

To meet the growth of the nine Southeastern states last year, the telephone workers installed 186,436 new telephones and removed 139,583, making a net gain of 46,853 new telephones and involving an expenditure of $25,275,361, not including operating properties purchased.

Practically all of this huge sum was new money secured from investors or borrowed from people who have faith in the future of the South and confidence in the permanency of the telephone business.

At the end of the year the company was serving 1,293,367 telephones in the nine southeastern states. Of these 309,441 were Bell owned, 354,890 were owned by other companies, but connected with the Bell System, and 38,036 were located in farm homes.

The investment in service reached a total of $183,814,309 on December 31, 1927, not including $1,334,758 of construction work in progress. This investment includes such permanent property as 891 central offices with switchboards and other associated equipment; 3,324,052 miles of wire (3.7 per telephone); 38,476 miles of pole line, and 3,252 miles of underground duct.

To build, operate and manage this great telephone system, requires an army of skilled men and women whose annual payroll amounts to $24,535,391.

The tax bill for the year 1927 was the largest in the history of the company, amounting to $5,094,200. This was an increase of 422 per cent over the tax bill of 1916.

There was an outstanding improvement in the speed and scope of the long distance service and in the efficiency of the local service last year. The number of calls was greater than ever, and the improved speed and accuracy of the service won commendation from our customers.

The continued friendly attitude of our customers and of the public, and their confidence in the stability of the telephone industry was substantially indicated by their investments in telephone securities. There are now 16,123 stockholders in the Bell System in this section who own 288,136 shares of stock.

In presenting the detailed results of last year's operations, we continue the policy of taking our customers and the public fully into our confidence. It also affords us an opportunity to again express the appreciation of the telephone workers for your friendly interest and co-operation.
