FULTON GETS FACTORY TO EMPLOY 600 PERSONS

Butterfat Brings $292,427 to Farmers

The new factory in Fulton is expected to bring considerable economic benefits to the area. The company has indicated that it will employ 600 persons, a significant boost for the local economy. The factory will begin operations on Friday, January 1st.

Deaths of Notable Citizens

Several local residents have passed away recently, including Mr. John Smith and Mrs. Mary Brown. Their memorials will be held in the local church on Saturday afternoon.

Carload Shipments Show Big Increase

The recent increase in carload shipments is a testament to the growth of the local economy. The increase is expected to continue as the factory begins operations.

Fulton Gains as Marketing Center

The new factory will not only provide jobs but will also enhance Fulton's position as a major marketing center for the surrounding area.

Weddings and Engagements

Several local weddings and engagements have been announced, including the marriage of Mr. William Jones and Miss Elizabeth Green on Saturday, January 2nd.

Local News

- Several local businesses are expected to see an increase in sales due to the factory's opening.
- The local school district is preparing to expand, anticipating an increase in student enrollment.
- Local sports teams are looking forward to the factory's opening, as it will undoubtedly contribute to the community's overall vibrancy.

Econom News

- The local unemployment rate is expected to decrease due to the new factory.
- Local banks are offering special loans to families interested in starting their own businesses in the area.

Community Events

- A local fair is scheduled for next month, featuring various vendors and live entertainment.
- A community garden is being established, open to all residents.

Notes

- The factory will operate 24/7, providing a substantial economic boost to the area.
- Local leaders are already discussing the potential for further economic development in the region.

We're Off To The New Year

...And while the season of New Hope is yet with us, let us express a word of appreciation to our encounners, whose good will and patronage we enjoyed during '36. To you, we offer our most sincere THANKS.

For 1937, we pledge again our honest support in making Fulton a good town in which to live.

"What the dickens are you doing around here?" called out old Jim, a broad grin playing about his mouth. "I thought I told you to stay at the ranch tonight and not wander off into the forest."

"I know, I know," said the youth, "but I just couldn't help it. I had to see what the forest looked like in the moonlight."

"Well, well, well," said Jim, "I'm afraid you'll have to make do with just the moonlight tonight."

"I guess so," answered the youth sheepishly. "I'm kind of hungry, too."

Jim broke into a hearty laugh. "That's a good one," he said. "I'll fix you up a meal in the morning, and you can help me with the work."

From that time on, the youth and Jim became fast friends. They worked together on the ranch, and the youth learned much from Jim's experience.
