Badly Burned.

A little child of old Col. Hunt, colored, who lives in a cabin on the Wall-lace place, South Main street, was badly burned Thursday morning.

In the old woman's absence the child built a big fire, and in some way its clothing caught. The little thing was terribly burned before the flames were extinguished and is now at the point of death. We understand that the woman has several other small children. She is in destitute circumstances and almost without food or fuel. It would be a kind charity for some one to go to her assistance.

A Heroic Deed.

Thursday morning, a negro girl 14 years of age, living on Mr. John Hargis's farm, was burned to death. The girl was standing near the fire in a cabin. Her clothes caught from the flames and in an instant she was in a blaze. In her efforts to save herself she fell on fire and also a candle in which a baby was sleeping. At this her anxiety for the infant overcame her fear of personal danger, and with the death flames burning about her, she struggled like a heroine to save the child. Soon she had extinguished the fire and saved the little one, but by this time her own clothing was burned from her body and the very flesh was cooked. With consummate coolness she wrapped a sheet about her form, quivering from pain and waiting for assistance for help. At 9 o'clock that night she died, but not until she knew full well that her life had reached one heroic deed.

How it's Worked in E-town.

Louisville Post.
"Are you aware of the fact that a bar-room is being run with great secrecy in E-town?" said my friend, the store-keeper-ganger, to me yesterday. "It is the only instance I know of where the law is openly violated in a local option town. There are two brothers who have fitted up an elegant place there. You walk in down-stairs and everything has the appearance of an abandoned bar-room. Drop a dime into a little slot in the counter and you'll find lemon and sugar before you. But upstairs is the nearest place."

Upstairs is the nearest place. The rooms have been fitted up with tables, handsome easy chairs, pictures, reclining lounges and a dumb-waiter. In here all day long may be found citizens and boys of Elizabethtown drinking and chatting. If any one goes under the table, a rear room is provided for him, and here he sleeps off the effects of his debauch. Only the initiated can get in, and but few people there know of the establishment.

The colored people of Owensboro having tendered fifteen acres of land worth $1,500 and $500 in cash for the location of the State Colored Normal School at that point, it is probable that they will secure the institution.

Rev. McDonald, who has been conducting the revival at the Ninth street Presbyterian church, returned to his home in Henderson, last night. Rev. McDonald is a pleasing speaker and is much beloved by our people.

Green Champlin, late a silk hankerchief in the burglary that played sad havoc with Howell Tandy's clothing store, and as this about wrecked Green's wardrobe, he is in a very excited state of mind as the winter wind blows around his downy lip.

No woman can be contented and happy if her skin is covered with pimples and blotches. These disgusting eruptions are easily removed by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine is perfectly safe to take, and is thoroughly reliable blood purifier.

The Republican Executive Committee of Trigg county has been called to meet in Paducah, Monday, Dec. 13th. They have about digested the quasi-victory of last August and are going to prepare for another fight next summer. Let them be careful or it will be a wish of ours.

Henderson Gleazer. We notice in the third paper that Principle stands third as regards the family of trappers of which he is a member, having made a mile in a little under 2:20. This valuable record is owned by Robert Dixon, of this city, and he should be very proud of him.

Finda Bivins, the young man who killed John Jenkins at Kirmansville, last summer, has just been indicted by the Todd county grand jury for murder in the first degree. The other parties engaged in the affair, Jim Bivins and Tom Metcalf, have also been indicted for assault.

Miss Lula Whittle entertained a number of her friends, delightful at her home, Thursday night. The accomplished pianist, Chas. Anderson, J. H. Crabbe, Jack MacLean and Forest Hunt, furnished instrumental music. The assembly enjoyed the evening immensely and rounded up Thanksgiving in the most charming manner.

The assessment of property in Owensboro for State and county taxation has been completed by Mr. P. J. Murphy. A partial estimate indicates that the assessment will be not less than $400,000 more than last year. Mr. Murphy has made a first-class job of the assessment, and it is safe to say very little if any property has been mis-assessed.

Our drawing is no "lottery scheme," but a fair and square gift to our subscribers. We do it because it pays and is legitimate. You pay for the paper the regular price, no more and no less, and we give you the chance at the prize list. Somebody will get every article on the list. It matters not who, as we put up the tickets at $1.00 worth, and our subscribers take them in. Suppose you take our paper and a chance?

The Evansville Courier saw strange things Tuesday evening. It says a curious phenomena in the heavens was witnessed last night by nearly the entire city. About six o'clock the sky in the southwest suddenly assumed a deep crimson hue, which gradually grew brighter. In a few minutes broke began to occur, until there were eight lines of color all diverging from a common center. Remaining thus for five minutes they grew darker, until at 6:15 minutes they began to disappear, and then a brilliant meteor shower followed by a brilliant meteor shower lasting two minutes. The cause is not known, but the sight was sufficient to create fear and trembling among the superstitious.

Married.

Rev. Montgomery May preached at South Carrollton last Sunday.

The dog faced boy can be seen at the Opera-house Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 10 a. m. till 10 p. m. Be certain to see him. Other wonderful attractions are also exhibited.

In Thursday's issue in reference to an advertisement of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York we accidentally called the company the "Southern Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York."

As the Mutual Life of New York is the oldest company in the United States, the agent does not want its name mixed up with any other, but the advertisement reads let the people have it. The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday our citizens will have the opportunity of seeing at Holland's Opera House, the greatest living curiosities, Jo-Jo, the Russian dog faced boy, Sylvia, a living half-woman swinging in mid air, and the transparent Turk. The doors will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. will be performed hourly.

The each day, performance hourly. The Russian Museum Company have done such good business that they have decided to remain two days longer. All the curiosities are there, Jo-Jo, the dog-faced Russian boy, Sylvia, the living half-woman, the transparent Turk, etc. They form a show well worth anybody's money.

Sudden Death of Maj. Thos. F. Henry. CLARKSVILLE, NOV. 25.—[Special.] Maj. Thos. F. Henry dropped dead today at 3 o'clock. He was apparently in the vigor of health and his sudden death was a shock to the community.

He was of course, a well-to-do man, and his family was well connected. He had been complaining of biliousness for several days, but was able to be up. No one but a servant was in the room at the time. He died of paralysis of the heart.

He was about fifty years of age. Maj. Henry was the eldest son of Hon. G. A. Henry, the eagle orator of Tennessee. He was an educated lawyer, though he did not practice his profession, rather devoting his time to his large farm at Glen Ellen, this county. He married Miss Barker, and was connected with the most influential families of this section.

His death has cast a gloom over the homes of a large circle of friends.

A Surprise Party.

The occupants of the little brown cottage at 1005 Third Virginia street, would know nothing whatever about it, how should we? Late in the afternoon the first knock was dropped at our door, by the help of a strong negro man; but because the busy farmer, our generous brother, is given to such acts of kindness, we still did not guess it. It finally dawned upon us, however, when about seven o'clock, after repeated knocks and entries, our little home was filled to overflowing with bright faces of many of our best friends. There were many flashing of lanterns and such, and, as if by magic, the door was opened, and a large pyramid of bundles, boxes, bags, and "birds," representing the kind wishes of many a warm heart. A delightful social hour followed, which seemed, for all that, too short, and after prayer, the company dispersed, leaving besides the scores of gifts, many a rich memory with which to begin a day of thanksgiving indeed. May God, of his infinite grace, make his face to shine upon you all.

MR. AND MRS. A. C. BIDDLE.

TOBACCO NOTES.

The Hopkinsville market is quiet. But little tobacco is coming in. Sales are being made, week before last, 10 bids, were sold at from $2 to $8. The general impression among our buyers is that the crop was damaged 30 per cent by the frost.

Henderson Gleazer. The market has been dragging all the week. It is impossible to get the buyers and sellers together on prices, and very few crops are being sold, though a great many have been sold this week.

The general price for ordinary tobacco is from $1 to $2 for good, $3 to $4 for large, and $1 for trash. First-bought tobacco brings nearly nothing. Among the crops sold we note a few: G. Vaughan & Co. bought one crop for $7, $4 and $2; and another for $7, $5 and $1; the tobacco being very fine. Dr. Kitch bought a crop at $7.50, $3.25 and $1. Shelby & Slaughter bought a crop of J. Hamilton, of Union county, at $5, $1.50 and $1. Mr. Fox, of Robart's Station vicinity, was offered $5, $4.25 and $1 yesterday. The tone of the farmers is generally anxious selling at such prices and the buyers firm in their stand for low prices. There will be a break somewhere soon—we don't know which way.

Union Local: Mr. Buck Hammond, one of our river bottom farmers, sold his crop of tobacco in Henderson this week for the enormously large price of 25 cents per hundred pounds; receiving for his entire crop—7,500 pounds—but $18, not enough, by several dollars, to pay the expenses of his trip. Jack Frost had got in his work on the crop.

Owensboro Inquirer: Prices on tobacco are astonishingly low. Offers run from $1 to $4. No money in raising the weed at those prices.

Calix Telephone: The frost made a damage crop to a loss of about fifteen cents to twenty per cent of the crop. It has created a much larger quantity of low grades than would have existed if there had not been a frost, and consequently there is a very depressed feeling on those grades, which we do not expect to see result in a very marked decline, as the prices for those kinds have been very low for a year past.

Confusion of Names.

In Nashville, Tenn., on the evening of the 23rd inst., at the residence of Mrs. Robert, by the Rev. Mr. S. C. W., Mr. Wm. R. Foster, of Tusculum, was married to Miss Annie C. Gates, lately of Hopkinsville.

A friendly note from Rev. Dr. Strickland, of the First Baptist church, Nashville, informs us that the NEW ERA's report of the Fairview dedication was at fault in stating that he was in early life a member of the dramatic troupe to which Dr. Lottimer, an eminent Baptist clergyman of Chicago, belonged. The mistake arose from the fact that an actor of the same name, some years ago entered the pulpit. Dr. Strickland, and was never on the mimic stage at all, nor a player except in the broader and more philosophical sense in which the Japs are said to be.

"All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely actors."

News of the Rail and Other Matters. [Knoxville Cor. in Henderson Gl. Amer.] One day this week a brakeman, whose name we have not learned, fell from a car at Northville and fell on a block of wood, his back striking it, and he is now, it is said, dangerously, if not fatally, injured. At first his back was thought broken but such is found not to be the case but he is injured internally, and some doubt is entertained as to his recovery. Dr. Gardner is doing all in his power for his patient, also Dr. Eves, of Nashville, has been called here to give his opinion of the case.

One of the road officials informs us that this season forty thousand new ties have been used on this road. This taken in connection with the large amount of ballast shown great improvement in the track.

The track force has been reduced to three men and a foreman on each section, with the exception of one or two sections.

The safe burglars are again at their dirty work in our country. One day this week they made a raid on the store of Mr. George Davis, at Morton's, and by the use of powder opened the safe, and secured the contents, which were a few dollars, and the loss of the safe.
