DR. T. M. GRAVES VENERABLE PHYSICIAN DIED LAST WEEK.

One Of County's Oldest and Most Highly Esteemed Citizens.

HE CAME PEACEFULLY AT HOME ON INSTITUTE ST.

Was a Practicing Physician For Years and Had a Host Of Friends.

Dr. T. M. Graves, possibly one of the very best known men who ever lived in Calloway county, died at his home on Institute street last Saturday, about 12:30 o'clock of the infirmities of old age. Dr. Graves was born in Bedford county, Tennessee, in the year 1824 and was therefore 85 years old past. He commenced the practice of medicine at the age of 19 years in Tennessee. Soon after he moved to this county and continued to practice his profession. Later he moved to Texas where he resided several years and then again returned to Calloway where he continued to live until his death. He devoted over 50 years of his life to the profession of medicine and was skilled in his practice. He was a man of splendid attainments, devoted to his profession and many of our citizens today owe their health and possibly their lives to his ability. He retired from active business only about ten years ago since which time he has lived in retirement.

Dr. Graves was a gentleman of the old school, he won friends through sheer personal magnetism, and while he lived beyond the allotted three score and ten years, his death brings regret and sadness to the many citizens who knew him and loved him for his splendid manhood. Always attentive to his duties, yet with a heart full of sympathy and kindness his life was a benediction.

He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and a Mason.

He is survived by a wife and six children. Mrs. W. T. Sledd, Mrs. Boone Reed, of Benton, Misses Cora and Polly, Dr. Wildy, of this place, and Albert Graves, of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Sunday at 1 o'clock by Rev. H. B. Taylor, of the Baptist church. Interment was in the Dale grave yard.

Independence, Ky.

Editor Ledger.—I thought I would give you a few items from this neighborhood.

There is some sickness to note: Mrs. M. C. Burken is very sick with lung trouble.

Eulus Pucketta baby has pneumonia, but is better at this writing.

Lee Barnett has been sick for several days but is improving.

Oh my, hasn't it been muddy? We are glad to see the sunshine come out and dry the roads.

Plant bed burning and delivering tobacco is the order of the day.

F. P. Dukes and family, of Murray, are visiting here this week.

N. J. Donelson has sold his farm to John A. and Dewitt Hopkins and is talking of going west, but we think he will go east. On last Thursday night the doors of the hospitable home of G. W. Chapman were thrown open to Independence school and they came—big, little, old and young, and my, what a time. The young folks talked and laughed, the old folks laughed and talked, the children played, and Almus and Thurman Harris played the fiddle and guitar to a finish until about 10 o'clock when all bid adieu to host and hostess feeling that they had been royally entertained. Friday evening we all met at the school house for the closing exercises of W. R. Wilkerson's school. School opened with singing, after which we had some fine spelling. Then we had a short recess, during which the Harris string band rendered some fine music. Then came the time that pleases the little folks, a treat of oranges, apples and candy, which was enjoyed by both old and young. Then came the saddest part of all after several talks by patrons and teacher the parting hand was given. It was sad indeed to part with our dear teacher, but wherever he may go our love and prayers will follow him, and we gladly and cheerfully recommend him as being a kind neighbor, an honest and true christian man and a teacher of the highest ability. Therefore be it known that we, the trustee, patrons and pupils do recommend Billie Wilkerson to be an enthusiastic worker and a first rate teacher in every respect. It is a delight to be in his school room, he governs with kindness, but firmness. No district could make a mistake by employing him as his methods are far superior to the average teacher.

G. W. CHAPMAN, Trustee.

His first term will expire in April. During his first term Mr. Downs has done much to up-build the postoffice and is a popular citizen of Murray. Mr. Speight's Appointment.

Assurance of the appointment of J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, to be United States district attorney for the western district of Kentucky, brought back from Washington by Mr. F. M. Fisher, a gratifying news to the neighbors of Mr. Speight, as well as proof of the loyalty of President Taft to his friends. Mr. Speight is a man of high legal attainments and will ably handle the government's business in the court. Paducah attorneys, who have had occasion to practice before him, as special judge of the First judicial district, have returned with high praise for his courtesy and judicial qualities.

Aside from the eminent fitness of the selection, Mr. Taft could not be insensible to the part which the First Kentucky district played in the contest before his nomination for president, and sentiment is a quantity to be reckoned with even in politics.

Loaded Revolver in Hands of Eura Russell Accidentally Discharged.

ACCIDENT OCCURRED IN RYAN'S STORE AT ALMO.

Was Well Known Young Man and His Death a Shock to the Community.

Bradley Gibbs was accidentally shot and instantly killed last Monday night at Almo by Eura Russell, a fourteen year old boy.

The horrible accident occurred about 8 o'clock in Ryan & Co's store, where Gibbs and Russell were both employed.

Gibbs had just returned to the store from the postoffice in company with O. T. Weatherford, the Almo blacksmith.

It appears that a pistol belonging to Gibbs had been repaired by Weatherford. The revolver was not working just right and Weatherford was asked by Gibbs to accompany him to the store and see if he could locate the trouble. Upon reaching the store Gibbs took the pistol from a drawer under the counter and unloading it placed it upon the counter in reach of Weatherford. It was examined and returned to Gibbs who reloaded it and again placed it upon the counter. While Gibbs and Weatherford were examining another pistol young Russell picked up the loaded revolver and with the muzzle pointed toward Gibbs inquired if the hammer could be raised similar to the hammer of a shot gun. Gibbs replied yes, but cautioned the boy to be careful or he would kill somebody.

The boy not knowing the gun was loaded and evidently had the hammer raised and releasing it discharged the gun. The ball entered Gibbs' right breast and ran across the body striking the heart causing almost instant death.

A coroners inquest was held Tuesday morning and after an exhaustive inquiry the young boy was exonerated and death pronounced due to accident.

Bradley Gibbs was about 22 years of age and a son of Boaz Gibbs and wife, who live a few miles southwest of Murray. He had been a clerk in Ryan & Co's store of Murray for several years and was one of the most capable salesmen ever in the city. Aside from his splendid business capabilities he was a young man of noble moral ideas, agreeable, affable, pleasant and by his conduct won and kept scores of close friends. His sudden taking off was a terrible shock to his friends and the entire community. His mother was completely overcome with grief and her condition was critical for several days.

The remains were brought here Tuesday and immediately carried to his father's home. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock by Revs. Hamid and Rudd after which the interment took place in the Martins Chapel Cemetery.

Young Russell is grief stricken over the terrible accident, and his mother, Mrs. Cratus Fakes, was so shocked by the accident that medical attention was necessary. Fears are entertained that young Russell will become a nervous wreck.

BIG INSURANCE SWINDLE.

Well-Known Louisville Men Are Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud.

Louisville, Ky.—Details of what is believed to be the most amazing insurance swindle uncovered in recent years, entailing wholesale homicides, resulted in the arrest of Transat Officer John J. Keane, of the Louisville school board; P. T. Needham and Tim F. O'Leary, all widely known insurance men; and a conspiracy to defraud. The men were taken into custody by detectives on warrants sworn out by S. C. Renick, secretary-treasurer of the Commercial Life Insurance Co. of Indianapolis. Behind the warrants is a weird story, which, it is said by the prosecution, will reveal what the Guinness wholesale murder mystery pale into insignificance. Aaron Kohn, attorney for the insurance companies interested in the prosecution of the case, is authority for the statement that the story eventually will reveal the most harrowing tales of wholesale homicides. The entire case came to light through an investigation of the death of Walter Riden, a teacher, who died two weeks ago. It is said that insurance policies upon the lives of dozens of good and decent people in Louisville have been taken out by promoters of the scheme without the slightest knowledge of those insured.

Wathen against the brokerage firm of Hunt, Bridgeford & Co. was not sustained.

WORTH KNOWING.

Simple Remedy That Anyone Can Prepare at Home.

Most people are more or less subject to coughs and colds. A simple remedy that will break up a cold quickly and cure any cough that is curable is made by mixing two ounces of glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Peppermint and eight ounces of pure Whisky. You can get these in any good drug store and easily mix them in a large bottle. The mixture is highly recommended by the Leach Chemical Co. of Cincinnati, who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Peppermint pure for distilling.

VERY LIKELY.

Notly—They say he has turned over a new leaf.

Notly—He's so economical I'm afraid he'll use the same one over again.

PARIS CITIZENS LYNCH ROBBERS

MILITARY IS FINDING IT DIFFICULT TO CARE FOR THE HUNGRY POPULACE

200,000 PEOPLE ARE HOMELESS

City Must Proceed With Caution, Owing to Condition of Subways—All Will Be Examined by Civil Engineers.

Paris, Feb. 1.—A reign of crime and pillage, instigated by thieves and "Apaches," is sweeping the flooded, devastated sections of Paris and its suburbs, despite the vigilance of thousands of soldiers and police.

The increasing depredations have so enraged the people that they are taking the law into their own hands and are fighting with the authorities who attempt to save the looters from the people's wrath.

At Allenville Monday a boat containing four Apaches was chased by a boatload of marines. A revolver battle was fought between the crews, the looters' boat finally being sunk by the fire of the marines.

Two of the robbers were drowned, one was captured by a police boat. The lynching of the pirates was narrowly averted by the gendarmes.

Thief Dragged by Rope. A thief arrested at Ivry attempted to sink the boat of his captors, who tied a rope to the robber, threw him overboard and dragged him through the icy waters for three-quarters of an hour. The man was so chilled when finally taken from the water that it is believed he will die.

An attempt to lynch a looter here in Paris was prevented by the arrival of the police, who cut the man down just in time to save his life. The act of the officers so enraged the people that they turned on them and fought a pitched battle.

Eight robbers barricaded themselves in a deserted hotel and for more than an hour held at bay the mob that sought their lives. The gendarmes finally gained entrance to the building and overpowered the bandits. Many other robberies have been reported.

Paris, Feb. 1.—With 200,000 persons actually homeless in Paris, and the environs, and 300,000 without employment, with hundreds still imperiled by the flood, and acute distress on every hand, the government announced that it has the situation well in hand.

This statement means no more than that the crisis from the flood itself has passed and that, if everything goes well and none of the threatened dangers materialize, the city is in a position to recover from the blow that has fallen on it.

The Seine is receding, but only at the rate of half an inch an hour. The stage at midnight, at the Pont d'Austerlitz, was 26 feet and 9 inches. At 2 o'clock the stage was 26 feet and 5 inches. The temperature at noon was 84.

Provinces Also Suffer. In the towns and provinces conditions are as deplorable as here. At St. Germain, a town of 30,000, it is estimated that 2,000 persons are destitute and suffering. Nearly every city and hamlet along the rivers of eastern and southern France is in the same condition.

Military activities continued unabated in Paris. The soldiers' work is chiefly to guard endangered property from the idle crowd that swarms the city and to distribute food to the destitute.

Sidewalks Cave In. That there is still great danger of further catastrophes in the undermining of the streets and buildings was shown by the collapse of the sidewalks of the Rue St. Lazare and Cau Martin.

The sidewalks were precipitated into the subway. The street paving has been added to the large section of the city that has been roped off and barred to the public.

Paris' biggest rebuilding job will be in her many miles of subway that have been almost completely swayed. It will be several months before the subway connections are re-established. Every mile of Paris' underground traffic system will have to be examined carefully by engineers before trains will be permitted to run.

Road supplies are delivered at hundreds of houses in boats, nearly all of the big stores have substituted "boat lines" for their delivery wagons.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—Alderman Dennis J. Ryan will present to the City Council Monday an ordinance prohibiting the cold storage men from keeping their supplies more than 60 days. ## EXPECT TO EXHUME BODY

JURY'S REQUEST IN VAUGHN CASE SAID TO HAVE BEEN SENT.

CORONER WILL ACT ON PROSECUTOR'S ADVICE, DESPITE FAMILY'S WISHES

Paris, Mo., Feb. 1.—An official request is said to be on the way to Coroner Wilson at Holiday, asking him to exhume the body of the late Prof. J. T. Vaughn from the St. Jude cemetery at Monroe City. Coroner Wilson is expected to receive it Monday.

Prosecuting Attorney Rejiger of Adair county is expected to arrive late Monday or Tuesday morning and confer with the coroner as to when the exhumation shall take place.

Legal Battle Expected. The prosecuting attorney anticipates a legal battle in the exhumation proceedings as two of the most influential families in Monroe county are fighting each other for possession of the body. The coroner, it is said, will act regardless of whether Mrs. Vaughn, the widow, gives her consent.

In this he will follow the advice of his counsel, Prosecuting Attorney Fuller of Monroe county.

The latter says all the pressure brought to bear on the coroner could not cause him to depart from a lota of his duty.

Mrs. Vaughn has been invited by the State to participate in the exhumation. If she does not do so, the state will act independently. Prosecuting Attorney Fuller says Coroner Wilson can find every Monroe county witness to the Adair county court.

The Adair County Grand Jury, however, must submit evidence to the Monroe County Coroner's jury to establish the presumption there is poison in the organs of the dead educator.

State Made Reservation. In the offer of the state, Mr. Vaughn was to be allowed to choose a physician to represent her at the exhumation. The state, however, reserved the right to remove the stomach and other organs from the body and to send them to an expert for a quantitative and qualitative analysis.

No reply had been received early Monday through the Proctor family, which planned to hold a conference at Monroe City Monday afternoon. The Vaughn family is insisting on the disinterment of the body and an investigation as to the cause of death. Dr. J. B. Vaughn of Castlewood, N. D., is the spokesman of the family.

FREE IMPORTS INCREASE

Department of Commerce and Labor Statistics Show 51.5 Per Cent Is New Average.

Washington, Feb. 1.—That more than half of the merchandise imported under the new tariff law enters the United States free of duty is shown by a statement of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, now made public.

The new act went into effect Aug. 6, 1909, but the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor shows only full months in statements of imports and exports.

Taking the full month of August, the share of the imports entering free of duty was 46.72 per cent; in September, 49.25 per cent; in October, 50.61 per cent; in November, 54.11 per cent, and in December, 55.96 per cent, the average for the entire five months period being 51.5 per cent. This is a larger percentage of imports free of duty than under any prior law of this character, except the act of 1890, which, admitting sugar free of duty, showed an unusually high proportion of nondutiable imports.

GLAVIS AGAIN CENTRAL FIGURE

Claims Commissioner of Land Ballinger, Now Secretary of Interior, Acted as Attorney for Kinkaid.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Explaining his conviction with Alaska coal claims as brought out in the Hallinger-Pinchot investigation, Representative Kinkaid of California Monday mentioned Gov. Gillett and Representative Knowland and McKinley of California as being interested in the proposition with himself, and Representative Kinkaid of Nebraska and a number of others.

Louis R. Glavis, it is expected, again will be a central figure Monday when the congressional committee resumes its investigation of the facts in the Hallinger-Pinchot controversy.

Glavis, in his testimony given at Saturday's session, made statements regarding Representative McLachlan of California and Kinkaid of Nebraska, in connection with certain Alaska coal land claims that those men or their friends will not permit to pass without challenge. It is expected Glavis will be subjected to a hot fire of interrogatories when he resumes the stand.

After being Commissioner of the Land Office, Ballinger, now Secretary of the Interior, acted as attorney for Kinkaid, according to Glavis. As to McLachlan, Glavis testified that Ballinger had suggested to him that the investigation against the California congressman be dropped, as there had been "too much of that sort of thing in the past."

ARE IN AIR ON PRIMARY

ILLINOIS HOUSE MEASURES TO BE OPPOSED

Probability of Bill Being Defeated in House—Senate Offering May Then Be Amended.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—The general belief is that a primary election bill of some kind will pass the lower branch of the Illinois legislature this week.

It may be the measure ordered to a third reading last Wednesday. This bill does not please the fifty-two members, who voted for the Shurtliff substitute, and it doesn't suit several of the eighty-six members who rejected themselves against the Shurtliff bill.

The situation is thus: If ten of the eighty-six, who fought Shurtliff's substitute, refuse to support the House bill of Tuesday, it will be beaten. The only thing left for the House will be to take up the Senate bill and amend it.

The Senate undoubtedly will refuse to concur. A conference committee probably will then be appointed and a bill of some kind evolved from the debris.

The main points of difference between the House measure and Senate bill are: Senate bill provides that the voters shall decide by direct vote the number of candidates each party shall nominate for the House; the House bill authorizes the senatorial committee of each party to determine the number. Both authorize cumulative voting.

The Senate bill contains the blanket ballot provision, which permits a voter to enter the booth without stating his politics. The House defeated this amendment to its bill.

The House will consider the commission form of city government question on second reading, and woman suffrage also is on the boards.

For equipment and extensions $45,000,000 more have been spent, making $80,000,000 in all. The new system will cost $100,000,000 to core and when ready for operation, with all stations built and an adequate equipment of power houses and cars, will demand in all the stupendous sum of $240,000,000. This outlay will be on tracks but little more than 26 miles long, so the average cost per mile will approximate $9,237,650.

FARMERS TAKE NOTICE

The Boarhead brand of Fertilizer will be handled at the same price this year as last year, and on the same plan. I do not see any place to better it, and save you and myself. If you do, let it be known and we will act accordingly. There were seven cars ordered last year, (105 tons) and they run out before the season was over. The boardhead stood the test in 1908 and 1909, by the side of various brands used. Some one may ask how came this move to get up among the farmers? It was due to the association. Three years ago they thought came to their minds, why not handle our own fertilizer and save the middle man's profit? We began writing to get it through to the factories for our goods. The answer came. "We don't know you." The very men who ought to have been known long ago. "The other fellow has worked the fertilizer trade up and we can't give it to the farmer." So we wrote the third letter before we got what we wanted. They asked us to refer them to our county judge and magistrate of our district. We did so at once. After investigating they sent us a man from the factory to give us the agency and draw up contract. We asked for the best regardless of price, and we got Boarhead brand. It is the best. The farmers can meet me every 4th Monday at the Farmers & Merchants bank, at Murray. Other times by either phone.

A STARTLING STATEMENT.

New York Medical Authorities Claim Dyspepsia to be a Pre-Disposing Cause of Consumption.

The post mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due, at least indirectly, to unchecked dyspepsia, especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain. The weakened, irritable stomach being unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result, the body becomes a fertile field in which the germs of disease may lodge and flourish.

Therefore, the person who permits dyspepsia to progress unhindered is guilty of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal diseases known to mankind.

Dyspepsia may be completely eradicated if properly treated. We sell a remedy that we positively guarantee will completely relieve indigestion or dyspepsia, or the medicine used during the trial will cost the user nothing.

This remedy has been named Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no offer could be more fair, and our offer should be proof positive that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable remedy.

Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you, we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. A 25-cent box contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. For chronic cases we have two larger sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Murray only at our store.—The Rexall Store. Dale & Stubblefield's.

Love Controls

Neither Husband Nor Wife Rule

By HELEN OLDFIELD

WHEN a man who contemplates being married seriously asks how he shall "manage" his future wife, it may safely be predicted that there is trouble in store for her. People who want to manage each other ought not to marry.

The husband's duty is to "love, cherish and protect," the wife's to "love, honor and obey." Because every government must have a nominal head, the husband, being physically the stronger of the two, is regarded as the responsible head of the family, but the loving obedience to his wishes which a wife owes her husband is in no way incompatible with perfect equality between man and wife.

If a woman does not look up to her husband and in all things fitting defer to his judgment, it usually is the man's own fault. From the days of Eve, wives, for the most part, have proved amenable to the law laid down for the first woman:

"Thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee." Any woman who loves a man will do all she can to please him; it is the joy of her life to make him happy.

But when the rule is selfish and unreasonable, foolishly indulgent one day and tyrannically unjust the next day, what wonder that wives rebel and fail to obey where they are unable to honor?

There never yet was a woman, from palace to hovel, with whom praise and kisses were not more effective than curses and blows. The man who is tenderly considerate of the wife who loves him, who recognizes her efforts to please him, who is patient with her mistakes, may make of her pretty much what he pleases, limited only by her capacity. In justice to the men, it must be said that scarcely any of them are willfully unkind to the women whom they marry. They are thoughtless, preoccupied, ignorant of women's ways, and sometimes selfish. They do not think it worth while to bother with the trifles which make up the sum of a woman's life.

When husband and wife truly love each other there can be no struggle for supremacy between the "two souls with but a single thought," whose greatest joy is found in each other. While husband and wife each have separate duties which the other is unable to perform, their interests are identical, and together they must stand or fall. Whatever injuries the one necessarily inflicts on the other, the other must hurt the other, and neither can wholly clear their skirts of the consequences of the acts of the other. Neither can anything benefit the one and not accrue to the advantage of the other. "It is ill quarreling between the bark and the tree," says the old proverb with reference to man and wife.

Making Mortal of "The Goddess"

By LEA REYNOLDS

In "our office"—we all call it that, from the proprietor, who spends his odd time in looking up Scotch ancestry that he can in some way annex as a family tree—there is a division manager whom we call the "goddess," who has (or had) an idea that she knows it all.

This, in an office where there are some ten girls, all keenly alive to what is going on in the world outside and each having her own special hobby, is sometimes resented. One day at an office gabfest they one and all decided this same know-it-all manager should be taught she did not know it all. Now this manager seldom left her office during the luncheon hour, bringing her toothsome luncheon from a well-filled, home-cooked table, while these girls for the most part ruled over no one thing except hope, in their hearts, but sat at a restaurant table and cooked appetizing dishes in their own rooms when they had time.

Bright, sparkling eyes had the first girl who was to try the scheme upon the "Goddess," as she came in one noon hour. She made chance to talk with the "Goddess" and so had her beyond her depths in the discussion of some intricate problem. This wise girl related her experience to the other girls and from that on about once a week some one of the girls would begin to talk science, politics, arts, craft, books, picture exhibits, and one thing and another as their line of knowledge lay.

It was not long until every girl in that office saw the gains she had made in her own favor. Since that time the "Goddess" has grown more tolerant of those girls, many of whom are her superiors (in many ways) and now knows that other girls have some other way of spending their time than in mere chatter.

They have opened up a new world to the manager and shown her that she is not the only one who knows a thing or two. We may be all right in our own line of knowledge, but the world is a vast place of many sorts, as are its pleasures, but we, like the "Goddess," are densely ignorant of that which the other fellow knows and because he does not know our own pet hobbies, or line of work, our interests, or "butterflying," as the French call pleasuring, we must not condemn him as ignorant.

High School Pupils Poor Writers

By J. H. BACHTERKEIRCHER of Lafayette, Ind.

We first taught how to write and how to teach others to write, and this is not a difficult thing to do if it is done about in the right way. Every teacher must know, and know that she knows, and this is the special work of the specialists.

Good, plain, practical writing is easily acquired if efforts now put forth are properly systematized. Too often the writing is neglected because little interest is shown in the subject by school authorities.

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT

Pathetic. Well Made by Mr. Kreezes
Will Stir Every Sympathetic Heart.

Mr. Kreezes, the multi-millionaire, was entertaining a friend at his elegant country home. "I was born and brought up in this neighborhood," he said, "and when I was a boy I used to think what a fine thing it would be to have a house on this hill. It's the highest point of ground, you will notice, within a circuit of several miles, and the view from here is extensive."

"It is magnificent!" exclaimed the visitor.

"Yes, and when the time came that I could afford it, I gratified my childish ambition by buying the land round here and putting up this house."

"I have been in a great many places, and I have never seen a finer landscape than this."

"That's what I liked to think, but I don't like it now as well as I did when I was a boy."

"What makes the difference?"

"It isn't complete."

"Not complete? Why, you own the landscape, don't you?"

"That's the trouble. I own all of it but that 30-acre patch over there beyond the creek, about 50 miles away. The old carnaughton that owns it won't sell it to me at any figure."

And Mr. Kreezes sighed dolefully. Youth's Companion

GOLF PROBLEM OF INTEREST

Introducing a Cow, a Swallowed Ball and Sundry Whacks, What Was the Score?

The new assistant secretary of the treasury, James Freeman Curtis, was, while at Harvard, the intercollegiate golf champion of America.

"Curtis was in my class," said a Harvard man the other day, "and he often amused me with his golf problems. This is one of them:

"Two men, A and B, were at the third tee. A made a superb drive but a cow swallowed his ball, whereupon he whacked her with his club to such good purpose that she advanced and disgorged the ball at the edge of the third hole, and he holed out with one more stroke and claimed the hole in two."

"But B said:

"No, your score is not two, it is 12."

"Now so?" said A, indignantly.

"Because," said B, "you hit the cow with your drive 15 times. That, plus your drive and putt, makes 17 exactly."

AGE BEFORE HONESTY.

This adage has recently had application in Switzerland. A woman 40 years old became engaged to a man ten years her junior. Evidently she thought if he knew the true state of affairs he would not marry her.

She produced her certificate of birth, according to the requirements of Swiss law, it was discovered that she had changed 1868 to 1878. For this almost pardonable fraud she had to appear before the assizes at Basle.

The jury thought little of the offense, and her fiancé still less. She was awarded only a nominal imprisonment, and left the court with her lover. It is said that her good looks were not an unimportant factor in the jury's decision.

TEACHING ALONG NEW LINES.

Schools have just been opened in England to teach women the art of canvassing voters. There are about ninety of these schools scattered throughout the country, all of which are conducted by the Primrose League, the Anti-Socialist Union, the Women's Liberal Association and Younger suffragists.

HOMEOPATHIC AFFLICTION.

JUST A WOMAN

"Why do you look at me like that, Ken? I'm only flesh and blood, you know, just like any other girl."

"Oh, no, you are more beautiful than any other girl," replied Kenneth Mayes impetuously. "Far more beautiful!"

They were standing together in front of the fireplace, and now that they were once more alone, after long days of absence, they felt that they must unburden their minds to one another, come what might.

"Do you know, you frighten me sometimes," said the girl slowly, after a pause, "because you're so dreadfully in earnest. Do you mean it?"

"Of course I mean it."

"Oh, Ken, you silly boy! Why, how long have you known me, sir? About thirteen weeks, isn't it? And, of course, I've been on my best behavior all the time. You've only seen one side of me—the amiable side. You haven't seen me just as I am—at home, with the mother and sister."

"But I hope to. You will introduce me?"

"Oh, of course. I've no horrid crimes to confess. Just a few little peccadilloes, that's all. Now, instead of hugging a delusion to your heart"

It was long before he met her again. Mrs. Prentice and her daughters had gone abroad and had not returned. It was a time of wretchedness and misery for Kenneth. In spite of all, he loved her still. Perhaps he had been busy. Certainly he had not asked for her side of the story. Anyway, he must see her again.

The Prentices arrived back one evening, and the next morning Madge got a wire:

"May I come?"

"Will, Ken," she said, after she had allowed him to babble incoherently for several minutes, "are you sure now?"

"That I cannot live without you? Why, yes, of course, otherwise—"

"No, no—sure that you know me for what I am—just a woman, a faulty woman, and not a—"

The door opened slowly and a woman's form appeared on the threshold.

"I beg your pardon, I thought—"

"Come in, Kate, come in. I want to introduce you to Mr. Mayes, Kenneth, my sister, Kate."

Kenneth was staring so hard at the lady that for a moment he did not see the proffered hand.

Miss Prentice was frail and delicate, obviously an invalid. But in health she must have been the very picture of Madge—only four years older.

"I'm glad to see you," she said, "Madge has told me about you—that you were a great friend of Mr. Carrow's. I am glad to welcome any friend of his." Then she slipped away as quietly as she had come.

"You mustn't blame her, Ken. She suffered as much as he did. She nearly died. She has never been well since. No, you wouldn't understand it, but I don't blame you for that. It was a sad—sad mistake for both of them. Leave it there."

"Then it wasn't you at all?"

"No."

"But why did you let me think it was?"

"You misunderstood—jumped to the conclusion; and then—well, it was a woman's whim. I saw a chance to try whether you really loved me—me, or the dream woman—not the real woman, but the ideal woman."

"Madge? And you let me go through—"

"Have I gone through nothing loving you as I did? Why, the very first time, sir, you merely thought I was wrong—yes, and without wanting or waiting to see, you blamed me, me, the perfect woman. Oh, Ken!"

"Still, I don't think it was quite right of you to let me believe what wasn't really true," he said, glad to have something to urge against her.

"She told me," he said, "that she cried again. 'I don't defend it. But, forgive me, dear boy, forgive me! And be thankful that you'll have just a woman for a wife, and not a spotless, flawless goddess that you couldn't even forgive.'"

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. THE NEW COIFFURE.

"My hair exactly like a turban, isn't it?"

"Exactly. You can even take it off."

Knew the Calendar.

They were little girls, so small that the teacher was telling them about divisions of time, and reciting all sorts of answers to her simple questions. The little girl who lived in a board ing house was a year older than any of the others.

"We have learned that years are divided into months, months into weeks, and weeks into days," said the teacher. "Now can any one tell me how the days are divided?"

The little girl who lived in a boarding house raised her hand, and was asked to speak.

"Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, best," she said, glibly; "Friday, fish; Saturday, corned beef and beans; and Sunday, chicken."—Youth's Companion

An Educational Problem.

Little Margery has just begun to go to the kindergarten, and is filled with a due sense of the importance of her studies there and the solemn value of the attainments that have thus been put within her reach. The other afternoon, after coming home from school, she remained in a room study for a time, and then said: "Mamma, do I know as much now as I don't know?"

HARD TO DROP.

But Many Drop It.

A young Calif. wife talks about coffee: "It was hard to drop Mocha and Java, and give Postum a trial, but my nerves were so shattered that I was a nervous wreck and of course that means all kinds of ails."

"At first I thought bicycle riding caused it and I gave it up. But my condition remained unchanged. I did not want to acknowledge coffee caused the trouble for I was very fond of it. At that time a friend came to live with us, and I noticed that after he had been with us a week he would not drink his coffee any more. I asked him the reason. He replied, 'I have not had a headache since I left off drinking coffee, some months ago, till last week, when I began again, here at your table.' I don't see how anyone can like coffee, anyway, after drinking Postum!"

"I said nothing, but at once ordered a package of Postum. That was five months ago, and we have drank no coffee since, except on two occasions when we had company, and the result each time was that my husband could not sleep, but lay awake and tossed and talked half the night. We were convinced that coffee caused his suffering, so he returned to Postum, and instead of a friend, and he is troubled no more with insomnia."

I myself have gained 8 pounds in weight, and my nerves have ceased to quiver. It seems so easy now to quit coffee that caused our aches and ails and take up Postum."

Read the little book "The Road to Wellville," in place of "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? It is a true story, from time to time. There are accounts, from, and full of names interested.

THE POWER BEHIND

POINT THAT VOTERS WOULD LIKE TO UNDERSTAND.

What is the hidden influence that enables Aldrich to secure legislation so inimical to the public good?

Nelson Winthrop Aldrich's attitude in the United States senate is well known. His consistent advocacy of high protection to the point of excluding all imports to his home, his continuous and valiant service for the monopolizing of money and manufacture in the United States.

But the great political mystery of the United States is the unseen power that forces other senators and representatives to do Aldrich's bidding in stead of the bidding of their constituents, to accept his judgment instead of their own, to vote as he dictates and not according to the promptings of their individual consciences.

What is behind Aldrichism? This question must be answered to the satisfaction of western voters, if the Republican party expects to appeal with success for their support in the congressional election.

This is the great What-lit of American politics. In the house of representatives and in the senate this hidden influence is continuously exerted to secure legislation which is not approved by the great mass of American people. Its virtue of some occult and imperceptible qualification it permeates even the White House.

Roosevelt, free trader of 1881, occupies the White House for seven years without the least endeavor to reduce the tariff. Taft, advocate of tariff reduction in his campaign for western votes, signed the Aldrich bill, which increased, and did not reduce the tariff burden.

The great mystery of American politics is hidden somewhere behind all these things. One of these days the public will find a short cut to the secret.

The Cost of Living. Two senators, Elkins of West Virginia, and Crawford of South Dakota, are to be numbered among the legislators affected with curiosity to learn the reason of the increased cost of living, of which they have heard. They too, have introduced resolutions providing for a congressional investigation.

When a committee shall have been properly appointed to this end, it will do well to secure a copy of the solemn promise made by the Republican party in national convention assembled, to make the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad the measure of protection. Let that be marked "Exhibit A."

Then let it obtain a copy of the Aldrich tariff bill and mark that "Exhibit B."

When "Exhibit B" shall be carefully studied in the light of "Exhibit A," some light will be thrown on the cause of the increase in the cost of living.

Plan Return of Roosevelt. There is a growing belief that Hitchcock and Wickersham are advising the president to wipe out every vestige of the Roosevelt administration. That belief has been accompanied by a widespread and by no means inaudible demand for the "return of Roosevelt." The passing of Pinchot marks the violent departure of the last of the men upon whom Roosevelt placed his chief reliance and who were the personification of his policies. If it be a fact that Pinchot planned to force the president's hand that fact in no wise changes the political situation.

"Powerful Influences." The truth seems to be that Mr. Hitchcock had Mr. Roosevelt's own part in the business in mind when he wrote that letter of November 30, 1906, putting on record this statement of the "powerful influences" that had been exerted to weaken the hands of the law. We believe there is no other similar record of a charge like this having been brought by a cabinet officer against any president of the United States.—Hartford Times.

Game Is Hard to Beat. The 20,000 Ohio families who have plighted themselves to abstain from eating meat must bear in mind that by boycotting beef they will help to make hides scarcer and dearer, and thus raise the price of shoes, according to the logic of shoe manufacturers. And if they cease to eat mutton will they not pay more for woolen goods in the end? The game of squeezing the consumer has many variations.

The Taft administration is now fully and irrevocably committed to the support of Canonism and Aldrichism, and must stand or fall with them. Which it will be there can be little doubt.

Democratic Opportunity. Senator Culham rises up the situation in Illinois about right when he says that the time is at hand for the Republicans over them to quit "fussing among ourselves" and get into shape to "apply all our fighting energies to the Democrats." While the Democrats of Illinois have been tolerably quick the few years they have only been getting well reared for a tussle that will let both Republican machines know there is something doing.

"MILKED" BY NEW ENGLAND

Statistic Presented in the Senate Showed Systematic Robbery of the West.

During the discussion on textile subsidies in the senate the New England senators made repeated attempts to refute the charge that eastern mill owners have been outrageously "protected" at the expense of the rest of the nation.

Generalities ceased when Senator Gore of Oklahoma took the floor. This slighted representative of the nation's youngest state simply quoted facts and figures. But his array of both was so complete, so convincing that he was through. The eastern mill bosses, special pets of the Aldrich group, stood pilloried as tariff leeches.

Gore proved by simple recitation of statistics that the textile mills of New England had paid enormous dividends year after year as a direct result of excessive "protection." He proved that this had been going on for about a generation, or since the nation went on a protective tariff basis.

If it is true, as reported, that Mr. Taft is getting tired of the way congress is acting it comes pretty near making it unanimous.

Only 70 Per Cent. Seventy per cent of the through rate—that is what Secretary of War Dickinson is reported to have concluded to pay the Pacific Mail Steamship company "on freight transportation in either direction between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts via the isthmus of Panama."

The government owns and operates the steamship line on the Atlantic. It owns and operates the Panama rail road and instead of completing the chain of transportation by establishing a line of its own on the Pacific, the government will pay 70 per cent of the through rate to a connection which is one of the tools whereby extortionate transcontinental freight charges are maintained.

What has converted Illinois Central Dickinson into such a rabid corporation buster? How did he resist the pressure to give the Pacific Mail 90 per cent? Write his name in rubrics.—Los Angeles Express.

President Taft's charter and railroad suggestions may be all right, but they are too satisfactory to Senator Aldrich to inspire spontaneous confidence out west.

Country with the Minority. There has been practically no opposition party in national politics in recent years. This is one of the reasons that congress has failed to meet the necessities of the tariff and trust situations as they have developed. The action of the Republican caucus in congress in denying to the democracy the right to name its own caucus members of the Halling Investigating committee is in effect an effort still further to weaken the opposition. Fortunately, the reaction is likely to add numbers and strength to the opposition. Minorities may temporarily be wiped out by force, but majorities have no control over human nature, and mankind naturally likes fair play and a fair chance for the under dog.

Six nations have now formally secured a minimum tariff from the United States. Isn't it about time that it should give itself a minimum in stead of a maximum?

Should Not Waste Money. Congressman Miller's bill to abolish the Indian warehouses, in the interests of economy, is only a beginning on what should be done by the government. There are many useless pension agencies throughout the country. There are useless land offices, useless navy yards and naval stations, and worse than useless revenue offices. All such at which the expense of maintenance is out of proportion to the business done should be abolished. It is absurd to spend millions that serve no purpose except to give jobs to a few political appointees.

Wall street concluded to accept smilingly the Taft message on rail roads and trusts, believing that the gum-shoeing magnates will destroy it piece by piece in the senate.

Interested? Certainly. "Believing that you are interested in the enactment of a ship subsidy law," begins a communication received by the Courier-Journal from the press bureau of the Washington lobby. We interrupt to say that the Courier-Journal is opposed to those thieves and all other kinds of thieves.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Pennsylvania brakeman lost a portion of his brain without suffering any apparent ill effects. He should be especially well qualified now to serve as a Cannon congressman.

Limit of Credulity. The president believes that the Payne tariff is the best tariff ever enacted; which recalls the old story of the man who approached Sydney Smith with the remark: "Mr. Robinson, I believe 'Sir' was the reply. 'If you believe that you will believe anything.'—Providence Journal.

DOCTOR'S BEST FORMULA

This prescription will frequently cure the worst cold in a day's time and it is a sure cure for any rough that can be cured. "Two ounces glycerine, half ounce concentrated pine. Put these into half a pint of good whiskey and use in doses of teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours. Shake bottle well each time." Any druggist has these ingredients in stock or will quickly get them from his wholesale house. The Concentrated Pine is a special pine product and comes only in half ounce vials each enclosed in an air tight case. But be sure it is labeled "Concentrated." ## SCRATCHED SO SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

"I write to tell you how thankful I am for the wonderful Cuticura Remedies. My little niece had eczema for five years and when her mother died I took care of the child. It was all over her face and body, also on her head. She scratched so that she could not sleep nights. I used Cuticura Soap to wash her with and then applied Cuticura Ointment. I did not use quite half the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, together with Cuticura Resolvent, when you could see a change and they cured her nicely. Now she is eleven years old and has never been bothered with eczema since. My friends think it is just great the way the baby was cured by Cuticura. I send you a picture taken when she was about 18 months old."

"She was taken with the eczema when two years old. She was covered with big sores and her mother had all the best doctors and tried all kinds of salves and medicines without effect until we used Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. H. Kiernan, 663 Quincy St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 27, 1909."

Rather Tall. "That," said Senator Tillman of an opponent's argument, "is an amusing exaggeration."

He smiled. "In fact," he continued, "it is as bad an exaggeration as the story about Ben Johnson's height. They said of Ben, you know, the candidate for sheriff, that when he made a stump speech, instead of getting a stump ready for him to mount, they would, because he was so tall, dig a hole for him to stand in."

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Murray People Know How to Save It.

Many Murray people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

H. M. Parks, of Waverly, Ky., says: "For twenty years I was a victim of kidney complaint. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells during which my sight became blurred and I felt tired and languid. The passages of the kidney secretions were too frequent and I was forced to arise several times at night. Whenever I caught cold it settled on my kidneys and aggravated my trouble. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and after using them a short time, I noticed great relief. The contents of three boxes completely cured me. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Dale & Stubblefield's drug store, and am always glad to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

MISFORTUNE OVERTAKES A MAN WHO FOUND FORTUNE

Charley Wells Adjudged of Unsound Mind and Sent to the Asylum.

Charley Wells, son of Columbus Wells, was adjudged of unsound mind in Judge Patterson's court last Monday and was ordered to the Western Kentucky Asylum, at Hopkinsville.

About two years ago while employed in excavating for a saw mill in Ballard county Wells unearthed an iron pot containing more than $5,000 in gold and silver coin. The money had evidently been buried many years before and the find attracted wide attention. It was necessary to place the money on deposit for several months to await a claimant before the finder could establish the ownership. The money was placed in the vault of the Wickliffe bank where it remained the required length of time and was then turned over to Wells. He discovered that the coins were very old and soon disposed of them to coin collectors throughout the country at a figure that netted him a total of nearly $10,000.

Wells has been traveling extensively since and only recently returned to his father's home west of town. His condition is regretted by all who know him.

Oddities in Invention.

Moving pictures are produced, as it is well known, by a film traveling with intermittent motion before a projector or lantern which throws successive views on the screen. The same result could be obtained if the pictures were stationary and the audience itself were in motion, so as to view the pictures successively. An ingenious inventor has hit upon this scheme to relieve the monotony of subway travel. He proposes to mount a continuous band of pictures at each side of the subway, and have these pictures successively illuminated, by means of lamps placed behind them. The circuits of the lamps would be successively closed, by means of a shoe upon the subway car engaging contact plates at each side of the track.—Scientific American.
