THE LISTENING POST

● I will cheerfully confess that I can't get all hot and bothered and interested in the comings and goings, the joys and the sorrows of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. The gentleman in question, it will be remembered, was at one time King of England and because of the pressure of his love affair with one Wallis Simpson, gave up the throne to his brother, who now holds the job in perhaps the darkest hour of British history. The former King at once married his Wallis, and since that time his life work has not been anything to grow enthusiastic over.

● When the war broke out the Duke was given some sort of place in the British Army and for a time served as liaison officer with British and French troops in France. Newspaper correspondents did their best to make a hero out of him in this necessary work, and at one time I seem to remember a story which stated that the former King was restless and eager to have some real front line service with his beloved troops. About that time the German blitz got to rolling and things began to happen swiftly for the one time King. Just when it seemed that every British soldier must die at his post, when the armies were being battered back towards the sea, when France was being systematically ground to pieces, it was gravely announced that the Duke and Duchess had gone to Cannes for a rest. Well, a rest at such times is something a lot of folks would like to enjoy, and no doubt many of the British Tommies who died in the flaming hell of the Channel ports might have liked to pack up and get out. But they could not and did not. They stuck with the job, and out of defeat wrote one of the glorious pages of British history in the evacuation of a great army under deadly fire. While this was going on the former King and his spouse enjoyed their rest far removed from such messy things as war and death and bloodshed.

● After the great evacuation was over, and when the Germans were swiftly choking France to death, it was announced that the former King had resigned his post with the British army. Then it was announced that he had not, and then again it was reported for a second time, then it was announced that the couple had decided to go to Spain, which was one of the few remaining safe places in Europe. To Spain they did go, and for a time remained there, with faithful newspaper writers still trying to keep the Windsor halo on the former King. Why they did not wish to remain in Spain is unknown, but it might be that they saw signs of war there and felt it would be best to spare their own feelings by going elsewhere.

● So, it was suddenly announced that the Duke had been made Governor of the Bahamas, a post as far removed from war as could be secured, and with the great pomp and ceremony the couple set out on their journey, closely guarded by ships of the Royal Navy. There they are today, and press reports now say that both are poised to death with life in the island possession of England. The Duke has been bothered by the heat and has had to hunt a cooler portion of the island, his mate is worried over the matter of clothing and hair dressing in that remote spot. So, dress-makers and hair dressers are flying posthaste down to the Bahamas from New York and other places and Wallis will perhaps be happy if the rum and egg dressing that is planned for her hair proves good.

● In the meantime, in Edward's home land, the land he once ruled over and the land where he was born, hundreds, thousands of men and women are dying from German bombs. May I be pardoned for not getting excited over the fact that the Duke and his mate are a shade bored with life just now?

Barkley Asks String Of Bases For Canal

Praises Offer Of Bermuda
Sound

Washington, —Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic Senate Leader, said Sunday that this country ought to acquire "a whole string" of air and navy bases guarding the Panama Canal.

Commenting upon the disclosure in Bermuda that the Great Sound there would be made available to the United States for an air base and possibly for a naval base, the Senator told newsmen:

"I think it's a very fine indication of the spirit of those who control Bermuda to offer it to us."

Mentions Newfoundland
He added that the Bermuda site was only one of many which this country ought to acquire. Recalling that the British islands of Newfoundland, Trinidad, Barbados and the Bahamas had all been mentioned in reports concerning negotiations for the acquisition of additional bases, Barkley said the location of bases was a military and technical matter which he was not competent to discuss.

"But we ought to have a whole string of bases along the islands guarding the Panama Canal," he declared.

Asked About Guiana Base
Such a string would conceivably include Trinidad, near the Northern coast of South America; Barbados, about 200 miles to the northeast, and the Bahama Islands about the same distance east of Miami, Fla.

Thirteen players have been eliminated in the golf tournament for the championship of the Fulton Country club and the tournament has now progressed to the quarter-finals, several matches being played yesterday.

In the first bracket, L. O. Carter who defeated P. T. Jones in the first round, was beaten by Clyde Williams, Jr., who beat Jack Moore. Clyde Williams will now play Ernest Fall, Jr., who defeated Dr. Lattimer and A. L. Spivey, in the quarter-finals.

Forecast Vote On Conscription Bill Thursday As Delay Is Protested

Washington, —Protesting that delay in defense preparations was menacing national security, Senator Byrd (D-Va.), demanded tonight that the Senate "stay in session day and night until a vote is obtained" on the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory training bill.

In a statement, the Virginian also called on defense chiefs for an explanation of why "the placing of orders for delivery of mechanized military equipment is lagging."

"If red tape is to blame," he said, "the country should know it. If the blame is due to inefficient bureaucratic administration, it should be known. If it is due to refusal of business enterprise to accept contracts from the government, we should know it."

Vote This Week?
Prospects for a final vote next week on the Burke-Wadsworth bill brightened when the Senate agreed to restrict debate on a pending amendment.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, obtained unanimous agreement that no Senator should speak more than 15 minutes on a proposal by Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), to limit to 800,000 the number of conscripts who might be placed under training at any one time.

But Barkley told the Senate that he had been unable, in private conversations, to get all Senators to agree to curtail their speeches on the bill itself and for that reason would not seek to set an hour for the final vote. He predicted to reporters, however, that the bill would pass by a comfortable margin by next Thursday at the latest.

Hugh Smith, 66, Dies At Union City Sunday Afternoon

Union City, Tenn.—Hugh Smith, whose foresight in predicting a future for the soft drink business won him a fortune, died here at 3:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He was 66.

Mr. Smith moved to Union City in 1910 with rights to five West Tennessee and Southern Kentucky territories for Coca-Cola plants. He watched the soft drink business boom for a meager beginning into a wide-flung business.

A native of LaGrange, Ga., he started to work in Meridian, Miss., as a railroad employee in the car department. He left the railroad to go into the soft drink business.

Widely known for his charities and young people's work, Mr. Smith was active in both business and civic institutions of Union City. He was a Rotarian, a Shriner, an Elk and one-time colonel on former Governor McAllister's staff.

He owned bottling plants at Dyersburg, Union City, Martin, Tenn., and at Fulton and Hickman, Ky.

He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Third National Bank of Union City. He attended St. James Episcopal Church.

BRITISH WARNED TO KEEP OFF GREEK ISLANDS

Rome, —An Italian invasion of Greece will follow any effort by the British to occupy the strategic Greek islands, a high Fascist source declared in plain words Friday.

"Italy is not going to let the British occupy any Greek islands," he said, discussing rumors that Britain was thinking of moving into the islands of Crete and Corfu.

"If the British move into Greece we will do the same."

Italian Claims Expected
Italian claims on Greece on behalf of Albania, foreign sources predicted, will be announced at an early session of the Albanian legislative council, attended by Court Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister.

These sources expressed the belief that Italy, in this way, would try to get territory from Greece without an invasion. (Italians have declared Greece should indemnify Albania for the recent beheading, allegedly by Greeks, of a so-called Albanian patriot. Murder by Greeks of another Albanian leader, unnamed, was charged by Italians Friday.)

Hopkins was understood to have no plans for the immediate future.

Pepper, Nye Argue Effect Of Ship Sale

Aid To England Called Both
Bar, Move To War

Washington, —Senators Nye (R-N. D.), and Danaher (R. Conn.), contended Sunday that the transfer of fifty destroyers to Great Britain would constitute an act of war, while Senator Pepper (D., Fla.), and Col. Henry Breckenridge, New York lawyer, argued that it might avert war from this country.

They discussed the proposal on the American Forum of the Air.

Declares U. S. Bound By Law

Nye characterized as "silly palaver" the contention that the United States was dependent upon the British Navy, asserting that the "best of military authority has demonstrated how little force could be moved against us by a victorious Hitler."

Danaher said that the United States was bound by domestic and international law to refrain from such a transfer.

"Supplying destroyers to England is a recognized act of war and the American people should fully realize it," he asserted. "... If we make available to England some of our destroyers for use in the war, inevitably we enter that war."

Expressing the view that addition of fifty destroyers to the British fleet might mean the difference between victory and defeat for Britain, Pepper said:

"These fifty World War destroyers could be of no higher service to their country's safety than if, by maintaining England's naval supremacy, they can keep England's enemy and our town from the shores of the United States."

Cut In Highway Rolls Partly Due To WPA Program

Frankfort, Ky., —A net reduction in Highway Department workers of approximately 3,000 and a monthly payroll drop of $148,000 compared to last year, was ascribed by Commissioner J. Lyter Donaldson today as "partly due to our economy program and partly to co-operation with the WPA."

Donaldson said there were 5,317 workers in his department drawing $494,820.53 last month, compared to 8,308 and $643,390.57 in July 1939.

"Economy is not the sole factor that enters into the total reduction," he said, "for part of it is due to the fact that we have been co-operating with the WPA" this year.

Donaldson recently announced discontinuance of a number of positions in the field forces and at headquarters here, which he considered unnecessary. He said today that much of the 2,991 reduction in personnel was in the rural highways division where WPA workers are being used. He added the department records showed 664 workers in the rural highways division, but that actually there were 1,360 others paid by WPA.

Secretary Hopkins Quits Post In Cabinet—Jones May Succeed Him

Washington, —President Roosevelt asked Jesse H. Jones, 66-year-old Texan and federal loan administrator, today to take over the post of Secretary of Commerce, succeeding Harry Hopkins in the cabinet. Announcement of the offer was made by the White House in making public a letter of resignation from Hopkins, who said that because of his health he felt he should not continue in the office.

Associates of Jones presumed he would accept, but there was no direct word from him. He was out of the city and was said to have the offer under advisement.

Hopkins May Head Library
Hopkins was understood to have no plans for the immediate future.

except to rest. There were reports, however, that he might take the position of librarian at the Ryde Park, N. Y., library, built to house the President's official papers and expected to be opened next summer.

The 50-year-old former relief administrator who stepped into the cabinet shoes of Daniel C. Hooper in January, 1939, has suffered from a stomach ailment for two years.

He and Mr. Roosevelt have close friends for many years in accepting the post of Secretary of Commerce, Hopkins said that he would accept the offer.

RUSSIA STILL THE GREAT ENIGMA

Though a year has passed since the Nazi-Soviet pact burst like a bomb-shell on the world on August 24, Soviet Russia remains the big question mark hanging over Europe.

Whether Italy will march against Greece in its attempt to seize Corfu, Crete and the important port of Saloniki depends in large measure on the attitude of the U. S. S. R. Whether Germany will risk the decimation of its powerful air fleet in an all-out assault on the British Isles will probably be decided with an eye on Moscow. As at the beginning of the conflict—Hitler would not have invaded Poland if the Bolshevik State had not first been neutralized—that State holds the key to future developments.

There is ample reason for Russia to oppose the expansion of Italy in the Balkans. Embarked on the course of Czarist imperialism, it cannot but regard Southeastern Europe as its zone of influence. With a greedy eye on the Dardanelles it must view any thrust toward that strategic waterway by the Italians as a threat to its ambitions. The Pan-Slavic movement is the ready-made pretext for the protection and exploitation of the Balkan countries. And Italy at Saloniki would menace the gateway to the Black Sea. But Russia prefers to get what it wants without fighting for it and it, no doubt, would hesitate before taking on even such poor fighters as the Italians. Its very unpredictable policy is a powerful weapon.

That policy is worrying Hitler. Prime Minister Churchill emphasized that fact in his speech before the House of Commons last Tuesday. Speaking of the Fuehrer he declared, "We may be sure, therefore, that he will continue as long as he has the strength and as long as any preoccupations he may have in respect of the Russian Air Force allow him to do so."

According to Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair Hitler has hurled only a "small fraction" of his bombing planes against the British Isles. He can double the mass attacks of recent days, perhaps treble them. He could combine aerial warfare with an attempted invasion. If the R. A. F. continues to down the German planes at the rate that has been maintained, Hitler's air force would be more than decimated, and the Nazi Reich would be open to an assault by Soviet Russia.

Joseph Stalin has his fellow dictators guessing.—Courier-Journal.

Selected Feature

UNITED STATES GIANT BOMBER ILLUSTRATES NEARNESS OF POSSIBLE INVADERS

If the United States has a bombing plane which can fly from New York to Europe without stopping, its educative value to citizens of this country should be immense.

If we have a bomber, in 1940, which can cross the continent or the Atlantic in a single flight how far, in flight-time, will either Europe or Asia be from the United States in 1950?

Nobody can answer the question, but we know that not so many years ago a solo non-stop across the Atlantic in a passenger plane made Charles Augustus Linbergh so famous that he were a No. 9 high hat, and imagined, in due time, that he had become, among other things, a statesman.

We know that about twenty years ago the Postmaster General of the United States said that if Congress would provide the money with which to have them built his department could get planes which would fly 180 miles an hour, delivering mail.

We know that planes have been flown, recently, about 500 miles an hour and we don't know what the limiting factor in speed of the various types of war planes is, if there is a limiting factor.

If the United States has built secretly, within the last four years, the giant plane dispatches, this morning describe, it will not be long before foreign countries will be matching, or eclipsing, it, just as manufacturers of automobiles improve one year's machines over those of another year.

Every American therefore should know that when informed Americans—the President of the United States among them—say we need immense defense armament as quickly as we can get it, they are not—as Mr. Willkie calls the President—warmongers, or persons perhaps leading us to war.

They are merely alert vigilant, patriotic citizens.—Louisville Times.

SUNSHINE AND SHADOWS

Lancaster, Pa.—It was indeed a small world that separated Mrs. John Wagner and her sister, Miss Norma Heffly.

They lost track of each other 18 years ago after adoption by different families.

Reunited through a chance meeting arranged by a mutual friend, impressed by their resemblance, the sisters discovered they lived only 24 miles apart.

Houston, Tex.—K. R. Andrews, telephone lineman, disturbed a yellow jacket at the top of a 30-foot pole. The insect zoomed into a power dive; Andrews ducked and swung. The yellow jacket circled and came back again and again.

"Next thing I knew, I was on the ground looking up," Andrews told hospital attendants.

He had two broken ankles.

Canton, Ill.—Harry Lukers was tickled pink when his stolen automobile was found. But when he and police went to get it they found the doors locked. They left to get a locksmith. When they returned the car was stolen again.

Lincoln, Neb.—Cupid must have been concentrating on Dorothy's, mused County Judge Robin Reid as marriage licenses 643, 644, 645, and 646 were issued in a single day. The permits went to Dorothy Glantz, Dorothy Ray, Dorothy Venter, and Dorothy Ossenkop.

CROSSING ACCIDENT FATALITIES INCREASE

The need for exercising increased care in approaching and passing over highway-railroad grade crossings is urged by the Safety Section of the Association of American Railroads.

In the first six months of 1940, according to reports received by the Safety Section, 884 persons lost their lives and 2,181 persons were injured in highway-railroad grade crossing accidents. This was the greatest number of fatalities in any corresponding period since 1931, in the first half of which there were 921 fatalities.

The total number of fatalities in the first six months of 1940 was an increase of 204 compared with the same period in 1939 and an increase of 188 compared with the same period in 1938.

BRITISH PLANE FACTORY INSTALLS ASSEMBLY LINE

London.—Britain now is using mass production methods in turning out training planes. A track assembly line in an aircraft factory, it was disclosed, is used for final stages of construction of the Miles-Master single-motored plane.

Jane's "All the World's Aircraft" says the Miles-Master monoplane has a cruising speed of 216 miles an hour with top speed of 250.

How much easier it is to keep well than to get well. In these strenuous times so many people have fagged out "feeling." They are tired all the time. ## Tigers Drop Tight Game To Oilers Here Yesterday By 1 Run Margin

Heffelfinger and Jim Gentry hooked up in a tight pitching duel here yesterday, and the Oilers hurler was returned the victor 5 to 4 after a tight game in which one hit properly placed would have meant many more runs for either team. Probably the Oilers had a shade on the breaks of the game, but both teams had plenty of scoring chances which were not cashed. A home run by Urbon, with one man on, proved the turning point. Here again there was a break, for Urbon's drive hit squarely on top of the fence and then bounded over. An inch lower it would have meant merely a double. Another break came to give the Oilers the first run. Marionetti, smashed a hit to left and the ball struck the fence. It rebounded swiftly and while Peterson was chasing it madly back towards the infield the Oiler second baseman stretched the drive into a triple, scoring a moment later on a sacrifice fly.

Three decisions at first base by Umpire Moore also cost both teams runs, and in these cases it seemed that the umpire failed to see the play correctly, for each instance the runner seemed to have beaten the throw.

Gentry appeared to have more stuff on the ball than at any time all season. His fast ball fairly smoked and the curves broke with dazzling abruptness. He walked five and fanned six and during the last four innings pulled out of plenty of bad holes. Heffelfinger, who gave seven hits, walked six, and in the ninth appeared to be on the verge of losing his game. With one gone he walked two men and appeared certain to blow up. Manager Wise kept him in, however, and Quackenbush hit into a double play to end the game.

Gallo, the lad who plays second base, played a glittering game in his position, handling six chances perfectly, some of them appearing impossible when he went after them. Peterson in left went back to the wall and pulled down one drive from McElvay while standing squarely against the fence.

Perhaps the toughest break the Tigers had come in the first inning, when, with the bases loaded, Peterson hammered a hard drive straight through the pitcher's box. The ball struck Heffelfinger and then rebounded squarely into the hands of Novak at short, in plenty of time to get Peterson at first. Nine times out of ten the ball would have gone for a hit and scored two men.

REMOVAL OF 'UNPURE' OFFICIALS IN ALSACE, LORRAINE COMPLETED

Basel, Switzerland.—German authorities in Alsace and Lorraine were reported today to have completed removal of all state employees from provincial officials to common laborers—not of pure Alsatian or Lorraine origin.

The last group of such state employees left the two provinces yesterday on German order, according to advices reaching Switzerland, for other parts of German-occupied France, or for the zone governed from Vichy.

They were permitted to take 50 pounds of baggage and 5,000

French francs, or 250 marks (nominally about $100), with them. All their other property was confiscated by the state.

Their jobs had been filled since July 15 by German appointees, men hired by the Germans, including many Alsations who moved to Germany after the provinces were taken by France in the World War settlement.
