The Flat Top Field—Mines Along the Norfolk and Western Experience Their Biggest Day.

Elkhorn, W. Va., July 20.—The only sign of any of the miners coming out from the Norfolk and Western railroad in the immediate future is at the Switchback collieries. Here a little dissatisfaction has manifested itself, but otherwise all the miners are running to their fullest capacity and operators and miners are on the best of terms.

Of the 500 to 700 miners in the Flat Top field who were out yesterday about one-fourth of this number returned to work this morning. The meetings of agitators last night and today availed naught for their cause and the indications are that unless something very extraordinary develops the agitators will leave the field in this section tomorrow morning.

The striking miners were reinforced yesterday by the men from several mines; but on the other hand work was resumed at perhaps as many other mines. The miners of the Pittsburgh district are preparing to issue a call for aid. Many of the West Virginia mines are working overtime to supply the demand.
