Council Meeting Largely Attended

Street Improvement Program Outstanding Feature of Monday Night's Session

After the regular routine of business was completed at Monday night's session of the City Council Mayor Shankle invited visitors present to join in discussions for the welfare of the city.

The street improvement program was an outstanding feature of the meeting. The city clerk read the names of many resident streets all signed up, ready to be included in the street improvement program as soon as checked up.

No action was taken on said petitions Monday night as some time will be required to do the checking and verify the correct percentage required.

At an adjourned session Monday night, April 9, it is desired that all petitions will be ready for acceptance by the council and an ordinance prepared so prompt action may be taken without further delay.

No expressions were heard at Monday night's session regarding the type of streets to be built, and will not be, until after the bids are received on probably six different types when the council will designate the type of streets to be built and let the contract.

In the meantime, we see no harm can be done by the property owners expressing themselves on what type of streets they desire. We feel that it is really helpful to the committee in charge of the street improvement program.

Last week The Advertiser printed an article favoring Kentucky rock asphalt for surfacing our streets. The article was written after some investigations regarding the merits of this wonderful street and highway surfacing material. We have made further investigations, and the more we investigate, the more convinced we are that Kentucky rock asphalt is the best and most economical material to be used on surfacing Fulton resident streets. We are also thoroughly convinced that the best of the gravel now on our streets can be used to excellent advantage, lessening the cost of constructing the foundation for surfacing.

The big majority of Fulton property owners are in no position to pay out large sums of money for expensive streets when they can get an excellent street for less money. We have it from experts, not interested in Fulton streets or rock asphalt, who tell us that our native product is the most economical surfacing we can use for wear and upkeep. Engineers who have had rock asphalt pavements under observation for many years agree that there is no perceptible evidence of abrasive wear. Cut a rock asphalt surface today and tomorrow it will have been healed by traffic. Samples from rock asphalt pavements under traffic for thirty-eight years test the same as rock asphalt shipped today.

Kentucky rock asphalt is easy accessible, shipped in open cars from storage point at Rockport, Ky., over the I. C. R. R. We are indeed fortunate in having this material within close proximity.

KEN-TENN CAMP WAR VETERANS INSTITUTED

On Thursday, March 29, Ken-Tenn Camp United Spanish War Veterans was instituted by Department Commander, Chas. R. Johns, of Newport, Ky., commanding the Department of Kentucky, U. S. W. V.

The muster of the members, institution of the camp and installation of officers took place at the Chamber of Commerce rooms after which the camp marched to the American Legion Hall, where the officers and members were tendered a reception by the members of Marshall Alexander Post of the American Legion and their Auxiliary.

Talks were made by Commander Johns and others and a reading by Ben Seovelle was much appreciated by the audience.

Commander Johns made a talk at the High School in the forenoon, which seemed to be very much appreciated by the pupils, judging by the applause which he received. In his talk he particularly stressed respect for the flag.

Commander Johns is connected with the Police Department at Newport, as Superintendent of the Bureau of Identification, and although he saw service in Cuba during the war with Spain, he had never seen the Mississippi river at Hickman, so he was taken for an auto trip to the Bluff city in afternoon, which he enjoyed very much, as it gave him an opportunity to see the father of waters, and also meet some of the Hickman veterans.

The new camp of Spanish War Veterans starts off with much enthusiasm and although few in number they hope to be an influence for good, standing as they do for Americanism in its highest sense.

As indicated by its name it is composed of veterans in west Kentucky and west Tennessee, and it hopes to enlist all honorably discharged veterans in this section who saw service in the war with Spain and the Philippine Insurrection.

TOLSTOY'S "RESURRECTION"

Has Rod La Rocque and Dolores Del Rio in Chief Roles

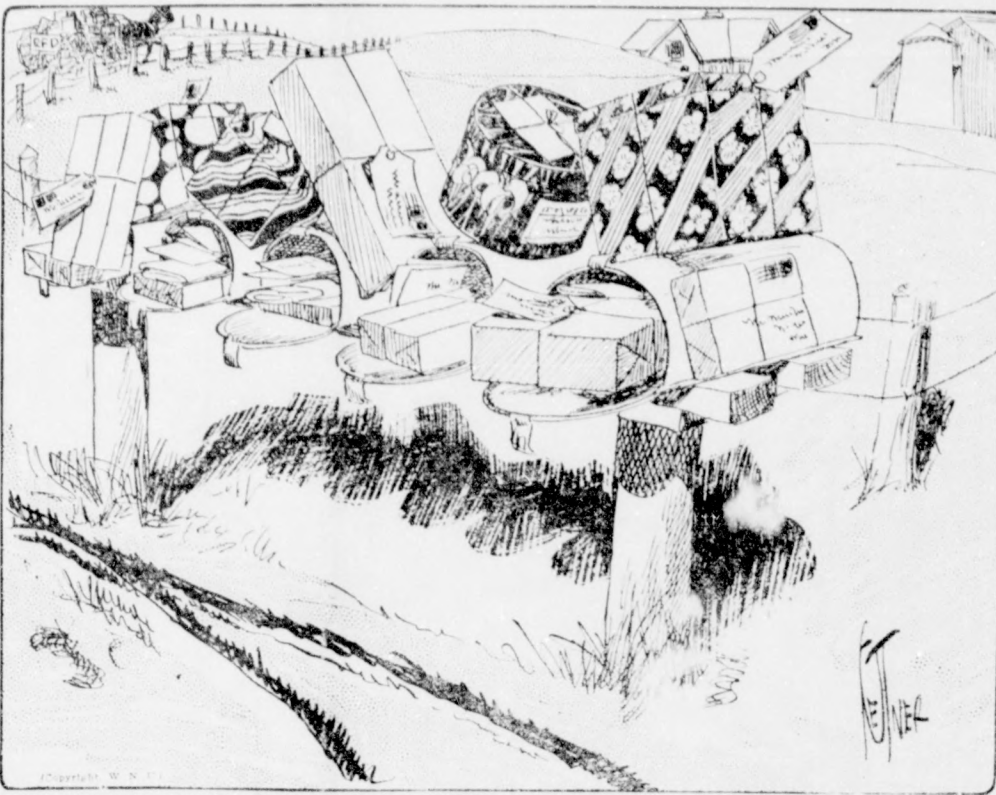

Classic Flesh-and-Blood Drama Coming to the Orpheum Next Monday & Tuesday, April 9th-10th

Tolstoy's "Resurrection," the flesh-and-blood drama of Prince and peasant, love sacred and profane, brings Rod La Rocque and Dolores del Rio to the screen of the Orpheum in the Inspiration-Edwin Carewe film version offered by United Artists.

The most widely read classic of modern times, enjoyed wherever people read books, translated from the Russian of Leo Tolstoy into eleven languages in the past thirty years, "Resurrection" is of unusual interest to film-goers because it is a drama strong and absorbing enough to have made Tolstoy beloved by the masses of the world. Edwin Carewe satisfies a seventeen-year-old ambition at last in bringing to the screen this story, which has fascinated him since he played Prince Dmitri himself in a stock company in Kansas.

Rod La Rocque is the star of "Resurrection," playing the role of the Prince who sinned and sorrowed. Dolores del Rio is Katusha Maslova, the peasant ward of his two maiden aunts, the girl whose love is defiled and sullied, only to be won again through the remorse of the Prince.

BARN, HOME BURN

Cayce, Ky., April 3—One of the most destructive farm fires in this section of the state occurred last night, when the residence and all out-buildings on the farm of R. B. Seearce burned. The fire was discovered in the barn hay loft about 9 o'clock. The barn and contents including 400 barrels of corn and several tons of hay, farming tools and harness, were soon destroyed. The blaze, fanned by a stiff south wind, quickly spread to the out-buildings, finally reaching the residence. Most of the house furnishings were saved. His loss will reach several thousand dollars above insurance. The blaze was seen for miles, people coming from Hickman and Fulton.

A. A. Vaughn Shoots Himself.

A. A. Vaughn, 70, highly esteemed citizen and well known farmer of the Barnhart school neighborhood, three miles south-east of Fulton, committed suicide at his home by shooting himself Wednesday morning about 7 o'clock. He died without making a statement, but financial worry is thought to have caused him to commit the rash act. Apparently he was enjoying good health. He is survived by his devoted wife and one son, B. A. Vaughn, lawyer of Union City. Friends of the family extend sincerest sympathy in their bereavement.

Mrs. Julia Alice Beadles.

"Not Dead but Sleeping."

Our city was saddened Wednesday at noon when the announcement of the death of Mrs. Julia Alice Beadles was whispered about. The end came peacefully at the home of her son, R. B. Beadles, on Carr street where loved ones could not prolong life longer.

Mrs. Beadles was born Sept. 11, 1837, in Virginia daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Bolinger. Died at noon, April 4, 1928, past ninety years of age, the last of a large and prominent family.

She moved to Mayfield in childhood where she married the late T. F. Beadles. They were blessed with four sons, George T., Robert B., Joe and Wallace. Wallace, the youngest son, died in 1913, the others survive with nine grandchildren.

Mrs. Beadles had been a resident of Fulton for more than thirty-five years, honored, trusted and loved. She reared her own monument while she lived in the hearts of all who knew her. Her life was completed if work all done and well done constitutes completion. She was a consecrated member of the Methodist church and her Christian life was beautiful from its beginning in childhood to its close.

Funeral services were held at the home of her son, R. B. Beadles, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Vaughn who paid a fitting tribute to her memory, after which all that was mortal of this grand old mother in Israel was tenderly conveyed to our Silent City, Fairview, where, by the side of a devoted husband she now rests in peace beneath a bank of beautiful and fragrant flowers.

Notice to Chicken Owners.

There is an Ordinance prohibiting chickens from running at large in the city limits, and this is a fair notice to chicken owners to keep their fowls up or pay a fine. Bailey Huddleston, Chief of Police.

PIGUE BOYS BUY TRENTON, TENNESSEE PAPER

Paul W. Pigue, son of the Rev. R. H. Pigue, of Hazel, Ky., has purchased The Herald-Democrat at Trenton, Tenn., and is now in charge of that well known publication. Associated with him in the publishing business is his brother, Sidney Pigue. Both have been on the staff of the Post Dispatch of Houston, Texas, where Sid made an enviable reputation editing the automobile section of that publication, one of the best newspapers in the "Lone Star" state.

Paul and Sid Pigue are well known in Fulton, having started their newspaper career in this city a number of years ago.

We published a brief sketch of the Pigue brothers, written by Mr. Alexander, two or three weeks ago, telling of the phenomenal success each had made in the newspaper game and other businesses.

There is not another family in the United States that equals the Pigue brothers in newspaper work. They are all ambitious, hard workers, with keen intellect, trained under benign influence.

The Herald-Democrat has been one of the outstanding country weeklies of West Tennessee for many years, and these two distinguished young newspaper men will not only maintain its high standing, but will broaden its field of endeavor and usefulness. We wish them every success they so richly deserve.

A. T. BYNUM IS DEATH'S VICTIM

After a lingering illness, Mr. A. T. Bynum, 77, died at his home on Taylor street, March 29.

In the passing of Mr. Bynum, Fulton has lost a good citizen, a man honored and esteemed by all who knew him. He was a consecrated member of Palestine Methodist church and lived a Christian life.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, W. E. Bynum, of Fulton; J. E. Bynum, of Louisville; six daughters, Mrs. A. E. Harris and Mrs. A. E. Campbell, of California; Mrs. J. A. Roper, of Hickman; Mrs. Elliott, of Memphis; Mrs. Ruby Bellew, of near Fulton, and Mrs. May Trease, of near Crutchfield.

Funeral services were held at Harmony church, conducted by the Rev. A. C. Moore, interment followed in the church cemetery in charge of the Fulton Undertaking Co.

"TWELVE MILES OUT" A BREATHLESS TALE

John Gilbert Starred in This Thrilling Story of a Hijacker's Life

Breathless thrills and vivid romances await film fans in "Twelve Miles Out," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's mystery melodrama of the high seas which opens at the Grand Theatre Monday and Tuesday, April 9 and 10.

It is one of the fastest adventure stories of the season and John Gilbert's latest starring vehicle. Adapted from William Anthony McGuire's famous Broadway hit, it comes to the screen with added dramatic appeal. It tells the tale of run-runners, hijackers, revenue cutters and the kidnapping of beautiful women. Through it all runs one of the sweetest love stories ever screened. As the swashbuckling hero Gilbert has an ideal role. He takes daredevil chances, stages desperate battles and follows the course of an amazing intrigue.

Joan Crawford makes a charming heroine, Ernest Torrence a villain who is a strange mixture of sinister traits and whimsical humor. Others of the excellent supporting cast are Tom O'Brien, Bert Roach, Eileen Percy and Edward Earle. Jack Conway directed.

JESSE JAMES HERO OF FRED THOMSON PICTURE

From 1862 to 1882 Jesse James let his guns get out of reach twice. During his waking hours at least two revolvers were always strapped to his waist and at night they were on a chair beside his bed. No person ever attempted to enter his bedroom at night. He slept so lightly instant death would have been certain.

Jesse was fifteen when he first strapped on his revolvers.
He was plowing on his mother's farm at Kearney, Mo. The War Between the States had been under way one year. Soldiers invaded the farm, beat him with whips and hung his stepfather to a tree. He joined the Confederate army a short time afterwards as a member of Quantrell's Partisan Rangers, a unit declared outlaw by the general in command at Kansas City.

Five years later he was swimming in a Kentucky River with Samuel Ralston. A country constable happened along, covered the men with a shotgun and told them to come out. He thought they might be horse thieves. Jesse came out first.
Ralston followed slowly and suddenly shouted for help. In the instant the constable turned his head, Jesse leaped upon him and threw his shotgun into the river. That was the first time the famous outlaw laid aside his guns.

The second time was in his own home on April 3, 1882. As he turned to dust a picture,
Robert Ford shot and killed him.

These facts were related recently by his son, Jesse E.
James, Jr., as he watched Fred Thomson, well known Western star, making a swimming scene for his first Paramount picture
"Jesse James," which reaches the Grand next Monday and Tuesday.

Two of the revolvers carried for a number of years by Jesse James were lying on the river bank beside the son while he told the story.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. H. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, 1924, Western New York Union.)

Lesson for April 8

THE RESURRECTION OF JESUS CHRIST (EASTER LESSON)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 16:1-7.
GOLDEN TEXT—Because I live ye shall live also.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Comes to Life Again.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Christ Rises from the Grave.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus, Our Living Leader.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of the Resurrection.

1. The Ministry of Love (vv. 1-4).
1. By whom (v. 1). Mary Magdalene, the mother of James and Salome. They brought sweet spices with which to anoint Him.

2. When? (v. 2). Early in the morning of the first day of the week.
3. Their perplexity (vv. 3, 4). They questioned as to who should roll away the large stone from the mouth of the tomb. To their surprise they found the stone removed.

4. The Angel in the Tomb (vv. 5-8). Jesus knew that these women would come to the sepulcher with perplexed and unbelieving hearts so He had an angel waiting there to announce to them the fact of His resurrection. Note the angel's message:

1. "Be not afraid" (v. 5).
2. "Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth who was crucified" (v. 6). This threefold designation with marvelous clearness shows (1) His humanity—Jesus, (2) Lowly residence—Nazareth, (3) Ignominious death—crucified.
3. "He is risen; He is not here. Behold the place where they laid Him" (v. 6). These words throw light upon His birth, humility and shameful death. He who was born in lowly circumstances and suffered the shameful death on the cross, is now the conqueror of death. His resurrection gives meaning to His death. "If Christ be not risen your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins" (1 Cor. 15:17).

4. "Go your way, tell His disciples and Peter" (v. 7). As soon as it was known that Christ was risen from the dead they were to tell it to the disciples. The disciples all needed this blessed news, but Peter especially, since He had utterly denied Him.

5. "He goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see Him" (v. 7). Christ had told the disciples that He would rise from the dead and meet them in Galilee, but their unbelief kept them from this blessed truth.

III. The Appearances of the Risen Christ (vv. 9-14).
These appearances had as their object the restoration of the disciples from their awful failure and discouragement and convincing them without a peradventure of a doubt of Christ's resurrection. Since His resurrection was to be the central theme of apostolic preaching, it was necessary that they have a certainty of knowledge as to this matter (Acts 1:3).

Without the resurrection of Christ His death would be meaningless. Out of the ten or more appearances, Mark selects three.

1. To Mary Magdalene (vv. 9-11). Mary's heart responded to the Savior who had graciously delivered her from demons. Her sufferings were no doubt terrible. She was first at the tomb; her devotion was amply rewarded by being first to meet the risen Lord. Though her faith was weak she went at once and told the story to the disciples.

2. To two disciples on the way to Emmaus (vv. 12-13). Luke gives full particulars concerning this appearance (Luke 24:13-25). Jesus had walked, talked and eaten with them.

3. The eleven disciples (v. 14). Christ appeared to them while sitting at meat and reproved them for their unbelief. The fact that they steadfastly resisted the testimony that Christ had risen, and yet afterward were willing to risk their lives in the proclamation of this truth proves the genuineness of their faith.

IV. The Commission of the Risen Lord (vv. 15-18).
After the disciples were convinced of the truth of His resurrection Christ sent them forth to "preach the gospel to every creature." What a glorious and supreme task is this! What a blessed issue to those who believe and how awful to them that believe not. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, but he that believeth not shall be damned" (v. 16).

V. The Activity of the Enthroned Christ (vv. 19, 20).
After giving the disciples their commission He ascended on high and from the unseen sphere directed their activities. Wherever they went He confirmed their word. He does the same for His disciples today.

Our Thoughts

We should manage our thoughts as shepherds do their flocks in making a garden; first, select the choicest, and then dispose them in the most proper places, that every one may reflect a part of its color and brightness on the next.—Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

FACTS AND FIGURES

Although Fulton county is one of the smallest counties in Kentucky, it is one of the richest, as is shown by a survey completed this week by County Agent H. A. McPherson, of the carload shipments from the county in 1927. The total carloads shipped were 3,502, of which 1,423 were agricultural products and livestock, 1,171 were forest products and 842 miscellaneous.

The following gives in dollars what each station in the county shipped last year:

Hickman, $1,790,515; Fulton, $1,455,417; Bondurant, $261,700; Cayce, $164,475; Jordan, $101,818; State Line, $51,500; Crutchfield, $30,375.

Making a grand total for the county, of $3,862,800, which is divided as follows: Farm crops, $1,583,800; live stock, $1,154,700 and forest products, $1,124,300. The following gives the totals for each commodity: Forest products, $1,124,300; Cotton and seed, $827,000; Cream, $462,680; Tobacco, $368,400; Hogs, $311,600; grain and hay, $264,000; tomatoes, $27,500; mules, $20,000; canned tomato, $10,000; wool, $6,500.

Wool is shown in the above figures, but no station was given credit for its shipment as most of it was located out.

The figures below show the number of cars of each commodity shipped from each station in the county last year. This is the first time that such a survey has been made in the county and much credit is due County Agent McPherson for gathering this highly interesting material.

Hickman (N. C. & St. L.)—Box material, 239; lumber, 231; corn, 124; hogs, 8; cotton, 30; poultry, 29; cross ties, 7; logs, 9; hay, 6; rags, 2; scrap iron, 1; canned goods, 9; potatoes, 2; cattle, 3; misc. 93; cream, 2,200 gallons.

Hickman (I. C.)—Box material, 145; lumber, 161; cotton, 111; cotton seed, 60; venger, 29; hay, 27; autos, 1; stove bolts, 1; corn, 11; hogs, 1; logs, 9; machinery, 3; iron pipe, 12; straw, 2; wheat, 2; misc., 180; cream, 2,300 gallons.

Total cars from Hickman, 1,549; total cream, 4,500 gallons.

Fulton—Eggs, 8; poultry, 28; potatoes, 21; lumber, 217; hogs, 139; cattle, 63; sheep, 9; mules, 8; cotton, 13; cotton seed, 7; barrels, 13; hay, 6; corn, 6; tobacco, 92; autos, 2; boxes, 1; machinery, 7; scrap iron, 6; logs, 6; rags, 4; bottles, 3; bricks, 4; cement, 2; H. goods, 1; scrap paper, 1; misc., 558 and cream, 352,370 gallons. Total cars from Fulton, 1,325.

State Line—Corn, 60; wheat, 5; logs, 19; straw, 1; total, 85. cream, 3,640 gallons.

Crutchfield—Hogs, 12; logs, 54; sweet potatoes, 2; total, 68; cream, 1,500 gallons.

Cayce—Hogs, 58; sheep, 12; cattle, 6; corn, 23; logs, 4; sweet potatoes, 1; hay, 1; tomatoes, 53; misc. 2; total, 162; cream, 2,245 gallons.

Jordan—Wheat, 12; corn, 20; hay, 5; straw, 3; hogs, 33; sheep, 4; cattle, 9; total, 86; cream, 2,975 gallons.

Bondurant—Cotton, 47; cotton seed, 46; corn, 10; logs, 20; lumber, 17; wood, 1; hay, 11; cross ties, 2; wheat straw, 2; wheat, 1; misc. 12; total, 169.

In the compilation, Fulton county is given credit for 58 cars, divided as follows: hogs, 30; sheep, 13, and cattle 15, which the survey showed were taken to Union City by trucks for shipment. However, no credit was given for the cotton that was hauled to Woodland Mills and Union City for ginning and shipment, which would increase the cotton value of Hickman and vicinity.

Mr. McPherson made the following comment:

"The above report is very good, but the net income of the county could be greatly increased by the addition of a few thousand sheep, the growing of early vegetables, the growing and feeding out of a better class of beef cattle, the production of more cream, especially in the western part of the county, and the liming of more land. Legumes and prosperity will follow lime or marl."

Most people will be amazed at the number of cars shipped from the county and also by the dollar value of such shipments. It is also rather amazing that Hickman shipped more than Fulton. The report shows that there is not yet wide enough diversification in either agriculture or manufacturing in the county and shows the lines along which community effort should be expended.

This report, however, compares very favorably with any county of like size and population, and shows that Fulton county is on the right road. It is a revelation in some respects and a disappointment in others, but it is worth intensive study by every farmer and business man in the county.

There are a number of reasons why the mileage of Concrete Roads is steadily increasing, year by year.

Concrete highway pavement is not affected by weather. Rain only makes it stronger. Wind cannot blow it away. It can be built to carry any kind of traffic indefinitely, practically without repairs. Concrete roads are as good one time of the year as another.

ROUTE 5, CHESTNUT GLADE

The writer was too busy last week to write, since about 600 baby chicks were added to her family of Ferris Leghorns. Mrs. Ada Rhodes set 800 eggs March 1, for Diamond Square Poultry Farm, and on the 22nd we counted 652 babies from the incubator. 50 of these I sold and gave away 30 more, bringing the number down to a more reasonable number to put under one brooder. This is a record breaking hatch and Mrs. Rhodes knows how to do the work. She is doing quite a bit of custom hatching and has sold a number of chicks from her nice flock of White Wyandottes. She has a flock of 340 chicks four weeks old, which are making a record for thrifty growth. Poultry seems to be looking up a bit, but not too much. We can't all sell hatching eggs and baby chicks, so the majority of us must depend on the regular market for our profit. But it takes just as much to raise a poor chick as a good one, so we must look to the increased production of our flock. Now I should like to compare production with you leghorn people who keep records. We all know production in a large flock is less than a small one of like quality and can make allowance for that. April is a good month to use as a sample, since most chickens are laying by then. How about a report from your flock for next month? I'll admit that one dollar a case more than we are getting above last year for our eggs is encouraging, but it is rivaled by the increase in the price of feed, and so it goes. We must work for a higher producing flock and use the most drastic economy we know in preventing waste and in choosing the feed most suited to the needs of our flock. Growing just as much as we possibly can at home.

Welfare Workers met March 29 at the home of Mrs. Bettie Watts. Mr. Em Coffman being absent, Mrs. Eugene Young served as secretary pro tem. The poultry program was interesting. The report of the county wide meeting read and discussed. After a lesson in parliamentary law. The fun presented by the committee on fun was mirth provoking and relaxing. Mrs. Coffman and Mrs. Ridgway made Iris and Madonna Lilies of crepe paper, showing us just how it is done. Arrangements were perfected to clean yard Monday afternoon for Mrs. Frost, whose daughter has been sick so long. She is no better and her sister, Mrs. Barney Kindred, has come to assist in caring for her.

The next meeting will be April 26 at the home of Mrs. Eugene Young.

The following program will be presented. Devotional, by Mrs. Ridgway and Mrs. Roy Watts. Prevention and control of flies—Mrs. John Coffman. Prevention of Mosquitoes—Mrs. Nettie Parmenter. Control of Fleas and Roaches—Mrs. Orr. Destruction of Ants and Chinchies—Mrs. Bettie Watts. Prevention of Typhoid Fever—Mrs. Jim Clements. Round Table discussion on Housecleaning led by Mrs. E. M. Coffman.

Wayne Rhodes left Sunday for Murray where he will enter school for the next several weeks.

Wayne Lamb spent a few days at home last week.

Mr. Charlie Taylor will repair his tenant house and live there till it is convenient to build again. Ruby Taylor came home for the week end.

Singing at Chestnut Glade was well attended Sunday. A Singing school will start at C. G. Friday night and will continue for several weeks. Everybody invited to come.

Virgil Leip, who has been at home for some time, was called back to his work in St. Louis, April 1.

FOREWORD

Everyday American life throbs with opportunities in industry, commerce, education and in civic improvements. In a comparatively short period of time the average American citizen has developed a remarkable degree of civic consciousness toward the community in which he lives.

Travel wherever you will—to the little hamlets by the wayside or to the great metropolitan cities—you will always find the citizen who is proud of his community. To him it is "home" in every sense of the word. There is no community—no matter how large or how small—that represents as much to him as the "old home town." His interests are there. Consequently, he is forever willing and anxious to help make it a model community for others to follow. Such is the sense of civic consciousness that has gripped the people quite generally everywhere. This feeling is better exemplified by the rapid growth of communities "alive" with progressive citizens and by the increased interest in civic improvement.

An American city does not grow as a result of the birthrate alone. It must interest citizens who will bring and develop new industries. It follows, therefore, that the American citizen is keenly interested in the impression his town makes upon the visitor.

The visitor's impression of any city is almost immediately affected by good street pavements—or by the need of them. Good pavements usually indicate what is commonly called "a good town." Poorly paved streets create an unfavorable impression, and form one reason why travelers avoid certain cities whenever possible.

Further, the universal desire for comfort, convenience and healthful surroundings leads to investments in utilities which satisfy these wants. It is these utilities, in turn, which make large concentrations of population, and which we call cities, at all possible. Business, personal convenience, and normal diversion are now served first by motor vehicle transportation. Good pavements are therefore one of the first requirements of a progressive city.

A knowledge of pavements, and pavement values should be sought by every intelligent citizen. Such knowledge is a valuable asset to the property owner when his city buys pavements, says the Portland Cement Association.

The beautiful concrete streets throughout the business section of Fulton is a credit to its citizenship and are being admired by all who travel over them. We hope to see every street in Fulton paved this year.

RAILWAY TOPICS

Out of every $100 spent for Illinois Central System service in 1927, the owners cleared $6.34, of which amount they took $5.53 in dividends and left 81 cents to be applied on property improvements. This information is gleaned from "A Report to the Public," which President L. A. Downs has issued as the April number of his monthly letter on railway topics.

The cost of production of the transportation service, plus upkeep on the plant, amounted to $61.55 of the $100 total. Various incidental expenses, among them 65 cents for dining car and restaurant service, 36 cents for pensions and 20 cents for the pay of general officers, accounted for $6.64 more. Then came depreciation charges amounting to $5.97; rents, $1.64; interest, $8.65; taxes, $6.21.

"The public is entitled to know where its money goes," writes President Downs. "Railway expenditures, being promptly made and widely dispersed, stimulate commercial activity."

A FEW LOOSE FEATHERS

By J. T. Watkins, Sec.

There is an old saying, "like father, like son," and I have had it proven to me this past two weeks. I have been soliciting members for the Junior Membership Club of the Standard Bred Poultry Association, and procured about twenty new ones. With each application the S. B. P. A. furnished a setting of purebred eggs to start the member in the poultry game. I thought they would settle on two or three breeds, but their fancy ran over nine breeds. There will be some new exhibitors at the show this fall.

One boy received a setting of Black Minorca Eggs from Anderson of Virginia, who has the best Minorca stock in the country.

One girl's fancy ran to Kiwi strain. This is the chicken that can't fly. This breed is an ideal one for town. They have no feathers, and can be confined in a yard with a two foot fence.

Eggs were shipped from as far away as Rhode Island.

It is not too late to get in on this deal and get your eggs in time to have them ready for the fall and winter shows.

There seems to be a big revival going on in the purebred poultry line in this neighborhood. Several breeders who have never entered birds in the fair are coming in strong. One breeder says he will have about six pens.

Notice—4-H Club Members. The Poultry Tribune is going to give a $150.00 scholarship to the club member who makes the best record with poultry this season. This is worth going after. Get blanks from your county agent and enter this contest.

We are going to start our drive for donations at once, and as the prospects are for the best show we have ever had, we ask you to be as liberal as you can. We have several new features for this year that will take a little more money to put over.

Mrs. R. S. Matthews, of Forestdale, went to Memphis, Tuesday, to hear the celebrated Paderewski and will remain in Memphis over Easter Sunday with her daughter, Miss Ethel Mae.

FULTON COUNTY FARMER DIVERSIFIES (I. C. Farm and Factory)

Cecil Burnett, a farmer of Fulton county, Kentucky, finds that through diversification he can make farming more of a pleasure and make it more profitable than his neighbors, who follow a one-crop system of farming.

"The day has passed when a farmer in western Kentucky, or any other section, can make money over a period of years by putting all of his eggs in one basket," stated Mr. Burnett. "Although I have lived on my present farm only a year, I have a working plan and am making an effort to follow it. I believe that every farmer should plan his work and then work the plan insofar as seasonal conditions will permit. In my working plan is soil improvement by limestone and legumes; a few good dairy cows; a good hen house full of contented hens; brood sows in proportion to my farm acreage; and a small orchard. I find that the above projects keep me busy on my 75-acre farm the year round.

"The cows on my farm, six in number, are averaging approximately $18.00 per week for cream. Three of them are purebred. From these I expect to build up my herd by breeding to the best sire available. My farm being all lined, I have no trouble in growing plenty of legume hays, such as soybeans, cowpeas and lespe-deza. This year I plan to sow a few acres to alfalfa for my cows.

"From my flock of White Leghorn hens, 150 in number, I get 100 eggs daily. The eggs are graded according to market classes and shipped to New York by express. I ship two cases weekly and receive 6 to 8 cents more per dozen over the price of eggs locally. The flock is kept in a warm, dry, well-ventilated house, fed a well-balanced laying mash and a scratch feed, with plenty of fresh, clean water. To give the baby chicks a better and an earlier start, I built a brooder house large enough to house 500 chicks at one time. Early hatched chicks well cared for are the pullets that give the high priced winter eggs.

"Although I have only 75 acres of land, four brood sows are kept as an extra money income. At present am feeding a litter of nine pigs born in October, 1927, to see if they can be made into a ton of pork by April 1st. They were weighed on March 1, averaging 174.5 pounds per head. The gain in weight for February was 500 pounds at a cost of 6 cents per pound. At the same rate of daily gain I will easily make a ton of pork from the litter at six months of age.

"In order that my farming operations would be well rounded out, I planted a small orchard of 185 peach, apple, cherry and plum trees. A cover crop of rye was sown in the orchard last winter to keep the soil from washing."

To those who read this article the following suggestion is made: Make a survey of your community and see how many farmers you can find who have a working plan for their farm and who are working the plan. In your community you will always find at least a dozen outstanding farmers. Study their methods and learn what it is that makes them outstanding.

The old saying that the farmer is the most independent individual in the world would have a deeper, fuller meaning if more of our farmers followed such a plan as Mr. Burnett of Fulton county is pursuing.

A REPORT TO THE PUBLIC

The annual report to the stockholders is a part of the routine of business in railway companies, as in other corporations. The making of such a report is a recognition of the responsibility which the owners have placed on the management for the successful handling of their property.

Railway management, however, has a double responsibility. It owes allegiance also to the public. The nature of railway service makes the conduct of a railroad a public trust, and the public is entitled to know how that trust is discharged.

We all like to see where our money goes. Here is a report to the public on what became of every $100 spent for Illinois Central service in 1927:

The operation of trains, stations and other transportation services cost $32.63. That included $5.74 for locomotive fuel.

The publication of tariffs and solicitation of traffic took $4.90. Dining car and restaurant service accounted for 65 cents. Legal expenses amounted to 27 cents. Investigation of the value of the railroad cost 9 cents. Pensions to retired employees took 36 cents. Clerks and other general office employees were paid $1.31. Payments of loss and damage claims totaled $1.44. Miscellaneous general expenses accounted for 42 cents.

Charges made to cover the wearing out of equipment took $5.97. Rents paid for the use of property belonging to others took $1.64. Interest payments on borrowed money came to $8.65. Taxes took $6.21.

All the expenditures up to this point totaled $93.66. That left $6.34 of the original $100. Dividends to stockholders took $5.53, leaving 81 cents to be applied on property improvements.

Railway expenditures, as this outline illustrates, are widely dispersed. Moreover, they are promptly made; little money remains long in the railroad's keeping. That stimulates commercial activity.

Constructive criticism and suggestions invited.

President, Illinois Central System.

This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home. Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat. Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals. The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.
