Beautifying The Usona Hotel

The Usona Hotel is undergoing a complete change in interior decorations. Lee McClain, Fulton's artistic interior decorator, is in charge of the work. The lobby and dining room is being done in texture finished in Spanish colors with trimmings to harmonize of rare beauty. Mr. Ford, the genial proprietor, says the window shades will be in the most attractive tone colors. In fact, when the decorators complete the work, Fulton can boast of one of the most handsome hotel interiors in this section of the country.

Textone, finished in Spanish colors is the new secret of restful decoration. It will add materially to the artistic beauty of the Usona interior decorations.

An atmosphere of charm and comfort and gracious hospitality prevails at the Usona. Mr. Ford is ever watchful of the interests of his guests. He has provided a large free parking space in the rear of the hotel to accommodate 75 or 100 cars. Gardeners have been busy beautifying the grounds about the hotel. Shrubs and varicolored flowers adorn the vacant spots. Great rows of canons edge the driveway leading to the open court in the rear of the hotel. In fact, every vacant spot about the premises has been transformed into a "beauty spot."

The Usona, with 107 guest rooms, and dine large sample rooms, is said to be one of the best equipped hotels with all modern conveniences for comfort and pleasure in the entire Southland for a city the size of Fulton. No wonder its phenomenal success under the management of P. C. Ford.

WORK ON STREET PAVING WILL SOON BEGIN

The 1928 street improvement program featured Monday night's session of the city council. After the regular routine business was completed and accounts read and ordered vouchered, the council employed Messrs. Carr & Carr to assist the city legal department in preparing ordinances and other matters pertaining to the street project.

Three engineering firms submitted bids for the engineering contract on street work, and after due consideration, the firm of Black & Veatch was awarded the contract. This is the same firm which had the contract last year, and Mr. Hopkins will again be in charge as resident engineer.

All of the street petitions presented to the council have already been checked up and found to have more than enough footage signed to be included in the street improvement program and from present indications actual street work will soon start.

Bids will be asked for on five or six different type of streets and the committee, after thorough investigation, will name the material to be used.

Had the firm of Black and Veatch not given perfect satisfaction on the 1927 street improvement program, the city certainly would not have awarded them the contract this year, therefore, we may rest assured that whatever type of street is constructed will give perfect satisfaction. We are glad Mr. Hopkins is again on the job.

In their club room made cheery with quantities of red buds, tulips and Easter lilies, the Woman's Club held their regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon, Mrs. J. E. Fall presiding. After the regular monthly business was completed, annual reports were given by the various officers, and chairmen of the departments, showing they have been very active and interested in club work this past year.

The following delegates elected to attend the state convention which meets in Lexington in May were Mesdames Robert White, R. M. Alford, Jake Hudleston, Warren Graham, Alternates, Mesdames Ramsey Snow, T. M. Franklin, Ira Little, Hardeman Howard.

The club endorsed the recommendation of the board for Mrs. J. E. Warren as state president. Following the business, Mrs. Fall made her farewell address, giving a resume of her two year's work. The club has had an unusually large growth in enthusiasm and vitality under the leadership of Mrs. Fall. In closing her address, Mrs. Fall introduced the new president, Mrs. M. C. Section of 18th Street Road at St. Helens, Ky.—Kentucky Rock Asphalt on Macadam Base—Kyrook Brand

AFFIDAVIT

STATE OF KENTUCKY,
COUNTY OF JEFFERSON

Affiant, J. C. Koch, states that he is a resident of St. Helens, in Jefferson County, Kentucky, and has a place of business at that location.

He states that seventeen years ago a stretch of pavement was laid on the 18th Street Road about Two Hundred and Twenty yards South of Affiant's place of business. This pavement was laid with Kentucky Rock Asphalt of the KYROCK brand. This road has never been repaired and is apparently in as good condition as when it was laid. The road discloses no evidence of wear or disintegration. The traffic at this point is heavier than any other place on the road for the reason that two streets merge at this point into the 18th Street Road.

(Signed) J. C. KOCH.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of May, 1927
CHARLES D. HALBERLE,
Notary Public, Jefferson Co., Ky.
My commission expires January 2, 1930.

SUBSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

The picture above shows a street surfaced with Kentucky rock asphalt on macadam base constructed seventeen years ago at St. Helens, Ky. It is a beautiful street and in a sworn statement by J. C. Koch, a resident of St. Helens, he says "This road has never been repaired and is apparently in as good condition as when it was laid. It discloses no evidence of wear or disintegration."

The above only substantiates what we have pointed out before in recent articles regarding Kentucky rock asphalt surfacing Fulton streets.

We reiterate again that Fulton property owners want good streets, and investigation recommends rock asphalt as the best and most economical material for surfacing our streets. It is laid cold. It is always ready. No lost time in preparation. It does not require mixing or heating or costly equipment or asphalt experts to lay it. Nothing is added to it—nothing is taken from it. Nature made it—so it is laid. It is a natural asphaltic paving material. It will not bleed, shave, roll, wave, or buckle on any negotiable grade in any climate. It is durable and why go out of our native state for street surfacing material when we can use Kentucky rock asphalt located at our very door and delivered to us over our own Illinois Central railroad?

STOP! THINK! LISTEN!

Here we are on the eve of our street improvement program for 1928—a progressive step forward. The outside world has its eye focused upon us. Let's make Fulton a brilliant spot on the map in advertising to the outside world that Kentucky's natural resources is the best on earth, good enough for Fulton streets—good enough for anybody's streets.

Foreign Countries Appreciate Value of Ky. Rock Asphalt

We have in our possession a photograph showing part of a train load of Kentucky rock asphalt for export.

There is sufficient material in the shipment to surface about 30,000 square yards of street, the equivalent of three miles of eighteen foot road. The material for the shipment was investigated and passed on by recognized paving experts.

It will be laid by a contractor rated at over $5,000,000.00 who now has under contract 3,000,000 square meters of paving.

The material F. A. S. foreign port costs about three times what it can be bought for in Fulton.

Is it any wonder that Kentucky is behind, when there is a material—the best in the world for street paving, right at our very doors that we are hesitating on using?

If Kentucky industries could go forth for business in the counties and States in our Union with the backing of home folks, with the statement that all cities of any size in Kentucky are using Kentucky rock asphalt, that all roads are being surfaced with Kentucky rock asphalt, they could get real business and properly develop one of Kentucky's greatest natural resources, put more men to work, pay more State and County taxes, and generally advertise Kentucky.

NEW IMPROVEMENT

Work on installation of the new machine lamps has just been completed at the Grand which assures patrons now of perfect projection. Final installation was made Monday by J. P. Hueter of the Basch and Lomb Optical Co. The new strong arc lamps now afford the Grand patrons as clear and pleasing a picture found on any screen anywhere. A special advantage of the high light project through to the screen with this new process is the great elimination of eye strain.

SPECIAL AT THE GRAND MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Wallace Beery, Raymond Hatton, with Louise Brooks, coming to the Grand Monday and Tuesday in one of the best nonsensical fun films that has ever been put on the Grand screen. You've seen them in "In Behind the Front," and "In the Navy Now," and others, but when you see them as a couple of boob aero-nuts, drafted into the aviation service, you will laugh as you've never laughed before.

Mrs. Shepherd had been a resident of Fulton for many years and was loved and esteemed by a large acquaintance. She was a consecrated member of Trinity Episcopal Church and a faithful worker in the Lord's vineyard. Her passing will be keenly felt by the entire community, bowed in sorrow with the bereaved.

Agnes Pharis, from Beelerton, was the winner in this contest, also Frances Best was runner up. These two go to Clinton next Friday night, April 6, and contest with the winners and runners up from the different schools in this county. The winners and runners up from there go to Louisville.

Don't forget you still have an invitation to the Faculty play, which was postponed until Saturday night week, April 14th.

We, the high school students and teachers, want to express our appreciation for the co-operation of the grade students and teachers for their work during the past seven months. We are very proud to say that we will have two of them back with us next year, Mr. Kendall, the 7th and 8th grade teacher, and Mrs. Crisp, the primary teacher. We all certainly enjoyed having Mr. Kendall with us. He has done some splendid work.

We are sorry to know that Mrs. Vaughn will not be back with us next year. She has taught here for four years and the parents, students and teachers are very much pleased with the good work she has rendered during those four years. We want to add that she is not leaving because she has to but because of her own will and convenience. Our best wishes go with her during her next year's work.

Mrs. Crisp the primary teacher has done excellent work with the little folks this year, she knows just how to keep the little folks busy and keep them interested in their work.

Farm Notes

By Co. Agent H. A. McPherson

Why Not Plant 100 Acres of Snap Beans?

Over a period of 5 years I doubt if any truck crop will pay as well as early beans. The north, east and west are ready and willing to pay a fair price for good, early beans, and we ought to be ready to supply at least a part of the demand.

Beans should be planted as soon as possible for the early market and I would recommend the Early Red Valentine or Burpee's Stringless, seeded on good, well-drained land at the rate of 1 bushel per acre. Some growers only plant $\frac{3}{4}$ of a bushel per acre, but beans, as a rule, do much better if planted reasonably thick.

We ought to be able to net from $50.00 to $100.00 per acre, depending on the yield. The average yield will run around 100 bushel per acre. I see no reason why we could not plant at least 100 acres of beans, which would give us enough ears to induce a buyer to locate here.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(©, 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for April 15

TRANSFIGURATION AND SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:2-29.
GOLDEN TEXT—He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit; for apart from me ye can do nothing.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Shows His Glory.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Shows His Glory.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Faith and Prayer Can Do.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of the Transfiguration.

When Christ announced His death which was to take place on the cross, the disciples were unable to see how victory could issue from death. Jesus took with Him Peter, James and John into the mountain.

Two men from the upper world were sent to converse with Jesus about His approaching death at Jerusalem—the very thing about which the disciples refused to talk. The transfiguration is therefore a foregleam of the coming kingdom.

I. Jesus Christ Glorified on the Mountain (vv. 2, 3).

He took the disciples "by themselves" and was "transfigured before them." This shows that the purpose of the transfiguration terminated upon the disciples and not on Christ. Christ's rebuke of Peter for his unwillingness to hear concerning His death apparently for a time estranged the disciples from Him. To heal this breach an unusual transfiguration was required. His shining raiment was typical of that glory which shall be manifest when Christ comes back to the earth. His appearance on the mountain typifies His visible appearance on the Mount of Olives (Zech. 14:4, 9).

II. Peter, James and John Represent Israel in the Flesh in Connection With the Kingdom (v. 2).

Christ is peculiarly the King of Israel. According to Ezekiel 37:21-27, the Israelites are to be the central people in the kingdom. This people shall be gathered from among the nations and united as one in that kingdom, in their own country.

III. Moses and Elias Appeared in Glory With Jesus (vv. 4-13).

These men in the glorified state are typical of the state of the saints in glory. Moses, who was once denied entrance into Palestine, appears now in glory representing the redeemed.

the Lord who shall pass through into the kingdom. Multitudes of the Lord's own who have fallen asleep shall be awakened at Christ's coming and pass into the kingdom. Elias represents the redeemed who shall pass into the kingdom through transfiguration. Some shall be living upon the earth when the Lord shall come, and they, without dying, shall be changed and thus pass into the kingdom (I Cor. 15:50-53; I Thess. 4:14-18).

1. Peter's proposal (vv. 5, 6). So definitely was the method of the kingdom unfolded before Peter that he proposed to erect tabernacles for Christ, Moses and Elias. It is true that the unveiling of the majestic person of Christ and the panoramic display of the kingdom somewhat disconcerted Peter; yet he grasped its central meaning and proposed to celebrate the advent of the kingdom which had been prefigured in a tangible way.

2. The divine voice out of the cloud (vv. 7, 8).

God declared Jesus to be His beloved Son in whom He was well pleased. If one would know what is pleasing to God, let him study Jesus, who perfectly did His Father's will.

3. Jesus' charge (vv. 9-13).

He charged them that they should tell no man concerning the things which they had seen until He had risen from the dead.

IV. A Demonstration of the Purpose of the Establishment of the Kingdom (vv. 14-29).

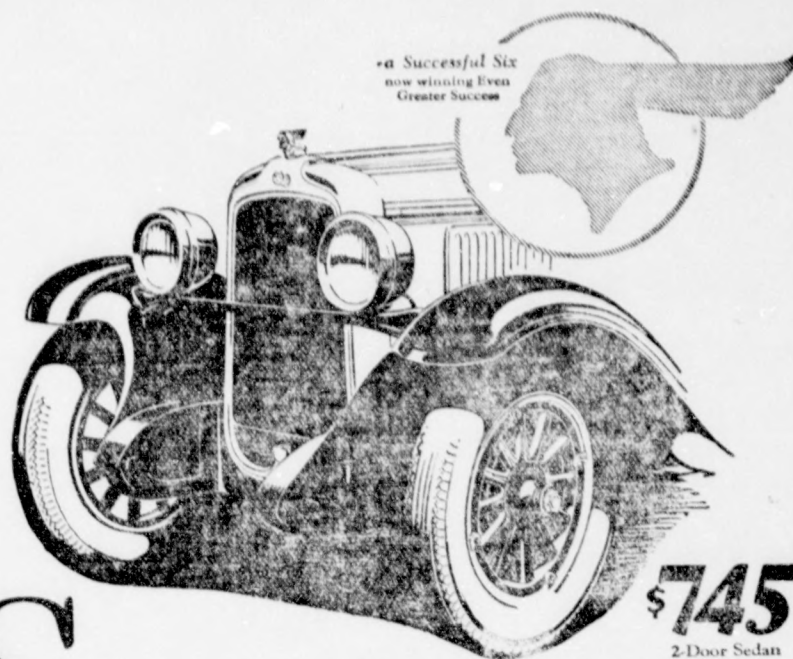

When they descended from the mountain of transfiguration they witnessed a great multitude in a state of perplexity. The immediate cause of this state was the grievous condition of a young man possessed with a demon (v. 18). The father of the young man had appealed to the disciples to cast the demon out, but they were unable to do so. When they brought him unto Jesus, the foul spirit was rebuked and came forth. This young man's state is representative of the nations who are oppressed by the Devil. Just as this young man was grievously oppressed, causing him to cast himself into the fire and into the waters, so the nations today in their perplexity are doing the things which will result in their own destruction. The Devil will be peculiarly active in the oppression of men and nations in the last days.

Getting Salvation

If we are going to get salvation, we have got to get it upon God's terms and not upon our own; and that is why I fear that a good many people will not get it—simply because they can't have their own way about it.—D. L. Moody.

BEELERTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The faculty play, entitled, "The Prairie Rose," will be given next Saturday night, April 14. Come just like you intended to before it was postponed.

The General Science class has been studying about birds, and each member of this class is making bird houses, which are being put up at the school. This is being done in order to bring the song birds around us and make the students and everyone appreciate our native birds.

The agriculture class which consists of the Juniors and Seniors, have put on a "School Beautification Project." There have already been two cedar trees set on the front and several more will be set out next week. One of the members of the class has whitewashed all the trees which we set a short time ago. This adds much beauty to the grounds. Also there were many different flower seeds planted. We are trying very hard to improve our campus.

On last Friday afternoon, April 6, a child health conference was held by the county health officers, Dr. Hunt and Miss Swan. We also had Miss Florence Houswald, R. U. Bureau of Child Health, from State Board of Health, Louisville, Ky. This was held for pre school children. The purpose of the conference was to help the mothers keep the little children well and to give them the advantage of a physical examination and health instructions to mothers. There were several mothers present, receiving good instruction for the care of the children. Miss Houswald made a very interesting talk to the high school students, which was as great a help to us as the instructions were to the mothers.

LOOSE FEATHERS

By J. T. Watkins

Watch these notes each week for news of the coming poultry show, and other notes pertaining to chickens.

Have received a new bunch of applications for the Junior membership club. It is not too late to get in on the deal and get some purebred eggs to hatch. $1.00 gets one setting free and pays your dues for one year.

Everything points to the largest and best show this year that has ever been held in Fulton.

The scrub must go. Pure bred poultry is rapidly taking the place of the scrub. And why not? It does not cost one cent more to feed a purebred fowl than a scrub. The difference in the egg returns will, more than, treble the cost of maintaining a scrub.

Nick, the Greek, proprietor of the Busy Bee Cafe, has the "chicken fever." He has purchased a flock of Light Brahmas. He says he is going to beat them all at the show.

The lucky boy or girl who has done 4H club poultry work most successfully this summer, will receive $150.00 towards starting them in college this fall. Tell your local 4H club leader to write your state club leader about it. Of course you want to try for this prize. The contest closes July 1. Winner will be announced in September Poultry Tribune.

When you read this we have already begun our drive for donations to finance the show this fall. If we haven't already called on you, make up your mind to boost the poultry game big this year and give us a good donation.

Notice to Chicken Owners

There is an Ordinance prohibiting chickens from running at large in the city limits, and this is a fair notice to chicken owners to keep their fowls up or pay a fine. Bailey Huddleston, Chief of Police.

FULTON TYPEWRITING TEAM BEATS TILGHMAN

The typewriting contest held at the Tilghman high school, at Paducah, Saturday, was won by the Fulton team, which had an average of 42 words a minute against 31 words a minute for the Tilghman team. The Fulton team, which is composed of Joseph Wilbur, Hazel Pewitt and Gladys Bell, was accompanied by Mrs. G. B. Butterworth, commercial teacher at the Fulton high school.

The Tilghman team, which is coached by R. L. Montgomery, is composed of Ann Hannin, Marcelline Challenor, and Gracie Alsobrooks. The Fulton team lost to Tilghman in the contest of last year.

Concrete Saves Gasoline

You will find in the simple chart, shown above, a lesson in economy directly connected with every motorist's pocketbook.

The chart is based on tractive resistance tests conducted by Iowa State College, Ames.

It shows that a gallon of gasoline carries you more than twice as far on a concrete road as on a dirt road, and one-half farther than on gravel.

The all-around economy of concrete roads goes a long way toward paying for them. In addition to the fuel saving, they are rigid, safe to drive on, and have the lowest upkeep cost.

Send for our booklet R-3 which tells many other interesting things about Concrete Roads. Write this office for your copy.

REVIEW OF OUR CONVENTIONS

With the approach of the two great national conventions, it is an interesting thing to review the past conventions, since the first was held in the year 1856.

From the beginning, the republicans have cast a total of 90 ballots while the democrats have displayed a much more vigorous fight before naming their party leaders, and have marked up 310 ballots.

Probably the most spirited convention was in 1924, when Davis was nominated on the 103d ballot, and the country may go a long time before the number of ballots will ever equal that convention. The highest number of ballots ever required to nominate at the republican convention was in 1880 when Garfield was the choice on the 56th ballot.

With the two conventions again in the offing the parties may both place a leader in nomination on the first ballot, or they may spend some time and chalk up a long list of ballots before a selection is made. The time has only been on a few occasions that the conventions have named a leader on the first ballot.

A review of these conventions since the first in 1856, shows the following, with the first named at each convention being the republican candidate and the second named, the democratic:

1856—Fremont on first; Buchanan on seventh.

1860—Lincoln on third; Breckenridge on first; Douglas on fifty-ninth.

1864—Lincoln on first; McClellan on first.

1868—Grant on first; Seymour on twenty-second.

1872—Grant on first; Greeley on first.

1876—Hayes on seventh; Tilden on second.

1880—Garfield on thirty-sixth; Hancock on second.

1884—Blaine on fourth; Cleveland on second.

1888—Harrison on eighth; Cleveland on first.

1892—Harrison on first; Cleveland on first.

1896—McKinley on first; Bryan on first.

1900—McKinley on first; Bryan on first.

1904—Roosevelt on first; Parker on first.

1908—Taft on first; Bryan on first.

1912—Taft on first; Wilson on forty-sixth.

1916—Hughes on third; Wilson on first.

1920—Harding on tenth; Cox on forty-fourth.

1924—Coolidge on first; Davis on one hundred third.

LIFE'S LITTLE JESTS

LIGHT HUMOR

Douglas Jerrold, the famous wit, once said to a dealer in candles:

"The candles you sold me last week were very bad."

"Indeed, sir, I am sorry for that," replied the dealer.

"Yes, sir; they were very bad. Do you know they burnt to the middle, and then would burn no longer?"

"You surprise me! What, sir—did they go out?"

"No, sir, no; they burnt shorter!"

No Chance

"This night club game is all shot," said one waiter to another. "I've tried half a dozen times to grab off a little extra money by raising the checks, but I've been caught up at it every time."

"Serve you right," the other waiter replied. "You oughta know better. These men here tonight are in town attending a convention of auditors."

Efficiency Expert

"I am an efficiency expert."

"What are your duties?"

"To report that everything is going on o. k. in the shop."

"But is that the case?"

"You are behind the times. Modern business requires imagination."

Easily and quickly erected—neat and trim in appearance. Knot can't slip, yet it "gives" but slips back into position after each heavy shock and strain.

MONARCH Field, Hog, Poultry Fence

is made by the patented "Galvanneal" process which means 2 to 3 times heavier zinc coating than on ordinary galvanized fence. This, plus copper-bearing steel, resists rust to the core and makes Monarch far outlast any other hinge-joint fence.

COURTESY

Courtesy is the cheapest commodity in the world, yet it is probably the least used.

It doesn't belong to any corporation and it isn't quoted in Wall Street. It is not regulated by any federal commission—there are no restrictions on it. The price of courtesy is not fixed because there are no "production costs."

Courtesy is as free as the air we breathe, and costing nothing, many view it as a worthless asset and do not make it a part of themselves.

For many, many years the commencement day orators have been telling us that courtesy is a factor to be reckoned with if we wish to succeed in life.

Some high school graduates have remembered this bit of timely advice and in their efforts to get ahead in the strenuous game of life, they have made it their constant aim to be courteous to others.

Go through the list of your acquaintances and see how many have made courtesy pay. You will find the number lamentably small because they have been too busy with the small perplexities of life to take time for little courtesies that make the brief stay here pleasant.

Courtesy pays big dividends in what we generally term success. It likewise creates within the individual a certain sense of satisfaction in the thought that he makes friends by treating others courteously.

And it always comes back abundantly in proportion to the way it is extended to others.

IMPORTANT SIDE TO ATHLETICS

One of the greatest purposes in teaching athletics in our schools today, is not for the rivalry that it develops among the schools, but because it teaches the mind to work with the body.

An example of this kind can be seen in men who never had training in school athletics, who go into gymnasium classes and attempt to play the games. By watching them for a few moments, one can see that their mind and their body will not function properly together.

This same thing is true when an older person attempts to cross the street, and is suddenly in the path of an automobile that sounds its warning horn. Unless that person can communicate in action between the mind and the body at once, an accident will happen.

This one little feature alone in teaching athletics in our schools today, prepares the boys and girls to be alert, so that when the mind requires quick action, the body at once responds and the two can work in a systematic manner on the sudden impulse.

Many people in Fulton county believe that athletics are being overdone, but it is a part of the mental training, and an important part which many of the former generations failed to get in their school curricula.

GOOD JUDGMENT EXEMPLIFIED

A person who is able to look forward into the next year, is usually the one who manages to come out on top and ahead of the rest.

Foresight is the steering wheel to guide us aright in our words and actions—the speed throttle and brake lever which enables us to move ahead with dispatch and due safety—it is the mental calculation of cause and effect with respect to the seconds, minutes, hours, days and years through which we are steadily passing.

Contemplating cause and effect sharpens the foresight, and the constant exercise of foresight in our work will eliminate many of the "ifs" that are so easily detected with the hindsight.

Foresight is the future tense of good judgment, applied to present actions, which minimizes the regrets in our vision of the past and promotes success in life.

WHAT MAKES A ROOF LEAK?

Why don't boys climb roofs any more? Remember when we were kids how we used to shin up the tree alongside of the woodshed; straddle the ridgepole till we got where we could swing up over the eaves on to the big roof? Then we'd sit with our backs against the chimney, sunning ourselves and just looking around and thinking till father yelled at us. Then, when we got down, he would bawl us out for walking on the roof with our shoes on loosening the shingles.

Shingles don't come loose as easily now as they used to in those days, but modern roofs do leak, and the cause is said to be more from faulty laying than poor material.

The modern asphalt shingle with its hard, crushed, rock surface could stand a deal of tramping from youngsters' shoes, but experts say that it must be nailed in just the right spots, or eventually the action of wind and weather will work it loose.

This is an age of specialization and almost every town now has one or more contractors who specialize in laying roofs. These men co-operate with the local building supply dealer in seeing that the roof jobs he takes are expertly applied. They are trained in roof "application," just as are experts in other skilled trades. One large roofing company even maintains a school for the contractors that apply its product, so that they may be sure that their roofing will give satisfaction.

A "feiler" could tramp around on that sort of roof all day without being called to earth by father. Maybe that's why the present generation of kids don't climb. What fun is there in it if there is no risk of getting called down?

PERMANENT FAIR IS ASSURED FOR OBION COUNTY

County Makes Appropriation of $2,000 for Obion County Free Fair

The Obion County Free Fair was assured of being a permanent organization last Monday when the county court appropriated $2,000 per year to its support. Starting two years ago a few business men and citizens decided to have an agricultural fair and obtained enough support from local business men to put on a fair, using temporary buildings to house the exhibits. The same plan was used last year, but at that time it was agreed that unless permanent buildings could be erected, and the fair placed on a sound basis that it would not be held again. The Lions Club have since been working on plans to put the fair on a permanent basis, and the action of the county court is the result of this work.—Union City Commercial.

The Horseman

A little lad was telling some of his boy friends about the wonderful uncle he had, and said: "Yes, and you should see him ride a horse."

His mother overheard this remark and said: "Uncle can't ride a horse, sonny."

COLUMBUS PARK WILL ADD UNIT TO STATE SYSTEM

West Kentucky is now in a fair way to get a State park at Columbus, the historic town in Hickman county, on the Mississippi river. The project got a financial start when the legislature appropriated $5,000 to become available when a public subscription of $20,000 more is raised to purchase the necessary land to constitute the park area.

West Kentucky is the only section without a public park. For some time the people of that locality have been at work on the project, and it is understood that the funds to make it a go have been pledged. The proposed park area embraces several hundred acres of land around Columbus that are ideally situated for a State reservation, which the area eventually will become. It will mark the site of what was once proposed for the capitol of the United States.

Columbus, once an outpost of civilization, has figured in many historic enterprises that commend the locality for conversion into a State park. It commands a sweeping view of the Mississippi river and is considered one of the most picturesque spots in the Mississippi valley. That it was the favorite of aboriginal tribesmen is indicated by the prehistoric relics that have been uncovered in that vicinity in the work of excavating for levees that protect the section from the overflow of the "Father of Waters."

Columbus, now an antiquated hamlet, figured historically from the time of the American Colonies down through the War Between the States, when it became a strategic military point. The realization of the Columbus State Park will add another unit to the system that then will extend all the way from Mills' Point to the Big Sandy and furnish another objective for the thousands of tourists who come to Kentucky annually to revel in the many attractions the state has to offer. Started only a few years ago, the State Park movement in Kentucky has made much headway.—Bardwell News.

GIRL MAKES FINE RECORD AT SCHOOL

Agnes Earl Pharis, daughter of Mr. V. C. Pharis, of the Beelerton neighborhood, has a record for school work that is not easily surpassed. In fact, Mr. Ernest Bennett, chairman of the County Board of Education, challenges any county in the district to show its equal.

Miss Pharis is a pupil in the Beelerton high school. She has had the following teachers: Mrs. J. D. Dixon, Miss Mabelle Hopkins, Miss Irene Bockman, Miss Jewell Robey and Noah Kendall. She has gone to school 845 days, and lost 36 days on account of sickness. Her grade record for the entire period has been 297 A's, 85 B's and 6 C's.

She is also the champion speller of the district in which her school is located. She won a gold medal for receiving best grade and being best all around pupil.

Another feature, aside from her grades, is the fact that Miss Pharis, going to and coming from school, rode and drove a little old mule a total of 4,245 miles over some of the muddiest roads in the county.—Hickman County Gazette.

How Business is meeting the new Competition

MORE competitive difficulties loom upon the business horizon. . . Fresh problems to tackle in order to avoid what some economist has aptly termed "a profitless prosperity."

Executives responsible for sales are busy with plans calculated to halt steadily-increasing sales costs. Yet with a host of competitors bidding for their share of the national income, there must still be an aggressive and constructive sales effort.

In this new order of things, personal selling via the long distance telephone is slated to play a major part. More than ever before the speech-highways of the nation will hum with the affairs of business.

Not for a moment do we prescribe selling-by-telephone as a cure-all for business ills. But we can point to it as a thoroughly practical method which has already established its value beyond question in almost every line of commercial activity.

The business man who wishes to consider the application of telephone selling to his sales program will find us ready to present convincing evidence as to its real worth from firms in his own line. An inquiry at our Business Office will bring full information.
