Flood Devastation Mounts

Local Red Cross Extends Helping Hand To Needy

FULTON RED CROSS CHAPTER HELPS IN FLOOD RELIEF HERE

The Fulton Chapter of American Red Cross met in special session at the Usona Hotel Sunday, to form plans to render aid to the flood-stricken areas of this section. J. O. Lewis, local chairman, told of the imperative need of funds for flood relief, and launched a drive to raise the quota set for Fulton. The following committees were named:

Disaster committee: Clarence Reed, Joe Davis, Paul DeMyer, Vodie Harlan and Smith Atkins.

Clothing committee: Mrs. Nora Alexander was named as chairman of this committee, which had to make a drive to secure blankets, clothing, etc., to be sent to Hickman and used locally to provide for refugees arriving here. On this committee were Mesdames S. P. Moore, Hugh Pigot, Ernest Fall, Mansfield Martin, Gladys Chowning, Bob Taylor, Gus Bard, Tom Franklin and Joe Davis.

Finance committee: N. C. Cooke, Leon Browder, Ernest Fall, T. M. Franklin, Bob White. This committee started an immediate drive for funds.

Court Abbreviated Due To Flood Conditions

Judge L. L. Hindman called the January term of the Fulton circuit court to order here Monday, but the session was cut short in the main court room, in order to turn it over to the Red Cross for flood refugees. The grand jury opened in the main court room, and the petit jury was dismissed until afternoon.

Twelve of the 14 cases on the Commonwealth docket were carried over until the next term. Lewis Harris, colored, charged with having illegal intoxicating liquor in his possession, was fined $20 and costs. Buford Walker, charged with assault and battery, was fined $50 and costs.

Grand Jury: S. E. Hancock, E. A. Mayfield, R. C. Powell, Lon Jones, Will Fields, Chas. Buford, Chas. Ferrell, Jim Logan, A. E. Wall, Percy King, Rich Leake, Albert Jones.

Fulton People Seek Relatives In Paducah

Many Fulton people, becoming worried about relatives in Paducah, went there early in the week 10 and in bringing them out of danger. Kellie Love and Wallace Shankle were among those who took boats here in order to reach relatives. These boats were later conscripted for service in removing refugees.

HALBURTON WILL SPEAK AT MARTIN

First hand stories as amazing as those of "Believe it or not" Robert Ripley will be brought to the auditorium of The University of Tennessee Junior College at 8 o'clock on February 19, when Richard Haliburton will appear in person for a lecture entertainment.

Haliburton brings to the lecture platform, according to the thousands who have heard him, the same allurement and adventurous spirit that he has put into his famous books and feature articles carried by forty leading American newspapers. Because of his unique exploits Mr. Haliburton has an unusual and thrilling story and tell of far-away places and mysterious customs and peoples. The author of "The Road to Romance" will carry his hearers with him over this road into historic spots of the world which he has visited and will see them through the eyes of the man who paints a graphic word picture of Spain, Russia, The Holy Land and dozens of countries which are only maps and names to Mr. Average Man but which become real places with real meaning to him when Haliburton tells of them in his lecture.

Army engineers are building bulkheads on top of entire 350 miles of Arkansas levees. Great fear that river will surge over the main levee system. Major Mississippi flood threat centers on East Arkansas.

Engineers call for 5,000,000 sandbags. Placing 100,000 daily on set-back levee behind New Madrid-Birdsfoot levee plug.

FULTON AIDS BY RELIEF DONATIONS

Fulton, like every other city in this area, has rallied to the urgent need of money with which to carry on relief work in the flood-stricken areas. The local committee, appointed by Chairman J. O. Lewis of the Fulton Chapter of Red Cross, started a drive early this week to meet the need set for Fulton by the National Red Cross organizations which were sending money, food, supplies and clothing into this vicinity to take care of the flood situation.

Up to noon Thursday $1576.40 had been contributed by citizens of this community, which will be needed to meet pressing demands. All these contributions have not yet been received immediately, as thousands of flood refugees are in dire need of food, clothing, bedding and medical care. It is estimated that between 1500 and 2000 refugees will be given assistance here, while many others will be aided in finding refuge with friends and relatives.

Flood Flashes

Martial law became effective in East Arkansas and troops patrolled weakening levees in Tennessee on Tuesday as the South grappled with one of the highest flood waters which left death and disaster in their wake.

Governor Carl Bailey authorized by his legislature declared martial law in East Arkansas, ordered three companies of militia out at once when government engineers advised that the main Mississippi river levee at Melwood, twenty miles south of Helena, Ark., might give out within 24 to 36 hours.

Governor Browning of Tennessee said he considered martial law unnecessary in West Tennessee but that troops would patrol levees and the lowlands around Tiptonville where Lake county's 80,000 acres are threatened by weakening of levee near Sny Levee.

The orders were issued on the demand of Col. Eugene Reynolds, in charge of the Memphis district of the U. S. Engineers, who told the governor that the "flood plug" must be blown out if Cairo was to be saved. Cutting of the "flood plug" levee, which lies on the Missouri side just below Cairo, sent tons of water tumbling over 200 square miles of bottom lands to reduce the prevailing danger to Cairo, Hickman, and the Reelfoot Lake area.

The levee was supposed to go out automatically when 57 feet of water was registered on the Cairo gauge, but Sunday night with a Cairo reading of 57.5 feet it still held. The fuse plug levee or the old levee runs directly along the river front at Tiptonville to New Madrid, but behind the floodway area is a new 60-foot levee designed to protect the back country.

This floodway was designed especially for the purpose of giving relief to time of floods, and owners of property within the floodway territory were paid by the government for the right to flow water over their land at infrequent intervals.

City schools were dismissed here at noon Wednesday by Supt. J. O. Lewis by authorization of the Board of Education. He stated that the house flood victims.

Colored refugees numbering some 300 were being cared for at the negro school here.

750,000 b-mches. Property damage is estimated at $30,000,000. Dead now estimated at 325. Senate passed action on $700,000,000 relief bill. Red Cross raises quota to $10,000,000. F. D. R. announces new central plan. Valley flood control plan.

Fire sweeps Louisville to cause additional desperation to panic-stricken area. Army police city, evacuating continue. 24 bodies in morgue. 200 dead from disease.

Reelfoot Lake threatened by levee break and change in river's course. Major break feared at Bessie Bend just below Hickman.

Four registered nurses from the King's Daughters Hospital of Greenville, Miss., arrived in Fulton Wednesday night to help with the emergency work here. They are staying with Mrs. Amos Stubblefield.

Local daymen and cream shippers called upon to help in the work for the refugees.

Dr. Grady Rowntree and county health department, called on to help in the work for the refugees.

At midnight Wednesday the river at Louisville stood at 57 feet, falling one inch every 3 to 6 hours.

Miss Eleanor McKown, a Red Cross worker of Pittsburg, Pa., reported to Red Cross headquarters in Fulton Thursday and was taken to Paducah where she had been ordered to report for service.

Flood waters poured into Mounds Hill Wednesday afternoon, 22 miles from the river, when the levee protecting that city broke.

Two relief hospitals have been set up in Fulton. An emergency ward at the Elks Club on Lake-st and a contagious disease ward at the Legion Cabin on Fourth-st. Mrs. McEwen, Red Cross nurse of Memphis is in charge of hospitalization.

By police restrictions the sale of intoxicating liquors was controlled locally to prevent excessive drinking.

Local daymen and cream shippers called upon to help in the work for the refugees.

FLOOD SWEEPS OHIO AND MISSOURI VALLEY, TAKING LIVES

Weeks of continuous rains, sleet, and snow were responsible for the greatest flood in the Ohio and Mississippi valley since 1884, reports indicate. Floods have caused property damage and loss of lives, periodically in the year 1884, 1913 and 1927. Floods have occurred in other years, but with lesser damage.

The 34,000 citizens of Paducah were ordered completely evacuated Monday by the Red Cross. All women and children were ordered out of Cairo, Ill., by order, calling on a mayor's proclamation as in need of a major evacuation of the city.

Meanwhile, the United States government mobilized forces on a war-time scale to take over the job of relief and rescue. President Roosevelt personally ordered the Red Cross, the Army and Navy, the WPA, the CCC and the Coast Guard into the battle.

Special trains brought hundreds of troops to Memphis and cutters steamed up the Mississippi while overhead seaplanes sped toward the flood-stricken areas. Evacuated, with the Coast Guard, nurses, CCC men and high officials are known dead and 500,000 are homeless. Property damage has reached more than $80,000,000.

And now rains are sending both the Ohio and Mississippi to higher levels so that government observers say flood conditions may continue for a month, with no rests in sight for at least a week.

Paducah was buried under eight feet of water, with its power lines still and the only traffic was rescue boats plying its water-choked streets. The city was ordered completely evacuated, and government agencies were ordered on a 24-hour war-time basis to save the city.

The catastrophe was personally relayed to him by relief workers. Armed farmers prevented U. S. engineers from cutting the Birdsfoot-New Madrid "flood plug" to save Cairo, Ill., Monday afternoon. But Governor Stark of Missouri ordered a unit of the National Guard bridge to meet the engineers early Tuesday morning.

The orders were issued on the demand of Col. Eugene Reynolds, in charge of the Memphis district of the U. S. Engineers, who told the governor that the "flood plug" must be blown out if Cairo was to be saved. Cutting of the "flood plug" levee, which lies on the Missouri side just below Cairo, sent tons of water tumbling over 200 square miles of bottom lands to reduce the prevailing danger to Cairo, Hickman, and the Reelfoot Lake area.

Lee Powell Rigs Up Boat; Family Escapes Safely

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Powell and baby, Sney Sue, of Paducah, are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Edwards on College Street, arriving in Fulton late Monday afternoon. Mr. Powell returned to Paducah to aid in removing refugees.

Mr. Powell states that they were very fortunate in getting out so soon as their home is on Harrison Boulevard and a very high location in comparison with the lowlands. At the time they left the water was six feet deep in their basement, cutting off more the first floor of their house could be under water. However, Mr. and Mrs. Powell did not suffer from lack of heat or food as they removed coal from their basement into the house at an early date and placed a large stove in the center of their kitchen and had a large supply of food on hand. They had been without lights, water, or telephone since Friday.

As soon as they were in danger, Mr. Powell and Tom Smith, a neighbor, left the house in a small skiff which had been made from shelves and drawers from furniture in the house. Having been gone several hours they returned for Mrs. Powell and daughter. They were carried five blocks in the swift current in a small boat and were moved into a motor boat. They were taken to ice and there they were transferred to a huge tractor, plowing their way through the snow, to 30th and Jefferson Street, where Mr. Powell had parked his truck. Mr. Powell states that while rowing through the swift current many boats ran under water and were completely under water and impossible to see. She also says that all along the streets, from every building you can hear people crying for help.

"Please come and get me next."

Paducah people have been requested for the last several days to use water only for drinking purposes, with ten drops of iodine to each gallon, and use melted snow for other purposes.

Rumors are that three cases of typhoid fever have been reported and people are begging for serum.

Coast Guard Moving Paducahans To Safety

The Coast Guard is making every one leave Paducah. Several refugees arrived in Fulton early Thursday morning, who stated that they did not want to leave but were forced out. Due to backwaters in the area where the Ohio and Tennessee rivers converge, the current in the latter river has changed and is sweeping through the heart of Paducah.

IN MEMORY

JAMES C. PICKLE

James C. Pickle, age 91, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his wife, Mrs. Pickle, in Big Springs, Texas. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon from Mr. Moriah church, near here by Rev. Woodrow Fuller. Interment followed in the cemetery there in charge of Winstead-Jones & Co.

Mr. Pickle was born in Bedford county, Tenn., August 29, 1845. At the age of 16 he was enlisted in the Union army. He had two brothers who fought on the other side with the Confederacy. Following the Civil War he located in Winkley county, Tenn., and in 1871 he married Miss Lou Dixon, ten children being born to this union. He was a member of the Baptist church, having served as deacon for a number of years. Several months ago he went to Texas to reside with his son.

He is survived by six sons, Dyas and Lon Pickle of Fulton, J. B. Arsh and Gus Pickle of Big Springs, Texas. Herman Pickle of Detroit, 20 grand children and seven great grandchildren.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

HERE SUNDAY, JANUARY 31

"Love" will be the subject of a lesson-sermon Sunday in all Christian Science churches and societies. Citations from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, constitute the lesson-sermon.

This includes Christian Science Society, Fulton, Ky., which holds services Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. and a testimonial meeting every Wednesday night at 7:30 with Reading Room at 211 Carr-st. open from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Sweeping toward the sea in a mile-wide tide with houses and other flood debris riding its muddy crest, the rising Mississippi lapped higher against its levees in West Tennessee and Kentucky, and began to crawl over the numerous islands that dot its surface.

Mr. Powell states that they were very fortunate in getting out so soon as their home is on Harrison Boulevard and a very high location in comparison with the lowlands. At the time they left the water was six feet deep in their basement, cutting off more the first floor of their house could be under water. ### Obion and Rives Tenn. Suffer From Flood

The towns of Obion and Rives in Obion County, Tenn., south of here have suffered from prevailing flood conditions, as the Obion river flooded the lowlands. Obion had no electric service after this week, due to trouble on the power lines of the Kentucky-Tennessee Utilities Co., and this has brought about failure of the water system, leaving the town without current and water.

Water of the river continued to back up into the towns of Rives and Obion, overflowing residences and the business districts. Refugees from the lower areas surrounding Obion were forced out of the city hall and depot because of water coming into these places, and moved into the auditorium of the school building.

Young Colored Girl Loses Life In Swollen Creek

Helen Hayes, colored, 10-year-old daughter of Jim Hayes, employee of the Bennett Drug Store here for the past 25 years, was drowned in high waters of the Harris Fork Creek Sunday. The girl was attempting to jump across a branch of this creek at her in South Fulton, when she slipped and fell into the water. She was swept away into the main creek where the swift current carried her under a companion who witnessed the accident stated.

Officers and volunteer helpers searched the creek banks for hours but failed to find the body. Later a report from Rives, Tenn., stated a body believed to be that of a child had been seen floating by in the creek there, but due to high waters it could not be reached and was carried on by the current.

Open Edgewood Cut-off For Rail Service

Thursday night of last week, Engine 1844 was derailed at Baltimore Cut, some ten miles north of Fulton, when the tracks were covered by large earth slides. Engineer George Winters and Fireman Vreidenstein were on the engine.

A crew of workers were sent out from Fulton to open the Edgewood Cut-off where this engine overturned and railway traffic was open to St. Louis and Chicago by the middle of this week.

Paducah Power Service Goes Out; Delcos Needed

Word was received here Thursday morning that the power service at Paducah had gone out, and that three or more Delco plants were needed. A call was placed to Jackson, Tenn., for these plants, and a truck was sent out of Fulton to bring them to Paducah where they were installed to provide lights at hotels, hospitals and boat landings.

300,000 homeless in Kentucky, 40,000 homeless in West Virginia, 75,000 homeless in Indiana, 25,000 homeless in Illinois, 105,000 homeless in Ohio, 100,000 homeless in Arkansas, 50,000 homeless in Missouri.

Tennessee started reinforcing 100 miles of levee to guard against crests sweeping southward.

TWO AUTOMOBILE SERVICES OFFERED RAIL PASSENGERS

"Your automobile, sir!"

Such is the greeting which Illinois Central passengers may now arrange for themselves as they step from their trains at destinations perhaps far away from home.

This practical form of co-ordination between rail and road is envisioned in the announcement by the Illinois Central System of a choice of two plans of nation-wide application enabling passengers to have available at destinations automobiles for their own exclusive use.

One is the already familiar choice of shipping the family automobile ahead by rail. This may now be done at a cost of 4 cents per mile if the passengers hold two or more tickets good in standard sleeping or parlor cars or three or more tickets good in other cars, the minimum acceptable charge being $54 for passengers and automobile.

The other plan is to make use of the "Drive-Yourself" automobile facilities available in most cities with a population of 5,000 or more, to popularize this opportunity, the Illinois Central is circulating among its passengers a list of some 400 "Drive-Yourself" stations prepared by the western railroads and covering many of the states in which this railroad operates. The stations listed in Kentucky are Lexington and Louisville.

Through both these arrangements, the Illinois Central points out, passengers may enjoy comfort, safety and speed of modern trains and yet have the freedom of private automobiles at their destinations at only moderate expense.

PART-TIME FARMING STUDIED

A study of part-time farming among Negroes near Lexington, reported in a new bulletin of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, says that "the experience of these farmers indicates that many persons who undertake part-time farming with the hope of financial gain are likely to be disappointed."

The chief advantage in devoting part of the time to farming was found to be that of reducing the cost of living, rather than making money. The experiences of 104 Negro families, mostly within Fayette county, were studied.

HOW TO GET MORE EGGS

How to feed hens for profit, the use of protein, distillery by-products, commercial concentrates, grain feeds, dry mash mixtures, artificial light and other matters of interest to flock owners are discussed in a new circular of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture called "Feeding and Management of Laying Hens." See a county agent for a copy or write to the college.

DISCUSSES LIME BURNING

Farmers can burn limestone as cheaply as they can grind it, if wood is plentiful. So it is declared in a circular of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. The ways to construct a lime stack, to build and to burn a limekiln and to spread lime are discussed. Copies of the circular may be had from county agents or by writing to the college at Lexington.

FAMILY ACCOUNTS HELP SAVE MONEY

If the family has decided to keep accounts, with the thought in mind that money must be saved for John's college education during 1939-40, what is the first step to take? It's quite simple and not so laborious as it sounds. Get a blank notebook, a 10-cent one will do for the first year, make only five divisions: food, shelter, clothing, operating expenses, and advancement. That last heading, "advancement," will take in savings, life insurance, travel, recreation, education, etc., things that are for a successful, well-rounded life.

The account book won't manufacture money where none exists, but will make possible year-to-year saving so that every penny will go toward some goal. Students of the home economics department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture learn that this one of the sound principles upon which families may build.

The most important rules as to choosing food are: use fresh fruits and vegetables liberally, especially only vegetables; use whole grain cereals, breadstuffs, meat and potatoes to meet the energy needs of the body; use milk at every meal. As to clothing, the budget should be planned a year in advance, taking in special needs arising with the season. Fifteen percent of the income for clothing is the usual textbook allowance, but requirements vary.

Then if Mary is 19 years old and needs a party dress, perhaps 25-year-old Bob will find that his overcoat is still warm and good, even though it doesn't look like new. If the family discusses these things, regularly and pleasantly, adjustments can usually be made.

Accounts can be used for budget estimates, with a few alterations, for future years.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE NECESSARY TO SAFEGUARD SAVINGS

With 45 legislatures and Congress holding sessions this year, with an ever-increasing demand for more taxes in every state to meet the high level of regular and extraordinary expenditures, and with social security and other sociological-economic legislative proposals to be considered, the need is more pressing in 1931 than ever before for wise counsel, says a release of the American Life Convention.

To watch the interests of life insurance policy holders, the convention has elected an outstanding insurance executive in each of 41 states to act as its state vice-president for the coming year. Their duties will be to warn against proposals that strike at the security of life insurance.

Every citizen who has sought greater security through life insurance—and there are some 65,000,000 of them—has a direct personal interest in this situation. Eternal vigilance is essential if individual savings and investments are to be safeguarded.

Scientists claim that the average man has twelve billion brain cells, but we doubt if there are any average men in this vicinity.

Those red fingernails the ladies are sporting now were not gotten by putting up chili sauce or tomato catsup.

Self-praise is a sign of egotism and selfishness and is rarely if ever appreciated by those to whom it is related.

Mahatma Gandhi's absence from the news in recent months had the world worried, but he came forth the other day with the announcement of another hunger strike, so all is well.
