FULTON, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1948

NUMBER THREE

by
GEORGE ALLEY

Shortly after Fulton County got its first gravel road—a two and a half mile stretch eastward out of Hickman—Dr. I. H. Read, one of our earliest automobile dealers, received a call from a Hickman planter revealing a desire to purchase one of the new, fast, Essex touring cars, provided it could do (as was claimed) a speed of fifty miles an hour.

"Well, you've bought yourself an auto," assured the Doctor. "I'll be right over."

This was in the quiet, unharmed, halcyon days when the driving time for the twenty one miles from Fulton to Hickman was an hour and twenty minutes. Touring was a series of spurts from one bridge abutment to the next and woe be to the rear seat passengers when there was no slowing down for the bridges! The Doctor had driven over in forty minutes flat—a record for that period—and was ready for the demonstration.

With the nervous, doubting, prospective customer on the rear seat in order to unimpede in no wise the driver, and the cool, confident, intrepid Doctor at the wheel, they drove out over the Hickman hills eastward on the gravel. Cautiously they crossed the N. C. & St. L. tracks and Doc began to advance the gas lever up the quadrant. The planter leaned forward with eyes fixed on the speedometer, 20—25—30 as they rounded the sharp hill curve out beyond the suburbs, and then the Doctor "poured on the coal."

There was a snort from under the hood as the carburetor gulped in an unaccustomed rush of air. Unfamiliar vibrations and noises assailed the Doctor's ears. But higher and higher the pointer climbed 35—40—42—45. The far end of the gravel was in sight. A trembling hand from the rear clutched at the Doctor's shoulders. An importunate voice yelled, "Stop it, Doc. I'll take it. I'll take it!"

One of the most intriguingly interesting lady's hats was seen Saturday becomingly worn by Mrs. King, wife of the local Plymouth dealer. It was a chic beret, the entire top being the outstretched feathered skins of a brace of quail. The upright heads of the white-throated Bob. White and his septa headed mate looked most lifelike at the middle front; while the outspread wings and tail plumage added a rich autumnal luster to the artistic creation, with their many shades of tan and brown. And listen, husbands, she made it herself!

One benefit that possibly can accrue from the New Look fashion—now that skirt necks are to swing about twelve inches from the floor—is that men, for the first time in their lives, (should) gaze from their customary direction) will form a more accurate conception of the exact length of a lineal foot.

To give a local column an original name is well nigh an impossibility. Such titles as "Fultoniana," "Tales of West Kentucky," "Fulton Folklore," etc., etc., come to mind and one that received serious consideration and would be certain to be accorded fine public acceptance would be "Not About Me." I, Mr. B. changed but for the present "Musing" will be the heading.

Little Phoebe

Little Phoebe just laughed and laughed at a title George Alley suggested for a column. (See Musing.) So she took pen in hand and wrote a poem. Here 'tis. Wouldn't sell for one cent on an inflated poetry market.

I think that I shall never see
A word as lovely as "me."

Me-me-me-me, it sounds so grand
I use it everywhere I can.

It's me do this and me do that
To let you all know where I'm at.

For you I've given not a hang
The biggest thing is where me am.

And when my readers can't stand
"me,"

I use the pronoun "I" you see.

I-I-I, I've really coo,
And with this pronoun got my to.

And play with it by day and night
Until my readers lose their sight.

Someday they'll send me up the line
To state asylum number nine.

But they can't stop me, not at all
Because I'm not about to stall.

Till I throw my head back, laugh in glee.

And thumb my lip so: me-me-me.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES

By The Staff

The Fulton Hospital has been approved by the Kentucky State Department of Health to do pre-marital blood tests. This is indeed a welcome service to the anxious folks in the young and old department who had to wait until the blood was tested at Mayfield or Louisville.

Kudos to the Fulton hospital for meeting the very exacting tests required for approval.

Chief of Police Gip McDade has put a policeman's foot down on the business of traffic violations. The winsome look, as contrast to the "new look" is out for trying to squirm out of the traffic ticket. It's a fine for the folks who do not pass off in 24 hours.

Over-parking at the meter is not the only violation, there's that there parking on the yellow line, being on the right side of the street at the wrong time, etc. etc.

And he ain't kidding either.

Its farewell and hello to IC station masters. R. C. Haynes of Haidyville, Ala., and former Birmingham district conductor, will take over the reins from Frank Bryant. He's already on duty, living at the Earle Hotel, and here's a note to the Masonic Lodge, for he's a member.

And in the department of confusion will the kind lady from Martin who sent in $2.00 for her subscription, wrapped in a wrapper from a stationery box please identify herself. We've looked and looked and can't find a soul by the name of "hy-tone linen fabric." Thanks for the money, but Mrs. Hush, please let us know you.

Super-secret is the title placed on the case of the arrest of two men who broke into the American Legion cabin Sunday night. Names of suspects are being withheld and anybody with $20 in cash is a suspect, for that's what they got.

S-Sgt. John C. Lawson of 800 Troy avenue, Hickman and Private Ben H. Barber, Jr., of 114 McDowell street, South Fulton, have been enlisted in the U. S. Air Force, through the local recruiting office. Both are veterans of World War I.

And while on the subject of the local recruiting office and the folks who run same, Sgt. W. M. Avalon and Staff Sgt. P. S. Nielsen were "men of the moment" as they came right going in their little jeep and pushed Frank Carr, popular local attorney, to the hospital when he was hit by a car on Monday.

Mr. Carr, a pioneer citizen of the city, was struck by a car driven by Raymond Madding, as he (Mr. Carr) was crossing the street in front of his home on Second street. He was taken to the Jones Hospital by the sergeants.

Though not seriously injured his injuries were painful and all of us at the News are hoping for a speedy recovery for the lovable gent.

And in the realm of sad farewells we bid a reluctant adieu to the Brigmans, Nap and Elizabeth as he leaves to accept a position as city recorder and treasurer of the City of Dyersburg, Tenn. Nap has been cashier of the local Airline Gas Company and they have been stalwarts of the civic, cultural and social life of Fulton.

There are many of us who hate to see them leave but wish them much success in their new home and position.

During this Leap Year the good ladies of the IC Service Club will have the golden opportunity to make a direct appeal to the heart of their favorite male as a box supper is planned by that organization for January 23 at 6:30 p. m. at the YMBC assembly room.

You know how its done. Tie box of food of a fair damsel will be put up for auction and the men folks will bid for the delicious viands. It's as old fashioned as this year's hat, but great fun, and President Gene Hoodenpyle is urging all members to attend.

There'll be election of officers too, so put the date on your "must" list.

A shining new silver bar to Lt. Billy Reed, son of Clarence and Betty Louise, who is stationed in Japan. Billy was just recently promoted to first lieutenant in that far off land of the cherry blossoms. Some day we'll make a long, long story for this short, short column and tell you all about the wonderful treasures Billy is sending home to his parents.

And another local gent is called to serve in a position of importance. Yewell Harrison, the shining light of the high school band, has been appointed a member of a five-man board in the First District to set up and supervise the various voice, band-debate and elocution contests to be held in the district. The board is the Intra-scholastic Board of Control and Yewell is vice-president. More about the appointment soon, but orchids to you Bandmaster Harrison.

NEW WATER SYSTEM NOW ASSURED HERE

Plans are going ahead at full speed for the new water works system of the City of Fulton and the $200,000 bond issue voted by the board of finance. The project is in the hands of Chapman & Co. of Chicago, firm of bond attorneys who are recognized authorities in this field, for approval.

Specific improvements in the city's water system will be an overhead tank of 200,000-gallon capacity with automatic flow level gauge. The tank will be installed on a 100-foot tower, the site of which has not yet been determined.

Also included were two high-pressure pumps to replace the present operating inefficient pumps, concrete cover to the reservoir with improvements to the reservoir, including aerator and an alkali treatment equipment, water meters and installation, master control meter, additions to the present pump house to house equipment and strengthening of the present mains.

REPORT 1947 ACP PRACTICES NOW

Horner Weatherspoon, Chairman of the Fulton County ACP committee has asked that all farmers report to the county office on conservation practices completed by December 31.

A large part of the reports already have been made. Mr. Weatherspoon says, and the county office is anxious to complete work on the 1947 program as soon as possible. In order to qualify for payment it is required that 1947 practices be reported by February 15, 1948.

Mr. Weatherspoon explains that farmers themselves are responsible for supplying the county ACP committee with receipts and other evidence of practices carried out, and that delay in making reports adds to the cost of administration of the program at a time when funds are already low.

ACP PAYMENT IN 1948 LIMITED TO $500

A top limit of $500 on payments to any individual participant in the 1948 ACP Program is fixed by the 1948 Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, according to Horner Weatherspoon, Chairman of the Fulton County ACP committee.

This limit applies both on conservation materials furnished by the government and on cash payments. The limit also applies regardless of the number of farms or tracts of land owned or operated by the participant whether the participant is one person, a partnership, or a corporation.

(The limit in effect on the 1947 program is $10,000 per each participant.)

The 1948 limit is not expected to affect but a few Fulton county farmers.

In the 1945 program, only 431 Kentucky farmers received payments of more than $500 each. Of the 149,181 Kentucky farmers participating in the 1945 program, only 5,221 received payments of more than $200 each for the conservation practices they carried out.

The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

Presbyterian Church Moves To New Site

The Presbyterian church in Fulton conducted services last Sunday in the residence at the corner of Second and Eddings streets, which the church recently purchased from Herman Easley.

A new building is planned for this location in the near future, and until it is erected, the services will be conducted in the residence, according to W. R. Reid, Pastor.

The Presbyterian church was formerly located on Commercial avenue.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO WARD MCCLELLAN

Hundreds of friends gathered at the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon to pay a last tribute of respect to beloved Ward McClellan, whose untimely death was a shock to Fulton and to Kentucky. Mr. McClellan was stricken with a heart attack on last Thursday afternoon from which he never rallied. He past away at the Fulton Hospital on Friday afternoon.

The church and his home was filled with flowers of every description, mute evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by his friends.

Ward McClellan counted his friends by his acquaintances. It was easy to know him and no task was too large or too small to do for family and friends. He was a devoted husband and father and while he will be greatly missed by his family and countless friends he would want his "flag to go on flying" as Rev. Walter E. Muschke said in well spoken words at the church services.

He was laid to rest at Greenleaf cemetery.

Mr. McClellan is survived by his widow, the former Pearl Wright of Fulton, whom he married in 1922. One son, Ensign Hugh Mac McClellan, serving in the Mediterranean with the United States Navy, one daughter, Mrs. Betty Lou Thomas of Martin, Tenn., a sister, Mrs. V. A. Fowler, Union City, Tenn., two grandchildren, Theresa Ann Thomas and John McClellan.

Mr. McClellan was born October 21, 1892 in Cayce, Ky., the son of John F. and Lula Linder McClellan. He spent his youth in Cayce and united with the Methodist church. Upon completion of his high school training, he enrolled as a cadet at the Fitzgerald-Clark Military Academy.

He joined the military service during World War I and was discharged as a non-commissioned officer.

In his adult life Mr. McClellan was a salesman, representing various firms in the mid-south. For the past 18 months he had been associated with Mansfield Martin as a partner in the City Electric Company in Fulton.

Active pallbearers were Mansfield Martin, Buck Bachart, Ward Johnson, Gilbert DeMyer, Don Hill and Joe Hall.

Honorary Pallbearers were R. C. Omar, R. V. Putnam, Jr., Bob White, Wilburn Holloway, K. P. Dalton, Sr., Kelly Lowe, Laurence Holland, Ham Ethridge, F. A. Homers, E. L. Cook, Paul Boyd, Glenn Gougeon, Happy Hogan, Ward Bachart, Glynn Bachart, Herman Easley, Jim Cardwell, Eugene DeMyer and Tom Burke.

Paul Hornbeak Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

H. L. WILLIAMS IS LAID TO REST

Funeral services for a well known and beloved Fulton citizen were held on Tuesday morning when scores of friends and relatives paid a final tribute to Harbert Lee "Buddy" Williams, father of Clyde and Olin Williams, at this city. He passed away at his home on Eddings street Sunday night. Mr. Williams was born in Graves county on May 24, 1867, the only son of Lee and Frances Williams.

Nine years ago he suffered a stroke from which he never completely recovered.

On Oct. 15, 1891, he married Miss Olivia Zenn Turley and to this union four children were born, all of who survive, Clyde, P. Williams of Fulton, Olin P. Williams, also of Fulton, Mrs. Harold E. Owens of Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Mrs. Pauline Terung, of Chicago, Ill.

In November, 1919 he moved his family to Fulton and spent the rest of his life here, except for six years when he lived in Clinton.

In addition to his wife and children he leaves nine grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, five nieces and three nephews.

Services were conducted by Rev. B. J. Russell with interment in Fairview cemetery. He was a life long member of the Oak Grove Christian church.

Are we benefited by praying?

A new record number of approximately 7,200 students last week completed registration and classification activities opening the University of Kentucky's winter quarter. Enrollment surpassed the previous high for a winter term, of 6,547 established last year, and registered a 56 per cent increase over the pre-war winter record of 3,700. Late registrants were expected to swell the total even farther.

RUSSELL PITCHFORD IS NEW PRESIDENT OF C OF C HERE

Election of officers, discussion of a radio station for Fulton, plans for a corn show locally and a chicken dinner highlighted the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Rainbow Room on Monday night.

Russell Pitchford, vice-president and cashier of the Fulton Bank was elected president by the newly elected board of directors of the civic organization.

Mr. Pitchford was also elected Fulton County Chairman of the Kentucky Bankers Association's agricultural association for 1948. It was revealed recently.

From a slate of 22 names the following ten were elected to serve as the Board of Directors for the coming year: Frank Beadles, W. P. Burnette, Aaron Butts, W. T. Browning, J. R. "Happy" Hogan, Ward Johnson, Russell Pitchford, Wynne Whitnell, Gene Williamson and Paul Westpheling.

A committee of four was named as a liaison group to work with the State Chamber of Commerce. The group includes Russell Pitchford, W. P. Burnette, W. T. Browning and Gene Williamson. This committee, along with Paul Westpheling, State C of C publicity chairman for Fulton, journeyed to Paducah Wednesday evening for a get-together meeting with other communities in the Purchase district and officials of the State Chamber.

Election of a treasurer and a secretary, as well as discussion of a proposal to have a local Chamber of Commerce office open daily, were deferred to a later date.

ROTARIANS HEAR STARTLING STORY OF MIDDLE EAST

A spellbound audience of Rotarians and guests listened to Morris Slimovitz this past Tuesday, recount his visit to the Holy Land last year to see his father, mother, brothers and sisters whom he had seen in twenty years.

This prominent businessman and Rotarian of Newbern, Tenn., who left his home in Palestine 26 years ago to seek his fortune in the land of plenty, brought many a lump to the audience's throats as he told of his dangerous journey by air from New York to Newfoundland, Ireland, Portugal, Spain and Egypt in order to spend a brief 4-month reunion with a father and family whose memories had grown so dim in the intervening time that at first he was unable to recognize them or to speak their language.

Describing the Holy Land as a land of terror today, as a land where violation of the early-evening curfew means death, as a land both of beautiful religious shrines and memories, and a land of extreme poverty and illiteracy on all sides, Mr. Slimovitz dwelt briefly on his visit to the pyramids, to Tel Aviv, Jerusalem and Nazareth.

On his return trip by plane he narrowly escaped death when his plane was delayed at Cairo and he changed his reservations to another plane, leaving earlier. Then an intuition caused him to change back again and wait for the first plane, the second along with several members of his original passenger list, crashed in Ireland, killing almost all aboard.

Guests included Mrs. Lois Haws, Mrs. Bard, Miss Mary Martin, Rev. W. R. Reid, Smith Atkins and Louis Kasnow. Visiting Rotarians included Warren Anderson, Clinton, Prof. Alton Barksdale, Union City; Byron Beard and Bill Brady, Martin.

Jack Snow of the Fulton Ice Company was welcomed as a new member.

STORY ABOUT YOUTH OR YOUTHS-ANYHOW ITS INTERESTING

America's youth is its greatest resource.

This is the opinion of prominent citizens who have endorsed Youth Week. This special event will be observed by some 5,000,000 Protestant young people throughout United States and Canada beginning next Sunday (Jan. 25).

The endorsements of fifteen well-known Americans were released here today by the United Christian Youth Movement, co-operative youth agency of 40 Protestant denominations, 34 state councils, and 16 national youth agencies, such as the International Society of Christian Endeavor, Boy Scouts, and Girl Scouts. Among Youth Week supporters are Roland Reagan and Gale Storm, Hollywood stars; Mrs. Dudley Mills, national Girl Scout leader; and Grace Noll Crowell noted poet.

"Youth—America's greatest natural resource" is as true today as it has proven to be in our nation's birth and growth," Tom Wiley, president of Rural Youth of the United States of America, said in his endorsement.

The rural youth head urged that American young people be given greater opportunity to develop the strong spiritual life needed for a balanced life of citizenship.

Pointing out that today's youth will be tomorrow's leaders, Samuel A. Fulton, moderator of the United Presbyterian church of North America, declared in his letter of endorsement that the kind of leadership that youth will depend largely on how Christians train young people "in the knowledge of Christ." He challenged Protestant churches to give wholehearted support to their youth activities.

Children's Hospital To Seek Funds In New Drive

Former Gov. Keen Johnson has accepted the State chairmanship of the $850,000 fund-raising drive which Children's Hospital, Louisville, shortly will launch for the purpose of building a new hospital. Announcement of the appointment was made by Rogers C. B. Morton, president of the Ballard and Ballard Company, Louisville milling firm. Mr. Morton is general drive chairman.

Children's Hospital is the only general hospital for children in Kentucky. Since it began operation in 1922, it has taken children from at least 103 Kentucky counties. All its services are free to anyone who cannot pay for them. Even where ability to pay exists, the payment is on a voluntary contribution basis.

U. S. Farmers And The Marshall Plan

Adoption of the Marshall plan for European aid would mean that the success of American foreign policy for at least four more years would continue to rest on the shoulders of farm people, according to Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson.

If funds are supplied to finance the aid requested by the 16 Western European nations, the Secretary stated, it will have these three effects on U. S. Agriculture.

(1) It will mean continued high U. S. food production during all four years particularly in the grain producing areas of the nation and in general will require full use of the farm plant;

(2) It will continue the strain on grain-producing areas and further delay needed shifts to grasslands agriculture;

(3) It will mean a self-supporting European market for our farm products, following the four-year period, which will be considerably larger than could otherwise be expected.

Proposals by the Western European nations include aid from nations other than the United States. The cooperating nations state that if the requested aid, particularly fertilizer and farm machinery is furnished, they will expect to have their agricultural production up to about prewar levels by 1950-51.

Living Longer

In the course of an analysis of the cost of medical care, Frank G. Dickinson, Ph. D., said: "Although the American people have been paying out more dollars for medical care in recent years, the percentage of the national income and of total consumer expenditures they spent for medical care were decreasing slightly. And Americans are living longer."

Not so very long ago appendicitis was treated with opium pills and poultices. This form of treatment was cheap—but most of the patients died. The diabetic was given codine and put on a diet. Again, the doctor's charges were low—but the patient soon departed this world. The enormous progress made in medical standards, and the ever-growing complexity of treatment, has naturally added to the cost—as does anything which contributes to modern living in all its phases.

In the palmy days of the Roman Empire the average lifetime was about 25 years. By 1700 it had risen to 33 years in the most advanced nations of the time. Now it is 67 years. Better medical care, of course, is not the sole reason for increased longevity, but it is one of the important factors.

Worth Knowing

The vast amount of discussion given to the grain problem, particularly as it is related to the raising of meat animals, has resulted in some misunderstandings. For example, it is widely believed that partially all animals which go to market are heavy consumers of grain which could otherwise be used for human consumption.

The fact is that 50 per cent of all meat of all kinds produced in the United States is grown without the feeding of any grain at all. In the case of cattle, more than 80 per cent of the beef produced is fed no grain. These animals are raised on roughage, grass, beet pulp and a large number of other foods not suitable for human consumption. On top of that, two-thirds of the area of the United States is in grass which would be wasted if there were no animals to consume it and convert it into meat. Lastly, when grain is fed, it is mostly corn, a standard animal feed, rather than that which is consumed largely by people.

A Kentucky Colonel always closed his eyes when he took a drink. When questioned concerning his habit, he explained: "The sight of good lickah, suh," he said, "always makes my mouth watah, suh, an' I do not like to dilute my drink, suh."

To The Fulton County News
Fulton, Ky.

The distributors of TVA power comprising municipalities and co-operatives, acting through their Tennessee Valley Public Power Association, have set up a Distributors' Information Committee.

The purpose of this committee is to secure from Washington all information available on legislation which in the opinion of the distributors will adversely affect the distribution systems in the TVA area.

We are compelled to undertake this job because all indications at the present time have forced us to the conclusion that a determined effort is being made by the private utilities of the country to pass legislation which will force TVA to increase its rates for power. This increase will have to be passed on by the distributors to the ultimate consumer. Intensive efforts are being made to make the public believe that the Tennessee Valley Authority is (1) a drain on the taxpayers of the nation; (2) that it is a Super State, preempting to themselves the rights of cities, counties and states within their territory, and (3) that it is operating with interest exemption. It is our firm conviction that these arguments are but a means to an end.

We believe that if the private utilities are successful in placing unnecessary expense and operating cost on the Tennessee Valley Authority that their motive is not to acquire control of TVA itself, but by creating dissatisfaction with the consumers of electricity in the Valley by reason of a rate increase to acquire control of the distribution systems. They would then be in position of purchasing power at the bus-bar. It would be a most desirable set-up for the private utilities to avail themselves of the economically-generated TVA power and to resell it at rates commonly charged by private utilities which carry an exorbitant profit to the private investor.

It is the purpose of the distributors to secure this information as promptly as possible and to disseminate it in any and every quarter of the country where it is possible for us to do so. The people of the Valley are especially warned that such an effort in our opinion is being made. The people of the Tennessee Valley have 140 million dollars invested in distribution facilities which is no business or concern of the Federal Government and it is that business which is the pawn and prize that the private utilities are going after. We feel as managers of the distribution systems of the Valley, that you should be acquainted with these facts, that the people of the United States and of the Valley especially, should make these facts known, that the Congress of the United States should be fully advised. We hope to remove the smoke screen now concealing these facts from the people and show who is raising it, why it is being raised and then let the Congress and the people of the United States decide the issue, stripped of all camouflage, on its merits.

Very truly yours,
S. R. INLEY.

VETERANS NEWS

Postal laws and regulations, pertaining to the delivery of checks for a number of benefits administered by Veterans Administration, have been modified for the greater convenience of veterans and beneficiaries receiving the checks. The new regulations allow the checks to be placed in city and county post office boxes, and in mail receptacles on the routes of city or rural mail carriers.

Checks affected by the ruling mainly are for compensation and pensions of disabled veterans and beneficiaries of deceased veterans, and for subsistence allowances of veterans in training under the G.I.

Bill and Public Law 16.

Readjustment allowance checks are not included by the regulation, for they are mailed from state unemployment compensation agencies, charged with administering the readjustment allowance program.

The $175 $200 monthly income ceiling for veterans taking education of training under provisions of the G. I. Bill affects only subsistences and does not limit actual wages or salaries which veterans may receive.

Veterans Administration officials said that although the law provides that no subsistence shall be paid beyond the point where wages and subsistence together total $175 monthly for veterans without dependents, or $200 with dependents, there is no limit on wages or salaries which may be paid veterans in education or training status.

In cases where wages and subsistence combined exceed the limitations, the subsistence payments are reduced accordingly to keep within the ceilings. If wages exceed limitations to the extent that no subsistence can be paid, veterans still may continue their education or training under the G. I. Bill, but their enrollment will be charged against their period of eligibility.

Question and Answers

Q. What should the veteran do if he is not satisfied with the job training he receives?

A. That is a matter for the veteran to decide himself, but it might be advisable for him to seek the counsel of a VA training officer. He can always discontinue his training, or with VA's permission, he can switch to another training establishment.

Q. Will my disability compensation be reduced if I go into training under Public Law 16 or under the G. I. Bill?

A. No.

Q. Will VA pay tuition for a veteran to attend school while he is taking on-the-job training under the G. I. Bill?

A. Yes. VA will pay for such schooling if his course of study is related to the vocation for which he is in training, or if the school course is prescribed and recommended as a part of his job training.

New 1948 Ford Trucks On Display In Fulton

A new line of Ford trucks is being shown to the public for the first time today by the Huddleston Motor Co., Fulton and by all other Ford Motor Company dealers throughout the nation. The streamlined 1948 models, completely new from the wheels up, represent the first post-war product of Ford.

The new series—F-7 and F-8—are the largest ever manufactured by Ford. They have maximum gross vehicle weights of 19,000 and 21,500 pounds, respectively. Another new series is the six-cylinder cab-over-engine model.

Three new power plants are available for the new trucks—a 95-horsepower six-cylinder engine, a 100-horsepower V-8, and a 145-horsepower V-8.

The new trucks are attractively styled without losing ruggedness. Headlights are recessed in a functional and long life. Radiator grille and necessary for good performance. The new pattern in the modern front end which contributes to massive appearance and gives added protection.

Greater front end strength has been achieved through improved sheet-metal suspension and heavier construction. Fenders are heavier, wider and of a new design which provides greater tire clearance. Another design advancement is a heavy channel-steel front bumper attached directly to extended frame side rails. The bumper is, in effect, an extra cross member providing greater rigidity and impact strength.

Driver comfort is one of the first considerations in the new trucks. Advanced cab design provides living room comfort with more space and better ventilation.

"Thank Heavens I've Plenty of HOT WATER"

Yes, indeed, there's plenty of hot water for Junior, Spot, and the kitchen floor. And for Mommie, too, who'll need a bath herself by the time she's through. Because Mommie has an automatic electric water heater.

Don't fuss around with messy old-fashioned methods of heating water. With the new, up-to-the-minute electric water heater that stores up plenty of hot water during the night at low off-peak rates, your laundry and housework can be a pleasure instead of drudgery.

AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC HOT WATER HEATERS ARE

- CLEAN—no soot or ashes
- SAFE—no flame or fumes
- LOW COST OPERATION—

Four gallons of hot water for a cent.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 18, 1948.

The Golden Text is: "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken." (Amos 5:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "That thou mayest love the Lord thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the strength of thy days." (Deuteronomy 10:12).

All are welcome to our services. Prayers are not overcomings God's blessings; it is laying hold of His great willingness.—Trench.

Let not him who prays, suffer his tongue to outstrip his heart's necessities to carry a message to the throne of grace, while that stays behind.—South.

It is good for us to keep some account of our prayers, that we may not betray them in our practice.—New Henry, Mass. 5:16.

District Recruiting Far Short of Quota in '47

A statement released by Capt. Philip L. Stern, Commanding Officer of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Stations in the 1st Congressional District, revealed that the number of men enlisted from this District during the year 1947, fell far below expectations.

Captain Stern said 590 men were shipped to Ft. Knox for examination. Of this number 326 were accepted for service, and the remainder rejected for various reasons.

To meet the obligations required to raise and maintain an Army and Air Force of one million and seventy thousand men, 535 should have been enlisted from this district, Captain Stern said.

During December however, enlistments reached a higher peak than was expected, with this area enlisting twenty three of the forty three applying for enlistment during that period.

Alfalfa Growing In Kentucky Increases

Alfalfa growing is increasing rapidly in Kentucky, as farmers find that big hay crops can be had where limestone is applied to the land, according to crops men at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington.

Alfalfa in this state is usually seeded in February or March. Ten to 12 pounds of seed to the acre is the amount of seed usually used, although some farmers sow 15 pounds. The seed should be inoculated.

Alfalfa land should be well drained, and in most cases an application of limestone will improve production. Many farmers report yields of three or more crops of hay a year. See your county agent for further details. Ask him for a circular called "Growing Alfalfa in Kentucky."

Jones Gives $50,000 For U. K. Ag. Scholarships

Kentucky boys and girls intending to make agriculture and home economics their careers will be able to receive financial assistance for a college education at the University of Kentucky under terms of a $50,000 scholarship fund established at U.K. last week.

Donors of the largest gift ever made to the University for scholarship purposes were former U. S. Secretary of Commerce and Reconstruction Finance Corporation Chairman Jesse Jones and his wife, Mary Gibbs Jones. Mr. Jones lived in Logan County, Kentucky, during his early boyhood.

Recipients of the Jones scholarships will be chosen under direction of the University and will be eligible to receive up to $500 for a regular college year.
