Laundryowners' Convention

WEST KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE LAUNDRYOWNERS' ASSOCIATION

Met in Fulton Friday Evening, April 13—Banquet at Usona Hotel

Next Meeting at Jackson, Tenn., July 13.

The Laundryowners of West Kentucky and Tennessee held their convention in Fulton, Friday evening, April 13, which was well attended by members from Union City, Paducah, Mayfield, Paris, McKenzie, Murray, Jackson and Fulton. The next meeting will be held at Jackson, Tenn., July 13.

Preceding the business session, a sumptuous banquet was served at the Usona Hotel with music by the B. P. O. Elks Kentucky Melody orchestra.

After the banquet, the assembly met at the O. K. Laundry, which had been converted into a convention hall with J. J. Owen, the genial host.

In the absence of W. L. Scott, president, E. C. Clark, of Paris, opened the meeting. W. F. Long, of Mayfield, was elected temporary chairman and an interesting program followed.

The welcome address was delivered by J. J. Owen, in which he expressed, in his characteristic way, a hearty welcome to all in attendance.

The Jackson quartet rendered a medley of beautiful songs which thrilled the assembly.

J. V. Clemmons, of Jackson, made an interesting and instructive talk on the "Wash-room."

The outstanding address of the evening was delivered by A. A. Siebert, of the Cairo Laundry Company, Cairo, Ill., who was invited for the occasion. The keynote of his talk was the National Advertising campaign sponsored by the Laundryowners' National Association, in which millions of dollars are being spent endeavoring to tell the public the illuminating facts about modern laundry service.

Each modern laundry is earnestly striving to keep its methods on a level with the high standards and ideals in said advertisements.

"The laundry industry is playing a very important part in the progress of this fair country," said Mr. Siebert. "We are making the home a decent place in which to live; we are making the people take a greater pride in their appearance and in themselves; we are unbending the housewife of a disagreeable task under which she has struggled since time began; and we are giving her the opportunity to raise her children, on whom the future of this country depends, to be better men and women, God-fearing people and worthy citizens of America, the greatest of all nations."

An inspirational number on the program of entertainment was the beautiful songs rendered by the Paris quartet—the 14-year old bass singer was a marvel.

The exchange of experiences by a large number of those present, proved very interesting and a helpful thought was dropped here and there. Mr. Long told of his experience with blankets and Mr. Owen gave some valuable pointers on washing overalls. In fact, every phase of laundry work was discussed during the meeting. The laundry drivers joined in the discussions and exchanged experiences. The talk by Chip Morris and the splendid paper he read should be an inspiration for all drivers.

C. H. Yarbrough, of Yarbrough Laundry Supply Co., of Nashville, W. L. Young, of Paducah; W. S. Long, of Mayfield, and J. J. Owen, Fulton, all made instructive talks.

J. Willis Williams, of the Union City Steam Laundry, Union City, read a set of resolutions, and after the announcements, the entire membership was urged to attend the next meeting at Jackson, Tenn., July 13.

All in attendance were loud in their praises of the O. K. Laundry, of Fulton, and especially the gracious hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Owen and son, Vernon, and the entire O. K. Laundry force.

The following were in attendance:

Invited guests—A. A. Siebert, Cairo Laundry Co., Cairo, Ill.; C. H. Yarbrough and T. E. Wyatt, Yarbrough Laundry Co., Nashville, Tenn.; Arthur Campbell, Nichols Detergent Co., Louisville, Ky.; R. S. Williams, Editor of The Advertiser, and Charles Gregory, Fulton, W. L. Young, Paducah; Ezra Vance and M. O. Young, Dyersburg, Tenn.

Delegates To Be Elected

DEMOCRATS OF KENTUCKY WILL MEET JUNE 14

State Central and Executive Committees Decide on Lexington

The Democratic state convention to elect delegates to the national convention will be held in Lexington on the 14th of June, the state central and executive committees decided at a meeting in Louisville Monday.

District conventions will be held at Lexington at 10 o'clock the morning of June 14. County and legislative district conventions were fixed for 2 o'clock the afternoon of Saturday, June 9. The basis of representation at the state convention will be one delegate for every 200 votes or fraction over 50, cast for the Democratic nominee for President in 1924.

Barkley Talks
The meeting was called to order by Judge Hardin, the chairman. Miss Maja Eudaley, secretary, read the call for the committee meeting and Judge Hardin requested Senator Barkley to address the committee.

Senator Barkley urged that the state convention be held as late as possible, reasoning that members of the Kentucky delegation in Congress have to run again this year and that they would not be able to attend an early convention and reasoning, further, that the situation in Kentucky and the nation might be clarified by the time of a late convention.

Senator Barkley was followed by Urey Woodson, of Owensboro, Kentucky member of the Democratic national committee, who unqualifiedly endorsed Mr. Barkley's suggestion.

WILLINGHAM ARRESTED

Released on $750 Bond on Charge of Stabbing Father-in-Law

Mayfield, Ky., April 16.—Paul Willingham, sought since late Friday night for the stabbing of his father-in-law, Dr. D. S. Robertson, prominent Symsonia physician, was arrested late yesterday in Carlisle County. The youth was arrested near Cunningham by Deputy Sheriff's Pentecost and Howard of Mayfield, and returned to this city to answer the charge. He was released after he executed $750 bond.

Dr. Robertson was stabbed in the abdomen after an alleged family quarrel. The wound is not serious, according to attending physicians. Willingham's trial has been set for this week in county court.

KIT CARSON CHARACTER IN "THE COVERED WAGON" CAST

Kit Carson in person! The modern semblance of the famous scout in the person of Guy Oliver, actor, who portrays that role in James Cruze's Paramount production, "The Covered Wagon," which will be on view at the Grand theatre next Monday and Tuesday for the second time. Mr. Oliver does not appear in the earlier portions of the story, but he has plenty to do, since he is the man who conveys the news of the gold discovery in California to Leavenworth and drops a hint and a nugget enroute to some of the members of the great wagon train, which results in a split in the caravan, part of the homeseekers becoming goldseekers and branching off to California.

The story is one of remarkable interest and power. J. Warren Kerrigan and Lois Wilson have the leading roles. In the cast are Alan Hale, Charles Ogle, Ethel Wales, Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall.

Officers Capture Car But Thief Escapes

Harve Hart and Ed Drysdale, city police, captured a Jordan car Tuesday night stolen from a traveling salesman at Union City. They found the car parked near the Illinois Oil Co. on Fourth street. Officer Hart watched the car until after midnight, thinking the thief would show up, but he evidently became suspicious and skipped by the light of the moon to parts unknown. When the car was stolen at Union City it contained about $1,000 worth of samples of merchandise which the thief unloaded in the Whitesell woods on State Line, before coming to Fulton.

Officers, on finding the car empty, began a search for the samples and found them where they were unloaded.

The Smith-Willis Stock Company, Fulton favorites, are showing all this week in their big new tent theatre on Fourth street next to the Cigar factory. Large crowds who say the productions offered by the company this year are better than ever. They will close their week's engagement in Fulton Saturday night with the best show of the week.

GASOLINE BLAST KILLS 36 OR MORE IN WEST PLAINS, MO.

A message from Dr. S. W. Paris, formerly of Fulton, but now located at West Plains, Mo., says the explosion in that city which snuffed out the lives of thirty-six or more people was the most horrible sight he ever saw, but none of his family was there. Doc also sent us his home paper, West Plains Daily Quill, containing a long list of dead and missing. From the list he checked a number of his personal friends.

In its Saturday issue, April 14, The West Plains Daily Quill prints the following in part, regarding the disaster.

Thirty-six or probably more people are dead and nineteen are injured, many of them seriously, as a result of a mysterious explosion which occurred at 11:05 o'clock last night in the garage of the Wiser Motor Co., on East Main street, and which wrecked the Bong dance hall on the second floor of the building where a dance was in progress.

Nearly all of the dead and injured were those attending the dance, and members of a small orchestra who gave the dance and who were providing the music.

The blast, which was heard all over the city and which completely wrecked the building in which the Wiser Motor Co., and the Bong hall were located, came without an instant of warning. People in nearby buildings, who rushed out, saw the bodies and debris flying high into the air. In another instant the bodies were coming back down. Several of those who escaped and are now in hospital were blown out of the building and were picked up in the streets.

A coroner's jury today will investigate the cause of the explosion, although many believe that a tank of gasoline in the Wiser garage was responsible for the tragedy.

J. W. (Babe) Wiser, owner and manager of the Wiser Motor Company, was in the garage at the time, and his body was picked up after the fire in a nearby vacant lot.

Following the explosion, the Wiser building and also the Riley building on the west, and the Adams building on the east of the Wiser building, burst into a mass of flames which leaped a hundred feet or more into the air.

The two adjoining buildings were badly wrecked and persons living in them had narrow escapes.

Coulter & Bowers Close Their Doors

Fulton business circles were surprised Tuesday when the well known firm of Coulter & Bowers closed the doors of their book store on Lake street. This is an old established firm which opened in Fulton for business a number of years ago under the firm name of Coulter & Morehead and was thought to be doing a nice business. The members of the firm stand high in the estimation of the public and their numerous friends regret their closing. They carried in stock a supply of books, stationery, and did contracting for papering, painting and decorating, as well as selling wall paper, paints, varnish and painters' supplies.

H. A. Coulter, the senior member of the firm, is an experienced paperhanger, painter and decorator and will no doubt continue to do contract work in this line.

Mr. Morehead sold his interest in the business several years ago.

nicely.

Our Sunday School has

High School Notes

Wednesday a typing contest was held during the regular chapel period. Joseph Williams, Gladys Bell and Hazel Pewitt. Hazel Pewitt was the winner, writing seventy words a minutes for five minutes with one error.

The Piano Club presented the program Thursday. Gladys Bell and Sara Butt played some beautiful selections. Friday, a preliminary spelling contest was held. The Seniors were represented by Avanelle Green, the Juniors by Irene Boyd, the Sophomores by Mary Bowers, and the Freshmen by Mary E.
Powers. Irene Boyd was the winner of the contest.

This week's chapel programs promise to be very interesting.
Once a year grand opera week is observed at the high school, and the programs this week consist of five of the foremost operas.

Monday, Mr. Myers very interestingly presented the story of one of Switzerland's greatest heroes, William Tell. This is a most beautiful story of a father's love and devotion to his son. The tyrant king Gessler, had captured Tell and his son and sentenced them to death.
Only in one way could they receive liberty, and that was if Tell, at a distance of one hundred paces could shoot through the core of an apple placed on the top of his own son's head and not miss his mark, it would mean freedom for them both.
Tell shot, and the arrow passed directly through the core of the apple, but instead of giving them freedom, the king imprisoned them when he saw an arrow fall from Tell's coat with which he was planning to kill him. One stormy day, while out on a lake, being carried from one prison to another, Tell escaped his guards and thus obtained his freedom.

Shortly after he shot and killed the wicked king, and was placed in command of the king's army and led his people to victory.

At the Board of Education meeting Monday night, Supt.
Vest C. Myers was reelected head of the city schools for coming year. Principals S. W.
Whalen, Fleming and Lape were also reelected.

"ZELLA," MYSTERY
LADY TO BE HERE

In connection with the appearance of the Smith-Willis Stock Company which shows here all next week under canvas, "Zella," a reputed mystery girl, will make a blindfolded auto drive through the streets of the city, thoroughly and completely blindfolded, according to the announcement by the advance representative.

This attraction is said to be very mystifying and attracts large crowds wherever exhibited. The act is entirely unique and absolutely free and will no doubt be a thing well worth watching.

The drive will be directed through thought transmission by the mystery lady, who will occupy a car directly behind the one manned by the blindfolded driver. The start is to be made from in front of the court house as soon as arrangements can be made.

The Smith-Willis company is composed of twenty-four persons and present nothing but the better type of plays. It is one of the largest tent theatres playing this part of the country this season and carries a band and orchestra and a free concert will be given each afternoon and evening during the week.

The big tent will be pitched on the Shaffer lot near the Standard Oil Filling Station.

The bill for Monday night,
"The Elder Brother," a four act comedy drama.

"I can get more pasture from four 10-acre lots than from one forty," says G. W. Hewer, Cape Girardeau, Mo. "Grass is fresher, cattle eat more."

FLOYD NEWMAN, Croydon, Neb., crossed fenced into 15-acre fields for hogging down. He writes: "Hogs did better, corn lasted longer, no waste, manure was left on the field and I saved plowing expense." For fencing hog-tight we recommend

MONARCH Hinge Joint

With it you can hog-down corn, run stock after harvest, rotate crops, keep weeds down, fertilize the land, etc. It hinges under shock and strain but springs right back again. Sunday School 'Lesson'

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(See 1925 Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for April 22

JESUS AND THE HOME

LESSON TEXT—Mark 10:1-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—Honor thy father and mother, which is the first commandment with promise.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Loves Little Children.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Wants Children to Come to Him.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Being a Christian at Home.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Family.

In this scripture we see Christ as a teacher.

1. Concerning Marriage (vv. 1-12). The question touching divorce, which the Pharisees temptingly put to Christ, brought forth teaching which exhibits marriage in its true light.

1. Marriage should not be degraded by divorce (vv. 1-5). Divorce was not instituted by God. God ordained the marriage relation and intended it to be indissoluble. Moses did not originate it or authorize it, but suffered, limited and regulated it. The reason Moses even suffered it was because of the hardness of the hearts of the people. The existence therefore and practice of divorce indicates the coarseness and perverseness of man. The real cause is sin. There is no more real evidence of the blighting effects of sin in the world than the increasing number of divorces.

2. Marriage God's primal law (vv. 6-8).

The ideal law of life for the subjects of Christ's kingdom is marriage. This is proven by the fundamental fact of sex. "God made them male and female" (v. 6). The union of the male and female natures is physical, mental and spiritual. In marriage the male and female natures are mutually complemented. "They twain shall be one flesh, so that they are no more twain, but one flesh." God's plan is that man should not be without the woman or the woman without the man (1 Cor. 11:11).

3. Marriage has God's sanction (v. 9).

When God created Eve and brought her to Adam He performed the first marriage ceremony and declared that man should leave father and mother and cleave unto his wife. "What therefore God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

4. Marriage of the divorced forbidden (v. 10-12).

The marriage relation should only be broken by death and sin. In response to the request of the disciples for further information He declared:

(1) "Whoever shall put away his wife and marry another committeth adultery against her."

(2) "If a woman shall put away her husband and marry another she committeth adultery."

II. Concerning Children (vv. 13-16).

The union of the male and female natures, according to God's primal law of marriage, lays the foundation of family life. The normal issue of such a union is children. In connection with the divine law of marriage it is fitting that Jesus should set forth His estimate of children and show His interest in them. Christian men and women will regard children as the property of the Lord and will esteem it a high and holy privilege to train them for Him. Observe:

1. Children brought for the touch of Jesus (v. 13).

It is incumbent upon all parents to seek for their children personal contact with Jesus.

2. The parents rebuked by the disciples for bringing their children (v. 15).

They seemed to think that attention to children was beneath the dignity of Christ.

3. Jesus' reply (vv. 14, 15). He was displeased—really indignant at their words. He is displeased today over those who are hindering their children from coming to Him.

(1) "Suffer the little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God" (v. 14). The kingdom belongs to the children.

(2) "Whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall not enter therein" (v. 15). Those who count themselves morally helpless, and cast themselves upon Jesus Christ, the King, really enter the kingdom.

4. Jesus' action (v. 16).

He took the children up in His arms, put His hands upon them and blessed them. Christ is the Savior of children. Where Christ's spirit rules, childhood is sacred and children have great care.

God Is at the Door

God is knocking at the door of nations today for more recognition and more spiritual power. And the fact is that He is on the outside. When nations spurn this knock from the hand of the Almighty, it is a sure thing that they will crumble into the dust.—Oscar Burkholder.

Need of Faith

TON LITTER WORK

The feeding out of ton litters have done more to make hog production profitable than any other one thing, and I am very anxious to get as many farmers as will to feed out a litter or two in this contest. Some good prizes will be offered for the best litters. We have already entered 10 in this contest and would like to have at least 10 more.

The following is what Grady Sellards, swine specialist of the University of Kentucky, has to say regarding this work.

Are you collecting $70.00 profit a year from each brood sow you keep? If not, I feel sure it will interest you to know that 43 Kentucky farmers got this from 43 brood sows whose litters were fed in the ton litter contest last year. This was determined from careful records taken into account the feed, pasture and labor required to produce each litter. These three items constitute the principal part of the cost of pork production and are a fair indication of what should have been expected from each litter of 10 spring pigs fed and cared for properly in 1927.

If you were not so successful with your hogs the past year, there possibly is a reason. The experience gained from ton litter feeding is helping others to solve their hog raising problems, thus making the enterprise more profitable. For this reason, I suggest that you plan to enter a litter in the 1928 contest, which will include litters farrowed between February 1 and April 20.

Even if you were one of the ton litter feeders in the contest last year, you may be interested in entering a litter this year. One farmer has fed 4 ton litters, and says he has learned some valuable lesson each time he took part in the contest.

LAMB SITUATION

The sheep growers of Fulton county have a fine chance to make money off their early lambs, providing they trim and feed out. No sheep grower can afford to neglect these two important phases of sheep work. If you do not believe the above statement, try it out.

The following is what R. C. Miller, sheep specialist of the Extension Division of the University of Kentucky has to say regarding the situation.

"The survey of the lamb crop in Kentucky, as a whole, indicates that it is one of the worst seen at this season for many years. While many farmers have had feed for a balanced ration, yet many lambs are under size. Many are stunted and will be slow to grow into a profitable product. In view of these facts it will be necessary to have all ram lambs made into wethers, if a large number of market tops are expected, otherwise, instead of the usual 50 cents and $1.00 penalty, there will be numerous cases where buck lambs will be thrown to second and penalized several dollars each. There probably has never been a time when it was so desirable to trim lambs, or when men who failed to do so were so heavily penalized as they will be this season. A lot of these lambs will drag on through the summer, many of them being marketed in the early fall, with the result that in case of bucks it will be impossible to put them in as tops. It is for this reason that special emphasis should be placed on the importance of having all lambs castrated, while it always pays to trim lambs, it is imperative that lambs to be marketed after the middle of June be castrated. Many lambs will be sold after July 1 this year and bucks are certain to be heavily penalized. All bucks that came after February 15, are still young enough to castrate, and all lambs a month to six weeks old should be docked."

WORK PROGRESSING NICELY ON FULTON-UNION CITY HIGHWAY

Work of paving the Fulton-Union City highway started last Monday and it will be pushed to rapid completion. The contractors have 130 working days in which to finish the job, but if the weather conditions are favorable, the work will be completed in 90 days. The force is now working on the Union City end and as soon as that stretch is completed the crews will be removed to Fulton and work from this end.

From all indications Fulton and Union City will soon be linked together with a ten-mile paved highway just about the distance of some of New York's well paved thoroughfares. We can visit each other oftener and enjoy a few minutes drive, too.

GALLION BROTHERS GO ON TRIAL IN FEDERAL COURT AT PADUCAH

The trial of the four notorious Gallion brothers, under federal indictment for an alleged part in the $75,000 robbery of the Mayfield postoffice, October 10, 1923 was called Tuesday in United States district court at Paducah, before Judge Charles I. Dawson. The four brothers, Ernest, Eldridge, Buster, and Sam Gallion, all are before the court.

Winslow First Witness

The trial was opened by the government, which called Claude T. Winslow, postmaster at Mayfield, as the first witness. Mr. Winslow described how the robbery had been discovered. On the morning of October 11, 1923, George Mallory, postal clerk, opened the postoffice at 4:55 o'clock. Mr. Mallory awoke Mr. Winslow at his hotel about 5:15 o'clock and he went immediately to the postoffice where the vault doors stood open and the burglar tools spread over the floor. A tarpaulin hung over the vault.

On the floor lay one large oxygen tank, an acetylene tank, a sledge hammer, and a piece of rubber hose. A hole had been burned through both of the steel vault doors between the combinations and the handles. Further investigation showed that a large double window in the rear of the postoffice near the driveway, had been broken and the lock smashed. The property stolen from the vault included $58,890 of postage stamps; $15,642 worth of documentary stamps, and $14.60 in cash, making a total of $74,642.74.

Each of the four Gallion brothers took the stand and told corresponding stories about an apple orchard in central Washington and a county fair in Henry county, Tennessee, where a little brown mare figured, in an effort to tear down any alleged connection they might have had with the $75,000 postoffice robbery at Mayfield the night of October 10, 1923, for which the prosecution seeks to convict them on the testimony of 12 witnesses.

During the morning session and part of the afternoon, Tuesday, the government introduced a large tarpaulin, an oxygen tank, an acetylene tank, a six-pound sledge hammer, a short piece of hose, a statement signed by Buster Gallion, and a dozen witnesses in an effort to weave a web of circumstantial evidence about the four brothers, and later in the afternoon the defense began to remove the web by testimony of three of the defendants who claimed they were some 2,400 miles from Mayfield on the date of the robbery, and one defendant who introduced an eyewitness to prove that he was picking cockleburs from the mane of a mare, entered in the horse races of Henry county the next day, at the hour which the prosecution claims the burning of the postoffice vault doors began.

BEELERTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The faculty play which was presented on last Saturday night proved a great success. The proceeds being $27.25. The high school girls furnished a worth while program between acts, sponsored by Mrs. Bennett.

Each student of the General Science class built a bird box to put upon the campus for attraction and to make everyone happy by the song birds. The boxes were judged by Dr. R. L. Bushart, the honor for the best one was given to Aaron Kirby, a member of the Sophomore class. This is a real home for the birds and we are sure that Aaron will make a success as a carpenter in the future.

An operetta, entitled, "Bits O' Blarney," sponsored by Mrs. E. J. Bennett, our music teacher, will be given on Saturday night, April 28. We hope to have a larger crowd out than we have ever had before. Please don't wait for some one to tell you about it. Come and see for yourself.

The boys' basketball team met Bardwell team on Clinton court Friday afternoon. The game was of very much interest and you didn't wonder who was going to get the first score because as soon as the ball was tossed up in the center and had time to travel to the end of the court, Bushart made a goal. At the end of the first half the score was 9-4 in Beelerton's favor, but due to the darkness of the other end of the court. On account of the speed of the Bardwell boys, the game ended with a score of 17-15 in their favor.

Bardwell has been one of the strongest teams in this district for the past season, but our team is climbing step by step, and we hope to be on the top step by next basket ball season.
