THE LISTENING POST

I am mildly interested in a new organization which has just been announced in a New York town, called the Streamlined Date Club. Although my own age bars me from more than an academic interest, the question which is being studied by the club is one of interest to all males as a matter of common self defense. For this club proposes to make a cold and scientific study of men and how they got that way before women take a walk with them to the marriage altar.

The fact that many men are rushing into matrimony in order to escape the army draft prompted the organization, for the organizers state that women should not be rushed into matrimony without adequate knowledge of the men they take for better or worse. This organization proposes to set up plans by which women can really know their men before it is eternally too late.

"Don't be rushed into matrimony," the new club says. "There is one divorce for every six marriages. More than sixty per cent of marriages are unhappy. Confucius said, Man know thyself. We say, Woman, know thy man before marrying him."

Certain ways are suggested in order to get acquainted with the man who is being considered. One way is to invite the man to breakfast, when he is presumably in his worst temper. Another method is to invite the man to teach the woman how to drive a car, and a third method is to spend a day in the out of doors with him, when he needs fresh clothing, a shave, and where all comforts are missing.

Now, to make the battle ven, I wish to make a suggestion on this breakfast idea. It is a known fact that men are notoriously ill tempered at this time, and I can see that such a test would really bring out many of the small evils which constantly live with a man. But let us be fair, ladies. I have heard it said that while the girls may be even tempered and sweet at this time of day, they yet look like something that the cat dragged in before they get to their makeup kit. Therefore, to make the contest even, the girl in question should come down to breakfast without any makeup, after merely washing her face and combing her hair. Of course, the man should be allowed to shave, and the same privilege should be given the girl if she desires. But in order to be perfectly fair, only soap and water should be allowed for the breakfast makeup. In this manner the girl might discover that her loved one was short tempered early in the morning, and he might discover that the girl he sought did not look like the girl he left a few hours before. Be fair, ladies. Men are looking for looks, even as women are looking for angelic dispositions, and both of them get disappointed lots of times.

I hardly see how any man can teach a girl to drive a car these days, for it appears to me that all men are on foot while their wives drive the family cars to and from various places. Surely all the girls know how to drive a car these days. However, this might not be a barrier, for all girls can pretend like the very dickens and make it appear plausible.

As to the out of doors idea, I cannot say. I have never camped to any extent, but it appears to me on the surface that men would stand this test much better than women. When a man is out of doors he pays little attention to clothing or the need of a shave, and I believe the women would feel a need for makeup and artificial beauty aids before the man.

However, I have no objection to the aims and objects of the new club. If it can make more happy marriages all well and good. I merely wish that the matter be made fair to both sides.

House Quickly Passes Tax On 'Excess Profits'

Special Treatment Given Makers Of Military Material

Washington. —Spurred by administration pleas for speed, the House jammed through to quick passage today a bill levying an "excess profits tax" on corporations and giving special tax treatments to the makers of military material.

The measure now goes to the Senate where it is reported to face some opposition in the finance committee.

The tax, applying to corporations regardless of whether they hold government contracts, ranges from 20 to 50 per cent on profits in excess of "normal."

The nearest thing to an estimate of its yield was the "best guess" of Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), one of the bill's managers, that it would produce $300,000,000 on 1940 corporation income and $900,000,000 annually thereafter.

The ways and means committee said in its report that the tax was designed to prevent "creation of new war millionaires or the further substantial enrichment of already wealthy persons."

At the same time, the bill is intended to "break a bottleneck" in defense preparations, as Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), expressed it, by permitting contractors to deduct, when figuring taxes, the cost of expanding their plants for defense.

Another Speed Move
Another move to speed up the letting of defense contracts is a provision suspending—during the life of the excess profits tax—the Vinson-Trammell Act's limitation on profits from government contracts for warships and aircraft.

These limitations are 8 per cent on contracts let by competitive bids and 7 per cent on negotiated contracts.

President Roosevelt and the defense commission had urged quick passage of the legislation. William S. Knudsen, one of the commissioners, said manufacturers had for a time held back on signing contracts because they were uncertain of the tax risks involved.

High Points Of Conscription Bill As Passed By Senate

Washington. —Here are questions which some may be asking about the effect of the conscription bill—and the answers.

Who is liable to the draft under the bill passed by the Senate? All men between 21 and 30, inclusive.

What are they required to do? On a day to be specified by the President, they must register at a place in their communities still to be designated.

Will all who register be called? No.

Who will be called? That will be determined by a drawing of numbers.

Must all whose numbers are drawn go to military camp? All except men with dependents and with physical and mental deficiencies.

Are conscientious objectors liable to the draft? Not if they can prove the good faith of their objections but they are still subject to a year of non-combatant work of national importance under civilian direction.

Are divinity students and clergymen exempt?

Yes.

Who will supervise these things? Local draft boards, under a national director to be appointed by the President.

How long must the drafted men serve? Twelve consecutive months.

Are they then free from liability for military service? No. For 10 years they are to be members of the Army Reserve, subject to call in crisis or wartime.

Is there any way in which that period can be shortened? Yes. By serving two years in the Regular Army after the one year of compulsory training.

Is there any protection for the jobs of the men drafted? The bill requires their employer to reemploy them when their period of training is over, unless his circumstances have so changed in the meanwhile as to make it impossible.

May a man who is called send a substitute? No.

How long is conscription to be in force? Until May 1, 1945.

Practice will begin Monday.

COLLEGE STUDENTS' DAY AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

We are earnestly invited all students who are about to go off to college and their parents to worship with us at the First Methodist Church next Sunday, September 1, 1940. We are designating Sunday as College Students' Day and we shall try to have a service suitable for the occasion.

Just as you attended your Baccalaureate Sermon in a body so we would like for you to assemble in front of the church a few minutes prior to the opening of our service and all come into the sanctuary in a body. We shall have reserved seats for you.

Probably never again will you all worship together in a special service for you. That within itself should induce each one to come, for the home ties will be strained and in some cases broken. Your loyalty will rightly go to your Alma Mater and some of you will attend rival schools, hence the feeling you have for each other will hardly be the same and while you are all Fultonians we want you to worship in a body as such.

When we have gone off to college even for one year, something happens to you on the inside so that you are forever different. For one thing you will be considered adults by the world and no longer children. And you will be treated as such. Too, you will nurture different ideals and entertain different ideas from any you ever held before. Your home ties will be different when you return—you will never step into that home as you once did, any more. So before that change comes we want you and your parents to worship together one more time as you are now. To that end we are having this service.

Then we have gone off to college ourselves and we know some of the things that you must go up against; we know how better to meet some of those early problems successfully and we want to pass that information on to you. Hence for your good we insist on coming to church Sunday here.

THANKS.
W. H. SAXON.

Santa Fe Will Celebrate For 228th Time An Old Conquest

Santa Fe, N. M. —This storied city of holy faith will celebrate for the 228th time this week-end an ancient conquest.

It will commemorate, with mingled merriment and solemn ritual, its own reconquest in 1693 by Don Diego de Vargas, general of the Spanish crown and knight of the Catholic church.

For this, next Saturday, Sunday and Monday, collective Santa Fe will don its most colorful Spanish costumes, deck its plaza with bunting and knick-knack booths, and roll-out the barrel.

De Vargas' feat marked the final turning point in a long series of bloody disputes between Spaniards and Indians which followed the original taking of New Mexico by the conquistador, Coronado.

In 1680, the Indians revolted, slew dozens of Catholic padres and ran the Spaniards back to El Paso.

Half a dozen, crown-sponsored military expeditions failed to dislodge the hostile red men. Then

De Vargas took up the task. Using diplomacy more than swordplay to pacify the Indians, he reached their stronghold, fortified Santa Fe.

Surrounding the walls, he called for surrender. The Indians declined. Then Don Diego declared: "I am in complete command of the situation," he replied (to paraphrase an ancient chronicle). "It will do you no good to resist. Surrender, or be destroyed."

The Indians decided to call it quits. Don Diego, with a handful of ragged soldiers and padres, marched in to reclaim "La Villa Real de Santa Fe de San Francisco de Asist" in the name of the Spanish crown and the church of Rome.

The opening day of merriment will be climaxed in the evening by the burning of "Zozobra," a writhing, 30-foot effigy personifying gloom; the coronation of the fiesta queen and "El Fandango," a night-long dance.

Survey Finds Fact Husbands Have Known For Years

Washington. — A Government survey was required to learn some years—that a woman's silk stockings are the most expensive single item on her clothes budget.

The United States Department of Labor Statistics in a recent study of the urban wage earner and clerical worker's clothing expenditures, found the housewife, however, spends less for her clothes than the average employed man and far less than the employed woman. A report compiled by the department and submitted to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins showed the average mother spends $55.48 a year for her clothes while father manages on $49.18.

FUEL SUPPLY STORAGE SPACE AT PEARL HARBOR WILL GO UNDERGROUND

Honolulu. —To get out of sight and out of worried minds, perhaps, what naval and military experts concede to be Pearl Harbor's most vulnerable spot, the Navy announced today that preliminary work had begun on a $1,160,000 project to put the naval fuel supply underground.

This, when completed, may well be classified as the largest naval underground storage of fuel supply in the United States.

At present, according to Former Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison, who visited Hawaii this April, "the oil tanks stand right out as targets and a few bombs might cripple our oil supply" in the islands.

ENEMY SAILORS LOOL ON VESSELS

New Orleans. —Four French and two Italian ships ride at anchor in the Mississippi River near Chalmette and their 230 seamen twiddle their thumbs waiting for the war to end.

Backwash of the big struggle across the Atlantic, the belligerent steamers can't move from their anchorage. Their radios are sealed and their crews are barred by immigration laws from going ashore in New Orleans.

The French sailors are better fed, port authorities say, but they are restless. The Italians, on the other hand, make a picnic of the enforced layoff.

There's plenty to eat and drink aboard these vessels. A sample meal aboard a French ship consists of steak, friend potatoes, lettuce and tomato salad and an assortment of desserts, besides coffee, butter and wine.

Churchill Sees 7 Planes Fall In Combat

A Southeast Coast City. —Prime Minister Winston Churchill, on an inspection trip of coastal defenses Wednesday saw some of the fiercest skyfighting of the war in which seven planes fell in flames.

He ordered his chauffeur to speed to the site where one flaming wreck crashed and it proved to be a German Messerschmitt fighter.

"Good," he said, "that's another one off the list."

INDIAN ACQUITTED IN WHITE MAN'S COURT OF MURDER CHARGE

Macon, Miss. —A Circuit Court jury today acquitted Choctaw Indian Chief Cameron Wesley of a murder charge in the slaying of Evans Tubbee, a fellow tribesman last June.

Wesley pleaded self defense, offering witnesses who testified that Tubbee threw rocks at him and threatened him with a large club.

In spite of his acquittal in the white man's court, Wesley said he would have to stand trial in the court of his people in Neshoba county. He said his tribesmen would accept only one plea, accidental death.

BABY BORN IN AIR RAID SHELTER AS BOMBS RAIN DOWN

London. —Mrs. Anne Plume, 34, claimed she was the first British mother to give birth to a baby in an Anderson air raid shelter.

She decided to name her seven-pound boy, born in last night's German raid, after Sir John Anderson, minister of home security, who organized the shelter set-up.

The baby arrived as the thud of bombs and roar of gunfire were heard in the distance.

"It certainly took my mind off the air raid," said Mrs. Plume.

Parachutist To Leap 35,000 Feet In Interest Of Science

Chicago. —Arthur H. Starnes, 35-year-old aviator who will make a 35,000 foot parachute leap in the interests of science, already has a rough idea of what it's like.

Except for the sensation of falling and the temperature, Starnes underwent the effects that will be produced by a leap from the stratosphere when he was subject to a test last night.

The test was conducted at Northwestern University medical school. As Starnes sat in a low pressure steel chamber a motor exhausted the air until the pressure equalled that at an altitude of 36,000 feet.

Then air was permitted to rush into the chamber to produce the physical effect which could be experienced in falling at 750 miles an hour, or greatly exceeding the velocity of a falling object. Starnes emerged from the drum apparently without suffering ill effects.

During the experiment instruments registered the rate and character of Starnes' breathing and the impulses of his heart action. Starnes wore an oxygen mask and talked by radio to a half dozen scientists who witnessed the test.

When Starnes makes his parachute leap he will use a specially designed parachute, a short wave radio transmitter, oxygen mask, pneumograph to measure his breathing, and an automatic camera making a pictorial record of the fall.

The results of the leap are expected to provide the answer to two questions relating to sub-stratosphere flying, namely, (1) Will a leap from 35,000 feet cause permanent impairment of the jumper's faculties? and (2) How far must a jumper fall before opening the parachute to avoid asphyxiation in the rarified and below sea level atmosphere?

Expect House To Pass Draft Bill Next Week

Measure Includes All Men From 21 To 44

Washington. —A peace-time draft bill, making all men from 21 to 44, inclusive, subject to conscription for military training, emerged from the House military committee today with the leadership drawing up plans for its House passage by the end of next week.

Acting quickly a day after the Senate's vote passing a more restricted version of peacetime conscription the committee endorsed the measure, 20 to 4.

It deferred for the time being, however, action on an amendment empowering the government to seize defense production plants whose owners insist upon unduly high profits. A similar proposal was included in the Senate-approved measure.

Defense Money Bill

The Senate, also working at top speed, passed a $5,133,628,277 defense appropriation bill and sent it back to the House for action on amendments which added $110,459,000.

Provision of $100,000,000 for housing and $10,000,000—half in cash and half in authorization—for a new dock at New York accounted for nearly all of the increase.

Downtown, the day produced an agreement between the Navy and the United Aircraft Corporation for making 17,000 airplane engines, for both Army and Navy, by June 30, 1942.

The job was said to entail a $2,500,000 plant extension for United—with the government buying and retaining title to $7,000,000 worth of machine tools—and six to eight months' preparatory work before production can be begun.

Betting Odds On Roosevelt Rise In Wall Street

New York. —Betting odds that President Roosevelt would be re-elected lengthened Thursday in Wall Street where 7 to 5 was offered in one commission of $3,500 and 6 to 4 in another of $1,500. The previous odds of 6 to 5 stand, however until the new offers are taken.

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER GOVERNOR

Some people are beginning to wonder if destiny is not now grooming another newspaper man for Governor of Kentucky. Unless the tradition of a Lieutenant Governor succeeding the Governor, started in the past two campaigns, is followed, there appears a good chance that another newspaper man might be in line to succeed Governor Johnson.

The Hatch Law made it necessary for Commissioner Lyter Donaldson to resign his post as chairman of the state Democratic committee, and when the body met to elect another chairman one name stood out boldly—so boldly that there was little discussion of the matter and the election was made with little ceremony. That one name was of a Lexington newspaper man, Tom Underwood, editor of the Lexington Herald.

Mr. Underwood has long been a leader of Democratic forces in Kentucky, and probably had as much to do with the election of Keen Johnson as Governor as any one man in the Commonwealth. For years he has been a power in Middle Kentucky affairs, and he also has a strong following down in this part of the state, having originally been in Hopkinsville. A year or so ago he was elected president of the Kentucky Press Association and this is the first time on record that a son has held the same position his father held. In this instance a span of fifty years separated the two men.

Whether there is any deeply laid plan to gradually elevate Mr. Underwood to state wide notice no one can say, but this new job of being state chairman is bound to have this effect. During the next year he will become much better known all over the state, and it appears likely that when men are being sought for the post of Governor Underwood's name will be certain to come up.

The man would make a splendid candidate, too. He is as friendly as a puppy and never saw a stranger. He speaks to idioms which Kentuckians know and love, and has a flow of humor which draws people to him. This writer has no intimate acquaintance with him, but has seen him many times at press meetings and heard him talk in public and in private. If he should be interested in this nomination at the end of the Johnson Administration he might give the others a real battle for it. And if he should be nominated he would make an ideal candidate.

Of course, Rodas Myer, present Lieutenant Governor, wants the nomination, and if the precedent started with Happy Chandler and continued by Keen Johnson, is followed, Administration forces will work him into it. But the elevation of Tom Underwood to the state chairmanship may mean that some plans are being worked out which will break up this previous plan.

Underwood, the Lexington newspaper man, is the typical Kentuckian. He can talk for hours on the glories of the old Commonwealth, and knows

ALL IS NOT WELL IN DICTATOR NATIONS

The task for Adolf Hitler at the conference of Foreign Ministers in Vienna today is to make his fellow dictators—King Carol of Rumania, Nicholas Horthy, all-powerful Regent of Hungary, and also Benito Mussolini and possible Joseph Stalin—behave and prevent, for the moment at least, a disturbing upheaval in Southeastern Europe. The way he will go about it will, no doubt, be to dictate a territorial settlement of the Rumanian-Hungarian dispute over Transylvania, to turn thumbs down on any Italian invasion of Greece and to patch up the Balkan quarrels which have allowed Soviet Russia to take a hand in the land-grabbing game and not meddle in European affairs. The plan is simple, but will it work?

King Carol has already been told to make peace with Hungary but the farthest he would go in the way of concessions was to offer an exchange of population with his neighboring country. Hungary, too, has been advised by the boss in Berlin not to stir up any trouble, but it has demanded the immediate return of a considerable slice of its war-lost territory. Rumania, which has made territorial concessions to Russia and Bulgaria, foresees the possibility of dismemberment like that of Czechoslovakia. Since the end of the last war Hungary has dreamed of the day when it would regain the vast expanse of Transylvania. The breakdown of negotiations therefore brought troops of both sides to the border and Soviet Russia seized the occasion to make further hunches into Rumania. Hitler may force Rumania to give up some of Transylvania and he may restrain Hungary from making too drastic demands, but he must placate both. He needs them to work for him. He needs their grain and oil. And most of all he needs peace in the grain and oil fields. For the same reason he must prevent Italy from setting a spark to the Balkan powder keg and producing a conflagration in Southeastern Europe.

Whether a patched up peace will keep Russia quiet is problematical. Certainly all is not well in the family of dictatorial nations.

SUNSHINE AND SHADOWS

Salem, Va.—An advertisement offering an airplane for sale "or trade" brought this proposition from Joe Alex Osborn, III.

"I would like to trade you the following things—a fine red rooster, 2 pair pigeons, 1 crystal radio set I made; 3 red hens, 1 radio, has five tubes, 4 bantam and 1 erector set. If this suits you let me know and I will be able to come and get the airplane."
Joe is 10.

Portales, N. M.—Eastern New Mexico College sent out a survey to alumni including this question: "What have you been doing since you left ENMC?"
Replied a former co-ed: "Having kids."

Berkley, Calif.—The situation in Europe has become so confusing the University of California decided to change its usual elementary course in European governments.

The substitute course: the government of Great Britain. Professors said they might get around to France after the situation elled a bit.

Lincoln, Neb.—When one of his carriers was unable to deliver mail at a certain address for 10 days because of a vicious dog, Postmaster R. E. Fenton decided on appeasement.
Now the carrier leaves headquarters with a sack of dog food, and, says Fenton, all other carriers with dog trouble will be similarly armed.

the history of the state as few men know it. Naturally he is more interested in his own section right now than in other sections, but he is still vitally interested in the entire Commonwealth, and he has the ability to make a great Governor. What fate has in store for him no one can say, but Kentucky would lose nothing if he should be elevated to the Governors office in Frankfort.

Nature's Danger
Signal

How much easier it is to keep well than to get well. In these strenuous times so many people have fagged out "feeling." They are tired all the time. They think they are all run down when they are more apt to be all wound up. And they do not recognize this as nature's danger signal that something is wrong.

Tigers And Barons Break Even In Double Header Here Last Nite

The Tigers and Bowling Green Barons broke even here last night in a double header, the Barons winning the first easily 7 to 1, and the Tigers coming back to win 10 to 7 in the seven inning nightcap.

Sanford took the hill for the first game, and was given rather poor support in the first frame and was also touched for safeties when they hurt. Four runs were scored in this inning, and after this Sanford, although giving up hits, gave no more than one run in any inning. He pitched a good game after the first inning, but it was useless as his mates were unable to hit Lindsey with any success. The latter was touched for nine hits, but kept them scattered and in only one inning did the Tigers put two blows together for a run. Pawelek was the only Tiger to hit more than once and the big catcher slammed a double and two singles. Males, with two leaping catches at short, was the fielding star. One of these catches he converted into a double play by a fast throw. Malcolm Smith, local boy started the second game, and got into trouble in the first inning when a pair of hits scored three runs. The Tigers came back in the second to tie the score, Peterson doubling with two men on, and Smith smashing a single to score Peterson with the tying run. The Tigers took the lead in the next frame, scoring two runs, and the Barons came back with two in the fourth. The Tigers then blasted Lee from the box with a three run barrage, and Lucas relieved him. Sprute finally relieved Smith and got credit for the victory.

The two teams are playing again tonight.
