FROSH TO PRESENT FOUR 1-ACT PLAYS ON EVE OF APRIL 30

Dr. Hicks Expects 1000 to Attend "Play Night" at Murray State

CURTAIN TO RISE FOR "HONOR" AT 8:00 P. M.

The freshman class of Murray State College has set Thursday evening, April 30, for its annual "Play Night." Dr. G. T. Hicks, faculty sponsor for the first-yearmen, announced today.

Expecting a crowd of at least 1000 spectators, the freshman class, whose president is Walter Beasley of Paducah, will present four 1-act plays, starting an entire freshman cast on the stage of the auditorium. The curtain for the first play will be drawn promptly at 8 p. m.

Proceeds from the entertainment will go to the freshman class treasury after the frosh have "done their part" in contributing to the fund for the purchase of jackets for the Murray State College Thoroughbred basketball team, the SIAA Champions.

Dr. G. Turner Hicks, sponsor of the class, prophesied that the plays would draw a larger crowd than did the frosh plays of last year, when a record number of playgoers turned out for the occasion.

The first part of the program will be drama in one act—"Honor." The second skit, "Object Matrimony," will have a matrimonial bureau office for its setting. "Bound to Come" will be the third feature, after which "A Japanese Tea" will be given on the college auditorium stage.

Tap dancers and musicians from the freshman class will furnish entertainment between the acts, Dr. Hicks said. The class in "extra-curriculars" at the college is working out the costume schemes, stage settings and assisting in the coaching of the plays.

Offerman's Orchestra Provides Music for Affair at Murray.

The sophomore class presented their spring dance Monday night, April 13, in the girls' gymnasium from the hours 7:30 to 11:30.

Leroy Offerman and his popular dance orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. After intermission the sophomores presented three guest artists, who entertained the dancers with songs and piano music.

Bill Kemp, a student of M. S. C., sang "I'm Putting All My Eggs In One Basket" and "Come to Me Melancholy Baby." Mr. Angell, piano instructor at Murray, entertained with two piano solos. He played "I Can't Give You Anything But Love Baby" and "Dinah." Miss Pace, also a student at Murray sang "It's Been So Long" and "Shine On Harvest Moon."

The sophomores as usual had a beautifully decorated gym. The ceiling was decorated with a spray of many colored flowers in the shape of a diamond. From this spray were streamers of green crepe paper leading out to the walls. In the center of the gymnasium was an elaborate colored light which flashed on and off.

The dance was a farewell affair to the students who were to go home for K. E. A. Tuesday.

Murray Scientist Is President at Sectional Meeting at Louisville.

Dr. Charles Hire, head of the physics department of Murray State College and president of the Kentucky Chapter of the American Association of Physics Teachers, presided at a special meeting of the group held in Louisville Saturday, April 18, in connection with the Kentucky Education Association.

Two guest papers were read before Saturday's meeting in the physics lecture room of the University of Louisville. Dr. Arthur L. Foley, of the department of physics of the University of Indiana and an authority on sound, gave a number of demonstrations on sounds and sound volumes. His paper was followed by a comprehensive discussion of the Role of Science in Modern Education by Prof. Claiborne G. Latimer of the mathematics department, the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Hire stated that the committee which is making a study of physics in high schools made its preliminary report.

Richmond Says Conference Arranged With Roosevelt in Interest of Power Dam

Murray's President To Attend Meet at White House

Dr. James H. Richmond, representing the Lower Tennessee Valley Association in Washington, told the College News today a conference had been arranged with President Franklin D. Roosevelt for next week to consider the possibilities of securing a specific appropriation to start the $60,000,000 lower valley dam in this area this year.

At the solicitation of the LTVA executive committee, President Richmond, who managed Roosevelt's campaign in Kentucky four years ago, agreed to go to Washington in the interest of the dam. Members of the committee are: W. S. Swann, Murray, chairman; Hecht Lackey, Paducah; J. A. Olive, Mayfield; Luther Draffen, Calvert City; L. J. Hortin, Murray; Marion Allen, Paris, Tenn.

At the conference with President Roosevelt, Dr. Richmond expects to have the following present: Senators Norris, Barkley, Logan, McKellar, and Bachman, as well as Congressman Gregory and other interested representatives and congressmen. Dr. Richmond indicated he would also attend another conference with the president regarding educational matters.

President Richmond left Frankfort immediately following the KEA at Louisville and planned to return to Kentucky this week-end. He will resume his activities in Washington next week.

Under the chairmanship of W. S. Swann, the LTVA has been seeking for two years the construction of a lower valley dam on the Tennessee River. The TVA has recommended Gilbertsville as the tentative site for the dam and plans to expend at least $500,000 in further explorations and drilling this year.

Proponents of the project, however, are hopeful that Congress will allocate a larger sum to start the actual construction this summer. Dr. Richmond told the College News he believed he could do nothing that would be of greater benefit to the college than to aid in promoting the construction of the dam. He prophesied that the project would double Murray's enrollment.

In announcing their decision on April 6, Prof. Price Doyle, head of the music department, stated that her name would be engraved on the honor plaque. She has been a member of the girls' quartet for the past three years. She is also a member of the college band and orchestra.

TRAINING SCHOOL GIVES FIRST PLAY

Junior Class Presents "So We'll Just Pretend" April 23

Roller skate tap dancing, negro courtship, and Murray's "Alma Mater" were only a few of the features in "So We'll Just Pretend," a play presented by the junior class of the Training School in the college chapel the evening of April 23.

The junior class presented the first play ever given by the Training School, the purpose of which was to defray expenses for a junior-senior banquet.

The Training School orchestra, directed by Mr. Earle Connette, music critic teacher of the Training School, furnished music for the play.

"The play was a success both dramatically and financially," Miss Katherine Bondurant, director of the comedy and former student of Murray State, asserted. Miss Bondurant said that the door receipts were $78.

Misses Featherstone, Williams and McElrath Are Attendants

MISS GUNTER, UNION CITY, MAID OF HONOR

Miss Martha Nelle Wells, freshman from Murray, was elected football queen by the varsity and freshman football squads at a special meeting Thursday morning, April 23. Miss Wells succeeds Miss Dixie Vivian Moore, Princeton, football queen. It was the first time in Murray's history that a freshman has been selected by the football teams as their queen.

The coronation service was held at the annual football dance in the men's gymnasium at the college, Friday night, April 24, when Julian Henderson, captain of the 1936 Thoroughbred squad officially crowned Miss Wells as queen.

Miss Sue Gunter, Union City, Tenn., was named as maid-of-honor, and Runalda Featherstone, Clinton; Nancy Williams, Paducah; Dorothy McElrath, Paducah, were selected as attendants.

DR. CARR REVIEWS K. E. A. HIGHLIGHTS

Murray Dean Praises Address of Governor McNutt, Chandler, Richmond.

In giving the students a brief review April 20 of the meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association, held in Louisville last week, Dr. John W. Carr, dean of Murray State, said that in his opinion Governor McNutt, of Indiana, sounded the "spirit" keynote when he announced that "of 22 million dollars appropriated for state functions in Kentucky, 17 millions will be given to education."

Dr. Carr mentioned the name of Governor Chandler when making reference to "a spirit of progress" which is, according to the Murray college executive, "taking the place of the pessimism of past years."

He also praised Dr. James H. Richmond's address to the Rotary Club of Louisville: "In my opinion it was the greatest address that I ever heard," the 76-year-old dean declared. "He told them that there was not a surplus of good teachers in the state of Kentucky . . . but an oversupply of certificate holders."

Dr. Carr touched on the subject of war and the "brain trust" in national politics. Although he never mentioned the senator's name, the Murray College dean revealed that the federal officer's comments before the assembly pertained to the national government's probe of arm manufactures.

"I do not believe that it is necessary for nations to go to war to settle difficulties, for conquest, or to sell arms . . . it is up to the teachers of this nation to 'see a way out,'" Dr. Carr commented.

In touching on the recent opposition to President Roosevelt's "brain trust," the Murray College dean spoke of such opposition as an open insult to higher education heads.

In closing his address to the Murray students, Dr. Carr briefly reviewed the college's place at the Louisville convention.

"We had one of the best locations at the meeting . . . our KEA breakfast was not a 'performance,' but an event. The alumni of this college had never before contributed as much to our successful attendance at these meetings."

Math Club Meets

The Mathematics Club held its regular meeting Tuesday morning, April 14, in chapel period, with Chester Hayes, club president in charge.

Before I start typing on this I stop to watch D. D. E. Wollek concoct parts of his bi-weekly column. I like to watch famous columnists work to get pointers. Wollek jiggles the typewriter carriage up and down between thoughts. (Consequently, almost continuous jiggling.) He also types notes for the column before turning out the real thing. Seth Boaz, originator and one of the best producers of Dorn Doings, used to sit and stare fixedly at the typewriter. I have yet to observe his successor, Dick Royal, or Sammy of Sammy's Sayings, in action, as they send in their copy in longhand. Bibbo Williams, the "Roving Reporter" of the Hickman County Gazette, uses an extensive pipeline system by which every passer-by during the time of typing is made a source of information.

I missed the greatest part of the campus Easter parade on Easter morning, but I did see enough realize that the men who fear at women for showing off new spring toggery on this day no longer have the right to do so, since the man appear just as eager to strut forth in their new suits, hats, shoes as do the ladies. Even "Red Terror" Boyd, woman scouter, went the way of all flesh and looked like an Esquire advertisement.

The trees on the campus, particularly those near the Training School, were bare when the college closed for KEA but had leafed out in pastel greens by the time school began again. Reminds me of the quick sprouting of some recent campus romances. Bob Stevenson and Alice Yates are not the only ones, either, for one boy is referring to Talley as "brother Woodrow".

For excitement, "Man overboard" has its equivalent in the girls' dorm after 10 o'clock at night. It's "Girl outside! And I wonder if the Dean knows how many dark windows on the west side of the dorm are really crowded with excited girls eavesdropping to hear her greet each unluckily tardy damsel at the door and speculating in sibilant whispers on future developments.

IRRELEVANCIES.—Wonder if the usual number of students plan to attend the derby. One delegation composed of Ex-Colonel Everett will not get to make the trip this time... Tradition drifting from Paducah has it that Beasley once belonged to the class of those indifferent to women. Well, college does change one... Professor Connette seems a bit affected by spring too. He strolls through the College News office spouting something that rhymes... I haven't yet heard the perennial after-KEA fable about some Murray prof and the Gayety in Louisville... The Gayet burned two weeks before K. E. A... No one in college is so continuously witty and infectious as Jane Melugin... While everybody's wondering about the Prom Queen, I'm wondering about the Football Queen, to be presented at the Friday night dance. By the time this comes out, everybody will know who she is... Irene Nickell is more lenient than many girls would be about those suspicious-looking week-end trips. Bill made recently... One of the best student artists in college is Edith Winchester, a commuter from Brandon, Ky. With Edith, Bill Carrier, Harley Terry, Jane Melugin, Robert Rowland, and Kendred Winston as prospective next-year seniors, the 1937 Shield should have no trouble getting good art work. Which reminds me, the 1936 Shield will be on the campus for sale in about two weeks. It would already have been out but for late pictures of the basketball team... Want to increase your vocabulary? Then just stick around Dismukes while he's typing... I must now study for Poque's test. In other words, moriarius to salute!

Summer is taking Murray by storm. All the benches have been painted and distributed. Wonder what they will look like when fall comes... Jack and Margaret Weber find the administration steps convenient for a sun-tan—especially the south side... Mac and Cassie like the shade and sit on the transport wagon after their noon-day meal. Wayne gets a kick out of hanging around the east steps of the girls' dorm... Gordon and Kathleen admire the concrete rather than the benches—especially the East Library steps... Circuses are a fascination for Bill and Mae. They stayed over during vacation, and literally "cat-got" the show that was here. They got reserved seats too... Wonder how Pierceall likes Bibbo's haircut... Neely is at it again. Who was that lovely lady he was "squaring off" at the premiere of "The Voice of Bugle Ann"? And he had his best car too. Shame on you, Sam... Wanted a copy of "Gloomy Sunday"... To make sure that he would get the inside track in the "Feathers Handicap", Freshman Fields returned from vacation Saturday... A girl on West side of the campus will be very disappointed if the TVA leaves soon... During vacation, Booker broke the speedometer on his dad's car. Who likes to speed, Book?... Irene's lonesome. I wonder why... After attending Monday morning classes, Ann Graham sighed, "And this is just Monday"... And again I wonder who the Junior Prom Queen is... Modern female Damon-Pythias: Chris and E. Ladd... Noted improvement—the sidewalk from the post office to the auditorium... When will the tennis courts be in shape?... Oh, if Murray only had a baseball team! We need a major spring sport... Quite a number of the boys are trying out for the various Kitty League Clubs... Notes of interest—Miss Johnson and her horn-rimmed specs... Bob's "Gilliam" sweat shirt... Numerous couples at "The Voice of Bugle Ann"... Dr. Gude's mania for mystery pictures... Hamby and Mackey... Freeman's (Wayne's) insistent arguing... Luther Goheen's calmness. Did anyone ever see him excited?... Talley's preference for cream brick apartment houses... You're reading this far.

DORM DOINGS

Cool weather has driven our sun-bathing Apollos in out of the sun... How do you girls like the nice sun-tans our boys were acquiring?

Fred Astaire will look "amateurish" pretty soon. It is rumored that "Vergie" Applegate is practicing dancing every night at 10 o'clock to the strains of the fiddle of "Rubinoff" Elkins... "Apple" seems to be greatly improving with his "trucking"... Incidentally, this is the first time that anyone can remember that a musician is rooming in the same suite with athletes.

G. Wilson has an eye for the future (it might be the near future—who knows?) He is now reading "How to Get Married on Small Incomes."

Everything from cigarettes to coca-colas is being bet on whose picture will appear in the paper as Murray's Prom Queen. I think it would be a good idea to elect all four of the beautiful candidates.

Rain causes many peculiar things to happen, but when it causes the "Song-bird of the Gridiron" (Benny Cook to you) to stay in the dorm for one night, you know that it was a downpour!

For the worst quartet, Jim Allison, Lewis Applegate, John Jasper, and "Jellico" Hardin would be good candidates.

The football boys certainly selected a good-looking miss for their queen. It is not hard to see why a freshman girl would be selected for the honor when one knows her.

CHORUS PRESENTS SACRED CANTATA

A Cappella Choir Assists in Easter Program at Murray State.

The sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by Dubois, was sung by the College Chorus, assisted by the A Cappella Choir, at a program in the college auditorium, Easter Sunday, April 12. Prof. Price Doyle was the conductor, and the soloists were: Mrs. Florence Jewell, soprano; Loren Putnam, tenor; and Charles Baugh, baritone. The singers were accompanied by a small orchestra.

"Fats" Everett is president of the Democratic Club at Murray State College.

I am ringing off for this time.

Seth Boaz, Jr., Is Reporter on Staff Of Sun-Democrat

Seth T. Boaz, Jr., former sports editor of the College News, began his career as a professional newspaper man when he was employed by the Paducah Sun-Democrat several weeks ago.

While in Murray College, Boaz made an enviable record. He was football writer for the Shield, Murray College yearbook for 1935. He served as vice-president and later as president of the Irvin Cobb Writers' Club. He was an Alienist and an active member of the Sock and Buskin Dramatic Club and of the Pre-Medical Club.

Boaz was graduated from the college in February 1935 with a B.S. degree and a major in biology. His home is in Mayfield, Ky. Mrs. Odessa Boaz Stubblefield, one of the college secretaries, is his sister.

The young reporter received his scholastic training in newspaper work under the direction of Prof. L. J. Horton, director of publications at Murray College. According to Mr. Horton, Boaz possesses unusual journalistic ability.

I consider Mr. Boaz one of the outstanding students in journalism of Murray State College. He was one of the best sports editors and columnists ever on the campus.

Baker Will Teach in Marshall County

Wilford Baker, senior and a member of the SIAA champion basketball team, has received notice from the Marshall County school board that he is to teach at Pt. Necessity next school term.

Pt. Necessity, located three miles north of Birmingham, is an elementary school. Baker will teach all eight grades. The school term begins during the first of July.

Baker has earned three letters as a member of the Thoroughbred basketball team, and a numeral during his freshman year. Baker, known on the "hardwood" as "Burn 'em up Baker," was a very speedy and dependable guard.

Baker is majoring in health education. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baker of Birmingham, Ky.

Commerce To Be Part of Tests for District Meeting

Scholarship tests in commerce will be included in the interscholastic tests to be given at Murray State College on Saturday, May 9, according to Supt. M. O. Wrath.

Representatives from the various high schools of the First District participate in these tests. The students receiving the highest grades are eligible for competition for state championship in the various fields.

"Formerly all tests, including music, speech, and scholastic examinations, were held during one week-end," stated Mr. Wrath, "but it has been found more practical to have them on different occasions throughout the spring. The public speaking contests, which were held March 20-21, and the Music Festival, which took place March 27-28, were highly successful."

No approximate number of entrants can be determined at this date, but it is expected that most of the schools, especially the larger high schools, will send contestants for these events.

Sammy's Sayings

By Sam Boyd Neely

Murray students are not the only ones who make blunders in the classroom. A student at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., was asked, in one of his physics classes, to define an atom. To which he replied that "Atoms" was the second president of the United States.

Uncle Sam has arranged it so that he can identify all students in the Slattington, Pa., school district—a record of their finger prints is now on file at the Department of Justice in Washington, D. C. Murray collegians are indebted to the federal government for their PWA projects and WPA jobs, but they hope the finger print stuff isn't necessary.

If the saying is true that in order to have a faithful member of a club, you should give him something to do, the Young Men's Democratic Club on the campus should be an outstanding success. Perhaps they tried to give everybody an office. Wait till the Republicans can get the auditorium and organize. Perhaps they will have a secretary to the secretary of the fourth vice-president.

Mr. Freeman and "Fats" Everett should be congratulated however, since they made it possible for students to take more interest in their citizenship in the United States and their duties as voters.

Dr. Mabel Gude's English 102 class gave Eugene O'Neill's drama, "Emperor Jones" in class. Letcher Melton, Mason Dismukes, and Edd Kellow were the characters, while Spike Hamby directed the sound effects, consisting of tom-tom beats and pistol shots. Their class mates weren't alarmed at the noise, however, because Kellow, Dismukes, Melton, and Hamby together in any class for nine weeks will make the entire class immune.

Nits and Bits: Carmon Parks and Woodrow Talley are talking to a new girl every time I see them. Perhaps they are starting the "love 'em, leave 'em, and forget 'em" system... Dallas Lancaster has a walk that no one can duplicate... It's raining today, and I imagine Bibbo and Pierceall are out together again... Richard Hughes and Alvin Woosley both declare they had a good time during KEA but they won't disclose what they did... Troy McNuti, the man of many experiences, has now organized a softball team. He is a player-manager of the team, and should I say what-a-player or what-a-manager... Woodrow Dill who lives at Model, Tenn., is now able to return home in a beeline instead of driving several miles up the Tennessee River and crossing in order to reach his home on the dry side.

The seniors will give a play Thursday night, May 21, entitled "Look Who is Here".

The seniors are making preparation for Senior Week which will be May 18-23 inclusive. This will include class day programs, Senior Superlative Junior-Senior Banquet, Senior Picnic, and the Senior Play. The proceeds from the play will go as a memorial to the school.

The third grade, under the supervision of Mrs. Lowry, has been making posters and getting ready to open its fruit store.

The countries from which the fruit comes will be studied as the fruit is sold. The third grade has also organized a Bird Club.

The activity in Miss Naomi Maple's room is still progressing very nicely. The new additions that have been brought in for the colonial rooms include a shoe last which was Judge Tom Goheen's of Marshall County. This last was used before 1860. Judge Goheen was a member of the Kentucky Legislature in 1860. This last was brought in by Miss Hettie Watkins, a junior in Murray State College. One rug has been woven, also, and some soap has been made.

Regents Consider Status of Degrees

That students now enrolled as candidates for master's degrees at Murray State College will, upon transferring to the University of Kentucky, receive full credit for completed work toward their M.A. degree, was announced by Dr. Frank McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, by letter to the board of regents of the college Monday, April 12.

The University of Kentucky, it was stated, will recognize the completed work of holders of master's degrees from teachers colleges in Kentucky by granting to them master's degrees from the University.

Matters pertaining to the building under construction on the campus and the issuance of life certificates were also discussed by the board. Dr. James H. Richmond, president; Dr. J. W. Carr, dean; Judge Bunk Gardner, Mayfield; C. E. Crume, Clinton; and T. H. Stokes, Murray, attended the meeting.

SOCK-AND-BUSKIN PRESENTS DRAMA

"The Valiant" is Given by New Members of Dramatics Club of Murray State.

The Sock and Buskin Club of Murray State College presented four of its new members in a 1-act play entitled "The Valiant" at the college chapel hour Friday, April 24.

The cast of characters was as follows: Samuel Shelby, Hickman, who played the part of Warden Holt; Charles Farmer, Murray, who interpreted the role of Father Daly, the prison chaplain; Miss Lula Belle, Almo, who impersonated Josephine Paris; and Edward Freeman, Calvert City, who acted as James Dyke, the criminal.

Training School

The 4-H Club met last Thursday morning with Mr. Cochran, county agent for Calloway county, to discuss "Demonstration Teams". On May 21, all demonstration teams in the county will compete and the winner will go to Lexington to compete with other county winners. The winners of this meet will then go to Chicago to compete with other state winners.

The Training School physical education class will go to Fulton next Friday to participate in the May day festivities. This class is under the direction of Mr. Stewart. The practice teachers are Brady Taylor and Wilford Baker.

The first grade set their hen in the practice room last Monday. The first grade will give a play entitled "Little Black Sambo" in chapel next Monday morning.

Mr. Butler, who is doing practice teaching under Mr. Thurman, has returned to his teaching work after working for Postmaster Jeffrey while he was ill.

The home economics class at the Training School has recently organized a Home Ec. Club. The officers are: Louise Waldrop, president; Myrtle Garner, vice-president; Lucile Kelly, secretary; and Rebecca Farmer, treasurer.

The president has appointed a program and social committee. The club will work on many interesting projects, such as parties and banquets.

The sixth grade pupils have just issued their spring number of the Training School Journal, in which every child had part in the composition, putting it together and selling it.

Their next projects are to beautify the west part of the school yard by planting flowers and shrubbery, study to pass to the next grade and to go on a picnic.

Miss Nadine Overall will go to Chattanooga Thursday, April 30, to attend the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University of Chattanooga.

The seniors will give a play Thursday night, May 21, entitled "Look Who is Here".

14 Departments Listed for Term

Fourteen departments were today included on a tentative program for the summer school session beginning at Murray State College June 8.

The program, compiled recently by Dr. John W. Carr, dean of the institution, included the following courses of study:

Art, agriculture, biology, Commerce, education, English, foreign languages, geography, health and physical education, home economics, mathematics, music, physical sciences, and social science.

Former President Lauds Progress of College

Dr. Rainey T. Wells, former president of Murray State College and now general attorney for the Modern Woodman of the World, addressed the students of the college in chapel Monday, April 13, after he had been introduced by Dr. James H. Richmond, Murray president, who had charge of the morning's exercises. Dr. and Mrs. Wells were visiting in Murray at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Joe Lovett.

Music Is Feature of Vesper Society

Music and more music entertained the members of the Christian Association at their meeting April 12, which was held in the little chapel of the administration building.

Mrs. Dorothy Waggoner gave a musical reading as the opening novelty of the program. A horn duet presented by Ruth Crawford and Russell Shriner was followed by a speech given by Shriner.

At the close of group singing, plans were made for a weiner roast. This event will resemble the association at Rogers' Lake at 6 p. m. Friday, April 24.

The Apostles will sponsor the roast as a result of their losing to the Disciples in a contest for the best program presented to the members. This contest was determined by points awarded for special features of the programs, given alternately by the two divisions. Points were also given for the group having the greater number of new members present at each meeting.

Prior to Dr. Wells' address, Dr. Richmond admonished the students of the college never to forget the attributes of education which go into the making of cultural greatness. "You are searching for Truth," he declared; "otherwise you wouldn't be here. You're searching for honesty, too. Honesty is the basis for character. Justice is fairness. Purity is decency, high thinking, clean living. Loveliness and beauty are synonymous, whether they be the beauty of character, the beauty of music, or the sublimity of poetry... It is so easy to peddle scandal... We must realize the tragedy of a mispent life!"

Dr. J. W. Carr, Murray dean, stressed the fact that the students and faculty of Murray State College should work diligently toward the placing of as many graduating students in responsible positions as possible.

Miss Alma Chrisman, student of Murray State College, accompanied Miss Ruby Pinkley, Calloway County spelling winner from Hazel to Louisville last week to participate in the state contest.

Judge Tom Goheen, who resided near Benton and who was a member of the Kentucky Legislature from Marshall County in 1860, fashioned the last and made on the last by hand, the shoes for his eight children.

Both the last and button were given to Miss Watkins by her great aunt, Miss Cora Goheen, who lives alone on the old Goheen homestead about six miles east of Benton, Ky.

The last and button will be placed in the colonial room at the Training School.

Mitchell Gets Job in State School

Virgil E. Mitchell, preacher, teacher, politician and former student of Murray State College, has recently been appointed as instructor in the Kentucky State Reformatory at Greendale, Ky. Mr. Mitchell is instructor in the fifth and sixth grades.

While a student at Murray, Mitchell was active in campus life. For several semesters he was sergeant-at-arms for the Henry Clay Debating Club. He was a member of the varsity debating team and was also a member of the College News staff. Mitchell's home is at Reidland, Ky.

In an announcement immediately preceding Dr. Wells' talk, Dr. Richmond stated in reference to the class in Pupil Accounting which is to be conducted at Murray during the summer semester by Moss Walton, state director of attendance, that possibly no provision of the new school code has done so much good as that clause pertaining to attendance officers. Last year for the first time in history, a scientific census of the state of Kentucky was taken.

Dr. Wells in his address congratulated the winning basketball Murray had this year, and declared that Murray was growing into a unique institution throughout the South. "You're getting into a position to do something physically, mentally, and culturally," emphasized the ex-president.

COOPERATION AMONG GRADUATES

In his address at chapel exercises Monday, April 12, Dr. Rainey T. Wells, former president of Murray State College, expressed the wish that graduates and former students of Murray help newly graduated students to obtain employment.

This is an excellent idea and should be carried out as far as possible by all graduates of Murray State.

Dr. Wells would have all alumni of Murray, who see any openings in various schools for teachers, immediately suggest to the authorities that they fill the position with a student from Murray State.

It seems that the Alumni Association could take this idea of Dr. Wells and put it to good advantage in helping the appointment committee fill as many openings as possible with Murray graduates.

HAIL SENIORS

There have been larger graduating classes than this year's senior class but none, however, has excelled the present senior class. In this group we find scholars, dramatists, artists, writers, musicians, and athletes. They have furnished the nucleus of both extra curricular and class activities. Most every student is superior in some activity. Others are successfully engaging in three or four school activities. They all seem to have the qualifications to make good citizens wherever they are located just as they have made good students.

This class has not tried to show its superiority over the lower classes by primitive hazing methods.

On the other hand they have befriended freshman students in Murray. They have always been more than willing to advise with students over school or personal problems. This group has never shown the "superiority complex" which is commonly exhibited in many schools. They are average persons who have had their "ups and downs" in school life. Next fall there will exist vacancies in Murray which only time can replace.

Members of the commercial class (Commerce 207) of Murray State College visited court Friday, April 21, for the purpose of becoming familiar with the procedure in court, and to hear cases and get the points of law involved.

SPORT SPASMS

By Jimmie Bogle

Now that "Dizzy" and "Daffy" Dean have been scratched by the Cubs, the New York Giants are heading the class in the National League, and Boston's "Purchase" and the Cleveland Indians are starting fine in the American League, baseball is officially under way. Too bad we cannot play the National pastime in Murray.

But these are arguments for and against baseball at M.S.C.—on the "for" side we find: (1) Good material available, but going to waste. (2) The absence of a major spring sport. (3) Baseball is Dr. Richmond's favorite sport. (4) Western, Centre, U. of Louisville, T. P. I., and Cumberland in this district, have teams. (5) Baseball pays higher salaries than any other sport—we should give our students an opportunity to rise. (6) In a recent college census, more students were interested in playing baseball than any other sport.

On the negative side of the ledger we find (1) Lack of finances. (2) No equipment available with which to start a season. (3) Absence of an enclosed diamond on which to play. (4) Lack of student and faculty interest in baseball. (5) Holidays, spring football, and graduation exercises during the spring semester.

It has been said that community organizations would help support a Thoroughbred nine. . . . All that is necessary to have a baseball team at Murray State is a fenced in park, uniforms, balls, bats, and bases. . . . So if some energetic soul wants to see baseball played here in the spring of 1937, the time to swing into action is NOW.

In a letter from an executive of the Mayfield Kitty League team, it has been requested that the baseball players of Murray State be encouraged to try-out for the "Bonton" team. Irvan, Baker, Phillips, Edwards, etc., this might be your golden opportunity.

It is quite possible that a picked nine from Murray State will meet the "Bonton boys" in a practice game on Sunday, May 4. Anyone interested in the playing of such a game is requested to contact this narrator.

James "Sunny" Phillips, 1936 Thoroughbred basketball captain, has been elected to coach at Reidland; Willard "The Great" Bagwell moves in at Heath; Luther Goben is to teach and coach at Calvert City and "Bake" Baker takes up the ferrule in Marshall County.

The "M" Club is working hard to raise money for individual jackets for the SIAA champs and deserves assistance. . . . The names of all donors from among College News readers outside the college will be printed in this column. (Even if the space takes up the entire column—which would certainly be a good thing.) . . . So dear readers, please send your contributions to Edwin Gunter, president of the "M" Club, College Station, immediately, and let's put

PROM QUEEN WILL BE ANNOUNCED AT HOUSEHOLD DANCE

Freeman Names Class Committees for Decoration and Finance

CLASS WILL PAY COSTS OF EVENT

A Prom Queen for the annual Junior-Senior Promenade, to be held the night of May 9 in the auditorium, has been selected from a group of four nominees by the junior class of Murray State College. According to Edward Freeman, junior class president, the Prom Queen will be announced at the Household Arts Club dance, Saturday, May 2.

The four juniors eligible for the title are Miss Runalda Featherstone, Clinton; Miss Sue Gunter, Union City, Tenn.; Miss Minnie Lee Ligon, Farmington; and Miss Kathleen Imes, Almo. Of this group a maid-of-honor and two attendants have been selected along with the Queen.

The following program committee has been appointed by the class president: Miss Minnie Lee Ligon, Farmington, chairman; Miss Sue Gunter, Union City, Tenn.; Miss Runalda Featherstone, Clinton; Sam Boyd Neely, Hazel; Barton Fiser, Benton; and Kindred Winston.

The decoration committee consists of Harley Terry, chairman; Miss Jane Meugin, Miss Edith Winchester, Miss Nancy Williams, Miss Sis Fenwick, Alton Thacker, and Cecil Gentry.

In a one hour chat with Coach Roy Stewart, chief de-campe of the M.S.C. football team, the writer discovered that the Murray mentor is more pleased with this spring's practice sessions than he has been with any session during his career at Murray.

So until next edition, at which time it is hoped that this complex column will be filled with names of donors to the jacket fund, we say—Bona via, osci.

Phillips, Bagwell Elected to Coach in Same County

Two of the most gallant Thoroughbreds ever to race down the basketball court of Murray State College have been elected to teach in two of Western Kentucky's outstanding high schools for the coming year. Captain James Hammond "Sunny" Phillips, who led his mates to a Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship this season, has been elected to coach at Reidland, while Willard Bagwell, who starred for the Cutchmen in former years, has been elected to coach at Heath.

Captain Jim Phillips, Tolu, a capable leader, a real guard, and probably Murray's number one citizen at present, is making his first start in the teaching field. "Sunny" should go far in developing a winner at Reidland and if all it takes is backing from his alma mater, then Reidland will hold the state championship for years to come—at least the five coached by Phillips will fight it out with Bagwell's Heath quintet.

Willard Bagwell is given credit for being the most valuable basketball player ever to graduate from Murray State College. "Bag," who drew his sheepskin from M. S. C. in the spring of 1933, was mentioned on every tournament team his quintet ever entered.

AAUW Sponsors Benefit Picture

The Murray branch of the American Association of University Women sponsored a motion picture, "The Voice of Bugle Ann", at the Capitol Theatre April 21-22.

Prof. Price Doyle, head of the department, announced today. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Miss Helen Roberts, Mayfield, will be the accompanist for Mr. Carson.

1300 Years of Study Are Spent by Murray Staff

By Richard Hughes

From 65 different colleges and universities scattered all over the United States and four foreign countries, the faculty members of Murray State College have obtained their degrees and have done their graduate work.

In this country members of the faculty have attended schools in states as far west as the Pacific, as far east as the Atlantic, as far north as the Canadian border, and as far south as Florida and the Gulf of Mexico. Five faculty members have done graduate work in foreign countries: Prof. W. H. Fox, music department, in Paris, France, and Munich, Germany; Miss Mary Virginia Coleman in Sarbonne and Paris, France; Miss Nadine Webb Overall, critic teacher, in Rome, Italy; Prof. W. M. Angell, music department, in Paris, Munich, and Vienna; Miss Margaret Woodriddle, art department, in Paris, France.

George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., has been the college most frequented by different members of the faculty. There have been seven bachelors degrees, 11 master degrees, and three Ph. D. degrees taken from Peabody College, while four other instructors have done graduate work there.

10 From Kentucky Next in line according to numbers is the University of Kentucky, from which 10 have obtained bachelor degrees and nine master degrees. One other faculty member did graduate work there, and Dr. James O. Nall, college physician,

Sicilian Says Murray Band 'Best I Hear in Long Time'

Father of Former Student Visits Campus

By Christine Brown

"Best band I hear in long time! You tell 'em I say so—I, who've played in good bands in Italy!" These words concerning the Murray State College band were ejaculated, 10 to the second, to the accompaniment of much waving of the hands, by Stellario Cucinotta, Louisville, Ky., one time of Sicily, who visited the campus of Murray College during the latter part of Music Week (April 6-12) and attended the band concert Saturday night, April 11. Mr. Cucinotta is the father of Mrs. Everett Crane, Murray, a former Murray College student.

Pint-sized (possibly five feet tall), neat, voluble, and lively, with black eyes that continually dance with laughter, Mr. Cucinotta overwhelmed the reporter with his enthusiastic impressions of the college he was seeing for the first time.

"This one fine school here. I'm a ver' surprise when firs' I see. An' people, they are so ver' friendly," he declared, emphasizing his statements with a flash of white teeth and swift flickerings of his hands, such as Prof. Forrest Pogue, hitherto champion gesticulator around the college, has never dreamed of.

That he has a deep appreciation of music was revealed by his tense and eager expression at all the concerts given by the college music department each night of Music Week. He sat on the edge of his seat and vigorously led the applause after each number, stopping to praise in ardent whispers some part he had particularly liked. He was particularly interested in the orchestra and in the vocal concerts as they were different from those with which he was familiar in Italy, where nearly all the music he knew was operatic. He had the tenor lead in several operas while in college in Italy and later played in the Opera House in Messina.

He bemoaned the fact that so few attended the Murray concerts. "In Italy, the whole town be here!" Mr. Cucinotta is also something of an artist. He has recently been carving on the first statue of human figures ever to be sculptured in Louisville for a public building. It is to be used on a new school being built there. A native Sicilian, he came to the United States as a young man and married an American girl. He has worked on important buildings, monuments, and fountains all over the country.

The real reason for Mr. Cucinotta's visit to Murray was the fact that, despite his youthful appearance, he recently became a grandfather and came to pay homage to little Karen Crane, month-old daughter and dictator of the Everett Crane household.

In all, the faculty of Murray State College has spent approximately 1300 years in study in order that it might be prepared to teach students in the various departments of this college.

Student Travels 3600 Miles to Get College Education

By Sam Boyd Neely

"I have traveled approximately 36,000 miles which required 660 hours of my time in order to complete my education in Murray," asserted John Hardeman, senior, from Sedalia, Ky. Hardeman, former Mississippi Valley tennis champ, has driven from Sedalia to Murray daily during the last three years to attend school during the spring and fall semesters. He attended Murray Training School during his senior year in high school. Before coming to Murray State College, he attended Freed-Hardeman at Henderson, Tenn.

"Although it is less than 25 miles to Sedalia, I have averaged 50 miles a school day, since I have driven six miles in the country to gather passengers," continued Hardeman. "During this time, I left home at 6:30 o'clock in order to arrive on time at my early classes. During my school career at Murray, I have averaged more than an hour a day making the round trip."

Before Hardeman gets his degree he will have traveled enough miles in making his trips to and from Murray to circle the world one and one-half times. While driving this distance he will have used more than four weeks of his time. If he had spent two hours preparation for each recitation during this time spent, he could have passed 13 semester hours.

All mornings look alike to Hardeman. He has driven on icy mornings, rainy mornings, and Miss Moody stated: "I think Murray State College is grand. I like the buildings, the campus and the fine school spirit. I never met so many friendly people before in so short a time. I certainly am looking forward to attending school here."

THE MULLIGAN ROUND

196 Attend Murray Breakfast at K.E.A. in Louisville, Ky.

Instructors Are On Program During Session

Classwork was resumed at Murray State College Monday, April 20, after adjournment on the preceding Saturday of the sixty-fifth annual session of the Kentucky Education Association, which convened in Louisville April 15-18. More than 200 Murray College instructors, students, and friends of the college attended the convention, an outstanding feature of which, as far as Murray was concerned, was the annual K.E.A. breakfast at the Brown Hotel Friday, and at which 196 Murrayans and friends heard Gov. A. B. Chandler reiterate his campaign speech to support liberally public education in Kentucky in its every phase.

Classes at Murray dismissed April 14, and the KEA delegation left for Louisville on Wednesday, April 15. Three Murray State College instructors appeared on the Association program for Thursday and Friday, April 16 and 17. They were Miss Mattie Trousdale, critic teacher in the Training School, who gave a demonstration lesson in fourth grade geography; Dr. Floy Robbins, head of the geography department at Murray, who led a formal discussion of problems in teaching geography; and Miss Nellie May Wyman, education instructor, who presided over Nursery-Kindergarten group discussions.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, was elected president of the KEA. He succeeds Porter H. Hopkins, Somerset. Dr. James H. Richmond, Murray, president, drew up resolutions endorsing Governor Chandler's tax program, and asking the federal government to share in a permanent educational program in Kentucky. These were presented to the Delegate Assembly for approval.

An address by Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota virtually closed the KEA session Friday night, April 17. Other prominent speakers to appear on the program were Governor Chandler; the Hon. Pat Neff, former governor of Texas and now president of Baylor University; Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, nationally known lecturer; and Dr. Harold Rugg, Columbia University, New York.

Prof. Price Doyle, Murray College music department head, was elected president of the music department of the Kentucky Education Association.

In his speech before the Murray delegates at the KEA breakfast Friday, Governor Chandler declared that he had recommended to the legislature a revenue program designed to provide funds for his plan of public education, and he asked the cooperation of the teachers of Kentucky. He was introduced by Dr. James H. Richmond, who presided at the breakfast. Dr. J. W. Carr, Murray dean, gave greetings to the assembly.

Among the guests of the college at the breakfast were Dr. Sidney Hall, superintendent of public instruction of Virginia; Porter H. Hopkins, retiring president of the KEA and superintendent of Somerset City Schools; Secretary of State Arnett, Frankfort; Yancey Altshuler, Louisville, education commission member; Gordie Young, assistant state superintendent of public instruction in Kentucky; Dr. R. E. Jagger, director of teacher training; James Cammack, Jr., director of the Division of Research; Frank D. Peterson, director of the Division of Finance; J. W. Brooker, in charge of buildings and grounds; Senators Ray Smith, Benton; T. O. Turner, Murray; Franklin Rives, Hopkinsville; Representatives Bea Grogan, Murray; Frank McGary, Cunningham; and Marion McCarthy, Blackford.

Erwin-Cooper

Miss Lurine Erwin and R. L. Cooper, were married by Rev. K. G. Dunn, at the Methodist parsonage Hazel, Ky., Saturday, April 11. Mrs. Cooper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Erwin of Calloway County. Mr. Cooper taught school the past year at Harris Grove and is a student in the College at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper plan to live in Murray while Mr. Cooper continues in school.

May Day Is Not Listed This Year

May Day celebration sponsored by Murray State College annually in May will not be held this year, it was revealed here this week after a meeting of the faculty. The May Day festival will be continued in 1937, however, it was decided. The postponement was made in the interests of economy, college officials said.

Last year, Miss Jane Ferguson, of the Training School, was elected May Queen. Miss Naomi Maple was chairman of the festival committee; Mrs. Franklin Inglis was in charge of the group dances; and Miss Clara Rimmer supervised the solo dance numbers.

Dr. Drennon's Article Is Published In Leading Philological Magazine

An article by Dr. Herbert Drennon, perhaps the greatest living authority on James Thomson, 17th century poet, appeared in the February, 1936, issue of the Englische Studien, a German philological magazine edited by Johannes Hoops, professor of English philology at the University of Heidelberg. The essay, a critical analysis of some 6,000 words with frequent references, and entitled "Newtonianism in James Thomson's Poetry," advanced the view that "Thomson fundamentally was a scientific rationalist of the school of Newton, and the views of that school profoundly influenced him in the shaping of his own philosophy of life."

Dr. Drennon is the head of the English department of Murray State College, Murray, Ky. He received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago, and took his master's degree from Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn. He wrote his doctor's dissertation on James Thomson.

Since 1931, the Murray English head's articles on Thomson have been appearing consistently in

CHIEF SAYS WORK ON BUILDINGS TO BE DONE IN YEAR

PWA Engineer Avers Site is Most Ideal He Has Ever Seen

STRUCTURES TO COST SUM OF $263,637.00

A. E. Bruner engineer and inspector for the Public Works Administration, who is overseeing the work on the new health building being constructed at Murray State College, stated today that the building will be completed in all likelihood by the first of the year. Only 300 working days are allowed by the PWA per year, declared Bruner, and it is not probable that the health building will be completed by November as originally planned. He further stated that the site for the building was the most ideal spot he had ever seen. With the home demonstration house on which construction work has already started, the building program will involve an expenditure of $263,637.

Although weather conditions have hindered rapid work on the two new buildings, they are at least 10 days ahead of schedule, according to Bruner. The concrete foundation for the health building has been completed, and work on the new swimming pool has been started. The excavation work has been completed on the home management building, and the forms are ready to be poured.

The new building, Bruner said, will be completely modernistic in design. The swimming pool and the women's gymnasium will be located on the ground floor. On the second floor will be the men's gym, while rooms for boxing, wrestling, and handball will be found on the third floor. Also in the building will be offices and classrooms for all health, hygiene, and physical education classes.

Instructor Speaks To Henry Clays

Prof. L. J. Hortin spoke to the Henry Clay Debating Club in its regular meeting in the little chapel, Tuesday, April 14. Professor Hortin has been sponsor of this club since its organization.

In his talk, Professor Hortin explained why it has been impossible to have a varsity debating team this year. The fact that teams could not spend money appropriated in the budget outside of the state made it impossible for Murray to schedule teams which she had debated in the past. Mr. Hortin said that the probability of having a team next year depended upon ironing out this difficulty and receiving an appropriation from the school budget.

James Overby, president of the club, presided. He told the club that Coach Stewart did not think it advisable for the Henry Clay Debating Club to sponsor a boxing tournament this year in order to make money for the club.

Sue Gunter

Sue Gunter was graduated in 1933 from the Union City High School, where she was valedictorian of her class. She was awarded an honor scholarship to Milligan College, Johnson City, Tenn., and attended college there during her freshman and sophomore years. At Milligan, she was a member of the Masque Dramatic Club and the varsity debating squad.

Miss Gunter entered Murray State in September, 1935. She is president of the Women's Organization of the college, secretary-treasurer of the Household Arts Club, and served on the Student Council last semester.

Grid Practice Is Resumed at Murray

With the sun peeping through a blue sky again, Coach Roy Stewart, director of the Murray football team, called his wards back out for spring practice today after a three-day layoff. A slight wind was blowing, giving kickers and passers the advantage.

The three coaches on duty at present, Stewart, Edmonds and Miller, feel that the showing being made this spring by the squad is a strong indication of a very successful season next fall.

The present spring is the first time in four years that the Blues have won over the Whites, and this spring is the first time since 1933 that the blockers have been mowing down the secondary as they should. As a final good luck sign, the players themselves seem to be more interested in football and more spirited than they were a year ago.

Instructors Appear on Paducah Program

Prof. Leslie R. Putnam, voice instructor at Murray State College, and Prof. Warren Angell, piano instructor, performed at the last program of the year by the Paducah Music Club Wednesday night, April 24, by giving voice and instrumental interpretations from works of the masters. The program was held at the Hotel Irvin Cobb in Paducah.

The Murray State College Men's Quartet under the direction of Professor Putnam, will sing for the Aurora Baccalaureate ceremony at Aurora Sunday night, April 26. Thursday night, April 30, the quartet will sing at the Calvert City High School's commencement exercises; and the following night will sing at Hardin High School for the commencement address there.

385 Copies of Shield Ordered By Staff

Three hundred and eighty five copies of the '36 Murray College Shield have been ordered and actual printing has begun, according to an announcement made April 20, by Prof. Forrest C. Pogue, Shield sponsor.

A representative of the Shield staff will go to Nashville, Tenn., Saturday, April 27, and early the following week, the specific date of delivery will be announced.

The delay in publication was due to the late pictures of the SIAA champions and their gigantic reception by the Murray students. This, the Shield staff members agreed, is the outstanding feature of the '36 Shield.

Other features of the 1936, 140-page yearbook are 10 pages of snapshots and a new striking cover.

the ship that brought Columbus to America ..and tobacco to the world

..and now throughout the world smokers are saying They Satisfy

History tells us that when Christopher Columbus' sailors took tobacco back home with them everybody hailed it as one of the first new pleasures in years.

Today tobacco gives more pleasure to more people than ever before.

Many different claims are made for tobacco, but most everybody agrees on this . . .

Smoking is a pleasure and the cigarette is the mildest and purest form in which that pleasure can be enjoyed.
