There is . . . nothing that keeps the heart young like sympathy, like giving oneself with enthusiasm to some worthy thing or cause.—Anonymous.

Good Luck Russell Pitchford, et al

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, that body elected officers to serve for the coming year. From the membership at large ten members were elected to serve as a board of directors, and from that group Russell Pitchford was elected president and Ward Johnson, newly elected city councilman, was made treasurer.

In the selection of the two men, together with the board of directors, the members of the Chamber of Commerce have chosen a representative group of business and professional men who have, from time to time, made it known that the best interests of Fulton are of primary importance to them. In President Pitchford they have an excellent leader and a good businessman.

The meeting was replete with items of business that bid well to bring about good publicity, good business, and excellent promotions for the city. On the agenda is a corn show, a livestock show and other projects that will bring outsiders into town to see for themselves that here we have a thriving community with some of the best folks on earth as residents.

We naturally will lend our every effort to the projects as they occur. Especially will we take part in the goodwill missions of local merchants to surrounding communities to make better relations with our neighboring friends. The value of such contacts can hardly be measured in dollars and cents and we are anxious to see the jaunts get started.

The board of directors has appointed a young lady to be on duty six days a week to look after Chamber business. Temporarily the offices of the Chamber of Commerce will be housed in the Fulton County News office and Miss Marian Maxfield will be secretary.

In the meantime let us wish the best of everything to Mr. Pitchford and Mr. Ward Johnson and the other members of the board, with our further good wish that 1948 will be a banner year for the Chamber of Commerce.

Business . . . 1948?

What is the business outlook for the new year? If a group of 28,200 executives surveyed by Fortune is correct, the boom will continue and it may get bigger. Nearly two-thirds of those replying said that.

By contrast, when a similar poll was conducted at the end of 1946, more than half of those answering expected a downturn in 1947. That downturn, as everyone now knows, didn't even start to materialize.

Commenting on the results of the last poll, Fortune observes that thoughtful readers "may find some grounds for alarm in the near unanimity with which business expects the indexes to go onward and upward. . . . Business is counting on a continuation of the great postwar inflation. . . . The price of that inflation is also clear. Management has 1948 down in its books as a year of increased living costs and there is growing fear of labor unrest and strikes."

About

Farming

From Washington

Second Session Begins

As the second session of the Eightieth Congress gets under way, there is speculation about the extent of new farm program legislation. Some feel Congress has bigger fish to fry (for example, European aid, which is all the more pressing in view of Communist gains). Others fear the fact this is election year may retard action of both parties on farm legislation that might affect the November vote.

Fairly safe bet is that attention will be given the more important programs expiring during 1948 but that really long-range matters will have to mark time.

Commodity Credit Charter.

One of the basic agricultural laws provides for Commodity Credit Corporation, the backbone of the farmer's loan program. CCC's charter expires June 30, 1948. It will go out of business unless a new one—a Federal charter—is secured. Farm groups are strong for continuing the agency, not only by granting it a Federal charter but want it made a permanent agency.

Two other laws that die Dec. 31, 1948, are the so-called Steagall Amendment and Stabilization Act. The former provides price supports for non-basic commodities and for lending and purchasing operations to bring prices of income of producers of other on basic commodities to fair parity relationship with basic commodities.

The latter (Stabilization Act) provides for mandatory loans on basic commodities for crops through 1948 at the rate of 50 per cent of parity (in the case of cotton, 92½ per cent), as of the beginning of the marketing year.

Payment Authority Ends.

New legislation also is needed to continue authority for the Secretary of Agriculture to administer conservation payment programs under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act. Present authorization ends this year.

Farm Bureau stands squarely back of these several programs and already has told Agriculture committees of both Houses that legislation containing them should be enacted this session.

Other Legislation

Other legislation in which farmers have a big stake includes a tax reduction proposal expected soon from the House Ways and Means committee. AFBF believes that now is not the time for any material cuts in income taxes because they would add to the inflationary pressure. However, the Federation has recommended that privileges extended married couples in community property states be extended to give all citizens equitable treatment. In addition, AFBF favors repeal of transportation and communication taxes.

Inflation Control

As for various suggestions put forward for controlled inflation, the Nation's largest farm organization holds that a positive program is needed to strike at the cause of the spiral rather than a return to rationing and price control.

Also, reciprocal trade agreements should be extended instead of being allowed to die June 30, 1948, as provided under the present Act. The Federation is clear, however, in asking that protective features, such as an escape clause, be maintained in enacting new legislation.

Roundup

No bill has yet been drafted in connection with taxation of co-ops, a subject on which the House Ways and Means committee held hearings in various parts of the country last year.

A long list of issues will confront the AFBF Board, which holds its first quarterly meeting of the new year in Washington, Jan. 26-28.

A STRANGE surprising gladness stirs my heart
At night when heaven's first lights, dim and far,
Swing in the dusk and each one suddenly
Becomes the silver wonder of a star,
Becomes a shining splendor on the hills,
Unfading, steadfast, calm and high and white.
Stars are so beautiful, so steeped in peace,
They rest me more than anything at night.

There is an ancient comfort in the stars—
I treasure them. "Lift up your eyes and see,"
"He calleth them by name—not one hath failed—"
Oh, often through His stars God comforts me.

Mrs. Patterson Reviews 'John Loves Mary' At Tuesday Meeting of Drama Department

Delightful and delicious are the words to use to describe the meeting of the Drama department of the Woman's Club held at the club rooms on Tuesday night.

Delightful is the way Mrs. J. H. Patterson reviewed the successful Broadway play "John Loves Mary" which has received rave notices from the critics not only as an enjoyable stage vehicle, but as a natural for Little Theatre projects. In well chosen dialogue, complete with gestures and facial expressions, Mrs. Patterson held the rapt and laughing attention of her audience. So well was the review presented that the listeners were in the same suspense as though viewing the play.

Delicious is the word for the pot luck supper dished up by the hostesses with the aid of the members at large. With barbecued chicken as the piece de resistance and a wide variety of accompanying dishes the group enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

A short business meeting was held prior to the "curtain call" of "John Loves Mary."

Hostesses for the evening were: Chairman, Mrs. Sterling Bennett, Mrs. R. C. Joyner, Mrs. Otis Bizzle, Mrs. Earl Collins, Mrs. C. H. McDaniels, Mrs. Clint Maxfield, Mrs. Rube McKnight, Mrs. Virgil Davis, Mrs. Clyde Fields, Mrs. Leon Hutchens and Mrs. Burin Rogers.

Mrs. L. E. Reneer of Center Town Ky., is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Brown, and family on College street.

The Garden Department of the Woman's Club met Friday, January 16, at the club home with 22 members attending.

Mrs. Daisy Terry, chairman, in her charming manner presided over the business session. Mrs. F. H. Riddle, secretary, read the minutes, called the roll and gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. John Earle and Mrs. Ira Little were nominated as a committee to interview the City Council in regard to repairing and cleaning the alley back of the Woman's Club building.

Mrs. J. D. Davis was program leader for the afternoon and presented one of the most interesting programs of the club year. She presented an article from the National Geographic Magazine "The World in Your Garden" by W. H. Camp. Illustrated with flower paintings by Elsie Hostelman, Mrs. Davis was assisted by Mrs. R. A. Fowlkes who gave the topic "From Medieval European Gardens." Mrs. Leon Browder whose topic was "Europe Contributed Flowers and Words." Mrs. R. M. Bellew gave the topic "The Mediterranean Region Has Many Bulbs" and "Other Mediterranean Species." Mrs. Sam Winston's topic was "European Meadows and Our Lawns," and Mrs. John Henson presented "In a Persian Garden."

The bride wore an attractive suit of pink wool gaberdine with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Miss LaJean Bynum, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a suit of grey gaberdine with accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Harold Clark of Water Valley served as best man.

Following the wedding an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a beautiful wedding cake surmounted with a miniature bride and groom. Arrangements of white carnations and glowing tapers in crystal holders added beauty to the scene.

Mr. McGough attended school at Water Valley and served two years in the army. At present he is employed at the Pure Milk company.

After a short wedding trip, the young couple will be at home at 107 Norman street.

FULTON MOTOR COURTS ADD BEAUTY TO TERRITORY

32 Units, 32 Baths Make-up Fulton Motor Courts

A View Of The Comfortable Rooms

By A News Reporter

Something new has been added to the scenery around Fulton, and as soon as the word gets around the Nation, folks will be beating a path to this neck of the woods for more than a look at the new creek.

They'll be looking for a good night's sleep in the peaceful surroundings at the Fulton Motor Courts. The courts, in the home stretch of completion, are perhaps the most modern in this area and offer keen competition to any similar project between the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico.

"The courts are the result of careful planning on the part of S. A. Elvert, president of the company, who has been a motor court man from 'way back.' As jealous as a hen over her brood is Mr. Elvert of the hospitable service he gives his customers. He not only is concerned over the absolute comfort he affords his guests but has added a little more to conventional slogans, when he says 'perfect rest with security.'"

"There are an awful lot of things that can happen to ones belongings at a motor court, but if it is within the realm of possibility, I'll see that the valuables of my guests are taken care of with the same security afforded by Scotland Yard," he said.

Located on Highways 51 and 45-W between Fulton and Union City the courts contain 32 units and 32 baths and what's more are electrically heated. No waiting around for a janitor to make a fire or turn on the gas jet, the place is a comfy as home within a few minutes after a guest registers.

No guest room in a private home is as handsomely outfitted as the interior of each unit. Simmons' metal upholstered furniture tastefully greets the eye upon entering the room and the walls are tinted in just the right shade for harmony. A Simmons innerspring mattress, with soft percale sheets and a chenille spread are adjuncts to the slogan "perfect rest."

The rooms are meticulously cleaned each day and with such careful attention they'll have that "new look" for an awfully long time. Those tile baths are somewhat awesome with their shiny appearance of cleanliness.

There's more spadework to be done on the grounds of the courts and we mean that literally, for a landscape artist is at present sketching designs for a drive-in parkway to complete the streamlined and yet pastoral appearance of the cottages.

Associated with Mr. Elvert in the administration of the business is T. J. Mays as vice-president and general manager and J. E. Hannephin as assistant manager.

SIMPLE FACTS OF MEAT PREPARATION LIFT HOMEMAKER TO 'EXPERT' STATUS

Simplicity in food preparation is still queen. Fancy cooking may win favor occasionally, but it's the cook who can prepare simple foods the best who is considered the expert in the long run.

Since meat is the food around which most meals are planned, Reuben Stages, home economist, suggests that each homemaker check herself to see that she is familiar with the basic methods of meat preparation. If each individual cut of meat is at its best when served, the cook is usually considered to be a good one. This is a target at which all homemakers might aim.

The primary law of meat cookery is that all cuts are cooked according to their tenderness. By this simple formula, all meats are made equally tender, for each cut possesses inherent tenderness when properly cooked.

Basically, meat is cooked by two different methods. These are dry heat and moist heat. The more tender cuts are cooked by dry heat, while those which have considered less tender are cooked by moist heat.

Roasts, steaks and lamb chops are the general cuts cooked by dry heat. Other cuts of meat, which have been made tender by the mechanical means of grinding, such as ground beef made into loaves, patties, steaks and meat balls, may also be cooked in this manner.

Dry heat methods of meat cookery include roasting, broiling, and panbroiling, a method of broiling which employs a frying pan. In these, as the name implies, no moisture is used. The cuts cooked by this method are tender enough to not require moisture.

Moist heat cookery, on the other hand, is for the less tender cuts, and those which must be very well cooked to develop their fullest flavor. These include pot-roasts, round steaks, flank steaks, pork and veal chops and many other cuts.

Methods used in moist heat cookery include braising, in which a small amount of liquid is used, and cooking in liquid which uses enough liquid to cover the meat as it cooks.

William Humphrey of Louisville spent the weekend with his wife, who is attending the Fluorescent Neon Engineering School in Louisville.

Mrs. W. M. Sherman, (nee Mary Whitehead) of New York City, is the guest of friends in Fulton.

PILOT OAK

Mrs. Mary Collins

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rowland were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Packett and Sue, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Rowland in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emerson.

David Casey moved to the school Friday, H. bought part of the building and when weather conditions are favorable it will be moved to his farm in East Pilot Oak.

John Yates and wife moved into their new home Tuesday.

Quite a bit of excitement happened at Ewing Rowland's residence, Tuesday morning, Ellen was drawing water for her washing. She carried a bucket of water in the house and left the cistern open. A goat jumped in the cistern and when she went for another bucket the goat was swimming round and round and bleating every breath. She stood there speechless. She hastened to her close neighbor, Mr. Edd Lamb who came with a ladder. They thought maybe it would climb out, but no it was to be frightened, so Mr. Lamb descended the ladder tied a rope around its neck and Ellen pulled it out. It was shivering with cold and frightened. Ellen dried it off and took it into the house leaving it in the house for awhile to get warm. Ellen tells me she won't leave the cistern open any more.

Mrs. Maude Lamb is convalescing after a very sick spell.

Mrs. Mary Collins received word Thursday morning of the death of her beloved aunt, Mrs. Bertie Wade. It brought back old times to me when we lived close to her and Uncle John and the children. Close enough to hear her call me when she wished to do some special kindness, like something good to eat or go somewhere for a drive. Seems like I can hear her voice calling now. She really lived a very beautiful life and I can truthfully say, she hath done what she could and will receive her great rewards in heaven. Dear children I will not forget you in your great grief of sorrow.

Mrs. Winnie Steele is about as well as usual.

The cold wave has hit us very hard. I've hardly been out of the house. Just a touch of cold keeping me shut in.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Lowry attended the burial of his aunt, Mrs. Bertie Wade at Fulton Saturday

Roundhouse
Round-Up
By Alice Clark

Well, well, folks you never know what smart people you have working around you unless they are lucky enough to get on a quiz program. We have two employees who have been very lucky in the past two weeks. They were lucky enough to get on a quiz program, however one of these men missed his question. If his comrades had left him alone instead of howling
"Franklin D. Roosevelt." And the the wire said you're right. You are when WENK called his home and asked him if he could name a great race horse which had died recently and of course he threw out his chest and answered "Man of War," and the man at the other end of the wire said—that's a military secret his reward of course.

Miss Betty Thomas has returned from Jackson, Tenn., where she has been visiting friends.

W. M. Blackstone was in Jackson, Tenn., attending the suggestion committee Monday.

G. A. Thomas was in Dyersburg, Tenn., working Tuesday.

L. Browder is getting along nicely at his home after being on the sick list for several weeks.

We are glad to hear that Engr.
H. W. Ruddle is getting along nicely after a several weeks illness.

I hear that a certain carman liked the show "Heartaches," so well that he's going around singing the song while working.

Car inspector, Lee Heary is on his vacation.

We are sorry to hear that Engine
Watchman Lee Weatherspoon isn't improving very fast at his home on Fates street. Lee is the colored fellow who has been here since 1902
so of course we miss Lee when he isn't here. This is the first time he has been off except when he takes his vacation in 17 years so you can see he doesn't work very regular. To Lee we say hurry and get well so you can come on back to work.

Mach. Hpr. P. A. Laine was going around singing "Miss You," but see that since Mach. T. F. Cusey has returned to work P. A. Laine is singing "I'll always be glad to take you back."

We welcome Douglas Smith and Willie Watson to our Illinois Central Family, also Dan S. Henry.

As the old year slips away, it ly takes the pages we have blurred and marred, with failures and mistakes. The brighter hopes and needless fears, are gone beyond recall and ours is once more the fair, clean page, the new year brings to all. We the employees of Fulton will have a clean safety
page when 1948 becomes the old year and 1949 rolls in as the new year. We will again hold the title of the safety railroad of the year. So lets all remember to be safety minded at all times.

The old fashioned ideas of right and wrong are always up to date.

I have just found out the meaning of Sewing Circle. A group that darns more husbands than socks
(Is that right girls?)

The more happiness we give away the more we have left (lets remember this)

It's alright to look ahead, but don't stand still too long doing it,
you might get hurt.

One day the wedding bells are in the air, the next day everything looks blue, and everybody is saying "poor Tommie." For instant he was telling me the other day a little story. It went like this: "I'm through with women; they cheat
and they die; they prey on us males

'til the day we die. They tease me torment us, and drive us to sin;
Boy; Who was that blonde that just went by and spok, to you?"

Well, folks lets don't forget the box supper Friday night, January 23, at 6:30 p. m. to be held in the YMBC room on Lake street. We will elect new officers for the club,
then we will play bingo, then draw
to see who the three lucky people are for the door prize. Lets all come on out.

proud and happy to make the following report to buyers and prospec-

Again in 1947, Chevrolet built and

Naturally, we as well as the Chev-

Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks;
and we are determined to do everything in our power to continue to deserve this preference in the future
as in the past.

We want to thank each and every person in this community for his friendship and goodwill for this organization. We solicit and appreciate your patronage. We are doing our level best to prove that, by filling orders for new Chevrolets just as promptly as we can—even under today's trying conditions—and we are deeply and doubly appreciative of the patience and understanding of all our customers who are awaiting deliveries
of new Chevrolets.

Needless to say, you buy wisely
when you buy the product of the world's largest producers of cars and trucks, for that is the way to maximum dollar value! Best assured that we'll fill your order for a new Chevrolet
just as soon as it is humanly possible to do so. Meanwhile, please let us help to keep your present car or truck in good running condition by bringing it to us for skilled service, now and at regular intervals.

"And We're All . . .

JUST AS warm AS CAN BE"

WITH AUTOMATIC CONTROL

Come bedtime, you just turn on the switch, and turn it off in the morning. The bedside control automatically maintains a relaxing warmth at the same even temperature all night—whether it thaws or freezes. Some even have dual controls so husband and wife can each select degree of warmth preferred.

Just imagine the comfort of climbing into a pre-warmed bed and then falling to sleep under one lightweight cover that keeps you as warm as you like, no matter what the thermometer does. The new, modern bed coverings assure you this gentle warmth without weight.
They're wonderful for anyone from tiny children to the aged.

Just plug into any outlet, switch on the automatic bedside control, and sleep relaxed. No tussling with a load of covers that won't let you rest. One electric covering is all you need for any bed, and they cost no more than the several you're now using. You have only one cover to buy, sleep under, make up, launder, and store.
