Develop The Dairy Industry

Last year the Fulton Chamber of Commerce set an example which a number of towns are adopting this year, especially along the line of promoting the dairy industry.

It was not long after S. S. Motley took up the secretary work of our local Chamber of Commerce that he saw the possibilities of developing the dairy industry in this vicinity. It was an industry that had been more or less neglected for the want of a leader, and since Mr. Motley left Fulton, many have expressed with general regret, that the work is not being vigorously pushed now.

There is a place for the cow in the agriculture of every country. Wherever the cow has taken her rightful place, and man has done his part, we find the highest type of farming; we find farmers living on their own farms, raising crops in rotation, which is the way nature intended us to farm.

We find on the farms, barns with mows and bins and silos—regular factories working the year round, getting the very most from the farm's crops and furnishing an income every week of the year. We find homes with conveniences. We find intelligent, thrifty, debt-free people with minds and hands alert from steady employment. We find a good citizenship, a good agriculture.

It Is a Fact —That a farmer is to make a success of the dairy business, he must constantly better his herd.

—That is, build up to greater production and weed out the unprofitable or boarder cow, and that is a fact. Mr. Motley persistently hammered into the heads of our farmers with telling effect. He pointed out that calf raising should be a part of the dairyman's business; he has the breeding stock, the feed and the equipment, and knowing the parentage of the calves, he need save only those from high producing dams. Yet, despite the fact that the evidence is so completely in favor of dairymen raising their heifer calves, hundreds of them defeat their own welfare by making no effort to raise even the best of their heifer calves.

Every authority that has ever discussed dairying as a business to be built up and made more profitable, has taken this position. This principle is at the foundation of the development of all our great dairy breeds and of all our great dairy herds. It is the only certain and economical system by which an average-producing herd can be built up into a high producing herd, and bring a real profit to its owner.

From the editor's viewpoint, we can see nothing better to develop than the dairy industry along with poultry and hogs, so let's take up the work where Mr. Motley left off and devote the best of our attention in assisting our county agent in developing the agriculture of this vicinity on well founded basis. If business men can help farmers to prosper; merchants will share in the prosperity.

Thousands and thousands of dollars are being paid out by the creamery stations now located here and every cow added to a herd means just that much more cash to circulate in business channels.

AL JOLSON IS STAR OF "THE JAZZ SINGER" Soon to Be Seen Locally

The announcement that Warner Bros. will bring their greatest motion picture success, "The Jazz Singer," starring Al Jolson, to the Orpheum Theatre for next Monday and Tuesday, is of prime importance. It is heralded as an epic of the screen and marks the debut of Al Jolson as a moving picture star.

Since its opening in New York at the Warner Theatre, where its success was instantaneous, it has established a record of capacity audiences at every performance. The story of "The Jazz Singer" is well known, and yet, under the direction of Alan Crosland, who has treated the story in the spirit in which it was conceived, there has been added a note of great beauty and pathos in the depiction of the rise of the son of the cantor who deserted his home to be a jazz singer, for it parallels the life story of Al Jolson himself. It is a picture which arouses its audiences to cheers.

LOWLANDS FLOODED EARLY SATURDAY MORNING

Business firms of Fulton subject to overflow were greatly disturbed early Saturday morning about 3:30 when awakened and told that Harris Fork Creek was out of its banks. After a heavy downpour practically all of Friday night, Fulton's famous streamlet went on a rampage, and while flooding all of the low lands adjacent, the business district, escaped damage. In South Fulton the water entered many dwellings without serious damage. The water was unusually high and covered a large area from a few inches to several feet deep. Graves county, adjoining Fulton county, suffered $300,000 damage by a storm which was not felt here Friday night.

BIG RISE AT HICKMAN

Upper Bottoms Beginning to Be Flooded in Section

The Mississippi River rose 11 inches at Hickman Monday night. With the stage at 40 feet at Cairo, the upper bottoms above Hickman are beginning to be flooded but the water now in sight will not be enough to cause any alarm unless there should be continued rains. The bottoms above Hickman are very low, in fact, 45 feet has to be reached on the Cairo gauge before it is considered flood stage, and 45 feet covers the upper bottom to good depth. Farming is well advanced in upper bottoms this year and this rise will damage part of the crops. The river at this time last year, however, was the highest stage ever known, being nearly 17 feet higher than it is now.

The Dorena levee has been closed and only the unprotected lowlands on the outside of the levee will be affected by this rise.

The petition lodged by his wife, Mrs. Vera Willingham, also a school teacher, asks for $75 monthly alimony, attachment of his property and a restraining order to prevent him molesting her or their four children.

Willingham was arrested a week ago in Carlisle County and taken to Mayfield to face the charge of wounding his father-in-law. He was released on bond.

STATE MUSIC CLUB MEET AT PADUCAH, MAY 2, 3

Paducah, Ky., April 18.—The Kentucky State Federation of Music clubs will hold its annual convention in Paducah on Wednesday and Thursday, May 2 and 3, at the Paducah Woman's club house on Kentucky avenue with the Matinee Music club acting as host to musicians from all over the state.

Brief reports of achievements of the various organizations of the state and musical programs will be included in the two day sessions, all of which will be held at the Woman's club house.

The opening number scheduled for Tuesday evening, May 1, is the Students Contest. Simultaneous with the holding of the contests, the semi-annual meeting of the Board will be held in the children's room at the Carnegie library. Every state officer and chairman of standing committees is expected to attend this meeting.

May 2 has been designated as Junior Day. After the registration of delegates, which begins at 9:30 o'clock, a Junior conference will be held, led by Mrs. L. R. Dingus, of Lexington, a pioneer in Junior work. Assisting her will be Miss Harriet Meador, Extension Director and Miss Eudora Smith, director in Frankfort. Friendship hour will be from 10 a. m. to 11, and badges will be distributed.

The formal opening of the convention will consume the hour from 11 until 12:30 o'clock. The annual Inspiration luncheon will have with the announcements of winning contestants. Mrs. G. W. Pickles, honorary president, will preside as toastmaster. At 2:30 the convention body will reassemble and Mr. Walter D. Smith, guest teacher of Chicago Musical College, will speak on "Child Life in Music Study." Mr. Smith, a student of Percy Grainger, comes to the convention with an earnest desire to present his message impartially with thought only of the child's parent's and teacher's obligation.

An address "Music a Necessary Part of Education," by Prof. Jay W. Fay, director of music of Louisville Public Schools, will be made at this time. At 4:30 o'clock the winning contestants will furnish the Convention with the triumph of their labors. Presentation of prizes will take place at the close of the recital.

Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, Thomas Fletcher, tenor, will present the program. Thursday the third will be shown as Senior Day and will be opened with a church music conference led by Mrs. Alan Trigg, chairman of Ecclesiastical music with Mrs. Henry M. Pett assisting.

Assembling the second day, the convention promises constructive and worthwhile sessions.

"TWO ARABIAN KNIGHTS" AT ORPHEUM THEATRE NEXT MON. & TUES.

"Two Arabian Knights," with William Boyd, Mary Astor and Louis Wolheim, in a post-war comedy film, will be the feature at the Orpheum theatre next Monday and Tuesday. Directed by Lewis Milestone, from Donald McGibney's McClure Magazine story, the film was produced under supervision of John W. Considine, Jr.

Telling of the adventures of Private W. Dainierfield Phelps and Sergeant Peter McGaffney following their escape from a prison camp to Arabia, "Two Arabian Knights," thumbs its nose at the serious spectacle of war. Its screen play was written by James T. O'Donohue, scenarist of the film, "What Price Glory," and Wallace Smith.

One of the principal players was the original "Captain Flagg," of the Lawrence Stallings-Maxwell Anderson stage play, "What Price Glory?" Boyd was the star of "The Volga Boatman," and Mary Astor was leading lady for Douglas Fairbanks in "Don Q," and for John Barrymore in "Beau Brummel."

Where the war ends, the story of "Two Arabian Knights" begins. In no sense derived from Omar Khayyam's tales, the title is explained by the fact that the American buck private and top sergeant are knighted by an Emir in Arabia for no good reason. The private is less concerned with a knight-hood than with the Emir's daughter, Anis Bin Adham, who is really Mary Astor. It is said that "Two Arabian Knights" employs divers avenues of laughter, ranging from the hysteria-arousing sequences of the doughboys' escape thru electrified barbed wire, surrounding a prison camp, to the spectacle of Louis Wolheim in his red flannels.

Notice to Chicken Owners

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday Bible Institute of Chicago,
©, 1925, Western Newspaper Union)

Lesson for April 29

THE COST OF DISCIPLESHIP

LESSON TEXT—Mark 10:17-27; 12:41-44.

GOLDEN TEXT—Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Loving Jesus Best of All.

JESUS TOPIC—Following Jesus First.

EXPLANATORY TOPIC—IMMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Supreme Choice.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Path of Riches.

1. The Rich Young Ruler (10:17-27).

1. His question.

"What shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?" This young man was in earnest. He came running and kneeling to Jesus. This question reveals a void in his heart. He was a young man with a lovable character.

"Jesus beholding him, loved him." He was moral, honest, earnest and courageous, but had a defective theology.

He thought that eternal life could be obtained by good works. Though he claimed to have kept the law, he was conscious of lacking something. He was willing to do something to fill up that which was lacking, therefore he came to Jesus to make inquiry as to that lack.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 18, 19).

He knew the young man's heart and put his finger on the weak spot in his life. Jesus reiterated the commandments. The young man averred that he had all his life kept these commandments, but when it came to parting with his possessions in order to help his neighbor he parted with the Lord, going away sorrowful.

3. Lacking one thing and yet lost (vv. 21, 22).

When the Lord pointed out to him that the defect in his life was the love of money, he was unwilling to pay the price. When the time came in his life to choose between eternal life and riches he chose wealth and parted company with Christ.

4. The peril of riches (vv. 23-27).

Jesus said, "How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God." When He discerned the astonishment of the disciples He answered again and said, "How hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God. It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

The difficulty does not lie in the fact that a man possesses riches, for he may possess riches and still be an heir of the kingdom. Wealth is a mighty power. In itself it is good. It will provide bread for the widow and orphan, amelioration for the suffering, and send the gospel of Christ to the ends of the earth. The peril of riches lies in trusting in them. However, the step from possession of riches to trusting in them is a very short one. The tendency of growing wealth is to destroy the noble life of the soul. So long as a man possesses riches he is safe, but as soon as riches possess the man he is in deadly peril.

II. The Widow's Mite (Mark 12:41-44).

Jesus had spent a strenuous day and was now quietly watching the surging throng. Observe:

1. Jesus sitting over against the treasury (v. 41). The treasury was the place where the worshippers deposited their tithes and offerings. Jesus sat where He could see them drop their money into the chests. He saw the poor casting into the treasury their small coins and He also saw the rich bringing larger coins. It is a solemn truth that Jesus' eye always beholds the gifts of the people. We may be able to conceal them from the people, but we cannot conceal them from His eye.

2. A certain poor widow threw into the treasury two mites (v. 42).

The mite was the smallest copper coin made. The mite was worth about one-eighth of a cent, therefore her offering was one-fourth of a cent in value.

3. Jesus said unto His disciples, "Verily I say unto you that this poor widow hath cast more in than all they which have cast into the treasury" (v. 43). The Lord estimates gifts by the motive of the heart, not by their amount.

4. Gifts are measured by what the giver has left, not by what was given (v. 44). This widow cast into the treasury all that she had, even all her living. The rich gave of their abundance. Though their gifts were much more than that of the poor widow, yet they had an abundance left.

This woman's influence goes on. Many devoted Christians have followed her example and have given their all.

On God's Presence

Let us build our cottage so that every window may look out on the mighty Alps of God's presence; and that we may live, and move and have our being, beneath the constant impression, "Lo, God is here."—F. B. Meyer.

TOBACCO SUIT IS SET FOR APRIL 30 Judge Dawson Denies Intervening Petition of Brann and Others

Louisville, April 26.—Hearing on a motion for a receiver for the Dark Tobacco Growers' Cooperative association was set for April 30 in the United States district court by Judge Charles I. Dawson today following dismissal of a plea for an intervening petition filed by counsel for Charles Brann and others, members of the association seeking the receivership.

W. T. Fowler, Lexington, Tenn., attorneys for the plaintiffs, announced that an amended petition would be filed Tuesday setting out the fact that the plaintiffs delivered their 1926 crops to the association on the old five-year contract.

In answer to the statements made by the plaintiffs' counsel that there still remained gross mismanagement in the affairs of the association, Lieut. Gov. James Breathitt, Jr., representing the association, said, "Mr. Fowler had been prejudiced against the board of directors of the organization through street corner gossip."

Mr. Breathitt denied charges of mismanagement on the part of the association and said the organization would be ready to present its case next Monday.

Proof on a motion for a receiver for the 1922, 1923, 1924 and 1925 crops will be taken by attorneys Thursday afternoon, it was announced.

Mr. Fowler charged that directors of the association had been extravagant with funds belonging to the members and alleged that they had bought old warehouse properties at high prices with the result that members would lose about $2,000,000. He said the association may have used part of the 1922, 1923 and 1924 crops to finance the 1926 crop.

In reply to the statement Judge Dawson said relative to using of the 1922, 1923 and 1924 crops to finance the 1926 crops, if the "association had used any of those funds to finance 1926 crops I will throw the association into the hands of a receiver, because it would have been violating the confidence of the court."

GRAVES COUNTY LOSS WILL TOTAL $300,000

Mayfield, Ky., April 23.—Graves county is digging out checking up today on the worst tornado loss ever suffered in the county and a check-up reveals that wind and water damage will probably total nearly $300,000.

The tornado which struck the north and west portions of the county early Saturday morning blew down more than 100 tobacco and stock barns, churches and residences and the rain that assumed cloud-burst proportions did thousands of dollars damage to crops and orchards.

More than 60 fine Jersey cows were killed and other valuable live stock perished. In the east part of the county farmers were able to reach the city today for the first time because of the high waters of Mayfield Creek. Thousands of acres of land where crops were growing were inundated by the flood.

Farmers throughout north and west Graves county will have to build new tobacco barns to house this crop next fall, as practically every one of these barns were either blown down or badly damaged. One of the remarkable features of the wind-storm was that only one person, a farmer near Viola, was injured. The injuries to this man, Rome Edwards, were slight and he was able to be out today.

FULTON STREETS BEING SURVEYED

Surveys are being made by the Black & Veatch Co., of Kansas City, of the streets of Fulton to be built shortly, which mean that practically all of the residential streets will be built. Petitions have been presented to the city council requesting that these streets be built, and the firm of engineers have been employed to make all of the surveys.

Concrete Roads Stand Up Under Punishment

No other pavement withstands the attacks of the elements and the pounding of traffic like Concrete.

Rain, wind, heat and cold do not affect it. The rigid, always even surface makes driving easy and safe all the year. And Concrete highway pavement can be built to carry the heaviest traffic indefinitely, practically without repairs.

In many states a steadily increasing mileage of Concrete Road is being built. These states have learned through experience that no other road performs like Concrete.

Railroad News

More than 500 manufacturing plants were established in 1927 in the principal cities of the fourteen states in which the Illinois Central System operates. These new plants employ approximately 35,000 wage earners.

The principal railroads of the United States spent $750,000,000 last year for permanent improvements to their properties. This is equivalent to $6.30 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The Illinois Central System has about 22,000 stockholders and 60,000 employees. President L. A. Downs recently pointed out that with their families they number one-third of a million persons, which is more than the combined population of Wyoming and Nevada.

The two leading cotton-producing counties in the United States are on the Illinois Central System in northwestern Mississippi. In 1925 these two counties—Bolivar and Sunflower—produced 367,000 bales of cotton.

Last year the Illinois Central System paid $12,197,000 in federal, state and local taxes. If this entire sum had been applied to education, it would have defrayed the entire year's cost of educating 154,000 children in public schools.

Ships flying the flags of seventeen nations used the port of New Orleans in one recent month. There were 273 ocean vessels in port during that month, of which 137 were American, 38 Norwegian, 34 Honduran, 13 British and 8 Dutch. The remaining 43 flew the flags of Italy, Nicaragua, Denmark, Sweden, Panama, Cuba, Brazil, Belgium, Mexico and Japan.

The Illinois Central System ranks first among the railroads of the United States in the transportation of oats. It is the only railroad that traverses both of the leading oat regions of the country—eastern Illinois and northwestern Iowa.

The Illinois Central System operates 535 electric suburban trains each week day between downtown Chicago and some fifty outlying communities, carrying an average of 115,000 commuters daily. Suburban patronage on the Illinois Central at Chicago has increased rapidly since the service was electrified two years ago.

If you'd have it lead the rest,
Help it grow.
When there's anything to do,
Let the fellows count on you—
You'll feel bully when it's thru,
Don't you know.

If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your style;
Throw bouquets instead of

For a while,
Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost.
Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.

When a stranger from afar
Comes along,
Tell him who and what you are

Tell the truth, for that's enough;

EARLY DECISIONS ARE PROFITABLE

The young people in Fulton county who are numbered among the high school Seniors and who will receive their diplomas soon, and not take the chance that so many do of pushing the responsibility off onto the college to decide for them what their life's vocation will be.

College education will not help the boys or girls who will not use their own initiative to develop a particular field of interest.

A great many young people today go to college, not because they want to learn, but for other reasons. Some want to avoid real work and have a good time. Many of them forget the things that were taught them in the common schools, and they forget because they were not interested.

Thomas A. Edison urges all young people before they reach their 20th birthday anniversary to discover something that they would like to do. This great inventor made his decision when he was 15 years of age, and is still doing it in his 82nd years. He declares that any person 20 years of age, who does not know what to do, confesses that he is wasting time.

The world today is filled with interesting things to do that the longest human life could not exhaust more than a small fraction of them.

MOVING DAY, MAY 19

Most of the legislators in Congress are looking forward to May 19 as moving day—the date when Congress will close up shop.

The members of both branches are getting restless, which is a condition of the mind and body that seems to exist about every four years—when a presidential election nears and a national convention is close at hand.

Democrats and Republicans are anxious to get home as soon as possible. Many of these congressmen have fences at home that need some attention, as practically all of them are out for re-election.

It is difficult to estimate how many senators will be present at the national conventions, but whether they are planning to be on hand, it is a fact that the two great dramas are foremost in the vision of most of them, and law-making problems are becoming drudgery. The color, snap and vigor of the quadrennial national gatherings of party chieftains, make an almost irresistible appeal. Hence, the growing desire to get away from Washington and take up the more "serious" problems at large.

WHEN BORROWING IS GOOD

Reading good books is a commendable trait in any person. Borrowing them is equally commendable when you are not in position to buy, provided you are as prompt in returning as you are in borrowing.

But many people are excellent borrowers and damnable returners. They borrow everything and return nothing, until in time they become known as chronics and are shunned as the hornet or the bumblebee.

Any right-minded citizen would be only too willing to disseminate knowledge and add to the pleasure of his brothers if he could only feel that his book would find its way back to his own shelves without his having to resort to a constable and a search warrant.

Most "borrowing pests" really do not realize that they are such, and would indignantly and sincerely protest any such accusation if made to them. And yet their persistent forgetfulness in returning borrowed articles hangs the odious title of "pest" upon them so tightly it is almost impossible to throw it off.

If you borrow today and return tomorrow, you will always be able to borrow again the next day.

OAKLAND OPENS TEST TRACK AT FACTORY DOORS

Pontiac and Oakland Sixes Driven Around Half-Mile Loop After Leaving Assembly Lines

A loop of cinder road nearly one-half mile long and banked at the turns has been constructed by the Oakland Motor Car Company as a private factory test track over which Oakland and Pontiac Sixes are run immediately after leaving the assembly lines.

The loop extends past the Pontiac Six assembly and the new Oakland All-American Six assembly building which is to start operation April 2. Exits from the two assembly buildings open directly upon the test track.

A squad of 20 test drivers has been organized to pilot both Oakland and Pontiac Sixes around the loop. After being given a thorough road test, the cars are returned to their respective departments where they are rechecked. If pronounced perfect, they are driven to the shipping department. Should any adjustment be found necessary after a car has been tested, it is placed back on the line, the adjustment is made, and the road test and inspection are repeated.

The test track is far from being a boulevard. It crosses and recrosses the rails of the Oakland Motor Car Company's big railroad yard and subjects the cars to a rigorous test of performance and riding comfort.

The installation of the private track is in line with the recent announcement by Gordon Lefebvre, vice president in charge of operations, that he intends to provide the Oakland-Pontiac dealer organization with cars that require a minimum amount of inspection and adjustment before delivery to purchasers.

The private test track, of course, does not affect in any way, the Oakland Motor Car Company's practice of maintaining a fleet of major test cars in constant operation at the General Motors Proving Ground. These cars are run at high speed for thousands of miles and then "torn down" for microscopic inspection by Oakland Motor Car Company engineers.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

A negro who had achieved some success in the handling of mules was asked how he managed the balky creatures. He said:

"Well, suh, when I see plowin' on' the mule stops, Ah jest picks up some soil an' puts it in his mouth to taste. Den he goes right along."

"What makes you think that affects him?" continued the questioner. "I snah don't know," was the reply, "but I expect it makes him forget what he was thinkin' about."

The Fire Test

Insurance Agent (gloomily)—Madam, you should get your husband to take out a life insurance policy.

Young Wife—But he has a policy against fire.

Insurance Agent (still more gloomily)—But fire insurance wouldn't be of any help if he passed away.

Young Wife (anxiously)—Not even if I had him cremated?

ON HIS ACCOUNT

"So, you care nothing for your husband?"

"No, nothing."

"And yet you're living on his account, I'm sure."

She Was a Good
Actress

By H. IRVING KING

THERE was a touch of the theatrical about her as she passed with a swinging gait down the lobby of the hotel. It was a hotel on a Florida beach; a moderate-priced, retiring sort of place, just suited to its patrons who came year after year.

Of course, every year there were a few new faces. This season the new faces were those of Rosalie Maltravers and Charles Burdick. Rosalie was the girl with the theatrical touch about her and Charles was the young man who sat watching her intently as she strode through the hotel lobby.

It was whispered about that she was a celebrated actress down there in cognito, just for rest.

As for Charles Burdick his manner and clothes were so perfect that it had been decided that he was a young man of "wealth and fashion" taking a respite from the trivialities and gayeties of society. Charles had arrived at the hotel the day before. Rosalie had been there a week. Rosalie and Charles became acquainted without delay.

On the third day after the arrival of the perfectly equipped and perfectly mannered Mr. Burdick he and the celebrated actress in cognito sat evening on the veranda of the hotel looking out over the moonlit waters.

"Somehow, do you know, Miss Maltravers," said Charles, "your face seems strangely familiar to me. Now where could I have had the pleasure of seeing you before?"

Rosalie gave a little gasp and replied, "Oh dear. It's no use for me to try and hide away—and just rest. People will recognize me. I may as well admit that. I am merely an actress, seeking by quiet retirement in this delightful and obscure place to recover from the nervous strain caused by my exacting work."

"Acting must be hard work," replied Charles. "No wonder so many actors and actresses suffer from nervous breakdowns. May I go so far as to ask your stage name, Miss Maltravers?"

"Ah," laughed Rosalie, "that I may not—or will not—tell you. It would be all over the hotel in half an hour and I should have no peace. And may I add that you yourself, Mr. Burdick, appear to be somewhat of a mystery according to the gossip of the hotel? Tell me your real name."

"Really," replied Charles, "I must have my little secrets as well as your self. I, too, seek for peace and privacy."

After that Charles and Rosalie were together so much that everybody at the resort considered the affair as settled. The millionaire was going to marry the actress. Wasn't it delightful?

Never, never had the guests at the little hotel enjoyed their sojourn there so much. They wrote off reams of letters to their friends in the North about it. The love making of Rosalie and Charles progressed rapidly, but after that first talk of theirs they let the mystery of their real identities stand as it was—seemed to have forgotten that there was any mystery. Sometimes Rosalie would have a moody spell; sit silent, evidently thinking deeply and letting Charles do all the talking.

One evening as they sat in the hotel garden, the moon shining on the sea and a gentle wind waving the Spanish moss up the live oak trees, Rosalie after one of these fits of meditation said, "Charles, I am almost tempted to tell you my real name."

"You need no, dearest," replied Charles, "unless you want to. It makes no difference. It is you that I care about. You are all the world to me. You know it. Now, then, will you marry me?"

Rosalie turned her head aside and said softly, "What would your wealthy family say to your marrying an actress?"

"Nonsense," answered Charles. "Again I ask, will you marry me?"

"When I have told you who I am if you still want me, I will," said she. "Don't bother," replied Charles. "I know who you are. You are that demure little stenographer who works for Hayden and Blankford in the Magnum building and are down here taking a vacation the first in years."

"I have often seen you in the elevator or passed you in the hall, but you never would look at me until I changed to run across you here."

"You horrid thing," sobbed Rosalie. "Why didn't you tell me you knew me at once and not let me make a fool of myself posing as an actress. But you needn't think yourself so smart. You are that young lawyer who has an office on the top floor and I have known you all along. But I didn't imagine that you knew me. And, oh, I always did so long to be an actress."

"You are a perfect actress, darling," replied Charles soothingly. "But, as you remarked when we first met down here, good acting is a great strain on the nervous system. What say, Miss Ruth Mathews—shall we go back to New York and get married? Business is pretty good with me; you won't have to steno any more."

Of course, Ruth, alias Rosalie, eventually said "Yes." But at the same time she told Charles that she doubted if she ever could really forgive him for the way he had deceived her in Florida.

FOOD LIKE YOU GET AT HOME

This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home. Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat.

Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals.

The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.

HICKMAN BANK MERGER

Combined Deposits Total $600,000; Capital, Surplus, $75,000

Hickman, Ky., April 23.—A business deal of general interest to the people of Hickman and this section took place this morning in the merger of the New Farmers & Merchants Bank and the Hickman Bank & Trust Company, two of the oldest banks in Western Kentucky.

The merger will operate under the name of the Hickman Bank & Trust Company and will continue in the latter's building. The capital, surplus and undivided profits of the new bank are $75,000 and the combined deposits are $600,000. H. L. Amborg will continue as president of the new bank, with C. B. Travis, who has been active vice president of the other bank, to continue in that capacity with the merger, and John Pyle to remain, as heretofore, cashier. Directors will be announced later.

H. H. Shanks of Louisville, deputy state bank commissioner, is here and attended to the merger of the two banks. The Hickman Bank and Trust Company was established as the Hickman Bank in 1861.

Seventeen years ago when the 50-year charter expired it was reorganized as the Hickman Bank & Trust Company. The Farmers & Merchants Bank was established 30 years ago, and four years ago changed the name to the New Farmers & Merchant.

A FEW LOOSE FEATHERS

By J. T. Watkins

Applications are still coming in for Junior Membership eggs. It is not too late to join.

We have arranged with the extension Bureau of the L. C. R. R. Co. for one of their field men to give two lectures each day at the poultry house, during the fair. He will also demonstrate vaccination of poultry. This will be an added feature this year.

Let the slogan for 1928 be: Show more birds at more shows.

From May 1st to 7th has been designated as National Egg Week. A proclamation has been issued by Harry R. Lewis, President National Poultry Council asking every person connected with the poultry industry to "Preach the Gospel."

Keep lice away from May chicks and they will do as well as those hatched sooner.

The average Canadian eats 337 eggs every year, while the average United States citizen eats only 207 eggs during the year. Why the difference?

If the American egg consumption was raised to the Canadian standard, 1,320,000,000 more dozens of eggs (a 65 per cent increase) would be consumed in the United States each year. Wouldn't that give a dandy boost to egg prices?

Health authorities tell us that we should eat at least three eggs every day. This is part of the gospel that will be preached over the country beginning May 1st.

Prospects look good for over 100 birds entered from several breeds this fall. The only way to get a good serviceable poultry house at the fair grounds is to enter so many birds there will not be room for the show.

It costs one cent more per chick to feed Purina Poultry Chows for the first six weeks than to feed uncertain unbalanced mixtures. Of the chicks fed average mixtures 50% die. Purina saves 90%.
