KUSDEN GIVES FACTS

These days our national thinking is done in various ways. There are those who, because this nation has war machines, is nothing but a matter of assembly lines as swiftly as have autocrats, who do not believe that we can produce automobiles. There are others, more pessimistic, who do not believe that we can ever equal the best planes in the world, and there are others who, carelessly and indifferently, believe that vast numbers of planes have already been built and are ready for service...Somewhere between all these theories is the exact truth.

The nation is indebted to William S. Knudsen, chief of the National Defense Council, for an accurate picture of what has been done and an accurate picture of what is to be done in this automobile industry...Vernon Owen has gone to Danville to reenter Centre College...

Knudsen recently made a tour of inspection of the various plane manufacturing plants and his report to the American public is a hopeful one. It does not deal in vague and shadowy hopes—It deals with what has actually been done, of what is being done toward hope for future accomplishments. Actual work done to date in production of planes by the various plants. The story of what has been done by the various plants...It was Mr. Knudsen who had little romance about him...

The automobile industry has come from its cradle beginnings to its present outstanding state. He knows what is necessary to reach mass production, and really to meet the end of the season...Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Milligan have returned from a month's visit to Sheffield...

Mildred and Henry Stevenson are improving after several days illness at the home of their parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stevenson, Pearl Village...

Bulldogs To Meet First Foe at Martin Tonight

Tonight at 12:10 on the University of Tennessee Junior College Stage, the Fulton Bulldogs, coached by Lionel Gills, will meet their first opponents of the 1949 season, when they play Coach Raymond's1111 River High. The Bulldogs, under the guidance of new coaching material, represented by Milton "Tidie" Crawford and former Sugar Williams, have good shape following two weeks of strenuous workouts.

When the Bulldogs take the field, Milton Crawford will start his first game as quarterback on a long eleven. For the past two years he has stood on the outer margins and only this fall has he been shifted to the backfield. Dan McKenzie, who was pressed for center last fall season, will fill this post in the starting lineup tonight. Baby Merrowman, a member of the regular reserve, loses last season, he will play as a right tackle. Dave, the powder from Murfreesboro, will start his position on the right end.

Coach Gills put his players through a light workout yesterday afternoon and the new five were for the first time. The original library five was lined up and practiced with the Blue and White tonight.

Coach Gills' probable starting lineup for tonight's game will be as follows:

bottles must be returned

The dairymen of Fulton are confronted with a shortage of bottles and are asking that all customers make arrangements to return bottles as soon as possible. If bottles are not returned, it means a loss to all dairymen, and if this loss continues it will make an increase in the price of milk inevitable. All milk customers are urged to return these bottles in order to prevent this increase.

We're Proud of Our Heritage!

In the days when our forefathers blazed the trail to this great democracy, flour milling played an important part in every community. Flour mills did more than feed America; they helped develop her great spirit. The old mill was looked upon as an asset to the community—the "honest old miller" a highly revered citizen.

Yes, we're proud of our heritage—as Americans and as a part of the vast industry that dates back more than 4,000 years. Even in this modern age we hold to some of the traditions of the "honest old miller," always making pleasant to more than the privileges to serve a community wherein we now and end.
