FULTON COUNTY FAIR BETTER THAN EVER

Preparations are now well advanced to make the Fulton County Fair a success. The opening day is Tuesday, Aug. 28.

The efficient way the fair and coronation will be handled has been greatly improved. A new feature this year will be the mounted horse exhibit, which has been added to the competition.

Street Program Being Pushed.

The custom and tradition of the Fulton County Fair were well maintained at the opening of the fair Tuesday. The opening day program is always well attended, and this year was no exception.

The weather was favorable and the fairgrounds were crowded with visitors, who were joined by many others who had come to see the exhibits and enjoy the various attractions.

The fair was well-attended and many people visited the various stands and exhibits. The weather was pleasant and the fairgrounds were clean and well-maintained.

The fair is a popular event in the community and attracts many visitors from surrounding areas. The various stands and exhibits were well-received by the visitors, who had a variety of options to choose from.

The fair featured a wide range of exhibits, including livestock, agriculture, and various crafts and hobbies. The fair also featured a variety of entertainment options, such as rides, games, and live music performances.

Farmer Notes
By H. A. McPherson, County Agent

In putting out turnips and oranges plants at least 400 pounds of a good high grade fertilizer per acre will be much better. One and half tons fertilizer will produce as much as two acres of fertile soil, so why work less acreage when one will make as much?
If you use fertilizer on your alfalfa, it should be set from 10 to 12 days before planting.

See Beans
Too much cannot be said in favor of a good hard seed grain corn, and while you are making an effort to increase your feed, do not forget the soy bean. Laredo alfalfa, and the quality of hay is exceptionally good. With the expense in the number of short horns, I think a few acres of Laredo cows will raise a fair yield. If you can find the Illinois
bean, be sure and get a few for your boys and cattle.
They will eventually become better and more profitable. If you expect to grow it, it will make as good a yield and require the pods all winter, and the seed is more valuable.

Sorghum
While corn is not exactly a good quality of hay, yet it is a very important crop, and the price of corn will help to keep the grass growing and all feed possible and sell at a higher price.

Just as a man is judged in a business way by the banking connection he makes, so choose wisely and so is he judged in a personal way with a good reliable institution.

This bank teaches you thrift once it is begun. To become a good habit or a bad habit. Practicing, whether it be a good habit or a bad habit.

The season for planting crops which will furnish next winter's feed is at hand. There are seven Practices which it's to:

1. Feeding cows according to
2. Growing and feeding good

The Milwaukee Potato Co.

Growing and feeding good pastures.

A good permanent pasture should be fed for each 2 or 3 acres of dairy land. A mixture of grass and clover of good quality has a greater value than almost any other material of feeding. The grass in a riding pasture is the best stock feed. The clover is necessary as a legume or to prevent the growth of grass.

The farmer desires a permanent pasture to produce a gallon of milk for 200 lbs. of either brand shorts, or 200 lbs. of oats. One pound of the above mixture will feed cows 200 lbs. of either brand shorts.

Cultivate the Sweet Potato

A potato bed should be covered with 4 or 5 inches of soil and then cultivated by hoeing to the depth of 2 or 3 inches. The potatoes can be dug when the tops are wilted and the underground parts are still green and hard. The potatoes should be dug before the fall winds and rains can damage them. The potatoes can be dug for market at any time during the season when the tops are green and hard. They can also be dug for market after the first hard winter weather.
