Trade With Your Home Industries and Make Fulton a Better Town

FULTON ADVERTISER

Vol. 4 No. 31

FULTON, KY., JUNE 22, 1928

R. S. Williams, Publisher

Fulton Has Something to Sell

The purpose of advertising is to sell something. When an individual has something to sell, the first thing he does is to sell it to himself. The same is true of a community. The citizens of Fulton and Fulton county, through the Chamber of Commerce have something to sell in the efforts that are being made to attract new capital, industries, commercial and agricultural pursuits, and therefore every individual interested in the civic and industrial advancement of this locality should first be so thoroughly convinced of its advantages that nothing will make him let go of the idea. Then we are ready to enter into the activities of a campaign with all the confidence that is needed to make it a success.

The advertising of towns and cities changes to meet the demands of customers who are represented in the manufacturers, wholesalers, tourists and homeseekers on the lookout for a more advantageous place in which to live or engage in business. Instead of boastfully boosting a city there have come into being well planned, informative advertising campaigns based upon the real advantages that newcomers seek. Just as the manufacturer of any commodity investigates the markets for his possible customers, chambers of commerce see what they have to sell and then search out the logical customers for their communities. It may be a certain type of desirable home owner, a needed commercial pursuit, an industry needing cheaper power and better shipping facilities that is in mind; these are told why and how the community can be of service to them.

All this is leading up to the fact that there are in Fulton county certain distinct advantages that are worthy of the serious consideration of manufacturers, business men and homeseekers who are contemplating a location in a busy section, and if the Fulton Chamber of Commerce can be of any service in aiding with location problems, the facilities of that organization are at the command of all interested people.

There are unmistakable indications of progress in Fulton and in all sections of Fulton county. Foremost among these perhaps is the activity during the past ten years in building a good school system for public education. Each year enlarged public school opportunities are offered the boys and girls through state, county and local administration. Manufacturing has prospered under the favorable labor conditions that prevail. The population has steadily increased. Bank deposits and resources have gained in a most satisfactory way. An unusual interest is being manifested among the farmers in diversified and intensified agriculture, and general trade conditions are good. These facts are right now interesting people in many lines of endeavor.

Fulton's ideal location and excellent transportation facilities are not only attractive for various industries, but we want many more farmers to come to this section and can assure them not only a hearty welcome but unusual opportunities to make money. We have the cheap land, the soil, the climate, the water, the law-abiding, good neighbors, schools, churches, good roads, transportation facilities and the best markets in the world close by for the purchase of all kinds of agricultural and horticultural products, for poultry, dairy products, livestock, etc. If you are dissatisfied with your present environment, correspond with the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, with the view of locating here, and you will receive cordial attention. Or better still, visit us and look the field over for yourself.

Dairy Meeting

Chamber of Commerce
Saturday, 10 A. M.
June 23.

As you probably know the banks of Fulton have agreed to put up enough money for the purchase of from 30 to 50 Bred Registered Jersey heifers or cows to be distributed with boys and girls wishing to join the Jersey Calf Club. The rate of interest will be low and the club members will be given from 12 to 18 months to pay for the calves.

With the rapid dairy development of Fulton county, and the ideal conditions surrounding this phase of agriculture I believe the Calf Club work is one of the most important things that can be fostered at this time.

This meeting is called for the purpose of having all the boys and girls as well as their parents present as we want to explain the calf club work and make arrangements for purchasing the calves, and I wish to urge all who are interested in this work to attend this important meeting. We also want all farmers who are interested in purchasing good grade or Registered cows and bulls to attend this meeting.

Just as soon as plans are completed for this work a trip will be made to purchase the calves, cows and bulls, and we would like to have a representative bunch of farmers and business people to take the trip and help select the cattle.

Now tell everyone whom you think would be interested in this work to attend the meeting. We are expecting several hundred.

Yours truly,
H. A. McPherson,
County Agent

"Douglas Fairbanks as The Gaucho"

Due at Orpheum Theatre
Monday For 2 Days

Eulogizing a day when Gauchos bold rode the boundless pampas and the law of might made right, Douglas Fairbanks comes forth in his thrilling new United Artist production. A more colorful romance than this South American story, with its majestic scenery, its tense rivalries and conquests, could scarcely be conceived. Again, Fairbanks, actor-producer, brings to his world audience a screen narrative destined to rank with the epics of all time.

The star has the role of a bandit chief, the leader of a horde of Gaucho riders who cross the mountains and occupy a stately shrine city whose wealth is the prey of the cruel usurper of the country. A madcap mountain lass (Lupe Velez), thrilled by the notoriety of the Gaucho chief, joins him enroute. News of the outlaw's presence reaches the usurper (Gustav von Seyffertitz), who puts a price upon his head.

Miss Houston Entertains

Smith Is Popular In Kentucky

Last week the Democrats throughout the state met in convention at Lexington and elected delegates to the National Democratic convention at Houston, Texas, instructed to vote for Al Smith for presidential nominee. Kentucky being a border state, the entire nation was closely watching the activities of the convention. Therefore the 26 Kentucky votes cast for Al at Houston will carry much weight in the first roll call.

Smith is a common name in Kentucky and from all indications the name Smith is indelibly stamped on the minds of the people.

More Than One Smith—This One Absolutely Dry

In Fulton the name Smith has been whispered around for some months as a logical candidate. The whispering has become louder and louder until it has almost become annoying to Smith who is making an effort to suppress the noise, but from what we have heard Smith's friends and admirers will continue their noise until they finally get Albert Smith, the well known restaurant man of Fulton, to declare himself a candidate to enter the race for sheriff of Fulton county in the 1929 Democratic primary.

This is not the first time his friends have urged him to enter the race for public office and while he has successfully evaded them, stronger effort is being made at this time to place him before the voters as a logical candidate for sheriff.

Few men are better known throughout the county than Albert Smith. No man has ever served on the city council in Fulton who has a better record and the distinction of never missing a meeting during his term of office. No man stands higher in the esteem of the people, not only in Fulton, but throughout the county. During the past twenty-five or more years he has contributed much of his time and means for the betterment of Fulton. He is a citizen who is keen to the interest of seeing that the laws are obeyed and no man is more lenient or has a bigger heart when it comes to assisting an unfortunate. So you see that Al Smith is not the only Smith Democrats have on their minds at this time. But whether or

Two Women in Cast of "Beau Sabreur"

There are only two feminine principals in "Beau Sabreur," Paramount's spectacular sequel to "Beau Geste," which is to be projected on the screen at the Grand theatre commencing June 25. These roles are played by Evelyn Brent, as Mary Vanbrugh, an American girl who becomes a pivotal point in a great Sahara desert tribal rebellion, and Joan Standing, cast as the Cockney maid, Maudie.

This same condition existed in "Beau Geste." There were but two women in that story, which was also from the pen of P. C. Wren. They were Alice Joyce and Mary Brian, but their characterizations were more or less subordinated by the great theme of brotherly love. In "Beau Sabreur," directed by John Waters, the love is an equally strong one, but it is divided between a girl and the hero's country.

Gary Cooper plays Henri Beaujouis, of the Foreign Legion who is transferred to secret service duty on the vast Sahara. Chief in support are Noah Beery, William Powell, Arnold Kent, Mitchell Lewis and Rosecoe Karns.

DUBINSKY PLAYERS ENTERTAINING THE CROWDS THIS WEEK

The Irwin Dubinsky Players, who opened a week's engagement here under their big tent theatre on the show lot, near the cigar factory last Monday, under the auspices of Spanish-American War Veterans, are pleasing the multitudes who attend the performances nightly.

The Dubinsky players are said to be one of the best companies on the road, and their performances are clean and entertaining. Saturday night they close their week's engagement in Fulton.

W. C. Porter Passes Away

W. C. Porter, valued employee of The Advertiser and highly esteemed citizen passed away Saturday morning at 10:20 o'clock at his home in South Fulton.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, the Rev. C. H. Warren, who paid a beautiful tribute to his memory. Interment followed in the Clinton Cemetery with the Fulton Undertaking Co. in charge. The Rev. E. L. Stovall, pastor of the Clinton Baptist church held brief services at the grave where a large number of his old friends and acquaintances with relatives assembled to pay their last respects, attesting their love and esteem for the silent sleeper.

The editor will sadly miss Mr. Porter in the office. No man could have been more loyal to his work. But in the home circle is where his absence will be keenly felt where he had been tenderly nursed thru' his illness by his devoted wife and loved ones. Truly, he was a man of excellent qualities and loved his home and family.

Webb C. Porter, son of Priscilla and Ed Porter, was born Sept. 15, 1868 in Hickman County, Ky., and died June 16, 1928, aged 59 years and 9 months. He was twice married, the first time to Miss Annie Wood, of Clinton, Ky., in 1898, who died in 1918. To this union three sons were born, Pitzer, R. Clay and Wood, all of whom survive. Mr. Porter's second marriage was to Mrs. Evelyn Johnson of Clinton in 1921, who also survives him. Pitzer Porter, oldest of the three sons, lives in Detroit, while R. Clay and Wood reside in Lexington, Ky. Mr. Porter had been a member of the Baptist church since early manhood and remained a consistent and active member. His membership was formerly in Clinton, Ky., but since taking up his residence in Fulton has held his membership with the First Baptist church of this city. He comes from one of the best known families of Hickman County and one of long history.

BIG FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

At Edgewater Beach on Reelfoot Lake This Year

The largest crowd ever assembled on Reelfoot Lake will attend the big Fourth of July celebration at Edgewater Beach this year. Plans have been underway for some months to entertain the great multitude with a varied program never equaled before.

Gov. Henry H. Horton will make the opening address with other prominent speakers following.

Good music will enliven the occasion all day and evening, featured with dancing, motor boat racing, boat trips on the lake, and a $500 fireworks display at night. Bathing beauties will compete for honors during the day and a big old fashioned barbecue and fish fry with all kinds of refreshing cold drinks will be served. Yes, the children will be provided for too, with various amusements—merry-go-round, skating and other attractions.

Those in charge are leaving nothing undone to make the day one long to be remembered and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend, which promises to be one of the largest and best Fourth of July celebration ever held at Reelfoot Lake.

FIRST READING OF STREET IMPROVEMENT ORDINANCE

The first reading of the street improvement ordinance took place at a meeting of the city council Monday night with plans and specifications submitted by Black & Veatch outlining the entire street improvement program. Included in the ordinance were fifteen resident streets all signed up by property owners with the required footage. The plans and specifications were accepted by the council and on Friday night June 29, the council will meet for a second reading of the ordinance, when if nothing prevents, will be passed and bids advertised for on various types of streets. When the bids are submitted, the council will decide on the material to be used in construction.

It is now believed that actual construction work on the street improvement project will begin about August 1. The preliminary work is now being pushed as rapidly as possible.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Tuesday evening, the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Butt was a bower of garden blooms forming a colorful setting for the rare treat that was offered the music lovers of Fulton, when Miss Doris Huddleston presented her pupil, Miss Sara Butt, in a lovely piano recital, assisted by Mr. Samuel J. Spencer, tenor, of Paducah.

Miss Butt played a well arranged program with marked intelligence, her numbers, both classic and modern, were given with fluency, correctness and true musical feeling, and received much applause.

Mr. Spencer possesses a lovely voice of remarkable clearness and sings with excellent power of interpretation, his shadings were exquisite and enunciation splendid; his numbers brought insistent applause. Miss Huddleston was the sympathetic accompanist.

The evening was a delight for artistic beauty and dignity.

Cairo Bridge Hearing Largely Attended.

A large delegation of Kentuckians attended the bridge hearing at Cairo Tuesday for the purpose of lending their influence to Cairo in securing a vehicular bridge to span the Ohio River at that point linking Kentucky and Illinois on the Mississippi Valley Highway.

Majors Gotwals, of St. Louis; Wortham of Memphis, and Col. Spaulding of Louisville, composed the army board in charge of the hearing and the records will be sent to Washington for consideration by the War Department.

Citizens of Cairo have been working for some time on the bridge project and it is believed that their efforts will be favorably awarded, notwithstanding the objections being made by those operating boats on the river.

About 75 citizens of Fulton attended the hearing. More than 300 Kentuckians were in attendance, representing Ballard, Hickman, Carlisle and Fulton counties, through which the Mississippi Valley Highway traverses.

Walker—Rudolph

Elmer Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Walker, of Fulton, was happily united in marriage, June 10, to Miss Jettie Rudolph, of Kevil, Ky. The wedding took place in Metropolis. The newlyweds will make their home in Paducah. Their many friends extend congratulations, wishing them a long and happy life of wedded bliss.

Galloway--Hancock

Mr. J. C. Hancock of Fulton, and Miss Katherine Galloway of Nashville were united in marriage June 8, in the presence of a few friends and relatives at the home of Mr. W. H. Carter of Trenton, Tenn.

The bride is the charming and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Galloway, and is a student at Peabody College. Mr. Hancock is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hancock and a student in the Medical College of Vanderbilt University. Many friends offer the best wishes and congratulations on this happy event.

The newlyweds are at home with Mr. Hancock's parents, north of town.

WATER REDUCES BACTERIA COUNT

Investigators Show How the Moisture in Paris Subway Cut Down Germs.

MOISTURE decreases the number of bacteria in the air enormously. French scientists counting microbes before and after a rainstorm in Paris have found wide variations in the totals.

In a cubic meter of air gathered up near the Place Clichy Messrs. A. Sartory and Marc Langlais found 3,800 germs on a wet day at 5 p. m. and 16,000 at the same time on a dry day.

Similarly in the Paris subway after the tracks had been sprinkled thoroughly only 410 bacteria were found to the cubic meter while two hours later, when the tracks were dry, the investigators discovered 68,000.

Taking advantage of such findings, officials of many communities are advocating more generous sprinkling and in many instances have applied calcium chloride to road surfaces to lay the dust. That chemical, which in itself has high germicidal value, absorbs moisture as well as killing germs.

Good Road Facts

Henceforth, civilization can be no better than its highways.

More than $1,000,000,000 was spent in improving highways of the United States last year.

Good roads are a fine thing, but it is well to remember that they lead away from the farm as well as to it.

All roads leading to the four gateways of Yellowstone National park are reported to be in excellent condition.

The national parks, seven in the United States and three in Canada, are now linked together by improved highways.

The Defense highway, shortening the distance between Washington and Annapolis, Md., by eight miles, will be completed this year.

Twenty times around the world! Such, at any rate, is the distance American motorists could travel on their 600,000 miles of surfaced roads.

The Arizona highway department has taken consideration of the pedestrian on the roadway and has made official recommendation that he walk on the left side.

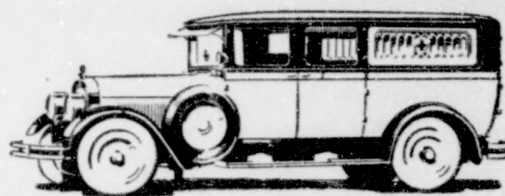

Minnesota has 100,000 miles of public roads of which 7,000 are trunk highways treated by special patrol maintenance, on which there has been expended during the past five years $33,000,000 annually. This state is a large user of calcium chloride for dust laying and highway maintenance.

The laying of lateral service pipes from certain of the above stated mains to the curb line; the laying of lateral service pipes from present existing mains to the curb line on other streets within said city; the laying and placing of all cocks, valves and other equipment whether or not ejusdem generis with cocks and valves reasonably necessary to the laying of said mains and service lateral pipes; and the laying and installing of all other appurtenances reasonably necessary to the above stated work.

Section 2. For the purpose of defraying the cost of the construction of such extensions and appurtenances to the said water works, the said City of Fulton, Kentucky, shall borrow the sum of Thirty-five Thousand ($35,000.00) Dollars and shall issue its negotiable bonds therefor, under all the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 3. Such bonds shall be in the principal sum of Thirty-five Thousand ($35,000.00) Dollars, and shall be in denominations of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each, and such bonds shall bear interest at the rate of 5½% per annum, payable semi-annually, such interest to be represented by interest coupons attached to each of said bonds. All of said bonds shall be dated June 1, 1928, and two of such bonds in the total sum of Two Thousand ($2,000.00) Dollars shall be due and payable on June 1, of each successive year thereafter for sixteen successive years, and on June 1 of the seventeenth year, three of said bonds in the total sum of Three Thousand ($3,000.00) Dollars shall be due and payable. Said bonds, together with interest coupons thereon, shall be payable to the First National Bank of Paducah, Kentucky, trustee, at its banking house in Paducah, Kentucky, or to bearer, and all installments of principal and interest shall be payable at the said First National Bank, of Paducah, Kentucky.

Section 4. Said city shall create and pay into the said First National Bank of Paducah, Kentucky, trustee, a sinking fund which shall at all times be sufficient to pay all installments of principal and interest on said bonds as such installments become due and payable, and to that end the said city shall pay to the said First National Bank of Paducah, Kentucky, trustee, immediately upon the issuance of said bonds an amount of money sufficient to pay the accrued interest on said bonds for the first three months after their date, and also one-fourth of such amount as is necessary to pay the principal of said bonds maturing one year after date thereof; and three months after the date of said bonds the said city shall pay to the said bank such sum of money as shall be sufficient to pay one-fourth of the interest due on the entire issue during the latter nine months of the first year thereafter of date of the issue, and also one-fourth of such sum of money as shall be sufficient to pay the principal of such bonds maturing one year after date thereof; and quarterly in advance thereafter said city shall pay to said bank for the purpose of said sinking fund one-fourth of the amount of money necessary for payments of principal and interest on said bond issue for and during the then current year of such bond issue, it being the intention of these provisions that said city shall pay, quarterly in advance, to the said bank for the purpose of said sinking fund sufficient amounts of money to take care of the entire principal and interest of said bond issue.

Section 5. Said bonds shall be callable by said city at any time after adoption of an ordinance to that effect by the mayor and board of council of said city, and the publication of such ordinance in one newspaper published in Fulton, Kentucky, and in one newspaper published in Paducah, Kentucky, such publication to be published twice a month, and the first insertion thereof to be published sixty days before the call day. After such ordinance and notice by publication has been given, said bonds will be callable at par and a premium of 2½% or 102½% at their next interest paying period and no interest after such interest paying period shall be owing or payable thereupon by said city.

Such bonds and interest coupons thereon shall, in the hands of bona fide holders have all the qualities of negotiable instruments under the law merchant and shall not be subject to taxation.

Section 6. In no event shall said bonds be negotiated by said city on a basis to yield more than 6%. Such bonds when issued shall be payable solely from the revenue funds derived from such water works as hereinafter more particularly set out, and such bonds shall not constitute an indebtedness of said city within the meaning of the constitutional provisions or limitations. It shall be plainly stated on the face of each bond that same has been issued under the provisions of the Act of the General Assembly of Kentucky, of March 20, 1926, Chapter 133 thereof, and that it does not constitute an indebtedness of such city within the meaning of any constitutional provisions or limitations.

Section 7. All monies received from all bonds issued pursuant hereto shall be applied solely for the erection of such extensions, and necessary appurtenances thereto, to the said water works. Provided, however, such monies may be used also to advance the payment of the interest on bonds during the first three years following the date of such bonds. And there shall be and there is hereby created a statutory mortgage lien upon the water works and appurtenances and extensions and appurtenances, of the said city, in favor of the holders of said bonds and of each of them, and to and in favor of the holders of the coupons of said bonds. The water works and appurtenances and the extensions and appurtenances of the City of Fulton shall remain subject to such statutory lien until the payment in full of the principal and interest of said bonds. Any holder of said bonds or of any of the coupons may, either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings, protect and enforce the statutory mortgage lien, hereby conferred and may by suit, action, mandamus or other proceedings enforce and compel performance of all duties required by this act, including the making and collecting of sufficient rates, the segregation of the income and revenue, and the application thereof.

Section 8. If there shall be any default in the payment of principal and interest of any of said bonds, any court having jurisdiction of the action may appoint a receiver to administer said water works and appurtenances and extensions and appurtenances on behalf of the city, with power to charge and collect rates sufficient to provide for the payment of any bonds or obligations outstanding against said water works, and for the payment of operating expenses, and to apply the income and revenues in conformity with this ordinance and with the Act of the General Assembly of Kentucky, of March 20, 1926, Chapter 133 thereof, and the proposed extensions and appurtenances thereto are to be made pursuant to the provisions of said Act of March 20, 1926, of the General Assembly of Kentucky, Chapter 133.

Section 9. There is hereby set aside and pledged the income and revenues of such water works and appurtenances and extensions and appurtenances into a separate and special fund to be used and applied in payment of the cost of such extensions, and in the maintenance, operation and depreciation of such water works and appurtenances and extensions and appurtenances. The amount of revenues which shall be necessary and shall be so set apart and applied to the payment of principal and interest of said bonds is hereby definitely fixed and determined as follows:

$3,925.00 for the first year;
$3,815.00 for the second year;
$3,705.00 for the third year;
$3,595.00 for the fourth year;
$3,485.00 for the fifth year;
$3,375.00 for the sixth year;
$3,265.00 for the seventh year;
$3,155.00 for the eighth year;
$3,045.00 for the ninth year;
$2,935.00 for the tenth year;
$2,825.00 for the eleventh year;
$2,715.00 for the twelfth year;
$2,605.00 for the thirteenth year;
$2,495.00 for the fourteenth year;
$2,385.00 for the fifteenth year;
$2,275.00 for the sixteenth year;
$3,165.00 for the seventh year;

and 10% of the balance of such income and revenues is hereby definitely fixed and determined and shall be set aside as a proper and adequate depreciation account, and the remaining portion of such balance shall be and is hereby set aside for the reasonable and proper operation and maintenance of such water works and appurtenances and extensions and appurtenances. The rates to be charged for the service from such water works shall be sufficient to provide for the payment of interest upon all of said bonds and to create a sinking fund to pay the principal and interest thereof, in the manner above provided for, and also to provide for the operation and maintenance of such water works and appurtenances and extensions and appurtenances and an adequate depreciation account. Such rates shall be fixed and revised from time to time so as to produce these amounts.

Section 10. Said city hereby binds itself not to sell, lease or dispose of said water works or appurtenances or extensions or appurtenances until all the bonds authorized hereunder shall have been paid in full as to principal and interest, or until there have been made arrangements for the payment of all such principal and interest, which arrangements shall be satisfactory to the holders of all of said bonds and coupons. Said city hereby agrees to maintain and operate said water works and appurtenances and extensions and appurtenances, until said bonds have been paid.

Section 11. The form of all the bonds and coupons issued hereunder shall be substantially as follows:

(Form of Bond)

Shimmerpate—Oh, no. I mean I coast down one hill and then tow it up another one and then coast again.

Just That

A woman came before a pension committee and stated that she was seeking her "eternity" benefit.

"Your what, madam?" queried the chairman.

"My 'eternity' benefit," she reaffirmed.

"My dear woman, 'eternity' means your 'hereafter'."

"Yes, sir; that's what I'm here after."

A Poor Excuse—

Housewife—Why, Mary! What do you mean by looking through the keyhole?

Maid—Well, I—er—er—was dusting, and I thought I'd look and see if there was any cobwebs in it, mum.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN

If you think your town is best,
Tell 'em so.
If you'd have it lead the rest,
Help it grow.
When there's anything to do,
Let the fellows count on you—
You'll feel bully when it's thru,
Don't you know.

If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your style;
Throw bouquets instead of rocks
For a while.
Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost.
Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.

When a stranger from afar
Comes along,
Tell him who and what you are
—Make it strong.
Needn't flatter, never bluff,
Tell the truth, for that's enough;
Join the boosters—they're the stuff,
Sing your song!

Community Building

Villages See Benefit Afforded by Zoning

According to the Department of Commerce, more than half the urban population of the United States now lives in homes protected by zoning systems. These have been adopted in 553 cities and villages, embracing a total of 30,000,000 inhabitants.

Many villages are now adopting zoning rules. Some of them—Center Island, L. I., is a type—design their systems to protect a few rich estate owners against the intrusion of small plots and cheaper houses. In such places the object is to defend exclusiveness and discourage population growth, which in the ordinary village is welcomed.

Traffic congestion and the waste of values by shifting trade centers have been the moving causes of zoning in cities. In the movement of smaller centers toward zoning the gas-filling station has been the usual spur to action. A huge filling station rearing its spire of red between the Baptist church and the old Squire Jones place can not only disfigure a lovely town but knock ten times its cost off real estate values by scaring away what might have been purchasers of house property.

The village has quite as much reason as the city to form an ideal of what its development should be and to frame rules insuring that development. Zoned communities are likely to be greatly increased in number in the near future.—New York World.

New York State Sets Tree-Planting Record

During the past year's tree-planting period 21,564,175 trees from the New York state nurseries were planted in that state, says a bulletin of the American Game Protective association. The fall plantings bring the total for the year up to 25,000,000 trees, an increase of nearly 3,000,000 over the previous year. Included in the planting was the reforesting of 25,000 acres of denuded, cutover lands.

Farmers take a greater part of the trees furnished by the nurseries than any other group, the plantings on farms and private lands aggregating over 9,000,000 trees, while cities, villages, counties, towns and schools took another 3,000,000. Industrial concerns, including railroads, took over 2,000,000, and boy scouts planted 800,000 trees.

It is expected that the next year's output of the state nurseries will show a corresponding increase.

Employ Curve in Shrubbery

In a shrub border, even on the small property, the irregular curved line is more pleasing than the straight one. In this way a more interesting detail of material can be appreciated. Often times we secure a monotonous line by the use of shrubs of nearly the same height; this can be changed by the introduction of small flowering trees which are pleasing in foliage, fruit and flower, such as the dogwood, magnolia, flowering apple or cherry. The front edges may be "edged down," that is, made to meet the grass or lawn, by planting perennials along the front of the shrubs or lily bulbs and such things.

Home Owner's Advantage

Where the moderate-priced home is to be built in the city, property values effect a considerable influence on the general scheme. Ground space is too expensive to be wasted, and its cost usually restricts the plan of the house to the long, narrow form. Such plans have some disadvantages, of course, but these are far exceeded by the advantages over the apartment, and the man who builds the detached home saves at every turn, has more comforts and has something to show for his money.

Beauty Through Paint

A good coat or two of fresh paint of good quality not only saves wood, but it cleans and seals in germs, cleans the surface with new beauty, and beautifies a home with fresh cleanliness.

A survey of any community, however, will show that paint factories might be run at increased pace, if one may judge from the number of buildings that seem not to have been painted for years upon years.

City Back-Yard Playgrounds

There is a marked tendency among city planners to abandon long narrow back yards and provide in the centers of blocks community playgrounds for children. In the new Buffalo zoning ordinance this is taken care of and, where such recreational grounds are provided in the rear, there may be granted a reduction in the ordinary requirements for side yards with detached houses.

Aid to the Soil

Trees enrich the soil. Their leaves, upon falling to the ground, are a big factor in maintaining the fertility of our soil, says the American Tree Association. Tree-enriched soils make possible the production of many of the necessary crops of life.

Kentucky Picks The Man to Beat Hoover.

Republican discipline and party regularity conquered all dissension at Kansas City with the nomination of Hoover and Curtis. Certain elements of Eastern Big Business, represented by Mellon, wanted Coolidge, but when they found that they could not get him, turned to the man with the most delegates, the easiest to put over, and the man who had committed himself to the Coolidge policies. The McNary-Hauge-nite leaders found Hoover hard to take, but they climbed on the band wagon when they found it couldn't be stopped and they will stick with him, especially now that Curtis, one of the real agrarian stalwarts, is on the ticket with him.

It is the ability of Republican leaders to compose their differences among themselves and to accept the verdict of the majority that makes the Republican party so potent in elections. Despite their soreness, those who opposed Hoover will get behind him to a man and do all they can to hold the masses of the party in line. This will make it extremely difficult for the Democrats to cut into the normal Republican vote, and they can not hope to do it, unless they pick the strongest available ticket and formulate a platform that eschews all pussyfooting on vital issues and strikes an altogether militant note.

The truth of this seemed to animate the leaders of the Kentucky Democracy assembled in the district and state conventions at Lexington when they instructed the entire Kentucky delegation for Al Smith. They accepted the incontrovertible fact that Smith is the only man with whom the party has a chance to win; that he is the one available man with sufficient national appeal to meet Hoover on anything like equal terms. Smith can carry New York state, without which it is almost impossible for any candidate to win the presidency; and he can also be expected to carry many other Eastern and Middle Western states with large electoral votes. He has shown, too, that he is popular in the West, and if the Solid South will line up for him, his victory seems assured. The man's engaging and forceful personality; his unequalled success as Governor of the largest commonwealth in the Union; his known devotion to the interests of the common people, as exemplified by the social legislation that he has fostered during his four terms as Governor of New York are all calculated to give him an appeal to the people that will transcend party lines. Without such a candidate and without issues that make a similar appeal to the masses, the Democrats can not hope to defeat the Republican ticket, because the normal Republican electorate is larger than the Democratic. Many times in the past this has enabled the Republicans to defeat a first rate Democratic candidate for the presidency with a third rate Republican. But Herbert Hoover is not a third rate Republican and it will take the strongest vote getter in the Democratic ranks to beat him in the November elections. That man is undoubtedly Governor Smith of New York.

Were Al Smith a protestant, no objection would be raised anywhere in the Democratic ranks to his superior availability as the standard bearer. But the Democrats of the nation can not afford to permit religious prejudice, which has no place in the heart of any American and least of all a Democrat, to turn them against the one man who has a chance of defeating the Republican standard bearer in the forthcoming presidential campaign. If this outrageous prejudice should operate to defeat Smith at Houston, it would be the most disastrous blow the Democratic party has received since the Civil War, and would all but destroy it as a national political entity. No Democrat who loves the glorious principles of his party, and really understands and carries in his soul the spirit of American institution, as written in the Constitution in the Bill of Rights, will let the fact of Al Smith's religion, which is altogether a private matter, interfere with his selection as the presidential nominee of the party. God pity the American who does this, for he is no American. — News-Democrat.

Hoover High Spots

Christened Herbert Clark Hoover, the republican presidential nominee, since he has been in public life, has discarded the middle initial and signs his name "Herbert Hoover".

He was born at West Branch, Iowa, August 10, 1874, son of a blacksmith and a Quaker mother. He was an orphan before he was seven years old.

He worked his way to a degree in mining engineering and geology at Stanford, then a young university in California, getting his degree in 1895.

As an engineer he saw the world, following his profession in Australia, China, India, Russia, Alaska and Mexico.

An apprenticeship in the relief efforts that were to make him famous was served in Peking during the Boxer rebellion of 1900 when he organized his first flood relief.

In London when the World war descended on thousands of Americans in Europe, scurrying about trying to find a way to get home, Herbert Hoover headed an American relief committee.

His success in getting the Americans out of the clutches of the war resulted in his draft for the task of feeding Belgium. He assisted in the organization of the Commission for relief in Belgium and assumed its leadership.

When the United States entered the war, President Wilson appointed Mr. Hoover food administrator for the United States, although he remained in charge of the Belgium commission.

In 1920 he was spoken of as a presidential possibility of both the Republican and Democratic parties. He wrote a letter declaring himself a Republican.

At the Republican convention in Chicago he was placed in nomination to the accompaniment of prolonged applause in the gallery but few votes on the floor.

He was appointed secretary of commerce by President Harding and held the same cabinet post in the administration of President Coolidge.

He married Miss Lou Henry, a schoolmate, at Stanford, in 1899. They have two sons, Allen and Herbert.

When he was nominated for president he became a candidate for office for the first time in his life.

Will you give a Penny for its Life?

It costs one cent more per chick to feed Purina Poultry Chows for the first six weeks than to feed uncertain unbalanced mixtures. Of the chicks fed average mixtures 50% die. Purina saves 90%. It costs a lot more to let chicks die than to save them. The best feed you can buy is by far the cheapest. You can save a cent—or a life. Which will it be?
