The paragraph speaks about the elections for the county and the qualifications needed for the office. It mentions the importance of the elections and the responsibilities of the county attorney. It also discusses the qualifications of the new officeholder and his role in the government.

The paragraph concludes by expressing the writer's view that the new officeholder is well-suited for the position and will serve the county well. The writer's confidence in the new officeholder is evident through the use of phrases such as "will serve the county well" and "will be a fine representative of the people."

The Man Who Made a "Beautiful Snow" for Christmas.

John Lehman donated and then Working With Force.

The Royal Soul in Snow.

Other News of a Local Character.

December 31, 1894.

The fellow who wrote "Beautiful Snow" was a very old man who had lived through the most trying times of his life. He had seen the darkest days and the brightest ones, and he had a deep understanding of the human condition. He knew that life was not always easy, but he also knew that it could be beautiful.

He had been a poet all his life, and he had written many poems about the snow. He had written about how it was like a blanket, covering everything in white. He had written about how it was like a dream, bringing peace and serenity.

But he had never written about how it was like a snowball. He had never written about how it was like a snowball that was beautiful.

That was until this year. This year, he had written a poem about a snowball that was beautiful. It was a poem that was about how beautiful snow could be, how it could be a work of art, a piece of beauty.

He had written:

"Beautiful Snow"

My dear friend, I have written a poem about beautiful snow. It is about how it can be a work of art, a piece of beauty. It is about how it can be a symbol of hope, of peace, of serenity.

I hope you will enjoy it. And I hope you will remember that beautiful snow can be a work of art, a piece of beauty, a symbol of hope, of peace, of serenity.

A BUSINESS NOTICE.

The time was when merchants could not do business, except on a credit; the time is now when they can do a successful business unless they sell their merchandise for cash. We have been selling goods in this section of the country for many years, during which time we have done much hard work and tried to accommodate all of our neighbors and friends by selling them goods on their terms, but owing to the present condition of money matters and a change from the old way of doing business we must now, in line with the new way or else lose our credit. In order to meet the present requirements of our trade we must double our stock of goods, and to accomplish this we must reduce our business.

A CASH BASIS.

Our trade requires larger and more complete stocks of goods, which it will be impossible for us to keep as long as we base it on a credit, and in order that we may be able to keep pace with the increasing trade, we will meet the emergency, which we can do by buying more goods.

Selling Them Cheaper and selling them for cash only. The year 1896 is now in its infancy, and with its beginning we address our old friends and neighbors that we can no longer sell goods on a credit; but will sell at our prices to suit the cash trade, and will be better prepared to save them more money during the year than we have ever been before.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to us will please come forward and settle at once. Thanking the people indebted to us in the past and asking a continuance in the future we are respectively,

THE solution of this problem of the travels about the world is as easy as writing a letter. At the nearest travel agency you can arrange for a trip in any direction you please, at a, fixed price and with definite dates of departure and return. You may travel with others or alone, by land or by water, and see what you wish to see. The great advantage of this kind of travel is that you can see the world at your convenience, and only spend as much as you wish. The ticket includes all travel expenses, and you can return to the same point or to any other point in the world. This kind of travel is suitable for all classes of people, and is a good way to see the world.

THE POOR
In poor health, the treatment is not
