MINERS ARE MARCHING.

A Warm Reception Has Been Prepared for the Invaders in Hopkins County.

FAMILY POISONED BY ICE CREAM.

Spain's Dead Premier Will Be Buried Tomorrow—Lying in State at Madrid.

OTHER LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 10.—The miners in accordance with their plan of campaign are now marching on Ohio and West Virginia mines. There are no new developments today.

WARRANTS ARE READY

For Prospective Invaders of Hopkins County, Where the Crusaders Are Not Wanted.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 9.—The people of Hopkins county are aroused by the threatened invasion by Indiana miners who propose to come into Kentucky in a body and intimidate or force the miners here to quit work. The point specially designated by the miners is Earlsville. There are situated the largest mines in Western Kentucky. But their coming would be equally interference and a menace to the various other mines in the county, and most probably would be the occasion of serious trouble.

The miners want to work, and the people and the officials of the county are determined that they shall be protected in their right to decide whether they will work or not, without outside interference. The officials of the county have today issued warrants against persons who may interfere with the purpose of interfering by intimidation or otherwise with the working miners.

The sheriff is armed with the authority to summon the power of the county to his aid to prevent any invasion of personal or property rights of the miner and operators of Hopkins county. The farmers and other citizens of the county are ready to add at a moment's notice and a posse of any number could be raised in an instant. If the marching miners upon the question of personal rights they will think twice before they cross the Ohio.

Fatal Ice Cream.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 10.—The Gardner family was poisoned last night by eating ice cream, and the eldest daughter died today. The deceased was a very prominent society belle.

Funeral of Premier Canovas Will Take Place Tomorrow.

Madrid, Aug. 10.—The remains of Senor Canovas, the late Premier, are today lying in state in this city. The funeral will occur tomorrow. The city is in a ferment of excitement and all sorts of anarchist rumors fill the air.

THE ICE MAN.

And How He Had to Apologize.—Sensational Warrants Issued.

As Hinton of Arcadia, Wanted By Ice Man Paul A. Jones.

Gas Hinton is the name of a young man who resides on a farm adjoining Judge J. W. Bloomfield's residence in Arcadia. Just now he is in a peck of trouble, and it all had its inception over 10 cents worth of ice. He was arrested this morning on two warrants issued by Justice Winchester, one charging him with carrying a pistol concealed, and the other pointing it at Paul A. Jones, who drives one of the Paducah Ice Company's wagons, and with threatening to kill him.

It happened this way: Mrs. Hinton engaged ice from Jones, who makes that part of the section. Sometimes Jones is late and it was only a day or two ago that he was delayed.

According to his story, when he reached the locality he stopped the wagon, observed by Mrs. Hinton, and proceeded to saw the ice. She said nothing to him, or indicated in any way that she had already been supplied.

The way the Hinton is situated is was compelled to walk quite a distance with the ice, and when he reached the house she informed him that she wanted none, having already bought it.

He made some remark about it not having told him so before, and she signified his determination to leave no more ice there.

walked up and remarked that he guessed Jones had better go up and apologize to the lady he insulted the day before. Jones said he didn't believe he would, whereupon Hinton drew a pistol, leveled it at him, and commanded him to proceed.

The proximity of the weapon was slightly encouraging to Mr. Jones, who decided he'd have time to go up after all.

When the house was reached Hinton ordered Jones to kneel, and as the pistol was still smiling at him, Mr. Jones kindly obliged his captor. Hinton then dictated the apology word by word, and Mr. Jones, to accommodate him, repeated the apology with all the eloquence he could command.

He then had to call himself all sorts of names in pursuance of Mr. Hinton's dictatorial requests, ably enforced by the pistol. Hinton, the defendant, to Justice Winchester this forenoon, gave a slightly different version of the affair. He said when Jones delivered the ice his wife informed him that she already had enough, but as he had taken the trouble to bring it to the house, agreed to take it also. He became angry and wouldn't leave it. Hinton denied that the gun was produced, but said that he did draw it and told Jones that he had to apologize to which he replied that "he'd be G—d—if he did."

He did not deny threatening to kill him if he refused.

The cases against Hinton are set for Thursday morning.

NATIONAL CIRCUIT DATE.

Paducah Will Get the L. A. W. Crack Riders October 15.

The Paducah Cycle Club yesterday received a telegram from Chairman Albert Moot, of the L. A. W. racing board, granting Paducah October 15 for the national circuit date. Louisville has the 14th, St. Louis the 15th and Paducah, an intermediate point, has the 16th.

This will bring here the best riders in the country, including Cooper, Sanger, Gardner, Kiser and other crack riders, as well as Richardson, the trick rider, and his mimic, young Clarence Lane, of Covington.

The Paducah Cycle Club is very jubilant over its success in securing the open date, and will begin preparations at once for the event, the importance of which cannot be over-estimated.

TRACK TORN UP.

Water Spout Damages the N. C. & St. L. Railroad Near Memphis.

Last night there was general delay on the N. C. & St. L. railroad as a result of a water spout at a few miles out of Memphis.

The torrent swept away a large stretch of track and as a result laid up the passenger train which left here yesterday afternoon, as well as all the centennial fast flyers.

REPUBLICANS ARE MEETING.

J. G. Bailey Has a Walk-Over for Clerk of Court of Appeals Nomination.

FIRST DISTRICT DELEGATES MEET

Governor Bradley Will Be Elected, But Civil Service May Not Be.

OTHER CONVENTION NEWS OF INTEREST.

Louisville, Aug. 10.—The Republican state convention met at 2 p. m. and was called to order by State Committee Chairman C. M. Barnett. Senator Debow was made temporary chairman and S. J. Roberts secretary.

Louisville, Aug. 10.—The Republican state convention will be called to order this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Music Hall. About 700 delegates are present and the convention promises to be lively, enthusiastic and brief.

Senator Debow has been selected for temporary chairman and Sam Roberts for temporary secretary. Mr. George Denny will be permanent chairman and Mr. J. G. Bailey will be nominated on the first ballot for clerk of the court of appeals.

There are only three candidates for clerk of the court of appeals: J. G. Bailey of McComb county; J. H. Tinsley, of Knox county, and John Feild, Jr., of Christian county.

Mr. Bailey will be nominated on first ballot. He is a young man, only 29 years of age, a fine speaker and will make a campaign. He was a member of the last legislature.

The administration of Governor Bradley will be endorsed. This fact removes the only chance for a hot time, as the Bradley men would not have been defeated without a bitter fight.

There will be considerable interest over the manner in which the civil service is handled in the resolutions. It is expected that there will be a warm time in settling this question. The success of civil service will show a good deal of strength.

Maj. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, who was appointed by Gov. Bradley to fill the vacant seat in the United States senate until the legislature elected, is one of the candidates and is prepared to give his reasons. On this subject he said yesterday:

"The civil service law is un-American; it leads to life tenure in office and should not be tolerated. The responsibilities of all departments rest on the heads of the departments as they properly should. For this reason they should be given the power to appoint clerks and deputies in order that they might better stand the blame for any irregularities. The old way of making appointments serve a six-months' probation is the best after all. The fact that a person answers a few questions and successfully stands an examination does not necessarily fit him or her for a government position. Often they are absolutely unfitted for the places and then when incompetents are discharged for such 'cause' a great deal of adverse criticism against the head of the department is created."

Every district was represented at the meeting of the state central committee yesterday afternoon and last night, as follows: First, W. J. Debow; Second, E. C. Vance; Third, W. S. Taylor; Fourth, C. M. Barnett; Fifth, R. L. Gwathmey; Sixth, George Lieberth; Seventh, W. C. Cureton; Eighth, W. J. Wilmore; Ninth, J. S. Huff; Tenth, K. J. Hampton; Eleventh, R. D. Hill.

Neither of the two members from the state-at-large was present yesterday. Congressman D. G. Colson was detained at Barbourville by the trial of the slayer of his brother. The other member is the Hon. Nat T. Howard, of Butler county.

The committee had but one contest to settle, which was soon attended to. The main work of the state central committee was the making of some changes in the party's rules.

THE FIRST DISTRICT

Delegates to the Republican Convention Organize.

Louisville, Aug. 10.—The delegates from the various districts met at their respective places this forenoon at 11 o'clock. Dr. Hodgson, of Ballard county, was made chairman of the First district convention, and F. M. Fisher, of Paducah, the secretary. Hon. J. H. Ashcraft, of Paducah, was present, and not being a delegate, was made one by the courtesy of Mr. Fisher, chairman of McComb county.

THE FRITZ BLOWS UP

The handsome towboat Fritz, which passed Paducah Sunday, is now a wreck. Her flues collapsed at 7 o'clock last evening ten miles below Cairo, while she was on her way to Cairo from O'Brien's Landing with a tow of logs.

The O'Brien towed her into port at Cairo. Ten men missing and four badly scalded. The injured were sent to the Marine Hospital.

SOMEWHAT SENSATIONAL.

PRURIENT CROWD ATTENDS.

The Defendants Swore That They Were Innocent, While Others Swore Otherwise.

The most salacious case of several weeks was partly tried before Judge Sanders this morning. Mrs. Lillie Nemo, a young and pretty grass widow of 127 Court street, was an indifferent prisoner, the cynosure of many prurient eyes, charged with sustaining illicit relations with Finis W. Jones, a shoemaker, formerly of Cadiz, Trigg county, who has for the past two months been a partner in the cobbler's trade with her father, R. M. Dennis.

Jones and Dennis had an altercation yesterday over rent, and created such a furor that they were arrested and Dennis was fined. This aroused the indignation of the latter, and he later, as told exclusively in the Sun yesterday, went before Judge Sanders and swore out a warrant against Jones charging him with stealing four pairs of shoes.

Bob Hook subsequently went before the judge and swore out a warrant against Mrs. Lillie Nemo and Finis W. Jones for immorality, and when the two were found by Officer Fayette Jones, they were at the union depot preparing to leave for Trigg county. The four pairs of shoes alleged to have been stolen were found in his possession and when he returned them Dennis wanted the warrant dismissed.

This morning the case attracted a good crowd. Hook, the accuser, said he had seen the couple lying out on the porch together in broad daylight, and Rittoff, the second witness, whose rear premises join those of Dennis, Jones, Nemo & Co., apologized for what he had said, saying he couldn't keep it, and then testified that he had on several occasions seen the couple lying on the bed together.

Jones, when called to the stand, positively denied that he had ever been on the porch or on the bed with the woman, or that he ever had improper relations with her. He said he had been married, but obtained a divorce from his wife, who now lives in Trigg county, last August.

He said when caught at the union depot yesterday he was preparing to leave for Cadiz on business, while his partner was going up just for pleasure. It looked very much like an attempted elopement to the spectators.

Then the young lady was called, and was just as positive as the other defendant in her denial.

Dennis himself, the girl's father, was inclined to protect his daughter and save her from all possible shame and humiliation, although he talked a great deal.

Judge Sanders left the case open, after commenting at some length on it. He said such a grade of society was a disgrace to any community and should be abolished. He said he wanted to find out who had told the truth and who had sworn falsely, and he intended, if he could discover this, to issue warrants against the guilty.

"This is no place to swear lies," he said rather pointedly, "and it has got to be stopped. Women and men violate the law and then come up here and swear falsely about it."

The petty larceny case against Jones was also continued until tomorrow.

No complaints are heard from the Populists about the 44 cent dollar. The cheaper silver gets, the more like fiat money the dollar becomes, and that is just what a Populist wants.

Our farmers are paying off their mortgaged indebtedness at such a rate that loan agencies are complaining of an oversupply of money. To get this money back into circulation they are now offering loans on farm property at reduced rates. (Plainview (Minn.) News. Will this aid news for the calamity howlers never cease?

It is a peculiar and at the same time a sad fact that Miss Alice Barrett, the bookkeeper for Godman & Co., of Boston, and who was recently found dead from a bullet wound, was the first example of a woman in a similar position having betrayed her trust. It has developed that the suicide was short in her accounts $2,500.

The action of Populist Joe Parker in persisting in making the race for appellate clerk is very trying on the nerves of the silver Democracy. The silverites drove the sound money Democrats out of the party with the avowed determination of taking the Populists back in; but the Pope won't come. Hence the dilemma; the sound money Democrats are gone and so are the Populists and after one more election the silver Democracy will also be gone.

Spain is indeed in dire straits. The assassination of Canovas takes away her strongest statesman. His iron will and indomitable nerve have enabled Spain to carry on the war in Cuba and the Philippine Islands and that, too, in the face of a bankrupt treasury and of the almost countless Carlist plots against the reigning family. What the result of Canovas' death will be, no one can tell. It is fortunate for Cuba that the death of her most determined and most powerful foe took place at the hand of an anarchist, and that it can be traced to the Cuban insurgents in no way. With plotting anarchists, conspiracies for the overthrow of the government, and two disastrous rebellions, the future of Spain is dark; and the statesman who can extricate the nation from its perils will be a man of almost superhuman abilities.

NEW TACTICS OF STRIKERS.
 There is no question but that the great coal miners' strike is gaining ground every day, although slowly. The absence of violence on the part of the strikers has been the subject of universal comment, and unquestionably has greatly aided the strikers if public sympathy counts for anything.

More than a month has passed since the big strike of the coal miners began, and during that time no overt act on the part of the miners has occurred. The suspension of labor in the bituminous coal districts has not yet been sufficiently long to cause a coal famine, but the ranks of the strikers have been added to, and if the strike officials can succeed in bringing out other men who are being paid a very large increased rate of wages to continue at work, they will command the situation. In fact, the success of the strike seems to be assured if the miners themselves can hold out. The summer weather is favorable to a protracted struggle, and the new method of marching to working mines in large bodies shifts the idle strikers from one point to another and gives different communities opportunities to give them food.

The strikers are gaining sympathy and deserved credit from the general public for the peaceful manner in which they have conducted the fight.

When all the facts are known and the great provocation the strikers have had, people will wonder how trouble of a serious nature has not occurred. But the miners began the fight with every faculty alert, and they realize the great good that will be done by the peace, everywhere if no violence is done whatever to the property of the operators or to the persons of miners who refuse to join the movement.

The plan adopted at a conference of the strike officials the latter part of last month is being generally carried out, and this feature of the strike is as novel as the absence of violence. The plans propose a direct march through territory where mines are being operated as far as is possible. Camps will be left at each place where the leaders decide "them to be necessary to keep the mines closed. It is estimated that at least 8,000 men will be kept constantly on the movement. This army will be governed by a military code which is now being formulated and will be considerably on the order of the famous Coxe "Commonwealth" tour. Many new developments are expected this week which the leaders believe will lead to a settlement of the trouble and a victory for the miners.

SILVER IN MEXICO.
 Stricken Republic of the Land of the Montezumas is Face to Face With a Crisis.

Silver's Decline Has Caused It and There is Talk of Repudiating Interest on Bonds—Commercial Interests are in a Bad Condition.

New York, Aug. 9.—A special from Mexico City says: The continual falling of silver, and the corresponding rise in exchange have reached the point when this country is brought face to face with what may be a serious crisis. No sophistry can hide the real condition of affairs here. It is all very well to say that Mexico can live within herself and can raise on a silver basis natural products that can sell abroad on a gold one. This would be perfectly satisfactory if there was such an enormous increase of wealth resulting from the conditions that it could bear a high rate of taxation, in order that the government might be able to meet its debt interest abroad by such means without any extra strain.

At this moment Mexican bonds are unaltered in London, principally owing to the scrupulous exactness under the most distressing conditions with which their interest has been met. These debts are in gold, and at this rate of exchange that interest is excessive and it is only a matter of time, unless there is a favorable change in silver, when this republic will be unable to stand it.

Repudiation has an ugly sound, but something very like it, under present circumstances must finally result. The great railway corporations and other foreign companies here have to meet a gold interest with a medium that is ever decreasing in value. It does not matter, however great the business and their capacity for money-making, because the money earned is inadequate to meet their obligations abroad. There is only one thing for them to do, increase their earnings over 100-odd per cent, or consider that their foreign debt was contracted in silver.

It seems hard that the credit of this government that is now so high and the excellent foreign investments here, should be injured by circumstances over which they have no control. But these facts are facts, and it will be interesting to watch what will happen unless there is a sharp rally in silver before long.

Merchants here are paralyzed and all orders from abroad have been countermanded. The manager of the Scotch Thread monopoly here has raised price on thread 25 per cent, and the French importers of dry goods followed suit.

A prominent banker said he believed exchange would go to 150 per cent, premium. He considered the outlook to be most serious for this country; in fact, he considered it too gloomy to speculate upon.

The Ashland (Ky.) Steel Company filed an amendment to its articles of incorporation reducing its capital stock from $1,000,000 to $100,000. This reduction is said to be due to the rumor that the state board of valuation contemplates raising the assessment of the franchises of corporations and is likely to be followed by many others doing business in this state.

OTHER BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

The council met last night in called session, all the members being present except Mr. Starks. The most important action taken was the location of a pump station and the employment of sanitary engineer Elliott, of Memphis, as consulting engineer in the construction of sewerage here.

The mayor read his call, stating that the purpose of the meeting was to provide a location for the sewerage pumping station, to appoint a committee to locate street car curves, to allow bills and to see about getting a schedule on all city property.

Councilman Williamson stated in regard to the pump house that he had corresponded with the gas company officials at Evansville and also with Supt. Harahan, of the I. C., relative to their property, but had received no reply.

He then moved that the pumping station be located on East Clay street, between Second and Third, and the motion prevailed.

The city engineer was instructed to locate the pump house there. A bill of $10 for city hall was allowed.

A motion was made that the street committee make a contract of some sort with sanitary engineer Elliott, of Memphis, subject to the ratification of the council.

City engineer Wilcox stated that he had been sent to Memphis to confer with Mr. Elliott. That he had consulted the mayor and council there, and been advised by the former to make formal application to the council for permission to employ Mr. Elliott as consulting engineer.

The council at Memphis granted the request. Mr. Elliott agreed to come here for $150 per month to remain as long as the city deems necessary. There was some discussion relative to whether to employ him or to empower the sewerage committee to act, subject to the approval of the council.

The motion to employ Mr. Elliott at his own proposition was unanimously carried. Councilman Livingston stated that the city had considerable property, and moved that Mr. F. Dudley be appointed to get a schedule of all of it. The motion was carried.

Councilman Williamson read a resolution thanking the mayor and council of Memphis for permitting the city of Paducah to employ Mr. Elliott as consulting engineer, which was unanimously concurred in.

The Paducah Street Railway Co., made formal request for the location of "turnouts" at Fourth and Broadway and Third and Court streets, for the purpose of inaugurating a transfer system.

Mr. George Thompson made a statement and said this was the first thing the company desired, but wanted to hereafter make many other changes in the system towards its perfection, in addition to extending it. The intention is to be as soon as possible have all the cars kept in one shed or shop, and the idea is to have the cars turn from Broadway to Third, thence to Court, out Court to Fourth, and back to Broadway.

Councilman Williamson made a statement and said that the street committee should supervise the construction of turnouts. He asked which franchise the roads would operate under, as one required therein to keep the street repaired between the tracks while the other required this, as well as to keep the street two and one-half feet on each side repaired.

SPAIN IS IN MOURNING.

Prime Minister Canovas Was Murdered by a Red Handed Anarchist.

The Assassin Claims That He Has Taken Vengeance For His Friends and Brothers.

Madrid, Aug. 9.—This great Spanish city is in mourning. Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Prime Minister of Spain, was assassinated yesterday by an anarchist. The murderer fired three shots, two of which struck the Premier in the head and the other in the chest. The wounded man lingered unconscious for two hours, and died at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. His wife was but a short distance away when he fell.

Santa Agueda is noted for its baths. The place is between San Sebastian, the summer residence of the Spanish court and Vittoria, the capital of the province of Alava, about thirty miles south of Bilbao. The Premier went there last Thursday to take a three-weeks' course of the baths, after which he expected to return to San Sebastian to meet United States Minister Woodford when the Minister should be officially received by the Queen Regent.

The assassination of the prime minister was undoubtedly cold-bloodedly premeditated. Goli deliberately watched for an opportunity to kill the Spanish statesman, and he only fired when he had no chance of missing. In fact, the assassin, who was arrested almost immediately after the premier fell, declared at the feet of his wife, has declared as much to the examining magistrate.

The prisoner, who declared he had killed the premier "in the accomplishment of a just vengeance," at first gave the name of Ripaldi, and claimed that the deed was the outcome of an extensive anarchist conspiracy. Later, however, the assassin confessed that his real name was Michele Angino Goli; that he was 26 years of age, a native of Bogna, near Naples, and came to Spain in 1896. After reaching Spain Goli, according to his confession, resided at Barcelona and participated in the doings of the various anarchist associations of that place and vicinity. After sojourning at Barcelona for some time, Goli visited France and Belgium, and returned to Spain in July last. After his return the anarchist seemed to have completed the plans for the assassination of the Prime Minister.

He left Madrid for Santa Agueda at the same time as Senor Canovas del Castillo, and waited an opportunity to assassinate the statesman.

Senora Canovas, wife of the Premier, who was but a short distance away from her husband when the crime was committed, rushed to his side upon hearing the shots. As the Premier lay dying upon the ground she bitterly reproached the murderer for his crime. Goli in reply to the agonizing words of the distracted wife, said:

"I respect you because you are an honorable lady, but I have done my duty and am now easy in my mind, for I have avenged my friends and brothers of Montjuich."

Montjuich is the fortress of Barcelona, outside of which the anarchists who have been sentenced to death for recent outrages have been executed by being shot in the back. The anarchists recently executed outside of Montjuich were the last batch of the feds who were guilty of throwing a bomb on June 7, 1896, into a religious procession about to enter the church of Santa Maria de Lamar, upon the occasion of the Corpus Christi celebration. Twelve persons were instantly killed and about fifty, several of whom have since died from their wounds, were injured. For this crime twenty-six anarchists were sentenced to death and many of them were executed. The condemned men invariably shouted "Long Live Anarchy" just before the orders to fire were given.

 —Bacon—"Have you seen Sprouck lately?" Egbert—"No." Bacon—"He's a right, fine fellow, but arm in a sling, and walks lame." Egbert—"How did he do it, on his bicycle?" Bacon—"No; if he could have stayed on the bicycle, he'd have been all right."—Yonkers Statesman.

—Think you, said the lady to the man who gave her his seat in the street car. "You surprise me," replied the man. "How do you mean?" "By that I thank you." She smiled. "I couldn't have surprised you more than you surprised me by offering me your seat." The stand-off was thus completed.—Detroit Free Press.

LESSON TO A TRUCKMAN.

One Who Stood His Ground and Yet Was Not Run Over.

His general appearance was that of a doctor of divinity, but his shoulders and chest were those of a prize fighter. He had snow-white hair and beard and must have been about 70 years old. He stood in the roadway at the junction of Montague and Court streets, Brooklyn, waiting for a trolley car, people gazed at him, because he was a very noticeable specimen of mankind. If he noticed the police he gave no sign of it, but leaned on his cane, waiting patiently.

Down Montague street came a truck driver of the pedestrian variety. As soon as he saw the old gentleman he howled uproariously at him in the language of his species, which is generally unintelligible; a very good thing. The old man didn't move. He didn't even look around. Now, there was plenty of room for the truck to pass in front of him. In fact, if the driver had kept in a straight line he would have cleared the waiting man by ten feet, but he didn't keep to the straight line. In order to assert the superiority of him who goes on wheels over him who goes on foot the truckman headed directly for the old man, yawning: "Goddamn it! What's he matter with?"

Still the threatened one made no move. When the horse was almost upon him, however, he poked his stick gently into its neck. Naturally the animal swerved aside. The truckman pulled over, leaned over and poured out a flood of vile language, addressed to and regarding the old gentleman. That worthy looked up and inquired, mildly: "Are you talking to me?"

"Are you talking to me?" "The driver had got fairly started in another tirade when the old man, with a back-handed sweep of his cane, cut him full across the face. With a yell of rage the truckman dropped the reins and seized his heavy whip. There was a crack like a pistol shot as the cane fell across his wrist and the whip dropped. Again the cane swung, and this time the truckman went over backward in his seat with a red welt across his forehead. A smart cut across the horse's flanks from the same weapon sent the animal forward with a leap, and the truck was clear over at Fulton street when the driver sat up rubbing his head in bewilderment. The old man, however, had arrived and he boarded it, leaving about 20 witnesses to the condition of gleeful and ecstatic satisfaction.—N. Y. Sun.

Bridge of Whisky Barrels.
 The little village of Hertford, on the Peruvian river, in eastern North Carolina, boasts the possession of the only floating bridge, supported by airtight whisky barrels, in the world. This bridge was the happy idea of an old inhabitant half a century ago, and its result still stands a monument to his genius.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A MURPHY'S BUTTON

Saves the Life of Joe Copher, of Livingston County.

A Victory for Dr. Stewart, the Murphy's Button Champion.

Dr. P. H. Stewart wore a smile this morning that spread all over the map. He was happy, for he has performed successfully one of the most difficult operations known to surgery, and the first of its kind successfully performed in Kentucky.

He succeeded in patching up the intestines of a man with one of the renowned Murphy buttons.

The story is very interesting. Three weeks ago Joe Copher, of the Gum Springs section of Livingston county, twenty-two miles from the city, was preparing to join a fishing and hunting party. He lives in the "Narrows," between Tennessee and ment to testify in the celebrated Mort Soelby-Rome Taylor feud case.

They were subpoenaed to appear today, but made arrangements with the court to be notified by telegraph when they are wanted. The case has been continued since last November.

Cumberland river, and was going up the Cumberland river.

He arose at 2 o'clock in the morning and began gathering his traps and guns. Among the weapons was an old rusty Smith & Wesson pistol. While doing it, it went off, the ball penetrating the stomach. He took a long wire probe, and wrapping it with cotton, inserted it in the wound, and to staunch the flow of blood.

A relative was sent post haste to the city after Dr. Stewart, and when he arrived and made an examination, he decided that a Murphy's button was the proper and only thing to use, and inserted it.

He told no one of the case, not even his professional friends, for he feared the operation would not prove a success, and decided to wait developments. He had tried it successfully on several dogs, but the only human being he had essayed to save with one was a tramp who was shot in the woods and who died.

He continued to receive favorable reports up to the time he left for St. Louis about a week ago, and when he returned Sunday found enclosed in a package the button, which had been liberated from its human prison just thirteen days after being inserted. The patient is now entirely well.

BASEBALL.

Latest of Interest to Devotees of the Diamond.

A great deal of interest is being taken in the game of baseball to be played Friday between Paducah and Mayfield.

Pete Dowling and Billy Sudhoff, two of Paducah's recent pitchers, twirled against each other Sunday in the exhibition game between St. Louis, of the National League, and Milwaukee of the Western League, at St. Louis.

Sudhoff, who was generally believed to be the better pitcher of the two, won the game, the score being 9 to 8 in favor of St. Louis.

Sudhoff, judging from the summary, pitched by far the better game, having three strike outs and three bases on balls, to Dowling's two strike outs and four bases on balls.
