TUESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1887.

Judge L. E. DeHaven, of Lagrange, says he is not a candidate for Governor.

Gen. W. C. Whitmore was nominated by the Democratic caucus in the Tennessee legislature for the short senatorial term expiring March 3d.

There is a man over in Indiana, who the papers say, got the upper hand of a lawyer. He was probably officiating at the funeral of one of the profession.

The Democrats of the Indiana legislature have nominated Judge David Turpin for United States Senator. Judge Turpin is United States District Attorney for Indiana, and has served a fractional term in the Senate.

George Jeffers, a Mercer county, Cal., farmer, became dependent upon the prospect of a dry season, and hanged himself. The next day rains began. This is not to be compared with the reign of terror that has set in with "dry" season in some parts of Kentucky.

The report that Craig Tulliver, the Rowan county desperado, was dead, was received with general rejoicing last week. It develops that Craig is still on hand, however. A nephew of his was killed and Craig is looking up the murderer. It is likely another chapter of crime in Rowan will soon be issued.

Secretary Bayard announced at the Yale banquet that the day when brute force shall protect and preserve our Government is past, and that we must look to the development of the highest capacities in man for an eternal safeguard of our national perpetuity. A shell from the Chilian "Esmeralda" would completely paralyze this logic as the stroke of a trip hammer would demolish an egg shell.

The discussion of the tobacco tax is very lively in Washington. The farmers should advise themselves on the question, and as it means no good to them, but is simply a Republican scheme to protect the dealers and cheapen luxuries, they should speak out and let their representatives know how they stand on the issue. The farmers want cheap clothing, cheap food and cheap tools, and are in no wise interested in seeing that the rich buy their luxuries without paying tribute to Uncle Sam.

Granville Hewitt was hung at Monticello, Ky., Wednesday last week. Just before the black cap was adjusted, he uttered the following words full of despair, penitence and hopelessness: "I have to die upon this gallows, today. Let whisky alone. That's what ruined me; it's an awful thing for a man to have to die on the gallows. The crime for which I am to be hung was committed as you have heard it. When you are going about your homes think of me." As his soul was launched into eternity, "Near Me God to Thee" was sung. The hymn was hardly begun, as it is probable he gave the great while throne a wide berth.

The Chinese Minister at Washington is breaking all the duke's hearts. He has the license of his nationality to adopt the most feminine costumes, and hosiery and places girly among the conventional swallow-tails like a reflected star in the waters of a lake. A dispatch thus describes him: "At Mrs. Cleveland's last reception he appeared in garments of the palest pearl-colored and blue brocade. His carriage-wrap was a long circular cloak of pearl-colored and blue Siberian squirrel. At the British Minister's reception he was the center of attraction, and held quite an interesting levee in the smoking room, where he proved to be quite entertaining in his conversation."

The Century Magazine prints for the first time these words of Abraham Lincoln, given in an official reprint to a young officer who had been court-martialed for quarreling: "The advice of a father to his son, 'Beware of entrance to a quarrel, but being in, bear it that the opposed may beware of thee' is good, but not the best. Quarrel not at all. No man resolved to make the most of himself can spare time for personal contention. Still less can he afford to take all the consequences, including the vitiation of his temper and the loss of self-control. Yield larger things to which you can show no more than equal right, and yield lesser ones, though clearly your own. Better give your path to a dog than be bitten by him in contesting for the right. Even killing the dog would not cure the bite."

Scientific Farming.

The bill to expend $500,000 yearly in establishing agricultural experiment stations will be called up for discussion in the House in a few days. This bill will meet favorable consideration as the representatives can each bring home a piece of the pie to their own state.

One thing in favor of the bill is worthy of mention, that it will have a tendency to make farming more popular with youngmen. Very few of these realize the fact that the free life on a farm is preferable to the monotony of clerking, until experience has taught them the lesson. If boys would catch the idea that farm life affords a field for the cultivation of the highest intellectual and scientific faculties, coupled with the greatest usefulness and honor, many more of them would feel blessed in their high estate and crush the snubbin that would lead them to cross the barren years of want and deprivations that stand between them and the honors of a professional career. It is not merely to know seed time and harvest that makes a good farmer. Agricultural chemistry, to know the composition, adaptability and condition of soils, botany, to observe accurately the habits and development of plants, life in other words, scientific farming is as yet a thing of the future and the most wonderful achievements await its coming.

A Congressman, in speaking of this bill recently said: "It is a remarkable fact, but a fact nevertheless, that the wheat lands of this comparatively new country, a country which especially prides itself on its wheat production, and now averages only about fourteen bushels per acre; while in England, where the land has been cultivated for hundreds of years, they average over twenty-nine bushels per acre. India and Russia are rapidly coming to the front with their wheat fields and wheat production, and unless we do something to increase the yield of our land we shall lose our most valuable article of export. This is the object of this agriculture experiment station bill. It proposes to establish an experiment station in every state, in connection with some industrial institution, and by that means we hope to not only dignify the pursuit of agriculture, but render it more profitable to those engaging in it and more valuable to the country at large."

Revenue Points.

The Paducah Standard cites two instances of double and triple taxation under the revenue law. It says: "A purchaser of a horse from B, executing his note in payment. By the workings of the law a must list the horse and B the note, both in effect representing the same property. Other cases might be instanced which would show the more complete workings of the law, such as a farmer sells his crop of tobacco to a buyer, who executes his note payable at a certain time. The buyer has the money to lift the note, but the farmer has not presented it. The Assessor lists the tobacco and cash of the buyer and the note of the farmer. This would seem like triple taxation, and would be clearly double, since the money in the buyer's hands represents the note in the hands of the farmer."

These illustrations have been given and again given. In the first case the note held by B does not represent the horse. When the note is paid B has so much money, and A, in the place of the money he has paid out, has the horse. In the other case there is a double taxation. The original bill was altered by the Legislature in this respect and now one has ever been able to fathom the reason for it.

The following report of the department of agriculture on crop productions of last year is enough to take one's appetite: "The corn crop, in round numbers, aggregates 1,665,000,000 bushels, grown on 75,000,000 acres, and has a farm value of $410,000,000. The yield is 22 bushels per acre—four and one-half bushels less than over three years ago. There is an increase of area of over three per cent, and a decrease in product of fourteen per cent, while the average price has increased twelve per cent, or from 32 cents to 36.6 cents per bushel.

The aggregate product of wheat is 457,000,000 bushels from an area of nearly 37,000,000 acres, having a farm value of $1,100,000,000. The average value is 38.7 cents per bushel, against 77.1 for the previous crop, and 61.5 cents for the great crop of 1884. This is 35 per cent reduction from the average value between 1870 and 1880. This yield of the spring wheat centers is better than expected early in the season, and on the Pacific Coast much more so. The general average for spring and winter wheat is nearly 12.4 bushels per acre. The product of oats is 621,000,000 bushels, 3,000,000 less than last year, from an area of over 23,000,000 acres, producing a value of $100,000,000. The average yield is 26.4 bushels, against 29.6 last year. The average value is 28 cents per bushel, last year, 25.5 cents per bushel.

Emma Stanley, the Gypsy Queen died at Jackson, Miss., last week and was buried at Dayton, O., with imposing ceremonies peculiar to the clan. Lucy Stanley, of Evansville, Ind., a sister of the dead monarch, has been selected Queen of the different bands that are now in the South, when a grand jubilee will take place. After these ceremonies, which will continue for four days, have been brought to an end, and her orders issued, which will govern the action of this predatory people for a year.

The trade edition of the Paducah Daily News is one of the finest. It is superbly illustrated and gives a full account of all the business features and resources of that city. The column rules are all of gold, and the whole paper is bejeweled with "native diamonds" and is larded with "natural gas." One of these papers is a whole fortune to a man.

The labor men in Covington are on the point of falling upon the boom of their Republican friends and holding a love feast. It is said that if the Republicans nominate either Capt. Thos. Todd, of Shelby, or Judge Holt, they will secure the labor vote. All of which means that somebody's fine Italian hand has been at work up the river.

One of D. Fie, a bogus Pinkerton detective, has been working Owensboro. He found he had fallen among a hard lot and let.

The Illinois Republicans nominated Charles B. Farwell, the Chicago merchant prince, for the Senate, and the Democrats nominated Hon. Wm. R. Morrison.

It looks like Europe is on the verge of a great war. The German Emperor of Germany appeals for a large increase in the standing army, and France adds $17,000,000 to her military credit.

An exchange says: "The two quail-proof Chicago girl calls herself 'Birdie.' As well speak of the Washington monument-opener girl as 'Hattie,' or the two sancer-capacity girl as 'Nancy.'"

Frank James is going into the boot and shoe business in St. Louis. Frank made a good thing out of the boot business in days gone by, and, if he will, just let that blasted bludge alone, he will prosper in the Saint's city.

The Ohio river is about to break across the neck of land just above Henderson, which will leave Evansville "stranded on a sandy beach." No one can blame the old river for taking a short cut in these days of enterprise.

There was received into the State Treasury last year $3,233,863.99. After providing for the Stinking Fund, public charities, criminal prosecutions, etc., only $655,651.52 was left on hand which, which to defray the current expenses of the State government.

The Louisville Times hits the opposers of Inter-State Commerce. A well-to-do and Inter-State Commerce of railroads is becoming more and more apparent every day. Louisville built a road to the coalfields to meet the emergency of a froz in river, but no sooner is navigation suspended than the road built by Louisville money runs up its transportation charges to whatever point is necessary to keep the price of Kentucky coal on a par with the Pittsburgh article. This is the creature of the State, and is a public outrage that ought not to be permitted.

The Mormons knocked out.

When the Mormon bill was under discussion in the House, Thursday, Mr. Caine, the delegate from Utah, created a sensation in a speech of unusual force and brilliancy. He astonished the members by saying that "utterly at least among the Mormons was only 3.37 per cent, exactly what it is in Connecticut, and much lower than in many other states in the Union. The labor problem, he said, did not trouble Utah, for there ninety per cent of the people are freeholders and own their own homes."

But his speech did not go good and he passed, by an almost unanimous vote. It is of such importance that we thought the following summary of its provisions: "The bill makes the lawful husband or wife of any person prosecuted for bigamy, polygamy or unlawful cohabitation, accomplice, witness against the accused, and further provides for the registration of all marriages, making it misdemeanor for any person to violate the provisions relative to such registration. It annuls all Territorial laws providing for the identification of the voters at any election, and also in laws conferring rights on the Territorial power to determine divorce cases, and abolishes woman suffrage in the Territory. Penalties are prescribed for unlawful intercourse and polygamy is defined as a marriage between one person of one sex and more than one person of another sex, and is declared to be a felony. The district corporations known as the Church of Latter Day Saints and the Perpetual Emigration Fund Company are dissolved, and the Attorney General is directed to wind them up by process of court, and all laws for the organization of the militia of the Territory are repealed. Polygamists are made ineligible to vote, and a death is prescribed to all persons desisting to vote that they will obey the laws of the United States, and especially the laws in respect to the crimes defined in this bill and the original Edmunds act. The bill provides for the immediate appointment by the President of all judges and Selection of the County and Probate Courts, and the Governor of all Justices of the Peace, Sheriffs, Constables and other county and district officers.

The bill, as amended, by the adoption of the substitute, will now be acted upon by the Senate for the action of that body.

SCROFULA

I don't believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a cure for Scrofula. It is pleasant to take, gives strength to the body and produces a more permanent result than any medicine I ever used.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.

For forty years I have suffered with Scrofula. I have tried various remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that I could not eat or sleep. I have tried many remedies, without relief. I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured. I am now well, and feel that I have taken it for Scrofula, Catarrh, and Salt Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for the stomach. I have used it for many years, and feel that it is a good medicine.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla, Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5.
