Defender's Editorial Endorsement For Mayor

America is standing on the eve of the 1968 Presidential Campaign when one of the most serious issues will be considered — the war in Vietnam. On the other hand there is an issue which is immediate and of profound concern to a particular segment of the American populace. This is the October 5 election which directly involves the citizenry of Memphis.

We at the Tri-State Defender have already endorsed candidates for councilmen in the various districts and for councilmen for positions at large. We have also weighed the qualifications of each candidate in the Mayor's race. And we are prepared to make our endorsement. But of vital importance is the question "whom do you want to represent you as Mayor in our new Mayor-Council form of government?" It is also important during this crucial hour which faces all Memphians, for each of us, especially the Negro population, to weigh carefully all angles, involving all of the candidates in the Mayor's race.

There are approximately 80,000 registered Negro voters in Memphis and every vote counts. This election finds many of us (Negro voters) at the crossroads, and we should be aware that not all of these roads lead to justice, equality, and the elimination of man's inhumanity to man. Perhaps some of these roads lead directly to a political machine and perhaps others lead indirectly to this.

If we look around us, we can discern which of the candidates for Mayor face the strongest opposition in the various sections of our city, and which candidate "carries" the vote of a particular group of people. We can also see who has solicited the Negro vote and who has not. Can there be any political maneuvers attributed to this? If our votes are split, which candidate will be our next Mayor? It is most important that our vote works for us.

It is true that the eyes of the world are on us—waiting to see whether a city of 80,000 registered Negro voters can stand firm together and elect the candidate they want to represent them. Many are waiting to see whether we want BLACK POWER with reference to its degraded interpretation. It is equally true that we as Negroes have come a long way and we still have a long way to go before we are completely recognized (omitting tokenism) as citizens deserving equal rights.

We are proud of our heritage — the strong conviction to die together for a common cause, but at times some of us are quite embarrassed about our bitter past, and integration has become the scapegoat for us to lose our identity. It is also true that we are proud to recapture the days of Reconstruction. But is this our only concern?

We at the Tri-State Defender are by no means prejudiced. We voice not the sentiments of hatred, bigotry, or the like. It is necessary that we as citizens open our eyes to the facts and look upon this Mayor's race objectively. Therefore WE ENDORSE MAYOR WILLIAM B. INGRAM, JR.

There are many reasons why we make this endorsement: (1) We would rather see our city elect him than another candidate that we (Negroes) positively do not want to represent us; (2) Mr. Ingram is EXPERIENCED, INTELLIGENT, HONEST, INDEPENDENT AND FAIR; (3) He, a man of convictions, will continue to work to keep taxes down and get more industry and more jobs; and (4) In spite of tremendous opposition on many occasions, he has been a strong Mayor.

We as Negroes have demonstrated and redemonstrated for a cause, for a voice. We have sought to eliminate political machinery. And it must be recognized that our vote is a STRONG VOTE. However, we should not allow ourselves to be used for another's gain.

During Mayor Ingram's administration, Memphis has experienced the greatest growth in its history and this has enabled it to be on the MOVE. The record actually speaks for itself:

A new 6-lane bridge across the Mighty Mississippi is being built —

Downtown is being revitalized with new buildings (private and public) and others are being planned —

New streets and expressways have been built — Memphis has become nationally recognized as a clean city —

The finest emergency ambulance service has been established —

Public housing has been improved —

Our medical center has expanded and additional medical facilities are being planned —

There has been no property tax increase during Mayor Ingram's administration—

Electric and gas rates have been lowered —

Industrial development has been tremendous.

RCA Plant has been added to our city, and many other plants have expanded including Firestone, Dupont, and Grace Chemical —

Port and Harbor Commission has done an excellent job of acquiring new industries —

Private Industrial Parks have developed and are expanding —

Educational facilities have improved. New technical trade schools are being built. New libraries, schools and Space and Science Center are planned —

Economy of the city has improved. 243,800 persons have been employed. Bank deposits and retail sales are approximately 10 per cent higher than any other prior of Memphis' history—

There has been a recodification and updating of City Code which has been the first since 1949 —

A Crime Commission has been established and law and order has been maintained —

City employees' salaries, pensions, insurance and working conditions have been improved.

Country-wide Juvenile Court system is now possible.

It is therefore urged that we make our vote COUNT. Sure, we have fought hard that we would arrive at the day when we are able to participate in city government. With the new form of government coming in, there are many ways in which we can do this. No, we cannot forget the many things that we have struggled for, but this is, without and beyond a shadow of a doubt, a Mayor's race which demands that we be objective and band ourselves together and override any possibilities of unfavorable POLITICS.

Let us at this time make our VOTES COUNT and VOTE 80,000 strong for Mayor William B. Ingram, the man who has given us a representative check and balance system in our city-government.

EDITORIAL

Our Endorsements

October 5, 1967 has been designated as the day that the registered voters of Memphis go to the polls and make one of the most historic political decisions that has been made since the days of Reconstruction. The most important issue is to vote and make your vote COUNT.

We at the Tri-State Defender feel strongly about the candidates that we endorse. We feel strongly enough about them to believe that the citizens of Memphis especially the Negro voters will cast their votes for them.

In making our decisions to endorse the following candidates, we were not interested in those who could spout out the most rhetoric or perform the best political maneuvers, but we are deeply concerned about the individuals' qualifications and their basic interest in ALL people regardless of race, creed, color or national origin. The candidates elected on this October 5 will to a great extent determine the political practices of the state and local government in the near future.

The candidates hereby endorsed have platforms that have the virtue of simplicity and their ideas will not become waterways fraught with dangerous shoals. These are people who will not depend on any political machine for support. Nor will they allow themselves to become labeled as rubber stamps. They are honest dedicated citizens who will work wholeheartedly for the PEOPLE OF MEMPHIS.

Therefore in order to assure proper representation for the citizens of Memphis, the metropolis of the Mid-south, we endorse the following candidates:

POSITIONS AT LARGE
Position 1 — Paul Vescovo

Position 2 — Drew Canale
Position 3 — Clayton Elam
Position 4 — Luke Weathers
Position 5 — Samuel B. Ky-les
Position 6 — W. J. "Buddy" Chiappella

DISTRICTS
District 1 — Alexander Gladney
District 2 — Fred Davis
District 3 — J. L. Netters
District 4 — J. O. Patterson, Jr.

BOARD OF EDUCATION
Position 1 — Lloyd Hanson
Position 2 — E. W. Williamson
Position 3 — Mrs. Lawrence Coe
Position 4 — J. H. Perdue
Position 5 — James M. Lawson

Patterson Caravan Touring District 7

J. O. Patterson, Jr., opened motor caravan, the procession the home stretch of his campaign this week by taking it to the people in different sections of District 7.

The campaign included caravans and rallies with live music, favors for the children and refreshments for all in attendance.

Furnishing the music was the Honeymoon Garner Quartet. It was joined by Herman Green, the saxophonist, and the vocalist Barbara Perry.

Distributing material at the floating rallies was the "Pat Patrol," a group of teenage beauties who are supporting the candidate.

Because of the length of the campaign, Mr. Patterson told his audi-

Charlie Morris Campaigning Since January

A campaign which began last January is about to reach its conclusion for Charlie F. Morris, Sr., in his race for councilman from District 7.

In his latest speeches before church groups and at coke parties, Mr. Morris, a district manager for North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance company, charged that two of his opponents are "illegal candidates."

He told his audiences that State Representative J. O. Patterson, Jr., and Eulless T. Hunt, a sundry store operator, are not bonafide candidates and are illegally claiming (See Page 2)

Three persons were shot in weekend incidents, but luckily none of the wounds were serious and all will recover.

Two men have been charged with assault to murder in what resulted from almost simultaneous shootings which left one with a bullet in the collarbone and the other with a bullet in the ankle.

James Franklin Leigh, 43, of 1286 Williams was shot in the collarbone at 9 p. m. while standing in front of a cafe at 1248 Williams by (See Page 2)

We Endorse Fred Davis

We endorse Fred Davis as Sunday School. We at the Tri-State Defender believe that FRED DAVIS divided along racial lines than has the leadership ability any other. This makes it necessary for the person representing this district to have had broad experience in working harmoniously with others of diverse backgrounds.

District 4 is located in southeast Memphis, bounded roughly by Central on the North, the city limits on the south, Bellevue on the west and Prescott on the east.

After viewing the background and civic involvement of all the candidates for the position of Councilman representing District 4, we are certain that Fred Davis is the man who will best represent his district.

Mr. Davis is a long time resident of Orange Mound — one of the many neighborhoods which comprises the district. For many years he has been active in civic and political affairs of the community. Some of these include: The position of Vice president of the Orange Mound Civic Club; a director of the Memphis Better Schools Committee; A member of the Memphis Branch of the NAACP; a member of the Shelby County Democratic Club; and a past director of the Memphis and Shelby County Mental Health Society.

Mr. Davis' involvement is not all civic and political. Besides being a family man, married and the father of three very fine children, he is quite active in Beulah Baptist Church where he serves on the Board of Deacons and teaches

Mr. Davis is a graduate of Tennessee State University and is now doing further studies at Memphis State University. Quality recognizes quality. Therefore we urge you on election day to cast your Vote for Progress. Elect FRED DAVIS as your councilman from District 4.

NOTICE

Due to the election on Thursday, October 5, the Tri-State Defender will come out a day earlier on Tuesday, October 3, so that our readers will have an opportunity of evaluating the candidates and their platforms.

James Smith Is First Negro ABA Official

James M. Smith, coach and physical education teacher at Porter Junior High school, has become the first member of his race to be certified as a basketball official for professional teams in the American Basketball Association (ABA).

Mr. Smith's selection came as a result of recommendations from A. W. Ott Anderson, who is also an ABA official. Mr. Anderson, a former Public Works official, is a candidate for councilman-at-large, Position 1.

Mr. Smith will carry to his new job some 11 years of experience as a basketball official. He has worked extensively in high school and college games in Memphis and other cities. Last week he was present for a basketball officials' clinic held in Indianapolis.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Anderson will officiate at games in such cities as New Orleans, Dallas, Louisville, Indianapolis, Denver, Houston, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis, Oakland and Anaheim, Calif., and in the New Jersey area.

Hunt Tells Opponents To Watch Experience

A challenge to his rivals to match his administrative record in public and private affairs was issued this week by Eulless T. Hunt, candidate for Councilman from the seventh District.

Speaking at a recent rally, Mr. Hunt reviewed his record in public affairs since his high school days.

As a student at Manassas High School, he distinguished himself as an art student, winning some 20 contests in local, state regional, and national levels. He was also a top student and athlete, and captained one of the school's championship football teams.

He served 28 months in the United States Army, with most of those in the South Pacific, where he saw action at New Guinea, Gili, Lugan, and other hot spots. He was honorably discharged in 1946 and immediately matriculated at LeMoyne College. There he was made captain of the school's famed "Mad Magicians" football team playing tackle. In 1948 he was selected second string All-American.

He gained wide fame as an artist and presented art shows in Atlanta, Georgia in 1948 and 1949. He was presented in an art exhibit at Burrell College, receiving honorable mention for his art exhibits in the American Art Show in 1950, and again in Atlanta in 1951.

He later organized the Hayes Academy of Art at 994 Florida in Memphis and enrolled more than 100 students. He next served as Art teacher, football coach, and assistant coach in baseball, basketball and track at Booker T. Washington High School.

Mr. Hunt joined the Memphis Recreational Department in 1957. He immediately forged to an administrative position. He emphasized the employment of Negroes in the department, moving the number of Negro employees from 35 to 233, and by 1962 had supervision of a payroll of over two million dollars.

As the head of the Negro phase of the Recreation Department's work, Hunt moved the recreational facilities from eleven playgrounds to forty. He increased the number of semi-pro baseball teams from 11 to 35. Kid baseball teams jumped from 0 to 180; tennis from 0 to 100; neighborhood dances from none to 2000 per month; dramatic presentations from none to 200 per month; ceramics from none to 120; sewing classes from twenty to 80; pee-wee football teams from none to 8; basketball teams (community and church) from none to 140.

He spearheaded the move to provide civic services status to recreational workers moving them from none on the rolls to 14. He succeeded in guiding salary increases to more than double of what they had been receiving.

Mr. Hunt was national president of the Christian Churchmen's Fellowship for two years. He has also served as trustee of the Churches of America for three years.

He is a businessman with a variety of interests, the owner of two Sundry stores, a barber shop and beauty parlor, and rental property.

Mr. Hunt challenged any of his rivals for the Seventh District councilman post to match his administrative and public record, as an indicative of their fitness to fill the officer.

His platform calls for a crash program in recreation in the 7th District, with games, arcades, and modern centers and playground equipment in parks. . . . removable of whiskey boundaries. . . . district health clinics. . . . a police review board to handle cases of alleged police brutality, and free child care clinics. He urge all registered voters residing in District 7, to cast their vote for him on October 5th.

Morris

to live in the district just to run for office.

Commenting on an article in an earlier issue of the State Defender, which said that he lacks the qualification for councilman, Mr. Morris said besides having graduated from Manassas High school, he received two years of college as a life underwriter, which includes most of the subjects known to man, and that his degree is one of "sincerity for all."

"I have had 20 years of dealing directly with the public, and entrusted with making decisions for North Carolina Mutual, one of the largest Negro businesses in the world," he explained.

"Besides, I am running for the office of councilman from District 7, not for treasurer of the city," Mr. Morris quipped.

Among the churches which have presented him to their congregations in recent weeks are Pilgrim Rest Baptist, Emmanuel Baptist, Clayborn Temple A.M.E., Coleman Chapel C.M.E., Galathia Baptist and Gospel Temple Baptist churches.

Mr. Morris told the audiences that he was concerned with the "total improvement of the community."

running out of the desires of personal gain, and with no sincere desire to help the citizens of the city.

He concluded his radio address by saying, "City government is too big and important to entrust it to an inexperienced person. My worthy opponent states that he works for one of the largest Negro companies in this nation, and that qualifies him to deal with big city government. Both you and I know that this big company for which he works has never permitted him to make any decision that affects the finances or standing of that company."

4 Negro Children Burned To Death In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Four small Negro children burned to death when fire swept their tiny frame home in the Sand Ridge community of southwest Jefferson County.

"Morally, he is a Christian, a true Soldier of the Lord Jesus Christ, a great man of God." "Educationally, he holds three college degrees: an A. B. degree from LeMoyne, a B. Th. degree from American Baptist Theological Seminary, and an M.A. degree from Fisk University.

"Judgmentally, he is a mature man of responsible judgement. His thoughts, speech, and actions always display understanding, concern, and love for his fellow man."

"Rev. Williamson's election to the School Board," concluded Mr. McAteer, "will be in the best interests of Memphis. We recommend him to all Christians and urge them to support him in the Thursday, October 5th election."

"I am pleased that such a substantial group as, Christians, Inc., with its considerable influence has seen fit to endorse me. I shall endeavor to honor the confidence this fine organization has put in me," commented Rev. Williamson.

He is eminently qualified in every respect," continued McAteer.

Mr. McAteer said, "Rev. Williamson is widely known and respected throughout the Mid-South as a great Christian leader. We are proud to recommend him to the people of Memphis for a position on the School Board."

Owen College Reports An Enrollment Of 400

Owen College, at Vance and South Orleans, has launched its 1967-68 program with an enrollment of 400. It was announced by President Charles L. Dinkins.

The total includes 230 freshmen and 30 out-of-town students, according to Neal Darby Jr., acting dean-registrar of the two-year college.

Assemblies and chapel services are being conducted at St. John Baptist Church, across the street from the campus. Fire early this year destroyed a three-story building that housed the campus chapel, library, dining area and dormitories.

The Baptist-supported junior college is in the process of merging with LeMoynite College, a four-year institution located on Walker Avenue.

Jehovah Witness Meet Attracts Some 1,062

The 678 persons present Friday at 7 p.m. heard the keynote speech, "Walking orderly by Spirit," Saturday, eleven were baptized after the manner of Jesus Christ and became ordained ministers of the organization.

Sunday evening the talk, "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?" was given by the chairman and principal speaker, Willie Anderson, before a crowd of 1,062 Witnesses and interested persons.

Mr. Anderson stated the Bible reports or likens God's intervention in the affairs of men to a hurricane on the horizon of the earth. The front of the hurricane has already passed leaving the world of mankind in the greatest trouble the earth has ever seen.

The back of the hurricane is fast approaching, he said and the signs of the prophecies in the scriptures informs us, its passing will mean a complete destruction, the end of the world. However, survival will be possible for those who properly read the signs of the time, draw close to their Creator in complete obedience, he said.

On the other side of the Bible reports or likens God's intervention in the affairs of men to a hurricane on the horizon of the earth. The front of the hurricane has already passed leaving the world of mankind in the greatest trouble the earth has ever seen.

The Mallory Knights Charitable Organization will begin its 17th annual fund-raising campaign on Sunday, Oct. 1, to help the poor and needy at Christmas, according to Harry L. Strong, director of the organization.

"Not only do we help the poor and needy families and underprivileged children at Christmas," he said, but "this has become a year-round work for the members who give freely of their time and effort to help the less fortunate during the holidays and 12 months a year."

He said that the public will be called upon to assist the Knights in the worthwhile community effort. Funds contributed will be used to buy food, clothing and toys for distribution.

St. John Choirs To Present 2nd Concert

The choir of St. John Baptist church at 620 Vance ave. will present the second part of a series of concerts sponsored by the Willing Workers club on Wednesday night, Oct. 4, at 8 p.m.

A spokesman for the club said, "If you missed the first part, you are certainly the loser for not having witnessed our outstanding affair."

"If you were one of those who saw the first performance, I know you will want to attend the October affair. Please come and enjoy an evening of relaxation."

Miss Mary E. Boyd is president of the Willing Workers. Rev. A. McEwen Williams is pastor of the church.

"YOUR Company Makes What You Ask For And Creates What You Think Of"

MR. VOTER:

HOW ABOUT GIVING MY GENERATION A BREAK.
VOTE FOR THE FUTURE — NOT FOR THE PAST

Vote For A. W. WILLIS For MAYOR

Q: Can A. W. Willis be elected Mayor on October 5th?

A: Yes, if you vote for him. 150,000 people are expected to vote on October 5th. There are 80,000 registered Negro voters. Consequently, Willis can win if 75,000 Negroes vote.

When you voted for George Grider, John J. Hooker, Lyndon B. Johnson or J. F. Kennedy, did you ask yourself if they could win? NO! You voted for them because they had the best platforms and programs.

So, you ask yourself now if Willis can win? It depends on you!

Q: Why should you vote for A. W. Willis for Mayor?

A: Because all intelligent, sensible voters wish to elect the best man in the race. A. W. Willis is the best qualified and has the best program to move Memphis forward. Look at his record. Compare for yourself.

Q: Will white voters vote for A. W. Willis for Mayor?

A: Yes. Look at the facts. In 1963 when Willis ran for the State Legislature in a two-man race against one white opponent, he won with more than 37,000 white votes out of a total of 37,000 votes cast for him.

White citizens also want the best qualified candidate!

Q: Are a few Negroes against A. W. Willis?

A: Some have been brainwashed by white machine politicians and Negro Uncle Toms to believe in the superiority of color. It's what's INSIDE that counts!

Q: Why is A. W. Willis running for Mayor?

A: Why are you asking yourself this question? Do you doubt his qualifications? Of course not. He is the best qualified candidate in the race. Do you believe that the blackness of a man's skin automatically disqualifies him to lead the citizens of Memphis?

Of course not. President Johnson recently appointed a black man to lead the nation's capital. Did you ask why Mayor Ingram ran for office? Did you ask why Hunter Lane, Henry Loeb, Pete Sizemore, William Morris and Mrs. Oxlley are running?

Did you question the motives of A. W. Willis when he got up at 2:00 A.M., 3:00 A.M. and 4:00 A.M. to get your children out of jail when they were sitting in for equal rights in the early sixties?

Q: NO! You cheered him on. Have you forgotten so soon?

A: Did you question the motives of A. W. Willis when he fought in the courtrooms to open parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, libraries, libraries, schools, taxi cabs, restaurants, etc., to Negroes?

Q: NO! You cheered him on. Have you forgotten so soon?

A: Did you question the motives of A. W. Willis when he was the sole Negro in the Tennessee Legislature fighting for a minimum wage for all people, the appeal of the death penalty, increase in teachers' salaries and retirement benefits, a state Anti-Poverty Program and many other laws to bring about equality, justice and democracy?

Q: NO! You cheered him on. Have you forgotten so soon?

A: Have you read Willis' platform? Do you know that he is the only candidate on record IN WRITING to advocate open housing, a Human Relations Commission to eradicate discrimination, a Civilian Review Board to investigate police brutality, an investigation of treatment of patients at John Gaston Hospital, and elimination of slum housing.

At As soon as he believes he is a free man and stops being brainwashed by white folks and Uncle Toms; stops relying on rumors and looks at the facts; stops asking himself why a Negro is running for Mayor, BUT, most important, he must believe in HIMSELF, and he must believe that a Negro is capable of leading this city.

Q: What will happen if the Negro does not give A. W. Willis his vote on October 5th?

A: This election is bigger than any one individual. If Willis loses Memphis will lose, and the Negro voter will lose an opportunity to gain respect and dignity. He will forfeit the chance to make history by electing the first Negro mayor of a southern city.

How can he explain this to his children?

On October 5th, Memphis will have an opportunity to bring about one of the most historic social changes ever achieved in any city. Negro voters can be particularly proud that their votes can shape the destiny of this country as they help elect the first Negro, A. W. WILLIS, to the office of mayor of Memphis.

The choice is ours. If we really want to be free. Stand up and vote like courageous men and women.

DON'T LET YOURSELF AND YOUR CHILDREN DOWN.

400 Nurses Expected For Convention Here

The Tennessee Nurses' Association will hold their annual convention in Memphis at the Holiday Inn-Riverview on October 11-13, and approximately 400 registered nurses from the state are expected to attend.

The theme of the convention will be "Nursing Evolution 1967, Finding an Excuse vs. Finding A Way." The keynote address for the convention will be brought by Miss Barbara Schutt, editor of the American Journal of Nursing.

Miss Ellen Fahy, assistant professor of Nursing, Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York City, will be addressing the convention participants on the role of the nurse as an agent of change in a Thursday afternoon session.

Approximately ten exhibitors are expected for the convention. Program sessions will include presentations on automation in nursing, the unit dose method of administration of medications, the role of the nurse in the referral of patients for health services, and the need for the nurse to accept the individual patient.

The House of Delegates of the Tennessee Nurses' Association will hear reports from a Structure Study Committee regarding proposed changes in the organizational structure of the association as well as reports from the Legislative Committee, the Education Committee, and other standing committees that have been active this year.

The Committee on Economic and General Welfare will present suggested revisions to employment standards of the association for review by members attending the convention.

All nurses who plan to attend the convention should be prepared to present their 1967 ANA or TNA membership cards.

Reception To Honor Women's Day Guests

A reception on Saturday night, Sept. 23, will honor the Women's Day guests of the Mount Vernon Baptist church. It will be held in the Fellowship Hall and start at 8 P.M.

The guest speaker for the Women's Day program on Sunday, Sept. 24, at 3 p.m. will be Mrs. H. Ralph Jackson, principal of the Mallory Heights Elementary school.

Music for the program will be sung by the choirs of Union Valley and the Mount Nebo Baptist churches.

Miss Louise Martin is chairman of Women's Day, and Mrs. Hattie B. Helms co-chairman. Rev. J. L. Netters is pastor of the church.

SERVING 1,000,000 NEGROES IN THE TRI-STATE AREA

Slums And Racism

It is slowly sinking into the consciousness of urban officials that federal programs would never be large enough to retrieve the poor permanently from the slums and the maddening social conditions that eventuate into riots. Governmental experiments with social uplift, as a rule, are too transient and too susceptible to the unpredictable ebb and flow of politics to heal the wounds of a sick society.

If society is to recover from the ghetto sickness, private enterprise would have to be enticed to do the job through economic incentives. There is much disillusionment with commitments of either Congress or the federal agencies to rebuild the rotting cores of the nation's cities. They lack either the vision or the will or both to face the problem in its entirety and provide for a long-range solution.

It may well be, as one housing administrator put it, that the entire concept of federal aid as we know it may be completely wrong. Even if the federal government spent 10 times the money it does now — which it won't — that would not be enough to remove the appalling conditions that deepen the slum problems and their accompanying evils.

After 10 or 15 years of traditional programs, there is little evidence of successful coping with the problem in Harlem, in Bedford-Stuyvesant, in Chicago's Southside and Westside, in Watts and other urban areas where people are still locked in unbearable ghettos.

In looking for alternative to federal aid, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy urged support for two bills he had introduced in the Senate by saying they would "add to our efforts the most vital source of strength and sinew in the nation; the energies, resources and talents of the private enterprise system."

One of the Senator's bills would give generous tax benefits to private industries willing to locate in slum areas and guarantee jobs to local residents. The other bill would use a combination of low-interest mortgages and tax incentives to encourage industry to build new or rehabilitated housing for low-income families in blighted communities.

Sen. Kennedy estimated that the mortgages and tax benefits would enable builders to reach two goals that are now irreconcilable: low-cost housing and substantial profits. He noted that tax incentives were now given to such industries as oil and grain storage, but not home-building.

The merits of the Kennedy's bills are incontestable. There is, however, an almost unbridgeable gap between the social goals sought by humanitarians and far-sighted politicians and the social stand-patters whose concern is limited to class privilege in everything. Much of the free-enterprise money is concentrated in the hands of men who want to preserve the status quo in any event and who, of course, have no interest in such social welfare program as improvement of life in the black slums. In fact, they are the ones who keep the slums going by charging exorbitant rent and by refusing to improve or recondition their property.

Whether the people in power realize it or not, the signs are clear that America's failure to wipe out the slums and eliminate poverty is bringing her to the brink of a revolution in which black will be pitted against white in the bitterest racial struggle of modern times. Here lies the danger and hope of the black power movement which is gathering strength and momentum through white backlash to fair housing and integrated public schools and through irrational, indefensible opposition to those rights that give meaning and substance to the citizenship of the black minority.

The Struggle Goes On

Sentiment is growing in responsible circles both in Britain and Rhodesia in favor of a settlement of the issues that have set the two countries apart. The finding of a common ground is the only thing that stands in the way of rapprochement. Experts on both sides are busily engaged in exploring that possibility.

For a long while, the belief prevailed among high-placed politicians that the chasm between the two countries was unbridgeable. It is hoped that the current round of talks initiated by Prime Minister Wilson in late July conceivably could provide an answer. But so secret are these negotiations that few know how the winds are blowing.

There is fear, however, that the recent scathing attack on Rhodesia's Prime Minister Ian Smith's regime may not hasten the settlement of differences which are still straining the relations between Britain and Rhodesia.

George Thomas, newly appointed British minister of state at the Commonwealth Office, lashed out at what he called the oppression of black Africans. Judging from the reception his maiden speech got, there is yet much sympathy for the plight of the African native who is unrepresented in the Smith's government.

There is an incipient revolt among a militant segment of the black population. Though the initial stories have been unmercifully crushed, much help is coming from the adjoining African states. The struggle may be enlarged so as to become a major confrontation before Rhodesia can come to terms with Britain.

Wallace And GOP

A George Wallace Presidential bid would hurt the Republicans more than it would the Democrats, a state-by-state assessment by astute political writers of the Christian Science Monitor has disclosed. Wallace's candidacy would cut considerably into the vote of the Democrats, too. This is based on the assumption that President Johnson will be the Democratic candidate.

The Republicans would be affected adversely by the Wallace presence in the race in 14 states with 173 electoral votes. At the same time the Democrats would fare the worse from a Wallace candidacy in eight states with 62 electoral votes, the survey reveals.

The big imponderable at this time is the identity of the GOP Presidential nominee. The important element disclosed by the survey is the strong pulling power Wallace apparently will exert on the hardcore conservative elements in the Republican Party — those who made up much of the 27 million vote total that former Senator Barry Goldwater compiled in 1964.

The Monitor writers also report a tide of anti Johnson and anti-Negro sentiment within the Democratic Party that would flow to Mr. Wallace. But, in the South, this sentiment might well go to a conservative GOP candidate if Mr. Johnson were the only opponent. As of now, Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi probably would be won by Wallace. And, throughout the South, Mr. Wallace would stand in the way of any sizeable GOP upsurge.

In the North the defection of conservative Republicans to Mr. Wallace is likely to be somewhat larger than the defection of Democrats to the former Alabama governor.

The survey does not break down into easy regional assessments. But, by and large, a Wallace presence in the Presidential race looms as a real problem for the Republican Party across the nation.

An Open Letter To The Editor

Dear Defender:

U. S. Representative John Conyers, Jr. (D. Mich.) Washington, D. C.

We find it inconceivable that you, the Democratic United States Representative from Michigan, would come to Memphis and publicly insult the Negro Ministry and an approximate 80 per cent of the Negro community who do not endorse A. W. Willis, Jr., for Mayor of Memphis.

Perhaps you should become better informed as to the real sell-out artist of this city — the BLACK JUDAS who pretends to fight the NEGRO cause but who secretly wheels and deals with WHITE POLITICAL MACHINES to gain wealth, property and power at the expense of the Negro citizens.

Your return to Memphis will be a waste of time and effort if you think we will be coerced, insulted or right-scared into voting for A. W. Willis, Jr. whom we find unworthy not because of his black skin but because of his black heart.

May we suggest that your time might be used more wisely to clean up the cause and effects of the riots in your own city of Detroit.

Candidates For Mayor To Appear At Church

Mt. Olive C.M.E. Church vest Day Sunday, September 24th.

Centering its activities around the Harvest and political season, Mt. Olive has adopted the theme, "The Church Involving Itself in Good Government." Mt. Olive embarked on an accelerated community outgrowth program about seven years ago.

The membership's decision to invite the seven candidates for Mayor of Memphis to participate in an open panel discussion was an added effort to strengthen this phase of the Church's service.

The panel discussion will take up the first half of the Harvest Day activities: from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. in the main auditorium of the Church. At this release formal acceptance has been received from four candidates.

The second half of the day's activities — from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. — will revolve around a Tea in the Church's dining room. The harvest theme will be portrayed in both decorations and refreshments.

The public is invited to both the panel discussion and the Tea. Rev. T. C. Lightfoot, Jr. is pastor of Mt. Olive C.M.E. located at 538 Linden Avenue. Chairmen for the day are James S. Somerville, Charles Pickens, Mrs. Mozella Williams and Mrs. Agnes Cook.

Attendance may influence the individual vote, and is civically solicited.

Demonstrations, A Middle Class 'Happening'

By HARRY GOLDEN

On the weekend of April 15, there were several demonstrations against the Johnson Administration's military commitment in Vietnam. The most notable of these took place in New York City where over 100,000 people marched from Central Park to the UN Plaza there to hear Dr. Martin Luther King, Harry Belafonte, Dr. Benjamin Spock and Stokely Carmichael condemn this war effort.

I happen, as a citizen and Democrat, not to agree with these dissidents. In common parlance, I am a "hawk," but a hawk which doesn't flap its wings. The question I want to consider about this and other demonstrations is: Do they work? What do the

Morris Open Headquarters

Some 150 persons were present last Thursday night when Charlie F. Morris, Sr., opened his campaign headquarters at 981 Alaska st. and received a standing ovation from those who packed his home.

Mr. Morris was introduced as a man who will be able to help the poor because he has been a poor man himself, and has been dealing with those in dire need for more than 20 years.

Speaking about one of Mr. Morris' opponents, one speaker said, "How can one born with a silver spoon in his mouth like Patterson know what it feels like to be poor?"

Another speaker said, "Mr. Morris was so poor when he got married that he had to borrow a dime from his best man to pay the preacher. But he is still with the same wife he started out with 23 years ago."

"Through hard work and prayer, Mr. Morris has made it over the hill, yet he remembers his past condition and others who have not been as fortunate as he has been," the speaker added.

Other speakers were Drev Canale, Frank White and Wayne T. Dewese, also candidates in the coming election.

The public is invited to both the panel discussion and the Tea. Rev. T. C. Lightfoot, Jr. is pastor of Mt. Olive C.M.E. located at 538 Linden Avenue. Chairmen for the day are James S. Somerville, Charles Pickens, Mrs. Mozella Williams and Mrs. Agnes Cook.

Attendance may influence the individual vote, and is civically solicited.

NATIONAL HOTLINE

By Diggs Datrooth

WASHINGTON — Now that the Negro publishers have come and gone the big story is what did they find. The other story is: What will be done. The boys, led by John Murphy of the Afro were given the red carpet treatment, luncheon and programmed to death, but the Pentagon was smart as all get out when they scheduled McNamara one-half hour before the helicopters took the group off for Aberdeen Proving Grounds . . . Democratic staffers are taking a good hard look at the numbers of whites in the employ of top Negro appointees here. Much of the whispering began when Sam Nabrit left the Atomic Energy Commission and word was passed that there were no Negroes on his staff. A part of the problem is the phobia some of the Negroes have when they come down here about integration. Many of them feel that they have to hire white secretaries to show how fair they are. They have forgotten that white executives have been hiring whites all along and if the Negro is to get his foot in the door at the top level, he will have to be pulled along by some of the Negroes at the top. Which seems to support the constant campaign against middle class Negroes forgetting their less fortunate Brothers.

THE COMPUTER THAT the White House uses to spit out names for Presidential appointed positions has done it again. The electronic brain tossed out six names as possibilities for the District's new city council. As the FBI began running a check on the candidates, their identities were leaked to the press. Of course, the papers ran the stories and the public reacted. Among the Negro names were M. Brent Oldham, an employee with the Commerce Department. A former Lincoln U. (Mo.) prof., Oldham has been on the federal payroll since the New Deal days. He is virtually unknown as being active in Washington affairs. The second Democratic selection was Joseph P. Yeldell, a marketing sales representative with IBM. Yeldell admits that he hasn't been active in civic affairs. The third Brother was Robert G. McGuire, Jr., a Republican and head of the McGuire's Funeral Service, the town's leading Mortuary. Needless to say the Black Power boys teed off on the choices as not being representative of the poor. With all of the furor it is believed that a new list will be developed. However, if LBJ feels that this group is best for the city—well, he's pretty stubborn. Meanwhile, someone had better oil the White House's computer. It ain't operating right.

IDLE JOTTINGS: Lt. Lawrence Oxley's Pigskin Club opens its fall season with its traditional black tie effort on Oct. 27. The affair attracts more than 1500 every year and lures some of D. C.'s biggest names in government. Oxley has headed that organization for 20 years and as long as it keeps its momentum, it doesn't look as if he will be replaced . . . The Howard University turmoil remains. About 120 students walked out on Dr. Jim Nabrit at the school's opening ceremony. Nabrit is hoping that the board names his successor soon. He's just sick and tired of it all . . . Cliff Alexander's dad, the retired banker, has taken a new bride. She is former Mrs. Minnett Delph. The younger Alexander is heading up the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and is LBJ's top race relations advisor . . . Dick Clark, the New Yorker who seeks to find top jobs for the Brother in industry (which has turned out to be quite a thing, these days), held a Job Fair in Washington. It was a two-day event with personnel men from leading U. S. firms in attendance. Avatus Stone, former Syracuse grid star, is involved in the same type of service with Freeman & Cole, Associates. Stone quit Peace Corp to go into this private enterprise.

SOUP 'N SANDWICH TALK: One of the liveliest affairs in D. C. in years was the recent fund raising effort held for Gary's Richard Hatcher, Democratic candidate for mayor. While his County organization put a freeze on his funds, many nationally known Democrats rallied to his cause. The biggest plus for this deal was the informality of the evening and even those top office holders who plunked down $25 to $50 to attend found the evening pleasurable. Said some: "We liked it without the phoney restraints." The big twist of whole deal is that so successful did the D. C. boys take it, that now the Cleveland delegation to D. C. is planning a similar event for Carl Stokes. Joseph Rauh, former Democratic leader in D. C. called the luncheon to plan for the Stokes project. What it can really mean is that Negroes running for office all over the United States can begin looking to Washington and the top Government appointees to fund their campaigns. Many of the jobs here are civil service but what self respecting Democratic, supping at the Democrat's public (?) trough—and in his right mind, will turn down a ticket to one of these deals? Well, let's just wait and see.

DON'T EXPECT ANY big news about Brothers from here for quite awhile now. With Thurgood firmly on the Court, other citizens of color in various positions, the trend will be to cool it for a spell . . . Larry Still, the president of the Capital Press Club who recently forsook the professional row for government, is busy mapping plans for the organization's 25th anniversary with an elaborate program. Meanwhile the Negro reporters with the white media — newspapers and radio—are forming an organization to iron out their problems. Reporters from both Washington and New York have been conferring in the organizational meetings. What the boys are finding out is that they are kinda swallowed up in Whitey's world where they are a minority . . . Keep your eyes on the Michigan delegation here. There's likely to be some drastic changes as a result of what's happening back home . . . Bill Matney, the NBC personality who was honored by the Capital Press Club has told intimates here that he is moving from Chicago to the New York offices of the network.

As for the peaceniks, I'd say this is what their demonstration gained that April Saturday: any demonstration bucks up the morale of the demonstrators. A march affords all of them the chance to feel that others, a significant proportion of voters, share their views. That is the prime reason for any demonstration.

The second purpose, of course, was to gain the attention of the Administration. They did, in fact, they got a bigger rise out of the Administration than I thought they would, these housewives, doctors, students, and realtors. On Sunday, President Johnson, potentially, I thought, informed the country the FBI was keeping its eye on anti-war activity. Which for my money means the FBI is keeping its eye on several million people.

Miss Allen Is Hostess At Luncheon

The Gnosis Glint club luncheon was held on Sunday, Sept. 17, in the Red Room of the Hotel Claridge with Miss Minnie Lee Allen as the hostess.

Devotion was given by Mrs. Roland Powell, and the speaker, Samuel T. Rutherford, director of the Children's Bureau, was introduced by Miss Allen.

Members on hand for the luncheon were Mrs. Elizabeth Woods, president; Mrs. Mary Flemings, Mrs. Ethel Davis, Mrs. Edna Latham, Mrs. Josie London, Mrs. Cornelia Kelley, Mrs. Bell Pettigrew, Mrs. Alva Hunter, Mrs. Rosa Delcove, Mrs. Nannie Evans, Mrs. Polly Hearn, Mrs. Rosa L. Bennett, Mrs. Gertrude Johnson, Mrs. Addie Grant and Mrs. Una B. James.

Guests included Mrs. Katherine Alford, Mrs. Carrie Wilson, Mrs. Maggie Newsum, Mrs. Birdie Lenoir, Dennis Hearn and Mrs. Tom Ella Stillman.

Fruit was sent to Mrs. Eliza Mimms and Mrs. Willie Davis. Prizes were presented to persons holding lucky numbers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Belgium lace over silk with scooped neckline and long sleeves.

Her train was of silk with organza appliques. Her veil was a cluster of silk organza petals surrounded by pearls. Miss Mabelene Edington of Memphis was maid of honor. Miss Arnette Corley, also of Memphis, was bridesmaid. They wore blue gowns designed with empire waistlines and wore matching hats.

Jimmy Goodwin was best man and Richard Beachum attendant.

The bride's sister, Pamela Elise Hollowell, was flower girl, and Gary Holmes the ringbearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the couple at the home of the bride's parents at 1745 Kendale. After a honeymoon, the couple will live in Washington, D.C.

Better Bus Service Is Promised

Residents of the District 6 community are getting some of the worst bus service in Memphis, says Dan J. Thomas Jr., candidate for councilman from the area, and if elected he says he will do something about it.

"It's the only section of the city where one has to transfer to another bus to get downtown," he said a survey indicated.

A few other things Mr. Thomas says he will try to establish, if the people in District 6 pick him as their councilman on Oct. 5, are:

1. A central service office where the people can come in and talk to them about his problems.
2. Orderly planning in civic involvement.
3. Enforcement of the city code, which will mean that owners of rental property will have to install bathrooms and face bowls in homes where at present there is only a commode in the way of modern conveniences.

A Memphian for nearly all his life, Mr. Thomas lists his occupation as a "re-modeling contractor." He is a member and secretary of the trustee board of Collins Chapel CME church.

ERMA LEE LAWS

"As the essence of courage is to stake one's life on a possibility, so the essence of faith is to believe that the possibility exists."

Walter Salter With the Girls. Clara Brawner, our lone lady doctor who treads in the footsteps of her late medical parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jeff Brawner, entertained her bride mates in Semper Fideles in grand style Saturday evening at her home on Woodlawn. The girls were absolutely enchanted with the scenic effects provided by Clara's pictures from her trip to the Orient last April. She had the mirror and piano in the living and dining rooms decorated with the pictures and also orchid colored fans from the fabulous Thai Airlines "Royal Orchid Flight." Just hearing about that flight is thrilling — orchids upon entering the plane, champagne, crab meat patties, just a gourmand's delight!

Members and guests settled in the family room where Clara showed slides taken in such places as Hong Kong, Taiwan, Taipei, Singapore, Bangkok, Tokyo, Taipei and Manila. Hors d'oeuvres and cocktails accompanied the movies. "Divine" chimed Adelaide Randle, Maydella Reeves, Ardenia Herndon, Juanita Arnold, Willie T. Jones, Velma Williams, Georgia Dancy, Aretta Polk, Bertha Raye with guests Alma Booth, Elizabeth Shaw, Jewel Hulbert and yours truly when they viewed the bountiful table in the dining room.

Piece de resistance was prime roast beef, baked potato and green. She "brung" seven with sour cream and bacon, tomato stuffed with crabmeat, meat, French string beans, Singapore, a gorgeous wood salad and hot rolls all which were deliciously devoured with a dry dinner wine. Dessert was ice cream and delicious strawberries and cookies. This was followed by champagne.

Satiated with the catered dinner the femmes then turned to bridge. Clara was hostess par excellence passing out those ever so delicious chocolate covered strawberries and cigarettes, and at the turn of the last hand at bridge, she nonchalantly hung two gorgeous silk kimonos on the chandeliers — her first two club prizes.

Excitement ran high as tallies were scored and just ecstatic over the rose kimono she chose with the gold designs in the back was lucky Bertha, Velma's second prize was equally as beautiful the egg-shell kimono with a pagoda in the back, and Maydella chose a gorgeous handkerchief.

Also happily claiming prizes which Clara brought back from the Orient were Elizabeth, a pair of long beaded gloves, Alma a pair of shorted black beaded gloves and party aides Jewel, who chose a handkerchief and yours truly choosing a perfectly beautiful silk purse set, you know a note pad, cosmetic bag, eye glass case, key ring, tissue holder and cigarette case.

Gertrude Walker came in just in time for the last cup of coffee and more champagne. Clara's tallies were sequinned Japanese fans, and she carried out the Oriental theme in her attire also, green silk pants, and a silk blouse of kaleidoscopic colors of yellow, blues prime roast beef, baked potato and green. She "brung" seven with sour cream and bacon, tomato stuffed with crabmeat, meat, French string beans, Singapore, a gorgeous wood carved fireplace screen which is gold gilded on one side and ebony on the other and Chinese cloisonne ware from Taiwan.

Ruby Spight feted her friends in Coterie royally for other Saturday evening, and they dined on stuffed chicken breast, wild rice, with chestnuts, congealed fruit and whipped cream salad, asparagus with Hollandaise sauce, home made bread, red wine, and iced tea. Dessert, yes I said dessert, was strawberry ice cream and cake.

Fun and good food could well be their motto for that's what they had. Gloria Lindsey was on hand to help her mother dispense with the frilly aprons which were given to all the members and guests and novel telephone apparatus which was given for fun prizes.

Partaking of the feast and games were Edith Herron, Estelle Eggleston, Flora Cochran, Ada Ateman, Dimple Levison, Ruth Weed, Orena Langford, Jeanette Carr, Leona Jamison, Grace Tardy, Tyree Campbell and guests Cleora Neale and Ann Weathers. New members, Alice Minor, and Vanetta Watson were inducted into the Utopian Bridge Club when Shirley McDonald hosted the first meeting of the season.

On hand to bid them welcome were Dorothy Akins, Carrie Young, Mabeline Lloyd, Jimmie McClure, Jo Ann Melton and Juanita H. Crump. Guesting were Maxcine Bradley and Connie Brown. Prize winners were Mabeline, Carrie and Vanetta. Emma Tom Johnson took her turn at entertaining the Four Suits Saturday at the Lorraine and gifted her winners with jewelry and perfume soap. Club winners were Gertrude Walker, Thelma Harris, and Bennie Williams, and guest winners were Ethel Tarpley, Catherine Johnson, and Myrtle White.

Others on the scene were Gloria Howard, Lois Hargrave, Celia Chaplin, Jewel Bethel, Charlene McGraw, Alma Holt, Celestia Porter, Bertha Johnson and other guests Helen Batts, who was Scorekeeper and Grace Brandon.

FISH FRY. The Tri-State Sportsman's Club closed out their summer activities with a fish fry at Simpson's Farm 't'other Sunday. What a close out it was... there were huge black pots with golden brown fish swirling around in it and the best hush puppies ever which was complimented by potato salad and slaw.

Family groups spotted in the last outing of the season were Julius and Aline Isabel, Taylor and Frances Hayes, Thomas and Vivian Willis, the President William and Nettie Parker and their daughters, Pearl and Joyce, Theron and Nell North, cross and their children Debbie, Theron, Jr., and Reggie, Fred and Margaret Rivers, Odell Horton, Odell, Jr., Samuel Johnson, Maceo and Harriett Walker, Harold Whalum with his boys, Skipper and Roy, Oscar and Jewel Speight, H. A. and Leola Gilliam, Charles Pinkston with his brood, Mikki, Toya, Carmen and Bonnie and his brother, Howard and his boys Howard, Jr., and Gene and more of course.

FASHION NOTES. Don't forget to see "Fashions in Splendor" Sunday at the Sheraton-Peabody sponsored by the Los Doce Amigos. Martha Jean Steinberg, will fly in from Detroit to narrate the show. It's for the benefit of the Pentecostal Day Care Center. Heard A. C. Williams say the other morning that he's been a visiting in Detroit and found the Queen doing well. One of her co-workers is Wash Allen who's also a former WDLAer. He was a teenage disc jockey if I remember correctly and is now program director at WJLB in the Motor City.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK REYNOLDS

Jeanette Bates Wed To Frank Reynolds In Rites At St. Thomas

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds were married recently at St. Thomas Catholic Church with the pastor the Rev. Theodore Weiser, O.F.M., officiating at the Nuptial High Mass. The bride is the former Miss Jeanette Bates, daughter of Mrs. Magnolia Bates of 51 Simpson. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Reynolds of 1372 Doris.

The comely young bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Willie Bates, wore a bridal gown designed of faille taffeta. The modified empire silhouette was accentuated by a banding of re-embroidered Alencon lace at the waistline. The lace was repeated in a deep applique edging the Bishop sleeve. The chapel-length train fell from a high back.

The bridal veil of English illusion was attached to a cluster of rose buds and leaves touched with pearls.

Miss Jeanette Bates, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Gates, Miss Kathleen Reynolds, sister of the Groom; and Miss Joyce Johnson of Houston, Texas. They wore gowns of samaron rose crepe shaped with fitted bodice and slightly flared skirts. The back fullness fell from the shoulder extending into a sweeping train.

A single Dutchess rose of matching pink was softened with an overlay of pink veiling comprised their pretty headpieces. Their bouquets were of rainbow carnations and variegated greens.

Morman Reynolds, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Reginald Pippin, Melvin Owens, and Larry Shores.

Roman Bates, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Deborah Reynolds, sister of the groom was flower girl.

Carl Reynolds, brother of the groom and Anthony Whitlow were altar boys at the Nuptial Mass.

The bride's mother entertained with a reception following the ceremony at the Top Hat and Tails Clubhouse. Among the out-of-town guests were Joe Dukes, from Denver, Colorado; Miss Texana Byrd, Houston, Texas; Billy Isabell, Miss Barbara Garrett, and Miss Ruth Garrett all from Nashville and Mames Green, of Miami.

Among the other guest attending the wedding and reception were Mrs. B. G. Olive, Jr., godmother of the bride; Mrs. John Cathey and her daughter Felicia; Mrs. S. P. Washington, Mrs. Doris Bell, Mrs. Rufus Thomas, Mrs. Thelma Hooks, Mrs. Hilda Cox, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Olive, Mrs. William J. Pippin and her daughters Johnnie, Thomasine, and Bonnie; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bates, and their daughter Patrice Simone, Miss Althea Foster with her mother Mrs. Alton Foster, Miss Carmella Guy with her sister Miss Francine Guy; Miss Gertrude Walker, State Representative and Mrs. A. W. Willis, Jr., and daughter Stephanie; Mrs. Charlene Turner, Miss Maggie McDowell, Mrs. Addie Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jeffries and Mrs. Grace Farris.

Martha Jean Will Narrate Fashion Show

A gala evening of fashions will be spotlighted next Sunday afternoon when the Las Doce Amigas club presents "Fashions in Splendor" at 5 p.m. in the Sheraton-Peabody hotel. Fashions from a number of local clothing stores will be modeled.

Mrs. Martha Jean Steinberg, a radio personality from Detroit, known there as "Martha Jean, the Queen," will be the narrator for the show, the proceeds of which will go to the Pentecostal Temple Child Care Center account.

Musical background for the show will be furnished by Samuel Flagg at the organ, with Rozell Hughes singing between scenes.

Simplicity and elegance will be viewed in designs ranging from daytime casual to dramatic evening wear.

Attendance prizes will be drawn promptly at 5 p.m.

HOME ON LEAVE—Navy Quartermaster Third Class James E. Rixter arrived home this week and will celebrate his twenty-first birthday on Sept. 29. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Rixter of 133 S. Lauderdale. He enlisted in the Navy one month after graduating from Hamilton High school in 1964, and is stationed at San Francisco; he served two years overseas. QM3 Rixter is a member of New Hope Baptist church pastorate by Dr. C. B. Burgs.

Morning View Choirs To Give Sunday Program

The adult choirs of Morning View Baptist church at 1636 Carnegie st. will present the "Stories Behind the Hymns and Spirituals" at a program to be given at the church next Sunday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m.

Music will be rendered by the combined choirs of the church, which add up to 75 voices.

The narrator for the program will be Rev. Percy Jones, Sr., of Beulah Baptist church. Guest soloists will be Mrs. Claudia Wilson, Mrs. Louise Robinson, Mrs. Ozell Clayborn, Mrs. Wydis Mitchell, Mrs. Grace Connelly, George Yancy, Elias Williams and W.O. Woodruff.

Guest choirs will be Harris Memorial CME and St. James AME churches. Mrs. Kathy Dandridge is program director, Leon Knowles president of the choir, and Mrs. Sarah Rushing chairman.

Rev. L.D. Wortham is pastor of the church.

Sports Horizon

The Memphis Intercollegiate Athletic Association enters into its third week of football play with at least 10 teams making strong early showings. The 24-team league is divided into two divisions. The Red Division and Blue Division are divided into two six team divisions based on the boy population of the member schools.

ver, Douglass and White Station hope to upset highly regarded C.B.H.S. With Central and Treadwell rounding out the league, it could be the most closely contested circuit.

The AA favorite is Catholic led by its explosive pair, Steve Leech and Kelvin Milam. The Terriers, after routing Jackson, Tenn., in its opener, were ranked number one by state polls. Coach Ollie Keller's crew will get another acid test when they face the Washington Warriors. The big clash is scheduled for Crump Stadium Friday night. Despite last week's loss to Hamilton, Bertrand is still the team to beat in the A class. Trezevant figure to give the Thunderbolts the biggest run for a playoff berth to determine the M.A.A.I. 52-0 half time bulge. A stiff test awaits Washington as the scalpers ready for their scrap Championship games (AAA vs. AAA and AA vs. A) in the City-Playoff will be played on Friday, November 17. The City Championship game will be played on Thanksgiving Day or Friday, November 24.

Raymond Chapman, who scored four touchdowns each against Lester, earned golden shoes in the process. The last Warrior to achieve this feat was Oscar Reed, now a candidate as a senior to all-American honors at Colorado State University. Lester never got uncranked as the Warriors breezed to a 52-0 half time bulge. A stiff test awaits Washington as the scalpers ready for their scrap Championship games (AAA vs. AAA and AA vs. A) in the City-Playoff will be played on Friday, November 17. The City Championship game will be played on Thanksgiving Day or Friday, November 24.

bled Manassas to score key wins, for the Tigers are traditionally slow starters. Before a large turnout at Melrose Stadium last week Manassas came from behind to nip Melrose in a 20-19 thriller.

Hamilton ran its record to 2-0 behind some fine offensive play spearheaded by junior signal caller Billy "The Kid" Richmond. Richmond fired four TD bombs to favorite target, end Sam Cole and cashed in one other on a long gallop himself. Derek Wagner ran a kick back 85 yards after a Hamilton score to make the score a bit more respectable, however the Bolts could generate few sustained drives.

Hunt rushed for TD's. The lone touchdown pass was a 70-yard play from Odie Waller to Willie Gunn. Waller also added a score on a 10 yard keeper play. DOUGLASS GOINS GONE Douglass knocked Mitchell Road for the undefeated list by tagging the Tigers with a 27-0 setback. Eddie Goins rushed for a massive 270 yards including TD runs of 80 and 60 yards last Saturday night at Melrose Stadium. Walter Lee and Sid Woods also scored for Douglass.

Mid-South Fair Will Begin This Friday

A bustling "city" is springing up on 151 acres of real estate in mid-Memphis and its population is expected to have exploded from about 1,000 persons to 700,000 by September 30.

The advance guard of construction workers, utility men, concessionaires and a multiplicity of others who put together the Mid-South Fair were under a full head of steam to ready the big Exposition for its nine-day run, starting Friday, September 22, and continuing through Saturday, September 30.

After everything is set, Tennessee Governor Buford Ellington and a host of other dignitaries will get the 11th Mid-South Fair underway with proper ceremonies on Friday.

Fair President Joe Pipkin predicts about 700,000 from at least eight states of the Mid-South will have passed through the gates before midnight, September 30. A total of 660,443 persons saw the 1966 Fair. That was a record.

Meanwhile, with the opening just days away, the comparative calm and bleakness of the other 11 months of the year has been transformed into a sea of color and activity.

The "city effect" comes in

Track Coach Temple Is Promoted At A&I

Two-time olympic and Tigerbelles coach, Edward S. Temple was elevated to coordinator of track and field athletic director, announced last week.

"This places the university's men and women's track program under coach temple's direction," Gentry explained.

"In my letter recommending putting the school's track program under one administrative head, we stated that this elevation was befitting Temple's 17 years of success with our women's team that has contributed so much toward the stature of this university. The state of Tennessee and the nation in the area of track and field," Gentry concluded.

"I am quite pleased with my new role and I know it is going to be a great challenge," Temple confessed. "Our big job will be to get the men's track program moving again. However, I am relieved somewhat because from where I stand our men's program can't go anyway but up."

Mr. Temple related that he will use his first year as head track administrator to study and evaluate the men's program, find another assistant to add to his present aid, Arthur Simmons, and organize his entire program on a committee basis in order to formulate future plans.

"We must remember that 1968 is an olympic year and we will be trying to get as many Tigerbelles on the U.S.

Olympic Team as possible," he added.

"For this year, we will not schedule any indoor meets for the men's track team because all of the recruiting has been completed, and we do not really know the kind ofly personnel we are going to have," he said.

"When we are completely organized and our program is put into effect," Mr. Temple confided, "My job will be mainly working with the overall track administration, scheduling track meets for recruiting personnel, fighting or adequate budget and looking after the retention of my athletes."

Peace Corps Volunteer Is Going To Venezuela

James Oliver Gross has recently been named a Peace Corps Volunteer in Venezuela after having completed 11 weeks of training at the University of South Florida in St. Petersburg, Fla.

JAMES GROSS

Mr. Gross is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Gross of 2568 Deadrick ave., and is one of 53 new Volunteers who will work in physical education programs throughout Venezuela.

A sociology major, he was graduated from Tennessee A&I State university with a bachelor of science degree. While a student there, he was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," and was a member of the Student Council, the Sigma Rho Sigma Honor Society and Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

The new Volunteers will participate in an effort by the Venezuelan government to improve student attitudes toward education and to introduce physical education activities into as many schools as possible.

They will teach sports, games and dance, organize intramural and inter-school athletic programs and coach district teams.

To help fill the great need for trained physical education instructors, they will also help train Venezuelan teachers.

During their training periods, the new Volunteers studied both teaching methods and Spanish, learning to explain and demonstrate numerous sports and games in the language.

At the University of South Florida they received introduction to Venezuelan culture, politics and history.

Former ESP Researcher To Review Recent Book

Louisa B. Rhine's new book, ESP IN LIFE AND LAB, has been reviewed by one of her former laboratory assistants this past Thursday, Sept. 21, at Cossitt Library.

Mrs. Paul H. Sherman is presently an interior decorator at Goldsmith's and wife of a thoracic surgeon, but she will be able to add to her remarks on the book, her own first hand account of life in parapsychology research during its extremely controversial infancy at Duke University.

The "Lunching with Books" programs are a community service of the Memphis Public Library. Sandwiches are in order; coffee is available.

Fred Davis Outlines Program During Rally

The Social Concern Committee of Beulah Baptist church sponsored a rally for Fred Davis, candidate for councilman of District 4, on Monday night, Sept. 11.

A large crowd was on hand for the rally and included not only members of Beulah Baptist church, but others from the community who came to hear Mr. Davis reveal his platform.

He pledged to work for legal aid assistance for citizens who cannot afford to pay lawyers; the establishment of a human relations commission; a strong program of crime and juvenile delinquency prevention; adequate park and recreational facilities, and the establishment of area vocational centers.

In the crowd during the rally was a group of enthusiastic teenagers called "Youth for Fred Davis." The young people have been canvassing the neighborhoods soliciting support for Mr. Davis.

A number of those present made financial contributions to the Fred Davis campaign.

Negro Elected Officials To Meet Here

Top Item Is Participation Of Blacks In Government

Some 300 Negroes who hold elective offices across the country will participate in a three-day, non-partisan conference to discuss the Negro role in the economic and political life of the nation.

The conference, which will run from Sept. 29 through Oct. 1, will be held at the U. of C. Center for Continuing Education, 1307 E. 60th st.

Co-chairmen of the conference are Manhattan Borough President Percy Sutton, and Sen. Mervyn M. Dymally, California state legislator.

Sutton will keynote the three-day session on Friday night, discussing "Why We Are Here."

Sen. Dymally will preside at this opening session.

Social Scientist Dr. Kenneth B. Clark will deliver an address on "The Role of The Elected Negro Public Official in the Changing American Scene," during the conference.

Dr. Vivian Henderson, economist and president of Clark College, Atlanta, Ga., will lead a discussion on "Negro Economic Security-Jobs and Welfare" and Lerone Bennett, author-historian, and senior editor of Ebony Magazine, will discuss "The Negro's Role in U.S. Politics."

Separate panel discussions will be held on "Civil Disorders" and "Practical Problems and Solutions for Negro Elected Officials."

Rep. John Conyers, of Detroit, Mich., will address the dinner meeting on Saturday, September 30. Also on that day, Louis Martin, deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Clarence Townes, of the Republican National Committee, will participate in a panel titled "Practical Politics."

Sutton emphasized that the conference would not dwell on Afro-American problems, but would examine, instead, "the tools and equipment needed to do something about the problems which have long been identified."

Other members of the steering committee are: Horace C. Anderson, school board, Alto, Calif.; Lloyd A. Barbee, state assembly, Madison, Wis.; Julian Bond, state representative, Atlanta, Ga.; W. F. Bowen, state representative, Columbus, Ohio; James Bradley, state representative, Lansing, Mich.; Cloves Campbell, state senator, Phoenix, Ariz.; Shirley Chisholm, state assembly, Albany, N.Y.; James Del Rio, state representative, Detroit, Mich.; Daisy El-Hot, state representative, Lansing, Mich.; Elwood Graham, state representative, Springfield, Ill.; and Curtis Graves, state representative, Austin, Tex.

SPORTS HORIZON

Tennessee State University scored three times, may have inconvenienced some of its fans when its home opener last week with North Carolina A&T was switched from the campus located W. J. Hale Stadium to a local high school field, but it wasn't nearly as bad as the agony the Aggies suffered as the visitors went away licking their wounds carved into their battered bodies by a 35-0 TSU onslaught.

The Big Blues were primed for A&T after having their long winning skein halted the previous week by number one ranked San Diego State.

The game was originally scheduled for 7:30 under the lights, but it was announced that school officials wanted to hold dedication ceremonies for the new addition to Hale Stadium in the daytime. However, it appears that construction on the stadium to up the capacity to seat in the neighborhood of 16,000, may not be completed when the Tigers lock horns with Grambling, October 7.

Next week Coach John Merritt will lead his squad in an invasion of the Lone Star state of Texas where the Texas Southern eleven will be waiting in ambush in Houston to try and avenge a humiliating 52-0 setback that A&T imposed upon the Texans last year in Nashville. It will also mark the return of Eldridge Dickey to the scene of many of his sensational evenings. The most publicized ebony quarterback in quite a spell started for Washington in the sprawling Texas metropolis.

On the East High turf Dickey was in fine form, a description local rooters have accepted as standard for the A&T triple threat. He passed for two touchdowns and scored the final TSU TD on a short plunge in the third quarter.

Dickey had to share some of the game laurels with a strong defensive unit led by bull-like charges of Memphis Charles Humphrey, and junior running back Wayne Reese.

MIAA RESULTS

Because of a Memphis Interscholastic Athletic Association rule that only a team's last seven games count toward determining a city champion, key battles won by Manassas over Melrose, 20-19, Hamilton over Father Bertrand, 33-13, and Catholic, 33-13, over Washington will not hurt the losers' title aspirations.

In last week's action the feature tilt was the big match between Washington and powerful Catholic. The top ranked Terriers came back from a narrow 19-13, halftime edge to down the Warriors, 33-13 with Steve Leech directing the attack with Kevin Milam giving able assistance.

D.C. Attorney Quits Justice Department

Hollis Joins Capital Legal Staff As Aide

WASHINGTON — Julius Jay Hollis, first Negro trial attorney in the Anti-Trust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice, has left the agency after 6 years to accept a partnership with Pratt and Bowers, an established Washington, D.C. law firm.

After September 15, the firm will be known as Pratt, Bowers, and Hollis. The partnership will continue primarily in the general civil practice of law.

Hollis, 35, was co-counsel in the anti-trust case of the United States v. Provident National Bank and Central-Penn National Bank, both of Philadelphia, Pa. The trial lasted six weeks, ending August 23. Chief U.S. District Court Judge Thomas J. Clary's decision in the case in Philadelphia is expected before the end of the year.

Provident Philadelphia's fifth largest bank, has assets of about $700 million, and Central-Penn, sixth largest, with assets of approximately $350 million, are seeking to merge into a bank with combined assets of $1.1 billion. Such a merger would make the resulting bank the city's fourth largest.

The Justice Department challenged the proposed merger under Section 7 of the Clayton Act, alleging that if the merger were consummated it would result in a lessening of competition or a tendency to create a monopoly in commercial banking in the Pennsylvania counties of Philadelphia, Montgomery, Bucks, and Delaware, where the two banks have offices.

Hollis cross-examined 23 of the witnesses testifying for the defendants. Among these were a professor of economics from the University of Wisconsin, two professors of economics from the Wharton School of Finance of the University of Pennsylvania, an executive vice president of Provident National Bank, and several presidents of financial institutions in the Philadelphia area.

Prior to submitting his resignation to the Justice Department, Hollis completed the brief which is due October 15. Before his work on the Philadelphia case, Hollis served as co-counsel in the case of the United States v. Continental Illinois National Bank and City National Bank, both of Chicago. This case was started in late 1961, and was pending in February 1966, when Congress exempted the merger from the anti-trust laws. A bank with $4 billion in assets was created by this merger.

Hollis, in both the Philadelphia and the Chicago cases, supervised a staff of economists and statisticians in preparation of documentary evidence. While with the Justice Department, the attorney participated in numerous other cases involving large financial institutions, segments of the automobile industry, and other major industries, most of which were disposed of without court action. Hollis headed other investigations, some lasting as long as two years.

Hollis was an attorney for the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights from June 1960 to November 1961. While with the Commission he wrote part of that body's 1961 report and investigated voting complaints in Louisiana. Prior to joining the Civil Rights Commission, he was engaged in private practice in Philadelphia.

In 1958, Hollis received his bachelor of laws degree from Temple University, Philadelphia, where he received the Ph.D. in law. He is a member of both the Pennsylvania and District of Columbia bars. He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, the Dean's Scholastic Honor Roll throughout his 3-year law school, and a member of Alpha Phi Alpha, the former dean of honor student at Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo. The attorney is married to Edith Hurley of Philadelphia. They have a son, Julius Jr., and a daughter, Romayne.

Hollis is a native of Little Rock, Ark., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus G. Hollis. His father is a retired railway employee and his mother, also retired, is the former dean of women at Wiley College, Marshall, Tex.

Hollis received his bachelor of arts degree with Phi Alpha honors from Temple University, Philadelphia, where he received the Ph.D. in law. He is a member of both the Pennsylvania and District of Columbia bars. He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, the Dean's Scholastic Honor Roll throughout his 3-year law school, and a member of Alpha Phi Alpha, the former dean of honor student at Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo. Golden Lions Trounce Lincoln Tigers, 37-0

By ROBERT F. MOREHEAD
PINE BLUFF, Ark. — The roar of the Golden Lions of Arkansas AM&N college was heard clear to Jefferson City,

IN ARIZONA — Airman Willie Parker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie L. Parker of 1198 Dunnivant, Memphis, has been assigned to the Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz., for training and duty as a fire protection specialist. A 1967 graduate of Father Bertrand High school, he recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

IN FLORIDA — Airman Robert Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garrett of 3044 Crystal, has been assigned to McCoy AFB, Fla., for training and duty as a supply specialist. He is a 1967 graduate of Lester High school. His basic training was completed recently at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Mo., as Coach Van Johnson's team, led by All-American Charles "Monk" Williams, blasted the Tigers of Lincoln university 37-0 last Saturday night before a full house in the AM&N Pumphrey stadium.

The Lions struck paydirt in the first 20 seconds when sophomore Ernest Johnson took a 50-yard pass that carried to the four-yard line on the first play from scrimmage. On the next play, Monk Williams, a 155-pound speedster from Shreveport, La., burst off left tackle and into the end zone with 14:40 showing on the clock.

Seven minutes and 15 seconds later, Williams struck again, this time off right tackle behind a crushing blocking of 250-pound senior tackle Andrew Edwards.

The play carried from the five-yard line to cap a Lion drive that started on their own 46 and consumed 11 plays. The conversion was no good. With 14 minutes left in the second quarter, guard O.D. Brown recovered a Lincoln university fumble on the Lincoln 30-yard line. Five plays later the Lions were on the Lincoln university two.

Robert Jones then threw a pass to end Billy Austin for the tally. Eddie Milus converted. Easing up on the already bewildered Tigers, the Lions coasted to a 20-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, the Lions substituting freely, managed only a 20-yard field goal by freshman Johnny Long. Not quite through, however, Charles "Monk" Williams tallied two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter, on a one-yard sneak and a five-yard run.

The Golden Lions will begin conference play next Saturday in a game with Jackson State of Jackson, Miss.

LeMoyne Will Conduct In-Service Institute

Modern mathematics and elementary science will be stressed at an in-service institute to be conducted by LeMoyne College on Saturdays at W. T. Sims High School in Holly Springs, Miss. The institute, financed by a grant from the National Science Foundation, will provide training for junior and senior high school teachers in North Mississippi. Registration has been scheduled for Saturday morning, Sept. 23, at Sims High. Classes will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays division at LeMoyne and directed to the participants.

Benefits Planned For Morris

Two affairs have been planned for this week in District 7 to help raise funds to help Charlie Morris, candidate for councilman.

A sock hop will be held at the Morris campaign headquarters at 981 Alaska st. on Friday evening, Sept. 29, from 6 to 10 p.m. Young people sponsoring the affair said Mr. Morris will help them to get out of poverty by helping them get jobs after he is elected.

Adults chaperoning the affair will be Mrs. Vera Moton, Mrs. Francis Russell, Mrs. Mozell Peterson, Rev. W. M. Copes and Mrs. Callie Payne.

A plate dinner will be sold at 850 Randle st. on Saturday evening at the home of Willie Walters. It is being sponsored by the Klondyke of course, mink and ermine.

Dickey In Fine Form; Aggies Bow 35-0 To Big Blues In Home Game

NASHVILLE — Eldridge Dickey, playing as brightly as the sun-splashed afternoon, fashioned Tennessee State university a 35-0 victory over North Carolina A&T before 6,000 in East High school's Keyes Stadium last Saturday.

"I think Dickey was in real good form," Coach John A. Merritt commented on his stars' afternoon work. "I was especially pleased with his play calling."

Guiding the Big Blues back into the winner's circle after dropping their opening game 16-8 to San Diego, Dickey hit nine of 13 aerials for 140 yards and two touchdowns. In all, the Merrittmen piled up 151 yards on 11 of 17 passes and churned up the turf for 223 yards while scoring 14 points in each of the first two periods and the final touchdown in the third frame.

Linebacker Don Merritt set up the game's first tally when he recovered Aggie quarterback Tom Blue's fumble on North Carolina's three. On the first play from scrimmage, Wayne Reese powered through center for the first of three touchdowns. Kicking specialist Roy Meneese split the uprights which started a string of five consecutive point-after-boots when the day was over.

Capping the season's longest drive with a touchdown, Coach Merritt's charges marched 79 yards in 10 plays for the second tally just before the first stanza ended.

The game's leading ground gainer with 46 yards in eight carries, Reese bulled his way to paydirt from the one after picking up 52 of the 79 yards needed for the drive.

Merritt's starting setback ramblled 27 yards around his right end after taking a handoff from Dickey, then caught a 22-yard pass from Dickey before punching the ball over from the one.

The Big Blues were content to exchange punts with the Aggies for most of the second quarter before they scored two touchdowns with less than two minutes remaining in the first half. Meneese booted State's 21st point with 1:20 left in the half to cap a four-play, 48-yard drive in which Reese caught a 13-yard aerial, broke a tackle at the five to go into the end zone standing up.

In the next 38 seconds, cornerback Willie Johnson had intercepted Willie Pearson's pass, setting up a one-play, 20-yard scoring pass play.

Dickey lobbed the pigskin to Leo Johnson, who made a circus catch in the end zone. As Meneese toed the extra point that gave State a 28-0 halftime bulge, the game clock showed 42 seconds yet to play.

With the intermission core padded, Merritt unveiled his talented crop of freshmen, especially the much-publicized Albert Davis, the Alcoa High school All-American, who lost one yard on his first college carry. But Al ended the afternoon by picking up 38 yards in 10 carries.

"This was a good opportunity to turn our freshmen loose," Merritt beamed. "I think they all learned a lot about college football this afternoon. Along with Davis, Jake Mayes and Clarence Love look very promising."

Next week Coach Merritt leads his Juggernaut to Houston, hometown of the fabulous Dickey, for a crack at Texas Southern.

Bankers Warned On Hiring Practices

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Robert A. Wallace today told bankers they must take "positive action" to hire Negroes in order to keep deposits of Federal money.

He said that positive action meant "applying controls over personnel actions that are normally applied to any program that you want to succeed," including clear statements in writing, frequently reiterated recruitment sources, that the bank follows equal employment policies; recruitment among minority groups; help-wanted advertising in minority group publications as well as the general press; contact with local schools to establish need courses, and periodic review of minority employees' records to see that they can reach their highest capability.

Speaking before the America Bankers Association Convention in New York, Mr. Wallace blamed the fact that there are not many Negroes employed by banks on "following the same old recruitment practices which have become a matter of habit over a period of many years." He said "this type of picture can be changed by positive action; the mere absence of open discrimination is not enough."

President Johnson's Executive Order 11246 is the authority under which the Treasury Department requires banks to adopt equal employment practices in order to get Federal deposits. These deposits average $ billion a year and are a valuable source of income for some 12,000 banks in the United States.

Otis Lightfoot New President Of Jaycees

Otis Lightfoot, owner of the Shell Service Station at 2193 S. Third st., was installed as new president of the Bluff City Jaycees for 1967-68 during a service held at the Benson restaurant on Tuesday night, Sept. 19.

Mr. Lightfoot is a 1953 graduate of Booker T. Washington High school and lives with his wife and daughter at 2500 Fontaine rd.

He presented a plaque to outgoing president Ernest Owens, who is now chairman of the board.

New officers were installed by Samuel Helm, principal of the Shannon Elementary school.

Other officers are Lawrence Mason, executive vice president; Robert Owens, Secretary; Rufus Jones, vice president of Internal Affairs; Louis Sandridge, vice president of External Affairs; Major Haywood, treasurer; Freeman Lester, director of public relations, and Willard Bell, chairman of Membership Procurement.
